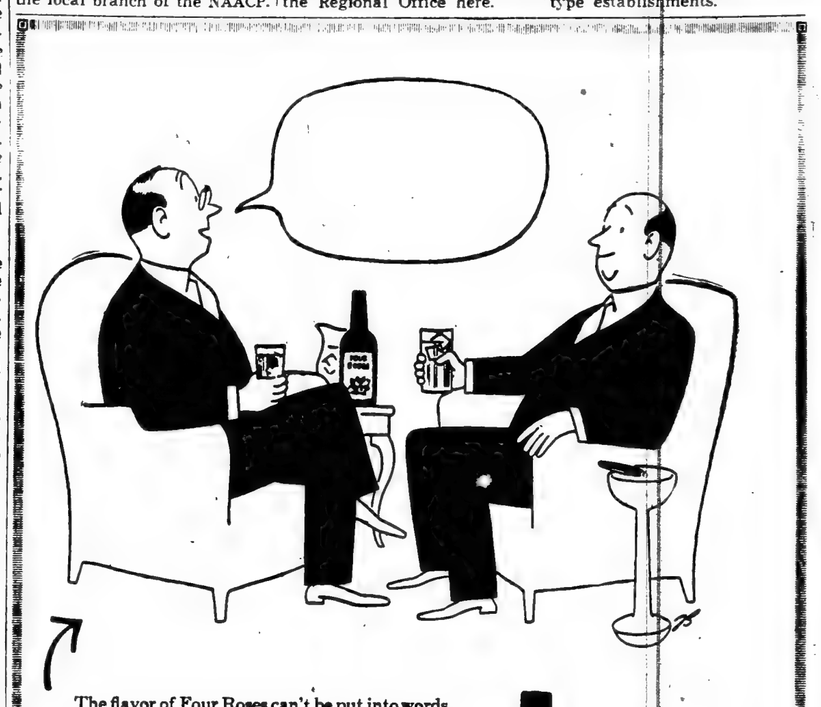
SAN FRANCISCO—Advance reservations indicate that the first biennial West Coast NAACP regional conference will break all past attendance records when first sessions open Friday, Oct. 15, at Asilomar.



Nearly 500 delegates, visitors and observers are expected at the opening affair to hear Roy Wilkins, NAACP administrator, who will be principal speaker at the public meeting.

Delegates from as far as Anchorage, Alaska, as far east as Salt Lake City, Utah, and, from the extreme southwest, Tucson, Arizona, have registered with the Regional Office here.

Hotels Ready to Greet Negroes — So It Says

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Negro travelers are going to be better housed, more courteously treated, and get more service for their money, it was announced this week by Ralph S. Dadd, chairman, Board of Directors, Nationwide Hotel Association, Inc.

Dadd, who owns and operates Dadd's Hotel on the Sound, West Haven, Conn., is considered the dean of smaller hotel operators. As chairman of the board of the newly organized Nationwide Hotel Association, he has consistently advocated higher standards of operation and maintenance of small hotels as the most effective way to compete with larger, luxury-type establishments.

Editorial

California Eagle

Loren Miller, Editor and Publisher

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. Representation in Government.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy

Quit Stalling, Chief

The Board of Fire Commissioners took the right step last week when it rejected Fire Chief Alderson's arrogant "report" of September 2 in which he proposed that he be permitted to pursue his Jim Crow policies. That "report" was his response to the order of the Commission that he present a plan for elimination of segregation.

Exhibiting remarkable patience with its problem child, the Commission gave the Chief until September 30 to bring in another "workable report." It is our guess that Alderson will respond with another arrogant request that he be permitted to violate the laws of this state and continue to violate constitutional guarantees.

The Chief forecast what his response of September 30 will be when he scorned Attorney General Pat Brown's opinion that segregation is illegal with the curt observation that he proposed to run the Department just as he has in the past. He said in effect that Brown's opinion meant nothing to him.

Incidentally, Brown's opinion was in refreshing contrast to the pettifogging opinion rendered by City Attorney Rose[illegible]burgh last July in which the city's lawyer went out of his way to provide loopholes for Chief Alderson.

The Fire Department controversy is now over a year old. The NAACP's petition asking the end of segregation was filed in August 1953. The first hearing was held in October 1953. During that year the facts have been laid before the public time and again. Everybody knows now that Negro firemen are segregated because of race and that such segregation breeds discrimination.

Yet, not a single change has been made in Department practices and policies. The segregation rules that were in effect in 1953 are still in effect one year later. It seems to us that it is time for the Commission to take forthright action. The continual temporizing with Alderson has led to nothing except to the intensification of his attempts to retain and bolster Jim Crow in his Department.

The Commissioners should make up their minds and if they are really opposed to segregation as they say they are they should order the Chief to institute changes now. We suggest that the NAACP regard the September 30 meeting as the deadline and that if nothing is done it proceed with the filing of a lawsuit. There comes a time when patience is no longer a virtue and that time has come in this situation.

Stop That, Now

The President's Committee on Government Contracts, in a considerable amount of fanfare last week, released statements on the "strengthening of the non-discrimination program" and the "spearheading" by President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon to end discrimination in employment. To read the hand-out you'd think they were the first ones to think of it.

Ike signed an executive order specifying the non-discrimination clause to be contained in all Federal contracts. The Committee claims this marks the first time this has been done and by putting the full weight of the President behind the action, it should strengthen the non-discrimination program. The release also contended that the order provides for the posting of notices in conspicuous places in plants in order to acquaint employes and applicants that the contractor is operating under a non-discrimination contract.

The Committee is sending out pamphlets citing the work of the Committee and the gains made by Negroes in employment. Among other things, it claimed equality in job opportunity would be accelerated as a result of the Supreme Court decision in the schools.

What the Committee failed to say is that the order does not at all give it any authority, still leaves the job of policing government contracts up to the issuing agencies, and makes the only penalty for failure to comply with the non-discrimination clause, termination of contract. This has never been used despite the bold disregard of businesses and plants of fair hiring.

The Committee also did not mention the large number of unsettled complaints before it, some as old as a year and more. Thus now, Ike, who has flatly opposed Fair Employment legislation, wants to give the impression that by saying there shouldn't be discrimination, big business and industry will fall in line and begin hiring Negroes and other minority groups in large numbers in skilled positions.

It's like watching the bully kicking the teeth out of the underdog and then slapping him on the wrist and saying, "Naughty, naughty, mustn't do!"

No Rivers Of Blood

The remarkable thing about the integration that has been undertaken in public schools in Southern and border states is not that there have been a few minor protests but that there has been so little of violence and bitterness.

Sift it all down and what has happened so far is that a handful of parents in a handful of communities have grumbled a little. Where a Board of Education has stood firm, nothing has happened, where another has wavered there have been a few "strikes."

The results thus far bear out the contentions of those who have insisted all along that the "rivers of blood" arguments spouted in the Supreme Court were just so much hogwash designed to support a lost cause.

Every successful effort at integration is another valid argument for further abandonment of segregated schools. As other communities look at the success of their neighbors they will be more inclined to take the step.

Of course, most of the integration has been undertaken in border states where support for segregation has been weakening in recent years. Many of these communities have been ready for school integration for a long time.

The story will vary somewhat when segregation is attacked in the Deep South, especially in Mississippi, South Carolina and Georgia, where agitators have been building political careers on appeals to racial prejudice. However, we think that even in those states there are many communities where good sense and devotion to the American way of life will get the best of prejudice and long-standing habits.

The real danger is that demagogues will be permitted to have their way to such an extent and stir up so much feeling that the transition from segregation to integration will be made difficult.

The Supreme Court will have to decide this fall just how its holding that segregation is unconstitutional is to be implemented. We hope that with the many good examples before it the Court will use firmness and order the states to proceed with integration without further delay. The Court has already said that Negro children are being denied constitutional rights. The least it can do is to devise a scheme for the immediate exercise of these long-delayed privileges.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

This is a story of another friend of ours but it is not written because of that fact, but because it also illustrates that a man can make a decision in his youth and stick by it for the rest of his natural life, if he is wise enough in the first place and has sufficient character in the next place.

Leon Steward

Many people in Los Angeles are acquainted with Ben H. Graham. But this writer claims to know him better, and for good reasons.

Mr. Graham was born in Paris, Texas, where his father conducted a grocery store. After graduating from high school, he went to Atlanta University in Atlanta, Ga., for his college training. After graduation he returned to his home town and was elected assistant principal of the high school from which he had graduated.

World War I broke out and before long he was asked to take training and become the Industrial Secretary at the YMCA serving war workers at Penman, Va.. Directly following the war, young Graham returned to his home town and his school job, which was waiting for him on his return.

Came to California

He had done a bit of work in his home town for the American Woodmen which pleased the organization so much that they invited him to quit his school job and go to California for the purpose of establishing the American Woodman in the State of California. He accepted the position and in 1922 came here on his new assignment.

B. H. Graham

After 10 years of this work, its success can be judged by the fact that at the encampment in Denver, Colo., in 1933, Mr. Graham was chosen Supreme Clerk, or National Secretary, of the American Woodman, with offices in Denver. He held this post for 10 years.

Torn between the necessity of remaining in his office there, the very nice salary he was then receiving, and the demands of his family, who found it distasteful to move from Los Angeles, he made the decision to join his family in 1943.

Looking Backward

It was in Denver that we, Graham and Steward, became friends. We spent many pleasant hours together after work going to high school games in the morning and to college games in the afternoon. The aspect of Mrs. Steward permitting us two to accompany her to social affairs became common. And our house was his refuge on Sunday nights.

Thus we talked about many things. And thus we came by the information that when Mrs. Graham was a cute little girl, going to the store for mother, young Ben picked her out to be his wife, a little later in life, and told her so. And she is the only one he has had and we believe ever will have. Their daughter, Miss Benzelle, is a talented young woman. Both she and her mother are public school teachers.

Joins Golden State Mutual

Upon arriving in Los Angeles, the question was what he was to do for work. He might have been a teacher, there was splendid opportunity but, the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance was on the job and very soon they had his signature on the dotted line and he became a superintendent of a group of agents, in which post he has for many years done outstanding work.

The Grahams are active in the Second Baptist Church. Mr. Graham is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity while his wife and daughter are active in Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Well, it just goes to show that when a man actually picks out his wife in her youth he has a pretty good chance of making the union a success. We would say that for the Grahams at any rate.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

So you're a maid?

Well, take it from me, you're a mighty important person. So don't go around with any kind of ideas about being a "menial" laborer or a "servant" or somebody who ain't nobody.

I've talked to too many men and women employed in the domestic arts who consciously or unconsciously wear an inferiority complex that shows up like a Christmas tree all lit up in the bottom of a well.

Mind you, I just said something about the "domestic arts." Keeping house IS an art and any woman who has mastered it—be she a housewife or a maid—well, brother, there's a gem of a jewel and you'd better not let her go.

Artless Art

Went visiting the other day and I saw what happens when the art ain't art. My friend and his wife work. She is generally known as one of the best women high school teachers in town.

Well, their home is always—and I do mean always—spotless, yet lived in. There is never any indication that the hostess doesn't want you to sit in her overstuffed chair or drop ashes in her ash trays. But everything is always in place and just shining.

She has help—we'll call her Ruth. Ruth is not thought of as a maid in the traditional sense. She just "helps" keep house. Of course, she doesn't help, she goes whole hog—cleans, cooks, takes care of laundry and 1,365 other little things which just seem to come to her naturally.

Out Three Days

Well, you probably know what's coming. On the day of this particular visit, Ruth was sick and had been out for three days. My friend's house resembled my own just five minutes after my two-year-old gets tucked into bed.

Her house wasn't a wreck. It was a collision.

And my friend was a nervous accident looking for an intersection to happen. Which, of course, is totally out of character for her. But the fact remained there was a burning odor trailing from the kitchen, the washing machine had overflowed and I had already written this column in the dust on the piano.

When I walked in, my friend looked at me through glazed eyes and mumbled something about Ruth being ill so excuse the confusion. Well, I didn't mind the confusion at all. In fact, I could hardly retain my glee. All week long I had been searching the inner recesses of my mind trying to uncover an idea for this column, and lo and behold, I had just walked into one.

A Floperoo

Here was a woman who had the highest respect in her profession—teaching. A charming conversationalist. A challenging mind. And a floperoo housekeeper.

So what? Can a doctor fix the leaky faucet? Can a plumber fix a leaky appendix?

To each his own art. And take it for the gospel truth—keeping house is one of the finer arts. So if you are a maid or a domestic worker of any kind—don't you dare feel inferior. Stick out your chest and walk proudly.

You're an artist.

On the Bookshelf

DON'T TREAD ON ME, by Walter Karig and Horace V. Bird.

John Paul Jones is one of the great romantic heroes in our country's history, having miraculously escaped the debunking process that is the stock in trade of many historians and novelists.

Walter Karig is just the man to do him full justice. Here are battle scenes portrayed with gusto. Here is contrasted, as in so many wars and historical epochs, the frustrating opposition of politicians to the impatient man of action.

And here, seen through the eyes of a young hero of historical romance (a stock figure, it must be admitted) is Captain Paul himself — upright, vain, unorthodox, and always dashing.

ing would fill several good sized volumes. Paul, they say, told down town politicos that they needn't ante up anything for the campaign in the Negro populated areas. "We're grown up," were his words. So, while Goodie's lieutenants spent well over a million bucks in the primary campaign the Williams committee hustled pennies as best it could and wound up some four thousand dollars in the hole. Now nobody's happy and rumor has it that the popular Dr. Jefferson D. Fowler, who didn't see eye to eye with some of the committee members, hasn't been invited to committee doings of late.

DEMOCRATS, TOO

Democrats have their troubles too, it seems. The prize boner was pulled by Big Shot Democrats who conceived the idea of having a Deep Southern Democrat, Rep. Boggs of Louisiana show up as the principal speaker at the Democratic rally in the Fifteenth District! And that district with a 30 per cent Negro vote too! "He's a liberal," they claimed. We went to press before the horrible thing happened but we shudder to think of the reaction attendant on getting a southern office holder to make a political pitch to Negro Democrats in Los Angeles. Boggs may be a "liberal" down in Dixie but up here he's just another congressman who is opposed to FEPC, Civil Rights and integration in schools. Some times we wonder why.

Ted Owings, the ex-Marine fighter pilot and now city official of Culver City, yesterday launched a series of "Get Acquainted With Ted" neighborhood meetings on behalf of his candidacy for Congress in the 26th District, and came out for a federal loan for a "self-liquidating small boat harbor and recreation area" to be built at Marina del Rey.

IT SAYS HERE

The Democratic campaign in the 23rd Congressional District shifted into high gear this week with the formation of the Richard Richards for State Senate Committee.

Richards, prominent Los Angeles attorney, is the Democratic candidate for State Senator representing the 38th Senatorial District, comprising all of Los Angeles County, in the Nov. 2 general election.

Headquarters for the Veteran's Committee to Re-elect William G. Bonelli, Member of the State Board of Equalization, have been established in the Clark Hotel, 426 South Hill Street, according to William A. Knost, newly appointed chairman of the committee.

Appointment of Louis V. Cole, 1370 E. Washington boulevard, to the Los Angeles County Committee on Human Relations was announced by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

A member of the Republican County Central Committee — 62nd District — for the past 16 years, Cole is currently vice-chairman of the Republican Assembly of Los Angeles County.

The Progressive Democratic Club met at the home of the President Mrs. Faye Allen on Sept. 10. The theme of the evening was ways and means to help send James Roosevelt to congress as a representative of the 26th congressional district.

Letters of congratulations on the awarding of their charter were received from several persons and read to the group.

The report from the Queen committee was made.

The Crenshaw Community Relations Council will hold a nonpartisan political forum on the subject of fair employment Tuesday, Sept. 28. Richard Richards, Democratic nominee for State Senator; N. S. Raye, representing Mildred Younger, Republican nominee for State Senator; John Evans, Republican nominee for State Assembly, 65th A.D., and Lucius Lomax, Democratic nominee for the State Assembly, 63rd A.D., will give their views on fair employment. Rev. L. L. White, Minister of the Holman Methodist Church, will act as moderator.

Dixie Challenge On Schools Hurts U. S.

NEW YORK — Thousands of university students and other young people in Asia are scrutinizing each move of U.S. Southern states to defy the Supreme Court decision banning segregated public schools, a Harvard Law school student just returned from a trip through five Asian nations declared this week.

Walter Carrington, one of 14 American delegates to attend the 50-nation World Assembly of Youth in Singapore, was interviewed here as he headed back to Cambridge, Mass., and his law studies. In addition to Singapore, Carrington visited India, Pakistan, Thailand and Malaya.

Hurts U.S.

He related that when he arrived in Cairo, Egypt, one of the first things to catch his eye was a front-page newspaper story on Louisiana's defiance of the Supreme Court decision.

Although the judicial ban against segregated public schools helped American prestige "tremendously" in Asia, the law student observed, Asian doubts regarding enforcement of the decision were constantly being "reinforced" by Southern moves to continue segregated public schools at any cost.

So closely were these moves being watched in Asia that Carrington found Asian students with whom he talked to be more up-to-date on Southern defiance of the high court than he was.

As the sole youth member of the NAACP national board of directors, Carrington can be considered to be quite up-to-date in U.S. race relations himself.

On the subject of American-Asian relations, Carrington painted a picture of current dislike for the United States throughout Asia. He attributed this present hostile attitude towards the U.S. to "McCarthyism and its affiliated symptoms" and American foreign policy in regard to the Near East and the Far East.

Specific U.S. foreign policy moves which have brought about highly unfavorable Asian public opinion were cited by Carrington as:

"The rigid, inflexible stand of the United States on the question of Communist China," when most Asians think Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations as representing the people of that continent; the help extended by the U.S. to the French in the Indo-Chinese war, seen in Asia as direct American aid to French colonialism; the pressure exerted by Washington on Asian nations to "line up militarily" in the cold war between East and West, when Asian public opinion favors the avoidance of war by remaining neutral in this conflict; the recent Southeast Asia pact promoted by Secretary of State Dulles, seen in many Asian capitals as a move towards war; and the recent U.S.-Pakistan pact, which has caused widespread ill-feeling in Pakistan itself as well as in other nations in Asia.

Fire Chief Gets Slapped

deal," said Arness Hartsfield, Jr., a fireman at a station at 34th street and Central avenue, manned exclusively by Negroes.

"We ask no special treatment and will support no Negro who wants more," Hartsfield said.

Another speaker, Jacob Addison, also from the same station, said, "We are not being treated fairly and examinations, both oral and performance, are discriminatory against the Negro."

The spokesmen said they represented every Negro fireman on the job."

More Investigating

In another move at last Thursday's meeting the Fire Commission named Commissioner C. F. Joscelyn "to investigate on behalf of the Commission the assignment of personnel in the Fire Department, including the interviewing of members of the Department and report the results of such investigation."

Joscelyn's selection immediately drew criticism from the two attorneys, Herbert Simmons and Thomas Neusom, representing the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The two lawyers exchanged fire with Joscelyn after they charged that they were able to see further delay in deciding on a "concrete" plan on the segregation issue if the commission doubled back to discuss the problem itself as a social question.

Joscelyn said that it was the intention of the commission to bring integration into the Fire Department. He said that the commission has authorized a five-man fact-finding board to tour the major cities of the nation to seek a workable plan for solving the segregation problem.

Besides the five-man committee appointed to conduct research on the subject, the commission was told that a three-man committee also was active in the same work. Findings of the two committees will be revealed at a later hearing of the commission.

Mrs. N. Brickman Joins Woodlawn 'Y' As Youth Director

Mrs. Ella K. Mays, Chairman YWCA-Woodlawn Branch Committee on Administration announces Mrs. Naomi Brickman, former teacher at American Community School, Paris, France, and group worker, Westside Jewish Community Center, joined the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch Staff to assume the professional duties of Teenage Program Director as of Sept. 1.

Mrs. Brickman is a graduate of Fairfax High School, Los Angeles and received her degree from Stanford University, Phi Beta Kappa.

Since being on the staff Mrs. Brickman has announced that the four major clubs of last year have reorganized with plans for growth and a program including both social activities and constructive work in the community.

Membership is open to all interested girls.

Plans for immediate future include organization of new clubs in both junior and senior high schools of the community. This year Lafayette School will be included in the area's program. She further announced that there is much interest and enthusiasm among girls, but the scope is limited by difficulties in finding adult advisors for the clubs.

Mahalia Jackson To Star in Own CBS Radio Show

NEW YORK — Mahalia Jackson, who has been hailed as one of the greatest gospel singers of all time, will star in her own program when CBS Radio presents the "Mahalia Jackson Show" beginning Sunday, Sept. 26.

The gifted contralto, known internationally through concert tours and phonograph records, will be presented to CBS radio audiences in the semi-inspirational style familiar to her many followers.

Providing the musical background for Miss Jackson's program of spirituals will be her accompanist, Mildred Falls, at the piano, the Jack Halloran Quartet, and a trio composed of organ, guitar and string bass.

Bureau of Music Begins Rehearsal Of Fall Classes

The South Central Adult Chorus, sponsored by the Los Angeles Bureau of Music, begins its Fall rehearsals on Monday evening, September 26, at 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the 49th street school.

Clarence Hargrave, president, and Jester Hairston is the conductor.

Following a Nov. concert at the First Congregational church the choir plans to present Hall Johnson's folk play, "Run Little Chillun."

Auditions for new singers who wish to join the choir will be held each Monday, before rehearsals begin.

The South West Youth Chorus for high school and college singers begins rehearsals on Wed., Sept. 29, in the auditorium of Foshay Jr. High, at Harvard streets and Exposition blvd.

Phillip Randolph At Independent's Special Service

Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins pastor of People's Independent Church of Christ, has invited A. Phillip Randolph to be his guest at Sunday morning services. Mr. Randolph has established himself as a leader among people.

Sunday has been set as the day of Rededication of Ministry to Children and Youth. The pastor's sermon subject will be "Except Ye Become As Little Children."

A thirty-minute service from the main sanctuary may be heard over station KALI, 1430 on the dial, at 10:30 a.m. The Cathedral Choir, under the direction of Albert J. McNeil, will sing "Song of Praise." Fannie E. Benjamin will be at the organ.

Vesper services, which begin at 7:30 p.m., will feature the "Southwest Pacific Community Youth Federation."

Mrs. Ada Jamison Speaks to YWCA At Fall Luncheon

The first fall luncheon at the Southeast Branch of the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A., will be on Thursday, Sept. 23rd at 12 a.m. Teen-age girls in the Y.W.C.A. program will be featured at the meeting when Mrs. Ada Jamison, associate executive of the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A. will be the speaker. Highlights of the Y-Teen conference at Asilomar will be given by two of the delegates—Jean Potter and Barbara Lapi.

Mrs. J. N. Donyes will preside at the meeting and has asked Miss Katherine Lippinsett to lead group singing.

The luncheon will be prepared and served by Mrs. William Thompson and a committee from the Florence-Firestone area.

An urgent plea for help is being made by Robert A. Doyle, Chairman of Charter Membership Campaign for the only Handicapped Placement Center in Los Angeles, located at 4001 S. Harvard boulevard. B. Clarence Cooke, founder-president. Organized by Elizabeth Austin, M.D., director of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Los Angeles County General Hospital, the Handicapped Placement Center has placed approximately 200 physically handicapped persons, since January of this year and has served more than 500 of the approximate 10,000 physically handicapped persons in the greater Los Angeles area.

Asked of Dr. Cooke, who is serving as executive director and placement officer for the center, if placing the physically handicaped is a difficult task, he replied, "The placing of the physically handicapped is not only a relatively easy task—but one of the most gratifying experiences in welfare service I have ever had, and businesses and employers are all so cooperative."

Women's Day at Hamilton Church Begins With 'Angelus Hour'

Woman's Day, Sunday, Sept. 26, 1934 will begin with the final radio broadcast over which Hamilton has been bringing the message of hope to the sick and shut-in, for the month of Sept., sponsored by the Angelus Funeral Home. The theme "Love." The pastor, Rev. John N. Doggett, Jr. will speak on this topic. Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, Director of the Senior Choir is the announcer.

At 10:45 a.m. the theme for one of the greatest Women's Days ever held at Hamilton; is "Jesus Christ, the Way." Mrs. Ella K. Mays, is the guest speaker and will speak on the subject: "Christ, the Answer For the Changing World." The Women's Chorus composed of 50 voices, under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, will sing. Two dramatic sopranos, Misses Ella Lee and Dolores Piper, will be the featured soloists. An original playlet, written and directed by Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, will be the dramatic climax to this eventful day. The pageant entitled: "America's Open Door" will feature girls of five nations who will come through America's Door, seeking aid to further their musical education. Miss Madie Norman, Sepia Hollywood Star, will portray the role of Miss America.

Social Security Law Passed For Religious Leaders Effective Next January 1

For the first time since the federal social security system was set-up in 1939 ministers of religion are eligible to receive the protection of Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Final action on the amendments to the program which extends coverage to an additional 10,000,000 persons including foreign missionaries, Christian Science practitioners and members of religious orders who do not take a vow of poverty, was taken by the House and Senate in the last days of August before the adjournment of the 83rd Congress. The new act, signed by the President Sept. 1, goes into effect next Jan. 1.

Under the final version of the Bill participation will be voluntary and clergymen will pay their taxes as if they are self-employed, whether or not they actually are. With this arrangement the churches or church organizations which employ them will not be required to match the clergymen's contributions to the system. As originally drawn up the Bill would have made inclusion in the plan compulsory for all clergymen. At a meeting before the House Ways and Means Committee last April, Dr. Forest Ashbrook, chairman of the National Council of Churches pensions committee, warned Representatives that while most churches strongly favored including ministers in the program, they would oppose mandatory participation.

Woodlawn YWCA Fetes Fellowship On USC Campus Sun.

The World Fellowship Committee of the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch invites members and friends of the Branch to join with them on Sunday afternoon Sept. 26 from 3-6 p.m. at the YWCA-USC Campus to help celebrate its annual fellowship festivity.

Top Track Athlete to Strengthen UCLA

Rafer Johnson, 19-year-old Kingeboro High School student and rated as the nation's all-around prep athlete, may become a second Jackie Robinson at UCLA. Johnson enrolled and attended his first classes on the Westwood campus last wek on a scholarship as a pre-dental student.

Johnson towers 6 feet 3 inches, weighs 190 pounds, and took third in the national decathlon last year. At UCLA he intends to concentrate on basketball and track.

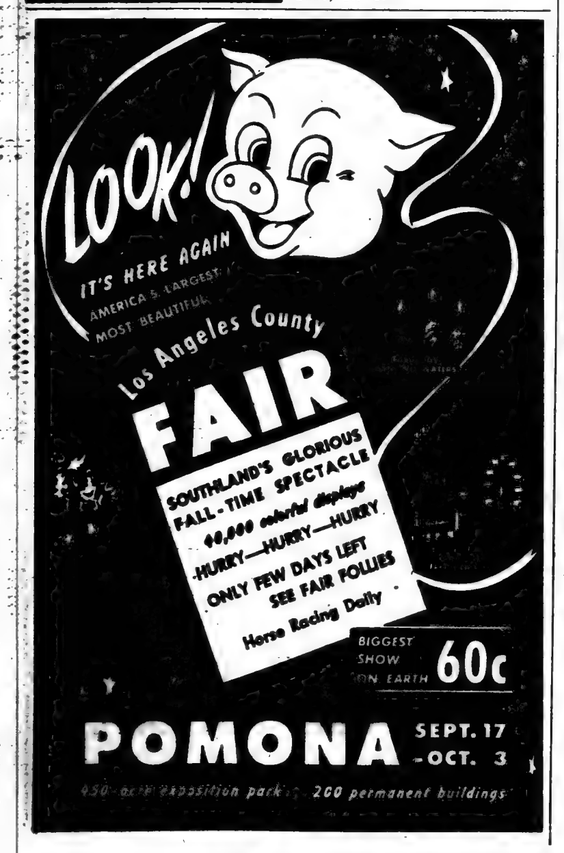
His track records include the state high hurdle championship, second in lows, and better than 23 feet in the broad jump. He goes over the cross bar in the high jump at 6.2 and tosses the discus 172 feet. He also scored 133 points in football last year.

Coach Johnny Wooden is interesting the young and highly religious athlete in basketball and his game is as fancy and steady as big Willie Nualls.

Track Coach Ducky Drake thinks with the addition of Johnson he may come up with the combination capable of beating his arch rival USC. Another stand-out prize prep athlete is Dick Knaub, Nebraska's state broad jumping champion, who also enrolled at UCLA.

Playground Notes

New activities for women begin this week at Green Meadows Playground, 431 E. 89th street. The gym class which meets every Wednesday at 11 features exercises to slim and trim and always ends with a few simple folk or round dances just for fun! Arrangements will be made for baby-sitters if needed and by the way, a special class in rhythm and dancing for pre-school children age 3 to 5, precedes the women's gym class at 9 a.m. every Wednesday.



For those who wish to bring their lunch and really make it a day, coffee will be served and after lunch badminton is on the schedule. Thursday at 10 a class in beginning volleyball will be held, and Friday, badminton instruction and a mothers' club for those interested in helping with other activities in the playground program. Remember, all these activities are free and open to all women in the community.

After school is time for fun and there's lots of fun for everyone at the playground. Monday, learn to be an actress and be in a real play with costumes, scenery, etc. Halloween is coming and the fun has just begun. Play acting for girls age 6 and 7 will be at 3 p.m. every Monday, and for girls age 8 to 14 a class in dramatics is scheduled at 4 p.m.

Tuesday, a special club for girls age 6 to 8 is being formed, candle club meets every Tuesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, best of all, dancing, tap and folk dancing and the opportunity to dance in the special Halloween program coming up! Dancing for girls age 6 and 7 Wednesday at 3. Dancing for girls age 8 to 14 Wednesday at 4. Friday features team sports and junior lamp club for girls age 9 to 14 at 4 p.m.

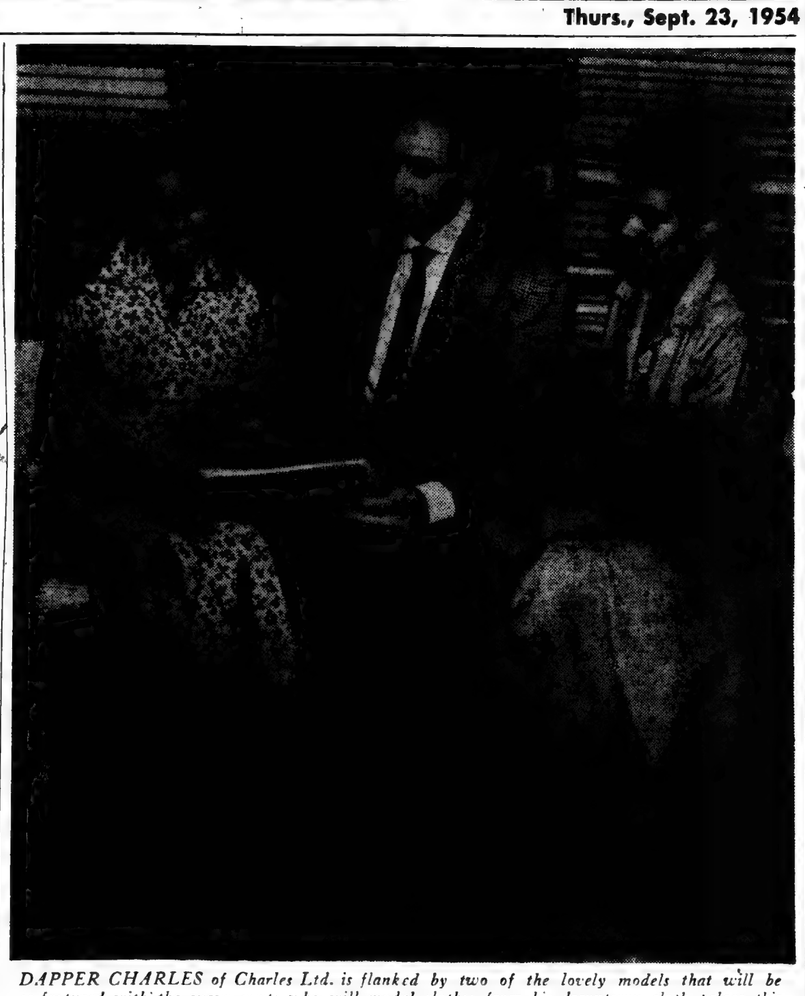
Renteria, Smith 10 Round Event Looms Thriller

Manny Renteria, last seen in action on August 10, when he scored his 14th win in 16 starts by trouncing Freddie (Babe) Herman, returns to the Olympic Auditorium Monday night to do battle with Lavert Smith.

It was an expensive victory for Renteria, for he suffered eye cuts which have kept him on the sidelines ever since. Herman, meanwhile, scored an upset win over Graham Holmes at Hollywood, and tonight in San Francisco fights former world champ Jimmy Carter on a nation-wide telecast.



Renteria will be making his sixth start as a main-eventer, and all five of his preceding top-liners have been thrillers. He started the ball rolling in February when he flattened Armando Muniz in two. In March, he got up from the deck to stop Johnny Efhan in the fourth. Then came his four-round kayo over Joey Felan, his 10-round draw with Mario Trigo, and the win over Freddie Herman.

Lavert Smith won the right to meet Rentaria by staging a sensational scrap with Buddy Evatt a few weeks ago on the Rancho Los Amigos charity card at South Gate. He lost the decision, but was accorded a silver shower. It was Lavert's first of 1954.

SQUARE DANCE

The Willowbrook Cooperative Nursery School is holding its first annual square dance, Friday, Sept. 17, at 2936 W. 8th street, Channing Hall (near Vermont). Paul Barlin, well known for his work at the dance center, will "call."

Parents, friends and neighbors are all invited.

DAPPER CHARLES of Charles Ltd. is flanked by two of the lovely models that will be co-featured with the suave gents who will model clothes from his downtown cloth palace this Sunday afternoon at the "Fashionating Rhythm" revue at Savoy Ballroom (77th & Central Avenue) between 4 and 8 p.m. The charmers are Sylvia Jordan and Barbara Kussman, who are a pair of Nadine Knight's modelures who will bring on the femme finery. There is also a deluxe floor show featuring many bright stars of the entertainment world. (See theatre pages.)

Ramon Fuentes, Billy Graham To Battle at Olympic Oct. 21

Ramon Fuentes, third ranking welterweight in the nation, will move a notch closer in his bid for a crack at the world's title Thursday night, Oct. 21, at the Olympic when he meets Billy Graham in one of the most interesting bouts in several months.

Graham is a veteran and was often referred to as the uncrowned welterweight king back in the late forties. He met and beat some of the best in the business and holds wins over Kid Gavilan, Carmen Basilio, Joey Giardello, Paddy Young and Golden Boy Art Aragon.

Fuentes has been pounding foes about the canvas in championship manner since his ill-fated nights with Gil Turner and Kid Gavilan, when he was on the losing end.

Since those nights, the busy punching Latin belter has established himself as one of the most feared two-fisted 147-pounder in the ring today.

Seats for this highly important and national recognition bout are $7.50 tops and the bout will not be televised.

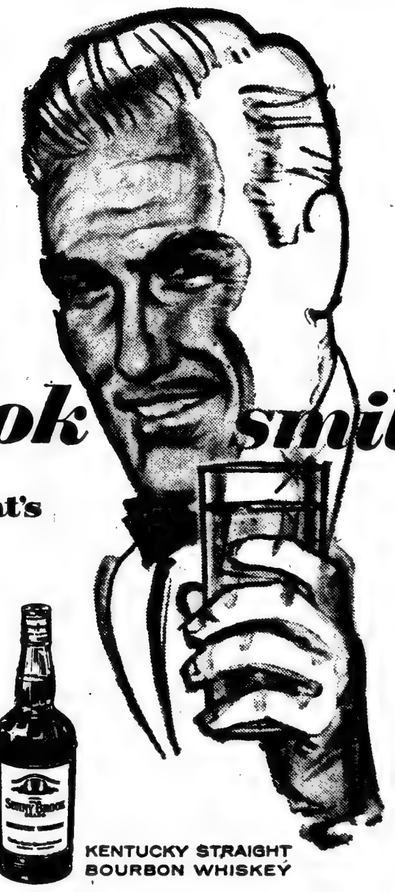
Milk Bowl Football Game Gets Big Boost

Mrs. George Thompson, president of Fremont Council, says her schools will all be on the job to "Score a Touchdown for Hungry Children" by helping to sell tickets for the forthcoming Milk Bowl Football game October 15.



This year's competitive games will be a colorful and interesting spectacle with high school bands and girls' drill teams adding to the drama of the day.

Mrs. Thompson asks that you contact your local PTA presidents for tickets to these games which are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, for the individual games. The PTA receives 75 per cent of the proceeds for their milk fund. The remaining 25 per cent goes to the Board of Education for the athletic fund.

Pitt Arrives For USC Tilt

The University of Pittsburgh eleven, which opens its grid season here Friday night in the Coliseum against the University of Southern California, arrived 40 strong Tuesday.

Sammy Williams May Land Quarterback Berth at Cal.

By D. L. SANDERS—(Northern Bay Area Representative)

MEMORIAL STADIUM (Berkeley) — Wing-footed University of Oklahoma Sooners flew to a 27-13 win over the University of California Golden Bears here last Saturday afternoon, in spite of record-breaking passing by the Cal eleven. Everybody agrees that the Bears were yea good, but they couldn't move fast enough to keep out of the way of those white-clad sons of Mercury from below the Mason-Dixon line.

The game got off to a crisp start after Cal's Sammy Williams, acting as game co-captain (Cal's special gesture toward its Southern visitors) with Matt Hazeltine met in mid-field with Oklahoma's game leaders. The tense first quarter ended with each side holding the other down to no-score. In the second quarter, with Oklahoma ahead 7-0, Williams tackled an Oklahoma player so hard that he fumbled the ball, enabling Cal to recover on the Sooner 39-yard line. Williams then took over at quarterback, replacing Paul Larson, and mixed his plays so beautifully that the Bears drove down to the visitors' 17-yard line. This set Cal up for her first touchdown, and almost evened the score. The second quarter ended 7-6.

It was Cal's game through most of the third quarter. The Bears were threatening to score when a fumble on Oklahoma's 17-yard line gave them possession; it was at this point that an unexpected pass play caught Cal with her defenses down. The result was the 87-yard gainer for a touchdown, run all the way by U. of O.'s Max Boydston, with Larson and Williams in futile pursuit.

The Cal coaching staff is still in a quandary as to how to utilize at the same time the tremendous passing ability of Larson and the superb generalship and defensive play of Williams. This problem resulted in a seeming contradiction when Williams was started in the game with the second team. Actually, Sammy is rated by the coaching staff as first-string material, and if the Larson-Williams quandary can be solved, Cal should prove hard to beat in the remaining games of the season.

(That California sun was doing its best, too, but it had difficulty, also—in trying to outshine the bright pageantry with which Cal honored the season's kickoff. 58,000 fans cheered on the players, and between halves, Oski, Cal's official mascot, fawned over the nine pretty paled-faces who were named queens of the Berkeley Football Festival. The California Band wore its first new uniforms in five years, bought for some $12,000 and complete with white spats.)

NADINE'S ORIGINALS HIT OF SHOW

"The show of shows," voiced the huge crowd that packed the Cosmopolitan International Room last Sunday night and viewed one of the city's most fashionable one-woman creations.

Nadine Knight, one of the outstanding designers in the field of fashion, completely outdid herself with her many magnificent creations of all-around wear for the ladies and arresting styles of years to come. Adding beauty to the big pageant were the 16 lovely Delmanettes models who paraded with the grace and charm of a big Hollywood production.

Highlights of the evening was Nadine's, a two-piece quilted suit and hat in silver gray which was modeled by the stunning Jean Sewell, who was the club's guest model.

Model Beneta Howard was featured in a breath-taking bleached camel hair white coat trimmed in red poodle. The garment was called the great coat and had the workmanship to justify the name.

Eugene Swayne, noted hair stylist, handled all of the make-up and hair styles featured in the revue. Jay Loft Lynn was the master of ceremonies and Lois Gail and Dorothy Leonard acted as commentators.

Mrs. Joseph Lewis Coaches Cotillion Dance Routine

The 18 young ladies chosen to be this year's Cotillionettes at the Links 3rd annual Cotillion are busy rehearsing for the feature dance number which they are to perform on Saturday, Oct. 23, at this gala affair.

The lovely young ladies are being coached very ably by Mrs. Joseph Lewis, who is in charge of the dance for the cotillion.

This year's affair will feature dinner and dancing in the lavish setting of the Pacific Sierra Ballrooms of the Statler Hotel in downtown Los Angeles.

The guest lists have been made and bids are now being extended to the 350 couples who are to participate in this charity ball. The charity committee of the local chapter of Links, Inc., is now studying local and national charities to determine which organization is to receive the proceeds of this annual event.

In previous years the local Links have contributed generously to many organizations, among which were the NAACP, both national and local, the Eastside Symphony, the YWCA, Outdoor Life and Health Assn.

DOT'S DASHES

by DOROTHEA FOSTER

Fall officially arrived on the 21st and the cooling breezes that give hostesses the glamorous settings in which to be gracious have not been notified that fall is here. Nevertheless, entertaining in the Angel City goes on at a brisk pace with small and large parties heading the list.

Mrs. Hattie Saunders entertained the Twelve Links with a picnic style party on Sunday afternoon in the beautiful patio of her 116th Place home. About fifty guests partook of the refreshments and delicious repast served by Mrs. Saunders.

Julia Richardson will open the doors of her lovely South Gramercy Place home on Sunday evening to compliment about 150 friends with a cocktail dinner party. . . .

Jay Loft Lynne did a wonderful job of M.C. for Nadine Knight's style show on Sunday at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. Seen in the unusually large and appreciative audience were: Clifford Van Hargis; Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew; Col. C. Price; Rayfield Lundy; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Higgs; Jimmy Willis; John Lowry; Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Pitts (San Francisco); Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Butler and many more.

Horace and Betty Clark said farewell to their many friends with a gay champagne party in their beautiful stateroom aboard the liner Lurline. They sailed Monday evening for a month's vacation in Honolulu.

Betty, as usual, was stunning in a dark grey dressmakers suit, coral hat with brown alligator shoes and bag. Those seen on deck sipping and sighing were: Harriette Johnson; Dr. H. H. Towles; Gilbert and Theresa Lindsey; Emmette Ashford; Mrs. Horace Clarke, Sr.; Charity White and Col. C. P. Price.

Charity White complimented her house guest, Mrs. Mayme Trockler of Chicago with a dinner party on Wednesday evening. . . .

Mrs. Clyde Howell entertained the Classic Literary and Social Club Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ruby B. Goodwin and Mrs. Anita Soleman were guest speakers. . . .

A salute to the lady with the smile. A lady that hundreds of mothers should know because she has been the protecting hand over their youngsters for over four school years. I am speaking of Mrs. Chrystine Ingrams, Crossing Guard at 41st and Wadworth avenue. . . .

Sorry to learn of the sudden passing of Annella Greene. My sincere condolence to Mrs. Lelah Rice, her mother and her little son, Joe. . . .

Earline and Wilber Tate will celebrate their 5th wedding anniversary on September 25.

Many great men have September birthdays including, A. Phillip Randolph; Lester Granger; Walter White, Judge Hastie; Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and many more. . . .

Helen Davis will leave Friday for a general check up at Mayo Clinic. . . . Mildred Saunders doing fine after recent surgery in Kaiser Hospital. . . .Mrs. E. I. Robinson underwent surgery at California Hospital . . .still on critical list.

Laura and Sonny Stinger proud parents of a girl, born September 14th. Mother and daughter doing fine. . . .

Virginia and Bob Johnson's heir due any moment now. The Robert Coopers vacationing in Iowa and Kansas City, Bertha Clifton in town from Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. Marie Sheffield, 3003 S. Halldale. She is being entertained royally by her many friends in the Angel City. . . .

Mrs. Anna B. Jackson left for Berkeley on Monday to be with her sister who is quite ill. . . .

Irene and Rudy Manning vacationing in Palo Alto. . . .

Breakfast Club will meet on Sunday morning at the Clark Hotel. Guest speaker will be Dr. Fredrick W. Bailes. . . .

Langston University Club were hosts to a "Get Acquainted" dance on Sunday evening at the Kappa House. . . .

Public is invited to attend the annual installation of the Magellan C. Mars Post No. 752, Friday evening, Sept. 24, at Patriotic Hall, 1816 S. Figueroa street.

Debuteers In Regular Club Meet

Members of the popular Sir Debuteers held their regular Meeting at the home of David Buford. President James Lee heard plans for the group's Annual Autumn Frolic in October at the Elks auditorium.

The Debuteers Autumn Dance is always a must, and attracts an over-flow crowd each year. The popular Sammy Franklin band, featuring Ann Young on the vocals, will furnish the music.

Minor Robinson, publicity director for the group, announced that tickets are available from such members as: Sylvester Atwood, Arvid Agnew, Melvin Jeter, James Austin, David Buford, Duke Chouteau, Clyde Hill, Lee Hayward, Convay Reed, Robert Spears, "Gubby" Robinson, Miller Lampkins, Chris Morgan, Willie Macon, Lional Williams, and Lucius Williams.

HOLDS REUNION

The family of Thomas L. Shivers at 1109 E. 34th street held its reunion last week. Members attending were Cora Taylor, Minneapolis; Alga Hillsboro, Wisconsin; Herbert Shivers, Perris, and four great-grandchildren.

Our Schools

Compton Avenue PTA greeted 50 new mothers and fathers, three new teachers, and the rest of the faculty on the first doy of school, making many new friends and greeting old ones.

Mmes. Edward L. Daniel, Ardis Mack, Adolphus Mooney, Nettie McCauley, Clarence Horton McKedo Toler and Emanuel James, Jewel Yarber, Clothilde Greene, and Marie Barnar were hostesses.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Mooney reported that with the help of Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Washington, a survey was made Friday evening of the community to make parents —and especially fathers—PTA minded. Handbills stating "This Is Where Your Membership Dues Go," were passed out.

All parents were asked to save paper and magazines for the "Paper Drive," Oct. 1.

FREMONT

Mrs. Orie Boone, Community Chest chairman for Fremont Council PTA, with a group of ladies from the schools in the council, attended the speakers bureau dinner held at the Mayfair Hotel recently.

At this dinner the PTA representatives were advised ways in which they might carry the story of the Chest back to their associations. The Tenth District PTA is one of the larger Child Welfare Community Chest distributing agencies in the city.

The ladies attending with Mrs. Boone were Mmes. Rosetta Williams, of Ascot PTA; Clarence Anderson, Hooper avenue; Edna Fleming, 109th street; Chas. Reid, 49th street; Henry Wade, Trinity street; Alex Winfield, 118th street; Bernice Jackson, 79th street and Lester Allen, Holmes avenue.

THOMAS JEFFERSON NEWS

On Aug. 9 the board members of Thomas Jefferson P.-T.A. enjoyed a bountiful buffet luncheon at the home of the president, Mrs. Pearl Barrett. The work for the coming year was discussed.

Workshop meetings for officers and committees were announced, and an interesting program for the year outlined by program chairman, Ruby Wiggins, was approved.

Thomas Jefferson's student membership will be increased this year by the Ninth Grade of Carver Junior High. Jefferson P.-T.A. accordingly is enriched by valuable members of Carver P.-T.A., some of whom will be serving both schools.

The first meeting of Jefferson P.-T.A. will be a night meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 19, beginning at 6:30 p.m. with supper, and featuring Clark Cosgrove as guest speaker. All Jefferson parents are invited, and espeically invited are the parents of beginning pupils.

Cooperation Needed

Kids, this is your column. Your teen age activities is my job. Please get your news in to me by 5 p.m. on Mondays. Address: Calif. Eagle, 1050 E. 43rd Pl. How about some pictures of those social events—let me know and I will arrange to photograph them for you.

—Champagne Welcome—

SPORTSMAN'S SALUTE—Dapper Pat Patterson, manager of the Cosmo Club, tossed a champagne party for blues singer par-excellence, Wynonie Harris, upon his return to the coast last Monday night in the smart West Adams newly-decorated bistro. The above party includes: Lynn Burley, Clayton Bruce, Al Appling, Benjamin Lee, "Little" Robert Lee, Bill Jordan, "Chicago" Jones Bill "Rookie" Brown, and seated at the table: Elihu McGee, Wynonie Harris, Pat "Cosmo" Patterson and Louis Williams.

The beginning of school for many means the daily preparation of one or two lunch boxes. A lunch box at its best is likely to become monotonous, not only to the one who eats it but to the one who prepares it from day to day. To the uninitiated, it may seem that a hearty sandwich or two, a fruit and a beverage would fill the bill; but there is more to the matter than that.

Appetite appeal is equally as important as when the meal is to be served at the table. Saran wrap, foil or sandwich bags are suitable for packaging the salads, crisp vegetable tidbits or fruits. A thermos furnished in most lunch boxes on the market today gives an opportunity for serving warm soup or hot chocolate or other beverage. Many mothers prefer to have their children buy a carton of milk at school rather than risk carrying a thermos. Or using the thermos for soup or a hot entree.

Variety

Variety in breads used with different types of fillings adds zest and more nutrition to the meal. Whole wheat is of interest when combined with sweet or fruit fillings. Nut and fruit breads combine well with cream cheese. Any meat sliced or chopped can be utilized for a tasty sandwich filling. Tuna is always a favorite and is supplemented by using salmon salad or sardines to give a change.

Instead of using lettuce in a sandwich try using minced celery, chopped onions blended with a bit of mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing for a binder. Home-made cookies or cake, all fruits in season, an occasional serving of hard candy and often a serving of plump raisins adds quick energy.

Children, old and young alike, enjoy surprises and a favorite item tucked in will bring added joy to a loved one. A cookie baked in fancy shape, that bit of last night's dessert in a covered plastic dish. Oh, boy, to be a child again!

With such colorful paper napkins and cartons on the market today, the lunch box made glamorous with pictures of favorite personalities on the outside now becomes a riot of color inside.

Delta Sigma Pyramids Install New Officers

The Pyramids of Delta Sigma Theta sorority held their installation Sunday, Sept. 12, at the home of Pyramid Evelyn Gray. The installation ceremony was witnessed by Pyramids and Deltas.

The new officers were beautifully gowned in short white formals. The new officers for the year were formally installed by Soror Evely.. Grace and Soror Sybil Thomas.

The new officers are Sandra Barker, president; Kathryn Perdue, vice-president; Corean Whitehead, recording secretary; Evelyn Grey, corresponding seretary; Joyce Crawford, treasurer; Patricia Brawley, business manager; Johnetta Branche, publicity; Zetta Wright, historian; Maple Jackson, chaplain; and Jewell Sherman, sergeant-at-arms.

Campus representatives are Vernette Conkrite, State College; Katye Miller, City College; Shirley Mason, City College Night School; Laura Chifford, UCLA; Sammie Lucas, USC; and Yvonne Moore, State College Night School

The Pyramids have plans for a spaghetti feed Friday night, September 24, at the Kappa House, 2104 S. Harvard. The public is invited to an evening of dancing and fun starting at 8 p.m.

Denisonians Plan Picnic

Former residents of Denison, Texas, are invited to an all day picnic Sunday, Sept. 26, at South Park, 51st and Avalon blvd.

The big get-together to renew old acquaintances starts at 1 p.m. Everyone is to bring his own lunch. The committee heading the picnic assure those attending a wonderful time.

Our Authors Study Club in Monthly Meet

Our Authors Study Club held its monthly meeting recently in the form of a dinner party, given in the beautiful Hotel Watkins' Rubaiyat Room.

During the short business session an interesting program was given. Highlights of the evening were a book review given by Mrs. Hazel Whittaker Moore. Mrs. Moore very ably acquainted her listeners with a report of the book, "The Negro In Civil War," by Benjamin Quarrells.

L. B. THOMPSON—Popular secretary-treasurer of the "Brotherhood," is toying with the idea of "TWA-ing" to the World's Series, following the organization's annual "prance" Sat., Sept. 25th, at the 'Cosmo' Hotel.

Crystal Shower Honors Teacher

Mrs. Carney Steward and Mrs. Lena Tucker feted Weldena Hefflin with a crystal shower luncheon Saturday, Sept. 18, at the beautiful home of Mrs. Tucker, 970 E. 54th street.

Pink frilly umbrellas and pink gladioli decorated the sunken living room. A sumptuous luncheon was served to the smartly dressed young women. Each guest brought gifts of sparkling crystal which lined one end of the living room.

Miss Hefflin was gracious in a white linen and lace dress studded with pearls and rhinestones.

Girls' Town AWVS Project

The AWVS members and their chairman, Mrs. Ruby Wilson, were guests at Girls' Town in Arlington, Saturday, Sept. 4. During their visit the AWVS saw the great needs of this institution, and so decided to adopt Girls' Town as their 1954-55 project.

The Fairfax unit sent up enough clothing to outfit 10 little girls.

Elks Lodge Slates Dance October 9

The entertainment committee of the Pacific Coast Lodge No. 1350, I.B.P.O.E. Of W., 2515 West Washington Blvd. is planning its annual weekend dance and cocktail party Saturday Oct. 9.

Members and guests of Elkdom are invited to attend. Exalted Ruler William G. Burrell and the committee are expecting a large turnout for the affair.

HOSPITALIZED—Mrs. Leontyne King, prominent social figure and well-known fashion leader, is recuperating at Temple Hospital following a brief illness.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

Every so often one of those hands comes along which ought to be routine for most players, but for some reason gets by. These hands often are sugar-coated by a surplus of high cards, but their significant factor, one which at first appears highly attractive, and later turns out to be just the opposite, is distribution.

As all of us know, the distributional factor must be considered at all times. All of the point count systems allow a shifting of points to allow for unbalanced hands. All of the bidding books say go slow when there is a definite misfit between a partnership's hands. Yet as we mentioned above, sometimes the hands come so sugar-coated that is it hard to resist them.

Recent Example

This example came up recently. .

S. 10
H. 9
D. AJ109xxxx
C. A10x

The player sitting north held this hand and had the experience of hearig his partner open the bidding with a call of one spade. He bid three diamonds without too much thought, South replied three spades, North four diamonds, South four spades, North five diamonds, and South bid five spades. At this point North gave up and the contract was played there. This is South's hand.

S. AQJ9xxx
H. AJx
D. x
C. Qx

Lucky Break

South was lucky enough to have West underlead his king, jack of clubs and so made his contract. It will be seen that against almost any lead and distributoion south can make four spades, losing only a spade, a heart, and a club.

What is the proper procedure for bidding this type of hand? In the first place we don't make jump takeouts with singletons in our partners opening suit, unless we have a solid suit of our own. But this is only a minor error and it is better to jump than take a chance of being passed out.

Counting distribution and high cards there are about 36 points between the two hands which puts them well into the slam zone. But with no fit there will be no slam. In fact, there might not even be game. Therefore, it is up to the bidder of the lower ranking suit to stop the bidding at the most appropiate level.

Can Backfire

In this case after North bids four diamonds he is through unless South should happen to raise him. When South bids four spades, North should consider that if South's spades are like his diamonds, it might be just as easy to make four spades as four diamonds. And after all, four spades is game.

Our policy is to keep the misfits as low as possible. To insure this, the man with the lower ranking suit must usually be the first to stop bidding. Only in hands with solid suits should the bidding get into the stratosphere. And even then it may backfire, as it almost did in this hand.

'Moon Is Blue' Will Continue To Play Ebony

"It was a delightful evening, a good cast, and a good production", so stated Mr. F. Hugh Herbert, president of the Writers Guild of America, after seeing his play "The Moon Is Blue" on stage at Ebony Showcase Theatre. At the same performance were the Friday-Nighters hosted by Mrs. Winifred Toney, wife of the noted psychiatrist, Dr. Ellis E. Toney. The Friday-Nighters are frequent patrons of the Ebony Showcase Theatre.

At a meeting Sunday, September 12, sponsored by the League of Allied Arts, at the home of Mrs. Mabel Herd, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, chairman of the League, urged attending clubs and organizations to join them in its support of this cultural and artistic project. She also pointed out the opportunity presented by Ebony Showcase for fund-raising organizations to supplement their treasuries.

California Eagle Support

The employees of Golden State Mutual Insurance Company, staunch supporters of Ebony turned out commendable last Friday at "Golden State Night" at the Showcase.

The California Eagle has set aside Thursday, September 30 as "California Eagle Night" at Ebony Showcase. Clubs, organizations, Civic and Community Groups are responding in making this a capacity attendance.

Detective Story Follows

Stepping up production schedule, producers Nick and Edna Stewart announce that readings and interviews are now being held for their next production "Detective Story". Interested persons may call REpublic 6448.

Local and metropolitan critics are unanimous in their praise of "The Moon Is Blue". Don't miss it! Performances are nightly at 8:30 except Monday. For reservations, call the theater.

ISADORA BROWN — the westside real estate lady doesn't know it but her staff of workers is the reason why her West Adams office is fast becoming known as one of the few places where you can get an honest deal!

SWEATER GIRL—that shapely, chesty coffee brownskin operating out of that upper Bdwy office answers to the name of Mayme Louis, ex-secretary of the Consolidated Board!

DORIS MACK — ex-lady sheriff is making hats and her creations were displayed Sunday afternoon at a fashion show at which she got all honors!

ANNA LEE HOLLWAY—cute little Mother of two, operates in factory row and is doing a terrific job at both. She is an inspiring example to all young mothers!

CHAZZ CRAWFORD — the widely read scribe will drape his handsome frame in front of a mob Sunday afternoon at the Savoy Ballroom between the hours of 4 to 8. His show is said be hottest thing since "Jump For Joy." Even Bob Thomas is billed as one of the men's model!

LYNN STARR — a Beverly Hills firm would like to see R. E. Alexander account for $102.47, covering various garments delivered to him in July. While heading he could drop in the Hotel Watkins and square up!

BILL SEWELL — the four-foot giant who moved in and balanced the smart Hotel Cosmopolitan's bank book, will start building a $15,000 encased swimming pool in the Westlake street hotel!

LITTLE ROBERT LEE — San Francisco sportsman will be heading for the world series with Elihu "Dot" McGee. They're the first two to announce their plans to take in the great classic!

RON DAVIS — ex-Budweiser ofay huckster operating in the brown market has switched to Hamms which is moving into town lock, stock and brew!

FLOYD TURNHAM — the noted musician is blowing a nervous horn out at Little Harlem!

Retarded Kids Will Be Helped By Style Revue

A veritable "show of shows" will take place this Sunday afternoon, Sept. 26th at the Savoy Ballroom when the "Fashionating Rhythm" Revue makes its showing. The affair is being presented by the Royal Prince Social and Charity club and will combine a stellar fashion show along with a deluxe floor show.

Sensible Styles

Fashions by Charles of Charles Ltd. (the downtown men's clothing palace) will be shown by dapper male models including former boxer John Thomas, ex-newsman Bob Thomas and Charles himself. Ladies styles will be previewed by Nadine Knight's gorgeous modelures.

Star-Studded Show

The floorshow side of the event will have Lawrence Stone, the nation's most discussed new vocal star; Johnny and Evelyn Green (new song sensations); Liz Jones and her trio; the spectacular Dryden Dancers; Glenda Mabson, 12 year old song discovery and as a surprise attraction, the fabulous and exotic Wanani, the Afro-cuban chanteuse will be introduced to the patrons for the first time in the states.

Band Of Year

Music for the show and dancing will be supplied by Snake Whyte and his 18 piece big sound aggregation featuring songs by luscious Laurita Alexander, the golden tenor voice of Bobby Pittman, and the baritone voice of Howard McGriff. Show is being produced and emceed by Chazz Crawford.

Beneficial Undertaking

The "show of shows" is for the benefit of Retarded Children's school and will be held between the hours of four and eight p.m. Advance tickets may be purchased at West Coast Public Service at 4233 So. Central Ave. and Brock's Service Center at 1246 W. Jefferson Blvd. There will also be ducats available at Savoy Box office at 7764 So. Central Ave. the afternoon of the affair.

Omega House Has New Look

The Omega House at 2059 S. Oxford blvd., which was recently damaged by fire, has been completely repaired and redecorated. Members of the house committee are still being congratulated for the work that has been accomplished under its guidance.

CHARLES OF CHARLES LTD. recently honored Louis Jordon as the Biggest Little Band Man in the Land. Showing their appreciation, the Jordon crew telegrammed Charles best wishes on his first year's anniversary. Charles' month long celebration will be climaxed at the Savoy.

Perez Prado Rendezvous At Balboa Sat.

At last the great Cuban Mambo and Swing King Perez Prado for your dancing pleasure, direct from his long summer engagement at the Waldorf Astoria, in New York.

You have seen Perez Prado on TV, heard him on records, read about this fabulous Cuban and his band in your local newspapers. Now you can see him in his only personal appearance in Orange County. Don't forget this date. Saturday, September 25, 1954, 9 a.m., Rendezvous Ballroom, Balboa.

Las Primeras Hold Regular Meeting Sun.

Las Primeras Social and Charity club held its regular monthly meeting at 3971 South San Andrews Place Sunday afternoon. Jimmy Edwards and Sammy Gardner, stage, screen and radio figures, were the club's honored guests.

The two entertained members with a dramatic scene taken from the play "Three Men On a Horse."

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford

who knows how to say the right thing at the wrong time! . . . Gertrude Gipson dropped into the office the other day humming that Rheingold song. Bue she's a little early. We're still hanging over that one-owe-two brew and ger-juss Beau Franklin who just should oughtta win that contest! . . . Archie Savage is on location in Kentucky with another Burt Lancaster flick! . . . George Jay on the telephone (he's Laary Finley's right hand guy) to tell us that his latest talent quest unearthed a singing beaut known as Kay Brown! . . . Apologies to Estelle Edson for failing to mentino that she too has played a strong part in the defeat of firemen segregation. Her "Man Of Color" broadcast featured attorney Nuesom last week and we'll bet a fat man that Chief Alderson's tongue is tied. He was scheduled to reply to our sepia barrister this Saturday coming up.

Palmere Jackson vows that her "Apnt Jemima" role for Pillsbury Flour is way far off from the "handkerchief head" sort of thing that lots of folks suspected it would be. The buxom doll is on an intensive tour making intelligent speeches for the product and making a whole lot of "bread." (And just to straighten out any squares who might be unrehearsed: 'Bread means moolah' . . . Didja notice Abie Robinson's mention in the current issue of BROWN magazine where they said that he turned down offers from trigger-happy body guards who wanted to protect him from irate and angry readers who threatened to do him bodily harm because of his acid pen . . . don't any of you try to harm that boy or you'll bring on this triggy-happy scribe's scorn and a bullet is waiting! . . . Torse twisting Linda Fontainette back in town from Canada and points north reading a long letter from her cousin Margie McGlory, the carrot top mimic of the east coast who penned the real drawings on her show-business conquests saying that she has really paid the dues since she has had to change her phone number and the lock on her door as some amorous guy has threatened to kill her if she doesn't respond to his advances. . .

That's all folks . . . See you Sunday at Savoy!

"My beer is Rheingold —the Dry beer!"
says ANNE BAXTER

PHOTOGRAPHS BY PERC. RISSER

"What would you like to hear next?" asks lovely Anne Baxter, currently starring in the movie Carnival Story. "I'm sure my record collection can oblige, whether you pick an old favorite or a new one. And, the next thing I'll offer you is . . .

" . . . a genuine favorite that's always ahead of the times. Yes, I mean Rheingold Extra Dry. It's been a pace-setter for years. Other beers can't catch up with its exclusive Extra Dryness. Popular? It's becoming the most-wanted beer in California."

Rheingold EXTRA DRY Lager Beer

It's beer as beer should taste!

The largest-selling lager beer in the East

Giants Win!

NEW YORK—More than 55,000 World Series baseball fans watched pinch-hitter 'Dusty' Rhodes stroll to the plate in the bottom of the 10th inning and blast out a three-run homer to give the New York Giants its first victory in the 50th renewal of baseball's greatest classic.

It was a well earned victory for veteran Sal Maglie and a tough one for colorful Bob Lemon to lose 5 to 2.

Highlights were Willie Mays' spectacular over-the-shoulder catch of a long fly ball and 'Dusty' Rhodes' game-winning blow.

Wife Accuses Verdell Jones; Asks Divorce

Verdell A. Jones, foreman at the Terminal Annex Post Office, was sued by his wife, Albertine, Wednesday for divorce, in a sensational climax to a stormy and hectic two weeks of disillusionment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are the joint managers of the 91-unit Maylord apartment-hotel, 1250 S. Western avenue.

Claims Adultery

In the divorce suit, filed through the law offices of Attv. Earl C. Broady Wednesday, Mrs. Jones accuses her husband of both mental cruelty and adultery. Named as corespondent is Miette De Laromigiere, who Mrs. Jones told the Eagle, is a "woman of the night" who habitually wears a red wig.

The complaint states that "on Sept. 25, 1954, at 1250 S. Westrn avenue, the defendant (Verdell Jones) committed adultery with one Miette De Laromigiere and that each and all of said acts of adultery were committed without the consent" of the accusing wife.

Mrs. Jones, in an exclusive interview with the Eagle, spoke her pice right out loud.

Her decision to end her nine-and-a-half years of marriage was prompted by a series of incidents, she said, starting with financial matters and ending with shocking infidelities.

Final Blow

The first inkling she had that anything was wrong, she continued, was last week when she noticed a sizeable hole in their joint bank account. Jones, she alledged, was unwilling to give her an explanation.

The final blow came about 3 a.m. last Friday morning

Calvary Safe Carted Away By Burglars

SANTA MONICA — Burglars some time Sunday night forced their entrance into the Calvary Baptist church, 20th and Broadway streets, Santa Monica, ransacked the office of the pastor, and carted the church's safe away with them.

The thieves, however, will derive little benefit from their ill-conceived exploit.

The Rev. W. P. Carter, who discovered the theft when he arrived at the church Monday morning, advised that there was very little money in the safe, something less than $10. There were, however, papers of value to the church but of no use to anyone else.

His office, the Rev. Carter said, was a complete shambles, with desk drawers pulled out and their contents strewn all over the room. In addition to the safe, the robbers took a little small change from a purse which had been placed in the small drawer of the pulpit.

The strong-arm men had jimmied up a window in the Ladies' Lounge, through which they entered the building.

While obtaining little of value to them, the burglars liberally sprinkled their finger prints throughout the church. The authorities are investigating.

Newton's Loss is University's Gain

Three police officers were transferred from Newton Street station to University Saturday.

The three were Wilbert Galbraith, C. S. Robinson, and Dunbar A. Hunt. Hunt has been in the department 13 years, and Galbraith about 10 years. The officers had requested transfers in order to be located at posts nearer their homes.

Flash Reynolds Gets In and Out Of Tough Spot

Local businessman William James Reynolds, known as "Flash" to the many patrons of his record shop at 988 E. Vernon avenue, was in trouble this week. It looked serious for a while, but police, after a lot of investigating, decided they didn't have a case and let him go. But there's still a dark cloud in the offing.

It all started over a little argument with his wife, Mrs. Barbara A. Reynolds, in which a gun got mixed up and somehow managed to go off.

Mrs. Reynolds told Newton police later that they had been arguing over her young cousin whom Reynolds had chased from the shop. They began quarreling, she said, and he started beating her. Then she heard a gun go off, saw Rey-

Puts Out to Sea

MOURNED — Mrs. Emma Lee Baker, who died last Tuesday, is mourned by her husband, Fred Baker, and her many friends.

Wife Dies from Beating

Many Friends Mourn Death Of Mrs. Baker

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Lee Baker mourned her passing last Tuesday night after almost four years of painful illness.

The wife of Fred B. Baker, 3422 4th avenue, owner of Baker's Cleaners, 1052 E. 43rd place, Mrs. Baker and her twin sister, Mrs. Carrie Richardson, were born in Alabama. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were married in Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9, 1917.

Although the Bakers had no children of their own, Mrs. Baker, one of the oldest girls of 10 children, raised her baby sister and her brothers to whom she acted as a mother. All members of the family looked to her for comfort and advice and she became the center of the family group.

Mrs. Baker suffered severe pain during the last year of her life from a complication of heart trouble, high blood pressure and arthritis, which confined her for many months to General hospital, where she died.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Conner-Johnson, with the Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, pastor of the People's Independent Church of Christ, officiating at the funeral Monday.

In addition to her husband and her twin sister, Mrs. Baker leaves two sisters, three brothers, 10 nieces and nephews, 22 grand-nieces and grand-nephews, and a host of friends.

Sunset and evening star and one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

Hit On Head With Bottle; Mate Held

A slim, delicately built young woman not yet 20 years old died early Sunday morning in General hospital from a deep skull fracture and brain hemorrhage received when her husband hit her over the head with a beer bottle.

Nineteen-year-old Dolores Louise Rucker, who tipped the scales at just 100 pounds, was taken to the hospital Friday in a semi-conscious state. She did not regain consciousness before death came.

Re-booked for Murder

Her husband, Herman Rucker Jr., of 618 Vernon ave., Venice, was at first arrested for wife beating, but when the young woman died, he was re-booked on a charge of suspicion of murder.

Police reported that the two had quarreled in their home about 10:30 p.m. Thursday, and that Rucker had hit his wife with his fists, then smashed her over the head with the empty bottle.

He started to take her to the hospital, but on the way she said she felt better, and they returned home.

Unconscious

The next morning, Mrs. Rucker's sister, Mattie Lou Jones, 1952 W. 39th street, L.A., who was staying overnight, found her sister lying unconscious on the floor.

At about the same time, Rucker's mother, Mrs. Marie Rucker, 567½ Brook avenue, L.A., came to visit and saw Dolores' condition. She immediately telephoned police.

The young girl was rushed to Santa Monica Receiving Hospital, and from there transferred to General hospital.

Mrs. Rucker is survived by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Jones, 1940½ Cardova street, Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Angeles Funeral Home.

Lovely Chick Bares Secrets To Nosy Police

Male motorists who were almost late to dinner last Wednesday night because a good-looking chick propositioned them on the corner of 5th and Towne, have a surprise in store for them.

The long-haired, high-heeled temptress was picked up after one moralist complained to the police that a woman had stopped him and made him a proposition.

Police arrested the wayward lass and turned her over to a matron for a routine search. But the silken clad creature resisted, and so the matron, suspicious that the temptress was concealing dope on her person, called in assistance.

The two matrons subdued the suspect, and proceeded with their disrobing process.

When they looked behind a pair of well-molded falsies, they realized their search was ended. It wasn't narcotics that they found.

The booking on a charge of prostitution was hastily changed to one of impersonation, and the name on the police blotter appeared as Charles Edward Thomas, of 507 Towne avenue.

Oh, No! — Pickaninny, Pigtails and Watermelon!

The Eagle hates to be cast in the role of a carping critic, especially when some of the city's outstanding leaders are acting in a manner which they believe is oh, so democratic!

But the judges of the local doll contest, with nearly 2000 entries from which to choose, selected for first prize a Negro doll, a pickaninny, complete with pigtails and, just so that everyone would get the idea, a succulent slice of watermelon!

Note to Judges Mrs. Spencer Tracy, Mrs. Norris Poulson and Mrs. John Vorice: We think it would have been so much nicer if a white doll had been eating the watermelon and the Negro youngster had just been posing, or say, reading a book of nursery rhymes.

Adam Powell Yells 'Politics' As $3000 Loan Is Exposed

NEW YORK — Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat who doubles in brass as the pastor of the world's largest Baptist church, screamed "politics" at the top of his voice Monday when a senatorial committee turned up the fact that he had borrowed $3000 from a contractor who built a project with an FHA insured loan. He used the loan to buy a swank foreign made car.

Joining Powell in his righteous indignation were his two secretaries, Acy Lennon and William J. Hampton, who have cozy jobs as rental managers

He Wasn't There

Fifteenth District Democrats finally saw the light and dispensed with the services of that Deep South congressman who was scheduled to speak at the Sunday night dinner on Flower street. Sam Yorty was substituted for him. Good switch, we say. We can't think of anything more ridiculous than sending a southern segregationist out to California to adjure Negro voters to cast their ballots for the Democratic party.

Net result was that the dinner was quite a success with pitches and speeches from Lucius Lomax, Jesse Unruh, Richard Richards and Frank O'Sullivan who have something to say to liberal voters of the district. And of course, Sam Yorty always gets a respectful hearing because his record shows where he stands.

Ain't A Parade

Speaking of Lomax, he is going to have a parade that isn't a parade come Saturday when he will lead a caravan of cars through the 63rd district in support of his candidacy.

Labor organizations of all kinds (they're all on Lucius' bandwagon) will furnish cars for the parade, we mean caravan, and O'Sullivan and representatives of Graves, Roybal, etc. will go along for the ride. The caravan starts at 2 p.m. and there will be more of the same every Saturday afternoon. You are invited.

Lundy Opens Up

Vennetta Matthews, attractive young secretary, now heads the Willowbrook Campaign office at 12701 Willowbrook Avenue where Attorney Rayfield Lundy has set up neighborhood Headquarters.

All precinct work, door to door canvassing, passing out literature, telephoning and organizing for the Willowbrook area will be conducted from this area office.

First to be announced was the series of weekly neighborhood community forums to be held during October. The first forum, with Attorney Lundy, as chief spokesman will be held Monday October 4 at Carver Elementary School.

Unruh Headquarters

Headquarters were opened this week at 4706 S. Vermont Ave. by the Southwest Democratic club to promote the candidacies of Jesse Unruh for the state assembly in the 65th A.D. and all other Democratic nominees, it was announced by Burton Kallman, club president.

Even as the painters were redecorating the store, loyal Democratic workers were pounding typewriters and doing other kinds of office work to help their candidates.

Alexander

Fulfilling his promise to talk about the real problems facing the people, Mr. Horace V. Alexander, candidate for Secretary of State, will appear on Television Sunday night (October 30,) to discuss the Walter-McCarran Act, and its threat to American freedoms. The show will be aired over KHJ-TV, Channel 9, from 10:00 to 10:15 p.m.

"This law discriminates against all minority peoples" said Alexander, "and should be repealed immediately. Its provisions practically wipe out any chance for Negroes, Asians or Jews to ever come to our country and become American citizens."

Coordinator

Augustus E. Hawkins, Dean of the Democratic legislators in the California State Assembly, has been selected by Democratic National Committeeman Paul Ziffren for the important post of Candidates' Coordinator for the Adlai Stevenson Rally, Oct. 9 in the Hollywood Bowl. Serving with Hawkins is Glenn Anderson, former Democratic State Vice-Chairman.

Mr. Hawkins will be in charge of coordinating the meeting of Adlai Stevenson with all the Democratic candidates: Richard Graves for Governor; Samuel W. Yorty for U.S. Senate; Edward R. Roybal for Lieutenant Governor; Daniel Raeburn for Secretary of State; George D. Collins, Jr. for Controller; George E. Johnson for Treasurer; Richard Richards for State Senator and all the Congressional and Assembly candidates in this area.

Likes Tommy

Senator Thomas H. Kuchel's voting record in the Senate is evidence that he is a friend of minorities!

That is the personal conviction of Dr. E. I. Robinson, well-known Los Angeles civic leader, as expressed in a statement released for publication this week.

Declaring that he was not speaking for any organization but only voicing his own citizen's opinion, Dr. Robinson, who is supporting the Senator in his campaign for retention in office stated:

"Senator Kuchel has demonstrated by his voting record that he is a friend of minorities and the little man."

Smog

"Smog pollution in Southern California is now approaching the deadly degree of concentration that caused a wave of fatalities in Donora, Pennsylvania, only a few years ago."

This was the warning of Richard Richards, Democratic nominee for State Senator who in a telegram to Governor Goodwin J. Knight asked for immediate action from the State level.

GOP Meeting

Republican candidates to the U.S. Congress and State offices will appear before the mass meeting of 15th Congressional District precinct workers tonight (Thurs.) at 8 in the auditorium of Los Angeles High School, it was announced Tuesday by Van R. Kelsey, chairman of the 15th Congressional Republican Central Committee, and H. A. Howard, vice chairman of the committee's precinct organization. Some 500 precincters are expected to attend, Kelsey said.

GOP candidates who will speak at the workshop meeting are Congressman Gordon L. McDonough, who represents the 15th in the U.S. House of Representatives, U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, Mrs. Mildred Younger, candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles County, and the three incumbent Assemblymen from the district, Joseph C. Shell, G. Delbert Morris and John W. Evans.

Patio Luncheon

The announcement of a Patio Luncheon for Roybal has met with great enthusiasm among Roybal supporters on the Eastside. The Women's Committee for Roybal has received numerous offers of help and support. The pledges of food contributions guarantee that the luncheon will truly feature Food of All Nations, including delicacies of the Mexican, Jewish, Chinese, Japanese and other peoples.

The luncheon will be held on Tuesday, October 12, between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., at 1207 N. Miller Ave. The donation will be $1, and the proceeds will be used in the campaign to elect Councilman Edward R. Roybal as Lieutenant Governor.

Civil Defense Group Meets, Selects Officers

Following a meeting in the mayor's reception room on Sept. 23, a citizens' civil defense advisory committee was named for District No. 30 in central Los Angeles, it was announced by Col. Richard F. Lynch, director of the Los Angeles Office of Civil Defense.

Purpose of the committee is to stimulate interest in civil defense in the district and to advise the Los Angeles Office of Civil Defense conditions in the area.

Following are the officers selected to serve on the committee: Penrose Chadwick, chairman; E. M. Porter, co-chairman; Edward A. Hawkins and Mrs. Frank Lee, vice-chairman; William Brown, secretary; and C. J. Broadnax, treasurer.

Other members include: M. J. Faulk, Frank C. Hill, Dr. Charles E. Brown; Rev. Earl A. Pleasant; John W. Crawford; Mrs. Mary Urrutia, and Mrs. Lillie Montgomery.

Special consultants are Augustus F. Hawkins, Assemblyman in the 62nd Assembly District, and Dr. Pauline Roberts, District Health Officer in the Southeast District.

Boundaries of District No. 30 are Washington blvd., Slauson ave., Alameda street, and Figueroa street.

Assisting in the organization of the committee was Roger Q. Mason, assistant deputy director in the Block Warden division.

Wife Files Suit For Divorce

when, according to her story, she saw her husband emerge from one of the apartments in the Maylord in the company of a disreputable "woman of the night," allegedly known to police and to the community for her wayward tendencies.

She said that later she even got a letter from the "other woman," admitting her actions and offering to testify in court, if necessary.

Mrs. Jones added that the humiliation of having her husband flaunt his philanderings right under her nose was a little more than she could bear.

Virginia Leaders Sulk as Warren Receives Honors

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—Virginia's top political leaders sulked like small school boys last Saturday when Chief Justice Earl C. Warren was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree at historic William and Mary college, and pointedly refused to attend.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Gov. Thomas B. Stanley were still smarting from the unanimous Supreme Court integration decision which was presented on May 17 by Justice Warren.

Warren in his speech declared the nation's goal is still "equal and impartial justice" for all, despite the fact that the democratic system has sometmes been used for "selfish and even oppressive ends."

Car Ploughs Into 5 Women; One Dies

Mrs. Pearl W. Anderson, 1228 E. 100th street, was in City Jail Monday, charged with suspicion of manslaughter for killing one woman and injuring four others in a crosswalk at Western and Manchester blvd.

The car she was driving rammed into another auto that was halted at the intersection by a red light, veered off and crashed into the women who were crossing the street.

Mrs. Anderson, who also goes by her maiden name of Pearl Donaldson, was drunk at the time, police officers claim.

Mrs. Myrtle Sampson, 65, of 1631 W. 87th street, received head injuries which caused her death three hours later.

Among the injured was Mrs. Elizabeth Boswell, of 1322 E. 107th street, who suffered gashes on knees and elbows. Another of the injured was Mrs. Phyllis Purvis, of 9515 S. Western avenue, who said:

"The group of women had just reached the middle of the crossing when I was knocked through the air, and I saw the others tumbling and rolling all around me."

The car that had been in front of Mrs. Anderson was smashed, but the driver escaped injury.

Woman Dies After Beating

LONG BEACH Lena Mae Sanders 31, of 1970 Lemon avenue, was the victim of a fatal stabbing early Saturday morning, police reported. Jessie Boone, with whom the dead woman resided, was later arrested in connection with her death.

Monday, the police filed charges of murder against Boone. Fragmentary accounts leading up to the death of Miss Sanders, indicated Boone and the dead woman had engaged in a violent quarrel moments before she was discovered in mortal agony. She died shortly after being admitted to Seaside hospital. Boone is believed to be the deceased woman's common-law husband.

This year there will be an estimated 530,000 new cancer cases in the U.S., the American Cancer Society estimates.

Woman Says $2500 Owed For $700 Loan

Leonora Brown, 1813 East 76th street, in a complaint drawn up in the law offices of Attorneys Miller, Maddox and Sheats, charges state usury laws were violated in the amount of interest she was required to pay a broker for a loan she obtained on January 9, 1952.

She asserts she borrowed $700 from John Walton, well known investor and broker, and that Walton insisted upon her signing a note for $2500 at seven percent interest. The complaint states she paid $50 per month. All of the note is due on February 25, 1955.

Mrs. Brown claims she has paid back a total of $1600, and insists the excessive amount is usurious. She asks cash damages of $2100, including some trebble damages. She also asks for a reformation of the note to show it is $700 and that it bear no interest.

Sisters Row Over Land

The two daughters of the late Dr. E. B. Liddell, and heirs to his estate, this week prepared for a bitter battle over division of two pieces of real property. The disputants are Elbert Mae Liddell and Mrs. Bernice Hill Dyson.

Miss Liddell who filed suit through the law offices of Attorneys Miller, Maddox and Sheats, said real property located at 1552-66 West 20th street should be sold and the proceeds divided, and that six lots in Val Verde should be partitioned between her and her sister.

It appears that the two daughters of the late physician could not agree as to the management of the property. Two sons were disinherited in the will.

Man Denies Selling Dope To Hormel

Mark (Mack) Lamb, parking lot attendant who has been fingered as the man who sold marijuana to wealthy George Hormel, packing house scion, emphatically denied the accusation this week.

When he appears in court Oct. 11, he will plead "not guilty," according to his attorney, Stanley R. Malone.

Lamb, 41, who lives at 2009½ W. Jefferson blvd., was accused of having sold $20 worth of the cigarettes to Hormel, who conducts a night club trio, and his fiddler, Robert (Iggy) Shevak.

Hormel was freed on $1500 bond. Lamb was held, when he appeared in court Monday, in lieu of making $5000 bail.

Shevak appeared at the hearing and said that when the Hormel trio was playing at the Captain's Table, on La Cienega, Sept. 13, he was told that "Mack" wanted to see him. When he went outside, he claimed, Lamb showed him a roll of marijuana cigarettes and gave him one.

A little later, according to Shevak, Hormel went outside and gave Lamb $20, saying, "This ought to take care of it."

When police arrested Hormel, he claimed to have no knowledge of the 13 marijuana cigarettes found in his convertible.

Two-Gun Mother Defends Children In W. Va. Town

NEW YORK — Threats of violence in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., one of the few spots in the border states where whites resisted integration of schools, were met calmly by Negroes who were prepared to defend their children, according to Dr. J. Kenneth Morland, sociologist.

Dr. Morland told the story of an elderly Negro woman who reportedly loaded two guns, parked her car near the school, and openly vowed to shoot anyone who laid a hand on her children. She was old, she said, and didn't have long to live anyhow.

Resistance Slight

In commenting on the opposition at White Sulphur Springs and at Milford, Del., Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, noted that resistance to school integration is the exception rather than the rule in those communities which have already taken steps to abide by the Supreme Court's anti-segregation ruling of May 17.

Marshall, who headed the NAACP lawyers who argued the five cases before the Supreme Court last December, cited successful integration in Baltimore, Washington, St. Louis and other border state cities.

"In West Virginia 12 counties have gone ahead with complete integration and 13 others have initiated programs of partial integration," he said.

Jealousy

"Schools in Dover, Wilmington and other communities in Delaware have been integrated without incident. The flare-ups in White Sulphur Springs and Milford are spectacular only because they are the rare exceptions."

According to a report received by the NAACP from Dr. Morland, a noted white southern sociologist who made an on-the-spot investigation, the trouble in the West Virginia city stemmed from resentment of the fathers of some of the white boys on the football squad against the presence of two Negro boys who apparently wear headed for first team positions.

Marshal deplored the amount of newspaper publicity given to the exceptional cases.

'The Big Story

"The big story," he said, "is that integration is being widely accepted in practically all the communities where it has been tried. The transition has been so smooth in Washington that the program of integration has been greatly accelerated.

"In Carthage, Mo., Negroes have been welcomed to the formerly all-white high school and two have been elected to class office."

Marshall and his staff of lawyers are preparing to present the NAACP recommendations for the Supreme Court decrees at the hearing set for December 6. In ruling segregation unconstitutional on May 17, the Court called for further argument before handing down a decree on when and how to implement its decision.

Pickets Shut W. Virginia Grade School

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — Parents protesting integration of white and Negro pupils closed the Annabelle grade school at near-by Four States Monday. They met the principal and six teachers at the door and told them not to enter.

Principal Lloyd Seccuro and the teachers, who had arrived by bus, returned home. No pupils showed up for classes in the morning.

The Marion county board of education immediately called a special meeting, and Superintendent J. J. Straight announced: 'The board will seek relief in the courts."

Parents had previously picketed the school in protest to the integration of thirteen Negro pupils. Many of them had kept their children out since school started about three weeks ago.

School Case Hearing Set For Dec. 6

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court last Wednesday announced that it had set Dec. 6 for hearing further arguments on means of implementing its decision outlawing race segregation in public schools.

A total of 10 hours has been allowed for argumentation by the four states and the District of Columbia which instituted the five test cases.

In addition, the Justice Department may present one hour of argument, and seven states not directly involved in the May decision have notified the court they wish to appear as "friends of the court." If they desire to argue the case orally, they will be allowed one hour each.

Honor Delegates At AFL Dinner

A large number of Negro AFL delegates from unions all over the country attended the Federation's banquet last Friday at the Palladium. The affair honored the delegates and Hollywood TV, stage and screen stars proivded generous entertainment. Among them was Arthur Duncan, whose performance brought cheers and almost stopped the show.

AFL President George Meany told the delegates that the organization had come of age and has taken its place in the fight for complete democracy in America.

Construction Worker Dies In Cave-In

A 39-year-old construction worker was suffocated early Monday when a slide of dirt and sand fell down upon him in a 30-foot hole at Wilshire blvd. and Norton avenue.

Robert Fails, of 332 E. 69th street, was dead when rescuers finally dug him out of the earth which had buried him. Efforts of fellow workers and a Fire Department resuscitation squad proved unavailable.

A fellow worker, Juan Sanches, of 1566½ Pomeroy street, was in the hole when the earth caved in. He was buried to the hips, but manged to pull himself out. He and other workers immediately started digging to get to Fails and uncover his face.

Fails, who has a wife and two children in Pittsburgh, Pa., had arrived in Los Angeles only about six weeks ago. He had been working on the job for one week.

BURGLARIZE HOME

Burglars broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stewart, 1803 Euclid street, Santa Monica, last Monday night, and rifled two coin banks and a jar containing money.

The Stewarts, who were out at the time, told police that they had cash totalling about $112 in the containers. All of it was stolen.

Klan-Style Group Inciting Violence

The little town of Milford, Del., population 5179, was the focal point of the school integration situation this week, with the governor of the state standing firm for the admission of Negroes, while a spokesman for the new klan-like organization that is mushrooming throughout the country attempted to incite the white residents of the town to violence.

On Monday 10 Negroes attended the high school for the first time, but almost two-thirds of the white students stayed home. The next day, a few more of the whites showed up, but not many.

Incites Violence

On Sunday, Bryant Bowles, president of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of White People, told a crowd at the near-by Harrington airport that his three-year-old daughter will never attend a school with Negroes "as long as there is a breath in my body and gunpowder will burn."

Last Friday Gov. Boggs issued a call for citizens' cooperation in the reopening of the high school and warned that "law and order will be preserved."

The governor spoke out in a taut situation after the State Board of Education had decided to operate the Milford schools, starting Monday. They had been closed by the local authorities following telephoned threats of violence.

There was no violence as the Negro students, in school bus and private cars escorted by State troopers, arrived. But about 50 persons stood by muttering protests against integration.

A score of troopers and local police patrolled the school area throughout Monday. Authorities stated the same protection would be provided until the situation quiets down.

New Version of KKK

The National Association for the Advancement of White People is the 1954 version of the Ku Klux Klan. It was formed in Georgia a few weeks after the Supreme Court issued its ruling that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

Branches of the organization have been reported in various parts of the Carolinas and as far north as Detroit.

In a leaflet distributed by the organization recently in Detroit, the NAACP is described as a "great monster" and is linked to the Communist party.

Legion Post 752 Installs Officers For New Year

The Magellan C. Mars Post No. 752 of the American Legion had its annual installation of officers for the incoming year at Patriotic Hall, 1816 S. Figueroa street, last Friday night.

Installing officer, Joseph C. Augustine, the 23rd district commander, with the assistance of the Morningside Park Post No. 398 went through the colorful ritual of seating the new officers and giving them the instructions of office.

After the installation a report was given of all the activities of the post for the last year. A report of the money spent for the help of the different charitable organizations was read into the year's record, including sums given by the post to the Boy Scouts.

Too Congenial, Man Wakes Up In Churchyard

Marcus Ross Flowers, 42, of 1166 E. 58th drive, started drinking with two strangers last Thursday evening at 4:45 p.m. and at 2 a.m. Friday morning found he had spent the night in a churchyard, and when he hunted for the $84 nest-egg he had in his sock, discovered he was as poor as the proverbial church mouse.

Flowers stated that on Thursday evening he stopped at a liquor store at 52nd place and Central avenue, bought a pint of gin and left the store. He was approached by two thristy-looking men, who asked him for a drink. Being a congenial fellow, he led the men to his parked car where the three sat and drank the pint.

His two "friends" then asked him to buy more gin, so he gave one of the men some money to buy another bottle. While his newly acquired friend was gone, Flowers said he started feeling very ill and doesn't remember what happened after that.

He dimly remembered the man returned and he had a drink from the second bottle and the lights went out, and then the lights went out. 2 a.m. and found himself lying in a clump of bushes behind Calvary Baptist Church. He doesn't know how he got there, but he does know the $84 he had in his right sock wasn't with him.

Freedom Fund Receives $2500 From ILGWU

NEW YORK—A donation of $2,500 from the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, AFL, to the NAACP's Fight for Freedom campaign this week was hailed by Herbert Hill, NAACP Labor Relations assistant, as "in the best tradition of American trade unionism."

PAID TRIBUTE — Dumas Johnson was recently awarded a life membership in the Golden West Lodge No. 86 of the Elks.

Dumas Johnson Given Honor by Elks Lodge

Dumas Johnson, pioneer citizen of Los Angeles and retired business man, was recently awarded a life membership in the Golden West Lodge No. 86 of the Elks, as an outstanding tribute for his faithful and loyal service.

Johnson, who lives at 1103 E. Adams blvd., has been a member of the lodge for the past 35 years.

In acknowledging the special honor accorded him, Johnson expressed his appreciation for the outstanding work accomplished by the Exalted Ruler C. L. Smith, Wendell R. Hill and Chester Lewis at the convention recently held in Chicago, and for the achievements of Monroe Elgin, chairman of the Lifetime Committee of the organization.

Civil Rights Facts

The Democrats have just issued a "Fact Book" in which they go to the record to prove that the Eisenhower administration has done so much for the special interests and so little for the American people.

The book goes into every phase—well, almost every phase—of congressional activity over the past two years. Putting the records side by side, the Democrats are pretty well able to prove that their party stood by the people in the matter of taxation, public resources, housing and social security.

However the Democrats are as silent as the grave on the issue of civil rights. Had they chosen to do so they could have proved that the Republicans did nothing at all on this vital phase of American life. The few bills that were introduced were allowed to die in committee or were cleverly knifed on the floor.

The Democrats doubtless passed up their golden opportunity to twit the GOP on the civil rights issue because their own record is just as shabby. The record would show that with a few honorable exceptions from the North, the Democrats were just as eager as their Republican colleagues to let civil rights legislation languish in committee or die on the floor.

This civil rights business puts the Negro voter in a neat quandry. Democrats who controlled the Congress for two decades wouldn't pass any civil rights measures and they won't do so if they are returned to control. Republicans will do no better.

The best the Negro voter can do in this situation is to cast his vote for the handful of northern liberals who do stand on his side and hope that their tribe will increase.

The Same Old South

Virginia public officials showed up in their true colors last week when they refused to attend an affair at Williams and Mary College at which Chief Justice Earl Warren was the speaker.

Virginia brass is peeved at the chief justice because he was the author of the Supreme Court opinion holding that segregation in public schools denies constitutional rights to Negroes.

Their actions are in the best tradition of the southern ruling clique which has always insisted that it has the right to impose its will on the rest of the nation.

The habit is an old one dating from the formation of the republic. In the constitutional convention itself, the southerners threatened to go their separate ways unless the Constitution protected slavery. From that time to the Civil War the South kept up its loud voiced threats that it would disrupt the Union if anybody dared to question slavery. The Civil War laid that threat to rest.

Since the Civil War the South has been blackmailing the rest of the country with constant complaints that nobody has a right to question the Jim Crow racket. The snub to Chief Justice Warren stems from that attitude.

We're sure that the chief justice won't be intimidated by these southern threats. He is a man of courage and integrity. One of the disappointing things about the whole episode is that the matter drew so little editorial comment about the bad manners, and worse, of the southerners who showed how little they were by trying to snub a man who had the courage to interpret the Constitution in a forward looking manner.

The AFL Should Speak

The Fire Fighters Union, an AFL affiliate, has just told the Board of Fire Commissioners that there is no racial segregation in the Fire Department. The report was made in such a manner that it was represented as the attitude of the American Federation of Labor.

Of course, we know that the Fire Fighters don't represent the AFL in this matter. We do think that the Federation has a duty to stand up and be counted in this situation and to let the Fire Commissioners know just where it does stand. If it doesn't, it will have flunked out in a very critical situation.

The AFL had the chance to make its stand clear at the state convention in Santa Barbara where it was presented with a resolution clearly condemning Chief John Alderson's Jim Crow racket. It ducked the issue by shelving the resolution and accepting a wishy-washy statement from the president of the Fire Fighters to the effect that he would try to change the union's attitude. Apparently, he has done nothing.

Of course, there's racial segregation in the Fire Department. Of course, the Fire Fighters know that. Of course, the AFL knows it.

The AFL should lose no time in disavowing the attitude of its small time affiliate.

S.P. Insults Negroes

Now that Southern Pacific ticket sellers have admitted that Negro passengers are herded into a segregated car on S.P.'s Sunset Limited we hope that the NAACP will press its case to a conclusion.

We can't believe that California courts will tolerate this plain violation of our civil rights statute.

The S.P. officials had the same old tired excuses for their conduct. They want to "keep down friction." They want to "keep passengers happy." They want to "save Negroes from embarrassment." They want to "preserve good order."

Excuses of this same kind are voiced over and over again when segregation is challenged. The amazing thing is that the termination of segregation has never brought the disaster constantly predicted by apologists for Jim Crow. We can understand how southern railroads can get away with actions of this kind but we can't understand why S.P. with its large Negro passenger traffic wants to keep on insulting its customers.

Elect Lundy, Lomax

California is a cinch to have two Negroes in the Assembly this year: Augustus F. Hawkins of this city and Byron Rumford of Oakland.

Los Angeles voters have a chance to add two others to the list if they will elect Lucius Lomax in the 63rd district and Rayfield Lundy in the 55th. It happens that Lomax is a Democrat and that Lundy is a Republican but party designation shouldn't play the deciding role in these contests.

It is plain, too, that if Lomax and Lundy are to be elected Negro voters will have to shoulder the major portion of the load. Neither of the parties is going through much more than the motions of supporting the candidates.

We hope that the voters in the two districts march to the polls November 2 and send both Lomax and Lundy to Sacramento.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

DENVER, Colo. — This morning I got on the Denver plane at New York's International Airport with a copy of the Times under my arm. Naturally, the biggest headline dealt with Averell Harriman's nomination as Democratic candidate for New York's governorship.

It was a bit surprising, however, to walk into Chicago's airport a few hours later and find an even bigger headline strung across the top of the Chicago Tribune. And when I got to Denver and noted that the banner headline of the local Rocky Mountain News was "Harriman Named by N.Y. Democrats," I began to realize how large the New York gubernatorial campaign was looming before the attention of American voters straight across the country.

Lester Granger

Interest In Personalities

Not that it should have been surprising, if I'd stopped to think about it. New York State holds nearly a tenth of the national population, and on the basis of numbers alone its voters' reactions are important in other states. Then, too, the state's voters are fairly evenly divided between the two major parties, so the result of the gubernatorial election might tell a great deal about prospects for the next presidential election—far more than traditionally Republican Maine or heavily Democratic Missouri.

But I find also a strong interest out here in the personalities of the Democratic contest. Coming out of Chicago, my seatmate leaned over and helped me finish reading my New York Times.

"Well," he remarked, "I didn't think a Roosevelt could be beat for any post he wanted in New York." An Army captain voiced the same wonder in the Chicago airport coffee shop. Both fellow-travelers wanted to know what I thought of Harriman, and how I thought he'd stack up in comparison with Senator Ives—in voter appeal as well as leadership ability.

Sir Oracle

It doesn't take much to make a New Yorker play the part of Sir Oracle when he gets outside of his home territory. However, in this case I resisted the temptation. Harriman, I responded cautiously, was a first-class man, but so was Ives. Ives is a veteran of many political victories, while this coming campaign would be a brand-new experience for Harriman.

The Senator has a remarkable record as an intelligent, liberal and courageous legislator; his opponent has given years of devoted public service in administrative and diplomatic assignments. While the odds are in favor of Ives at present, only a reckless gambler would give heavy odds either way. In other words, I covered up.

Primary Upset

The voters here in Denver are just getting over a primary upset, when popular Mayor Quigg Newton lost the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator to former Congressman John Carroll. Among the hurt feelings in the wake of the primary are those of Negro voters who are unhappy over a successful coup executed by Carroll's manager.

A few days before the election, a letter from the NAACP was read at a Carroll rally, giving the record of his voting positions while he was in Congress. It was a good record, the Newton supporters admitted, but they point out that no mayor in the history of Denver can match the Quigg Newton record on matters affecting race.

He supported a new charter which included a strong human rights plank. He appointed the first human relations commission. He has appointed more Negroes to better jobs and offices than any two previous mayors. He has stood sound on racial democracy whenever it was in issue.

Time For Home-Work

What more can a candidate offer, the Newton supporters ask? And why should the racial record of either be brought into discussion in this way, unless there is to be evaluation of both? It's a nice question, one that will be asked with increasing frequency in the future.

And it's going to come up in New York State this fall, for here we have the "father" of the first FEP law and the co-backer of the current bill in the Senate, coming up against the inheritor of the civil rights position. It's time for some more homework.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

A SALUTE TO A YOUNG MINISTER

When one calls a grown man "Willie" we are told you do him no favor. However, the hero of this story has no thought about changing that diminutive term even after a military experience, procuring two degrees in college, joining a Greek fraternity, establishing a church and finally securing a church building with his very own hands.

Leon Steward

Nevertheless, this observation of his first name is not nearly so important as the fact this young friend of ours, despite his two degrees, has had what it takes to overcome his frustrations following a military sojourn, to shake off the temptations to study law, and to begin a store-front church without the assistance of a single member at its start.

Even that much would merit Rev. Willie Johnson our "Oscar" were he to stop right there.

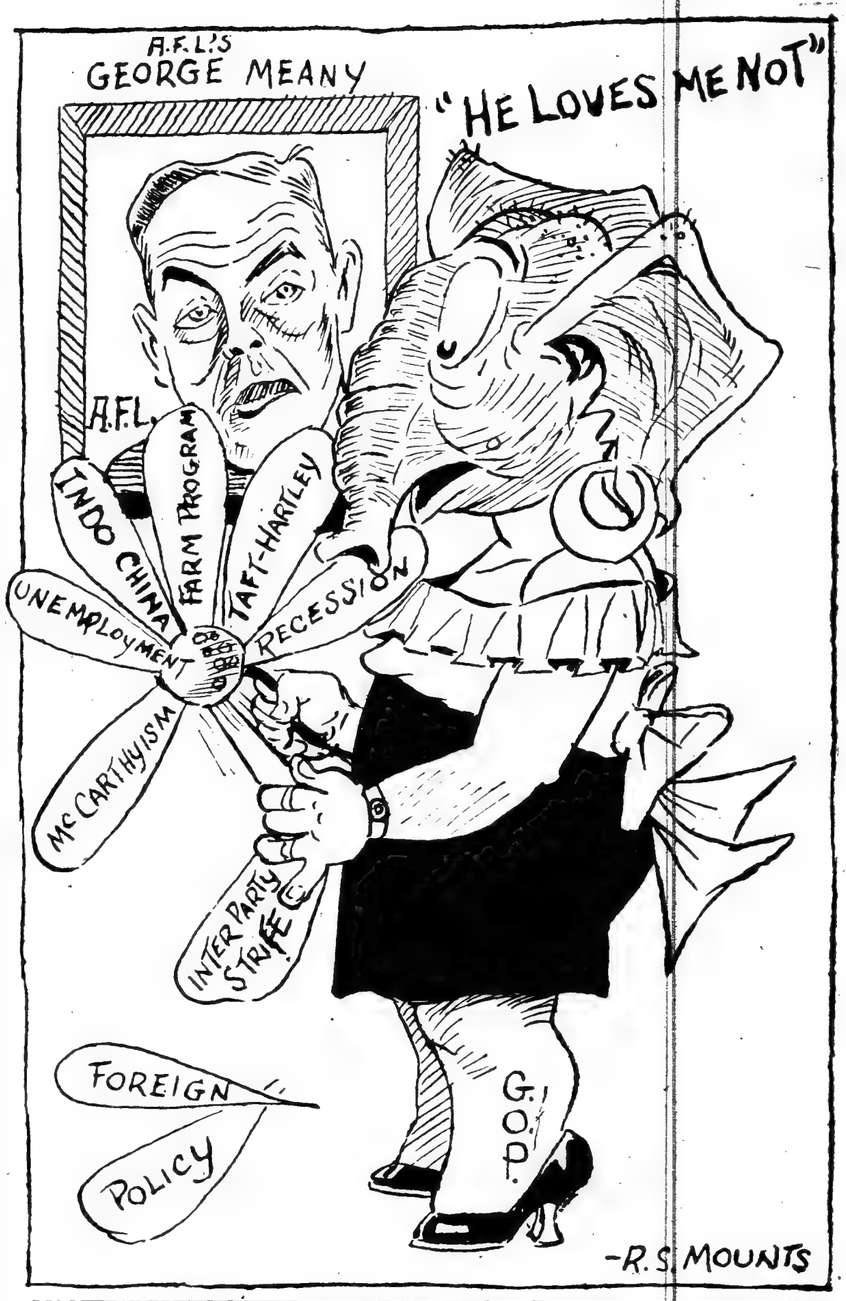
We First Meet

We first met Rev. Johnson while he was going to college in Los Angeles. He was an active member of a college fraternity. At that time he was never hesitant regarding his ambition to become a minister. And, furthermore, we do not recall any one's thinking there was any reason for joking about his vocational choice.

Willie Johnson was consistantly seeking to become a minister. One would have assumed that there was a certainty of his securing a large church pastorate at the end of his training. Instead, a married man, he went to work in a war plant but gave all of his spare time to his church endeavor, which, at the present time, numbers some 150 sincere people. We believe that one of the reasons for his success thus far has been his ability to forget those degrees and go to work.

Now The Church

The other day we were traveling home on Avalon blvd. and were attracted by a man watering a church lawn. He was in blue denim clothes but we recognized him as Rev. Willie Johnson. We pulled to the curb and stopped. He was pleased to see us but more pleased to take us through his new church building. He had bought a store and transformed it into a church, one even having a pointed steeple.



"I did the work myself—look at my hands. They are the hands of a working man." So said our young friend with pride, not too much, in his voice. It was an excellent job whoever did it. The lights were in. The floors were in. And so were his office, an office for the church secretary and the subflooring for another office. There were quite a number of chairs but not the kind found in most churches. The altar could be taken out for such services as the Lord's Supper.

"From Whence Came Money"

Naturally, we were curious as to where the pastor had gotten the money to purchase the land and the store building. "I borrowed the money on my home to get the first money, the people helped and another Baptist church which believed in us gave us a thousand dollars." So spoke the pastor.

Nevertheless, neither land nor bulding as improved are by any means paid off. He never discussed the matter any further regarding money but it is our impression that this young man would appreciate even one dollar sent him out of your interest in what he is doing.

Rev. Johnson is a native of Shreveport, La., the product of the public schools, the churches and a Christian home. His record thus far would indicate to us that there is a real place ahead for this young man either in South L.A. or in the affairs of the Baptist Denomination. We take off our hat to Rev. Willie Johnson, a young man who deserves to succeed.

Powell Explains

of the development, which net them about $8000 a year in addition to their federal salaries.

The builder is David Kent who built the Dorie Miller apartments for interracial occupancy in Queens.

Powell denied that the loan for purchase of a sports car, or the outside employment of his secretaries involved any impropriety on his part.

Powell said that when he learned last June that Kent was being investigated he went to Albert M. Cole, Administrator of the Housing and Finance Agency, and asked that a complete check be made of FHA files to determine whether he had ever interceded in behalf of anyone. He said that after a check he was informed that "there is no record of my having interceded for anyone in any way."

He charged that the Senate committee's inclusion of the Dorie Miller development, a non-profit cooperative, among a series of windfall cases, was a "Republican-sponsored drive to destroy what little nonsegregation has been started in housing."

As Kent told the story, Representative Powell, who was greatly interested in the opportunity for more mixed housing for his constituents, permitted use of his office at 132 West 138th Street for signing up prospective tenants by his secretaries. The witness said Mr. Powell received no payment for use of his office, but the secretaries got the usual 15 per cent commissions.

On one of Powell's frequent visits to watch the progress of construction, Mr. Kent said he admired a Jaguar sports car the Representative was driving.

The witness said Powell told him he had his eye on a sports car that was even more of a beauty—a Nash-Healey. When Mr. Powell remarked that he would need $3,000 more than he had to move up a rung on the sports car ladder, Mr. Kent gave him a check, and the Representative got the car. That was in October, 1952. Mr. Powell gave a note, payable on demand after three months.

Powell emphasized that the loan from Kent was duly secured by an interest-bearing note, "payable upon demand and upon which I have paid interest." He said he had never been asked for repayment but expected to clear up his debt "very shortly."

The Representative also acknowledged that he still had the Jaguar car mentioned at yesterday's hearing, as well as the Nash-Healy sports roadster he bought with the aid of the loan from his builder friend.

Mr. Powell denied any knowledge of how his secretaries, Acy Lennon and William J. Hampton, came to be selected to manage the housing project.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

Had quite an argument in "my bunch" not so long ago about cooks. All the husbands insisted that men made better cooks than women and natch the gals waved the flag for the femmes. I was utterly amazed to see how the men folks held their point even under the dagger-tip gaze of the little women.

So, of course, the logical way to solve this monumental question was to call for a contest. So a contest it was. And, brother, how the flour did fly.

Gallant as we naturally are, we gave way to the females and let them have their fling in the kitchen first. There are four of us couples in "my bunch" so the plan was to provide dinner for eleven, the eight of us and an impartial panel of three judges.

Panel of Judges

To really strive for impartiality we chose as judges a mutually agreed upon couple and an eight year old boy. Timmy was thrown in because he is at that age where he is real proud of being a boy but at the same time he is beginning to look twice at eight-year-olds who wear dresses. So our panel consisted of a male, a female and a little boy who had reason to be swaved either way.

The gals really came on. The table they set would have made the cover of Ladies Home Journal. There was a choice of tomato juice cocktail or Russian noodle soup. A succulent turkey weighing all of 15 pounds sat in the center of the table—golden brown and plump as Bing Crosby's wallet.

Surrounding this bird was an array of beans, potatoes, asparagus, greens and a choice of three different salads. Sweets meant apple or lemon pie, chocolate or devil's food cake or ice cream—your choice or the works. A heavenly punch and coffee represented the wet side of the meal.

Gals Beam

It was scrumptuous. The gals were so busy beaming and looking superior, they hardly ate a mouthful. The guys dug in like GIs just back from bivouac.

The next Saturday, it was our turn. The women folks arrived at the appointed hour smug and curious—certain we'd never be able to top their culinary exploits.

They were greeted with a long table, all set. Thrown across the table, hiding everything in sight was a spanking white table cloth. Peaks here and there hinted at exotic dishes underneath the cloth. Mystery hung in the atmosphere as thick as the smoke in our poker room at midnight every Friday.

We started the girls off with something they had forgotten—highballs. When we thought they were high enough for the shock we removed the tablecloth with great ritual.

Empty Plates

Our much better halves stared at empty plates, bowls, glasses and what have you. In silence each approached the plates and reached for elegantly addressed envelopes and opened the one bearing her name. They read:

"You win, dear. Always did have a hunch you could deposit something in a pan beside a hot dog."

As if by pre-arranged signal (which is exactly what it was) and before the ladies could demonstrate dominion over their respective spouses, representatives of one of the city's finest catering services filed in and pretty soon everyone was eating the meal of their lives —and we men kind of thought we might be introduced to some better eating in the tomorows to come.

Claiming his opponent in the forthcoming Senatorial election can "dish it out but can't take it," Congressman Sam Yorty pointed out this week to newsmen that Thomas Kuchel still has not denied that he used political influence to avoid overseas duty.

Yorty said the appointed Senator was remaining in hiding and screaming "scoundrel" instead of allowing his official war record to speak the truth.

Volunteer workers by the dozen are busily addressing approximately 150,000 envelopes to citizens all over the state as the California Institute of Social Welfare, headquartered in Los Angeles, puts the machinery to win a "yes" vote on Proposition 4 "Aid to Needy Aged" in high gear, it was announced by Chairman George McLain.

The workers, all members of the non-profit Institute, were summoned to headquarters by radio and television pleas in an effort to bring the true facts on the $100 a month pension measure to as many of the electorate as possible before election time November 2.

SMOKING IN BED

Smoking in bed kills more people each year than any other fire cause. Last year in the United States over 100,000 persons suffered more than minor discomfort because of their careless smoking habits.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

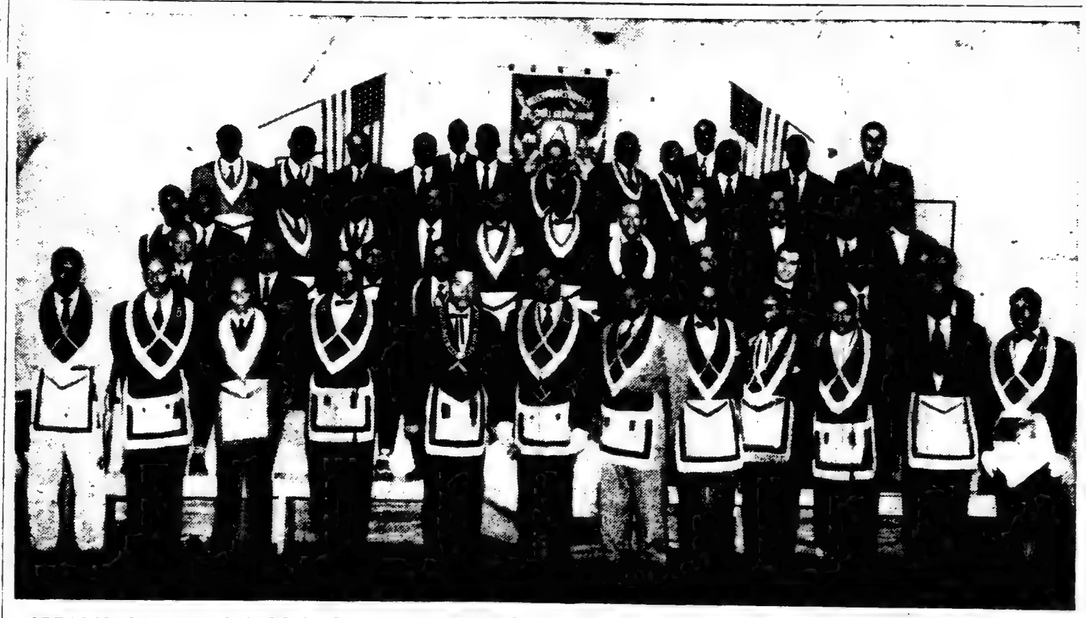
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.



All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

B. Barksdale in Concert at First AME Church, Oct. 10

Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, promises to be a day for music lovers of the southland when the Trustees and Stewards of the First A.M.E. Church, 8th and Towne avenue, present Miss Bernice Barksdale, mezzo-soprano, in a concert in the church auditorium.

The presentation of this artist marks the first time in many years that the officers of historic Eighth and Towne, first church congregation founded by Negroes in Los Angeles, have joined efforts for a public presentation. Mrs. E. Mae Sevier Franklin, well-known in social circles, has been named as general chairman for the affair.

Mrs. E. Birdie Smith is the representative of the Trustee Board. Mrs. C. K. McCalpin represents the Stewards in promoting community interest in the concert. Rev. Alvia A. Shaw is the minister.

YWCA Urgently Appeals to Adults As Youth Leaders

The YWCA-Woodlawn Branch because of its expanded program for 1954 still needs adult leadership to serve as advisors to its teenage clubs.

This year the program has been broadened to serve Lafayette Junior High School and Manual Arts High School. These two schools added to the list of schools already being served by this Branch proves to be a difficult job well done without proper adult leadership.

Persons serving as Volunteer Advisors would derive a great satisfaction in watching the wholesome growth and development of the teenagers with whom they work.

For the volunteers themselves . . . there are many opportunities to attend leadership meetings, conferences and other YWCA functions. To meet new people, make new friends.

The girls need leadership and guidance, says Mrs. Naomi Brickman, Program Director. If you are interested in helping . . . please call the office at ADams 1-4103.

Home of Van Gundy Site of Ceremony Of Consecration

The members of the Church of Christian Fellowship, 3125 W. Adams, joined in an inspirational ceremony of blessing the home. With prayer and song, the new home of the Palmer Van Gundys of Santa Monica was consecrated.

Palmer Van Gundy is prominent in World Federalist circles. His writings appear in leading periodicals and newspapers. He is well known for his many articles on world brotherhood and human rights.

He has been an officer in the church since the early days of church federation building.

Mrs. Van Gundy is president of the Palmer Group, a young married people's organization.

Deacon Isaiah Treadwell gave the prayer of blessing, thus reviving a custom that began with the Christian era.

This annual celebration will be observed by all churches all over the world. The Observance will begin Saturday at 10 p.m. and last until Sunday at 10 p.m. All members and friends of Bel-Vue are asked to be present and partake of the Lord's Supper at the 11:00 o'clock services.

Independent Celebrates Founder's Anniversary With Methodist Church

The pastor, choir, and congregation of the historic AME church, of 8th and Towne, will launch Independent's thirty-ninth anniversary celebration activities by worshiping at Independent on Friday night, Oct. 1.

It was thirty-nine years ago that 47 members of the AME church withdrew and called Rev. N. P. Greggs as their pastor. Thirty-nine years later the two churches are making big plans for a friendly future together.

Sunday will be Founder's Day at People's Independent Church of Christ. At morning worship George Beavers Jr. will speak. The pastor, Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, will deliver a sermonette, his subject: The Spirit of Independence. The Cathedral Choir will provide the music, their anthem being: A Song of Praise, directed by Albert J. McNeil, with Fannie E. Benjamin at the organ.

At 3:30 p.m., a special Founder's Day Anniversary service is planned, with the surviving members of the original 47 receiving special commendations. These members were recently organized into a club by Rev. Dawkins. The following members, founders of the first Independent Church of Christ established, will take part in the services: Mrs. Prentice, J. H. Shackleford, and Rev. Susie Kinsey. Both choirs of the church, the Cathedral Choir and the N. P. Greggs Gospel Choir, will furnish the music.

Vesper services will begin at 7:30 p.m., featuring an old fashioned hymn sing, a tradition during the years that Rev. Greggs pastored, and slides.

Growth of Scott Methodist From a Dream to a Reality

"From an acorn to an oak"—this old axiom could well be applied to the growth of the Scott Methodist Church of Pasadena.

The third Sunday in July, 1904, the late Rev. S. B. Danley called a little group together, whom Rev. G. R. Bryant had organized as a class at the home of Mrs. Lydia Harris. This small group, after many obstacles, had given up hope of ever having a church in Pasadena.

Three of the original group decided not to give up in defeat. They had a dream and the determination to make it a reality; a Methodist Church in Pasadena.

Fred Pope, one of the original group, rented a hall on Union street that became the first little edifice of the now great Scott Methodist Church.

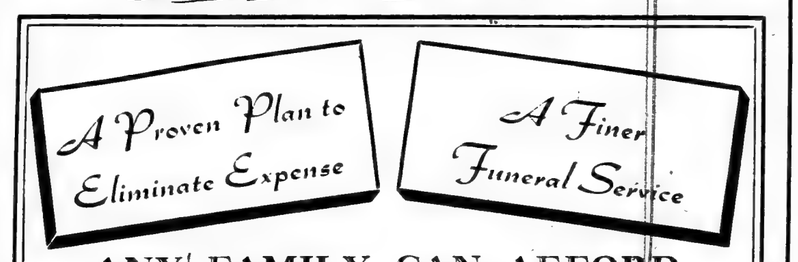
During the interim, Dr. Thompson, presiding elder, established and named the little church "Pasadena Mission."

The name was later changed to Scott Chapel in honor of Bishop I. B. Scott.

Rev. S. B. Danley, its first pastor, served four years.

Henry Harris and John Lewis made the first payment on the new church building. Mrs. Dinky Wynn, with her brother, Henry Harris, sold a lot to the church at a great financial sacrifice, for the building.

The Rev. L. G. Robinson served at intervals.



At last the dream had come true! Now Pasadena had a church. The installation of the organ was a happy day for the few members, but the happiest of all was an eleven year old girl who had raised most of the donations for the organ. A little girl that solicited long hard hours to help her church—Margie Danley, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Danley.

Red Sanders Coaching Ability Big Factor in Friday's Battle

Maryland's mighty Terps, defending national collegiate football champions, make their first Los Angeles appearance Friday night in Memorial Coliseum against the battling Bruins of UCLA in an intersectional tremender which may have an important bearing on the 1954 national standings.

Although the breaks will probably decide the outcome, the Terps figure to be slight pre-game favorites. Jim Tatum, Maryland's great split-T coach who was voted the "Coach-of-the-Year" in the country last year, has had two full weeks to get his veteran squad ready for Red Sanders' single wing attack.

This is the first of a home-and-home series between these two pigskin powers, with the Bruins slated to play at College Park, Md., next fall. However, it will be the third meeting between Tatum and UCLA headman Red Sanders, who, incidentally, was runner-up to Tatum in the "Coach-of-the-Year" balloting last season.

Tatum's 1947 Terps beat Sanders' Vanderbilt team, 20-6, but Sanders evened the count the next year when his Commodores won a decisive 34-0 victory. This is Tatum's worst defeat in his eight year coaching regime at Maryland.

National Grid Champs To Clash With Wiley

DALLAS Tex. Football fans throughout the nation will have their eyes on the Cotton Bowl here when the National Collegiate Championship team of 1953, the Prairie View Panthers vie against the Wiley Wildcats. For the first time in recent years, the Wildcats threaten to confront the Panthers with a solid defense and a fast-breaking offense.

The Panthers will have the advantage of experience on October 18 when the two teams clash in the Annual State Fair of Texas Classic. The same Prairie View team which Coach W. J. Nicks paced to the Southwest Conference crown since 1951 will be playing with the Panthers for the fourth time this year. The prospects look good for the Panthers again this year. Their contest with Wiley here will determine the outcome of their efforts. Wiley will be one of the three toughest teams the Panthers will face this season.

Skating at Park

The South Park playgrounds announces roller skating each Wednesday at 3:30 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Top Nation Grid Games Week's Dish

Football fever has hit town. The fans' feelings are a mile high. Maryland, Illinois, San Francisco '49ers games this weekend are causing just about every footballer to break out in a rash.

Friday night UCLA's Bruins will entertain Maryland, defending national collegiate grid kings, in the Coliseum before more than 60,000. Illinois invades the West, facing the Stanford Indians before some 50,000 in this game. It will feature three outstanding sepia backfield stars.

Sunday afternoon back in the Memorial Coliseum the L.A. Rams will seek to short-circuit the rampaging San Francisco '49ers with their outstanding jet action backs composed of John Henry Johnson, Joe Perry, Hugh McElhenny and Y. A. Tittle.

Kickof time for the Rams-'49er joust, which will be televised throughout the nation, but not locally, has been changed to 2 p.m. from the originally scheduled 3 o'clock.

Tank Younger, the brilliant Rams rambling back, is hitting his stride and hopes to become the NFL leading ground gainer this season. The entire Ram team is high for this game.

Don Jordan, Art Ramponi In Rematch

Don Jordan and Art Ramponi, two busy punching lightweight who put on a pier-six brawl at the Olympic several weeks ago, are signed for a return match this Monday night at the 18th and Grand Street sock-house.

Ramponi had Jordan on the deck in the early rounds but Jordan came back in the closing rounds of the bout to punch out a narrow victory and the screaming Olympic fans thought the bout should have ended in a draw.

Jordan backers are certain their charge will take command in the rematch and oddsmakers are giving him a better than two-to-one chance that he'll get his hand raised.

Some of us want to make hay when it rains because we are too busy enjoying ourselves while the sun shines.

Al McDaniel Cops Playoff

The long-awaited play-off between Al McDaniel and Joe Roach to decide the winner of the Vernondale Open Tournament got under way on Sunday, Sept. 26, at Fox Hills Country Club.

McDaniel, the pre-tourney favorite, took an early lead in the play-off when he birdied No, 1 and Roach, with a ball out of bounds took a bogie six. Roach was in trouble all the way on the front side, having two balls out of bounds. McDaniel, his putter "red hot," played superb golf, turning the front side in two under par, 34.

On the back side Roach settled down and played consistent golf, but it was not his day. McDaniel was too far out in front and he did not falter. McDaniel finished two under par with an even 70 and Roach finished five strokes behind with a 75.

Illinois Sepia Trio Faces Stanford Indians Saturday

California football fans will get a glimpse of the University of Illinois "Touchdown Twins," J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates, when the Illini play the Stanford Indians at Palo Alto Saturday.

Abe Woodson is the third member of the starting backfield and is rated as a more dangerous runner than either Caroline or Bates.

Last week Penn State held the highly heralded ball carriers in check and scored a 14 to 12 victory. Dopester claimed the Illini team was rusty and couldn't move out of their own track. Caroline, Bates and Woodson broke loose for good gains but they were grounded by Penn State's great ends and tacklers at times when it would have meant points.

While the Illini were beaten the highly favored University of Oregon's Webfoot, ranked as one of the coast's favorites to go to the Rose Bowl, were upset by Stanford 18-13.

Hundreds of L. A. football fans will be making the trip to see three of the most dangerous ball carriers in the Big Ten. The tremendous trio will be accompanied by two other sepians in Floyd McAfee and Charlie Butler.

COLLEGE GRID DOPE

HOUSTON—Three of the foremost Negro grid stars in the U. S. Armed Forces last year are now enrolled at Texas Southern University. Now wearing the Maroon and Gray battle dress of Coach Alexander Durley's Tigers are Ernest "Dumas" Lang, 189-pound halfback; Henry "The Hawk" Howard, another halfback sensation; and Lorenza Robinson, giant six foot-three, 216-pound tackle.

All products of Houston prep schools, the celebrated trio gained national attention when they played for their respective G. I. elevens. No doubt, the most famous of the three is Halfback Lang. He was the top runner in the Air Research and Development Command when he carried the leather for Edwards Air Force Base (California) "Jet." Lang, one of Texas' great athletes, scored 30 touchdowns for his prep school Alma Mater in 1950. Ignoring many scholarships from colleges and universities from all over the nation, Long enrolled at TSU before enlisting in the Air Force.

WACO—Paul Quinn College here and Grambling College of Louisiana battled to a 0-0 stalemate Friday night in the locals' brand-new Jackson Memorial Stadium.

Both teams, plagued by first-game jitters, muffed easy scoring chances with sloppy ball-handling and over-zealous defensive tactics that led to frequent penalties.

NO PARKING FEES
when you GO by METRO!

Driving your own car turns into a nerve-racking performance when you hit heavy traffic. And, finding a spot to park your car becomes a real headache, as soon as you reach your destination in any congested business or shopping center.

But—the clinching argument against driving is the sizeable parking costs that keep pulling down your pocket money.

Every day, more people realize that it's smart to go by Metro

Our Schools

I guess you've heard about the ninth graders who have come from Carver to Jeff. Well they are an active bunch of kids. They are participating in a lot of the campus activities. Take the Acapella Choir for instance. L. Larsen, music instructor, has accepted some of the students who were in the choir at Carver. Among the outstanding voices we have Carol Byas, Ruthie McNeely, Carolyn Powell, Marshall Wilkerson, Willie Rose, Larry Johnson, James Harris, and Earnest Redmon.

Marching down the hall from the music bungalow, we run into Rose Crumbly who is the president of Girls Athletic Association. Rose tells us that if most of the girls join G.A.A. they would have a lot of fun such as having play days, competing against other schools in sports and many other things.

Rose is in a hurry to get to her next class. We catch up with Mr. Craft who is sponsor of the World Friendship Club. This is an organization dedicated to peace and friendship among nations and understanding among different peoples of the world.

Leaving Mr. Craft, we join the other students on campus. There is a smartly dressed girl who is none other than Alfreda Griffie. Alfreda tells us that she is taking an academic course with a science major because she is studying to make her future career as a registered nurse.

The football team is doing pretty well this year. We have on the Bee team Thadis Johnson, Robert Nairn, Hardy Sheppard, William Holliman, Manice Mitchell. On Varsity we have David Butler, Robert Ryles, George Stencil, and Andrew Harvey. The boys are practicing hard and really have their hearts in doing a good job. David Butler and a few others received a few minor injuries while practicing a while back but they came out all right.

PAPER DRIVE

Mrs. Leroy Lee, ways and means chairman of Hobart blvd. PTA, has announced the first rag and paper drive of this school term to take place Thursday, Sept. 30. Mrs. Lee has requested that the bundles be tied in both directions so that the papers will be more secure. Everyone, including parents, is urged to help make this a successful affair. The room contributing the greatest amount of papers and rags will win a room prize.

The Hobart Blvd. PTA Hospitality committee welcomed new mothers at a coffee hour last week to acquaint them with other mothers and members of the PTA.

Mrs. Leighton Root, chairman, and her committee, composed of Mrs. Pete Abella, Mrs. Wilbur Swift, and Mrs. Alfred Hing, acted as hostesses.

They were assisted by Mrs. Mayji Oshima, president of Hobart; Mrs. Earl Whitehead, Wilshire council president and former Hobart president; and Mrs. Steven Rowland, secretary of Wilshire Council and past president of Hobart. Also assisting were Mrs. Roy Ida, secretary; Mrs. Andrew Pontani, newsette; Mrs. Sergio Vega, television; and Mrs. Kingo Tasugi.

HOBART PTA

Mrs. Earl Whitehead, Past-president of Hobart Blvd. P.T.A., presided over the first Wilshire Council Board meeting of the year held at Hoover St. School on Friday, Sept. 24.

The following members of Hobart P.T.A. were ratified to serve on the Wilshire Council Board for the ensuing year:

Mrs. David W. Williams, Music Scholarship Chrm.; Mrs. Leighton Root, Mimeograph Chrm.; and Miss Eugenia O'Brien, Principal Representative.

Mrs. Steven Rowland, junior past-president of Hobart, was elected last Spring to serve as Secretary.

"Structure of PTA" will be the topic for a panel discussion when Fremont Council meets at South Park school, on Oct. 5 at 10 a.m. Participants will be Mrs. L. H. Montgomery, first vice president of 10th District; Mrs. Charles Weddle, treasurer; and Mrs. Stanley T. Olafson, education director.

Mrs. George Thompson, president of Fremont Council, has urged the presidents of the local PTA's to bring as many of their board members as possible to this meeting.

Mrs. Orrie Boone will have Community Chest material and kits for distribution.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

All of us like to put as much safety as possible on the hands we play, and I guess this is especially true of slams, since they come so seldom we hate to miss one when the opportunity presents itself. The following hand presents from the opening lead two methods of play.

S. K742
H.
D. KQJ2
C. AK865

N.

S. 10	W. E.	S. J93
H. KQ1096		H. J874
D. A9873		D. 1054
C. 92		C. QJ3

S.
S. AQ865
H. A532
C. 1074

With both sides vulnerable, South is playing six spades. He opened one spade, West bid two hearts, and North took it from there. The opening lead is the king of hearts. The first and easiest way to play the hand is to sluff a small club from dummy and take the trick in the closed hand. Then a small diamond should be led. East is marked with the ace and now has a problem. Even in defending slams aces aren't always played at the first opportunity. If East ducks, dummy wins the trick. Then the ace and king of clubs are led. South then cross ruffs the hand. At the end he loses the last club. If West takes his ace of diamonds, regardless of what he leads back, South can sluff one club and one heart on the good diamonds in dummy and ruff two hearts with dummy's trumps.

The second way is more intricate, but takes into account the bidding. Despite all the power against him, West has made a vulnerable overcall. This almost certainly marks him with unbalanced distribution. South ruffs the first heart. He then leads a low trump, taking it with the ace. A small diamond follows. If West takes this trick, regardless of what he leads back, South will still be able to discard one club and one heart on the good diamonds. And he will be able to lead trumps once more. Or he can clear trumps and sluff two hearts and his club on the diamonds.

If West doesn't take his ace right away, diamonds should be continued and the club discarded. There is no way to avoid losing one trick, and this is the safest way to lose it.

Method number two offers the advantage of being able to clear the trump suit before the hand has been played very far. Method number one requires the lead of two rounds of clubs before any trumps have been led, and West's singleton could just as easily be in clubs as spades. If we were using BRIDGE WORD methods, we would award one hundred for number two and just about zero for the first one.

Mae Johnson to Produce Negro Heritage In Music

A presentation, "Negro Heritage In Music," will be produced by Mae Johnson, October 30, at Park Manor Ballroom, 6th and Western Avenue. This event will depict the evolution of Negro Culture by the integration of heritage from the darker races of the world. ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Dr. John Cooper, who never misses a Series, left for Big Town Sunday night. The senior John Hoskinses left yesterday for their Dee Cee home for the winter. They recently also built a large modern apartment house in that city.

Mil Blount Chief-ed in from N.Y. Saturday night, found surprise champagne on ice and Biltmore flowers, no less. Entertaining Bessie Ferguson of Kay Cee and Nan Perry of N.Y., Maurine Perkinson had a house-full Thursday night. The latter Negoree is house guest of the hostess. Mrs. Roy Wilkins due in from N.Y. to join her mate.

Patrician

Bess Gant's patrician aunt, Mrs. J. D. Brown of Kay Cee, left for home via the Bay area. Her husband is the famous magazine ad model. Pitt-Los Club recently gave a mighty handsome donation to the spastic kids fund, did you know?

Sadie Woods, at the wheel of a spanking new Bel-Air. Julian Black debating becoming an Angeleno? Marge Stewart's kids returned to N.Y. to school. Jimmy Roosevelt, October speaker for the Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast Club at the Clark.

Home Again

Leontyne King, home again and glad about it. The Curtis Millers fell soundly in love with Mexico City life. Marian J. Down's teen age daughter Karlene in junior high school, here, after their long, long absence. Leavenworth's looted Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Grey left for home day after their hosts, the Leonard Greys, gave an adieu party for them. Joyce and Herbie Howard lost their baby.

A. Philip Randolph was at the Ambassador East. Pivot: Rosita and Schuyler Nelson, hand in hand, doing the Fair at Pomona last Saturday. Boy or girl, the Francis Garlands (Paulette) are naming their baby Craig.

Due home from Europe after two years: Phyliss Hoxie Allen. Clara MacLemore had a gay birthday the other day. Eddie Beal goes north for chum Cal Bailey's approaching wedding-at-dawn.

Good as New

Archie Woodyard and Nate Collins back from a football weekend up north. Kid Thompson good as new again after surgery at Sawtelle. Jacki Woods, definitely well launched in a promising project which doubtless will keep that ole debbil wolf from her door evermore. Visitors from St. Loo: Mrs. Ada Ball and son Harry.

October calendar: Louella Dent birthdays on the 1. Laura Bowman on the 3. Naomi Clennon on the 15. Bernice (striking type!) Booker on the 16. J. Cullen Fentress on the 30. Angelenos attending that recent out-and-out sumptuous party in San Jose for Alma Ribbs (she entered San Jose State College for a pre-med course prior to Howard U.) were Ann Bradford, Eloyse Johnson and Sherrill Luke.

Word Drifts Down

Mentioning San Jose, word gently drifts down the coast that ex-Angeleno Gerri Robinson's next husband will be a lad from that town. She recently divorced Dr. Cato Robinson, you may recall. Hazel Washington got in from Europe. Local club of fun-lovin' gals voted unanimously at their last meeting to head their fishtails and 98's to Las Vegas in February for the Moulin Rouge opening hassle. Say hey!

Jack Hines passing through town en route to Asilomar area to be on hand for the NAACP session on the 15. Battling a miserable cold. Jack feels and looks some garlanded spectre of a vanished emperor while jockeying his sky-blue Chrysler Imperial about town. Not even promise of a discreet orgy slated much later by fellow renegades in Carmel brightens him any.

BARBARA MOUNTS

The chief purpose of cookery as a fine art is the development of flavor. Flavors may be classed as that of the food in it's raw state; the same food altered by cooking; flavor gained by the addition of seasonings which has little or no nutritional value; and flavor gained by the combination of highly flavored foods with the comparatively tasteless. Some foods have an entirely different taste when served raw. Onions, oranges, cabbage, turnips, peppers, kohlrabi, celery, cucumbers and tomatoes are delicious either raw or cooked but each develops a new quality when cooked alone or combined with other foods.

Little food value is added with the use of salt, pepper, vinegar or mustard. The same is true of curry, chili powder or other hot spices. But they add flavor and also cover up or subdue other flavors. On the other hand adding to the food value are the savory herbs such as thyme, sage, and bay leaf, celery, parsley and garlic. Vegetables adding a distinctive flavor are the pimento, green pepper, garlic, onion, celery, okra and carrots. Other foods used chiefly for flavor are: plain sugar, molasses, honey, dates, raisins, currents, prunes and pineapple.

Use Imagination

In trying a new recipe for the first time always follow the instructions exactly. After eating the finished product you may feel that by adding a bit of this or that seasoning you may make it a bit better. Experiment with small quantities of your favorite flavor giving herb or food seasoning to give that elusive chefs touch.

Here is a recipe which will add to your cooking pleasure and will become a favorite with the entire family.

Casserole Barbecued Chicken

Dip pieces of a 3 to 3½ pound stewing or roasting chicken in salt flavored flour. Fry in ½ cup hot fat until golden brown. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of fat and into this put 1 medium onion chopped and ½ cup chopped celery and ¼ cup minced green pepper, brown lightly and add 1 cup catsup, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons worchestershire, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper and one package frozen cut corn. Pour this sauce over chicken which has been placed in a casserole and bake at 350 degrees for about an hour and three quarters or until chicken is tender. Cook covered. The corn may be added the last fifteen minutes or baking if desired. Will serve six persons.

Orchid Club Has Meeting

The Orchid Club was entertained by Elizabeth Johnson Saturday night at its regular monthly meeting.

Initial plans were formulated for the Orchids traditional holiday party.

Roll call was answered by the following: Ramelle Bagnerise, Louise Carnegie, Lottie Jordon, La Verne Mayfield, Winona Martin, Virginia Johnson, Ellen Street, Juanita Smyles, Faye Wilson and Faye Lewis.

New member Lottie Jordon will be hostess at the club's next monthly meeting.

REHEARSING FOR COTILLION—A group of young beauties are busy rehearsing for the feature dance number which they are to perform Saturday night, October 23, at the Statler Hotel in the Sierra Pacific Ballroom. The group includes, seated: Naola Mills, Baunita Comfort, Saunita Comfort, Ethel Outlaw, Jacqueline Kimbrough and Marlene Keyes; second row: Phyllis Orange, Judy Picou, Ann Williams, Marlene Edwards, Mamie Watkins, Shirley Johnson; third row: Diane Hardwick, Paula Williams, Patricia Roberts, Mary Margaret Moore and Claudia Thompson.

'TEEN TOPICS
by
JOYCE FOSTER, Sophomore of MANUAL ARTS HIGH

What is this life if, full of care, we Teens have no time to stand and stare, but here I stand looking thru a telescope of pleasure past and some in the future, too . . .

A beautiful moon and thousands of stars were the setting behind the wonderful party given on Saturday by a grand hostess, Jessica Fizdale in her rambling ranch style home in Canoga Park. Some of the guests spotted were three of Jefferson's outstanding males, [redacted], and Stanley Wilkerson. Yet Centennial, Manual, Roosevelt, Belmont and others were represented by such Teens as: Billy Crain, Elaine Kusnitz, Rosemary and Eddie Griggs, Tommy Hilton, Naomi Castalini, Gay and Marty Wong, Ned Auerback, Joan and Joe Foster, Lionel Riley, Lois Hoffman, Jenny and Ned Vincent and many more.

News flash from Dorsey . . . Friday night Napoleon and his band will entertain Dorsey students during their annual activity assembly.

A cozy and friendly atmosphere met the guests of Gail Oliver and Cullaun DeeMinter who were co-hostesses to a small group of friends on Saturday night. Among the guests were Carlton Fisher, Albert Hall, Doris Oliver, Everette Jones, Daryl Smith and Ion DeeMinters.

Freemont . . . B10's of Fremont will have an orientation assembly to introduce them to the various clubs and service organizations and to learn school cheers all this week . . .

Cheer suits, helmets and the clashes found on any high school gridiron are now in [redacted] . . . Many senior highs are now having scrimmages in getting ready for their conference tilts. Friday October 1st games are as follows: Centennial vs. Fremont and they will battle on Compton's field at 8 p.m. Dorsey will play Hollywood at the later's home field. A terrific game is expected between Jeff and Jordan. Jordan will host Jeff, who rumors say, is a threat to Manual. Manual will scrimmage with North Hollywood on Friday . . . Los Angeles will go against Lincoln High . . .

Don't forget your news . . . call me at PL 2-4313 if your hands are too tired to write your news in . . . See you next week . . .

Canadian Attorney Feted at Breakfast

Miss Violet King, Canadian born and practicing attorney from Calgery, Alberta was honored guest at a coffee at the home of Mrs. Juanita Hamilton, 8723 Mary Ave. Mesdames: Bernice P. Nance, Lucille Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton served as hostesses.

With music being played in the background, Miss King attired in a coachmanstyle champagne tafetta with acquamarine net over tafetta petticoat received the following guests:

Attorneys: James Flornoy, Rufus Carter, Herman A. English, Samuel C. McNorris, Rayfield Lundy; Misses Idell C. Vertner, Executive Director, YWCA-Woodland Branch, Libby Clark, Margo Wilkins, Ruth C. Robinson; Mesdames: Beatrice Ferguson, Kansas City, Ella K. Mays, Chairman, Blanche Mickens, Fannie V. Jones, Metcalf, Messers: Thomas Luck, Bill Hopkins.

Along with the bright morning chatter all present enjoyed being told of the many wonderful experiences in the Canadian country; Mr. A. K. Minor kept the guests amused with his "sixty second" picture taking and developments.

Miss King is the first woman student to receive her training from the University of Alberta, and is the only woman attorney serving on a staff with eight other attorneys.

Assisting the hostesses for the morning were: Fannie Jones, and Essie Robertson, who poured coffee. Guests included:

Frances Spruse, S. P. Johnson, Sr., J. F. J. Clark, Charleston, West Virginia, Essie M. Robertson Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Hamilton, A. K. Minor, San Diego.

Hyacinth Club Members Enjoy Sunday Brunch

Point Firmin was the site of entertainment staged for members of the Hyacinth Club, popular social and charitable club. They were surprised upon reaching the point early Sunday to find breakfast spread under the balmy sky.

Each Hyacinth was presented a scarf in club colors. Hyacinths present were: Mary Armstrong, Beulah Atwater, Irma G. Bailey, Rene Brackin, Betty Cunningham, Alberta Dawson, Beatrice Harrell, Ann Harvey, Thelma T. Haynes, Frances King, Lucille Means, Eddye Mitchell and Bonnie Bonnie Thompson.

Hosts to the Hyacinths were: Jerome Bailey, Ray Harvey, Woodson Cunningham, Roscoe Beck, Willie Armstrong, Milor Carter, Pete Mitchell.

Perez Prado Re-Opens Oasis Friday

PIG MEAT — Westsiders are buzzing about the 17-year-old student being kept by a 34-year-old factory worker. Because she was a little short with the daily bread, he used her head for a punching bag!

JET'S JIVE — Howard Morehead, Stanley Robertson, Franklyn A Ajaye and two others lost their jobs when the pocket-size closed down west-coast operation. Operation cost was the reason given!

ORA McCLAIN — The good looking brownskin just put her order in for a snow white El Dorado which is due this week. Now watch the wolves go to work!

PAT SIDES—The dancerable doll is the attractive receptionist in the handsome Dr. Palmer A. Reed's plush East Vernon Street offices!

ALYCE KEY — The ex-red head is now supporting a cra... zee new hairdo and getting rave notice and looking very much recovered from her illness!

POLITICAL—Big time Negro Democrats are meeting secretly to surprise the downtown ofays by not going on record as supporting anything unless the boys turn loose some official loot. Republicans leaders hearing about the meeting plans to use fat check books as bait

GERALD WIGGINS — Noted conductor of the 88's provided the styling when Larry Finely's Sunday night TV show introduced a sexy French vocalist!

GLENDA MABSON — Perhaps is the newest singing discovery since little Toni Harper. She's 12-year-old and is a voice with rich harmony and loads of personality!

GENEVIEVE MONROE — Diminutive brownskin who was acquitted of hammering and slashing her husband to death several weeks ago is attracting notice in the Milomo, Town Tavern and Rubaiyat Rooms!

BIG SUIT — A sexy New Yorker hit town to start court proceeding against a noted radio comedian. It seemed that he promise her six months work at $200 per week and he let her go after one week's work!

JUICY RECORDS—Understand

Club Oasis' Facelifting Real Beauty

El Rey del Mambo, Perez Prado, the Cuban torando who brought the mambo to the world, returns to the scene of his triumphs, the Club Oasis, this Friday, October 1, following sensational engagements at New York's plush Waldorf Astoria hotel and throughout the East.

Swingsation of Nation

Prado's previous engagement at the jazz mecca of the West broke all existing attendance records, including those set by Billy Eckstine and Stan Kenton. His concert-sized orchestra of 15, plus his show, is the most spectacular musical attraction of the nation. Perez Prado's RCA-Victor records have set the pace for dozens of top bands and artists to attempt to catch his inimitable beat and rhythm. Billy May, Spike Jones, Vaughn Monroe and lately even young Gary Crosby have all succumbled to the lure of the mambo, as originated by Perez Prodo.

Bill Robinson and Nate Poskel have completely redecorated their Western avenue nightery under the direct supervision of Beverly Hills designer Brett Carleton, and the Club Oasis may now lay claim to not only being the jazz mecca of the West, but also one of the most beautiful night clubs of the nation.

Perez Prado and his orchestra will appear seven nights a week during the Club Oasis engagement.

Joe Adams' Show Airs Eckstine's Real Life Story

"Mayor of Melody" Joe Adams set a new precedent recently when he had as his feature guest on his KOWL noon to 3:30 program, Billy Eckstine and gave a picture of the great "Mr. B's" twenty years in show business, culminating in hitherto undisclosed details, complete with sound tracks, of Eckstine's recent Paris sojourn.

Joe, who recently completed three weks in Korea, discussed the problems of traveling with Billy, and "Mr. B" in turn commiserated on the life of a movie star with "Mr. A.", who is just now getting off his special diet he was on for the part of Husky Miller in the new film, "Carmen Jones."

Along with the chatter, collectors' recordings of the very earliest Billy Eckstine song hits, a presentation of his greatest records over the years, plus some French songs on tape from his Paris tour, made the whole "Mayor of Melody" Salute to Billy Eckstine one of the year's outstanding radio programs.

Both Joe Adams and KOWL general manager George A. Baron have been so deluged with congratulations on this particular show and requests for similar programs honoring other great musical stars that it is a possibility that Joe will chose some other famous recording artist and do this again in the future. Joe Adams has the record of having more top musical artists of disc fame visit him than any other disc jockey of the West Coast.

Watts Wave Dance Rave

Ernestine Moreno, recent top honor graduate of Jordan high school in South Los Angeles and student dance teacher at the Betty Martina Studio of Dance, will be awarded a Certificate of Honor by the commandant of recruit training center, Bainbridge, Maryland, on Saturday, October 2. The honor will be bestowed upon the 18-year-old Compton girl in a ceremony before the entire camp of officers and trainees.

This fact became known here Tuesday by the plucky navy recruit's mother, Mrs. Bertha Moreno, who received an invitation to attend the ceremonies in a special communique from the commander of the training center. The invitation contained a special pass to be seated in a special section and to view the spectacle scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on the Parade Field. The message was signed W. J. Catlet, Jr., Captain, U.S. Navy, Command Recruit Training.

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford

Confidentially Yours: Photog Harry Adams whispered a 'skewp' to your correspondent to do with Lawrence Stone, the little man with the beeg voice. Seems that Stoney boy had 'em spellbound at Cosmopolitan hotel last week as he tonsiled the Danny Boy song. And one of the matrons was so carried away that she 'lay right down and swooned' and Lord knows we nelly bout flipped cause 'our man Adams didn't get a flick of that lady passing out' . . .

NEWSBOY'S NIGHTCAP (last minute ticker tape!)

Press previewing "Star Is Born" this morn . . . Neat little announcement from Jess Rand (Sammy Davis Junior's press agent) to tell us that he (Jess) is engaged to a beaut named Bonnie Byrnes. Man, that's some crazy public relations! . . . Wanani, the Afro-Cuban chanteuse who was formally introduced at the Fashionating Revue at the Savoy Sunday was known as the "Black Orchid" in the Latin countries . . . on "MAN OF COLOR" KABC this Saturday's radio Yours sincerely and assistant Betty Edwards. Give a listen! . . . Pick Up on Looey Jordan's "It's Better To Wait For Love" and Sister Rosetta Tharpe's "This Old House Has Gotto Go" . . . James Jacobs has been promoted with a steep raise in pay out at NBC. The sepia employees are making headway! . . . Sabu is beginning a "Jungle Boy" series for KTTV television! . . . Lon Fontaine enroute! . . . Scat Man Crothers signed by Olson and Johnson for revue in Chicago.

FACT OF THE MATTER IS . . . Joan Robinson whose bosom curves would make Christian Dior's latest gimick a dismal flop, had about a dozen or so more intimate friends over to acknowledge her twenty-third birthday. (Never tell a lady's age, ya bum. Not even if she's a sexy twenty-three!) . . . After one and all had 'a taste on the place' the pawtee got rocking and the neighbors started knocking! . . . not complaining 'bout the session . . . those chillun just wanted to 'crash the gate' . . .

Many of the politicians who'd like to be elected are using "smog" control as a platform. But it appears that that's just a way of clouding up more vital issues (And how in the H— did a political "squib" ever get over in this space?) . . . Could be the sounds in flight that pass throughout these portals . . . such as 'boss man' getting agitated over folks who are just wierd enough to try and hoodwink competent newspaper folk by clouding the issues . . . says some people are born dumb—others work at it all their lives! . . . Church editor Donna Pree says that inasmuch as she has heard so many praises about last Sunday's Fashionating Rhythm show, we should have faith and not feel badly about the affair being an artistic but not a financial success. "If it were the other way around and you had financial triumph and an artistic flop folks would be complaining about your sad offering and you would be a real "drag" . . . as it is now you're receiving some nice offers because of your producer chores." . . . thanks, Donna! . . . you know wot: the thing that makes a champion is the ability to go another round! . . .

Mabel Prince Entertains Shangri La Couple Club

Mrs. Mabel N. Prince was hostess to the popular Shangri La Couple Club Sunday afternoon in the patio of her lovely S. Bronson street home.

Beautiful flowers, swing umbrellas and colorful booths decorated the entire back yard. Swinging vines and tropical ferns made a beautiful setting.

The table was attractively set with beige colored linen cloth with a wide border of red apples. The centerpiece was a large ham filled with fruits and vegetables. On both sides of the ham were plastic trees decorated with various colored candy. Roast turkey and baked ham were the "pieces de resistance" with all the picnic trimmings such as potato salad, baked beans, popcorn, peanuts, stuffed eggs, relish and many other goodies.

Mrs. Prince's guests included: Messrs. and Mesdames Gilbert Lindsay, Eddie Grant, Reubin Richardson, Juanita Bell, Victor Hugo Green, Russell King, John Robinson, Herbert M. Fairs, Gertha M. Wheeler, John Davis, Bob Drinkard, Jean Johnson, Connie Garland, William Glen, George Johns, S. Alderman, Francis Garland, Janie Butler, Oscar McMullen, and Paul Harris.

The Shangri La club members are: Mesdames Bessell Bruce, Frank Bracton, Howard Draper, William Davis, Jessie McKinney, Katherine Ingram, Sadie Selby, Florence Hunt, Joe Powell, Mabel N. Prince and Sonny Hutchins.

People and Places

an ex-dyed blond is telling friends she played records to a group of Church deacons involving their leader. She's been offered $500 for the disc but so far she hasn't come up with the damaging evidence!

DOROTHY FEGAN—an attractive nurse in the Queen of Angeles hospital will be unhappy to note her true love is now residing in a plush Cold Water Canyon home!

BURNING UP—West Adams Blvd. is fast getting the label of the hottest blvd. in town. The heat keeps a constant eye on the slippery creeps who hangs out between Western and Normandie!

THE WORD—Females are passing the word along to shoot first and call Earl Broady later! Of his last thirty murder cases involving women clients doing away with a man twenty-nine are free and the other is on her way to be!

BREZZING BY—Sgt. Vivian Strange, Marie Thomas and her hefty hubby John enjoying a well earned vacation from the Police department. All three riding, relaxing, reading the Odessa Park's story in the Eagle!

TOP STYLIST—because Johnny Vivian, Katherine Stone, Frankie Price, Bettye Melton are always well groomed when out in public is the reason why they are fast becoming widly acclaimed as tops in hair-styling!

FRANKIE LAINE — Sunday night TV show is most entertaining and certain could attract more brew drinkers if he adds a touch of brownskin.

FASHIONATING — although the Royal Prince's rhythm revue didn't break any attendance record last Sunday, Chazz Crawford produced one of the most entertaining revues we have ever witness!

LAURITA ALEXANDER—willowy beauty may go places as a vocalist. She made her debut with Snake Whyte 18-piece band and she received nice note!

TANK YOUNGER—L.A. Rams footballer almost threw a block on a wise bird who tried to tell him with whom he should not pose for pictures. The very ones he was told not to pose with were his dear friends!

SIDNEY WHITE—the bartender who swings from bar to bar is announcing a new baby girl added to the family, eight pounds and half ounce!

GIVE A HAND—most of our liquor stores operating in the community claim they are family businesses and would go broke if they hired too many hands. That is understandable. While that is true and it is also a fact long known that they contribute as little as possible to such community groups as our PTA, YWCA- YMCA, NAACP, Urban League. We recently asked them to support companies that hire Negroes and most of them flatly refused although Negroes make up 90 per cent of their patronage. Now the job of getting this done falls in the hands of the consumer, you and I. Let's make it a habit to patronize only those stores pushing products which hire Negroes and see how fast we create bigger and better jobs as well as helping build a better community. At the rate many of the Central Ave., South Los Angeles stores operate we will be lucky if we have a single Negro representative working because many have gone so far as to bar our salesmen out of their stores!

MAE MEYERS—breezed into town after a month's tour of the eastern cities looking chic as ever and claimed the east is great but the west is so much better!

HAMM FEST—debuting this week was another beer that made Milwaukee famous. The brew is reported to have everything except reciprocation for Negro support. A word to the wise, "It's far worse to need it and not have it than to have it and not realize or appreciate it."

ILLNESS—Personable William (Bill) Watkins, owner of the popular Hotel Watkins on West Adams, was ordered to bed following his contacting a serious cold last week. Mrs. Watkins is also under the doctor's treatment for a cold.

Finest Artists Ready To Blow For Granz Show

When Norman Granz' "Jazz at the Philharmonic" appears at Shrine Auditorium on Thursday, October 7, two of the stars of the show will present a spectacle musically comparable to having Joe DiMaggio and Willie Mays battling it out for top honors on the same ball club.

World Series of Drums

It will be just as difficult for jazz enthusiast to decide on a winner in the forthcoming jazz duel between two of the greatest drummermen who ever beat the skins, Buddy Rich and Louis Bellson. Both of these musicians are born virtuosos and crowd-pleasing showmen. Both have had their own bands and now, for the first time, will be featured as stars on one and the same jazz team, the 1954 edition of "Jazz at the Philharmonic."

Separate Stylists

Their styles are different, but both are dynamic masters of rhythm and it'll be tough to chose between them. A sure bet is that one will spur the other on and that the only winner will be the audience!

Fourteenth Season

Other great jazz stars who will be spotlighted in the JATP concert at Shrine Auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 7, are: Ella Fitzgerald, whose song stylings become more popular with the years; piano whiz Oscar Peterson and his Trio, including bassist Ray Brown and guitarist Herb Ellis, trumpeters Dizzy Gillespie and Roy Eldridge, saxophonists Flip Phillips and Ben Webster, clarinetist Buddy De Franco and trombonist Bill Harris.

Tuksegee Club Activities Set

The Los Angeles Chapter of the Tuskegee General Alumni is planning a full season of fall club activities starting with October 30. The affair is a big Hallowe'en fun frolic.

Club members have complete details for an old fashioned barbecue dinner on November 14, and F. D. Myric is chairman of the affair.

Tuskegeeans were saddened by the recent passing of Captain Alvin J. Neely who resided at the Institute. Captain Neely served as Dean of Men at Tuskegee for many years.

Miss Ozella Holman was club hostess for the September meeting.

Texas Visitors

Mrs. C. L. Doty of McKinney, Texas was recent house guest of her sister, Mrs. Grace Johnson, and D. L. Doty, Jr., of 650 East 41st place.

Mrs. Doty has been the recipient of many social courtesies during her summer stay here. She returns to the Lone Star state this week.

Mrs. Emma Newton Feted On Birthday

One of the most lavish birthday parties given over the weekend was that of Mrs. Emma (Jerry) Newton to which more than thirty-five were invited. The lovely affair was held last Saturday evening in the beautiful apartment of Mrs. Newton at the Newton Hotel, 836 East Fifth street.

The charming hostess, one of Los Angeles' most popular and energetic business women, served her guests a delicious buffet luncheon, which included chicken, tuna salad, a variety of hors' de ouvres, cocktails, highballs and vintage champagne. She was the recipient of many fine and useful birthday gifts. Guests voted the affair one of the most unique and enjoyable of the late summer season.

The spacious rooms were especially decorated for the affair by Mrs. Anita Bogen, well known florist and decorator. The Newton Hotel is recognized as one of the most beatuiful and well appointed hostelries in the east section of the city.

Among the merry-makers who came to wish the hostess happy birthdays were: Miss Maggie Hathaway, Mrs. Ania Bogan, Mr. C. Ware of New York City; Mr. Clem Simmon of Chicago; Chester Gay of Chicago; Dave Friffon, Eddie Morris of Houston, Texas; Wesley Gudrey, Los Angeles, Mr. A. Brown of Chicago. As a compliment to her brother, the entire group of the Business Personnel of Frontier Teamsters Company were present.

Music was furnished by the popular trio, Two Kings and a Queen.

New Officers Take Seats at Alpha Meeting

The Alpha Betts Club held installation of officers at the home of Hortense Love, 1208 E. 47th St. last week. Ida La Fluer was co-hostess.

The officers were installed by Mrs. Roberta Johnson, school teacher, who presented each officer with a beautiful chrysanthemum.

New officers for the coming year are: Eliner Steward, president; Trudy White, vice president; Connie Frye, recording secretary; Ida La Fluer, corresponding sec'.; Lois Grisson, treasurer; Evelyn Mitchell, historian and reporter and Hortense Love, parliamentarian.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Marie Cline, Miss Wheaten, Mrs. Saxton, Mrs. Isabell Ellis, and Mrs. Anderson, mother of the hostess.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION - Charles Escarza of Charles, Ltd., 752 S. Broadway; Lynn Lambert, lovely Brew 102 contestant; Rebecca John Thomas, Charles' sartorial salesman, and Gene "Just Jazz" Norman, dean of disc jockeys, joined in making the first year's observance a highly significant "session." "Clothes conscious Charles" and "jovial John" have succeeded in establishing a "stylesational" innovation in men's tailoring, haberdashery and accessories. Readers of the California Eagle will be pleasantly surprised upon their appearances at Charles, Ltd., next to Owl Drugs, 5th and Broadway, where a wonderful treat is in store when you meet this terrific twosome. Don't fail to ask about seeing the World Series as Charles, Ltd., guests. (Photo Adams).

The Boy Scouts of Troop 129 is giving a "Pancake" breakfast at the Masonic Temple, 1053 E. 50th street, Sunday, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

These young boys are putting a lot of effort in this program. They need the encouragement of the presence of all parents and adults to make their breakfast a success.

Do CRAMPS give you that monthly look?

Why let tell-tale misery, "nerves" show in your eyes?

Does your mirror show an older-looking, worn-out, nervous face during your "bad days?" Why let men see that you are suffering from monthly cramps? Try a little Cardui each day as thousands of women do. Let it help build strength and resistance so you have less and less misery each month. Some go through periods without feeling any discomforts at all. Also helps relax jittery nerves—sleep better. Look, feel, act younger, more normal all month. Ask for Cardui. (Say: "card-you-eye").

Daisy Wilson Home For Aged Opens Its Doors

More than a hundred pioneer citizens attended the opening of the Daisy Wilson Home for the Aged, located at 2263 South Hobart Blvd., Sunday afternoon.

Families of the old-timers among the great crowd of people of all races and many out-of-town guests were delighted with the beautiful setting and surroundings of the lovely home for the aged.

Before and after the program everyone was shown around the grounds and through the spacious rooms.

Delightful and tasty refreshments were served by Mrs. Leanora Green and members of the committee. The members of the foundation are doing a magnificent job, Mrs. Wilson and her entire staff made the opening an outstanding affair.

Among the many highlights of the afternoon special mention should be made of an original poem, "The Old Folks," written by the well-known Andy Razaff and dedicated to the home.

Eastern Stars Hold Annual Court Meeting

The fourth annual session of the Golden Gate Grand Court of the Heroines of Jericho met recently at the John G. Jones Masonic Temple, 5904 South Broadway.

Among visiting dignitaries were Heroine Bernice E. Payne, Supreme Grand Matron of the Heroines of Jericho, under the United Supreme Council and Lt. Gov. Gr. Commander C. B. Tarrance.

The local chapter of the order is looking forward to the United Supreme Council convening here in 1956. Greetings came from the Golden Poppy Grand Chapter O. E. S.; Mrs. Fannie Mae Wilson and Frank S. Patterson.

The organist, Jeannette B. Madison, furnished the music during the meeting. Thursday Heroine Etisba Mae Hentrel, gave a reading and Grace Joseph of Oakland sang.

The newly elected officers are: Lucy Tarrance, Wm. F. Payne, A. Beatrice Brown, Collis P. Joseph, May Hale, Bernice E. Payne, Jeannette B. Madison and C. B. Tarrance.

High Court to Decide Ala. Rape Case

WASHINGTON — The United States Supreme Court was asked last week to save the life of a 17-year-old, uneducated Negro youth found guilty of rape and sentenced to die in the electric chair by an Alabama all-white jury.

Jeremiah Reeves, Jr., who is beng defended by the NAACP, was accused by a white woman six months after the alleged attack. He was grilled in a room which contained an electric chair and told if he did not confess he would be electrocuted.

Denies Guilt

The description the woman gave of her assailant is at wide variance with that of the condemned man. In addition, one of the jurors in the trial was the chief of the Montgomery Reserve Police force which was organized for the express purpose of tracking down alleged Negro rapists and he was active in this case.

There were no Negroes on the jury, and the judge denied a motion by Reeves' attorney for a public trial as required by Federal law.

The alleged rape occurred Nov. 10, 1952. Reeves was sentenced to die in Nov., 1953, despite his insistance that he is innocent.

In asking the United States Supreme Court to intervene, NAACP legal defense attorneys charged that the confessions which the prosecutor introduced into evidence were obtained by force, that the systematic exclusion of Negroes from the jury constituted a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, and that exclusion of the public denied due process of law. The high court is asked to reverse the State Supreme Court's judgment which affirmed the lower court's death sentence.

Shape Plans For Urban League Ball

Fleur Cowles, honorary chairman, this week announced preliminary plans for Hollywood's first annual Urban League ball. Proceeds will benefit the Western Region of the National Urban League.

Members of the community who will participate include:

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, Chester L. Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Miller, Mrs. J. Edward Atkinson, Mrs. Edward Atkinson, Sr., Mrs. James Garrott, Mrs. Wayne R. Howard, Mrs. Ivan J. Johnson, III, Mrs. Ezra Bell, Mrs. Edmund Hurd, and Mrs. Walter Davis.

Hollywood notables who are supporting the event include Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Dore Schary, Milton Sperling, Donald Nelson, Mike Romanoff, Allen Rivkin, Emmett Lavery, Conrad Hilton, William Gordon, Glenn Ford, Victor Stoloff, Miss Lotte Goslar, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spitz, Arnold Marquis and Maurice Silman.

Scheduled for mid-winter, the ball will have a Latin-American theme.

South Africans Watched School Case Decision

A famed writer and authority on inter-racial problems says that America, as opposed to his own country, is moving steadily away from segregation.

In the first of two articles in the current Collier's, Alan Paton, author of "Cry, the Beloved Country," writes that in his own country of South Africa people for and against segregation waited anxiously for the U.S. Supreme Court school ruling. They all wanted the same thing: to have America on their side.

Paton, on assignment from Collier's, recently completed an exhaustive trip across this country studying the question of "The Negro in America Today."

Santa Monica NAACP In Meet

The members of the Santa Monica branch of the NAACP heard several prominent guest speakers including Dr. Hurd, Santa Monica dentist, Lester P. Bailey, field representative for the Association.

Many ideas and facts were presented by the local members attending the highly interesting meeting.

Santa Monica's noted choirs were on hand to sing. They were sponsored by the Gospel Choir of Callvary Baptist Church.

CARELESS SMOKERS

In Los Angeles 2347 fires were traced to careless smokers. Do not endanger your life or that of your loved ones by carelessly flirting with danger. Make sure your cigarette is out before you leave it — never let it go out alone.

'New' Car Was Used, Barber Asks Damages

J. Spencer Brown, noted bon vivant and leading Central Avenue barber, filed a complaint through the law offices of Miller, Maddox and Sheats, charging a motor car dealer with fraud growing out of the sale of a car two years ago.

Brown, in his suit to collect $2,058.95 as actual damages and $10,000 as punitive damages, claims that on September 3, 1952, he purchased an automobile from Fisher Buick Co., of 1041 West Santa Barbara. He asserts that upon the defendant's representation that the car was new he entered into a contract to pay the sum of $5,317.59 for the car.

Later, Brown's complaint continues, he learned that the car was a used car, first sold in February of 1952. The plaintiff contends that the used car price of the car should have not exceeded $2,500. His action is based upon a fraud.

nolds holding the gun and bit him on the hand to make him drop it, she claimed. She kicked the gun out of the rear door and fled, she said further, but didn't run fast enough, and Reynolds allegedly caught up with her and tried to carry her back into the house. She broke away again and called the police.

Not so, said Reynolds. It was his wife who had the gun, he insisted, and when he struggled with her to try to get it away from her it went off.

The spent bullet was found imbedded in the counter. Reynolds was carted off to Newton and booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder, and Mrs. Reynolds was treated by ambulance attendants for abrasions of the left hand and wrist.

When police found they couldn't make the two stories jibe, they decided they didn't have a case and let Flash go.

That's all there would be to the story, except that while police were at the shop investigating the shooting, other officers searched the rooms in back of it where Flash lives and found what they claimed were stolen articles. At latest reports Hawthorne police were taking over and trying to get the straight about a television set, a camera and a few other little items which they thought should have been elsewhere.

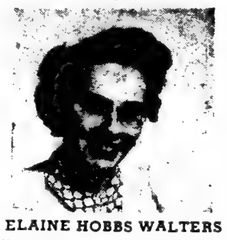
Beats Woman With Rubber Hose And Bat



Police are seeking a man who ordered Miss Louise Brown, 27, of 1824 E. 104th street, out of her boyfriend's car into his own and beat her with a ball bat and rubber hose.

Miss Brown reported to Watts police that she was riding with Frank Allen, her boyfriend, when Harrison Jenkins cut in front of their car. Jenkins got out with a ball bat and pulled Miss Brown out of Allen's car and put her in his car. He told her not to make a move, drove her to a vacant lot across the street from 9330 Success where he got a rubber hose out of his car and started beating her.

When Lawrence Mitchell, 1829 S. San Pedro street and Denver Reeves, 331½ E. 52nd street drove by, Jenkins told them to go on because it wasn't their business. The two men went to Miss Brown's rescue and took her to the police station. Mitchell told police that Jenkins told him that he was going to kill Miss Brown. Jenkins followed the trio part of the way to the Watts station, and turned off.

Cancel Hearings, Integrate Now, Poulson Orders

Integrate the Fire Department or resign, Mayor Norris Poulson told Chief John H. "I Am the Law" Alderson on Tuesday.

The mayor's blunt and uncompromising order was contained in a letter to the Fire Commissioners advising them to cancel proposed public hearings and get ahead with the task at hand.

If the chief engineer refuses to carry out integration, "I recommend," said the mayor, that you "without hesitancy demand his imediate resignation and, upon obtaining it, replace him with a man who does not regard himself as above the laws of our city, state and nation."

It is my recommendation, Poulson continued "that you cancel any public hearings on this problem and that at your next regular meeting you take decisive action establishing clearly that you and not the chief engineer set the policies for the Los Angeles Fire Department."

Asserting that Alderson has "seen fit to flout" the directives of the Commission, and has demonstrated an attitude of "absurd arrogance," the mayor proceeded: "It is with deep disappointment, therefore, that I have carefully, though with increasing exasperation, studied Mr. Alderson's rambling and carping responses to the directives of your honorable body. His contemptuous defiance of the commission must be ended forthwith."

Alderson, interviewed over the radio shortly after the mayor issued his blast, gave no indication that he would comply with the directives of the mayor and the Fire Commissioners and proceed to carry out a policy of integrating firemen.

The commission was to meet this morning, Thursday, to consider the mayor's letter.

Last Thursday the Board of Fire Commissioners bowed to Alderson's arrogant refusal to propose a plan to end Jim Crow in the Fire Department and added to the confusion and delay by agreeing to hold "hear-

Verdell Jones Hides Out; Files Counter Action

Verdell A. Jones, supervisor at the Terminal Annex Post Office, was in hiding this week after his wife, Mrs. Albertine Jones, had beat him to the punch in filing a suit for divorce.

Mrs. Jones got there first, but only by minutes. Representatives of the two attorneys must have almost brushed elbows coming in and out of the recording office last Wednesday afternoon.

Atty. Earl C. Broady, counsel for Mrs. Jones, got his client's plea on file only 10 numbers above the divorce suit filed on behalf of Verdell Jones through the law offices of William P. Carr.

But Jones' representatives turned the tables when it came to serving a summons. Mrs. Jones was given the notice of service early Thursday morning at her home in the Maylord apartment-hotel, 1250 S. Western avenue, which she and her husband managed jointly.

Jones, on the other hand, had not yet been served a week later, his whereabouts being kept a secret.

It is a toss-up, therefore, who will be suing whom and which one will be filing a cross-complaint.

As it now stands, a hearing on Jones' charges has been set for Oct. 26 in Judge Elmer D. Doyle's Domestic Relations court.

Jones, who has been employed by the Post Office for the past 26 years, based his suit on the grounds of extreme cruelty, alleging that his wife caused him physical pain and mental anguish, and had impaired his health.

Mrs. Jones also charged men-

Man Slashes Wife, Lover

Stabs Mate, Then Catches Fleeing Friend

Mrs. Addie B. Steed, 210½ E. 59th place, is in the hospital, painfully and critically injured when her husband returned home unexpectedly Sunday night, discovered the presence of another man, and proceeded to slash them both with a butcher knife.

Mrs. Steed told police from her hospital bed, that she was at home and asleep when the back doorbell rang. She opened it to her husband, John Thomas Steed, she said, and for no apparent reason he proceeded to attack her, beating her cruelly.

He knocked her to the floor, kicked her, then grabbed a butcher knife, and stabbed her repeatedly in the abdomen and legs.

Different Version

She claimed that he had beaten her on many previous occasions.

Mance Dowdell, 36, of 8815 S. San Pedro street, gave a different version of what happened, however. He said that he and Mrs. Steed had been together all evening at her house. Some of her friends came over and had a few drinks.

"The friends left, and I went to bed," Dowdell told police. "Mrs. Steed awakened me and told me her husband was outside knocking and that I'd better get out of bed and leave. The husband was at the rear door, so I ran out the front."

But Steed apparently is an

GOLD FEATHER WINNER—Mrs. Josephine Brown, center, receives the coveted "Gold Feather" from Awards Committee Chairman Mrs. Alfred Ohl, left, while Mrs. Edmund Gale looks on. Driver of Death Car is Held

Mrs. Pearl Anderson, whose car ploughed through a crosswalk a week ago last Sunday, killing one woman and injuring four others, was held to answer at a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

She was charged with felony manslaughter and felony drunk driving.

She was freed, however, on $1,000 bail pending trial.

Josephine Brown Gets Honor Award

Mrs. Josephine Brown, board member of the Watts Community House—a Community Chest agency—is the proud owner of the "Gold Feather," one of the highest awards the Community Chest can bestow upon one of its volunteer workers.

Mrs. Brown received the award at the 13th annual Women's Committee breakfast rally held Tuesday at the Palladium.

In the words of Mrs. Alfred Ohl, presiding chairman of the Awards Committee, who made the presentation, Mrs. Brown received the award, "for her devotion and dedication to helping others, and for her many years of service in the CYO, El Santo, Nino and other Community Chest agencies."

In advance of the presentation, names of the persons receiving the "Gold Feather" awards—there are four—are shrouded with the same cloak of secrecy as are movie "Oscars." They are unknown to anyone except the Award Committee, which places them in sealed envelopes to be opened during the presentations.

Gov't Agency OKs Bus Segregation

WASHINGTON—An examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission last week put his stamp of approval on racial segregation of interstate passengers by bus companies.

Ironically, the complainant in the case was a WAC who was on her way home from an army post in New Jersey to North Carolina.

Examiner Isadore Friedson held that neither the Constitution nor federal statutes prohibits "reasonable segregation" by private carriers.

Charged with direct supervision over interstate carriers, the Commission has a long record of approving segregation in interstate travel. Former Congressman Mitchell of Chicago had to overturn one of its decisions in the Supreme Court in order to establish the right of Negroes to Pullman space in interstate travel.

Four years ago the Supreme Court unanimously overruled the Commission's holding that Negroes could be seated behind partitions in dining cars.

The Examiner recommended that the I.C.C. dismiss a complaint by Miss Sarah Keyes, New York City Negro. She claimed she had been subjected to discrimination by the Carolina Coach Company at Roanoke Rapids, N.C., in August, 1952, when a bus driver had insisted that she change her seat.

Attorneys for Miss Keyes argued that segregation in transportation could not be sanctioned in the light of the recent Supreme Court decision abolishing segregation in the public schools.

Friedson said, however, that in the school cases "only the School Riots Spread; Violence Strikes Washington, Baltimore

Fanned by the new klan-like white "protective" association, school riots continued to spread and grow in intensity this week in Washington, D.C., with the situation continuing tense and inflammatory in nearby Baltimore.

In Georgia, meanwhile, the Democratic nominee for governor, Marvin Griffin, called for a "religious crusade" against the Supreme Court decision. "No true Southerner," declared Griffin, "feels morally bound to recognize the legality of this act of tyranny, support its provisions or obey its unthinkable terms," adding that the ruling "should be resisted."

Fear New Outbreaks

Unless firm action is taken by the authorities, it was feared that race riots would leap from city to city throughout the border states as the klan elements gained confidence from each new victory.

In Washington, disorders spread to new schools on Tuesday. On Monday, hundreds of jeering, cat-calling white teenagers hurled insults at Negro youngsters and egged each other on to "get" the Negro students. Police were rushed to the danger zones.

But 300 boys and girls paraded carrying inciting placards, shouting derogatory race epithets, refusing to attend classes, and booing school officials who pleaded with them to "behave."

In Baltimore at the close of school Monday at Southern High school, tempers flared. Elder James L. Johnson, a Negro minister, was on hand to escort 36 Negro students through the angry, jeering group of 200 whites, adults and teenagers. Police followed the Negro students several blocks towards their homes. The whites halted at the outskirts of the predominantly Negro neighborhood. Some 600 extra police were on duty.

Earlier a crowd of 2000 whites paraded through Baltimore's streets and stormed into the city hall demanding an interview with the mayor. About 50 teenagers forced their way into the building before police finally ejected them.

Youth Punched

On Friday a crowd of 400 white adults and teen-agers shouted angry threats at Negro pupils leaving Southern High school. Police hustled the Negro pupils out of the school two or three at a time, escorted them into prowl cars and took them home. Despite the escort, however, one white shipyard worker punched a 14-year-old Negro boy, Leon Thompson, in the face.

At another spot a young woman teacher rescued a Negro boy and girl after they had been surrounded by demonstrators. She drove into the crowd,

T.V. Viewer Gets Rough With Hostess

Ernest Owens, 1302 E. 114th street, was invited last Saturday night to watch television with a friendly neighbor next door, at 1304 E. 114th street, but Owens had more than TV on his mind.

He asked his friendly hostess, Miss Thelma January, to accompany him to the corner store for a glass of beer. On the return trip, he reportedly dragged her into his house and attacked her.

The young lady escaped and reported her half-hour ordeal to police, who arrested and booked Owens on a "forceable rape" charge. The victim was taken to Georgia Receiving hospital for examination. Some of her garments were found in Owens' apartment.

E. G. Robinson Dies Suddenly; Burial Today

Edwin G. Robinson, 63, who worked for the Southern Pacific for 40 years, died suddenly Friday afternoon just after he had come home from his last ride as a Pullman porter on the "Lark."

Mr. Robinson, of 946 E. 54th street, father of Dr. Cato Robinson and Edwin Fred Robinson, died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was taken ill shortly after he arrived home, and was immediately taken to the Santa Fe hospital, where he died about an hour later.

Funeral services are being held today, Thursday, at 1:30 p.m. from the Angelus Funeral Home, with burial at Rosedale. The Rev. F. H. Prentice, of the Mt. Zion Baptist church, and the Rev. John Lehman will officiate.

Mr. Robinson, a native of Lecompte, La., has lived in Los Angeles since 1921. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Robinson, and his two sons, both of whom ings" of some kind at some vague future date.

Fire Chief Gets Ultimatum

The only definite fact that emerged from the Thursday hearings was that "any group" may propose "plans" at or before the October 14 meeting of the Commission.

While NAACP Attorneys Edward Maddox, Herbert Simmons and Loren Miller complained that they couldn't understand what kind of "plans" the Commission proposes to hear, Board Chairman Leonard Yeamans answered that "some changes" will be made.

Commissioner Day, one of Mayor Poulson's newest appointees, remarked that he was "not certain that" Negro firemen would be "moved from" Stations 30 and 14. His assertion led to charges by the NAACP attorneys that continued indecision on the ending of segregation was a waste of time.

The Board invited members of a Department "Fact Finding Committee," inspired by Alderson and his lieutenants, to make its report on Oct. 14. The Committee, it is known, is trying to find ways and means of maintaining the segregatory practices in the Department. It is expected that it will bring in a plan to retain the present set-up.

Told by the Commission that his September 2 "plan" was worthless, Alderson blandly countered at last Thursday's meeting with the assertion that "I intend to continue" the present scheme. He complained that he couldn't understand what the Commission intended for him to do.

Going a step further, the chief baldly asserted that 'there is integration" in the Department at the present time. That "integration" consists of equality of treatment in civil service examinations, in assignment to training school and at fires, the chief said. He pointed out that if a Negro officer gets to a fire first he has command of all firemen who arrive later. He also added that there is "integration" in the athletic program.

Negro firemen, who were invited to give their views at the Oct. 14 session, told the Eagle this week that they would present a vigorous protest against present practices. They laughed at the chief's claim that there is "integration" in the Department at the present time.

"The chief has nothing to do with civil service rules respecting admission to the department but he has done his best to sabotage fair play in that respect by requiring an oral examination conducted by his officers. It is noteworthy that Negroes have a tough time with the oral when the Negro quota is filled," one of them said.

Another fireman pointed out that Alderson first refused to permit Negro trainees to eat and sleep at training classes and only abolished that practice under protest.

Firemen also pointed out that Negro and white firemen were denied the right to play baseball together under Alderson's regime.

Political Spotlight

By Observer

Who'll Get The Vote?

Eagle polls show that if the election were held tomorrow Sam Yorty, Democratic candidate for United States senator, and Edward Roybal, Democratic aspirant for lieutenant governor would run away with the Negro vote.

Still lagging behind on the basis of these polls is Richard Graves, the Democrat who wants to oust Goodwin Knight from the governor's chair in Sacramento. Knight got the majority of Negro votes on both the Democratic and the GOP ticket in the primary race and he still has them, the poll showed. In fact, there has been very little change in attitude and opinion since the primary.

Negro voters queried on Yorty and Roybal based their support on the civil rights records of both candidates with Roybal getting an added assist "because he is a member of a minority group, too." Roybal, the poll showed, would get an even larger vote than Yorty.

As for Graves, there was an imposing number of Negro voters who responded with the inquiry of "Graves? Who's he?" Even where they were vague about his record, Negro voters at least know who Knight is and many of them offered the information that he "has appointed Negroes to good jobs." Inquiry as to what jobs brought some confusion. Another percentage had heard of Knight as a judge.

Graves' supporters were more positive in their pledges of support, however, than Knight backers, leading to the supposition that Graves might still sell his wares with a vigorous campaign. Graves' backers cited his support of FEPC and his backing of civil rights in many instances. In other cases the fact that he "is a Democrat" endeared Graves to the voters.

Nobody seemed to know who other state candidates on either ticket were in most instances but many of those queried said they would vote along party lines. Since most Negroes are Democrats that seems to augur well for these unknowns.

Anyhow, that's the way it is as of October 8, 1954. We'll scout around again before Nov. 2 and let you know what's cooking in the voters's minds.

HERE COMES ADLAI

Every Democrat in Los Angeles with a buck to his credit will try to get into Hollywood Bowl Saturday night when Adlai Stevenson will mak a major address.

Richard Graves, Sam Yorty, Edward Roybal and Democratic candidates on the state ticket will be on hand to take bows and share the platform with the popular presidential candidate of 1952. Hollywood stars will put on a pageant.

Adlai will be officially welcomed to Los Angeles by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn when he arrives at the airport Friday.

Supervisor Hahn will present him with a scroll adopted by the Board of Supervisors declaring October 9 as "Adlai Stevenson Day" for Los Angeles County.

JOB DEADLINE

Richard Graves, Democratic nominee for Governor, charged Monday that "California is falling further behind each passing month in the creation of new jobs for its growing population." Speaking to a dinner rally in Oakland, Graves accused the state administration of "hiding its head in the sand as far as economic problems are concerned" and of being a "disinterested bystander in the fight for economic expansion."

The Democratic nominee called upon the incumbent Governor to "re-establish the Division of Development and Stabilization of Employment as an immediate first step toward reversing California's backward course in the employment race." The Division, established by Governor Warren as a branch of the Department of Employment to promote economic expansion, was abolished by the present administration in April, 1954.

United Nations Chapter Plans Folk Ballad Jubilee

Keynoted by a proclamation of United Nations Day from President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the 22 Southern California chapters of the American Association for the United Nations are completing plans for a week-long celebration culminating with a folk ballad jubilee Saturday evening, Oct. 23, in Philharmonic auditorium.

The jubilee, produced for the U.N. Association by impresario, Irwin Parnes, will dramatize world cooperation through song, with almost a thousand choraleers singing music from a score of countries.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is honorary chairman for the Southern California United Nations Week festivities.

Other honorary sponsors, who will be guests of honor at the jubilee, include Bishop Francis Eric Bloy, Dr. Arthur Coons, Justin Dart, Ruth St. Denis, John B. Elliott, John Anson Ford, Conrad N. Hilton, Chet Huntley, Dr. Harold G. Jones, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, R. L. Minkler, and screen actor, Robert Ryan, who will narrate the massive songfest.

The proclamation of President Eisenhower reads in part:

"Whereas the United Nations represents man's most determined effort to save humanity from the scourge of war and to promote conditions of peace and well-being for all nations, and whereas this Government believes that the United Nations deserves our continued firm support and that its success depends not only on the support given it by its members but equally on that of the peoples of the member countries:

"Now therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, do hereby urge the citizens of this Nation to observe United Nations Week with community programs that will demonstrate their faith and support of the United Nations."

Knight Forces Open Campaign

The Committee To Retain Governor Koodwin Knight moved into action this week with high enthusiasm that their candidate would be returned victorious to office by a huge majority of votes.

The Watkins hotel, one of the three district headquarters maintained by the Committee To Retain Governor Knight, was the scene of the meet last Sunday morning. The committee of co-chairmen consists of W. B. "Bill" Watkins, Atty. David B. Williams, Celestus A. King III, Bertrand B. Bratton, Paul R. Williams, J. LaMar Hill, M. Earl Grant, Atty. Everette M. Porter and Mrs. Leontyne King, director of women's activities.

According to plans, the committee will utilize every means available, including local and community newspapers, the radio and television to bring to the attention of the public the many superior qualities of Governor Goodwin J. Knight, his platform and the pledges he makes for better government. Plans are afoot to have the governor make several public appearances in the important 62nd, 63rd and 55th Assembly Districts during the campaign.

First flare-up in Baltimore occurred Thursday when parents picketed school No. 34 where 12 colored tots were enrolled in kindergarten.

Pommelled Negro

Before many hours a white youngster squared off at a Negro boy who was leaving school and began pommeling him while a crowd of whites gathered around and made no attempt to stop the fight. When it looked as if the Negro youngster was getting the upper hand, one white man stepped forward and slapped the colored child.

The first victory of the race-baiters occurred at Milford, Del., a little town of slightly over 5,000 population, where the school authorities caved in and bowed to the pressure instigated by the viciously prejudiced National Association for the Advancement of White People. The Negro students were ordered back to the all-Negro school.

Spurred By Success

Spurred by this initial success the NAAWP spread its efforts to Baltimore, and after starting flames of race hate there, turned to nearby Washington.

One of the well-known klan-like methods adopted by the white group was the burning of a cross opposite the Milford elementary and high school Wednesday night.

Sponsor of the rabble-rousing rallies which has kept the segregation fever at high pitch was Bryant W. Bowles, 34, former Marine sergeant, who was the founder of the National Association for the Advancement of White People. Bowles has repeatedly threatened that his child would not attend school with Negroes "as long as I have breath in my body and gunpowder will burn."

Police Record

After his victory at Milford, Bowles showed up in Baltimore.

Delaware police disclosed that Bowles has a police record. He was arrested and fined in Baltimore on five charges of "false pretense," and has a record for passing bad checks in Tampa.

Delaware's Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young has indicated that he will attempt to have the charter of the National Association for the Advancement of White People revoked because of its inciting to riot at Milford.

agile man. "When I got to the gate," Dowdell continued, "Steed grabbed me by the neck and began stabbing me on the arms and head. I was carrying my shirt in my hands at the time."

Police found a butcher knife in the kitchen.

Both Mrs. Steed and Dowdell were taken to General hospital. Steed was arrested and booked on assault with a deadly weapon.

Survey Shows Many Schools Effect Change

While the deep South continued to flout the Supreme Court decision on integration and race violence threatened to degenerate into widespread riots in Delaware, Maryland and the nation's capital, in a number of cities throughout the border states this week Negro and white children were attending the same schools without incident.

A comprehensive survey printed by the New York Times showed that integration had proceeded at a rapid pace in Washington until the hate-inspired riots on Monday.

In Missouri, large sections of which are strong in pro-Southern sentiment, school integration was widespread. Negroes were integrated in public schools in 69 counties of the State.

In the "permissive" states—where segregation was permitted but was not mandatory—of New Mexico, Arizona and Kansas—the Times reports, integration has been successfully achieved. In New Mexico the three communities with past segregation were now completely integrated. In Arizona there were similar successes with Phoenix as the focal point. In Kansas, one of the states where the five school cases originated, there was official state commitment to "expedite" integration that was almost completely attained this school year.

Even in Texas, integration was well under way in public junior colleges. This fall doors were opened to Negroes for the first time at junior colleges in Victoria, Odessa, Borger, Edinburg and Wharton.

In West Virginia, 12 counties have completed integration, 13 accomplished partial integration and one county, Greenbrier, returned to segregation following white protests.

Hospital Fee Is Rapped By Hahn

"I am very much against the proposal for the charging of any fees for services in the city rendered by the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital," Councilman Gordon Hahn said Monday.

Any change in this policy might cause the general public to hesitate in calling for an ambulance or being treated for an emergency which could very easily have disastrous results, he said.

TO SPEAK HERE—Eslanda Robeson, anthropologist, traveler, lecturer, author, will speak here at the Unitarian Public Forum, 2936 W. 8th street, Friday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. She will discuss the "Liberation Movement in Negro Africa."

Council Lauds Legion Post

Ben Bowie Post of the American Legion was praised by City Council this week for its prevention of juvenile delinquency, its support of civic projects and its stand against Communism.

The occasion was the 33rd anniversary of the Post and the resolution was introduced by Councilman Gordon Hahn. The Post will celebrate its anniversary on Nov. 10, according to Comander Vince M. Townsend.

field of public education, a state activity," was involved, and added:

"Such decision does not preclude segregation insofar as the conduct of a private business is concerned as, for example, a carrier engaged in the for-hire transportation of passengers.

"Thus, the recent rejection by the Supreme Court, in respect to the issue of public education, of the doctrine that the races may lawfully be separated, if substantially equal facilities and privileges are afforded Negro and white persons, in no way affects or prohibits separation or segregation of the Negro and white races insofar as transportation is concerned."

The case involved a trip that Miss Keyes, then a WAC stationed at Fort Dix, N.J., had made by bus to her home in Washington, N. C., after purchasing a through ticket from Safeway Trails at Trenton, N.J., involving travel on three separate bus lines.

She was on a Carolina coach bus for the last lap of her journey when the bus stopped shortly after midnight to change drivers at Roanoke Rapids. Miss Keyes had been sitting near the front of the bus and the new driver asked her to move to the rear, exchanging seats with a white marine.

She refused, and the driver then obtained a second bus and moved all of the white passengers into it for a continuation of the journey. Miss Keyes attempted unsuccessfully to board this bus, and was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge, detained in the local jail overnight and fined $25.

Meanest Man Clubs Woman With Crutch

Newton police are searching the town for the meanest man who last Saturday evening grabbed a crutch from an elderly woman and hit her over the head with it.

According to Miss Elis Cooper, 26, 1009½ E. 29th street, a man known only as Willie Brown came banging on her door, angrily seeking entrance. Miss Cooper, her mother, Mrs. Stella Johnson, of 1018 E. 32nd street, and Willie's girl friend were having a couple of drinks.

Miss Cooper wouldn't let the irate lover into the house, but apparently he waited just outside. When Miss Cooper and her mother went out, Brown was there. He grabbed Mrs. Johnson's crutch and beat her. Miss Cooper cut her hand trying to get the weapon away from him.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Cooper were taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital. Willie's girl friend beat a hasty retreat, leaving nary a trace.

When police arrived all they found was a broken crutch and this description of Willie—blind in one eye.

Police are still looking for their man.

Wife Claims Mate Untrue, Asks Divorce

Mrs. Rozene Dilworth of 253 East 118th street, doesn't like the company her husband, John, has been keeping. She's so irritated about the whole thing that she filed suit through Attorney Carl A. Earles asking for a divorce on the ground of adultery.

Although Mrs. Dilworth said in the complaint that she doesn't know the names of John's woman-companions, she added that he was also very cruel to her.

The Dilworths were married in Tucson on April 5, 1947, and have one child, age seven.

The complaint also cites that the couple own a 1949 Ford, a house and some household furniture. Mrs. Dilworth asks for the community property, custody of the child and alimony and attorney fees.

SICKBAY DUTY IN PACIFIC—Daniel R. McNarr is acting ward-master of the sickbay on the aircraft carrier USS Yorktown, now in the Far East. McNarr, hospital corpsman third class USN, is the husband of Mrs. Doris McNarr of 2729 10th street, Riverside.

COMMENDATION—Willis D. Gynn, steward first class, USN, now in the Far East, whose wife, Mrs. Anna T. Gwynn, lives at 406 Whitnes street, Vallejo, receives a letter of comendation from Capt. Scarrit Adams for outstanding work as steward in charge of Officers Wardroom.

Talmadge Wants Liberia Chief to Visit Georgia

WASHINGTON—President Tubman has received an official invitation from Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia to tour that state after his visit with President Eisenhower in Washington. Alabama, Oklahoma, Michigan, Ohio and Maryland also extended invitations.

Governor Talmadge took time out from plugging segregation to write:

"The State of Georgia and the Republic of Liberia share a common heritage to the extent that a shipload of Georgians were among the first settlers of Liberia and assisted in establishing a new home in that country in the early nineteenth century. It is also significant that your mother (of President Tubman) and members of your family were born and reared in this State. During your tour of the United States, we would be happy to have you visit Georgia and observe first hand the progress and advancements which the Negro citizens have made during recent years. . . ."

President Tubman replied ". . . mindful of the cordial ties of mutual friendship which have long existed between your country and mine, I indulge the full hope that my visit to your state will yield lasting, fruitful results of equal satisfaction to your people and mine. . . ."

California Eagle

Loren Miller, Editor and Publisher

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. Representation in Government.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

The Mayor Is Right

Mayor Norris Poulson went to the heart of the matter when he called upon the Board of Fire Commissioners to order Fire Chief John H. Alderson to either end racial segregation in the Department or resign.

It has long since been apparent that Alderson has no intention of ending Jim Crow in the fire stations and that he is determined to continue his arrogant refusal to even suggest any plans for a change.

The Chief has been filibustering for more than a year and as of this date he has not made a single change in Department policies or practices since the NAACP filed its original petition in August of 1953.

He flaunted his arrogance again after the Mayor's letter had been made public when he took to the air to proclaim that Negro firemen "will be sorry" if the segregation scheme is broken up.

The Mayor deserves credit, too, for urging the Commissioners to abandon their proposed public hearings into the issue. There is no need for such hearings. The facts are well known.

The Chief knows and the Commissioners know and everybody in Los Angeles who can read and write knows that Negro firemen are assigned to Stations 30 and 14 solely on the basis of race and that they are denied the right to transfer to other stations solely on the basis of their race. That is racial segregation.

The Chief has been told in forthright language by Attorney General Edmund (Pat) Brown that such segregation violates state and federal constitutional guarantees, state law and state public policy. The Commission doesn't need to hold a hearing to ascertain what everybody knows.

What the Commission does need to do, and what the Mayor has told it to do, is get on with the business of ending illegal and unconstitutional practices.

We salute Mayor Poulson for his courage and comon sense in this situation. We heartly agree with him that if Alderson won't obey the law the city needs another chief who "does not regard himself as above the laws of our city, state and nation."

The Sound And The Fury

The surface news is bad as far as integration in schools is concerned. Delaware has permitted agitators to stir up white parents and children to protest against other Americans attending the same school with them.

Emboldened by the success of the Delaware peddlers of hate, a few misguided residents of Baltimore have gone to the lengths of attacking Negro children at mixed schools.

Incidents of this kind make the headlines under the accepted practices of American newspapers: such news is sensational and it is packed with drama.

There is other news about integration in schools, less sensational and less drama-packed but far more indicative of the shape of things to come.

Negroes who entered formerly white schools in Arkansas of the Deep South are still there and they haven't had any trouble.

Negroes are attending formerly all white junior colleges in Texas.

A couple of Negro lads have been elected class officiers in a Missouri high school formerly closed to them and are members of the school's football squad—the first of their race to achieve that distinction.

Negroes are attending schools all over the nation's capital, schools formerly closed to them.

The Supreme Court has set December 6 as the day for argument on how it will order the end of segregation. It will issue an order as to how de-segregation is to be accomplished and there is every indication that the government will throw its full weight behind enforcement of that order.

No matter how many small setbacks there may be we can be sure that the days of segregated schools are numbered.

The ICC Flunks Again

No government agency has as shabby a record of putting its stamp of aproval on segregation as the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Away back in the 1930's it held that the railroads did not have to provide Pullman service for Negroes where there were few demands for service. The complainant in that case was the then Congressman Mitchel of Chicago. He took his case to the United States Supreme Court and that Court unanimously overruled the Commission.

For many years the Commission held that railroads could require Negroes to wait until all other diners had been served before they could get their meals. An appeal to federal courts overruled that decision.

Then the Commission put its okay on partitions on diners and held that Negroes could be required to sit behind them. The Supreme Court unanimously kicked that Commission order out of the window in 1950.

There have been innumerable other instances in which the reactionary Commission has had to be taken to the courts in order to erase segregation rulings.

Last week the Commission was back at its old tricks. It held that common carriers have the right to impose "reasonable segregation" on passengers. The irony of the holding is that it came in the case of a Negro WAC who was trying to get back to her post of duty with the armed forces.

We can just imagine how the Reds will roll that phrase "reasonable segregation" around in their mouths and smack their lips as they explain to amazed Asians that a member of the armed forces of the democratic United States can be forced to sit in the rear end of a bus solely because of her color when she is on her way to her post of duty.

We are sure that the Supreme Court will ultimately undo this latest nonsense of the Commerce Commission. Meanwhile, America and the world will be treated to the spectacle of its soldiers and sailors, serving in an integrated army, being forced to submit to the indignity of racial segregation on buses and trains.

Get Ready To Vote

November 2 is just around the corner.

That's the day California voters will choose a governor, other state officers, a United States senator and twenty congressmen.

The election is being held at a critical time in the history of the state and nation.

The things that are done during the terms of office of the men who are elected on November 2 will decide the fate of California and the United States for a long time to come.

If you're registered you can help in the election of the candidates. You owe it to yourself to do so. Make your plans now to vote on November 2.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

Good Old TV

DENVER—As a chap with a well-advertised dislike for television and what it has done to the social habits of Americans, I've got to admit, out here in the Far West, that television has its points. No other medium of communication can transmit to so many people, so widely separated, such clear ideas of what's right and wrong about American life.

Lester Granger

I'm thinking of Edward R. Murrow's reports of September 28 on the Milford, Delaware, School situation and on the Anti-Case campaign being carried on in New Jersey by Mr. Case's own fellow-Republicans. Naturally, as a visitor from the East, I've been asked all kinds of questions about both developments, and I've tried to do an adequate interpretive job. But all of the words I could use, and all of the newsprint they might read, could not have one-tenth the educational effect upon my inquirers of the Murrow television school.

As the sympathetically objective observer, Mr. Murrow and CBS took Denver viewers 2,000 miles East and dropped them into the home circle of a Negro family in Milford. No Coloradan could watch and listen to that program and fail to be deeply stirred by his experience—that is, if he be of normal and decent instincts. The Negro father, the son, the other children in the household, their discussion of the Milford school situation and their hopes and prayers—all of this went straight to the hearts of many white people out this way who could in no other fashion get to know the inner torments and outward effects of Jim Crow in American life.

What Goes Here?

Similarly, I'd been trying to interpret to puzzled Denver inquirers "what gives" in the New Jersey's Republican politics, with ex-Congressman Hartley joining forces with fascists, isolationists and hysterics in an effort to seize control of the party's machinery by defeating its liberal senatorial candidate, Clifford P. Case. This I had tried to explain, but the Murrow show let the Hartley crowd themselves do the explaining—far more devastatingly than any words of mine.

There is a New Jersey suburban hotel, for the benefit of television watchers, a Pro-America luncheon addressed by Fred Hartley advertised itself as a mean, vindictive, ignorant and frightened assemblage of people. Even before the ear absorbed this fact, the eye appreciated it. With ruthless candor the television cameras focused on face after face of the luncheon group of a couple of hundred people, mostly women. Not a half-dozen of those thus viewed apeared to be decent, kindly individuals. The great majority could have been depicted as inmates of a mental institution, and would have been ideally cast for the role. One of the party viewing the program with me ejaculated, "My God, they don't seem sane!" And they didn't.

Facts of Life

This one evening's experience set me to thinking again of a point I discussed in this same column some six or eight years ago. Out in this part of the country there are very few Negro residents. Economic opportunities are few; community racial attitudes are apt to be hostile, in the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho, Utah and other mountain and desert states. There is no way, except through television, for the average voter to have any clear notions about racial problems and civil rights—except on the basis of his neighbor's opinions and his own prejudices. It's, therefore, easy to understand why so many Congressman and Senators from this region take the wrong position on racial questions coming before the Congress.

When CBS or NBC, or any other national television chain, therefore presents the facts of life as clearly and compellingly as did the Edward R. Murrow show the other night, such a presentation takes on additional importance out here. It teaches a lesson and provides a point of view not possible from any other means of communication. It is to be hoped, therefore, that those of us back East who profit from this service will encourage the great national chains in continuing to provide it.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

The President spoke to an almost filled Hollywood Bowl last Saturday night. We were there to hear his every word and wish to comment on some ideas with which we are not in agreement, among other things.

He spoke of the progress made under his administration, and called this the best year we have ever had without a war. He must have gotten his reports from big business. They are kept busy building war implements such as airplanes and guns for this and other countries. Suppose that would not constitute a war year, or would it?

Leon Steward

He made no reference to the millions who are unable to find employment. Does he know why the families in Pittsburgh sent to him for food? Maybe not. Does he know that his Secretary Wilson has been responsible for some of this unemployment? Well, he should know that he transferred all of the work from other companies to his own and left gaping holes in these cities' employment.

Take Care of Your Own Business

I do not believe that government should take care of all of you people's business. I believe that you can take care of your own business. That sounded to us like flattery. It was very much like saying that the Democrats had been trying to take over other people's business. Maybe that is his idea of explaining why the Secretary of the Interior McKay had sold so many power plants built by the Democrats so that communities could get cheaper lights and power.

Ask Henry Kaiser, an industrialists, what he and other men of the President's own party who were adversely affected by his administration's "give-away" policy, what they think of his idea of letting people attend to their own business.

Not Guilty of Fraud

Not one appointee of our government has been found guilty of fraud, Eisenhower said definitely. Maybe he has not heard of the F.H.A. debacle or did he make an exception of F.H.A. when "turning out the rascals?"

The president insisted that his administration has impressed the people with its integrity. My dictionary defines integrity as the "condition of quality of being complete, undivided, or unbroken." Has anybody had the least idea that his party is in such a state? In fact, if the Democrats had not supported him it is doubtful that he would have gotten any legislation through the House and Senate.

We even heard him refer to "Harmony in Government". It is a far cry from harmony in government with the various diametrically opposed segments of the Republicans in both Houses.

Of course he bragged about his tax cuts. We thank him for the little bit of tax relief we small people received, but we would like to have had that fine cut which his administration gave corporations.

A New Housing Program

The president also stated that he was proud of the new housing plan which was fostered by his administration. Let's hope that we get some of those houses. We shall need them like everything when the freeway hits this district. But the F.H.A. traditionally is against Negroes and they have the housing financial say-so.

We doubt that the president constructed that speech. He impresses us as a good man far away from home. Oops, that man McKay has now given away some choice Rouge River National Forest for $5.00 per acre. It was worth $70.000 and contains Alaskan oil reserves.

It is alright to look on the brighter side — except when making an investment. That is the time to look on all sides.

LABOR BACKS DEMS

William E. Pollard, of the Dining Car Employees Union, and Leo A. Kallman, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, acting Co-chairmen of the newly formed Southside United Labor Committee for the Democratic Slate announce the next meeting of the committee will be held Thursday, Oct. 7, at 8:00 p.m.; in the headquarters of the United Auto Workers, C.I.O., 8501 So. San Pedro St.

Purpose of the group is to organize and coordinate activities from the ranks of labor on behalf of the Democratic Slate in the November elections.

The committee points out that most of labor has endorsed the Democratic slate and is seeking to implement these endorsements with campaign work at the precinct level.

Interested members of labor are urged to attend Thursday's meeting or to call Henry Giles, acting Secretary at NEwmark 5-2670.

ROYBAL'S COMING

The music of Joe May's orchestra will welcome all comers to the old-fashioned get together for Edward R. Roybal, Democratic nominee for Lt. Governor, Tuesday, October 12, when Roybal makes his only appearance in South Los Angeles before election day.

The giant rally, arranged by the 23rd District Roybal Committee will take place at the St. Leo's parish hall, 1148 East Imperial Hwy. in Willowbrook, starting at 8:00 p.m. There will be no admission charged.

VEEP IS COMING

Southern Californians who want to meet and visit with Vice-President Richard Nixon will have a good chance to do so both on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. when he arrives at Los Angeles International Airport and on the following Wednesday night when he makes a major address at Valley Jr. College, according to V. John Krehbiel, chairman of the GOP County Central Committee.

Large delegations from the county's 12 Congressional districts, headed by the Congressional candidate, will be on hand to welcome the Vice-President when his plane arrives from Albuquerque, Krehbiel said.

HITS BIGOTRY

Pledging continuance of a crusade against bigotry, Mildred Younger, candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles County, in a fighting speech Monday declared: "There must be no second class citizens in our country."

"Those who would destroy our government — from either the far left or the far right—try to do so by pitting race against race and religion against religion," Mrs. Younger said.

BLASTS BIAS

SAN DIEGO—Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers delivered a powerful blast against racial intolerance and bigotry here Sunday when he addressed a meeting of the San Diego Race Relations Society at the Veterans Auditorium in Balboa Park.

"Throughout my 22 years as a State Senator and Lt. Governor, I have cooperated fully with all groups to promote the cause of better racial relations among peoples of all colors, creeds and nationalities," Powers said.

DEMO DINNER

Three hundred enthusiastic Democrats jammed the Pathfinders Club in Compton last Saturday night, Sept. 25, for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner sponsored by the 23rd Congressional District Democratic Council.

State-wide and local Democratic nominees and officials and top party leaders participated in the affair, which netted more than $700 for billboards to be distributed throughout the 23rd District in the Nov. 2 general election campaign.

The program, arranged by dinner chairman Mrs. Faustina Johnson, included music and entertainment acts, in addition to brief addresses by candidates and party chiefs. Kee Maxwell, Paramount attorney and chairman of the council, was master of ceremonies.

BONELLI SPEAKS

William G. Bonelli today asked all his friends in the Democratic Party "to coordinate their activities in his behalf through the regular Assembly and Congressional District Democratic headquarters."

Bonelli, a candidate to succeed himself as member of the Board of Equalization in the Fourth District, said "the only way to restore the two-party system of politics in California is to unify the efforts of all Democratic candidates through regular party machinery."

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

I always sort of vowed that I wouldn't get into the act on this juvenile delinquent business because everybody and his brother-in-law emotes on this very popular subject.

But when I picked up the morning paper just now, these three headlines stared at me from the front page:

1. Star Athlete Knifed As He Crashes Party
2. Raid Second Night Liquor Party and Arrest 13
3. Girl Beaten, Pulled Through Creek by 3

1. Quiz Teen-Ager in Slaying of Sitter and Boy

It really looks like parents are going to the dogs.

React to Society

To be sure, you cannot blame the youngsters for their crazy, mixed-up thinking these days. They, of course, are reacting only to the society that we prepare for them. What will it take to restore the home to its original, respected place in American society?

This is not intended to be a sociological treatise. Nor is it to be another of those pieces which tear open parents and condemn them for gross neglect. In fact, I'm not sure what it's intended to be beyond a report on the fact that four startling incidents of anti-social behavior were reported in this morning's paper on two pages alone.

Yet, a little further along in the paper is the story of a drug store owner who had called teen-agers together and offered them the top floor of his store for a rec hall. The youngsters leaped at the idea and went straight to work clearing out boxes of aspirin, rubber gloves and what have you to make way for their new play headquarters.

Free Ice Cream

This druggist for years has provided the smaller fry with free ice cream cones every Monday and he does not hide the fact that these enterprises make for better business. Not to mention better youths.

In the same issue of the paper, there is a story about a produce dealer who was robbed by a couple of men dressed up as cops. Another story bemoans the fact that an official investigative body is having some little trouble getting from police brass documents which allegedly indicate that guardians of the law have been accepting money bribes to shut their eyes to the lucrative "numbers" game.

Another story tells about a lawyer who surrendered to police who had been seeking him about the slaying of his six-year-old daughter by "strangling and striking."

Ham and Egghead

There's an editorial about that "ham and egghead orator, Adlai Stevenson" and a letter to the editor that says "if we want peace, we should prepare for peace, not war."

An ad announces the publication of a book called "The Hydrogen Bomb."

And a little verse that reads: He who claims to understand women, when all is said and done, is either a good psychiatrist or else in need of one.

What does it all prove?

That I read the paper, for one thing.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

I should like at this time to thank you for all the kind things you said about me in particular and the Rheingold Brewing Company in general.

Be assured that we will adhere to our promise to continue our program for better public relations among all racial and religious groups.

Again, accept my warmest thanks.

October Month of Holy Rosary

Today, Thursday, Oct. 7, is the anniversary of the great naval battle of Lepanto when the Turkish fleet was defeated in 1571.

Pope Pius V and all Christendom had implored our Lady's intercession through the most popular of all Catholic devotions the Holy Rosary.

Pope Leo XIII in 1838 declared October the month of the Holy Rosary.

Some time before his death the great Pope Pius IX declared: "Let the rosary, this simple, beautiful method of prayer, enriched with many indulgences, be habitually recited at evening in every home. These are my last words to you, the memorial that I leave behind me."

This beautiful memorial, left by the Holy Father, should not stand neglected. Greet Mary during this month with the words of the angel: "Hail Mary!"

Founders of Independent Honored in Sunday Services

All members who were present at the first service held in Odd Fellows Hall on Oct. 10, 1915, have been invited to attend services at People's Independent Church of Christ this Sunday.

The pastor, the Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, has arranged to present Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shackelford, pioneer members, with a plaque in memory of their contributions to the church.

Morning service music will be provided by the Cathedral Choir, directed by Albert J. McNeil, with Fannie Benjamin at the organ. The pastor will speak on "The Spirit of the People."

The Women's Christian Fellowship will be in charge of the afternoon services when they will welcome the Independent Churches of the Southwest Pacific, Rev. Welford Wilson will deliver the sermon.

Vesper services will be turned over to the Evangelists of Independent. The Greggs Gospel Chorus will furnish the music, as directed by Mrs. Fannie Benjamin.

Lincoln Church In Camp Outing At San Bernardino

The first Sunday in October was declared 'Church Family Day" at Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, 4415 Hooper Avenue, of which Rev. Lloyd E. Galoway is minister. All families were invited to the service, at 1:00 a.m.

Friends of the church are also eligible to attend the church Retreat at Camp Arbolodo in the San Bernardino Mountains on October 9 and 10. There will be cabins available for each family and special cabins for single men and women. Each cabin is set in a cluster of tall pine trees with an occasional deer at the door. Meals will be served at the Lodge. The program includes worship services, games, hikes, swiming, music, and round-table discussions. The caravan leaves early Saturday morning from the church. Further information may be obtained by calling the pastor, Rev. Galloway, at REpublic 3-6065 or the church at ADams 1-1790.

Pioneer Passes

Mrs. Annie Marion, the mother of Rev. S. H. Marion, pastor of First A.M.E. Zion Church, passed away, Monday, Oct. 4 in Ashville, N.C., at the age of 88.

Mrs. Marion, who once lived in Pasadena for nearly 25 years, leaves to mourn her passing three daughters and two sons.

Services will be held Friday, in Ashville.

'Hammering Hank' Speaks For All Youth

Henry Armstrong, all-time boxing great and former triple title holder, launched a second Hour of Challenge series last Sunday at Temple Baptist Church.

New director of the Henry Armstrong Youth Foundation and a minister of Baptist persuasion, Mr. Armstrong spoke of the fight against juvenile delinquency.

He said he considers this tougher than any of the ring battles which brought him welterweight, middleweight and lightweight titles.

City Wide Mission In Revival Oct. 17

A Soul Saving Campaign will begin Sunday, Oct. 17, at 7801 S. Main Street and will continue nightly at 7:30 p.m. Pastor A. Wendell Ross, Minister of Kingdom Baptist Church will bring the messages.

The Campaign will be preceeded by a week of prayer at the Mission each day at high noon. All prayer warriors are invited to join with us. The public is urged to attend this old fashion revival.

Roy Wilkins Main Speaker In Santa Monica

SANTA MONICA — Roy Wilkins, journalist, lecturer and administrator of the NAACP, will deliver the main address here at a public meeting Sunday, Oct. 10, 7:30 p.m., at the Calvary Baptist Church, 20th and Broadway.

He will speak on how the NAACP will implement the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools, Mr. E. G. Allen, local NAACP president announced Monday.

Eagle publisher, Loren Miller, will be chairman.

Before the meeting, there will be a reception at the Masonic Temple, 1723 Broadway.

Episcopal Churchgoers Decries Segregation As Denial of Christ

In a strong editorial calling for the immediate end of segregation in churches, the Episcopal Church News charged today that segregation is a "glaring denial of Christianity".

"Segregation has the effect of saying that Jesus Christ died primarily for some and only incidentally for others," the church magazine declared.

Answering those who claim a theological basis for segregation, the Episcopal magazine said: "Every effort to put segregation in Christian dress must come to grief on the hard facts of Christian doctrine."

Those favoring segregation claim Christian baptism "is of less importance than is pigmentation of skin; that an unregenerate or even a degenerate white man has more in common with a Christian white man than has a Christian Negro; that the Christian faith and ethic must be subordinated to heartless and faith-denying doctrines about race," the editorial continued.

Bernice Barksdale In Concert at First AME Church, Sun., Oct. 10

In one of the first major concerts of the fall season, the officers of First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne avenue, will present Miss Bernice Barksdale, talented mezzo-soprano, Sunday evening Oct. 10 at 5 p.m. at the church.

Mrs. E. Mae Sevier Franklin, general chairman of the concert, states that the artistry and warm personality of Miss Barksdale will thrill the large Sunday evening audience of music lovers.

Assisting Mrs. Franklin in promoting community interest in the concert are Mrs. E. Birdie Smith, member of the Trustee Board, and Mrs. C. K. McCalpin, member of the Stewards Board, sponsors of the event.

Music critics of mid-western papers, including the Chicago Tribune, have been lavish in their praise of Miss Barksdale's voice which is an exceptional one in its warmth of color, its smoothness and its wide range. Miss Barksdale will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert V. Lucas, one of the city's outstanding musicians and organist-director of First A.M.E. senior choir.

First A.M.E. Church, the first church congregation formed by Negroes in Los Angeles, has a long history of both religious and cultural contributions to our community. Rev. Alvia A. Shaw is the minister.

NAACP Brass To Launch L. A. Seal Campaign

The big brass of the NAACP will be on hand tomorrow, Friday, at 8 p.m. to launch the 1954 Freedom Seal drive of the local branch at the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets.

Roy Wilkins, administrator from New York, will be principal speaker at the meeting. Also appearing will be Franklin Williams, West Coast regional secretary-counsel; Dr. F. I. Robinson, president of the local branch; Dr. H. Claude Hudson, national board member; and Atty Thomas G. Neusom, vice-president of the L.A. branch.

The meeting has been arranged by Attys. Herbert W. Simmons and Carl A. Earles.

Participating in addition to the above speakers will be the Rev. T. M. Chambers, pastor of Mt. Zion church, and host minister, the Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins.

While the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians split one of the highest world series players' pool local fans are expecting to jam Wrigley Field October 22 in the opening of the Winter Baseball League.

Promotor Bill Fiestner assured this writer that he believes that many of the major leaguer's outstanding players will appear on the coast.

Major League rules say that only two World Series players can be on the rooster of both games. Hank Thompson and Monte Irvin from the World Series championship team and Larry Doby and Al Smith of the Indians should make up a nice attraction.

Big Ten Football teams are taking a back seat to the Coast teams this year. Last week Stanford defeated Illinois 12 to 2, Trojans romped over Northwestern 12 to 7. The Brunis' win over Maryland gives the local elevens something to sing about.

The Rams-S.F. 49'ers slugfest was as entertaining as any Monday night at the Olympic Auditorium. The Rams and the 49'ers always put on a pier-six brawl and usually kiss and make up after game time.

Fans will talk a long time about Bob Boyd's snatch of Norm Van Brocklin's 71 yard touchdown heave, the hard running of Joe Perry, John Henry Johnson and Huge McElhenny and the tossing arm of Y. A. Tittle.

JR. ROSE BOWL TEAMS

Unlike their big brothers from the collegiate ranks, the Jr. College grid picture ran pretty true to form during the second week of play, as such pre-season favorites as Bakersfield, Pasadena, Compton, El Camino and Fullerton survived early season tests.

Tay Brown's Compton Tarters downed visiting Oregon Tech 31-13, and tangle this week with Mt. San Antonio, victorious twice this season. Bakersfield's defending Jr. Rose Bowl Champions lowered the boom on a surprised Stockton eleven, 44 to 6. The Renegades host Fresno Jaycee who fought to a 27-27 tie with Valley. Fullerton's Hornets annexed their second straight win by dropping Glendale 20 to 8. The Hornets play host to a tough Los Angeles C.C. who trounched Palo Verde 24 to 0 in a Friday night fracas.

One game that caused raised eye-brows, was the 20 to 7 lacing College of Sequoias handed to Yuba after the latter opened the season by whipping Hartnell 51 to 7. Another surprising outfit has been little Antelope Valley with lopsided victories over Chaffey 18-7 and Southern Utah, 53-0. Coach Bob McCutcheon's boys dropped only one tilt last year and have most of their letter winners returning. East Los Angeles, winner over Chaffey 39-7 last week takes on the rugged Lancers from Pasadena in a featured tilt. The Long Beach Vikings fresh from a 20-19 edge over Modesto play host to Santa Ana, a team that slaughtered Citrus last week, 37 to 0. El Camino takes on Modesto after winning their opener from Ventura, 32 to 0.

RUGGED AND DANGEROUS—John Henry Johnson, S.F. 49ers, darts through a big hole made possible when teammate Billy Johnson (63) stopped nearly 600 lbs. of Rams in last Sunday's titanic tugfest, when the two powerful professional clubs battled to a thrilling 24-24 tie game.

FUENTES, GRAHAM DUCATS ON SALE

Tickets for the Ramon Fuentes and Billy Graham ten-round boxing bout Thursday, Oct. 21, are now on sale. Choice seats from $2.50 to $7 are still available by calling the Olympic boxoffice, PR 5171.

Jeff, Venice In Gridfest Friday Night

Stan Wilkerson, dashing Jefferson Democrates two-year letterman, will be missing Friday night when the Democrats meet Venice at the Rancho Cienega Park. Game time is 8 p.m. with the B-squad getting underway at 6 p.m.

Venice's Western League powerhouse just fresh from a nifty 19-13 victory over Canoga Park is picked to win in its league this season. Big guns in the Venice attack are Lloyd Rosier and Ed. Jackson.

Jefferson defeated Venice the last time they met in a Milk Bowl contest during 1952.

Duck Season Opens Oct. 9

SACRAMENTO—When it comes, the 1954 fall duck flight should be at least as good as last year's, the Department of Fish and Game reports. But shooting may be spotty for the waterfowl season opener October 9.

A late hatch on the Canadian and Alaskan breeding grounds, coupled with "bluebird" fall weather in California, may make the birds' arrival as much as two or three weeks later than usual.

Touch Football Here

Thirty-four Los Angeles County Parks will open their 1954 touch football season Saturday, October 9, with the possibility of the best team winning Southern California honors according to B. P. Gruendyke, County Superintendent of Parks and Recreation.

The inter-park play will continue in four districts until November 20. District play-offs will be held from November 22 to 30.

Milt Campbell Romps 77 Yards

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Milt Campbell, former National decathlon champion, and now a member of the University of Indiana football team, scored his first touchdown when Indiana defeated the College of Pacific 34-6 last week.

Campbell, in the backfield with Indiana's celebrated Florian Helinski, went 77-yard on a punt return.

Monte Irvin, Hank Thompson Set To Open Winter Ball Series

The annual Winter Baseball League exhibition series at Wrigley Field will open on Friday night, Oct. 22, with the Campanella Major League all-stars opposing a picked team of major leaguers who make Southern California their home. Promoter Bill Fiestner said the second and third games of the series will be played on Sunday, Oct. 24, and Friday night, Oct. 29.

Sunday's game will be "World Series Appreciation Day," in honor of series players Monte Irvin, Hank Thompson of the New York Giants, Al Smith and Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians. The day will be featured by pre-game festivities including a parade of marching units from the Elks, Shriners and American Legion.

The Campanellas will field one of the greatest all-star clubs in the history of the local Winter League. Included in their lineup besides Irvin, Thompson and Doby are Don Newcombe, Junior Gilliam, Brooklyn Dodgers; Bill Bruton, Charley White, Milwaukee Braves; Gene Baker, Chicago Cubs; Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox and a host of other diamond greats.

Xavier Gold Rush Host Powerful Keesler Team

NEW ORLEANS—The Gold Rush of Xavier University will play host to the powerful Keesler Field Tarpons in what is expected to be one of the most exciting football games of the current season on Saturday, October 9th at Xavier Stadium.

Coach Dace Davis, former head coach of Biloxi High School, has developed his attack around the sharp shooting former ISU quarterback, Jim Barton, and the speedy Leo Magers, formerly of Western Kentucky. It is expected that a capacity crowd of enthusiastic grid fans will fill the stands of Xavier University to witness the first integrated game in the City of New Orleans in which a local college has taken part.

Xavier University's defeat of the Tuskegee Tigers by a score of 68-0 in their first engagement, gave every indication that the 1954 addition of the Gold Rush has a well balanced offensive and a strong fighting defensive line.

Southern Cats Meet Ark. St.

Southern University's Jaguar Cats will get their first grab at a conference victory October 16, when they meet the Arkansas State Lions in Pine Bluff. The Lions with Leroy Moore in his second year as head coach, got off to a flying start two weeks ago

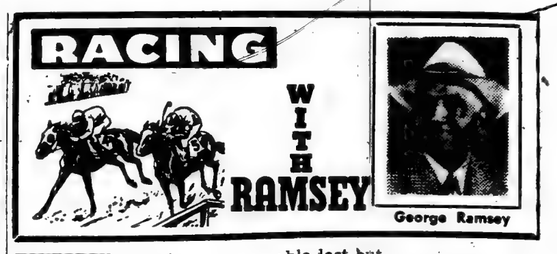
COLLEGE GRID DOPE

GREENSBORO, N. C.—The A&T Aggies unleashed a high powered scoring attack last Saturday night in defeating Allen University of Columbia, S. C., 33-0, here at Memorial Stadium.

An estimated crowd of near 7,000 saw Lonnie Hall, Aggie quarterback all but pass the visitors out of the stadium. Many were school youngsters, guests of the college in the Kid's Night celebration.

The Xavier Gold Rush, of New Orleans, Louisiana took the raps off a surprisingly fast quartet of sophomore backs and crushed an outclassed Tuskegee team 68-0. This represents the largest score in the history of the long series between these traditional foes.



BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Guy W. Harrison, president of the Birmingham-Tuskegee Club, has been quite active during the past several days, placing tickets for the annual Clark-Tuskegee football game, on sale at strategic locations. The annual gridiron battles will take place at Rickwood Field, Friday night, October 8.

Highlighting Southern University's 26-6 conquest over Texas Southern University recently was Elvin "Little Mole" Spears, a former prep sensation of Monroe. Despite the fact that he did not enter the scoring column, Spears was definitely the offensive star. He set up the first touchdown with his initial gallop of 26 yards around the right end.

"Little Mole" a pint sized halfback weighing 150 lbs. and standing 5'7", led the rushing for the Southern Jaguar Cats in their lid-opener. Carrying the ball 10 times for a net gain of 84 yards, Spears was the real difference between the two heavy and speedy backfields in last Saturday's gruelling contest.

NORFOLK, Va.—The annual Shrine Fish Bowl Classic, featuring the A&T College Aggies and the Maryland State College Hawks will be played here on Friday night, October 8, instead of Saturday, October 9.

SMITH, CADILLI REMATCH MONDAY

Ruben Smith, veteran 126-pounder, will be out to prove to his loyal and faithfuls that it wasn't any fluke when he held highly regarded Gil Cadilli to a draw in a thrilling bout five weeks ago.

The two busy punching featherweights have been signed for a return engagement at the Olympic this Monday night and the fans are looking forward to an action packed affair. Cadilli sports a very impressive ring record while Smith boasts of having met and beaten some of the best. Come early for this one and hold on to your seats.

Don Jordan Wins Title

Mister Jordan goes to town. He met and defeated Art Ramponi in a thrilling 12-round bout for the State lightweight title at the Olympic Auditorium last Monday night.

Although there wasn't a single knockdown in the hotly contested bout both fighters were shaken up from terrific wallops during the fight.

EBONY SHOWCASE

Theatre NIGHT

Eagle Night at Ebony Showcase Sparkling Success

"Eagle" night at Ebony Showcase last Thursday was a sparkling night of fun and gaiety. The house was packed with leaders of the community, relaxing in rollicking laughter to the scintillating comedy, "The Moon Is Blue."

The cast, warmed by the enthusiastic reception, responded with one of its most brilliant performances.

Following the show, Mrs. Mae Myers, member of the Allied Arts which has taken the Ebony Showcase under its wing, introduced prominent members in the audience, including A. Philip Randolph, No. 22, and Milton P. Webster, No. 24, of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters; Will Rogers Jr., No. 54.; Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, No. 20, Allied Arts president; and Loren Miller, No. 51, publisher of the California Eagle.

The audience was then invited to tour back-stage and meet the actors, and simultaneously tables laden with champagne cocktails and hors-d'oeuvres, the latter supplied by Jesse Robinson of the Fawn caterers, materialized in the middle of the living room "set."

The merriment continued as guests mingled with each other, fraternized with the cast and theater owners Edna and Nick Stewart, No. 5 and 6, and members of the Eagle staff, who acted as hosts and hostesses.

Among prominent persons who attended the gala performance were: Mrs. R. R. Wright III, Mrs. Betty Howard, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, No. 50, Gilbert Lindsay, Ted Schaffer of the Tweedsmen, No. 1; Duke Chouteau, Sir Debuteers; Miss Janie Woods, Las Primeras; Fred Wills of the Gaylords, No. 43; Mrs. Audrey Barnes, No. 28; Travis Moultrie, No. 47, of the Dryden Dance Studio; Mrs. Hattye Johnson, Charity Twelve, No. 32; Mrs. Joyce Grant, No. 18, of the 20th Century Modernettes; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Steward, and members of the Gilbert's Westwood House of Charm.

Gwen Woodson Adams, real estate broker, No. 52; Dr. D. O. Gray, No. 28; A. Palmer Reed, M.D., No. 45; A. R. Tweed, M.D., No. 42; J. F. Evans, M.D., No. 37; Atty. David W. Williams, No. 44; Atty. Carl A. Earles, No. 49; Dr. Grady Orange, No. 2; Roy Loggins, caterer, No. 3; and Enoch Willingham, No. 4, owner of B and M restaurant.

Josephine McDavid, No. 36; Annette Rogers, No. 53; Mrs. Loren Miller, No. 35; Ivan Johnson III, No. 19; Mrs. L. B. Thompson, No. 23; Katherine Stone, No. 41.

Tickets for Musical Go On Sale Here

The Negro Heritage in Music, a show sponsored by Glancing Magazine at Park Manor on October 30, for the benefit of the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch and YWCA-Santa Monica is rapidly shaping into one of the season's most interesting events.

According to chairman Bernice P. Nace, tickets to the affair are now available from any member of the committee.

Attorney Violet King, of Calgary, Canada, considered one of the top lady barristers in Canada, was the first to purchase her tickets and highly recommends the show to all.

The show is being produce by Mae Johnson, assisted by Margo Wilkins.

Links In Final Plans for Ball

Mrs. Robert Foster was hostess last Friday night at her home to the Links, at which time final plans were completed for the cotillon to be held on Saturday night, Oct. 23 at the Statler Hotel.

The proceeds from this gala event will be distributed to the Los Angeles Conference on Human Relations, the local Urban League, the national chapter of the NAACP for its special fund to continue the fight on intregation of schools, Outdoor Life and Health Ass'n., and the All Nations Foundation.

Cra-Zee Pants Is Dance Theme

A special committee meeting was held Wednesday evening to formulate the final plans for the coming "Crazy Pants" dance to be given by the Pyramid Pledge Club of Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Representatives from U.S.C., U.C.L.A., Pepperdine, L.A. State College and L.A. City College were present.

The affair is to be held at the Forum Theater's "Starlight Roof" 4050 W. Pico blvd., between the hours of 10 p.m. and 2 a.m.

Music will be played by the renowned Maynard Ferguson, formerly with the Stan Kenton orchestra.

Advanced tickets may be purchased from any member of the Pyramid Pledge Club for $1, or call AD. 4-1825.

A prize will be given to the wearer of the "Craziest" pants.

Doll Leaguers Hold Session

The "leaguers" were recently entertained by two hostesses, Mrs. Euvalda Morris and Mrs. Ethel Pickett. The very excellent cuisine of the Town Tavern was enjoyed by members as guests of Mrs. Morris, while an equally delightful repast was served by Mrs. Pickett at her new home, 1908 S. Curson street. The Doll League will be busy for the next month and a half making plans for their formal dance to which guests bring the beautiful dolls which are later distributed to needy children.

The club welcomed back its financial secretary, Mrs. Ruth Ball, who was absent during the period of her mother's last illness. The sympathy of members and Ruth's many friends were extended to her during this bereavement, which is the second in a year.

BUYS FIRST TICKET—Attractive Atty. Violet King, on a visit here from Calgary, Canada, took time out to endorse the forthcoming Heritage of Music by purchasing a set of tickets. Lovely Margo Wilkins is shown selling the ducats while Mesdames Lucille Hamilton, Atty. King, Juanita Hamilton, Margo Wilkins and Idell C. Vertner all agree that this is a wonderful affair. Dorothy Johnson Relates Views On Colorful Trip To Mexico City

Colorful Mexico City! A big growing metropolis! The capital city of a country of great extremes and contrasts with its mixture of architecture,—here, elaborate and old and—there, very smart and ultra-modern. Its wide park lined avenues present a picturesque setting along with its myriad maze of one-way streets and fast moving traffic. Its cosmopolitan atmosphere of sophistication can be overwhelming—teeming with life on its crowded streets, its dazzling bright lights, elaborate menu de cuisine, scintillating night clubs, rich with a variety of high class entertainment and mariachi music, beautiful modern hotel and apartment buildings, ornate homes, theaters and churches, the beauty of the natural scenery and the deep and vivid color of the flowers.

The Mexican people are beautiful physically as well as beautifully mannered with a deep spiritual sensitivity. They are warm, friendly and exceptionally courteous, especially if they are met part way. These and other characteristics give one, especially a member of a minority group, a strong feeling of equality and freedom. You are one of the vast multitude!!! Everyone is engrossed in his own activity without noticing or caring that you are different.

I have been asked, "But, how could you enjoy yourself seeing so much poverty?" Yet, I wonder if poverty is absent elsewhere. I read the other day that our own City Hall grounds were infested with night sleepers! Mexico is very democratic; even with its poor and its beggars. They are seen everywhere, interspersed among the rich, while in most North American cities the poor are relegated to the slums.

One is impressed with the artistry and creativity of the Mexican people; their pottery, basketry, weaving, silver and leather designs that are displayed in the many shops. Most of the paintings hanging in the museums are of the old school of art, but there are exhibitions shown daily at various galleries by new, young and talented artists. Bookstores stay open at night thereby encouraging the literary minded. At the Belles Artes, one goes to see drama, such as Shakespeare's Macbeth or to hear symphonies and concerts. It is said that the new University of Mexico City, when completed, will be rivalled by none anywhere in the world.

The Mexicans are constantly endeavoring to improve their living conditions. If an employer no longer desire the services of an employee, he must pay him three month's extra wages. Lottery tickets are sold profusely on the streets by the unemployed, who receive a certain percent of every sale. The remainder of the profit is used for Mexico's relief program. Although taxis are usually privately owned by their drivers; they are unionized. Drivers are fined for blowing horns in the downtown section of the city.

Thoroughly integrated into the life of Mexico City is the Jones family, with their beautiful homes and their flourishing business. Mexican-looking, fluently speaking the language, yet discussing and displaying their Negro heritage; they occupy a definite place in Mexico's culture. Meeting them one privately compares them with the royal family of England, princely and queenly in bearing with quiet reserved dignity. Their warmth and friendliness quickly gives strangers a feeling of being absorbed and belonging in this so-called Paris of North America.

DOT'S DASHES

by DOROTHEA FOSTER

Beta Pi Sigma Holds Monthly Meeting at 'Y'

Members of Beta Pi Sigma sorority Alpha chapter, held their monthly meeting at the YWCA, with president Helen Gaines presiding.

The joint program for 1955 with a committee from both of the chapters highlighted the meeting with Yosemite and Asilomar selected as meeting places.

The Beta chapter hosted members to a dinner which feted Myrtle Law who arrived by plane from Seattle to be made a member-sponsor for the purpose of establishing a chapter in that area.

The scholarship breakfast will be held in November with Maggie Rawls, Susie Flynn, Essie Robertson, Lucille Foreman, Alma Hogue, Mamie Lee, Roberta Austin, and Erlene Howard working out a very interesting program.

Billie Gordon Completes Tour

Mrs. Billie Gordon, Grand Assistant Directress of Civil Liberties, received a warm welcome from fellow-members of the Civil Liberties Fez Club of the Elks upon her return to the city. After attending the Elks' Grand Convention in Chicago, Mrs. Gordon visited Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and New York City, Canada, Washington, and Kansas City.

LULLABY GUILD TEA—Members of the fashionable Lullaby organization will present their first annual fashion tea Sunday, Oct. 17, at 118 N. Larchmont blvd. Seated: Josephine Bass, Ouida Williams, Maude Broady, Ethel Maddox. Standing: Margaret Lanacre, Clara Webb, Emily Portwig, Dorothy Rowland and Adele Weaver. Smitty's shot. (See story on Page 9.)

Bill Smallwood

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Leigh Whipper back in town after a long, long absence from these avenues. Kathryn Dickerson flew in last week. Illness in her local family. She boarded an eastbound plane yesterday for Chi. Their daughter Diane is back at Mills College, incidentally. Betty and Horace Clark start the leisure voyage home from Hawaii this week. Their neighbor, Louise Beavers, east now, returns home end of November.

Carolyn Bryant TWA's into New York day after Thanksgiving for her annual vacation back that way. She usually makes it back here in time for Christmas Day with her mother. Maria and Nat Cole leave for Australia after Yuletide at home with their daughters.

Bag, Baggage and Crates

Deedie and Felmon Altheimer (they used to live here) return, bag, baggage and furniture crates, in December for another try at local life. They are New Yorkers. Cato and Fred Robinson lost their father. Back from picturesque Hoberg: Helen and Jimmy Garrott, all adjectives.

Jack and Jill will take over an Ebony Showcase Theater night. Allied Arts, by the way, are slated to do a repeat project during the next attraction at that address. They take credit for starting the ole ball rolling which is giving a shot in the arm to the EST.

Kay Jameison's daughter Laurelle due back on the operating table soon. She made two trips there this past summer. Lenore Winkler gets in from Dee Cee where she hastened after her father's recent passing. She returns here to get her things together, then goes back to her home town to live evermore. She lined up a job via Uncle Sam while in Washington, what's more.

On Last Leg

Bishop and Mrs. Edgar Love, round-the-world tripping now, will include our town on their last leg of the trip. They will fly here from Honolulu. Berti Hathaway, on the ailing list for a few days, is up.out and at 'em again. National Council of Negro Women's Region VII annual meet in San Francisco on the 23 and 24 will draw a few local members. One interesting feature will be a workshop on juvenile delinquency. Dianes met at Helen Wynne's.

Mme. Lillian Evanti, on the coast now, will spend a few weeks here then return to Oakland. I'm not sure but seems to me she's enroute to Japan? Dr. J. A. Somerville will be elected to the Board of Directors of the important Neighborhood Youth Association, an Episcopal Institution force. Dr. Somerville was personally asked by Bishop Gooden.

Byron Edwards, once he settles his affairs, picks up a one-way ticket marked Ambassador flight to N.Y. He has a job and a bachelor apartment waiting. Potent combination, that. We'll miss him. Wedn.-at-5:30: Buddy Hawkins had 10 in to meet a Brazillian Navy officer friend whom he got to know during his S'American trip in '51. Buddy's volatile Manhattans were excellent. No mambo, come to think back.

Later that night we ran into them again at the Hartford Theater bar during intermission. Tey were still on Manhattans, only at a buck-and-something a throw this time. Bee and Leo Draper write: "We're living, sweetie! This N.Y. is it! We'll be hard to get along with after this mad town, do believe us."

Ailene Kaiser will entertain for Minnie and Roy Wilkins. Playing luncheon hostess for Mrs. Wilkins will be Toni Atkinson. And Juanita Miller pours tea for her next Tuesday. Sandwiched in will be other little gatherings, of course. Newcomers from Kay See: Rev. and Mrs. Edward Foust and daughter.

Noted African Student Delta's Guest Speaker

Charming young Edith Weeks spoke at length on life in Africa at the second meeting of the year of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Saturday at the Wilfandel Club House. Miss Weeks, a native of Monrovia, Liberia, is enrolled at the University of Southern California as a graduate student. She is a graduate of Hiram College, University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Conn. Fascinated by the information presented, the group overwhelmed the African miss with eager questions.

Undergrads Rush Parties

Talk of the day was about the wonderful rush party, complete with style show, given by Upsilon chapter at the Students' Union, USC, Sept. 25. Campus sponsor and university instructor, Alice Robinson, as well as sorors Sybil Thomas, Danellyn Mabry, Charlene Smith, Floraline Ingram, Zoe Jones and others are quite puffed up and rightfully so as the party was full of happy surprises and delightful entertainment.

Plans were made by many graduate sorors to attend the second rush affair given by Pi Chapter at the home of Dr. Geraldine Woods, Saturday evening, Oct. 2. A final rush breakfast was held at the home of soror Mamie Love, Sunday morning.

This year sorors have selected Dec. 28 at the date of the annual white Christmas dance to be held at the Zenda Ballroom. Dance Committee Chairmen Ruth C. Robinson and Judith McElroy were charged to work full speed ahead to make this one of the sorority's best.

Hostesses for Saturday's meeting were Jean Burch, Jean Watkins, Ida Bowman, Leonelle Phillips, Fay Cummings and Eula Dean Robey. (L.P.B.)

Postal Pals Third Annual Dance Oct. 9

Claude Shipp, Jr., president of the Postal Pals, announced the club's third annual semi-formal dance Saturday night, Oct. 9, at the Elks ballroom.

Introduction of the group is slated for midnight. The membership includes: Willie M. Robinson, vice-president, Arnold Mitchell, secretary; Silas T. Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

The players are now becoming familiar with unbalanced and balanced hands. You will find that the distribution will be the great factors to contend with such as voids, singleton, and doubleton. By using the point count to value your hands you will find that the mathematical formula will take care of the combining hands. Using 4 points for aces, 3 points for king, 2 points for a queen, 1 point for a jack. Distribution count table. Three for a void, 2 for a singleton, 1 for a doubleton. The opening bid in a suit with the 13 minimum count and an 8 point minimum responding hand will keep the bid at a low point level. We take the guessing out of the opening bid and also the responder hand. There will be a 21 point count between the combined hand which will usually net 1 odd over 6 books.

Example of a playing and biding hand:

N
7 pts. S—A-Q-J-9-8-3
3 pts. H—Void
3 pts. D—Q-J-9-6
2 pts. C—Q-7-2
15 pts.

W
2 pts. S—5 Singleton
5 pts. H—K-Q-2
3 pts. D—K-10-7-2
4 pts. C—A-10-9-6-5
14 pts.

E
3 pts. S—K-7-6-4
1 pt. H—J-6-5-3
0 D—8-5-3
2 pts. C—J-8
6 pts.

S
1 pt. S—10-2
4 pts. H—A-10-9-8-7-4
5 pts. D—A-4 Doubleton
3 pts. C—K-4-3
13 pts.

North opens bid 1 spade.
East pass.
South bids three hearts.
West pass.
Second round of biding:
North bids 4 spades.
East pass.
South pass.
West pass.
1st round—
Hand was played by East leading jack of clubs.
South, the dummy hand being played by North, the king of clubs.
West playing the ace of clubs.
North playing 2 of clubs.
2nd round—
West now leads ten of clubs.
North played the queen of clubs.
East played the 8 of clubs.
South the 3 of clubs.
3rd round—

East played the 4 of spades.
South played the ten of spades.
West played the 5 of spades.
4th round—
South played the ace of hearts.
West played the 2 of hearts.
North discards 7 of clubs.
East played the 3 of hearts.
5th round—
South played the ace of diamonds.
West played the 2 of diamonds.
North played the 6 of diamonds.
East played 3 of diamonds.
6th round—
South played 4 of diamonds.
West played the king of diamonds.
North played 9 of diamonds.
East played 5 of diamonds.
7th round—
West played the king of hearts.
North ruffed with the 8 of spades.
East played 5 of hearts.
South played 4 of hearts.
8th round—
North played ace of spades.
East played 6 of spades.
South played 2 of spades.
West discarded 5 of clubs.
9th round—
North played queen of spades.
East played king of spades.
South discarded 4 of clubs.
West discarded 6 of clubs.
10th round—
East played 6 of hearts.
South played 7 of hearts.
West played queen of hearts.
North ruffed with 9 of spades.
11th round—
North played jack of spades.
East played 7 of spades.
South played ten of hearts.
West played 9 of clubs.

We will omit the playing of the twelfth and the thirteenth rounds which leaves the queen and jack of diamonds in north's hand, making 5 spades.

Class at the Y.W.C.A., the Woodlawn Branch, is open to all every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Chops Lawrence Stresses Duty of Elks' Members

Stressing the importance of a powerful reaffirmation of the basic pledges and obligations of the individual members, Charles W. "Chops" Lawrence, president of the Pacific States Association, Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, told his listeners here recently that their first duty is and must remain to the local lodge of their affiliation.

Lawrence, honor guest at an invitational open house reception sponsored by Golden West Lodge, No. 86 in their temple, 4016 So. Central avenue, delivered his first message on the state of the association, and a report on the recent Grand Lodge Convention in Chicago.

Sojourner Truth Plans Golden Jubilee Oct. 17

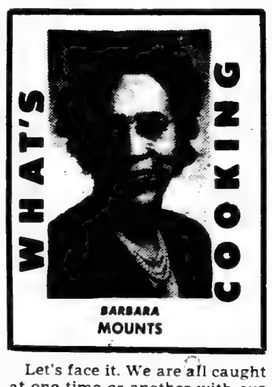
With fifty years of community welfare and charity work to its credit, the Sojourner Truth Industrial Club will celebrate its Golden Jubilee next week. Dr. Vada J. Somerville, Anniversary Chairman, announces that the celebration will open with a reception Sunday afternoon, October 17, at the Harvard Home, 2133 S. Harvard Blvd., between the hours of 4 and 9.

The second affair will be "Open House" set for Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 19, at the original "Shrine," the Adams Home, 1119 E. Adams Blvd.

The Adams Home, erected in 1913, and the Harvard Home, acquired in 1952, together accommodate thirty girls who make their home there at low cost in a wholesome and Christian atmosphere.

Hundreds of young women in the Los Angeles area, and scattered throughout the country have been sheltered by these homes.

An invitation is extended to all former occupants and friends of the institution to attend these functions. The Homes operate on a non-profit basise and officers receive no compensation for their services. Officers are Mrs. Jayne W. Holmes, president; Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, Chairman of Board; Mrs. Eva Jones and Mrs. M. Rosemond Johnson, Vice Presidents; Mrs. Irene Forsyth, Treasurer; Mrs. Mary L. Johnson and Mrs. Sara Judkins, Secretaries; Mrs. Esther T. Greenly, Parliamentarian; and Rev. Eula Smith, Chaplain. Bequests and gifts of money, property, bonds, books, furniture or other possessions are welcome from friends and well-wishers.



At the "Open House" special honor will be paid and citations given the three surviving charter members, namely: Mrs. Margaret D. Scott, also a past president, Mrs. Minnie Bate and Mrs. Amanda Jones.

QUICK ON THE DRAW—Club members Billy Benfield and Walter Smith pose just before the shooting in the forthcoming Tweedsmen Western Round-up dance which is slated for Park-Manor October 16. Smith will be seen soon in Warner Brothers' "A Star Is Born."

Talladega College Club In Regular Monthly Meet

The September meeting of the Talladega College club was held at the Church of the Christian Fellowship, 3125 W. Adams blvd. recently, when club members were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Kingsley.

Let's face it. We are all caught at one time or another with our food budget spent and someone unexpected drops in and is invited to stay for dinner. Our refrigerator gives up that pound of ground chuck purchased to make patties and a half-pound piece of cheddar cheese. In the freezing compartment, one package each of corn and lima beans.

The vegetable bin boasts four potatoes and one bell pepper, three onions and one garlic clove. Supply shelf has one number two can of tomatoes and seasonings. Small pickings for a company meal.

That's all there is so turn on the oven to 375 degrees and get down a three-quart casserole. Chop the onion and add to the chuck along with a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon Worchestershire sauce. Chop the tomatoes a bit and add them juice and all to the meat. Pat into a layer in the bottom of casserole and let it extend up the sides about half way. Peal and slice these potatoes thin and place on top of meat. Season with salt and pepper and dredge with about one fourth cup flour.

If you took the corn and limas out of the ice box it should be thawed enough to separate. If not run a bit of cold water over it to make this easy and drain. Add to casserole. On top place the slivered bell pepper. Cover casserole and cook for 35 minutes. Sprinkle with one and one-half cups grated cheese and return to oven until the vegetables are tender and the cheese melted and brown. That head of lettuce with French dressing, and that package of instant pudding and vanilla wafers you found on the second look in the pantry will make a salad and desert and a very satisfying meal.

If you found spaghetti, macaroni, rice or noodles and no potatoes in your pantry, a meal can be built around these using the ground meat as a filler. The recipe will feed six generously and eight moderately hungry people. Of course, there are dozens of ways to transform a pound of ground meat into a good meal. Meat balls, salisbury steak, stuffed onions and zuccini, patties, spaghetti sauce and Spanish rice. Combined with breadcrumbs and a can of tomato paste or mushroom soup, a meat loaf compliments the table fare.

Popular Hostesses Fete Out-of-town Visitors

Mesdames Joan Willis, Bernice P. Nance, Elaine Newsom, Fannie Jones, Flossie Williams, and Essie Robertson acted as joint hostesses on Saturday at a brunch in honor of Martha S. Lewis, Nancy McDowell, of New York, and Gladys Ricks of Portland, Ore.

Seventy-five smartly attired socialities, business women and former acquaintances gathered at the palatial home of Mrs. Willis on Wellington Road to greet the honorees.

Mrs. Lewis, former Woodland Branch YWCA Young Adult Program director, now field supervisor in the Youth Project of New York City, was happy to greet a cross-section of friends, co-workers and former YWCA committee members. Mrs. Lewis and her traveling companion, Miss McDowell, also a social worker of New York City, have been the recipients of many social courtesies while here. They plan to emplane for San Francisco for a few days before returning to New York.

Gladys Ricks of Portland, Ore., a competitor and flight winner in the Los Angeles Open Golf tournament, was another of the honorees on hand to greet and meet new acquaintances.

Among the many guests present were: Eula Dean Roby, Minnie M. Silhouettes Plan Affair

After a three month rest from meetings more than 30 Silhouettes met at the Kappa Kastle to hear committee and vacation reports and to formulate plans for their annual Halloween Party, which will be held on Sunday Oct. 31 at the Kastle. Prizes will be given for the best and most original costume and a booby prize for the unsuspecting worst costume. Good food will be provided and games will be planned to make this a real festive occasion.

Hostesses for the meeting were Evelyn Green, Audrey Goddard, Alma Hydell, Lorraine Harris and Mildred Jones. The report of the program committee promised a year of social activity with closer relationship of members. Mrs. Reatha Beck is president.

Y.W.C.A. Plans World Bazaar

A World Fellowship Bazaar will be held at the Southeast YWCA Oct. 30 from 11:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. The plans include serving a salad luncheon and in the evening a smorgasbord dinner. The Y-Teen Clubs will provide interesting and varied booths for entertainment. There will also be a bazaar booth managed by the Young Adults group.

The purpose of the Bazaar is to build the local fund to contribute to the international program of the YWCA.

Power Sewing Classes Open To All Women

We are pleased to announce the opening of the Institute of power sewing, a new school devoted exclusively to teaching women between the ages of 18 to 56 to become power sewing machine operators.

The consistent, rapid growth of the garment industry in the greater Los Angeles area has made available hundreds of well-paying jobs for trained power sewing machine operators. The Institute of Power Sewing is the most modern and best equipped of any such school and is prepared to expertly teach all phases of power machine work so that the trained students can easily obtain these jobs.

Qualified Instructors

The entire course of training takes but a few weeks. The tuition fees are comparatively small and arrangements can be made for the students to train at once and then pay for the course later, after they have secured jobs. Both day and night classes are available.

The staff is made up of expert, efficient instructors with many years experience in the instruction and operation of power sewing machines.

Job Opportunities

The Institute of Power Sewing is located at 656 S. Los Angeles street. This is at the N.E. corner of 7th and Los Angeles streets, right across from the P.E. station. Telephone number VAndike 1201.

All interested women are invited to visit the school or phone for additional information.

Mrs. Charles Reid, newly elected president of Carver Jr. High, entertained the Executive Board recently at her home with a lovely luncheon.

Special guests present were: Mr. Dixon, new principal of Carver Jr. High; and Mrs. Pauline Ritter, girls' vice-principal of Carver.

The first meeting of Carver Jr. High will be Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 1:30 p.m. in the school library.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Carl Foreman, is urging all parents and friends to join the PTA.

'TEEN TOPICS

by JOYCE FOSTER, Sophomore of MANUAL ARTS HIGH

It was a rugged and brutal battle fought out on the gridiron of the Coliseum on Sunday between two great California teams, the L.A. Rams and the San Francisco Forty-niners. Ninety-three thousand fans saw the two great teams all tied up as the game wound up with a score of 24-24. Sitting in the midst of the reserved seats, with my date, Tom Klein of Belmont High, I rooted for the Rams but I am not complaining about the final score and I was so glad to see so many other happy fans. . . .

FREMONT PATHFINDERS . . . "find a way or make one" this is the carefully selected motto used by all the ambitious students of Fremont. This is a wise saying to remember and, better, one to use. The crowd yells and cheers for their favorite team, sending out warmth and encouragement to inspire their team on to victory.

Those heading this cheer section at Fremont are: Anthony Baynes; Bill Kelly, Charles Spears; Avon Gillespie and Jack Parks. Fremont goes to Inglewood on Friday nite and with their excellent defensive team, they are looking forward to winning this year's "Dixie Crown."

Fremont also boasts of one of the city's outstanding and beautiful A Cappela choirs. This choir is one of the three which have the honor of singing at the Bach Festival. The other schools participating are Huntington Park and Los Angeles High. . . . Kay Riggs played dreamy and exclusive music with Hawaiian surroundings last week at Fremont. This dance was sponsored by the Fremont Youth Activity Committee.

CENTENNIAL.—Over a thousands kids enjoyed dancing in the patio of one of the newest and most modern high schools, Centennial, on Friday. Among the vast crowd we saw, Brenda Brashere, Larry Rutledge, Morris Howard, Marsha Johnson, Amanda Drake, Arnold Jackson, Iona Huff, Oron Franklyn, Kenneth Thompson and Mildred Luckey.

LOS ANGELES HIGH. — Say Hey! The new fad at L.A. is Bermuda shorts. One thing for sure . . . credit is due the kids at L.A. for being real, real brave.

Human Rights Council In Town House Meeting

The public is invited to air views on our own educational system at a town house meeting to be presented by the American Council on Human Rights.

The A.C.H.R. is holding their second forum in a series titled "Integration What Now!" This time the sub title "Education—a Vehicle" will be presented at the Golden State Auditorium on Oct. 24, from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m.

The Council is a cooperative program of six national collegiate fraternities and sororities. It consists of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Phi Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, Kappa Alpha Psi, Sigma Gamma Rho, and Zeta Phi Beta. Mrs. Emily Woody is president of the local chapter.

Miss Gwen Duseau and Mrs. Joan Pierson are co-chairmen of the Town House Meetings. The committee consists of Miss June Jefferson, Floyd Wilson, Atty. Ed Maddox, Spenser Bailey, Mrs. Sally Edwards, Mrs. Edna McPherson and Robert Green.

Consolidated Slates Second Annual Clinic

In recognition of the strong response from the public last year, the Consolidated Realty Board, has scheduled its second annual Real Estate Clinic for Saturday, Oct. 9 at the Nikabob Restaurant, 875 S. Western avenue.

The Clinic, which begins at 11:30 a.m., will include luncheon. The theme for this year's clinic is "Blue Print for Better Business."

Mrs. Florence Vaughn, chairman of the Consolidated Realty Board's Education Committee, said the speakers will include persons prominent in the field of Real Estate.

Other committee members include Lorenzo Spencer, Cecil M. Parks, Geraldine Nicholas, Milton Berryman, Barry Baines, Flora Redix, James Anderson, Travis Lott, Minnie Whittenberg and Foster Ricardo.

Baby Clinic In Housing Project

The Los Angeles City Health Department, through Watts District Health Officer Dr. Robert F. Kolts, announces the opening of a child health clinic at the new 1,110-unit William Nickerson Gardens Housing Development, corner of Imperial Highway and Compton avenue, Monday, October 4, at 12:30 p.m.

The clinic will be held in the new all-purpose community building, 11251 Compton avenue, and will offer essential child health services to the large infant population of the new development as well as the surrounding neighborhood.

Departs For Eastern Trip

Dr. and Mrs. O. U. Brown, 1562 W. 35th street, one of Los Angeles' most popular couples, recently entrained by Union Pacific Railway on an extensive vacation in the eastern part of the United States.

Travelwise persons, such as the Browns, readily agree that the Fall is the best time of all for vacations, for climatic conditions, and passenger accommodations are at their finest.

Among those persons visited will be their son, Oliver U. Brown, and his family at 721 E. 223 street, Bronx, N.Y.

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford

Had an uneasy feeling that the Will Mastin Trio's "3 For the Show" TV program wouldn't come off. The show that was to have featured Sammy Davis Junior and dancer Frances Taylor has been left on the cutting room floor. Meaning our sepian performers will have to be content with those "pork chop in the sky" guest bits for a while . . . Dolphine Moore, the luscious MODEL GAL is enjoying t tender woomance with a musician feller. They are threatening to take that drastic step any moment now! . . . Most of the clientele out at Ben Waller's Booking Agcy. get sugary over a receptionis DOLL known as Sherry. (She's veddy married tho' and doesn't even give a double take to those guys with the big eyes! . . . Honest John Dolphin and song composer Johnny Green almost came to blows over a song called "JXust Don't Blooper" until Lovin' John shelled out the "bread" for the rights for the tune! . . .

AND THEN I WROTE

NAACP will book "Fashionating Rhythms" in Santa Monica in a month's time . . . Mr. Fatburger got a real cutie when he brought Velma Ross to the premises as a waitress! . . . Press folks turn out tomorrow at one at Romanoff's restaurant for the advent of the opening of the interracial hotel (the Continental) in Las Vegas. Should be a swinging luncheon . . . After viewing "A Star Is Born" we're convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt that Judy Garland has the Oscar locked up. Hollywood is mumbling over the reason James Mason didn't show up for the Premiere of the flick. The gossip is that two or three of his top scenes were chopped from the film and had they played he would have been cinch Oscar bait! . . . Sincerest thanks to Estelle Edson for having this newshawk and assistant Betty Edwards as guests on her "Man of Color" broadcast from KABC last Saturday. Estelle won't know until she reads it here how close the doyy and this boy came to not making it. Ran into a bottleneck on the freeway and those ca-razy motorists started playing Chinese checkers with their lives. A real SCREAM, baybee! . . . Reports from N'Yawk have it that Helen Dowdy couldn't be funnier in the "Mrs. Patterson" play as a tubby blues singer the devil has confined to a magnolia tree because she cheated at blackjack. Understand Eartha Kitt is a mild sensation, too, as the star of the fantasy!

CURVACEOUS CARMEN will lead the Lester Horton Dancers in the forthcoming Bal Caribe, costume affair, Monday evening, Oct. 25th, at the world-famous Hollywood Palladium. Mardi Gras will be carried out with a grand costume parade, with prizes for the most beautiful, humorous and unusual get-ups on the part of celebrators.

Betty Martina Dance Package Open to Groups

An entirely new and distinct department relating to the dancing art has been added as an agency service, at the Betty Martina Studio of Dance, 10302 Graham avenue. It is called Commercial Dancing and Prologue Designing.

Miss Martina, head of the ultra new teaching and training school, told reporters, she has long toyed with the idea of creating package type settings, routines and stagings featuring dances of all nations and all races. These package deals will be made to the order of customers for whatever purpose or occasion desired.

"I hope to get the bulk of my business from advertising and public relations firms," she said. "However, since the larger social organizations are now going in for lavish prologue type garden fetes, I am certain that field will not be overlooked as a prime possibility for staging and designing authentic dancing and costume productions."

"Commercial dancing is not entirely new. However, it is not as popular as commercial singing or photography," she continued. Miss Martina was of the opinion, that television advertisers, "are looking more than ever to those engaged in the dancing arts, as an attention arrester, equal to that of music.

Perez Prado In Second Week At Club Oasis

The Perez Prado Band, better than ever with a new book and new sound acquired from their four-week engagement as the swank Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, opened Friday at the Club Oasis, beautified under the supervision of one of the West Coast's finest interior decorators, making the new sound and the new look a great combination for night-goers.

Versatile Crew

Perez Prado himself has scrapped his chin adornment along with many of his old arrangements, meanwhile keeping his most famous numbers intact. Among the exciting new Prado specialties are his versions of "Sway," "Skokian," "High and Mighty" and the new "Mambo A La Marilyn Monroe," which has the same rhythm the luscious movie star's walk achieves. Featured vocalists with Perez Prado are the lovely Gloria Farrigno and Johnny Rico, who apeared with the band in the East.

Bill Robinson and Nate Poskel can be truly proud of their beautiful Club Oasis, which is sure to keep the jazz mecca the top West Coast spot from here one. During the Perez Prado engagement.

JOHN ALSTON — likeable nabber out West Jefferson way was gifted a flashy diamond ring by his attractive Mrs.!

SLEEPING PILLS — friends are saying that near encounter with the Angelus by that snob sister wasn't a true attempt!

FOUR IN A ROW—Lawrence Sweetwine is the only one in town who had the New Giants winning four games in row and didn't bet a cent! He got so engrossed mixing his newest 'Say Hey' cocktail he let the 15-to-one shot slip by!

CALL GIRL—interesting twist in the sensational divorce that will soon hit the pages will be when wifie attempts to prove that hubby was collecting service fees from one of his ofay tenants at the rate of $25 bucks a week!

MARIA COLE—after bending an ear to her latest attempt on wax, you gotta agree she is one of our prettiest young mothers!

SY JONES — the hustling Schlitz brew salesman is fast becoming the reason why the suds is making the community famous. Pick up on the lad's crazee receipt on other pages this week!

Lester Horton Dancers At Hollywood Pallidium For Artists Ball Oct. 25

The Lester Horton Dancers' fifth annual costume gala, the Bal Caribe, will be held this year at the Hollywood Palladium Monday evening October 25.

Colorful beaux arts ball, with hour-long floorshow spotlighting the Horton Dancers in a series of exciting Afro-Caribbean dances, has grown each year. Last year's Bal Caribe packed the Earl Carroll theater-restaurant and springboarded the Horton troupe into a three-week Ciro's engagement.

Mardi Gras spirit will be carried out with a grand costume parade, with prizes for the most beautiful, the most humorous and most unusual get-ups on the part of celebrators.

Bobby Ramos' augmented orchestra will supply the dance music as well as play for the show.

Horton troupe of eleven will perform eleven dances ranging from solos to full ensemble works. Company headed by James Truitte, Carmen de Lavallade and Lelia Goldoni will also feature choreographer Alvin Ailey, Don Martin, Roland Goldwater and Yvonne de Lavallade. Song stylist Nana Kawasumi will take over the vocalist chores as well as dance.

Event is open to the public and all proceeds go to the Lester Horton Dance Theater School scholarship fund.

Four Outstanding Directors Appointed to Key Positions In the Local YWCA Branches

Appointment of two new program directors and two teen-age program directors was announced by the Los Angeles Young Women's Christian Association.

All four young women have been assigned to positions in YWCA branches, according to Miss Mary P. Lewis, executive director.

Directing program activities at the West Los Angeles Branch will be Mrs. Joan Davis, graduate of Denison University, Ohio, and former executive director of the YWCA at the University of Colorado. Serving in the same capacity at the Beverly Hills Branch will be Mrs. Marguerite Spears, who holds B.A. and Master's degree from Kent University in Ohio, where she also taught Sociology during World War II.

Mrs. Naomi Brickman, graduate of Fairfax High School and Stanford University and teacher last year at the American School in Paris, will direct teen-age activities at the Wood-lawn Branch. Miss Velma Tinkler, Fresno State College graduate and former caseworker in the Monterey County welfare Department, will be in charge of teen-age work at North Hollywood.

Benjamin J. Bowie Post 228 To Give Americanism Award

The Benjamin J. Bowie Post No. 228, American Legion, Department of California, announced this week that it will make its first Annual Americanism Award. The Award is based upon the patriotism, courage and conviction of that person in public or private life whose acts or achievements make, or have made, a material contribution to the advancement of this community in the principles of Americanism.

The Award Ceremonies shall be a part of the Program which climaxes the 31st Anniversary Observance Week of the Legion Post Nov. 7 to 13.

The first Annual Americanism Award of the Post will be presented to two separate public officials. One will be presented to Mayor Norris Poulson, for his Courage and spirit of Americanism in utilizing the Full Strength of his high office to outlaw the long practice of racial discrimination in the Los Angeles Fire Department. The other Award is to be presented to Attorney General Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, for his courage, conviction, and Americanism, in his clearcut interpretation of the Constitution of the United States and of the State of California as absolutely forbidding such a racial discriminatory practice as is now existing in the Los Angeles Fire Department. "Both public officials, in their respective positions," Commander Townsend concluded, "have made a basic and fundamental contribution to the progress of our city and state."

national piano stylist currently putting forth his sixth year in Les and Peggy Armstrong's popular San Francisco bistro is getting fat offers to appear in an L.A. cl[illegible]!

JERRY JACKSON — pretty brownskin and rated as one of the better dressers in the young set is one of the clever new hairstylists operating in the swank Bel Cherieux, newest of milady's charm centers!

DOROTHY NEUSOM — winsome and attractive State College business major is working her way through school via Atty. Earls and Newsom's offices as a receptionist!

WAITRESS WANTED — a smart Central avenoo cafe is in the market for a crew of good looking gals that can earn a century a week with the trays. Give the Eagle a ring!

ETHEL MADDOX — Lullaby Guild's auburn haired prexy sporting an attractive Italian hairdo is getting plenty of notice as she breezes by in her violet two-toned interior caddie as the wolves just stand by and drool!

. . . Got our kicks from the lady subscriber who penned us to say she thinks we're to "ultra sophisticate" column wise. We always thought we were the "hully gully" type!... James Edwards will be televiewed any paragraph as the star of the "Amelica Joe" show! . . . Now that jolting Joe DiMaggio has struck out with Marilyn Monroe you can look for Paul Coates to tell you who's warming up in the bullpen. Let's hope the pinch hitter isn's square enough to talk about BASEBALL, BASEBALL, BASEBALL!! . . . Elliott Da Marco, a long time sportsman says he is newlywed to a wealthy gal and intends to crash into politics before you can say Estes Kefauver . . . San Francisco weather is mighty chilly. Marilyn Monroe chilly. A couple of the Flairs singing group came down with pneumonia on their return here from "gigs" in that area . . . The Five-Four Brawl-Room almost made headlines this week when that beefy citizen who sits in the admission booth not only didn't respect but insulted our press card and attempted to give songster Lawrence Stone and yours swingcerily the bums rush last Sunday nite. If congenial Billy Berg doesn't return from the World Series soon he'll find himself coming back to a hole in the wall! . . . Gal Friday Betty Edwards says Pat Patterson's Cosmo is the swingingest place in town. Betty says that you're nobody till somebody loves you and Pat just naturally loves all of the paying customers. That makes 'em somebody, and that's why they are there, ya dig? . . . On the ailing list: Bill Nesbitt (Pico-Dilly owner) with a rough chest cold . . . There's a riot goin' on at the Brass Rail on Broadway. Fluffy Hunter is there warbling "Dontcha Know Baby" and so are Rocky Robinson and his 4 Cheers there. But the big news is bouncy Mabel Scott (direct from Larry Steel's Smart Affairs Revue).

NOW SEE HERE

This show is worth your time and money. And this "squib" is worth the place doing away with that mercenary attitude they seem to have toward "press" and public alike. Grover Cleveland, the ventriloquist, tells us he knows a chick whose feet are longer than he's been away from home and then goes out of the way to introduce the gal just 'cause he knows that nobody is asking for feet and we're trying to keep this column clean! . . . Ricky De Montrand has switched his attentions from Little Esther to another little miss! . . . We were over to pay our respects to musicians Teddy Palmer and De Witt Colbert and bite into some of that "big laig" chicken at the Broadway and 55th Street Spot they own and operate and call the Royal Rooster. And every word of praise is as tender as the bird they are putting down . . . Pod'n me, meester, but please don't call us with any more "Speedy Gonzales" jokes or we will flip our tamale . . . Lensman Harry Adams covered the Perez Parado opening at the Oasis for us and the gent is still raving over the Mambo King. Adams allows as how we should also give a "nod" to genial Bill Williams who is doing a smooth job as host of the nitery. Hello, Bill! . . . Met curvaaceous Irene Smart who models and plays a licorice stick (clarinet) and who also happens to be the niece of Tommy "Dr. Jive" Smalls, the east coast disc jockey. Luscious little gal is a real charmer . . . Attention Chick Finney (Theatrical Editor, St. Louis Argus): Will get in touch with you soon about that matter. Sorry for the delay but you would have to see why to believe me. And this is 30! Goodnite, gentle readers! . . .

Stepfather is Accused by Student, 13

A 13-year-old student last Monday accused her stepfather of molesting her. Garfield Hicks, 35, 1321 E. 12 street, denied the charges when officers arrested him at the Berg Metal Co., where he is employed.

The child stated that she was asleep in her bedroom when she awakened to find her stepfather in bed with her. She claims she got out of bed and told her mother what had happened.

The mother admitted that the child had told her of the husband's action. She said she questioned him, but he answered with a denial of the charges.

Hicks stated his stepdaughter had made the same complaint about her grandfather several months ago.

Car Crashes Front Porch

Mrs. Mattie Johnson, 1456 E. 57th Street, was awakened Saturday morning by what sounded and felt like an earthquake, with the walls of her home crashing and shuddering from the impact.

The crashing was real. The earthquake wasn't.

Searcy L. Baylen, 28, of 1450 E. 58th street, lost control of his car, and smashed pell-mell into the porch of Mrs. Johnson's home, demolishing what formerly had been an enclosed porch.

'Eagle' Newsies Vie for Top Spot

Eagle newsboys out in South Los Angeles are vieing with each other for the honor of being top salesman.

Holding a slight lead at the moment is Robert Southall, a member of the Macedonia Baptist church, who lives at 1414 E. 111th place.

Runners-up are Morris Jones Jr., of 1402 E. 111th place, son of Mrs. Anna White, member of the Isis Grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star; and the three Knox brothers, Donald, Jerry and Conrad, who live at 1400 E. 111th place and who attend the 111th Street school.

Family Unhurt; Police Unable To Find Clues

SACRAMENTO — Dynamite blasted the home of a Negro family here Saturday night, ripping a five inch hole in the concrete porch, smashing the window in the front door and showering the room with plaster and glass.

The bombing occurred about 10 p.m. at the home of Reynolds McKenzie, 2512 Connie Drive, in a predominantly white development area about four miles northeast of Sacramento.

Escape Injury

Reynolds, his wife, and his three school age children were in the house at the time, but miraculously all escaped injury.

The Reynolds had rented the house Oct. 5 and moved in on the 9th. The bombing occurred the same night.

The NAACP immediately offered aid to the stricken family, including guards if necessary. But Reynolds told the association that he felt protection was not necessary. He added that he and his family will remain in the house, if the landlord will permit them to do so.

Attack Puzzling

Deputies collected fragments from the homemade bomb and sent them to the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, but the department reported that there were no clues as to the identity of the criminal.

The attack is the first incident of racial violence in Sacramento in recent years, and observers were somewhat puzzled by the outbreak.

Atty. Nathaniel S. Colley, president of the NAACP, advised that there had been no prior threats, that there is no evidence of tension, and that although all the neighbors are white they appeared friendly. It is not a new section, he said, a sort of rural slum, although there have never been any Negroes in the immediate area.

Reynolds works for the city in the Waste Removal Department.

Angry Wife Bites Hand Of Rescuer

Last Sunday evening Newton officers answered an urgent call to 1413 E. 58th street, "Violent mental case. Homicide. Code 3."

"Code 3" in police parlance means drop everything, rush, sirens blasting, lights blinking.

Prepared for the worst, officers swooped down on the home of Mrs. Joetta Harris, who had placed the frantic call. "That's him! He threatened to kill me with a club!" She pointed to her husband, Willie Harris, 34, a postal clerk, who was standing quietly in the door. Just standing.

But you can't always tell. Officer T. E. O'Neal turned to handcuff the man, reported to be violent. That's when the fun began!

Harris slipped away from the officers and started fighting. Police could have handled him all right, except that they were unexpectedly attacked by the complaining wife, Joetta, who came to the aid of her battling husband. She fought the officers tooth and nail, especially tooth. She grabbed Officer O'Neal's right hand, sank her choppers into his finger, and bit, hard.

The officer was rushed to Georgia Street Receiving hospital for treatment. Mrs. Harris, who was responsible for it all, was booked on a charge of assault and battery, but officers didn't keep her in jail because she has a month-old premature baby who needs special care.

And to top it all, no charge was lodged against the husband. His wife refused to make a complaint.

Forgery Charged To Sidney Dones, Jr.

Preston Sidney Dones, scion of the wealthy and prominent Dones family, was in jail this week, charged with forgery and passing a bad check.

He was being held pending an investigation of two other checks police believed might also prove to have been forged.

Dones, a transit lines motorman, and a graduate of Jefferson, told officers when they came to arrest him: "I only have two checks out. I passed them both at Al's Market on Santa Barbara. I think each was for about 60 bucks."

But the son of the late Sidney P. Dones, wealthy real estate broker and a member of one of the city's oldest families, was not being apprehended for any current transaction. His statement, however, started detectives on a new intensive hunt.

Year-old Warrant

Dones, 35, who lives at 229 E. Gage street, was taken into custody Monday evening on a year-old warrant for forgery.

In March, 1953, H. Goldstein of Folb's market, 160 E. Santa Barbara avenue, complained to police that Dones had cashed a bogus check in the sum of $72.10. Goldstein said, however, that no identification was asked of Dones at the time as he was well-known in the neighborhood. He was then living at 4029 S. Wall street.

The check was drawn on the Bank of America, Balboa Branch, and signed with the name of "Pleasant Hill."

This week officers received information that Dones was living at the Gage street address, and proceeded to arrest him.

Fire Chief Clings To Jim Crow Stand

Jim Crow was still riding high, wide and handsome in the Fire Department this week as Chief John H. (I Am The Law) Alderson emerged with his segregation policies intact after a hectic and confused meeting of the Fire Commission last week.

Another "show down" is slated for today (Thursday) when an Alderson-inspired "Fact Finding Committee" is slated to make a detailed report to the Commission of its findings on the working of integration in other cities.

Responding to invitations from their superiors, more than 200 off-duty firemen packed last week's meeting and cold-shouldered attorneys for the NAACP who were trying to get to the meeting rooms.

It took a call from Attorney Edward Maddox to the mayor's secretary to get himself and attorneys Herbert Simmons, Carl Earles and Thomas G. Neusom into the meeting room. The attorneys charged that the firemen who crowded the halls locked arms to prevent their entry and that threats of physical violence were made.

Mayor Norris Poulson took to the radio Sunday night to reiterate his demand that the Commission either get a straight forward plan from the chief as to the details for ending racial segregation or that they supplant him with another man who does not put his personal beliefs "above the laws of the city, state and nation." He set Nov. 1 as the deadline for action.

Richard K. Yeamans, president of the Commission, offered a resolution last Thursday calling for complete abolition of the color line in Fire Department affairs but his motion died for want of a second. Other commissioners expressed agreement with the spirit of his resolution but explained that they wanted to delay action until the "Fact Finding Committee" had been heard from.

The Commission did vote to cancel public hearings that had been planned. The mayor had said that such hearings were unnecessary.

When Attorney Maddox tried to address the meeting he was told that the session had been adjourned. Maddox explained that he had wanted to present an NAACP proposal which called for re-assignment of personnel now stationed at the two "Negro stations", that their places be filled by firemen of equivalent rank and that color be abandoned as a condition of assignment or transfer in the future.

Maddox, speaking on behalf of the NAACP, said later that it is "clear that segregation in the Fire Department is at least coming to an end."

The demand for the end of segregation in the Department was voiced in August 1953 by the NAACP and the first hearing on the matter was held in October 1953.

Hate Agitator Arrested As School Strikes End

Postal Worker Goes on Trial For Murder

Rufus Elliott, postal clerk at the Terminal Annex, was scheduled to go on trial for murder today, Thursday, for the June 24 killing of Louis Tackwood, an alleged dope peddler who operated in the notorious Fifth street area.

Elliott, 32, of 221 W. 54th street, a former real estate broker, who is being represented by Atty. Crispus Wright, is expected to plead that he shot Tackwood in self-defense.

On Crutches

Elliott, who appeared in court on crutches due to an injury received when he was struck by an automobile, told the Eagle that he had gone to Fifth street to arrange for a party for friends from the post office at the bar at the Morris Hotel.

He said that he went there the evening before the fatal shooting, but that when he arrived Tackwood, who had been fighting with several men, attempted to attack him, too. Since he had not completed his business, he returned at noon the following day, the 24th. He had taken the precaution of arming himself with a gun to defend himself if necessary.

Offered Dope

Tackwood, he said, offered him some cocaine, which he refused, whereupon Tackwood and another man approached him threateningly, armed with knives. He ran to a nearby parking lot, with both men in pursuit. They tangled, and fell to the ground. Elliott said he felt himself hit in the back, pulled his gun and turned around and shot.

Tackwood ran out of the lot to the corner of Gladys and Fifth streets, where he fell bleeding and mortally wounded.

Mr. 'Unknown' Gets Around Over Weekend

Robberies and thiefs kept police hopping over the weekend. The word "unknown suspect" has almost become a hit tune of the many complaining victims on the eastside.

Jesse Anthony Crawford, 1354½ E. 33rd street told police that last Saturday night, between the hours of 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. some sneak thief slipped the lock on his front door and removed clothing and a watch valued at $226.

O. B. Hopson, of 1581 E. 21st street, would be very interested to know the identity of the "unknown suspect" that broke the windwing of his automobile and detached two spotlights valued at $25 last Sunday night.

Early last Sunday morning, about 6 a.m., "Mr. Unknown" broke the screen from the window of the Spot Cafe, 5706 S. Main, tore the phone from the wall, tried to jimmy the coin box, then pried open the juke and cigarette machine.

This active little early bird also flitted away, his identity "unknown."

Police Hear Plea Of Odessa Parks To Stay On Force

Policewoman Mrs. Odessa Parks, who three weeks ago was freed of the charge of murdering her husband, Hilliard Parks Green, was taken ill suddenly Monday shortly after commencement of a hearing to determine whether or not she will be reinstated in her job in the Police Department.

The case was resumed Wednesday.

The case is being heard before a trial board of the police Department of Internal Affairs, composed of a three-man panel of judges. The panel is composed of Inspector Lee German, Captain Carl Shy and Captain Emil Weiner.

Lt. Roscoe C. "Rocky" Washington is handling Mrs. Parks' defense, basing his plea on the same evidence that was used in the criminal trial.

Mrs. Parks shot and killed her husband last May 23 on the lawn in front of their home, 2325 10th avenue. She pleaded self-defense in the sensation packed, lengthy trial that ended with a "not guilty" verdict.

Following the shooting she was suspended from the Police Force, with which she had been connected for 10 years. She seeks reinstatement.

Hastie Urged For Supreme Court Post

SAN FRANCISCO. — President Eisenhower was urged to name Judge William H. Hastie to the Supreme Court by Chief Judge William Denman of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Judge Hastie is a member of the Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

(In Los Angeles Rayfield Lundy, candidate for state assembly and a former student of Judge Hastie's, also said that he had wired the president suggesting Hastie for the vacancy made by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson).

Judge Hastie was formerly a federal district judge in the Virgin Islands and former governor of that territory. He served as dean of Howard-Law School and is a member of the national board of directors of the NAACP. Prior to accepting judicial appointment, Hastie was prominent in civil rights litigation and appeared before the Supreme Court in a number of important cases.

Calm Returns To Baltimore, Washington

WASHINGTON—As the student strikes and the threat of riots slowed virtually to a halt in Washington and nearby Baltimore this week, bad check artist Bryant W. Bowles, who has attempted to "cash in" on the deep-seated prejudices of the South, was arrested twice within two hours in Delaware.

Bowles was arrested at the airport in Harrington, Del., eight miles from much-publicized Milford, Sunday, as he stepped from the plane prepared to harrangue a crowd of 3,000 who milled around the field.

Conspiracy Charged

After posting $3,000 bond at the Kent County Common Pleas Court at Dover, he was re-arrested and taken to Milford where he was forced to post another $3,000 bond.

Both warrants, on two counts each, charged Bowles with conspiracy to violate the State school attendance laws and conspiracy to interfere with the administration of the State school system by inciting white parents to resist the admission of Negro children into the schools.

Bowles, in his previous appearance at Milford, had reportedly pocketed several thousand dollars as the gullible whites whom he addressed paid $5 a head for membership in the National Association for the Advancement of White People. Police records showed that Bowles had previously been arrested in Tampa, Fla., on a bad check count, and on five other charges in Baltimore.

Flays Mob Rule

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs on Saturday ordered Bowles' arrest, stating: "The State of Dela-

Hooded Thief Runs As Clerk Calls Police

Mrs. Cora H. Griffin, night clerk at the Silverthorn Hotel, 303 E. 35th street, was startled when a strange looking creature approached the hotel desk just before 11 p.m. last Sunday night, but she doesn't scare easily.

When she looked up she saw a man, a paper bag over his head, slits cut out of it so he could see, the bag topped by a black hat.

The man's fingers twitched as he pointed a gun at her and demanded money.

But Mrs. Griffin didn't hand over the money. Instead she calmly reached for the telephone and called the police.

The surprised would-be robber began to shake, then turned tail and ran.

Victim Critically Injured, But Still Clings to Life

Edward M. "Big Mike" Thompson, widely known in sporting and gambling circles, was back in the toils of the law again this week, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

There was a possibility that the charge might be changed at any time to one of murder as his victim, Roosevelt Hammond, 32, 7705 S. McKinley avenue, lay critically ill in General hospital, deep stab wounds in his abdomen.

The knifing occurred during what had started out to be a friendly birthday party celebration last Saturday night.

Mrs. Florence Fisher, of 759 E. 75th street, had invited a few guests to a party in honor of her brother, Mac Thomas, of Pasadena. The guests were in happy mood when about 2 a.m. Sunday morning someone suggested they start a dice game. Then the atmosphere thickened.

Hammond later told police that he was shooting the galloping dominoes when Big Mike leaned over and grabbed one. He protested, he said, whereupon Big Mike reportedly pulled out a spring-back knife and began stabbing him.

Father of Five

Hammond, the father of five children, was taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital, then rushed to General for an emergency operation. Surgery was performed immediately in an effort to save his life.

Big Mike was arrested at his home, 1562 E. 46th street. He told police: "That guy tried to cut me with a knife, so we got into a fight. I took it away from him—it was his knife. I don't know if I cut anybody or not."

Thompson has long been a well-known figure on Central avenue. During the '40s he was part-owner of the Celebrity Club, gone but by no means forgotten, which flourished at 33rd and Central. His career there came to an abrupt end when he was sent up for a stretch at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Best Friends Steal from Blind Man

Wilbur M. Oglesby, 1525 E. 16th street, was glad to greet his "best friends." Jesse Thomas, 28, and Mary Williams, 22, shortly before 10 a.m. Monday.

Oglesby is blind, and is happy when friends drop in. They just came to use the phone, but that was all right.

Later when he opened the drawer of his dresser to get some money, he found that eight single dollar bills were missing.

He notified police. He's not so sure now his visitors were his friends.

LOVE THAT VOTE . . .

Major party politicos began making noises and gestures like they wanted votes of Negroes last week.

Lucius Lomax, candidate for the assembly from the 63rd district, had his picture taken with Adlai Stevenson while a number of other Negro politicos get into the act. Adlai wasn't very specific about civil rights, contenting himself with a party pledge to protect the "civil rights" of all people.

Vice President Nixon breezed into town this week and among those in the picture with him was Rayfield Lundy who is trying to get to Assembly from the 55th district. Nixon and Lundy have been palsy-walsy for some time.

Democrats really got their campaign for Negro votes going in a big way when they decided to bring Venice Spraggs out to round up votes for the Bourbon ticket.

Mrs. Spraggs, Assistant to Vice Chairman William Dawson of the Democratic National Committee, will arrive early next week to campaign for United States Senatorial Nominee, Congressman Sam Yorty and other Democratic candidates.

She will travel throughout the State of California with Ethel Bryant, Mr. Yorty's field representative. The two ladies will stop off in Bakersfield, Fresno, Stockton, Oakland, Sacramento, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside, Long Beach and spend a good deal of time in Los Angeles County.

Important affairs are being planned in all the communities listed above to honor Mrs. Spraggs and to discuss the issues of the forthcoming November 2 election.

CONFERENCE

Women for Legislative Action, a non-partisan organization of 400 women which encourages intelligent citizen participation in the field of legislation, invites all individuals and representatives of social, educational and church groups to participate in its third annual conference, "Formula for Freedom," Saturday, October 16, at the Hollywood Athletic Club, 6525 Sunset Blvd, from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

CIO WOMEN

Organization of a CIO "Women's Activity Group" in Los Angeles was in the blue-print stage today, as the result of a recommendation made by a CIO Family Participation Conference.

Held at the Alexandria Hotel, October 2 and 3, the Conference was called to examine women's role in politics, and was directed by Mrs. Esther Murray, field director of National CIO-PAC Women's Division. Sponsored by the Greater Los Angeles CIO Council, and its Political Action Committee, the gathering attracted some 100 delegates, women members of CIO unions and wives of union members.

WANTS VOTES

Frank P. O'Sullivan, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 15th District, is continuing to carry his hard-hitting campaign to the people of his district.

Besides personally contacting voters door to door, O'Sullivan speaks almost daily before business groups and at coffee parties in people's homes.

BACK LUNDY

A big citizen's rally was held for Rayfield Lundy, prominent lawyer and candidate for the State Assembly, 55th Assembly District, in the school auditorium at George Washington Carver Elementary School, 120th and Success streets, on Monday night, October 4. There were 150 citizens of the District present. Principal speakers at the rally were the following prominent members and voters within the District: William A. Easter, realtor and member of the Republican Central Committee of the 55th Assembly District; Broady, trade-unionist; Reverend B. W. Swain, of the Faith Temple Church of God In Christ; Robert Earle Lee, chairman of the Willowbrook Plaza Committee; and the candidate.

IPP HEADQUARTERS

Campaign Headquarters were opened on Friday, October 8, by the Valley Council of the Independent Progressive Party in the interest of the candidacies of Horace V. Alexander for Secretary of State, Herbert Cohn for State Treasurer, and Mrs. Isobel Cerney for United States Senate. The address is 7407 Lankershim Boulevard, No. Hollywood; phone PO. 5-8896.

DEMOCRAT DAY

"Democrats Day" in the 61st Assembly District will be celebrated Thursday, October 14, with four "Round Robin" rallies.

All rallies begin at 8:30 p.m., and Democratic nominees who will appear are Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan; James Roosevelt, for Congress in the 25th District; City Councilman Edward R. Roybal, for Lt. Governor; Congressman Samuel W Yorty, for U.S. Senate; Assemblyman George D. Collins, Jr., for State Controller; George E. Johnson for State Treasurer, and Richard Richards for State Senate.

SOCIALIST SPEAKER

Erroll Banks, Socialist Workers Party candidate for U. S. Senator, will speak at an election rally here Sat. (Oct. 16) at the S.W.P. headquarters, 1702 E. Fourth St.

The rally will also support the two other California S.W.P.

KNIGHT RECORD WINS COMMITTEE'S SUPPORT

(Negro Press Bureau)—Claiming that it is organized "for the purpose of accentuating the gains made by racial and minority groups in public and civic affairs and mapping a definite policy for good government, both locally, statewide and nationally," a Committee to Retain Governor Knight got under way last week and is rapidly gaining the confidence of the public.

"Clean politics, good government and a keen interest in the men and measures that control our political ends," is the theme of the committee's major project, it said.

"Reports from volunteer workers where headquarters are being maintained under the sponsorship of the committee indicate a great and growing trend of the citizenry toward a retention of Governor Knight in his present position for another term of office. The trend for Goodwin J. Knight for Governor, appears likely to develop into a landslide victory at the November 2 polls," committee spokesmen said.

Co-chairmen of the important Committee To Retain Governor Knight acclaimed what they called public enthusiasm developing in the 55th, 62nd and 63rd Assembly districts in the last few weeks of the campaign.

Members of the committee steering this all important job of electing Governor Knight to again fill the post of the former governor of the State of California, Chief Justice Earl Warren, are: Paul R. Williams, W. H. "Bill" Watkins, Atty. Everette M. Porter, Celestus A. King, III, Atty. David W. Williams, Bertrand B. Bratton, M. Earl Grant, J. LaMar Hill and Mrs. Leontyne King, director of women's affairs.

Headquarters have been installed in the Watkins hotel, Western and West Adams Blvd., Dunbar hotel and at 1645 East 103rd street in So. Los Angeles.

Local No 300 Stewards Meet

Stewards of the Laborers' Union, AFL, Local No. 300, met Friday, Oct. 8, at the union hall on West Pico.

Plans were made for activities to benefit both the stewards and the union as a whole.

Among members who took an active part in the deliberations were: L. W. Bean, Brady Whitside, Lorenzo Hurd and Isaac Laidley.

Breweries To Undergo Job Survey

Spurred by consumers of brewery products who feel that there are not enough Negroes employed in the brewing industry, the Los Angeles Urban League is undertaking a survey of employment opportunities within the industry.

At present, acording to Paul W. Sweeney, Industrial Field Secretary, breweries employ just a few Negroes, mostly in the capacity of salesmen. However, Rheingold has recently added clerical employees as well as a public relations consultant. In other phases of the industry, employment has been comparatively nil particularly with reference to production line employees.

Another phase of the survey will be discussions with representatives of the brewers union, bottlers' union, and the drivers or teamsters' union, in order to elicit their aid.

Christmas parcels and greeting cards for members of the armed forces and civilian personnel overseas should be mailed between October 15 and November 15 to assure delivery before the Yule holiday.

Marriage Ties Of Local Widow Are Annulled

An annulment was granted in Riverside last week to Mrs. Emma Surrey, well-known and well-to-do widow, of 1225 E. 27th street.

Mrs. Surrey, who was represented by Atty. Walter Gordon, obtained the marriage annulment from James L. Young, of 2635 E. 47th street, Cleveland, Ohio. Young is a member of the Lemuel T. Boydston Post, No. 94, of the American Legion.

1,000 ATTEND NAACP SANTA MONICA MEETING

Sunday evening, Oct. 10, at the Calvary Baptist Church, the Santa Monica branch of the NAACP held a special meeting at which Roy Wilkins, administrator for the NAACP, was the principal speaker. Present on the platform with Wilkins were officials and prominent members of the community of Santa Monica. Among them were Mayor Thomas McDermott; E. G. Allen and Frank H. Bornes, branch officers; and the Rev. W. P. Carter, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

It was the largest meeting ever held by the Santa Monica NAACP, with nearly 1,000 attending.

Atty. Loren Miller, editor and publisher of the California Eagle, was chairman and introduced several candidates for public office in Santa Monica in the coming election.

Wilkins spoke primarily on the Supreme Court decision of last May 17, which declared that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. He pointed out that not since the Dred Scott decision has a Supreme Court ruling affecting Negroes been as significant.

The role of the National Association for the Advancement of White People was contrasted to that of the NAACP. The latter has never advocated any but legal methods for achieving the freedom guaranteed the Negro by the Constitution, whereas the NAAWP has made statements that would seem to mean nothing if not incitement to riot. Wilkins expressed his surprise that the ruling, "supreme" (in the words of Mr. Talmadge) white race should need "advancement." But the fact that there are many white people in the fight for full emancipation with the Negro was not to be overlooked, Wilkins warned.

The goal now is complete freedom by 1963, which will be one hundred years from the date of the Emancipation Proclamation. Much has been accomplished, Wilkins stated, especially in the recent past, but there is yet much to do, especially in housing and employment.

Mrs. Alma Thornton sang several selections.

Detroit Lawyer Named Judge

LANSING, Mich. — Wade H. McCree Jr., 34, Detroit lawyer, was appointed to the second highest judiciary in the State Friday by Gov. G. Mennen Williams. He was given a post on Michigan's Circuit Court bench, to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Circuit Judge Adolph F. Marschner.

McCree, a graduate of Fisk University and Harvard Law School, is a member of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission. A native of Des Moines, he saw combat service in Italy in World War II.

Knight And Graves Queried On FEPC

SAN FRANCISCO—The question of where they stand on support for enactment of a fair employment practices law for California was put to gubernatorial candidates Goodwin J. Knight and Richard P. Graves this week by the NAACP.

The question, directed to the Democratic and Republican candidates by Franklin H. Williams, NAACP Secretary-Counsel, asked in part:

"If elected, will you support and use your offices to obtain passage of Fair Employment Practices Legislation with enforcement powers? Will you favor and support a bill of the type in effect in New York, namely, providing for enforcement of non-discrimination in employment by court order?"

Graves and Knight were respectfully requested to tender a "written or telegraphic reply" to the NAACP in time for the public meeting Saturday night, Oct. 16, at the first bi-ennial conference of the West Coast Region of the association at Asilomar, in Pacific Grove.

The three-day NAACP conference will have strong political overtones throughout its meetings and workshops. Roy Wilkins, national administrator of the NAACP, who will be principal speaker at the Saturday evening public meeting, is expected to direct his remarks to the implementation of the Supreme Court decision on segregation, and the national issue of civil rights legislation and the 83rd Congress.

More than 300 delegates from as far away as Anchorage, Alaska, have registered for the conference at Asilomar. NAACP representatives, visitors and observers from Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona and California will attend the leadership training sessions beginning Friday. Staff members from the CIO, AFL, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the California Federation for Civic Unity will attend and participate in the conference.

UAW Local Asks Firing Of Alderson

A resolution demanding that Fire Chief John Alderson be fired from his job was passed this week by Local No. 216, of the United Automobile Workers, CIO.

The union declared that segregation in the department is "an affront to the people of this community," and that Alderson is "an obstacle" to its elimination.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Mayor Poulson, President Richard K. Yeamans of the Board of Fire Commissioners and to the CIO Greater Los Angeles Industrial Union Council.

The Resolution

The resolution stated:

"Whereas, Fire Chief Alderson has failed after repeated requests to submit a satisfactory plan to eliminate Jim Crow segregation in Los Angeles Fire Department, and

"Whereas, All of the plans submitted by Chief Alderson would, in effect, preserve and maintain the practice of segregation which has recently been declared illegal by the United States Supreme Court and which is an affront to the people of this community, and

"Whereas, it is obvious from Chief Alderson's words and deeds that he is not to be trusted with responsibility for carrying through to the end the policy of desegregation ordered by the city authorities, therefore be it

"Resolved, that Local 216, United Automobile Workers, CIO, go on record demanding that Chief Alderson be removed from office as he is an obstacle to the elimination of Jim Crow segregation and an impediment to the necessary task of carrying through a thorough policy of complete desegregation."

Wilkins Tells School Gains At NAACP Meeting

Roy Wilkins, national administrator of the NAACP, told an enthusiastic crowd of about 500 at the People's Independent Church of Christ Friday evening of the encouraging progress already evident in school integration, despite the incitement and tension that developed in a few key spots.

Wilkins, who was introduced by Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP, pointed out that a lot of publicity has been given to the few die-hards who refused to abide by the Supreme Court decision of May 17, but added that there are thousands of schools throughout the country in the counties in the south and border states that have integrated peacefully without fanfare. There have been no headlines, or news releases regarding these peacefully integrated schools, he stated.

With reference to the recent strikes and demonstrations in some of the school districts, Wilkins declared that this was only a temporary development and would be remedied by the calm judgment of the people in the respective locales, as well as the ever vigilant work of the NAACP.

The Men's Council of the People's Independent Church of Christ did a yeoman's job in making all arrangements for the program. In addition to manning a sound truck furnished by the church which traveled throughout the community announcing the NAACP meeting, the Council donated the sum of $50.

Others who participated included the Rev. Maurice Dawkins, minister of the People's Independent Church of Christ; the Rev. T. M. Chambers, pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church, who made the appeal for contributions; Rev. J. O. Evans, and Rev. J. Raymond Henderson.

MODERN CENTER GIVES HEALTH TO ALCOHOLICS

By DONNA PREE

Have you ever wondered what happens to the drunkard who is picked up by the police? Have you ever stopped to think what becomes of the alcoholic repeater whom the judge gives 120 days?

Years ago these questions could be answered easily with a quick trip to Lincoln Heights jail—Lincoln Heights where every weekend found drunks crammed into the small quarters of the "drunk tank."

Last Friday morning, weekly and daily press reporters were taken on a tour of a $2,000,000 dream that is now a reality near Saugus.

Beautiful Site

This beautiful site of 581 acres of landscaped grounds, is a rehabilitation center for alcoholics. The center is owned by the Los Angeles Police Department, and is a modern "Utopia" which has none of the earmarks of a prison. It has a minimum of security to prevent "breaks," so the inmates could easily escape if they had the urge. Interestingly enough, few have shown any inclination to leave.

The deputy chief of the center is Commander W. J. Bradley, who operates through a custodial personnel of one lieutenant, 8 sergeants and 60 policemen. He stated that the alcoholic in most cases is not a criminal but an ill person. Oftimes the young alcoholic can be helped with psychiatric medical care and work therapy.

This attitude that the alcoholic is sick is not a new one, stated Commander Bradley, but the problem of what to do about it could be solved only with time and money. Now the rehabilitation center has established a work program that includes the operating of a 137-acre honor farm, where the inmates raise vegetables, fruits, and other produce for use in the jails, thus cutting the expense to the taxpayer and the city.

Attend Classes

For five hours weekly the inmates are required to attend classes designed to better prepare the alcoholic, on release, to seek and hold employment.

The educational system of the rehabilitation center, according to Sergeant J. H. Coleman, our able guide of the tour, is under the direction of the Newhall Board of Education, with regular accredited public school teachers. This factor has an excellent psychological effect on the inmate. It makes him more cooperative.

With the help of Alcoholics Anonymous, and the various religious leaders and qualified social agencies the inmate receives the spiritual and moral help he needs for good living.

A spacious recreation hall is provided for different programs of entertainment after the six-

Lawyers Guild To Hear Talk On Fire Dept.

"Segregation In The Los Angeles Fire Department" will be the subject of a luncheon address Friday, at the Hotel Alexandria in the Desert Room, sponsored by the National Lawyers Guild.

The speaker will be Atty. Edward Carter Maddox, president of the Langston Law Club, and one of the lawyers who has been active in the Fire Department matter on behalf of the NAACP.

Florence FEPC Asks Removal Of Fire Chief

The Los Angeles City Fire Commissioners were called upon this week to take immediate action in ending segregation in the fire department and to remove Chief John H. Alderson by the unanimous action of the executive committee of the Florence Fair Employment Practices Committee, according to its chairman, J. B. Thomas.

The man who uses his head and arms is entitled to bigger wages than the man who merely uses his arms.

Roosevelt To Speak at Sunday Breakfast Club

Mrs. Mabel Horst, secretary of the Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast club, has announced that guest speaker this Sunday, Oct. 17 at 9 a.m. will be James Roosevelt. The club meets at the Clark Hotel, Washington blvd. and Central avenue.

There will also be a musical program. The meeting is open to the public.

NAACP Funds

NEW YORK — A contribution of $5,000 by the United Automobile Workers, CIO, Detroit, and one of $500 by the Pocketbook Workers Union, AFL, New York, helped bring the total for the week ending Oct. 6 to $6,345 for the NAACP Fight for Freedom campaign.

Other contributions included initial payment on NAACP life membership by Franklin Dandridge of Anchorage, Alaska.

Churches Take Slow Approach On Integration

NEW YORK — A six-point program to end racial segregation in the nation's capital, prepared by the Washington Federation of Churches, was circulated last week to the Federation's 235 member churches for study and action. It will also be sent to an additional 250-300 church bodies in the metropolitan Washington area which are not Federation members.

The Federation's directors said they were submitting the program to member churches "in a deep sense of shame and in the spirit of penitence" because the church has "lagged" in the development of racially inclusive fellowships.

The program suggests integrated vacation church schools and Sunday schools, non-segregated church centers in underprivileged areas, and interracial church choruses. Integration in church membership, it says, will follow more slowly. It also called upon churches in racially changing neighborhoods to remain and serve the new people who move into the area.

Competition... leads to the world's best service

The world's first service station was opened by Standard Oil Company of California in Seattle, Washington, in 1907, two years after cars came to the Pacific Coast. Pioneer motorists, tired of wrestling 5-gallon cans to fill their tanks, flocked to this convenient gasoline station. Other suppliers saw the point . . . service stations soon sprang up all over and the competition to serve you better began.

Look how it is today! Here are just a few of the services you now find at Independent Chevron Stations and Standard Stations. We originated many of them in competing with hundreds of other companies for your business. This competition that has brought you more convenient motoring has grown with the West. Since 1907, we've seen the total number of Western gas stations grow from our lone Seattle pioneer to 26,000 today. For us it has meant working harder to merit your business . . . investing $275 million in 1954 alone to find new oil and improve our refinery output . . . spending more than $35 million in the last 5 years for research and technical services to bring better products to motorists, industry and farms. Since this is Oil Progress Week, we'd like to remind you that this competition which sparks oil progress brings you more miles-per-gallon of gas, lubricants that lengthen your car's life—and the world's best service.

The Same Old Story

There is a tiring sameness about the efforts of proponents of segregation to hamper and defeat the drive toward racial integration in public facilities.

The arguments are the same whether they are voiced in Delaware, in Georgia or in the meeting room of the Los Angeles Board of Fire Commissioners. There is the solemn pretense that racial segregation is a positive good whether it is practiced in public schools or in the Fire Department. There is the strident claim that the whole movement to abolish segregation is the work of a handful of "agitators." There are always the mouthy disclaimers of personal prejudice—even Fire Chief Alderson mumbled over the radio that "some of my best friends are Negroes."

The tactics are the same, too. In Delaware an adventurer fishes in the troubled waters, and troubles the waters to fish in them, and inspires misled school kids and unknowing parents to "strike" against integration in public schools. In Georgia, Herman Talmadge and his stooges whip up and sharpen latent racial prejudices.

And in Los Angeles, Chief Alderson continues to stir up opposition to abolition of segregation in the Fire Department. He did his job so well last week some three or four hundred off-duty firemen milled about the meeting room of the Board of Fire Commissioners and tried to bar the entrance of attorneys for the NAACP. These firemen were the spiritual kinsmen of the Delaware parents who inspired racial prejudices in their children, and the intellectual blood brothers of those who rant and rave in Georgia and Mississippi against integration in public schools and vote to abandon the public school system itself.

In every instance these protestants are setting themselves and their whimsical prejudices above the law of the land. They are saying in effect that they will not obey the mandates of the Supreme Courts of the nation and their states.

Most of the participants in these demonstrations are not vicious men. They are mis-led men. The blame for misleading them belongs to a handful of arrogant men. Arrogant men, like Chief Alderson, whose minds are closed; arrogant men who look with unseeing eyes on the present and interpret our days and our times in the spirit of the past; arrogant men who mistake their prejudices for wisdom and bask in the acclaim their arrogance wins from a handful of men as prejudiced as themselves.

Men such as Chief Alderson are immune to appeals to reason. The only language they understand is the language of firmness. The Fire Commissioners will gain nothing from attempts to persuade or induce Alderson to alter his policies, as time has proved. There will be no changes unless and until the Commissioners issue a positive order directing him to take specific steps.

After a year of temporizing, the Commission should be ready to take that positive step. If they are not there is nothing to be done except for Mayor Norris Poulson to take the step he indicated last week and replace vacillating commissioners with men who are ready to uphold the Constitution in the face of opposition from a man intoxicated with his own power and bemused with the idea that he is above the laws and Constitution of the United States.

Justice Robert Jackson

Justice Robert H. Jackson who died last week sat on the United States Supreme Court during the years it worked a major revolution in racial relations with a long series of decisions which gave new life and meaning to the Fourteenth Amendment.

During his service the Court struck down judicial enforcement of race restrictive covenants, forbade segregation of Negroes in interstate commerce in response to state laws, tightened up its interpretation of peonage statutes, swept aside the separate but equal rule in graduate and professional schools and finally held that racial segregation in elementary and secondary schools violated the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. In many other instances the Court broadened the Amendment to guarantee civil rights.

Justice Jackson concurred in, and wrote some of the decisions which we have just recounted. He was never the crusader that Justices Black, Murphy and Rutledge were during the same period and there was an undercurrent of cynicism in some of his concurrences on these great issues.

However, he could always be counted on to take what is now called the "liberal" position on civil rights and his vote will be missed. We hope that he will be replaced on the Court with another lawyer who subscribes to the position he maintained. It is a safe bet that the Southerners will be up in arms to try to keep a proponent of civil rights off the nation's highest court. We doubt that they can do that.

There is every reason to believe that the trend Justice Jackson helped set in motion, and accentuate, will continue until all racial restrictions on citizenship have been cast aside.

Why Not Hastie?

There is a great deal of merit in the suggestion of Chief Judge William Denman of the Court of Appeals of the Ninth Circuit that President Eisenhower name Judge William H. Hastie to the vacancy on the Supreme Court made by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson.

Judge Hastie is one of the ablest jurists in America with a distinguished record on both the federal district courts and on the Court of Appeals.

By temperament and training, Judge Hastie is well fitted for the post and his appointment would be another milestone on the long road that the United States is traveling toward a completely democratic way of life. Judge Denman is admirably qualified to judge Judge Hastie's qualifications and his recommendation ought to be weighed seriously by the president.

A Deserved Honor

This community has reason to be proud of Mrs. Josephine Brown who won a coveted Gold Feather from the Community Chest for her long and distinguished service in volunteer social work.

Mrs. Brown deserves the award. She has worked long and tirelessly with various agencies and with the Chest. Los Angeles is a better place for the work she has done and the honor that has been done her is only partial payment of the great debt that Los Angeles owes her.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

It grows a little tiresome to hear the furious yipes that some of us persist in making over the goings-on of the white supremacists in Milford, Del., Baltimore, Md. and Washington, D. C. reported in the national press during the past two weeks.

These anti-Negro, un-American demonstrations are disgraceful and dangerous to the welfare of the whole country; they have already been used and will be used again and again by our enemies in other parts of the world to discredit American democracy. They constitute an indefensible crime against the young people who are the direct victims of the picket lines and hate meetings. Victims, whether they be colored or white, because the white student who is drilled in hate demonstrations is hurt by the action just as much as the colored student against whom the demonstration is conducted.

Lester Granger

Not Bolts From Blue

But to hear some of us in our frenzied yipes, one would think that the hate demonstrations were like bolts out of the blue, devastating in their unexpectedness.

Surely none of us was so naive or dense as to assume that there would be no counteraction by the embattled pro-segregationists in response to desegregationist steps. Anyone with the experience of a high school student must have realized that this counter-action would take form in one of several ways—or all several. There would be court action as a delaying strategy; there would be open or undercover violence.

Not New Idea

The National Association for the Advancement of White People is not a new idea. It has been kicking around for at least a half-dozen years, in Texas and Georgia for instance. It's a natural device for the race demagogue.

The only reason that it hasn't been successfully introduced before is that the threat to white supremacy hasn't been serious enough. The other gains made in the South have been piecemeal style—a bit of discrimination chipped of here and there, with the overall structure remaining unchanged.

The school segregation decision of the Supreme Court shook that whole structure—shook it so severely that its eventual fall is clearly in sight.

No wonder those who enjoyed the structure of Jim Crow so compl[illegible]ntly are now rushing out into the street with angry cries, attacking those who are responsible for the altered status of the race question. A national association to "protect" white people was as obvious to these people as the fact that C follows A and B is to a child with building blocks. The only question was what the name would be, once the organization should be formed.

Doesn't Make Sense

Now, it doesn't make sense for us, understanding all of this, to run around screaming in a frenzy of our own because the opposition has done exactly what we could have expected it to do. When we know that a cornered rat will bite, but know that we must corner and grab it just the same, we don't fly into a terrified tantrum when we do grab the rat and it does bite us.

We dispose of it as soon as possible, guarding ourselves against as much damage as possible, and then hurry to get treatment for our injuries before they become infected.

And that's the way wise leadership in Baltimore and Washington will handle the current demonstrations. It remains for the rest of us to be guided by that leadership's example and profit from its experience in other communities that will almost certainly be affected similarly.

Fall Into Trap

And we fall into the opposition's trap as well, when we allow all of the public's attention to become centered on pro-segregation demonstrations, in disregard of the success that desegregation is registering in community after community. Milford's craven retreat was exceptional, not typical of the State of Delaware where integration is moving smoothly for the most part.

The significant feature of the Baltimore and Washington programs is not that demonstrations were organized against desegregation several weeks after the schools opened, but rather that during those several weeks colored and white pupils attended classes together amicably and without incident, thereby proving that the very claims now being made by the demagogues are fanciful lies.

There's the main issue of the game; we're foolish if we allow ourselves to be confused by elaborate screen plays. If we keep our eye on the ball, we'll break up the interference and get our own attack moving down the field.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

We met this doctor's wife at a picnic and she told us that they had six children, so we looked him up to ask him some more questions—about the children and—if there will be any more soon.

He was born in Van Buren, Ark., but when he was nine his parents moved to Youngstown, Ohio. Here he pursued public education, but went to the University of Pittsburgh where he was on the track team and won the hand of a fair young maiden. After graduating from college our hero enrolled in medicine at Howard University and graduated with the class of 1938.

Leon Steward

Married and Off to War

His first act after interning at Lincoln Hospital, Durham, N. C. was to return to Pittsburgh to marry a charming young lady, the daughter of a very successful chief electrician of the Duquesne Light Company. Her name, Miss Florence Branch.

After marriage they returned to North Carolina where he practiced his profession in Wilson for a year and a half until the war broke out. He left for Youngstown to practice there until called to the service of his country. Leaving his wife with his family he entered the Army in January, 1944. Trained for the service at Ft. Huachuca, he served in French hospitals, in England where he was battalion surgeon and in Germany where he was again attached to a hospital. Released, the officer returned to Youngstown and his family.

Off to California

After practicing in his home town for seven months, he made plans for getting under way for moving to California. It appears that the doctor had met Dr. H. H. Towles of this city while at Ft. Huachuca who invited him to visit him at his home in Los Angeles. He did so while in the service. The family arrived in December, 1946. And until 1953 his office was at 3416 Arlington. That year he moved to 4522 S. San Pedro pl., but now permanently Dr. William Henry Atkinson Jr. is at 1050 W. Vernon ave.

That Family

Dr. Atkinson is a 32nd degree Mason. He is connected with the St. John Blue House of F. and A. M., but the "War Department" at his house answers to the names of Florence Ellen, 14; William Branch, 12; George Frederick, 10; Norman Henryet, 7; John Ellis, 4; and Henri Christian, 17 months, but they are the apples of his eyes.

The doctor loves hunting and the various sports. The wife is quite a P-TA worker and belongs to the Pitt-Los and Friday Nighter Clubs. They are Baptists and probably now that they are relatively settled they will join a church, so he said. But we take off our hat to a busy doctor with six children and a busy wife. We asked him if there will be any more. He simply smiled.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

This business of sex!

Nothing in the world is more beautiful than the good, wholesome "boy meets girl" theme so long as it's treated with the dignity and sanctity inherent in it. But, brother! what some folks have done to "boy meets girl" would make a snake in the grass squirm.

I was getting on the bus the other day and happy, youthful singing voices met me as I dropped my fare in the box. At first my heart was lifted as I recalled the happy times I spent back in my own school days singing with my gang on the doorsteps, on the bus, at football games—anywhere.

But as I took my seat, the words of the song these youngsters were singing almost shocked this hardened, old codger.

"Wiggle, Wiggle, Wiggle," the kids—11, 12, 13 years old were shouting. "I Just Love Your Sexy Ways."

Roller Skates

I couldn't help but turn around and have a look. There were maybe six or seven of them boys and girls, roller skates thrown over their shoulders, blue jeans, tee shirts, bobby socks. Babies all, and chanting words to a song that belongs to a cheap, aimless, adult world.

I just had to wonder.

Couple days later, I boarded another bus on the same line and, so help me, another bunch of teens or younger were having the time of their lives shouting and stomping and the song they were singing was "Wiggle, Wiggle, etc."

I just had to wonder again.

And of course what I wondered about was how in Heaven's name have we come to such an ugly pass? Movies? Books? Magazines? Television?

Phono Records

Sure they have all played a shocking role in the tremendous upsurge of sex in our modern day. Now, I'm wondering how strong an influence the phonograph record is. Funny, I never thought much about these platters as purveyers of sex 'cause, now that I put my mind to it, there is no doubting that a whole lot of suggestion comes out of the grooves of the discs.

I guess the greatest offenders are the so-called rhythm and blues boys who shout suggestive and often pointed sex-songs like mad. They are gobbled up in the record stores and are bit hits on the juke boxes.

Disc jockeys have a grave responsibility to remain within the bounds of good taste when it comes to smutty records. A national weekly newspaper has been carrying on a vigorous campaign against platter spinners who plug these disgusting records. The paper now has a jockey known as "Moondog" on the carpet for letting distasteful lyrics on the air.

Need Research

I don't suppose anybody knows what effect these records have on youngsters. Much scientific research has been on comic books and their significance. Maybe a graduate student somewhere could come up with some convincing findings on phono records.

Whether singing "I Just Love Your Sexy Ways" 'on a bus is indicative that our youngsters have gone to the "Moondogs," is a moot question.

All I know is I would have felt a lot better if those kids had been chanting something like "I Want A Girl, Just Like the Girl that Married Dear Ole Dad." I would even settle for something like that idiotic "Ooo Bop She Bam" or how ever you spell it.

Sure, have fun kiddies—but save the sex business until you really understand what it's all about. It's really very beautiful.

Modern Center

hour work day. The inmates [illegible] banded together and through their joint effort have obtained [illegible] vision.

The center has a 24-hour receiving hospital staff for any inmates who become ill.

The cafeteria has all modern cooking facilities for mass production of healthful meals. The meal that was served the press could not have been served better or tasted better at Roman-off's.

Baseball games are played by inmate teams on the large diamond lying in the center of a green paradise. Commander Bradley, our host, stated the inmates like their ball pretty seriously.

In the reception rooms of the center, several paintings beautify the walls. One might think that Michael Angelo had endowed the premises, but to everyone's amazement the artist was one of the inmates. The theory of the good men running the center, that the alcoholic is just an ill and emotionally disturbed human being was proved time and time again as the press viewed the many works of art performed by gifted professional and artistic inmates. Achievements included carpentry, paintings, canning, landscaping, mechanical work and many forms of work therapy.

On the return trip to smog-filled Los Angeles, some of the members of the press expressed the desire to stay in this beautiful mountain-surrounded haven of fresh air. Alas! heaven can wait, but the police bus that took the crew of skeptical reporters to the center couldn't. With a sadness that more people could not have seen the center, Sergeant Tom Bradley returned us to the hustle and bustle of Los Angeles and its smog. Anyway, I blamed it on smog when my eyes ran water.

The center was beautiful. Here's hoping the dream that became a reality will prove successful for the department as well as the intemperate spirit consumer.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Miller:

The purpose of this letter is two-fold: (1) I wish, first, to say bravo! for the excellent statement of our case before the National Urban League on the situation facing minority groups in Housing.

Additionally, I take this opportunity to thank the people of California for the scholarship which affords me the honor and privilege of study in the 19th class at the Delinquency Control Institute, University of Southern California.

Assigned to the Juvenile Division of the New Orleans Police Department, I shall be able to assist in the training of men who choose careers in law enforcement, and are assigned to the juvenile unit.

As former vice president of NAACP Youth, I'd welcome whatever opportunity that might arise in which I can serve while here. Should like to hear Roy Wilkins also.

GET OUT VOTE

Sponsoring a "get out the vote" drive, initiated by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, the county board of supervisors this week adopted a resolution setting a goal of at least a 75 per cent turn out of eligible voters on November 2.

"I urge each registered voter, regardless of which party he belongs to, to vote at the general election on November 2, thus helping the support of our American form of government," Supervisor Hahn declared.

WANTS ACCOUNTING

Charges that his opponent deliberately falsified her statement of primary campaign expenses were renewed last night by Richard Richards, Democratic Nominee for State Senator, at an AFL Teamsters Rally in Teamsters Hall.

His charges referred to the declaration of primary campaign expenses filed with the Registrar of Voters in which Mrs. Mildred Younger, the Republican nominee, listed expenditures of only $517.13, as against Richards' total of $8,168.22.

Oppose Change In Watts Rail Line

Acting on a request by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, the county board of supervisors this week instructed Road Commissioner Sam R. Kennedy to appear before the Public Utilities Commission and protest the proposed abandonment of rail service on the Los Angeles-Watts local line by the Metropolitan Coach Lines until a suitable route is chosen.

District Association and pastor of the Victory Baptist Church will deliver the sermon.

On Thursday evening the Young People's Department will open with Mrs. Callie Miles, the president, presiding. The Youth Program will feature a skit at 8:00 p.m. entitled, "Youth On the March for Christ." At 8:45 p.m. the Rev. S. O. J. Evans, minister of the Macedonia Baptist Church, will deliver the sermon.

Bel-Vue Community Church Presents Doris R. Novel As Directoress of Musicale

Songs of interest to all ages will characterize the fall concert of the Chancel Choir of the Bel-vue Community Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Nov. 6, at 5:00 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the church, 118th and Stanford Ave.

In addition to traditional and modern versions of recognized church music, the choir will present contemporary music of interest to both young and old.

This concert will mark the formal introduction of the director, Miss Doris Reita Novel, to Los Angeles. Miss Novel, a native of Kansas City, Missouri, is nationally known as both a music teacher and choral director. In addition to her duties as Minister of Music for the Bel-Vue Community Church, Miss Novel is a teacher in the Los Angeles City Schools.

The members of the Los Angeles community familiar with her work throughout the Middle West and at Colorado University are looking forward to this concert under Miss Novel's direction.

A principle is much like a prejudice except that you can defend it with logic instead of a brick.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

WILDCATS SCORE 12-6 GRID WIN

Coach John McKinley's Eastside Athletic Club after battling three scoreless quarters came from behind in the last period to score a 12-6 victory over San Gabriel in the semi-pro league last Sunday.

With five minutes to play Billy (The Bandit) Wade intercepted a San Gabriel pass and rambled it back 41 yards to score. With only two minutes remaining in the game speedy Maurice Jackson of the EASC raced off tackle for 53 yards behind perfect blocking to score standing up with the winning touchdown.

Bobo Brazil celebrated his own night at the Olympic Auditorium last week by defeating Danny (The Bulldog) Pieches in two straight falls in the main wrestling event before 4500 fans.

Roy Campanella All-Stars Face Strong League Taem

The three game Winter League series, Oct. 22, 24, and 29, at Wrigley Field, shapes up as almost a replay of the all-star major league game as promoter Bill Feistner continues to sign big name players to oppose Roy Campanella's world series major leaguers.

Feistner announced this week he had signed Irv Noren, New York Yankees outfielder, .319, who finished third in the American League batting race; lefty Jack Harshman, Chicago White Sox hurler with a season's average of 14-8 including 133 strike-outs; Lou Berberet, sparkling Yankee rookie catcher who completed the season with the club, Rocky Bridges, and Bobby Adams, speedy Cincy Reds infielders.

Besides these aces, Feistner is dickering with Tom Morgan, Yankee twirler; Bill Sarni, St. Louis Cards catcher; Preston Ward, Pirates first sacker; Ralph Kiner, Chi Cubs slugger and a host of other major leaguers who winter in the southland.

Campanella's club shapes up as a powerhouse with Larry Doby, Cleveland outfielder, who topped the American League in home runs with 32 and in runs-batted-in with 126, and Minnie Minoso, White Sox flash who finished second in the league batting .320. He hit the most triples with 18, and topped all other players in total bases with 304.

Hank Thompson, one of the game's top third basemen and Monte Irvin, are both deadly hitters and were mainstays of the World Champion Giants. Thompson clouted 26 homers and Irvin 19. Other big names on the Campanella roster are Al Smith, Cleveland; Don Newcombe, Junior Gilliam, Dodgers; Brooks Lawrence, St. Louis; Gene Baker, Chi Cubs; Dave Hoskins, Cleveland.

Tickets are now on sale at Wrigley Field box offices.

Marching units wishing to appear in the World Series Appreciation Day Parade, Sunday, Oct. 24, should contact Brigadier General Lipscomb, at the Elks Hall, 4016 So. Central ave.

SERVIN VS. SIMS FRI. AT LEGION

Petey Servin, hot after a shot at Willie Vaughn's State middleweight title, tests young Eddie Sims of New Orleans, in the 10-round feature event at the Hollywood Legion, Sat., October 16.

Servin was impressive in scoring a knockout over Dick Finley last time out.

NO. 1 PLAYER—The sporting news named batting champion Willie Mays as the number one player of the year in the National League.

BIG TEST—Don (Big Red) Grant, winner of the fifteen straight boxing bouts, goes against Chilly Charlie Green in one of his most important fights of his career.

KO Artist Set For 10 Rounds

Local boxing fans are in for a treat Monday night at the Olympic Auditorium when two of California's most popular middleweights tangle for national prestige and ranking. Chilly Charlie Green, twice holder of the state's crown, goes against Don (Big Red) Grant, winner of 15 straight bouts, and labeled as one of the best looking prospects since Watson Jones and Jack Chase.

Grant is handled by three capable men of boxing, manager John Calloway, trainers Duke Hollyway and Calvin Woods. Veteran Duke (The Derby) Hollyway is considered one of the slickest in the trade. He guided Harold Dade to the world bantamweight title when the latter had only six professional bouts.

His wide knowledge of boxing and his many years in the corner of great boxers makes him one of our outstanding trainers. Hollyway has trained Grant in all of his bouts and considers him one of his prize pupils.

Grant enjoys fighting, takes his training seriously and is one of the best liked boxers in the California ring. When he's not training for bouts he reads for hours and is one of the most informed boxers around.

Charlie Green is also one of our most promising middleweights having held the state's middleweight title twice. His terrific punching and 60 odd bouts rate an edge over his young foe. Green is set for tours of the east and is certainly looking forward to a victory.

Green sports a sensational kayo record and while Grant isn't a knockout artist his record shows eight of his fifteen bouts have ended via knockouts.

Hollyway is counting heavily on Grant's boxing ability to smother Green's potent punches in what promises as one of the most thrilling ten rounders this season.

EMMETT ASHFORD 'UMPS' BENEFIT TILT

Emmett Ashford, member of the Pacific Coast League baseball officials will handle the duties at Gilmore Field Friday when the Los Angeles Variety Club stages its benefit game.

Pitcher Bob Lemon, of the Cleveland Indians, outfielder Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs and outfielder Irv Noren of the New York Yankees definitely will play.

One team will be composed entirely of major-leaguers and the other team of Coast Leaguers and other minors residing in this area.

The show is being sponsored in behalf of the Variety Club's youth project.

Centennial May Become The Grid Power In The CIF Bay Area Loop

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Coach Aaron Wade isn't telling anyone that he's got just about the best high school team in the city, but it's no secret to the residents of the South Los Angeles section that Centennial football team is putting the area on the map.

Wade's line averages around 190 pounds and three teams will verify the fact that it is as solid as Gibraltar. His backfield is speedy and clever.

Quarterback Fred McCrumbly is an expert ball handler and left half Peter Andrews is the play maker while Carl Allen and Paul Lowe provide the scoring punch. Tenth grader Ronald Campbell is the team's scatback and once this kid sees daylight in the secondary he's off to the races.

Lee Sampson and Lafayette Slaughter are the ends; Fred Williams, Walter Rusell are at guards; Kenneth Lovingood, Henry Castro are the tackles; Joe Wade is at center. The backfield includes Fred McCrumbly at quarter, Peter Andrews, left half; Carl Allen, right half, and Paul Lowe at fullback.

The combination of fundamentals, spirit and willingness on the part of the boys is Coach Wade's success story.

Centennial in just two seasons may become one of the football powers of that loop thanks to Coach Wade, who learned his football savvy at Tillotson College and as a student of UCLA's Red Sanders.

The five-foot four Wade insists that his players practice good clean habits, character, and scholastics and it's paying off to the tune of one of the finest elvens in the Bay league.

This season the powerful Centennial grid team has compiled an amazing record of three straight victories without a defeat. The record includes an 18 to 0 win over Mary Star; a 13-0 win over Fremont, and a 25-0 victory over Torrance.

Defensively the team is a giant. Only four first downs have been racked up against them. Torrance scored two and Fremont scored two and the net yardage gained against the powerful Centennial line is only 134 in three games. The school has rolled up more than 750 yards on the ground and in the air. No team has scored against them.

Centennial's cracker-jack drill team and a real solid band plus a lively cheering section keep the football players' spirits.

Coach Wade is proud of the fact that more of the students' parents are following the games, which indicates that with backing of the parents, teachers and other interested outsiders, Centennial in just two short years may reach a new high in the community.

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Tony Hill in Boston General Hospital with temporarily paralyzed hands. En route back to the States from his African trip, he was hurt aboard ship when they ran into a hurricane off the Carolina coast. His brother (teaches at Harvard) and sister-in-law are at his side. Tony, soon as he's well enough, will come west.

Cancer Research

Star sapphire mink wearing Adella Smiley TWA'd in from St. Loo for a week. She's at the Watkins. Her medic mate is doing cancer research via a Ford Foundation grant; he's the only tan faculty member at Washington University's Medical School, too. Leigh Whipper leaves Sunday. He's staying at Pauline Stokley's. There's an intimate get-together of ole cronies a-brewing one of these evenings before he scrambles aboard his eastbound plane.

Pearl Smith hostessed the 12-33 Club Saturday. Bridge luncheon. In town: Evelyn Ellis. Bill Lane flies into N.Y. on the 24th for a day's business conference. Nadine Cole, home again, was registered at the Fairmont while relaxing in San Francisco. Mexico City for her next vacation time. The Steve Locketts giving up suburban living and moving back into the center of things.

Marcia Bauman recovering from that bad auto accident up north. Ralph Vaughn back from a business expedition into Las Vegas. Omaha's Mrs. Jessica Wright visiting Mrs. Belle Riley.

The Roy Wilkinses

The Roy Wilkinses (they were at the Watkins) left Wednesday for San Francisco. They had quite a busy time of it here. Breakfasts, teas, cocktails, and such fol-de-rol. Surely they couldn't have missed seeing just about everybody in town. After Monday night's forum they went nightcapping with the Roy Spencers.

Vibrant Etta Estorge back from a gay fling in the Bay area. She visited Oakland's Orel Berry. Etta will be a grandmother in January, come to think. Kate Garcia not so well? Nora Holt gave an impressive informal talk to the Daisy Wilson Foundation the other evening. Eslanda Robeson had tea with her dear friends, the Ivan Harold Brownings, before she left for San Francisco.

Field Trip

Omaha's Mrs. Ethel Bryant left for home. She house-guested with Mrs. Hazel Gray. The former plans to return here to live. Librarian President and Mrs. Tubman and entourage will touch here briefly. Taking things easy. Leontyne King isn't hurrying back to business after her serious illness.

Dream House Come True

Another Omaha visitor: Patrician Mrs. Helen Mahammitt, with the Laceys in Pasadena. She will winter here. Mrs. Lillian Black had mutual friends in for bridge and lunch for her Saturday. Incidentally, Mrs. Black leaves in mid-November to visit her daughter (Bobbee Black Borders) and family in Ft. Wayne. Their newly-built modern ranch house will be ready for them shortly. It's a triumph in modern functional design, I hear. A real honest-to-Pete dream house come true.

Jo Cooper singing in DeeCee for the NCNW. Perry, youngest of Betty and Wayne Howard's small fry, glum with his awesomely busted lip. Fell off the school fence. Newcomer due from Kay See: Mrs. Fannie Anderson.

Nimble Fingers Knitting Club To Hold Art Exhibit

The Nimble Fingers Knitting Club celebrated its fifth anniversary with an art exhibit Sunday September 26 in the patio of Mr. and Mrs. George Charles' south Arlington avenue lovely home.

This unique affair displaying the creations of Nimble Fingers members was an outstanding artistic treat and had as its setting a background of beautiful flowers swinging vines, tropical ferns and colorful booths and umbrellas which decorated the patio and entire back-yard.

A short history of the club was given by Wendell Gladden who also cited some of the club's contributions to charity in addition to its other activities.

Officers and members wearing dresses of their own designs were introduced as follows: Mrs. La Verne Mayfield, President; Mrs. Edna Robinson, Vice-President; Mrs. Clara Garrett, Secretary; Mrs. Rubenia Charles, Treasurer; Mrs. Elnora Thrash, Business Manager; Mrs. Thelma Gladden, Reporter; Mrs. Olga Floyd, Mrs. Geneva Esterlin, Mrs. Mary D. Anderson, Mrs. Marjorie Scott, Mrs. Christine Trice, and Mrs. Mabel Snowden.

Socialites Announce Engagement

Lovely Helen G. Rigsby, gay young socialite, and dapper Ricky Da Montrond announced their engagement this week. The popular couple plan to take the marriage vows Christmas Eve at the home of Miss Rigsby at 115 Cliffwood Drive in Brentwood, California.

Suave Da Montrand hails from Boston and was formerly wed to Little Esther, the blues thrush. Ricky contends that he amiably and are still good friends. Miss Rigsby is but twenty-three years of age and it will be her first trek to the the altar.

The duo first met at a Hollywood party and it love at first sight. Their eyes met and embraced, and it wasn't too long before the date was set. Congratulations are in order!

Enjoys Affair

The Lend A Hand Charity Club was hostess to an elaborate luncheon last week. Some 39 ladies enjoyed the well planned affair.

Next group meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. B. Shaw, 535 West 52nd Place on Oct. 24. Mrs. Beatrice Higgs is the club's president and Mrs. Ella L. Walker is the reporter.

Thrifty Sixteen In Meet

The Thrifty Sixteen Social and Charity Club is happy to announce the return home of its business manager, Mrs. Hortense Johnson who is now recuperating from an operation that was performed at the Queen of Angeles Hospital.

The last two club meetings were preceded by elaborate dinner parties, served by Sixteeners Eura Lee Mayshack and Phoebba Lee, respectively.

A hearty welcome home was given to the club's chaplain Fannie Royal who has just returned from an extended vacation in Oklahoma City, where she visited relatives and friends.

The public is invited to share the fellowship and fine food which has become a tradition at the Annual Breakfast for charity. The Eastside Settlement House, 1219 East Adams Boulevard will be the meeting place Sunday morning. Breakfast will be served at eight o'clock.

Kansas Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Locke of 1320 Forest street in Kansas Cit., Mo., are spending their vacation visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Before returning to their Kansas home, the couple plans to visit in San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and Palmyra Mo.

Sojourner Truth Fiftieth Anniversary Starts Sunday

Beginning Sunday the Sojourner Truth Industrial Club, of Los Angeles, will open the celebration marking the Fiftieth Anniversary of its founding.

The opening event will be a reception open to the public, at Harvard Home, 2133 S. Harvard Blvd., Sunday, from 5 to 9 p.m., followed on Oct. 19 with an "Open House" at the Adams Home, 1119 East Adams Blvd. from 3 to 6 in the afternoon.

The "Great Gildersleeve" will be master of ceremonies at the Harvard Reception and Miss Lillian Randolph together with a galaxy of stars and celebrities will entertain the guests during the reception.

Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, Board Chairman, is head of the reception and promises numerous surprises.

Mrs. Mamie Duffy is chairman of the "Open House" and announces that all past presidents and charter members will be honored at this affair, also free to the public.

The closing event of the anniversary will be a historical program to be staged at the First AME Church, Eighth and Towne, which was the birthplace of the club 50 years ago. The program is an original adaptation by Mrs. Jayne W. Holmes, president, depicting the growth of the club.

The songs and costumes sung and worn by members of the club will be characteristic of those of the turn of the century.

An array of local talent will appear on this program. The public is invited and admission will be by patrons and donors.

Dr. Vada J. Somerville is general celebration chairman, and she urges all friends of the Sojourner Truth Industrial Club to attend the events.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

One of the first and most important things a defensive player should learn is when not to double. There are of course some times when it is obvious that if you double, the opponents will thank you kindly and then change the contract to one which have a better chance in. One illustration of this is sufficient.

In a tournament the South player after having bid a major suit, made a psychic bid of two diamonds. His partner, who had either bid no-trump or the other major, raised the diamonds. The contract was played at three diamonds. North held three diamonds and South two. Obviously if either East or West doubles, they will bid a contract they can make. We passed and set them three for a solid top.

More Difficult

A much more difficult case is one which I wish to discuss today. This is the case where the declarer will go set one or two tricks by normal play, but will be inspired by the double to make some unusual play and get home with his contract.

West expected to get one club trick, one diamond trick, and one heart trick. From the bidding this might seem reasonable, as South is marked with the ace of diamonds, and West's club holding makes it seem unlikely South is void in that suit. What he should have considered is that South was willing to try for a slam after the discouraging one no-trump reply from North.

West opened the ace of clubs, and followed with the five. South played the ten from dummy, and ruffed East's queen. From the double, South knows West has the king of diamonds and at least three hearts to the queen. He played his ace and queen of spades, then led a low heart to dummy.

When West played low, dummy's jack was good. Dummy returned a heart, South took his ace and king, sluffing a diamond from dummy. He then put West in with another heart, and whatever West led, South could take the trick in dummy, and sluff his three diamonds on the king of spades and the king and jack of clubs.

There is one way to defeat this contract, but it involves seeing all four hands. Note that four no-trump is the most that could be made playing in no-trump. We much prefer the major suit contract.

The Omega Psi Phi Fraternity House is now open for bridge instruction Monday night at 2069 S. Oxford. The starting time, 7:30 p.m.

Class at the YWCA every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. sharp, Woodlawn Branch.

LOIS RUSS, Sophomore of Dorsey High

Julia Polk and Gloria Woodson were co-hostesses to Joeann Thomas of Duarte last weekend. Julia had in a few friends to meet Joeann last Sunday afternoon. Among the guests were: Andre and Dewey Spann, Frank White, Howard Bennett, Ronald Griffin, Almer Dreper, Jacob Forde, Lloyd Glenn, Jr., Jackie Forde and Mattie Washington.

Invites in the mail for a way-out Halloween party given by Herbert Duckett, Jr., at his new Buckingham residence.

The Dons of Dorsey High getting off to a good football start won the second game of their schedule by defeating Washington High by a score of 6-0. The Dons will play Gardena High Friday night at El Camino. Let's support our team with our presence.

The Baldwin theatre not only is the tops in showing good pictues but also draws all of the teen-agers where new and old acquaintances gather. Wonder who the "Dorsey Donna" is that a certain junior initialed K.L. has admiring glances toward?

Gee, it's fun to see so many familiar faces around Dorsey these days and after one month of school, I'm still seeing friends for the first time, recently saying hi to such as Donny Griffith, Bernice Jenkins, Beth K., Alfred G., Jackie Kimbrough and gangs of others.

I hope this first attempt as a columnist is not too discouraging to my readers and I want all Dorseyites to call or turn in to me any and all of their activities which will interest others. The number to call to be on the ball is RE. 4-1064.

This annual affair given by the group is fast becoming one of the most outstanding events of the season. Funds raised by the club wil lgo to the club's under priviledged boys fund. Tickets for the affair may be purchased from any member of the Tweedsmen.

Playground Plans Gay Halloween

Plans are complete for the gala Hallowe'en Carnival which will be held at Central Playground, 1357 E. 22nd St., Oct. 30, beginning at 6:30 p.m., according to William "Bill" Lacefield, recreation director at the Municipal play center.

The Central Hallowe'en event is one of many 1954 "conclaves" of ghosts, hobgoblins, spooks, and other wierd spirits, which will be held under the sponsorship of community committees and the Los Angeles City Recreation and Parks Department on local playgrounds.

Tots, teen-agers, adults and entire families are invited to participate in the Central playground Hallowe'en carnival, Director Lacefiled said that the fun will get under way when the playground's huge bonfire is lighted at dusk.

According to Mrs. Martha Lightner, Chester Jones, James Thompson and Lacefield, directors at Central, the Recreation and Parks Department sponsored Hallowe'en carnivals have changed the eagerly awaited occasion from a night of vandalism and delinquency to one of wholesome fun for everyone.

The wisdom of some people consists largely of knowing what other people ought to do.

Y-DAY IN HOLLYWOOD—Art Linkletter will be master of ceremonies which more than 12,000 young people from 60 Y.M.C.A.'s will attend on Oct. 16 and more than 50 youngsters from the 28th Street Y will be on hand for the big star-studded shots.

Three Hundred Teen-agers Invited To Y's Conference

Three hundred teen-age high schools will take part in Los Angeles YWCA's first annual Teen-Age Conference on Citizenship and Public Affairs, opening at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, October 16, at Founder's Hall on the University of Southern California campus, it was announced today by Mrs. Naomi Brickman, Teenage Program Director and Miss Idell C. Vertner, Executive Director of the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch.

Dealing with current problems of concern to youth, the all-day event was planned entirely by Y-Teens of the Red Feather Young Women's Christian Association. Subjects will range from juvenile delinquency and its causes to the ways in which teen-agers can further America's hopes for world peace.

Attendance will be limited to elected delegates of Y-Teen clubs in high schools throughout Greater Los Angeles, according to Conference Chairman, Pat Gibford, 17, year old San Fernando High School senior.

However, Miss Gibford said the conference is designed to create a chain reaction among thousands of other teen-agers since delegates will be responsible for making the findings known to fellow students in their high schools.

The event was timed to coincide with annual Y-Teen Roll Call Week, October 10-16, when YWCA's throughout the United States highlight activities of teen-age members.

In addition to Miss Gibford, conference officers include: Sherry McCaul, vice-chairman, and Mam Emmons, recorder both of San Fernando High, Valerie Thias, secretary, and Laurie Geber, publicity chairman, Hollywood High, and Royena Ayers, registrar, Los Angeles High. Among members of the planning committee are the following Woodlawn Branch representatives: Pearl Lewis, Barbara Robinson, discussion leader Margaret Dinsmore, Fay Stewart, Tonja Bell, Wilhelmina Staring, Jacqueline Forney, hostess chairman, Arlene Robinson.

A group of twenty-two adults representing varied civic and professional interests will be present as resource people along with 22 teen-agers filling similar roles, Miss Gigford said.

Featured speakers will include Dr. Hugh H. Tiner, president of Pepperdine College, Rabbi Isaiah Zeldin, West Coast regional director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, and John W. Brewer, probation director of the Southwest Area Office, Los Angeles County Probation Department. Dr. Tiner will lead a panel discussion in which three Pepperdine students from overseas will participate. They are James Yoshida of Japan, Daniel Chang, China, and Iraj Sakhrieh, Iran.

The program will be divided into two main parts. Morning sessions will deal with "You and Your Community," with the afternoon given to "You and Your World."

The teen-agers will explore such projects during the first period as: What causes juvenile delinquency? What about the problems of narcotics, and reckless driving? Are you prejudiced about religion, race, social and economic differences? They then will turn attention to questions such as: Do world affairs concern teen-agers? How can teen-agers help keep the peace?

Demonstrations will be made of rumor clinics, sociodramas and other social science techniques. As in most teen-age gatherings, there will also be singing, with two Huntington Park High School girls, Pat O'Neal and Caroline Filling, serving as leaders.

Mrs. Roy Wilkins Honored at Tea

The home of Mrs. Loren Miller was the setting for a lavish tea on Tuesday, October 12, honoring Mrs. Roy Wilkins of New York City who was recently appointed secretary of the New York City Department of Social Welfare.

Pouring at the exquisitely appointed table which featured a floral arrangement of white carnations, pink roses and orchids were: Mrs. Jefferson D. Fowler, Mrs. William Rosenblatt, Mrs. Ida Miller and Mrs. George Wasson.

Assisting Mrs. Miller as hostesses in the house and garden were: Mesdames Edward J. Atkinson, Ezra Bell, Cornelia Bradford, Elliot Carpenter, Jefferson D. Fowler, James Garrott, Norman Hopkins, Wayne Howard, Edmund Hurd, Ivan Johnson, Aileen Kaiser, Rochale Mounts, Mae Myers, Lewis Russ, Nathan Sherwood and Warner Knight.

More than one hundred fifty guests paid their respects to Mrs. Wilkins who has been visiting in th city for the past week with her husband, Roy Wilkins, administrator of the NAACP.

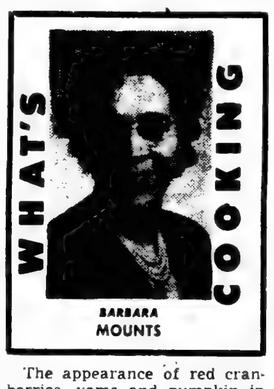
Many of the guests were prominent social workers and board members from both public and private social work agencies, who came to greet the distinguished visitor.

Templite Club Holds Meeting

The Templite Social and Charity club held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Hattie Evans, 1354 E. 108 Street on Sunday with the club's president presiding.

Election was completed and officers were installed by Mrs. Mabel Harrison.

Scoop



Henry Lewis, wealthy car dealer, picked the right afternoon to place a huge cut diamond engagement ring on the right girl at one of the city's most fashionable afternoon teas, when Mrs. Loren Miller dazzeld the social set with a lavish tea honoring Mrs. Roy Wilkins on her visit here.

The already excited gathering over the beautifully arranged party, were completely upset when attractive Mrs. Constance Gordon, wealthy widow of the late Cliff. Gordon, entered the exquisite party wearing the engagement ring given her earlier in the afternoon. Watch the Eagle for a scoop on the plans for an early wedding.

Plans Benefit

The Alpha Chapter of Beta Pi Sigma Sorority presents its Annual Scholarship Benefit, a "Breakfast and Brunch," Sunday, October 31, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., S. St. Andrews Pl. Donation $1.00.

Tickets may be secured at RE 2-1440 and RE 4-1620, or from any soror. There wil be a prize award to some lucky winner. The committee of Chrm. Maggie Rawls, Susie Flynn, Essie Robertson, Mamie Lee, Alma Hogue, Roberta Austin, Erlene Howard, Louise Glover, and Georgia Caldwell are busily engaged in plans for making this affair a complete success and solicit your patronage.

The appearance of red cranberries, yams and pumpkin in the markets tells us that the holiday season is fast approaching. To add zest to featuring any favorite meat, serve cranberry relish. It is easily prepared and keeps for a week in the refrigerator. To 1 quart of berries use 2 oranges, skin and all, and grind them with food grinder. Add 2 cups sugar and spoon into a covered jar and store to ripen in the refrigerator for about 24 hours.

Raw cranberries also makes delicious salad and when ground and combined with chopped apples or nuts. To a pint of berries use 1 orange and three tart apples. 1½ cups sugar and one envelope gelatin and one package lemon jello dissolved in 1 cup boiling water. 3 and one half tablespoons lemon juice will give tartness and preserve the red color of the berries.

Pie Without Crust

If you are one of those who feel that pie crust is not for you and you love pumpkin pie, prepare mixture, pour filling in a buttered casserole, set casserole in a pan of hot water and bake until set.

Serve with whipped cream adding a dash of nutmeg or brandy. Two tablespoons of brandy or rum added to the pumpkin filling brings out the true pumpkin flavor. To one cup pumpkin add three-fourths cup sugar, 2 cups rich milk or cream, 2 or 3 eggs well beaten, one-fourth teaspoon ginger, nutmeg, and allspice, one half teaspoon cinnamon, a dash of salf and a tablespoon of brandy or rum. Bake in pie shell or custard cups at 350 for about 35 minutes or until set.

Turkeys Inexpensive

Turkeys now are inexpensive, the new broad-breasted variety is a joy to cook. Turkey can be roasted and allowed to cool and stored in the refrigerator to slice for sandwiches or re-heat for the main meal. When you make dressing add a handful of pecan or walnut meats and notice the fine flavor imparted to the dressing.

Your favorite market now has parts of turkey for sale and a breast or leg may be steam-cooked to make casserole dishes or roasted for a small family. Half turkeys can be successfully roasted with dressing if foil is used to make it simple to remove and carve.

COUNCIL MEETING

Structure of P.T.A. was given in the form of a panel at the meeting of Fremont Council held at South Park School, Oct. 5th Mes. L. H. Montgomery, first vice pres., of 10th Dist., Chas. Weddle treasurer of the District and Stanley T. Olafson Education Director of the District were the members of this panel.

A very clear understanding of the structure was given by these ladies, bringing it from the National right down to the local association.

In conclusion, Mrs. Montgomery stated the four corner stones of the P.T.A. are the Home, School, Church and the Community and urged parents to give more thought to the corner stone of "Church" that more children should be taught Spiritual values in their own Faith.

Mrs. Lester Allen reminded the presidents of the locale of the "Milk Bowl" football game to be held Oct. 15, to help promote the sale of the tickets to this game as the P.T.A. receives 75 per cent of the proceeds for their milk fund, while the other 25 per cent goes to the Board of Education for their athletic fund.

Mrs. Orrie Boone announced the Community Chest Drive will start Nov. 4.

Mrs. Geo. Thompson, president, announced the next Council meeting will be held Nov. 4th, 10 a.m. at Graham School, 8513 Fir Ave.

Fremont High School Parents-Teachers Association invites everyone to its first meeting on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Fremont School Cafeteria—7613 So. San Pedro Avenue.

The main speaker will be Supervisor Kenneth Hahn of the Second District. Hahn is a graduate of Fremont and has lived and worked in the community practically his whole life. We feel sure he will discuss points you are deeply concerned and interested in.

The Fremont High School P.T.A. has asked Mr. Hahn to speak on the topic:

"Begin today to Accept Civic Responsibility."

This first Parents-Teachers Association meeting at Fremont High School is the beginning of our year's project to seek out how we can all pull together to guarantee that our boys and girls are active and healthy in our community life.

The P.T.A. invites all members of clubs, churches, unions, veterans groups, service organizations, and any others to be our guests and take a part in our first open meeting and discussion.

Social and Refreshments will follow.

Gompers Jr. High—members of the PTA board held theirt first meeting in the school cafeteria recently, business discussed included magazine subscriptions, the budget for the coming year and plans for a big rag drive.

New chairmen ratified included: Mrs. E. Lancaster, Honorary Life Membership; Mrs. E. J. Shields, Co-ordinating Council; Mrs. W. H. Randolph, Achievement Evaluation; Mrs. N. Tuler, Red Cross; Mrs. Fred Wall, Legilsation; and Mrs. F. Lewis, Record Book.

Those attending were Mr. W. W. Zabriskie, Mesdames M. O. Bost, N. W. Walden, Price Eaves, E. J. Shields, G. W. Jones, R. Richardson Thelma Brown, H. D. Rembert, Roy Stophler, D. V. Price and W. H. Randolph.

HOBART BLVD

Jack McClellan will be the guest speaker at the first fall Meeting of the Hobart Blvd. PTA to be held on Tuesday Oct. 12, 1954 at 1:30 p.m. at Hobart Blvd. School.

As the Middle Grade Supervisor of the Central Elementary District, Mr. McClellan comes well informed and will discuss reading in the third and fourth grades. He should have some interesting and enlightening information for parents of all grade school children.

Committee chairmen will also be making reports. Mrs. P. W. Greene and Mrs. Levi Kingston co-chairmen will bring news of the forthcoming Community Chest Drive, and Mrs. Hulon Phillips will have legislation news. Membership and magazine committees will also be featured.

Mrs. Steven Rowland, Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. Lenwood Moore are again serving as officers of the Hobart PTA. They are Parliamentarian, Auditor and Second Vice-President respectively.

Mrs. David Williams was chosen to be on the Wilshire Council as music chairman.

Serving on various committees as chairmen are Mrs. Beldwin Mounday who heads the health committee; Mrs. Hulon Phillips, legislation; Mrs. P. W. Green and Mrs. Levi Kingston, Community Chest and March of Mothers. To see that we have fine programs is Mrs. Lenwood Moore's responsibility and heading room mothers is Mrs. Marco Peterson.

San Diego Couple Honored At Affair

Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Powell and Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Ernest Roberson, both retired from the U.S. Navy and residents of San Diego, were in town for the weekend as houses guests of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bryant, 1965½ S. Raymond. The Robesons were celebrating their 27th wedding anniversary and both Mr. and Mrs. Powell had October birthdays on the 3rd and 5th and Mrs. Newton Bryant's natal day was October 8th. Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Scott, Sr., entertained the Robesons, Powells and Bryants with a lavish duck dinner with all the trimmings on Saturday evening in their South Serrano home. On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bryant invited over one hundred people to help them celebrate the birthdays and anniversary with a champagne dancing party at 1918 S. Harvard. The "Howdy" orchestra of Satchell McVey kept the guests in a gay dancing mood with his wonderful music. Immediately after the party, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rufus Portwig entertained the visitors with breakfast at Anchor. Mr. and Mrs. Brock Grant of Pasadena complimented the group with dinner at the Cosmopolitan on Sunday evening. Also included were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Williams of Philadelphia. The couples left for home on Monday after a much feted weekend.

TICKETS GOING FAST—Margo Wilkins, above, heading the committee for the forthcoming Negro Heritage of Music which will be held at Park Manor on Oct. 30 for the benefit of the YWCA, is getting great response for tickets.

New Feature Big Success With Patrons

Newest innovation at the glamourous and freshly beautiful jazz mecca of the West, the Club Oasis, Western at 38th, is dancing—UHH—to the UHH! music of El Rey del Mambo, Perez Prado and his tremendous 15- piece concert and dance band, held over for their third week, appearing seven nights a week.

Completely New

Prado, who electrified the hitherto staid regulars of New York's ultra-fashionable Waldorf Astoria Hotel, during his stay there last month, has a new "book" which offers his own inimitable styling of such new popular tunes as "High and Migthy" and "Skokian," as well as his all-time hits like "Mambo Jambo" and "Seresa Rosa."

Delightful Dancing

The large new dance floor at the Club Oasis is extensive and provides ample room for dancers, along with those who prefer to sit and enjoy the music.

Record collectors and listeners to disc jockeys are looking forward to the first West Coast nightclub appearance of the "Sh-Boom" stars, "The Chords," opening at the Club Oasis next Friday 22, the day following the close of the Perez Prado engagement.

Palladium Mardi Gras Monday Nite

The Lester Horton Dancers' fifth annual costume gala, the Bal Caribe, will be held this year at the Hollywood Palladium Monday evening, October 25.

Elaborate Affair

Colorful beaux arts ball with an hour-long floor show spotlighting the Horton Dancers in a series of exciting Afro-Caribbean dances, has grown each year. Last year's Bal Caribe packed the Earl Carroll theater-restaurant and springboarded the Horton troupe into a three-week Ciro's engagement.

Mardi Gras will be carried out with a grand costume parade, with prizes for the most beautiful, the most humorous and most unusual get-ups on the part of celebrators.

Bobby Ramos' augmented orchestra will supply the music as well as play for the show.

Colorful Company

The Horton troupe of 11 will perform 11 dances ranging from solos to full ensemble works. The company, headed by James Truitte, Carmen de Lavallade and Lelia Goldoni, will also feature choreographer Alvin Ailey, Don Martin, Roland Goldwater and Yvonne de Lavallade. Song stylist Nana Kawasumi will take over the vocalist chores as well as dance.

Worthy Undertaking

The event is open to the public and all proceeds go to the Lester Horton Dance Theater Schol scholarship fund.

There is nothing new under the sun. Even our mistakes have been made before.

Joe Adams Returning To Schools

KOWL's "Mayor of Melody," Joe Adams, is currently making appearances along with musical favorites of the teenagers at various local high schools before he flies to New York the end of this month to attend the world premiere of Otto Preminger's Cinemascope film, "Carmen Jones," in which he plays a leading role.

JOE ADAMS

Old Home Week

Joe began his round of school appearances last week by bringing a musical revue to Alexander Hamilton high school to celebrate the completion of the school's new stadium. Hamilton's principal, Walker J. Brown, was the principal of Jordan high school when KOWL's popular "Mayor of Melody" attended there, and this was their first meeting since Joe's graduation. Brown held the career of Joe Adams as an example to young people that success may be attained with hard work and a determination to follow ambition.

Actor to Depart

Other schools throughout Los Angeles will be visited by Adams before he takes off for New York the end of next week.

Miller HIGH Lights

The Inside on Outsiders By HAL MILLER

For the information of those who do not already know, I am the Hal Miller formally connected with the "Undercover Hounds" that, unfortunately, no longer appears in print. So feeling the necessity for a column to fill that place and also the need of adequate social comment, I will take it upon myself to instate "MILLER'S HIGHLIGHTS" for those purposes. It has been quite a spell since I last wrote any newscomment. Due to circumstances beyond my control, I had to discontinue my affiliation during the early part of this year. But now feeling fully relieved of the many oppressing circumstances and situations, I think I will be able to handle this distinguished function again. It is not my apparent intention to damage or discontent anyone but only to have some fun in my own subtle way. So if you should happen to be the target, or a spot in the spotlight, my suggestion would be to take it mildly and hope that retribution "will out." And now, on with the tidings . . .

While the social world was in the weekend whirl I managed to get my feet (conveying the thought that these were not just small things) into some of the choicy situations. Wheeeee . . . Down boy. . . . Among those things I will dare to depose to the public are: There was a wild one over at (censored)'s house, where "Throw all caution into the winds" was a constant refrain. Among the activities engrossing the attention and participation of most all (one passed out) were (censored). "D—Editor, give me a break." Editor: "No, this isn't KEYHOLE." Well, I'll just remark that it was nice (pronounced like the young Jitterbugs do. "Niiice."

In a lighter vein, and under the sole lumination of a cheerfully glowing fire, we sat and listened to an evnings worth of Progressive Jazz and wet our whistles with (Ed. "No") . . . milk. An" among those enjoying that (Ed. "No") . . . milk were Lozo Wallace, escorting his precarious date of the eve, Nira Hardon. And then there was Carl Clay and a young lovely, errr forgot that name. And then I must mention our appreciable host Don Lenoir who was, besides hosting, entertaining delightful Barbara Bryant, Cadillac driving Louis Grant swooped in with his "only" Rhae Tate. Then unpredictable and chance taking Kerry Jackson appeared with . . . (Too big a chance, can't MENTION HER NAME). And last but not hardly least (Only last to be courteous. Cause if I had my way I'd be first like I was when the repast was served) ME and the charm of the evening Sandra Shields. Now do you see how good folks can have good wholesome fun. And thus the report of a quaint little affair comes to a close, along with a quaint (Ha, ha) little column.

Make the Tweedsmens this weekend, it's a must.

Shangri-La Couple Club Most Outstanding Group

One of Los Angeles' most unassuming and friendly organizations; the Shangri-La Club, held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Katherine Ingram, 2218 S. Mansfield Avenue, last Sunday evening.

MABLE NORMAN PRINCE

Organized as a social club three years ago by five friends, Mable Norman Prince, Marjorie Hill Bruce, Katherine Griffin Ingram Clara Powell and Mignon Calloway Braxton, Shangri-La has expanded its membership to twelve couples.

Current officers are: Marjorie Bruce, president; Mildred McKinney, vice-president; Tina Draper, financial secretary; Katherine Ingram, corresponding secretary; Clara Powell, treasurer; Florence Hunt, business manager; Mable Prince, Chairman of Sunshine Committee and Geneva Davis, reporter.

Following business, Eagle staffers Harry 'Fotog' Adams, Edward "Abie" Robinson and F. P. Waller, Jr. addressed the club briefly, offering congratulations for the splendid success of an outstanding group of business and professional persons.

Hungers were appeased and thirsts were quenched during a pleasant social hour. Messrs. and Mesdames attending were: Frank and Mignon Braxton; Bessell and Marjorie Bruce; William and Geneva Davis; Elmer and Tina Draper; Urban and Cassell Grass; Bert and Grace Guess, and Joseph and Clara Powell.

Others were: Katherine Ingram, Walter Herron, Florence Hunt, and Henry Hutchings.

Absent were: Jessie and Mildred McKinney and Sadie Selby.

Hollywood Scene for Big Y-Day

For the seventh year radio-television star Art Linkletter will be master of ceremonies of the Y-Day in Hollywood event which more than 50 youngsters from the Twenty-eighth Street Y.M.C.A. will attend Oct. 16, General Secretary Kenneth Morris announced this week.

Linkletter, a nactive Y.M.C.A. member since he was a boy, has been star of one of the event's chief organizers, Morris said. The big star-studded show will be produced by the Hollywood Ad Club.

He added that more than 12,000 young people from about 60 Y.M.C.A.s in California, Arizona and Nevada will attend Y-Day, annually the biggest single Y.M.C.A. event in the world.

"This year the program will include a big variety show in Hollywood Bowl in the morning, with many name stars, and the UCLA-Stanford football game in the Coliseum in the afternoon, Morris said.

He also announced that the Hollywood Y.M.C.A. will againo this year hold an amateur talent competition and essay contest. Boys and girls with talenot are asked to contact the Twenty-eighth Street Y.M.C.A. for information on how they can enter and appear in world famous Hollywood Bowl.

The essay contest subject is "What My YMCA Means to Me" (200 words). Valuable prizes will be offered for both events.

Morris said that more information on the event will be announced just as soon as it is received, and asked that further questions be directed to the YMCA staff, telephone Adams 2-7193.

Eartha Kitt No Great Hit In 'Patterson'

"Mrs. Patterson" critics seem to be interested in the fact that Miss Kitt can act. The play itself seems loose and unbelievable in spots, with Miss

EARTHA KITT

Kitt singing songs a girl the age of the girl she plays on stage would not be singing. A good effort by the producer to make money through Miss Kitt's great popularity. But it means eventual box - office death for her, too.

"Earthy" Kitt is reportedly buying a smart four-story, 2-duplex apartment house of the early 80's on NYC's Park Avenue. It was formerly owned by Walter Florell, the famed milliner. "Most of all, I like its beautiful garden," stated the Garbo-type artist, who seemingly enjoys being left alone by everyone except her "looted heart-beat," Arthur Loew, Jr.

Nat 'King' Cole In Vocal Role For Wanger

Walter Wanger stated that he has plans to do a film starring Nat "King" Cole.

Wanger, the producer of "Hajji Baba" which features the Cole voice throughout in the flicker's theme song, was not yet ready to indicate the exact nature of his plans for Cole, however.

Wanger is in New York for the premiere of "Hajji Baba," which is being released by 20th Century Fox in New York last night. Nat Cole's recording of the flicker's theme is already hitting the jukebox popularity charts.

One way to avoid being overworked is to attend strictly to your own business.

Floridian Local Guest

The M. D. Staples of DeLand, Florida were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore, 12119 S. McKinley Avenue.

They had a wonderful time sight seeing at many of the beaches, Clifton's and Forest Lawn, and other places of national renown.

VIDEO-RIFFIC

TALENTED—James Edward, who plays the lead in "Amelika Joe," is Hollywood's leading Negro actor. He has appeared in "Steel Helmet," "The Joe Louis Story" and "The Caine Mutiny." For what is believed to be the first time in television history, virtually an all-Negro cast will be featured in a forthcoming dramatic production. "Fireside Theater," one of television's foremost dramatic series, is presenting the group in a telefilm to be shown over NBC-TV Tuesday evening (KNBH-Los Angeles, October 19.)

Delaware Arrests Hate Agitator

ware recognizes the rights of lawful assembly and freedom of speech, but will not tolerate the inciting of organized mob rule and mass hysteria calculated to disrupt the education of our children.

"After a thorough review of tape recordings of speeches by various self-styled leaders, interviews of numerous witnesses who attended those meetings and following consultation with members of the State police and the Attorney General, it was decided that arrest and prosecution of Bowles is warranted."

Bowles had a surprise awaiting him when he arrived at Glen Burnie, Md., Saturday to organize a Maryland chapter of his NAAWP. He was served with a Federal Treasury subpoena in connection with alleged withholding of employes' taxes in a roofing company he operated.

It was his second visit to Glen Burnie. The crowd which gathered to hear him had dwindled in size from the group that greeted him on his first trip a few days previously, when about 500 people turned out.

In Philadelphia, meanwhile, Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth warned that Bowles faces arrest there if he "incites to riot at any meeting in Philadelphia."

The NAACP, in a telegram to Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, called upon the Federal government "to make it clear to all concerned that the full force of the Federal government stands behind the local school boards involved in effecting a transition from segregated to de-segregated schools."

Back-to-school movements developed in both Washington and Baltimore after school authorities warned that punitive measures would be taken for further unexplained absences. Both cities reported normal attendance last Thursday, although there were some holdouts at Anacostia and Eastern High schools in Washington, the two main trouble spots in the nation's capital.

The NAACP also took action with a view to correcting the situation at Milford High school on behalf of the 10 Negro children ousted after the hate-inspired boycott. Atty. Louis Redding filed suit at Georgetown seeking an injunction against the Milford School Board to prevent the school from continuing to exclude Negro students.

will receive a Marilyn Monroe sexy type buildup from the studio press agents when the Carmen Jones film is released to the general public. . . . SINGER TOMMY EDWARDS: Your "You Walked By" tune will sell nearly as many copies as Nat Cole's "Haaji Baba" platter! . . . JOHN WATSON (blues-rhythm star): You will become a greater box-office attraction with your guitar and song stylings than T-Bone Walker is now. It will happen within the next ten months. . . . LAWRENCE STONE: You wil play a turn engagement at the Club Pigalle in three weeks time. From there you will go to one of the plushier spots on the Sunset strip if not Las Vegas! . . . NICK STEWART: Your "Detective Story" play will be one of the biggest hits your little theater has ever known! . . . SUZETTE HARBIN: Your appearance on a recent Kraft theater drama on television will bring about many bigger and better roles for you . . . CALIFORNIA EAGLE: You will move into new and very elaborate quarters in the very near future! . . . LOUISE "BO" FRANKLIN: Win, lose or draw in the 102 sweepstakes you will receive a sweetheart of a job from the brewery firm! . . . HAL MILLER: Your "Miller's High Life" kolyum will not only increase Eagle circulation but it will increase yours! . . . ROY LOGGINS JUNIOR (the caterer). You will treat this scribbler to a two-inch steak in the very near future and your Tweedsmen club dance will be a success as it usually is! . . . RAYFIELD LUNDY AND LUCIUS LOMAX: You will both win the election. Not by a landslide but by a small margin! . . . There will be a press junket to Las Vegas for the opening of the interracial Continental Hotel. WANANI (the Afro-Cuban singer): You will get the come on for an engagement at Larry Potter's Supper Club. You will be booked for the next revue! . . . The singing group known as the CROMATICS: A sensational publicity stunt will skyrocket you into the bigtime! . . . WINELL GREEN: You will decide not to return to S. F. because of a heart interest here!

Charity Twelve Slates Program

The Charity Twelve club held its regular meeting at 711 East 56th street with Mrs. Mae Allen acting as hostess.

The usual Sunday meeting was changed to permit the members to attend the Thirteen Aides cabaret affair held recently at the Cosmopolitan Hotel which the members attending enjoyed immensely.

Club members heard additional plans for the group's program and details of their forthcoming events.

A most enjoyable evening was spent recently when the members attended the California Eagle night at the Ebony Showcase. The affair was an entertaining event. Members are planning to attend the Alpha Bowling club barn dance on Oct. 23.

Next regular club meeting is slated for Mrs. Harriet Cocran.

MILK BOWL

The Milkbowl game between Jefferson and North Hollywood promises to be a real thriller tomorrow afternoon out on Huskies' gridiron.

North Hollywood is recognized has having one of the top teams in the city, while the Democrates are struggling with a novice squad.

The L.A. Prep Front may be in for a real s rprise because the Jefferson squad doesn't play re football until the last quarter. In the Jordan game, although the score at the end of the 3rd quarter was 0 - 0, Jefferson came out on top with a 12 - 0 tally. Venice, another top team, bested them last week, but it was a shaky 26 - 25 finish

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work, it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to (8) hours.

WORKING RULES

1. Where a single shift is worked, eight (8) consecutive hours between 7 A.M. and 5 P.M. shall constitute a day's work at straight time for all workers.
2. Forty (40) hours between Monday 7 A.M. and Friday 5 P.M. shall constitute a week's work at straight time.
3. All work performed in excess of eight (8) hours per day or forty (40) hours per week or on Holidays and Sundays shall be paid for at the rate for overtime of the craft involved.
4. Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him to pay not less than said general prevailing rates of per diem wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at said BUILDING BRANCH of the Board of Education; must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond (issued by a surety company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles; shall be sealed and filed with the Counter Clerk of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 South San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, by not later than 2:00 P.M. on the date or dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

The above-mentioned check or bidder's bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work(or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Education.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to 75% of the contract price, and faithful performance bonds in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company or surety companies satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive any informality in any bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

By order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles.

Manual Upsets San Fernando

Hottest prep city football team in the Southern League is Manual Arts after a stunning upset 25-13 victory over defending city champions San Fernando.

Stars for Manual Arts were big fullback Earnel Durden and William Penn, sterling flankman. Manual Arts played like they owned the city title last week. Coach Jim Blewett reached back and recalled other great Manual Arts teams after bouncing back from a three touchdowns defeat last week.

Jefferson's Democrats came up with the evening's other surprise as they refused to be trampled by a highly favored and strong Venice outfit as they gallantry fought back in the late periods of the game to come within one point of a tie game 26-25. Jeff's David Butler who is fast rounding into one of the city's best backs was the big guns.

DORSEYITES, are shouting the praises of one Hickey Miles who ambled 79 yards as the only touchdown of the game as the Dons defeated Washington 6 to 0.

Hawthorne Scores Five Touchdowns

Addison Hawthorne, who made some sort of history warming the bench for two season with the University of Southern California led the Eagle Rock Athletic Club to a 55-14 victory, in a semi-pro game against Marianna Athletic Club last week.

Hawthorne led the touchdown parade, scoring five times on runs of 18, 5, 13, 1 and 5 yards.

VAUGHN vs. PEREA

Willie Vaughn, who boxes Sal Perea of San Francisco, Friday night, Oct. 15 in San Diego, has earned a total of $7947.84 in seven bouts this year at the Hollywood Legion.

Miss Joella Hardeman, Los Angeles Musician, was recently appointed instructor of String Instruments at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La.

Friends Indicted In Bombing of Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Hearings are slated here Friday, Oct. 15, on a case indicting six white people for the bombing of a Negro home last June 27.

The curious aspect of the case and the one that has aroused the entire city is that the indicted people are all friends of the victim. The commonwealth's attorney, A. Scott Hamilton, apparently made little effort to question hostile neighbors in connection with the crime, and instead worked on the theory that it was all a "Red" plot designed to stir up race hate.

Friends Bought House

In Louisville, as in most cities, Negroes have to virtually fight their way into "white" neighborhoods in order to obtain adequate housing. Last May 10, Carl Braden, a white copyreader on the Louisville Courier-Journal, an ardent Socialist, and his wife, bought a new stone-veneered house for $11,300 on suburban Rone Court in an all-white neighborhood. Four days later, their friend, a Negro, Andrew E. Wade 4th and his family, moved in. Wade, 31, an electrical contractor, is a graduate of Hampton Institute.

The following night a cross was burned in the adjoining vacant lot. Rocks were thrown through the front picture window and six shots were fired into the house. No one was injured.

Animosity No Secret

White neighbors made no secret of their anger over the fact that their neighborhood had been "invaded" by a Negro. Police threw an around-the-clock vigil in the vicinity, but withdrew the guards when tempers quieted down.

About a month later on June 27, a bomb was thrown into the house, shattering one of its walls.

On the night of the explosion a white truck driver, Vernon Wilbur Bown, had visited the Wades and had taken them a radio.

Raided Homes

Police subsequently raided the homes of Bown, the Bradens, a social worker and a union shop steward. In all but one of the homes, officials seized literature they characterized as communistic.

On October 1 a grand jury, after hearing the commonwealth attorney's presentation, indicted Bown for causing the explosion and indicted him, his roommate, two social workers and the Bradens on charges of advocating sedition.

All six have asked that the indictments be dismissed. Friday's hearings will deal with the dismissal motion.

Paper Defends Worker

The Louisville Courier-Journal, Braden's employer, has come to his defense for refusing to answer questions as to his political beliefs and has sharply criticized Hamilton.

In a recent editorial, the paper stated that it has never discharged an employe because of his political views and, that although it regards the Bradens as "politically misguided" they have the "right to be misguided and professional martyrs on their own time."

The editorial continues:

"In our opinion the refusal of Mr. and Mrs. Braden to answer these questions is quite correct. Mr. Hamilton has produced not the slightest evidence to uphold his theory of a Communist plot. He has paid very little attention to the alternative and much more likely theory that the bombing was the work of hoodlums who resented a Negro's purchase of a house in a white area.

"If he has any facts or indications to back up the Communist plot idea it is his duty to lay these before the grand jury. The questions he has asked the Bradens seem designed to force them either to call themselves Communists or by refusing to answer to give him the right to call them so . . .

Local McCarthyism

"We regret deeply that Judge Curtis lent himself to this display of local McCarthyism and we hope that before the witch hunt proceeds any further the judge will recall to his associates the real objectives of the inquiry.

"The matter under investigation is not what the Bradens believe or read. It is the wanton destruction of a man's house. Questions . . . which merely establish the self-evident fact that the Bradens hold unpopular views are in the highest degree irrelevant. They are moreover symptoms of the prevalent hysteria which this community has previously escaped."

BREAKING NEW GROUND—The $5,000,000 interracially-owned luxury Continental Hotel, designed by architect Paul R. Williams, is blazing a new trail in Las Vegas. The 250-room structure will be open to all people without race restrictions.

Luxury Hotel Blazes Trail In Las Vegas

Blazing a new trail, the new $5,000,000 interracially owned Continental Hotel, now being erected, will soon dominate the entire vista of fabulous Las Vegas, according to an announcement made Friday in Beverly Hills.

Built on a hill overlooking the city, the 250-room multi-million-dollar hotel will provide luxury features to all, without distinction of race, color or creed.

Designed by Architect Paul R. Williams, the hotel will feature an unusual theater dining room, an enchanting South Pacific room, a continental Parisian sidewalk cafe, a rathskeller serving barbecue and other Southern dishes, and a spacious swimming pool. The management plans to provide its patrons with perfection of cuisine, as well as offering pleasure-seekers a full choice of sports—swimming, golf practice, hiking, and fishing and boating on beautiful Lake Mead.

The Board of Directors of the hotel includes Norman O. Houston, president of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., as president; Paul R. Williams, vice-president; Arthur J. Williams, insurance executive, secretary-treasurer; and George C. Curtis, manager of the Mayflower Hotel in Los Angeles.

In Halloween Fest

The Willing Workers of Second AME Church, 213 E. 43rd street, are having a dinner and Fun Fest, Oct. 30, at 4 p.m.

The dinner will be served in an atmosphere of colorful decorations.

The occasion will fete the birthday of Rev. Jerry W. Ford, the pastor. All are invited.

Butcher Retires After 43 Years With Railroad

Sunnie Fillmore has set his sights on some good hunting in Utah this month. And the gunsight he'll be squinting through is brand new, a gift from his fellow employes at Southern Pacific's Los Angeles Commissary where Sunnie has just retired after 43 years of service as a butcher.

Fillmore is a genuine outdoor man. In his home at 1122 East 31st street, he has on display the mounted heads of six of the many deer he has shot. Also on display are a number of trophies of smaller animals. A large marlin mounted on the wall proves he is as proficient with a rod and reel as he is with his rifle.

The largest animal Fillmore has tracked is an elk that he brought down at Jackson Hole, Wyo. On October 21 he heads for the hills of Utah after more deer. His wife, daughter and two grandchildren are looking forward to venison on the table.

It is far better to have it and not need it than to need it and not have it.

Mother of 4 Dies from Butcher Knife Stabbing

Waitress Sues Mr. Fatburger For $40,000

Charles Simpson, known throughout the Eastside as "Mr. Fatburger," last week denied that he had slugged one of his attractive young waitresses, blackened and damaged her eye and caused other serious injuries.

Mrs. Gloria Day, 1509 W. 36th street, who has asked $40,000 for the alleged beating, was, up until September, a cook and waitress for Mr. Fatburger's Adams and Central avenue cafe, popular snack spot for the high school, junior high and college set.

In his reply to the series of charges, dated Oct. 11, Simpson denies that he hit Mrs. Day, denies all of the specific allegations, and states additionally as affirmative defense that he acted solely to protect his own person during the altercation.

Mrs. Day, through her attorney, Earl C. Broady, claims that on Sept. 12 Simpson "without cause or provocation" attacked her, beat her about the head and body with his fists, "causing permanent injury to her right eye, causing her face to be bruised and sore, causing great physical pain and shock and injury to her nervous system."

For these injuries, Mrs. Day asks $15,000 general damages and $25,000 punitive damages.

Simpson, 1818 W. 36th street, operates four cafes in partnership with Mrs. Lovey Parnell, 1838 W. 36th place. The succulent fatburgers that have recently become the rage of the younger set are served at 3021 S. Western avenue, Adams and Central, and Mariposa street and Pico blvd. In addition, Simpson and Mrs. Parnell operate a taco restaurant at 3023 S. Western avenue.

TRUSTS COURT—In an unusual move, Mrs. Doris Jean Johnson, charged with murdering her alleged rival, Miss Erline Kizzee, elected to place her life in the hands of Judge LeRoy Dawson instead of appealing to the sympathy of a jury. (See Story on Page 3).

Crime Found by Parents Who Came for Visit

A young mother of four small children, the youngest of whom is 18 months old, was found bleeding to death on the floor of her bedroom Sunday afternoon, a seven and one-half inch bladed butcher knife buried in her flesh up to the hilt.

The baby was playing happily in the living room.

Young Mrs. Farella Johnson Brackins, Jr., 26, of 1121½ E. 77th street, was discovered in a pool of blood by her parents, Mrs. Margie Johnson and Edgar Johnson, of 147½ W. 59th place.

They were driving by and just dropped in for a visit.

Wanted for the killing is Jack Henderson Raby, Mrs. Brackins' friend, who lived at 2101 S. Hooper avenue.

Raby was believed to have been at Mrs. Brackins' apartment Sunday morning. He was described as having reddish hair and a reddish blond complexion. He was on probation on a charge of having stolen an auto, and was unemployed at the time of the killing.

Mrs. Brackins was divorced from her husband, Carl Brackins, Jr., who was called to the scene of the killing by police. He collapsed from shock when he saw his former wife. He was not implicated in the murder.

Brackins has the couple's two boys living with him. The older girl was living with her grandparents, and Mrs. Brackins had the baby girl with her.

In Oxygen Tent; Aides Recalled; Had Heart Attack

NEW YORK—Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, is gravely ill in a New York hospital as a result of a heart attack and is now under an oxygen tent. He was returned to the hospital Oct. 12 after having been discharged a few days earlier. He is 61 years old.

LEADER STRICKEN — Walter White, whose name is synonymous with the NAACP, was stricken with a heart attack last week. On Monday he took a turn for the worse, and was placed in an oxygen tent.

While officials of the organization minimized his illness and said that "physicians say that Walter White is improving," the Eagle learned that Roy Wilkins, administrator, was hurriedly called back to New York Monday from the West Coast where he was on a speaking tour. Wilkins cancelled his Washington and Oregon speaking appearances.

Previous Attacks

White has had a number of severe heart attacks in the past four years and was unable to fulfill a speaking engagement at the Steel Workers convention last month.

Born and educated in Georgia, White went to the NAACP as an assistant secretary in 1918 and became secretary in 1931 after having served as acting secretary for a number of years. He won the Spingarn Medal for his activities in investigating and fighting lynching in 1937.

Popular Figure

A dynamic and popular figure, White headed the NAACP during the years it forged its way from comparative obscurity to the first pages of newspapers all over the world. He

Too Persistent Boy Friend Irks Bridegroom

When Elmore Anderson, Jr., 21, of 1643 E. 53rd street, got married last Oct. 9, he took seriously the parson's words: "Whom God hath joined, let no man put asunder."

So when his bride's former boy friend, Oscar Bills, 25, 923 W. 55th street, came calling five days after the marriage, Anderson protested.

Two days later—last Sunday—Bills was back again. This time the husband was more insistent. He ordered the young swain out of the house. But instead of leaving, Bills reportedly struck the young bridegroom in the face.

The two men began fighting it out. "Then we stopped," Anderson said, "and I told him to get out again."

But Bills still wasn't going. The fight began in earnest in the back yard. Bills drew a knife. Anderson armed himself with an old bicycle, and the battle went into high gear. Bills was knocked to the ground, but came up slashing.

Anderson told officers later: "I hit him four more times with the bike." Then he went into the house and called police.

Bills was treated at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital for injuries, then booked on assault with a deadly weapon.

Police confiscated Anderson's "bike" as exhibit "A," then booked him on the same charge.

Wife, Viola, no comment.

Woman Dies, Cut to Death; Lover Held

Witnesses told police Sunday that when they entered the room occupied by Miss Stella Raines, 28, 303 E. 52nd Street, they found her friend, Charles Lee Turner, standing over her jabbing her with a butcher knife.

The young woman, who worked as a domestic in Arcadia, died from five deep slashes in her chest, shoulder, thigh and back.

Turner, 41, who works at Todd's Shipyards in San Pedro, had fled the scene in a borrowed car. Police put out an all-points call, and he was taken into custody by sheriffs near Gorman on the road to Bakersfield, brought back to Los Angeles and charged with suspicion of murder.

Mrs. Clidy Powell, Miss Raines' sister, said she was downstairs when she heard her sister scream. She ran back into the room and found Turner standing over her with a butcher

Graves Will Tell Civil Rights Stand

Richard Graves and Edward Roybal will top a list of candidates for state and federal offices who will speak up and tell the voters where they stand at a forum at Golden State auditorium, Adams and Western avenues, Monday night, Oct. 25. Graves will talk on "Government Responsibility for Minority Integration."

The California Eagle will join the Los Angeles Tribune in sponsoring the event and Publisher Loren Miller will serve as chairman. Miller and Lucius Lomax, Tribune publisher and candidate for assembly in the 63rd district, joined in a statement this week urging all voters to attend the forum. They promised that those attending the affair will have a chance to "put the candidates on the spot" if they desire to do so.

RICHARD GRAVES

With Graves' appearance assured, sponsors of the forum extended an invitation to Governor Goodwin Knight to appear and promised him equal time with his Democratic opponent.

In addition to candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, other candidates for state, local and federal offices are expected to show up for an evening that will offer voters a chance to have their own say and query the speakers.

Graves this week issued a ringing denunciation of bigotry and hate-mongers and said: "I oppose discrimination and intolerance with all my heart. I believe the government has the duty to do all in its power to implement equality of opportunity, as well as to guarantee equal protection of the laws. I favor F.E.P. legislation with enforcement provisions. As your Governor, I'll work vigorously for enactment of such a state law."

Graves pointed out that his Republican opponent, Governor

Justice Dept. Joins War On Railroad Bias

WASHINGTON — While the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission criticized an opinion of a subordinate which held that railroads have the right to impose "reasonable segregation" on passengers in interstate commerce, the Justice Department filed a brief upholding the NAACP contention that all such segregation is illegal.

Meanwhile the Supreme Court refused to review a decision of the Illinois Commerce Commission holding that states cannot forbid racial segregation in interstate commerce. The court had said that exclusive power resides in the Federal commission.

Richard F. Mitchell, ICC chairman, said he could not understand how the examiner, Isadore Friedson, had "arrived at the conclusion" that segregation is permissible.

The complaint of bias was brought to the ICC by Miss Sarah Keyes. She charged that she had been subjected to discrimination when the driver of a bus of the Carolina Coach Company insisted that she change her seat. The incident occurred at Roanoke Rapids, N. C., in August, 1952, during a

Big Wind Punishes Biased Del. Town

Threaten New Boycott If Negro Pupils Return

The whiplash of hurricane winds last week swept over the small town of Milford, Del., temporarily pushing into the background the fury of race hate fanned into white heat when less than a dozen unoffending Negro youngsters exercised their right to attend a "white" school.

The big wind tore down signs, smashed windows and blacked out the town. Over the weekend residents were busy cleaning up the debris, with little time left over to encourage each other in spiteful and hateful acts.

At All-Negro School

The respite, however, will probably be short-lived. On Monday the 10 Negro pupils, ousted from the all-white high school, were transported to the William C. Jason School, 16 miles south, an all-Negro school in Georgetown. The students who have not attended school since early this month when they were boycotted out of the Milford school, are scheduled to attend classes in Georgetown until the controversy is settled in the courts.

There is a strong possibility, however, that the disputed 10 might be back at the Milford school soon.

On Tuesday Louis L. Redding, attorney for the NAACP, ob-

NAACP Cancels Amazing Invite

NEW YORK. — A state conference of the NAACP was hastily cancelled here Monday after race-hate agitator, Bryant W. Bowles, had accepted an invitation to address the convention which had been scheduled for Oct. 24, at Peekskill.

Bowles had been invited by Melvin Tapley, president of the Peekskill branch.

The national office expressed "amazement" at the invitation, and cancelled the three-day meeting.

New York Fire Chief Raps Racial Bias

Taking issue with the United States Supreme Court, Attorney General Pat Brown, Mayor Norris Poulson, and the Board of Fire Commissioners, a hand-picked "Firemen's Fact Finding Committee" last week urged Los Angeles to keep its Jim Crow fire stations. Its report was made to the Commission Thursday.

The Committee was promptly slapped down by Richard K. Yeamans, president of the Fire Commission, who pointed out that the sole issue was the question of how integration can be accomplished and that pleas for keeping racial segregation were not helpful.

The Committee, reputed to have spent more than $9000, had to admit that it found racial integration in 16 out of the 18 cities in which it conducted "on the spot" investigations. That integration was "accepted by all because there was no other choice and still remain in the fire department," the report said.

"The natural barriers which exist between the Negro and white races can be overcome by education and social education but that takes considerable time," the Committee complained in the report and added that it was opposed to "forced integration." It did not explain what it meant by "forced integration."

Attorney General Brown's opinion holding that racial segregation offends both state and federal constitutions was branded as "full" of "fallacies"

Nude Fight Denied By Odessa Parks

Odessa Parks, policewoman who last month fought and won a stiff battle for acquittal of the crime of killing her husband, Hilliard Parks Green, this week was fighting against stiff odds for reinstatement to her job with the Police Department.

The sensational charges last Thursday that she and another woman fought like tigers on her front lawn in March, clawing each others' clothes off till both were naked to the waist, will be emphatically denied when Mrs. Parks takes the stand today, Thursday, to plead her case, Lieut. Roscoe C. "Rocky" Washington, who is handling her defense, told the Eagle.

To Deny Charges

She will deny that she was naked, or that she was intoxicated at the time. She will deny also that she was intoxicated, as police claimed, on the fateful May Sunday she critically wounded her husband.

In her defense, she will repeat the assertions she made at her murder trial, that Parks had beaten her before the shooting and that she shot to protect herself.

One of the department's witnesses, Mrs. Ruby White Hooks, Tuesday gave testimony which, in part at least, corroborated Mrs. Parks' account of the frenzied altercation in March, about which her neighbor, Mrs. Muretta Dozier, so graphically testified. Mrs. Hooks said that Mrs. Parks was not drunk at the time.

Serious Charges

The case is being heard before a three-man panel of judges who compose the trial board of the Police Department of Internal Affairs. Lieut. Charles Hart, department ad-

Richards OK's FEPC Laws

Richard Richards, Democratic Nominee for State Senator from Los Angeles County, today strongly advocated immediate adoption of a Fair Employment Practices Act.

At the same time, he blasted his Republican opponent for her failure to take a forthright stand on this issue and for her active opposition to the cause of fair employment.

"It is a strange coincidence that my Republican opponent, who claims credit for opposing bigotry in the primary election, is now evasive or silent on an important race relations issue on which both major national political parties are in basic agreement," Richards charged. "President Eisenhower has endorsed fair employment practices, but Mrs. Younger refuses to take a stand. The voters of Los Angeles County are entitled to know how their State Senator will vote in this important fight."

Contentment is a jewel that shines in any setting.

Political Spotlight

By Observer

WHO'LL GET ELECTED?

The last time we reported on the results shown by our pollsters we came up with the news that Knight was running ahead of Graves in the gubernatorial race for Negro votes. Seems that there has been a little change since we last reported. How much, it is difficult to say. If the election were held tomorrow the governor would still get the most of the ballots cast by Negroes, but not by as much as he did in the primary, our spies report.

Seems like a few more people know who Graves is now and that more of them know he is a Democrat. That's quite a factor with the Negro voters who were interviewed. Most of them are inclined to vote Democratic, provided they have at least a minimum of knowledge of who the Demos are in the important races.

Graves' name has been popping up more in the public prints these days and some of those interviewed say they like what he has been saying. Summary in this department: Graves has to do more work if he wants to get the majority of votes cast by Negroes.

Sam Yorty for United States senator and Edward Roybal for lieutenant governor have lengthened their leads over their Republican opponents, Thomas Kuchel and Harold Powers, respectively. Powers and Kuchel are suffering from being unknowns in the Negro communities and from the fact that they're Republicans.

Lesser state candidates will be judged on their party labels, unless they make some definite gestures toward Negros, the pollsters found out. "Don't know much about any of them, so I guess I'll vote for the party man" -that's the sentiment in those quarters. Incidentally, Horace Alexander, the IPP candidate for secretary of state, may pick up a few votes here and there on the basis of his campaign but few Negro voters gave him serious thought. "Can't win," they said, "besides, what is this Progressive thing anyhow?"

We'll try to take a look at the assembly candidates next week and give you the straight-from-the-horse's mouth last minute dope on the big races.

Backs Prop. 4

A cross-section analysis of rank and file as well as top echelon organization endorsements of Proposition 4 "Aid to Needy Aged," the old age pension initiative appearing on the ballot November 2nd, indicates a sweeping victory for the measure, George Ballard, State Representative, California Legislative Board, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said Monday.

"Labor and Civic organizations have spontaneously and unanimously endorsed this humane old age pension measure which allows the recipient 66c more a day," Ballard said.

CIO Stand

Support for a ballot proposition calling for a bond issue for California veterans, and opposition to a measure affecting control of water and liquor were announced Monday by the CIO-California Industrial Union Council.

Manuel Dias, President, said that the State CIO-PAC, representing some 200,000 members, recommended a 'For' vote on Proposition 1, and a 'No' vote on Propositions 3 and 16.

"The first state proposition on the Nov. election ballot provides for a $175 million bond issue to continue farm and home loans to California veterans," Dias said. "The CIO-PAC urges a 'For' vote to help our veterans by a plan that has proved economically sound."

CIO-PAC opposes Proposition 3, which would establish a Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, because it does nothing to bring about real liquor reform.

Raps Violence

"The State government must take immediate steps to stop Klan-like organization of racial violence in California before it becomes widespread," Horace V. Alexander, IPP candidate for Secretary of State, declared Monday in explaining his scheduled visit to top state officials.

"The bombing this week of a Negro's home in Sacramento, five days after he moved in, came as a shocking sequel to the destructive attacks on six new homes sold to Negroes in Benicia," the candidate said.

'Mad At Charlie

Richard Graves, Democratic nominee for Governor, today likened Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson's "bird dog, kennel-fed dogs" statement to the declaration "Let them pick lemons" made in January by Governor Goodwin J. Knight

Wilkins Speaks Here October 29

The nation's outstanding Negro labor official, J. Ernest Wilkins, Assistant Secretary of Labor in the Eisenhower cabinet, will be the principal speaker at a rally at 8 p.m., Friday, October 29, in the Jefferson High School Auditorium. The event is being sponsored by the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee of Southern California.

Wilkins, a prominent Chicago attorney prior to his appointment by President Eisenhower, was named Vice-Chairman of the President's Committee on Government Contracts in August, 1953. In June, 1954, he was named head of the U.S. delegation to the International Labor Conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

Venice Spraggs Speaks Friday

Announcement of the pending arrival in the 23rd Congressional District of Mrs. Venice Tipton Spraggs, assistant to Vice-Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Washington, D. C., on Friday, October 22, on behalf of the candidacy of Rep. Samuel Yorty, candidate for United States Senate, was made Monday by Albert T. Lunceford and Mrs. Faustina Johnson, co-chairmen of the 23rd District State Committee.

Mrs. Spraggs, now stumping the State on behalf of Sam Yorty, is a noted speaker who has traveled throughout the world observing governmental and political operations. A former teacher and distinguished journalist, Mrs. Spraggs has been awarded many professional high honors and election to Theta Sigma Phi, National Honorary and Professional Fraternity for women in Journalism, becoming the first Negro woman member in its 47 year history. As special assistant to Mrs. India Edwards, director of the Democratic National Women's Division, Mrs. Spraggs was one of four Democratic couriers in 1952 serving as field assistant to Mrs. Edwards, and traveled over 40,000 miles campaigning and explaining the issues of the campaign.

Knight Backers See November Victory

Sweeping claims for victory in the Nov. 2 election were made this week by the Committee to Retain Governor Knight as its drive for votes in the community entered the last stages of the campaign.

William "Bill" Watkins, Paul R. Williams, Atty. Everette M. Porter, J. LaMar Hill, Celestus A. King III, Atty. David W. Williams, Bertrand B. Bratton, M. Earl Grant and Mrs. Leontyne King, director of women's affairs, are co-chairmen of the Committee.

"These people heading the Committee To Retain Governor Knight, wave no magic wand, seek no personal aggrandizement, nor make any idle promises on behalf of their candidate or of themselves. They evidence a spirit of public duty in the matter of inspiring the people at the community level, to renew their faith in the ballot and go to the polls and cast it for the men and measures of their own choice," a Committee spokesman said this week.

"This new type of leadership in the political world seeks to guide through continued enlightment on the subjects and issues currently before the voters. They have placed their utmost confidence in the greatness of the people, and feel that the efforts and guidance given them will be reflected at the polls. The committee pins its hope for a new and responsive leadership in a new political era upon the manner in which the people cast their vote at the November 2 election," the statement continues.

The Committee has selected only one candidate. The sole candidate endorsed is Goodwin J. Knight to succeed himself as governor. In doing so, Committee spokesmen said they are confident that he has all of the qualities requisite to meet the standards of good government left as a pattern by Earl Warren, now the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The committee urges a record outpouring of votes to retain Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

It was pointed out the reason for not endorsing any other candidate by the committee was for the purpose of making a vote test. Interest in politics and public affairs by racial and minority groups had fallen to such a despairing low that powers that be in such matters had grown prone to "writing off" districts where these people were voting factors. The Committee aims to dispel that practice by proving that the people have not forsaken the ballot when they march to the polls.

Judge to Decide Woman's Fate In Murder Case

Mrs. Doris Jean Johnson, 1321 E. 21st street, accused of murdering her alleged rival, on Wednesday morning placed her fate in the hands of Judge LeRoy Dawson, rather than undergo the rigors of a jury trial.

Through her attorney, Curtis Taylor, the sultry-eyed young woman pleaded self-defense in a three-hour presentation of her case.

Judge Dawson took the case under advisement Wednesday afternoon.

On the evening of July 10, Mrs. Johnson followed Miss Arleane Kizzee, 26, of 3130 Naomi avenue, into the women's rest room of the Texas Barbecue, 3171 S. Central avenue. Miss Kizzee at the time was wearing a hat which belonged to James Howard, Mrs. Johnson's husband.

A few minutes later Miss Kizzee ran from the lounge screaming: "I've been cut!" She was bleeding profusely from neck and chest, and was taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital where she died from stab wounds at 3:04 a.m.

Witnesses, according to the police report at the time of the killing asserted that Mrs. Johnson entered the lounge, and opening a pocket knife, rushed towards the other woman, threatening: "I've finally caught up with you."

Mrs. Johnson has claimed, however, that Miss Kizzee had a knife and that when the two of them scuffled, she was forced to defend herself.

The dead woman is alleged to have declared she would break up the relationship between Mrs. Johnson and Howard. Atty. Taylor stated also that Mrs. Johnson never carried a knife, but that the one in her possession on the night of the killing was Howard's which he had asked her to bring to him.

Postal Worker Claims He Shot In Self Defense

Rufus Elliott, postal clerk at the Terminal Annex, took the stand in his own defense Wednesday and told the court that he had killed Louis Tackwood, an alleged dope peddler, in self defense.

The case was postponed Wednesday noon until Monday by Judge Walter R. Evans, when one of the jurors, Mrs. Alberta D. Parker, learned her mother had had a stroke.

Elliott, of 221 W. 54th Street, who is on trial for murder, told a story of what happened last June 24th which differed radically from the report previously given by police officers.

His story, however, was corroborated by a witness, John Cameron, who said that when he was getting off the bus at 5th and Central he saw a man with a gun being chased by another man whom he recognized as Tackwood. Tackwood, he said, ran after Elliott and caught up with him in a parking lot where the two scuffled.

Elliott, who appeared in court on crutches, is being represented by Atty. Crispus Wright. He said that Tackwood had tried to sell him cocaine, that Tackwood had threatened him the previous night when he had attempted to make arrangements for a party at the Morris hotel, and that fearing a fresh assault he had armed himself with a gun.

According to police officers, however, they saw Elliott chasing Tackwood down 5th street with a gun in hand. They drove around the block, and when they returned the victim had already been killed.

Influence is something one thinks he has until he tries to use it.

Walter White in Serious Condition

first won public attention with his forays into the South to investigate lynchings in communities where he was mistaken for a white person.

He became a national figure during the long fight for an anti-lynching law and was the guiding spirit behind the successful Senate fight to deny confirmation to John S. Parker as a member of the Supreme Court. Hostility to Parker was based an anti-Negro statements he was alleged to have made in North Carolina political campaigns.

During World War II, White spent a great deal of time as correspondent with the armed services and his consistent attacks on racial discrimination led to many reforms affecting Negro soldiers and officers.

Following the war, he took a leave of absence from the NAACP and toured the world with the Town Meeting of the Air. He served as a consultant during the organizing conference of the UN in San Francisco.

Although he is not a lawyer, White participated in all of the famous cases which made Supreme Court history from the time he joined the NAACP staff. His tireless work as an organizer and as a spokesman against segregation and discrimination gave rise to many of the cases which challenged racial discrimination, and helped raise the funds and arouse the public sentiment that led to victory in many of those cases.

A prolific writer, White is a contributor to many magazines and is the author of numerous sociological works and novels. He was twice married and is the father of two children by his first wife.

Businessmen Organize to Compete in L. A. Market

The Los Angeles Committee of Businessmen issued an invitation this week to all community businessmen and women to attend their kick-off breakfast at Hotel Cosmopolitan, on Sunday, Oct. 31 at 9 a.m.

The recently organized association has dedicated itself to study ways and means of competing in greater Los Angeles' broad and highly competitive business economy on an integrated basis, in short, taking advantage of and abiding by the same rules as govern any other businessman.

Guest speaker for the breakfast will be Edwin Wirsing, vice-president of Union Bank and Trust Co. An added feature wil be the first local showing of Ebony Magazine's 20-minute movie short, "How to Sell the Negro Market," with commentary by Louis Johnson, the publication's west coast advertising manager.

There will also be four panel discussions and an outline of the organization's future program.

The sponsoring committee headed by Henri O'Bryant, uniform manufacturer, includes: R. R. Wright III, banker; Sterling Wagner, shoe shop owner; Ben C. Waller, theatrical agent; Lamar Hill, funeral home executive; hotel operators William Watkins, Walter Miller and William Sewell; Francis Wormley, barbershop owner; Robert Newman, Roger Q. Mason, real estate brokers; Attys. Walter L. Gordon, Jr., Xenophone Lang, Loren Miller, Everette Porter; Celestus King III, bond broker; Kelly Williams, insurance executive; Edward Stiger, Laverne C. Moore. For reservations and information call Mr. O'Bryant at HO. 2-1801.

NAACP Meet Is Set for Oct. 31

The president of the local branch of the NAACP, Dr. E. I. Robinson, announced this week that the regular monthly meeting of the branch will be held Sunday, Oct. 31, at Hamilton Methodist Church, 1376 E. 18th street at 3:30 p.m.

All members are urged to attend and hear the reports from the Regional Conference recently held at Asilomar, as well as other reports of interest.

That's a lot of miles... twenty-seven million to be exact... and that's how far Metropolitan Coach Lines has traveled to serve you during its first year of operation, in four counties, over forty-four routes.

Metro's five-year fifteen million dollar program for progress has covered a lot of ground in one short year, and it's only the beginning.

New buses have already come to many communities—one hundred and thirty were added the first year—one hundred more have been ordered for the second year—and more to follow. Metro is now using portions of five freeways to serve you with more rapid, efficient transportation, and the Metro freeway service will continue to expand as the freeways push further into outlying communities.

Whether you ride Metro once a year, or twice a day, our pledge to you on this, our first birthday, is the same as it was a year ago... better service at economical rates. You'll find it practical to use Metro service wherever you go!

Waste Of Money

Rumor has it that the Chief Alderson-inspired Firemen's Fact-Finding Committee spent upwards of nine thousand dollars to confirm the preconceived idea that racial segregation in the Los Angeles Fire Department should be retained.

Whatever amount was spent was wasted.

The Committee made what it calls "on-the-spot investigations" in 18 cities. Sixteen of those cities have integration! Only two of them flout the Constitution as Chief Alderson does and as he has done for the past 15 years.

In the face of the fact that Jim Crow has been banished in almost every northern and border city of any consequence, the Committee managed to come up with a plaintive plea for the retention of segregation in Los Angeles. It performed that sleight-of-hand trick by obviously combing every department for a few malcontents and then by quoting them as authorities on the matter.

The Committee had to admit that chief officers of most of the Departments said that integration was working well but it tried to offset those statements by going to what it called the "company level" for contradictions.

Of course, the Committee was in no position to make a fair judgment. It was, by its own admission, composed of men who believed in and who wanted to support racial segregation. It wanted to find evidence, no matter how flimsy, to bolster its own prejudices and that is just what it found.

As Commission President Richard K. Yeamans pointed out after the Committee had filed its statement, the issue before Los Angeles is not whether segregation is to be maintained or not. The question is how it can be terminated at the earliest possible moment without friction. The Committee's mewling support of Jim Crow only adds to the prejudice and ill will that has been whipped up by the chief and other bitter-end supporters of segregation.

Despite the anguished cries of Chief Alderson and his Committee, the fact is that Los Angeles cannot practice racial segregation in its Fire Department without violating the laws of this state and both the Federal and State Constitutions. Mayor Poulson has made it plain that as chief executive of the city who is sworn to uphold the law, he proposes to see that the law is obeyed.

There remains only the problem of how and in what manner Jim Crow is to be kicked out of the Fire Department. Once the firemen adjust themselves to the fact that they too must obey the law just as the rest of us do, they will find, to their chagrin, that they have been made dupes by Chief Alderson in order to gratify his own nineteenth century notion of race relations.

Time For A Change

If ever a Congressional district needed a change in representation in Congress, the Fifteenth District meets that specification.

It is now represented by Gordon L. McDonough, a one-time good public servant who has lost his way in the wilds of Washington. He should be replaced by Frank O'Sullivan.

We recall Mr. McDonough when he was a supervisor with a fine sense of fair play and a passion for fair treatment for all people.

He has deteriorated into a time-server who has gone back on the very qualities that once made him popular with Negro voters.

The record shows that Mr. McDonough has backslid to the extent that he is now an opponent of fair employment practices legislation. He even went to the extent of voting to return power to the House Rules Committee to bottle up any bill its members don't like.

That power had been taken away from the Rules Committee because it had become the burying ground for all civil rights bills of any kind and had kept the lid on all progressive legislation. The Dixiecrats and the reactionary Republicans lost that power for a brief time but they ganged up to get it back. And McDonough voted with them.

Mr. McDonough, as a former supervisor of this county, knew something about the necessity of public housing to take care of lower-income groups, particularly members of minority groups who had the disability of race added to their lack of funds. Mr. McDonough, the Congressman, has been a bitter-end foe of public housing.

All this adds up to the necessity for change. Fortunately the Fifteenth District has an opportunity to make an excellent change by electing O'Sullivan, a young man who has taken the right side of every issue, from civil rights to housing. We hope that the voters of the Fifteenth District will make the right move on November 2 by retiring Gordon McDonough and electing Frank O'Sullivan.

New Assemblyman

Los Angeles could do with a few switches in Assembly seats this year. One of the prime needs is that of keeping Delbert Morris at home and of sending Lucius Lomax to Sacramento from the 63rd District.

Mr. Morris has long since outworn whatever limited usefulness he ever had in Sacramento. He has a positive genius for voting wrong as far as his Negro constituents are concerned. He's agin whatever is for their best interests, as his record shows.

Added to that is the fact that California needs more members of minority groups in the State Assembly. Government should not only be "for" the people; it should be "by" the people.

Another district that needs a change in order to keep California in line with the growing concept of representation "by" the people is the 55th District where Rayfield Lundy, a Republican, is trying to oust Vernon Kilpatrick, a Democrat.

Kilpatrick is a kindly enough old gentleman who never lived in the southern section of the city where the 55th District is now located, until the Legislature switched his district out that way three years ago. He ran out to an area where he had never lived and established a home for the sole purpose of keeping his seat in the Assembly.

The 55th District to which Kilpatrick fled in order to keep his feeding space at the public trough is predominantly peopled by Negroes and persons of Mexican descent. Such a district needs a member of one or the other of those minorities in the Assembly. We think that Lundy will do a good job in Sacramento even if we do disagree with his party label.

The upshot of this whole editorial is that we urge the election of Lomax in the 63rd and Lundy in the 55th Districts.

Chest Time Coming

Although it is being lost sight of in the hurly-burly of politics, Community Chest time is rolling around again.

Every year the Community Chest figures out the needs of our various agencies and asks the people of this city to give enough to keep those agencies going. Keeping them going means that hundreds and thousands of our fellow citizens who have come upon hard times get the help they need.

Why don't you start thinking it over now and lay aside a few cents a week so that you can play your part in giving your neighbor a helping hand?

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

A Negro judge has been appointed in Detroit, Mich., by Gov. Mennen Williams. In making the appointment, Michigan's shrewd and likeable chief executive has pleased a great many of his admirers, while badly disappointing the scrambling job-seekers among the legal fraternity.

The newly-appointed judge, Wade M. McCree, Jr., handsome and young, was formerly a $9,000-a-year member of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission. On the Wayne County Circuit bench, he not only receives $21,500, but he becomes the youngest member of the Circuit Court and the only Negro jurist in Detroit.

Lester Granger

Juicy Plum

Gov. Williams had been holding the appointment open, waiting for recommendations from Democratic leaders. The post was so juicy in a financial sense, however, that the party bosses couldn't agree on a choice.

Finally, apparently exasperated by their fruitless bickering, the Governor announced the appointment in a surprise telephone statement to the press. Some might call it "bad politics" to run over party bosses in this way. Chances are, however, that for every aggrieved politician who carries rancor, there will be a thousand new friends of the Governor who like his human, impulsive way of doing business.

In the race between white and blue-collar workers, the blue-collars (wage earners) have forged to the front recently. Chicago University's Journal of Business reports findings on this subject by Robert K. Burns, social scientist and head of the University's industrial relations center.

His study shows that 54 years ago wage-earners averaged only $457 a year, compared with $860 for salaried persons (white collar workers). Twenty-five years ago blue-collar workers were still behind—$1,372 as compared to $2,398—and fell still further behind during the depression of the 1930's.

Forge Ahead

Wage earners have come along fast, however, during the past two decades. Ten years ago they were making $45 a week as compared with only $43 for white-collars. Today the lead is still being held in a neck-and-neck race. Blue-collar workers now average $69.24 a week; white-collar workers average $66.63.

More Protection

There's a lesson in this especially for young colored people looking ahead toward their job futures. These figures illustrate the ever-widening improvements in industrial employment that now make it preferable to office work in many ways. The income is higher and the expenses of "living up to the job" are lower. A truck driver has more end-of-week money than a store salesman. A sales-girl in a department store earns much less than her sister who operates a factory machine.

There's more protection, too, for the blue-collar worker against the hazards of unemployment, sickness and boss's tantrums. The unions are strong in the industrial field; usually weak or non-existent in the white-collar field.

A wise parent today will hesitate a long time before deliberately steering a youngster into what can be a blind alley of stiffly-starched white collars. Not everyone is qualified by tastes or ability to be a blue collar worker—a skilled industrial operative. But, by golly, it deserves finding out before such a career is turned down for a white-collar occupation that can be disappointing and unrewarding.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

A REAL ESTATE CLINIC

We did not miss a single broker or salesman. They all seemed to have been present when the Consolidated Realty Board's Educational Committee put on its second real estate clinic two Saturdays ago at the Nikabob restaurant. It was a worthy project and was indeed well attended.

Leon Steward

"Blue Print for Better Business" was the theme of the project. After getting over the hurdle of introductions and greetings by the president of the sponsoring group, Mr. W. Robert Brown, the program launched into a panel discussion chaired by Judge Thomas Griffith. The subject was "Does Race Affect Loan Values?"

The panel included Aldolph Slechta, Great Western Saving and Loans; Belden Morgan, Federal Housing analyst; Leslie Shaw, Watts Saving and Loan; R. R. Wright III, Broadway Federal Saving and Loans Assn.; William McKenney, appraiser; Robert J. Schmidt, loan agent for Southern California Building and Loan.

You may be interested in learning that this very competent panel decided that race does not affect loan values.

Sparks Fly

However, when they brought forth Mr. John McDonald of F.H.A., verbal sparks began to fly. He was challenged from right to left concerning the new housing bill that is already in effect. When John M. Mangana, a white salesman, declared that when he told the FHA that his client was a Negro they turned him down.

That did it. The gentleman was in hot water. McDonald declared that race made no difference, but several brokers seemed to express doubt. When a Mr. Wilson asked how much money must a man have above overhead costs to get a house, McDonald answer "One week's pay."

Mrs. Verna Hickman Speaks

Mrs. Verna Hickman, administrator of information and field services, Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., addressed the meeting on the subject "How to Best Spend Your Advertising Dollar." Of course she spoke well of newspaper ads and she passed out a newspaper that gave more information in the ad.

She overcame a bad cold to project her part on the program and she did it well. Just one thing she mentioned might be of interest to readers of this column: Research has resulted in the finding that $20 million more were spent for pets than for baby food."

The meeting was brought to a close with a "Silver Dollar Quiz" which followed a film entitled "Listing and Evaluating Property" which was also very good.

It was a very good program and we take off our hat to Mrs. Emily A. Johnson, whose committee did the work.

and the Committee added that the recent Supreme Court school decisions were not binding on the Fire Department.

While the Committee was preparing its report, Edward S. Cavanaugh, Fire Commissioner for the 11,000 member New York department, went on record as saying that "those who oppose racial integration are narrow-minded and out of date, and that applies particularly in a city like Los Angeles which is a modern city made up of people from all countries."

The Fire Commission took no action on the "Fact Finding Committee's" report. Members said they would study the report and make a decision in the near future. City Hall rumors have it that the final decision will be made on Oct. 28 to meet a Nov. 1 dead line set by Mayor Poulson for positive action. The mayor has told the Commisison to require Fire Chief Alderson to either submit plans for integration or resign.

Negro fire fighters are now confined to Stations 14 and 30, now located on Central avenue. Negro officers and rank and file firemen are all assigned to those two stations and are not permitted to transfer to other stations.

concerning California unemployment.

Speaking to a luncheon meeting of Stanford University faculty, Graves said, "Both statements are indicative of a flippant and casual disregard to the tragedy of unemployment. Both are typical of the nineteenth century attitude of mind which characterizes the right wing of the Republican Party, of which my opponent is a leader.

Forum Slated

"MEET YOUR CANDIDATES" will be presented by the West Adams Community Forum, Friday evening, October 22, at the West Adams Cultural Center, 5180 West Adams Blvd., at 7:30 p.m. The West Adams Community Forum will offer an opportunity for residents in the area to hear, meet, and question the following candidates running for office:

Beavers Raps 4

"Proposition 4 is George McLain's latest and most insidious treachery against the homeowner, the children, the blind and the invalid of our state," George A. Beavers, Jr., President of the Los Angeles Urban League and chairman of the board of Golden State Mutual Insurance Company, declared yesterday in repudiation of a scheme which would freeze into the State Constitution a 25 per cent increase for California's "pensioners."

"In my opinion it is the obligation of the state to look after its needy aged," he said. "But not by overburdening the homeowners with impossible tax increases."

"Passage of Proposition 4 would assure further tax increases, because enough tax money is not available to meet this proposed obligation."

Fowler Aids Knight

Dr. J. D. Fowler, prominent Negro physicians here, has agreed to serve as chairman of the Minorities' Committee of the Knight-for-Governor Democratic group in Southern California.

His appointment was announced by Oscar Trippet, general chairman of the Democrats-for-Knight in the Southland.

Dr. Fowler, who will devote as much time as possible to the Knight campaign in spite of his busy professional and civic duties, will be assisted by Mrs. Helen Crozier Greenwood of the Friendship Democrat Club, Trippet said. Mrs. Greenwood was very active in the campaign to save the life of Wesley Wells.

"The most important job that confronts the minority groups of California today—in fact, all of the people—is the election of a strong, experienced and forward-looking Governor," said Dr. Fowler. "Goodwin J. Knight is such a man."

Richards Luncheon

Richard Richards, Democratic Nominee for State Senator from Los Angeles County, will be honored by business and professional men Saturday, October 23, at the Town Tavern. Hosting the event will be Loren Miller, Eddie Atkinson, Leo Branton, Jr. and Jimmy Garrott.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

Human nature is a funny thing. It seems to make us think that we can do the next man's job better than the next man even if Mr. Next Man has been an expert in his field for more years than he'd want to admit.

You know what I mean. You can count on your big toe the number of Indian fans who don't figure they could have managed the Tribe to a series victory. Show me a man sitting in front of his TV set on a Saturday afternoon who isn't a better quarterback than Joe College, who is piloting his cobruisers into stonewall after stonewall.

Scrambled Egghead

And then there's that breed of humans who think the editor of their newspaper is nothing but a scrambled egghead and they let him know in purple prose known as "Letters to the Editor" or "The Voice of the People" or some other such title.

Another species of "know-it-alls" figure nobody but they can read. So they peer over your shoulders on the street car or bus and glower at you when you don't turn the page quickly enough.

But I suppose the most egotisical and annoying of all is the kibitzer at a card game.

Extra on the Loose

Ever sit down to a friendly game of pinochle and gaze up from seven aces to find there's an extra on the loose. Extra nut—not ace. Extra Nut stands behind you and all but breaks his arm trying to point to the Ace of Spades when you have just figured out how you can snare a trick with the ten.

He shakes his head in blissful superiority when your strategy fails and something inside you swells up like a free-loader full of beer and you want to pick up the nearest spittoon and try it on his head for size.

If you really want to see Extra Guy in action, watch him at a Friday night poker game. Mr. Know-It-All gets his kick out of passing on sound and sight waves to you informing you of your demonstrated ability to make a nincompoop out of yourself.

Not A Jingle

He'll assume fantastic postures trying to view your hole card. His face takes on expressions right out of a Hollywood make-up man's imagination when you try to fill an inside straight. And every time you dig into the old wallet for another fin, Extra Guy wears a smugger smile than Bill who just raked in that big pot.

Then, finally and inevitably, there are no more fins in the wallet. Not even a single. And in your pockets, not a jingle.

You look around the table cautiously, wondering who you can put the bite on. All eyes are glued on the table. No one will nibble at your bait. So you silently pull your weary frame up from the chair and start for the door.

Drawn Back

But something invisible holds your hand and stops you from turning the knob. You turn around slowly and see Extra Guy slipping into your chair with a fat roll of bills on the table in front of him.

You find yourself drawn back to the table and you are powerless to resist. The cards are dealt and you bend your back and put a little English on your eyes and try to steal a peep at Ex-Extra Guy's hole card. You flinch when he up a bet; you grin with knowing superiority when his bluff fails.

Another hour passes and lots of money changes hand and you are still there wondering when this fellow's going to learn to play poker.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This is the first time in my life I have found it necessary to pen a missive to a newspaper. But I feel compelled to voice my opinion in regards to the sound and fury taking place because of the outlawing of segregation in public schools.

I would like to bring to your attention the fact that for the past 10 years or more subversives have tried every conceivable way to publicize the faults (both imaginary and real) as propoganda to stimulate Communism behind their iron curtain.

I believe that there are many people behind the "curtain" that have not yet been enfolded by the arms of that party. With such carryings on as the school segregation deal, it is fairly safe to assume that throughout the world there is grave doubt as to what democracy really consists of.

I ask as an American citizen why there are so many among us who are pushing to "perish from the earth," so to speak, rather than to act as a people, of the people, and for the people.

I believe that these public demonstrations are not the sole attitude of the students alone. I believe there is a parental and syndicated hand that is pushing these demonstrations in order to keep public notice and to serve as a means of money making for the organizations springing up against the integration decision.

At the present the seriousness of the integration problem is still in the minor stages, but if the occurrences of violence should grow any more alarming, I dread to think of what might take place. There could be nationwide racial wars that would sap our nation's strength and leave our nation's stronghold wide open for aggression by our oppressors.

Is it asking too much to have a white man's son huddling on the ten yard line with the son of a Negro? Where's that old team spirit? Let's send the crowd away cheering instead of sneering.

Patriotically Yours,
Johnny Green

P. S.—For quite some time I have been the sole Negro musician with an all white band. The only time any of us fellows have a beef is when some "cat" gives out with too many sour notes, regardless of his race, creed, or coloring.

AME District Lay Officers Plan New Conference Year

Ministers and lay officials of the seventeen churches and missions of the Los Angeles District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church met Saturday Oct. 16 to plan activities for the new conference year.

The meeting was held at St. Luke A.M.E. Church, 10724 So. San Pedro street with Rev. Melvin McEwen as the host minister.

Rev. Alfred K. Quinn, presiding elder in charge of the Los Angeles District, opened the meeting.

Rev. William L. Martin of Duarte delivered the message.

Two special annual events planned during the afternoon session were the District Conference to be held at Parks Chapel, Pacoima, April 20, 21, 1955. The Sunday School and Allen Christian Endeavor League Convention at Ward A.M.E. Church 25th and Magnolia street, June 22, 23, 24, 1955.

Among the visitors at the meeting were Rev. Browning C. Allen, presiding elder of the Pasadena-San Diego District of the church, Rev. D. C. Coleman of Tucson, Arizona, and several other ministers and laymen of the Pasadena-San Diego District.

The two districts comprise the Southern California Conference, one of the important sections of the Fifth Episcopal District of the A.M.E. Church. The Rt. Rev. D. Ormonde Walker is the presiding bishop of the Fifth District.

Churchmen Taken To Task For Lack of Interest In Youth Marital Training

American educators and churchmen have been taken to task for paying too little attention to the job of training young people for Christian marriage and family life. Meeting in Chicago last week at the annual meeting of the board of managers of the Department of Family Life of the National Council of Churches, a panel of family life experts advised that "more teaching and more guidance" are needed.

Said Dr. David M. Fulcomer of Iowa State College, Ames, "Young people are not helped sufficiently to develop their emotional lives in line with growing intellects and technical knowledge. Training an individual's intellect will not determine his behavior." As a step towards meeting the need, he advised a four-point program, including: more school and college courses to develop the ideas on family living; more student centered guidance programs; and the use of more consultants by schools, churches and social agencies. Many phases of college life, he said, should be geared to preparation for Christian marriage, including dating, going steady and the engagement period.

BISHOP W. A. STEWART —The AME Conference that began this week at AME Zion Church, 1221 Paloma, is presided over by Bishop Stewart.

34th Session of AME Conference October 19 to 24

The 34th annual Southwest Rocky Mt. Conference started Tuesday, Oct. 19 at the A.M.E. Zion Church, 1217 Paloma St., of which Rev. Shepherd H. Mation is pastor.

The conference, that will continue through the week, embraces ten AME Zion Churches of the Southern California area.

Guest speaker for the week will be Bishop William Andrew Stewart, the head of the Southern California Churches.

Bishop Stewart, who lives in Washington, D.C., is accompanied by his wife, Sula Stewart, the supervisor of the Episcopal Missionary.

Rev. Marion, the host pastor to the conference, is also on the week's program with Rev. Theo P. Headen, the presiding elder.

Thursday, the 9:30 a.m. worship service will be led by the Rev. Vaster Haskins. The noon hour will be a memorial for the members who have passed away during the year.

40th Anniversary Of Independent Begins Friday Night

The People's Independent Church of Christ, 1025 E. 18th street, Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, pastor, will usher in its 40th anniversary Friday night with visiting Victory Baptist Church Choir and congregation.

During the 40th anniversary activities, those ministers who at one time were connected with Independent will return with their congregations and choirs to join with the Church in paying its respects to the late founder, Rev. N. P. Greggs.

On Sunday, the morning broadcast may be heard over station KALI, 1430 on the dial, at 10:30 a.m. At the morning worship, the pastor, Rev. Dakkins, will speak on "The Spirit of Christ." The Cathedral Choir will furnish the music for the service, Albert J. McNeil directing, and Fannie Benjamin at the organ.

At 3:30, the Los Angeles Federation of Choirs will hold services. At 7:30 the Youth will be in charge, their guests being a singing group from San Pedro.

Hamilton's Men Have Services Sunday, Oct. 24

Sunday is Men's Day at Hamilton Church, 1376 E. 18th street. The men will have charge of the entire day's services. The theme is "A Time For Decision." The program begins at the 10:45 a.m. service, with Harry B. Gipson, presiding, and will feature Rev. John J. Hicks, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, 10003 Wilmington avenue, speaking on the subject: "Decision!" The Men's Chorus, under the direction of Sylvanus Lott, will render special selections throughout the services. Jack T. Booker, noted baritone, will be the guest soloist. The pastor, Rev. John N. Doggett, Jr., will sing with the Men's Chorus. The guest organist for the day is Henry Booker.

The 7 p.m. Evening Service, with Thomas Shirley presiding, will feature the pastor, speaking on the subject: "Now is the time!" The Men's Chorus will sing. Mr. Clark is guest soloist. This is a part of a month-long fund-raising campaign, in which the men have been striving to parallel the tremendous success of the women.

DON NEWCOMBE TO HURL WINTER SERIES OPENER

The three game Winter League series at Wrigley Field opens Friday at 8 p.m. with Roy Campanella's star studded World Series players and major leaguers playing a picked club of Major League all-stars. Second game of the series will be on Sunday at 2 p.m. with the finals next Friday at 8 p.m.

Big Don Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodger ace, Bob Trice, Philadelphia Athletics right hander, and Dave Hoskins, Cleveland Indians reliefer will handle the mound duties for Campanella's club.

Tom Morgan, New York Yankees, Freddie Bacsewski, Cincy Reds, and Ben Wade, St. Louis Cardinals, will share hurling chores for the opposition.

A total of five world series players will perform in the persons of Monte Irvin, Hank Thompson, New York Giants; Larry Doby, Al Smith, Dave Hoskins, Cleveland Indians.

Other name players on the roster include Gene Baker, Cubs; Minnie Minoso, White Sox; Junior Gilliam, Dodgers; Jim Pendleton and Joe White, Milwaukee. Campanella is undergoing a minor operation on his hand this week but will be on hand for the series.

Promoter Bill Feistner has lined up a strong team to oppose the visitors. Bill Sarni, Cardinals; Bob Talbot, Cubs; Bob Skinner, Pittsburgh; Bill Wilson, Athletics, Jim Brideweiser, Baltimore; Rocky Bridges, Bobby Adams, Cincy Reds, all will see action.

A gala pre-game parade featuring marching units and bands from the Elks, Shriners patrol, American Legion, Saddling 20 and Westernettes riding clubs, Dragons, Motorcycle squad, all under the direction of Brig. Gen. Matthew Lipscomb, will highlight Sunday's contest. Leo Durocher, New York Giants manager, has been invited to be honored guest.

There will also be a brief ceremony and presentation at home plate.

Indicative of the interest in the series is the fact that Clark Hotel is operating a Winter League series special bus direct from the hotel to the park. Series reservations can be made at the box office in Wrigley Field, or at the hotel, Washington and Central avenue.

D. Grant In Year's Best Bout

Don Grant skyrocketed to the fistic spotlight last Monday night as he boxed his way to a 10-round decision over dangerous Charlie Green, twice holder of the state title, in one of the most thrilling and bloody battles ever held at the Olympic.

Cool, clever Grant displayed amazing ability as he uncorked wicked jabs, hooks and an assortment of head and body blows that had some 2000 fans recalling the great boxers of yesterday.

Green had two big chances in the third and ninth rounds when he rocked Grant with solid punches. However Green roared back with his own combinations of blows plus an educated left jab to nab one of the most important ring battles of his young career.

Referee Dynamite Jackson, former California great heavyweight boxer, who voted for Grant by 56-54, called it one of the greatest fights he ever witnessed. Judges Jimmy Wallace and Lee Grossman favored Grant, 58½-51½ and 56½-53½.

Much credit is being given to trainers Duke Hollyway and Calvin Woods in developing Green into a national ranking fighter in just 15 professional bouts. Manager Johnny Galloway watching his boy said that he'll insist that Boxing Commission chairman Tony Entenza, who was also on hand for the great battle, get his lad a shot at the state's middleweight title with Willie Vaughn.

Joe Louis Buys Share in New Vegas Hotel

LAS VEGAS—Joe Louis, ex-world's heavyweight champion, signed a partnership agreement this week in the new Moulin Rouge Hotel, currently under construction here on West Bonanza Road.

Louis' interest, described as "substantial" by a hotel spokesman, calls for the famous fighter's active participation at least three months of the year.

Official opening of the $3,000,000 resort hotel is set for mid-February, 1955. Nearly half of the imposing structure has been already completed.

Ex-Football Ace Named Executor Of Uncle's Estate

Brice Taylor, former All-American football candidate and famed running guard at the University of Southern California two decades ago, this week filed letters of administration in the estate of Brice Union Taylor, 93, who died here October 17. The aged man was an uncle of the former grid star.

The law firm of Miller, Maddox and Sheats filed the papers on behalf of Taylor who was named executor in the will. The estate was left to the widow, Mrs. Zella Taylor, who survives her husband, Taylor lived at 2725 Woodhaven Dr.

BOWLING NOTES

The Los Angeles Senate members of the National Bowling Association and American Bowling Congress, consisting of two five men team league boomed into action several weeks ago at the Studio Bowl.

Lee Hi Hatters, last year's champions of the Sunset League, are setting a torrid pace in the first round. They blasted the wood and piled up sticks Saturday night to roll over Garrett Motel two games to one.

B and B shelled the lumber to upset Grand Central two games to one. The Bar-B-Cue boys, however, in winning the last game topped the league with an 1140 series.

Bill Miller, Billie Hampton and Waco Jackson, all shot good 200 games. Neals Liquors staggered along to knock over the Timber Tucklers two games to one. Lewis Brothers tilted the maple to down Dedricks three games; Brown Motors sparking to win from the Pick Uppers two games to one.

Ed Moseley, president of the Sunset League, has some hard hitting bowlers in his league and everyone is certain records will be broken before the season ends.

Free speech is of no advantage to the man who has nothing to say.

VERYL (SWISH) SWITZER — Green Bay Packers brilliant, first year halfback is one of the most dangerous running backs in the National Professional League. His running helped upset the L. A. Rams 35-17 last Sunday.

BOB MANN — Dare devil flankman on the Green Bay Packer football team was another reason why the Packers upset the big bad L.A. Rams last Sunday.

Thurs., Oct. 21, 1954 The California Eagle—7

Bill Smallwood
ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Atty. David Williams, a patient at home after being stricken at a dinner. Tony Hill due home in a fortnight or so. Mae Myers had a rough time of it while on the ailing list. She's doing better now. Sarah Griffin, out again after her long illness and back at her office chores.

Della McDonald, ill a week, is navigating again. Girl Friends met Monday at Seth Lee's. They are presenting a check to the Braille Institute. EPU's met Saturday at Lula Bendy's. Doce Amigas have their first meeting of the season at Ethel Tabor's on the 28th. St. Loo's Adella Smiley Constellationed home Sunday a.m. after a busy week here. Her medic mate is gifting her with a '55 El Dorado.

Double Threat

Home after a Bay area trip, Celestus King III is debating opening a bail bond office in S.F. The Sam Colemans (Lolita) of S.F. were in town en route to Mexico. Paullyn Glass will shepherd a tourist party through Europe next summer. To date, she has fifteen interested prospects.

Barbara Weaver on Fisk campus is already a double-threat gal. She's doing well in her studies and just as well as a campus belle.

Wealthy-now George White returning here after several months back east. Margery Stewart's 14-year-old daughter thumbs-downed life in Albany, N.Y. with her father. She came serenely back here, alone, and life goes on.

They're still crying delighted bravos for that astonishing floor show the Turnabouts and co. put on at their affair at Ciro's! It really it well worth a repeat! I doubt if there has ever been a better one anywhere in our town.

Murals IN The Pool

Betty Hudson Nichols: Happy birthday! The affair tended Leigh Whipper at the Kappa house brought out an interesting cross section of folk. 80-year-old Leigh accepted (with tears) an Oscar-looking statuette after a varied program put on by our wealth of local talented folk. Ruby Goodwin emceed, Leigh has since returned to N.Y.

Due: Artist Walter Sanford of Detroit. He's in Las Vegas now doing murals IN the swimming pool of the new home of Dr. and Mrs. Buck West (Dottie Seamon). Gladyce Clark recuperating from surgery.

Surely, few women in town can quite carry off wearing unusual hats expertly as does hardy perennial Nora Holt. She and Etta Moten have no peers when it comes to that particular accomplishment. Svelte Charlotte Hartsfield Nichols, relieved. Her equally attractive mother is okay again after recent surgery. Mil Blount has another hat picture coming out soon via one of those Railway Express truck displays.

Undrawn Straight

That's Vernon (Buffalo) Reed jockeying happily about town looking surprisingly VIP. At a late-hour bash for him (a table at which several folk sat with drawn faces and undrawn inside straights) he told us he's doing a book. It shook us right out of our Orange Blossoms. He leaves Sunday via one of those red-carpet-unrolled flights.

Curtis Dorsey Sr. snapped out of his virus infection. Dr. A. A. Foster and daughter Wesleen enrolled in same Spanish class at UCLA Extension.

Outdoor Life Slates Affair

The Assistance League of the Outdoor Life and Health Association assisted by other groups, this week invited the public to their ninth annual pre-Thanksgiving benefit tea, featuring fall fashions and furs on Sunday, Nov. 14, at the Sojourner Truth Home.

Clubs and organizations desiring to participate as co-hostesses and share the proceeds may get information by calling Mrs. Retha Beak, at RE 0440 or Mrs. Corporal, RE 1-5442.

Bellinas Club Set New Date

The Bellinas Social club recently reset the date for the club's Twilight Cruise to November 5. The affair will take place at the Starlight Roof, Pico and Norton and will feature the music of Jeep Smith.

Tickets may be secured from members' including Barbara Berry, Jean Brown, Claudette Harris, Sherlie Matthews, Beverlee Bruce, Coylia Brown, Ann Williams, Ethel Outlaw, Shirley Lee, Barbara White, Harriet Higgs, Johnetta Branche, La Cheta Smith and Jimille Spencer.

Rho Rush Party Sigma Gamma

Alpha Nu chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority was hostess to a group of college coeds in their back-to-school rush party, recently given at 3002 9th avenue.

Guests were entertained with modern dance and rhythms of the bongo drums. A gay time was had by all who attended.

A second rush party, labeled, "Round-Up Rush" will be held at 2104 Gramercy Park, October 24, from 5 to 7 p.m.

College girls interested in joining a sorority are cordially invited. Guest speaker of the evening will Mrs. Delphine Severin, president of the graduate chapter of the sorority.

Six Hundred Attend Zeniths Dance Intime Friday

The Zenith Social and Charity club's smart invitational annual Dance Intime' attracted some six hundred guests last Friday evening at the swank Fox Hills Country Club.

Club president Versie Lee Hawkins and the entire membership were fashionably attired in after - five cocktail dresses. The huge crowd enjoyed dancing to the music of Sammy Franklin.

Members and guests helped themselves at a large table filled with many delicious hors d'oeuvres between dances.

The Zenith members were notified by telegram during the gay affair that the club had won the Rheingold Club Award for having done an outstanding charity work in the building of a better community.

During the year the Zeniths held several outstanding affairs raising funds for their yearly project and donated well over $1500 to the School and Home for Mentally Retarded Children.

Winner of several other honors during the club's seven year history, the Zeniths are without a doubt one of the finest groups in the city.

The 20-member-strong organization is blessed with the keen leadership of president Versie L. Hawkins, whose cooperation with other officers and untiring efforts with the membership is the success story behind the club.

The president hosted the members to a lavish party prior to the dance at her smart 2723 S. Orange Drive home.

Other officers of the [illegible] are: Argralia Earles, [illegible] dent; Carrie Albert, [illegible]; Audrey Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Mary Wiley, treasurer; Eula M. Earles, business manager; Eulalia Evans, reporter.

Members are: Julia Baily, Miriam Harvey, Christabell Jacobs, Catherine Nery, Maurice Saunders, Ruby Williams, Gloria Davis, Hester Hughes, Catherine Kerr, Fransys Perry and Mabel Beverly.

WINNERS OF RHEINGOLD AWARDS—for the month of October are shown happily congratulating each other after the Rheingold panel of judges announced their decision. Each club or organization will receive a gold trophy and a check for $100 which will go to its favorite charity at the banquet at the Rheingold Inn for the entire membership. Clubs are selected for their civic and charitable work. Shown left to right: Mrs. Florence Vaughn, president of the Urban League Guild; Mrs. Lillian Gray, president of the Les Bienfaisontes; Mrs. Versie L. Hawkins, president of the Zenith; and Mrs. Sara Judkins, financial secretary of the Sojourner Truth Home.

SEASON IS TOP AFFAIR—When the Zeniths staged their Dance Intime they drew an array of the town's leading popular figures. The above group includes: Mr. and Mrs. Cranford, Atty. Carl and Norma Earls, Dr. A. Palmer and Mattie Reed, Mrs. Claudia Orange, Dr. Grady Orange, and Mrs. Jones. Seated left are Mrs. Evelyn Cummings, Catherine Nery, Fransys Perry and Anton Perry. The affair marked the seventh annual for the group which held its lavish event last Friday night. (Page of Photos by Adams).

BEAUTY AND THE BASKET—one of the highlights during the fashionable Lullaby Guild's Sunday afternoon tea was the drawing of the huge basket of assorted spirits. Pretty Mrs. Betty Sevelle held the lucky ticket. Assisting in displaying the basket are: Hugh Hunt, Albert Maddox and William (Bill) Watkins.

Lullaby Guild Attracts Impressive Group Sunday

New trends in fashions—striking evening gowns, exotic Oriental lounging robes, slim and trim toreador pants and softly feminine afternoon and cocktail creations fascinated over 400 guests who attended the first fashion show and tea sponsored by the Lullaby Guild Sunday afternoon at Larchmont Hall.

Breath-taking was the shimmering white silk satin ball gown with empire fitted bodice, draped overskirt edged with drop pearls. Bodice was covered with drop pearls, rhinestones and crystal beads, accented with a voluminous bow overskirt in the back. This gown was designed and modeled by La Tanya.

Children of the Guild members brought enthusiastic applause with their morning, afternoon and just before 7:30 fashions.

Other fashions which kept the guests enthralled were models of the Guild and from studios of Otis Bowdin, Joyce Cockrell, Eva Wallace Gordon, Nadine Originals, Al Cooper of Westwood, Helen Blodgett, Malbrough, Johnetta Starks and Mae Crowder; Furs were from Al Silver of Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Dorothea Foster, society editor of the California Eagle, wearing a striking red faille original by Nadine, was mistress of ceremonies.

Musical selections were rendered by Dan Ellen Mabry, Marie Gregg and Jean Sewell. Mrs. Betty Sevelle was the lucky winner of the door prize.

Mrs. Albert Maddox, capable president of the Lullaby Guild, was elated over the success of its first fund raising project. She stated that an early announcement will be made of the Guild's plans to intensify its efforts to recruit new parents asking Negro and other minority groups for children who are now available for adoption through the Children's Home Society.

Sgt. Rocky Vann Weds B. Hearn

In a very impressive and intimate wedding, veteran police officer Garnet (Rocky) Vann and attractive Betty Jane Hearn were married on Saturday October 9.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dan Genung and witnessed by Carl Margolis who acted as best man to the groom. Miss Elsa Kernan was matron of honor.

The newly weds are making their home at 3731 West 27th street.

What shall we eat today? Why do we like crackers with soup? Toast with eggs? A crunchy coating on fried chicken? It isn't a question of flavors or colors. It's the contrast of textures that makes these crunchy-soft combinations pleasant eating.

This contrast of textures carried forward at breakfast with crackly crunchy cereal and cream, soft egges and bacon, toast with preserves or jelly and a beverage make this a perk-up meal. A casserole main dish for luncheon or dinner might feature a biscuit crust on meat, crumb topping on macaroni, crumbled corn flakes on creamed chicken or tuna. Pastry shells or toast hold soft combinations of meat or vegetables accented with a bit of savory sauce. Celery, apples or nuts incorporated into a fruit gelatin points up the contrast idea and makes for satisfactory eating.

In planning meals, one can never go wrong if you ask yourself whether the meal would be interesting if you couldn't see it. Would it be appetizing if you couldn't smell it or satisfying if you couldn't taste it?

This test can be applied to the uncooked fruit cake which should satisfy the most discriminating taste during the holiday season. Try it now and make several to give as gifts to friends.

Uncooked Fruit Cake

Use one half cup each of seeded raisins, white raisins, dates, figs, candied cherries, candied pineapple, orange and lemon peel, citron, and pecans. If you care to use the ready cut mix of glace fruits, use two and one half cups of the mix. If separate fruits are used cut them up and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Cream ½ cup butter or margerine, add ½ cup honey, ½ teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg, 1 teaspoon each of salt and vanilla extract. Put this over the fruit, mix well and let stand for 2 hours. Roll ½ pound graham crackers and add to fruit mixing well. Pack into a loaf pan or glass dish and set in a cool place or refrigerator overnight. It may be served immediately or kept for several months to ripen. It will make about three pounds of cake.

DOT'S DASHES

by DOROTHEA FOSTER

Some people think August is far off but according to reports from the National Medical Association, August is just around the corner because they have set plans in motion for their convention and 60th anniversary celebration here in the city of Angels. Dr. John Givens, Executive Secretary of the NMA was in town from Norfolk, Va. to confer with Dr. Leroy Weeks and Dr. W. B. Humphrey on convention plans. Executive Board of Medical, Dental, Pharmaceutical Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Lydia McCain on Tuesday morning and their plans centered around the forthcoming Medical convention . . . so you see August is just around the corner. . . .

Charles Toney To Head Club

The Gaylords held their installation of officers in the fashionable home of club member Fred Wills last week.

Charles Toney was elected president and his cabinet will consist of Clarence Jackson, vice president; Thomas Waller, secretary; Wiley Wills, treasurer; Travis Moultrie, business manager; Fred Wills, publicity; John Hall, sergeant-at-arms and Alexander Harris, parliamentarian.

The newly elected president said that the club is planning an elaborate affair for the coming holidays. The next group meeting will be held at the home of Wiley Wills.

Alphas Plan Huge Benefit Variety Show

Among the "balls of fire" sparking the popular Alpha Phi Alpha benefit show Nov. 7 at the new Hollywood Canteen will be the Platters, a sensational vocal group; Ernie Andrews, recently acclaimed one of the nation's top vocalists; Shirley Bates, a very impressive dancer, and other equally as interesting. Jeep Smith and his orchestra will provide a musical atmosphere appropriate to all.

For creative and artistic abilities and for enhancing the beauty of Los Angeles women, Gladys Mondy, Hair Stylist and Beauty Consultant; and Johnetta Starks, Fashion Designer, will be cited by local chapters of the fraternity on this occasion.

Miss Mondy is a beauty columnist and an Associate Member of the L.A. Urban League Guild. Miss Starks' sensational "Pace Setter" is an indication to her House of Fashion's success.

Louise Jordan Weds In Nevada

LAS VEGAS—Francis Eugene Fegan and Georgia Louise Jordan, both of Los Angeles, were married here Sunday, October 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hodge, 502 W. McWilliams. The vows were solemnized by Rev. Austin, pastor of the local Methodist Church.

ALPHA BENEFIT SHOW—Members of the committee plan an outstanding show for Nov. 7 that will feature some of the nation's outstanding figures. Dr. E. H. Ballard, president, Graduate Chapter; Johnetta Starks, and Rossie Elliott assure Ernie Andrews, Gladys Mondy, and Johnnie Lee that this year's show will top them all.

'SH-BOOM' CHORDS, NO ADMISSION, OASIS FRIDAY

Stone Rage

"STONEY" BOY IS STILL ROCKING—Lawrence Stone was in the news again this week with the announcement that one of the top radio networks is dickering with him for a spotlight presentation on one of their top daytime shows. The little sonester is getting bids from all over because of his big pleasing "pipes."

Thesping

STRICTLY FOR THE SHOW—Captivating Camille Cannady is thesping afain. She will play the part of Mary McLeod, the spouse of the brutal Detective Sergeant when the Ebony Showcase opens its new show.

Chordacious

The 'Booming' record salesmen known as the Chords will tonsilize their "Sh Boom" and other hit "wax" beginning tomorrow nite at the newly face-lifted Club Oasis. This will mark the first west coast nitery appearance for the 'zippity-zooming quintet.'

People and Places

EDDIE SPEIGHT — Dapper Golden State Insurance Executive is closing a deal to land the swank Hillcrest club out West Washington way. If the deal jells he plans to make it one of the smartest bistros on the westside!

HUSH! HUSH!—is the treatment being given the reason why eight employees were dropped from the payroll of Columbia Records. The powers that be are said to have hinted loudly that subversive activities were the reason!

RENE VINSON—The winsome coffee brownskin who gazes menacingly daily at a Remington Rand in the office of Cleveland Wrecking Company is also the prexy of one our top social clubs!

LAWRENCE STONE — The little fellow with the big notes may land a top radio spot on CBS daytime program!

TERRY'S BAR — An interesting red-head at the North Bdwy bistro has the boys from the Registrar of Voters office flipping their lids!

ON HIS WAY—a national beer company making inroads in the Negro market on the West Coast isn't too happy with the results turned in by one of their brown salesman!

SOCIAL WHIRL — and over the weekend there were many. The Zeniths started off Friday with their smart Fox Hills affair. Saturday night the Sir Debuteers played host to 15 hundred and four fights. The Tweedsmen held sway over on the Westside with their Western Roundup and they rounded up a dazzling group of young, pretty, tender beauties. On Sunday afternoon the Lullaby Guild attracted the fashionable set out Hollywood way and Larchmont blvd. It was a beautiful sight in the late afternoon.

DUCKING BREAD — A well-known Central avenoo tooth puller had his shopping troubles late Friday when gal friend refused to be booted around in Smith's market. She responded by tossing everything she could lay her hands on and his grocery bill had risen to two figures when the firing ceased!

SUPPORT NEEDED—The two upper Broadway liquor stores owned and operated by two enterprising young Negroes deserve your support. Drop in at Jim's, 5017 S. Bdwy., or Thornton's, at 5524 S. Bdwy. Your buck will go farther!

LUCIUS LOMAX — Is making his final swing in the 16th district to land a seat in "Sacramento." The peasants can insure themselves and their children a bright future by getting out and voting. The same is true for our good brother Rayfield Lundy down in the 55th!

BILL WILLIAMS — Smooth, handsome head handshaker at the Club Oasis is doing a terrific job and we all love him for that!

ANGELA JOHNSON — The chic Western Avenoo waitress was showing her pretty Mother Lena La Conte and sister Kathleen Hamilton the good times

Record Stars' Western Date Will Be Great

The year's biggest new recording stars, The Chords, the group who zoomed to fame via their waxing of "Sh-Boom," will make their first West Coast nightery appearance beginning tomorrow night, Friday, October 22, at the Club Oasis, Western at 38th, inaugurating the Oasis' new policy of no admission, no cover charge.

The Oasis' offering will include a full show ranging from The Chords full program of their past favorites and newest record hits, plus the Harris Sisters, girls' trio vocal unit who sing as pretty as they look, and Johnny Anderson's orchestra for dancing on the spacious new dance platform.

The startling new policy of no door charge, cover charge or admission at the West Coast's jazz mecca, the Oasis, offers fabulous entertainment and dancing nightly within the reach of the general public's pocketbook.

'Bal Caribe' At Palladium Monday Night

The Lester Horton Dancers' costume gala, the Bal Caribe, will be held this Monday evening, Oct. 25, at the Hollywood Palladium, with a large turnout of mardi-gras spirited revellers expected for the hijinks.

Grand costumes parade, with prizes to be awarded by Grace Simons, Executive Editor of California Eagle and a panel of noted journalist-judges, will be followed by the show. An augmented Bobby Ramos orchestra will play for both dancing and the entertainment portion of the evening.

Tickets, now on sale at the Horton Dance Theater, the Palladium boxoffice and the Mutual Agency at the Southern California Music Co. in downtown Los Angeles, will also be available at the door the night of the gala affair, which is open to the general public.

ONCE UPON A SHOWTIME!!!

Elbow bending with ALICIA WILLIAMS, the LADY O'DIVIA who performed that under-water strip tease on Broadway (N.Y.) and who would often serve hamhocks and collard greens to her chums backstage at the CAPITOL theater. Vivacious little gal who is the sister of the late comic SLEEPY WILLIAMS, reminded us of the time CENTRAL AVENOO was a "Swing Street" and the club ALABAM boasted a flo' show that included IDA JAMES, MARIE BRYANT, RAE PEARL & YO-YO, PHA TERRELL, MABLE SCOTT and a line of 12 chorines that included NADINE COLES, ANISE BOYER, "BEAU" FRANKLIN, CLEO HAYES, etc. etc.

ANOTHER SHOWTIME

Attention JOHNNY GREEN: Some time ago a comedy act known as SHORT N' SHORTY agreed to disagree. So they split up. Short broke in a new Shorty. Shorty broke in a new Short. A legal battle ensued. The court decided that nitelifers would decide on the winner by its applause. And the matter was dropped. But the confusion was too much for the nation's audiences. So one of the teams changed its name to STUMP AND STUMPY. And they went on to become one of the greatest comedy teams of our time. Hope that answers your question, John Boy!

NEWSBEAT!

Village still prattling over the JAMES EDWARDS movie sequence in the show-stopping spot on last Sunday nite's Bank of America telecast saluting California. The Edwards lad is plenty "hot copy" at present what with that meaty role at Fox in "John Brown's Raiders," his "Amelika Joe" Tv'er Tuesday last and the lead role in Ebony Showcase's upcoming "DETECTIVE STORY"... WINCHELL itemed that one of the INKSPOTS attempted suicide by way of the iodine route but we haven't seen any mention of it elsewhere . . . RUSSELL EVANS the singing hoofer hasn't lost his showbiz wallop. Critics are all tossing orchids to his performances at the TURNABOUT theater where former shimmy Queen GILDA GRAY is also featured . . . Dapper EDWARD MOUTON is the latest entrant into the Realty biz. Operates out of JESSIE L. TAYLOR'S place at 1472 W. Vernon. All of the theater crowd turned out en-masse at Kappa Kastle to honor the eminent actor LEIGH WHIPPER, who left the scene Sunday. And altho' this newshawk attended the affair we never once got a glimpse of the honored guest. This smog situation has got to clear up. . . . Trouble with most of the round-town pawtees of nowaday is that if you arrive late most of the guests seem to have an alcoholier - than - thou attitude. No reflection on the Whipper affair tho. Just a SUDDEN THAWT! . . .

SHHHHHHH! HE'S ON THE BEAT!!!

Columnists don't always spiel all they know. A trio of the pillar's favorite married couples are near the breaking point. But we're keeping the data hush. Newsprint often has a way of widening the breach and they may be able to come to their senses if their squabbles aren't publicized! . . . Soaring "SASSY" VAUGHAN's torchy waxing of "Saturday" has young lovers falling all over themselves these Autumn nocturnes. . . . Best dressed pair round town's haunts: Winsome DOLLY McGHEE (newly grayed coiffure) and WHITCOMB "RIP" RILEY . . . Remember EMILY FOSTER? She's laying iron and warbling at the Champagne Supper Club in S. F.! . . . Former NEWSHEN ROSE MARLEY and her MARTY have put down the hustle and bustle of the civt for a couple of AZUSA, Calif rancho type homes . . . The Smart Set's music lovers are making it over to the Avenoo's DOWNBEAT Lounge to pick up on CARL PERKINS pianistics of the Acrosonic keyboard . . . Ex-Marine LEO "China Boy" LANE who put on that hat show at Musette's Famous Door lounge in CHI is due in town any paragraph. The lad is bringing his smog lenses as he plans to make this his permanent address.

You've prbobaly heard that "Risque" joke making the rounds about contestants in the brewery (Rheingold & 102) beauty sweepstates. If you haven't, DON'T . . . somebody really reached for that one! . . . Enjoyed cocktailing Confab at TOWN TAVERN following pawtee for Leigh Whipper . . . Roundtable consisted of MARJORIE ELLIOT, JOEL FLUELLYN, JAMES EDWARDS, BILL SMALLWOOD, MILDRED BLOUNT, BETTY HOWARD and yours truly! . . . and that's thirty for this trip, gentle READERS. If you like our material then "keep it in the act."

'TEEN TOPICS
MARLENA HART, Jefferson High Junior

Something new has been added at Jefferson this semester. The student body had brought together an organization called the "Pep Squad" which helps other pupils get that "school spirit" which we need. It consists of over a hundred members: boys and girls like Larry Johnson, Carol Byas, Charles Holmes, Zelda Reed, Tony Murray, Betty Davis, Frank Matthews, Betty Johnson, Welton Ervin, Rosemarie Byas, and others. A few of the cheer leaders who also participated in the meeting to help them learn their yells are: Gloria Pope, Janice Howell, Arnetta Goree, and Dorothy Hays, the temporary chairman is Gloria Pope.

On October 19, there was a session in the auditorium for all the students who bought P.T.A. memberships and featuring Johnny Otis and his band.

On October 26, there will be a concert in the East L.A. High auditorium and a group of students from the music classes of each high school are invited.

Have you heard the latest around the campus? Our head cheer leader, Gloria Pope and Varsity football player Robert Ryals seem to have drifted apart. Alberta Abney has moved in.

As long as Janice Howell had been liking Robert Dennis it seems as tho she had decided that she likes not Robert Dennis but a boy with the initials of W. P. Do you know who it is?

Our cheer leader Arnetta Goree and Varsity football player David Butler seem to be real tight. Let's hope it stays that way.

KENNETH SCOTT BRIDGE CLASSES AT OMEGA HOUSE

The key to bridge is its scientific method for opening and bidding and responding hand. The methods are being explained step by step as you play. You will see the distribution factors of balanced and unbalanced hands which will be proved by the mathematical formula that is being taught by Kenneth Scott.

It will take care of the distribution of the highest average of percentage of hands. New classes are opening at the Omega Fraternity House at 2069 Oxford avenue.

'SCHOOLMARM' WILL TROD THE BOARDS . . . Vivacious Mae Myers will be seen as Mrs. Farragut, who helps put the finger on crime in Ebony Showcase's soon to roll "Detective Story", next "live" attraction at Nick and Edna Stewart's.

Miller HIGH Lights
The Inside on Outsiders
By HAL MILLER

Being a student at that greater institution of higher learning, UCLA, I deem it only right and patriotic to praise the slaughter of Sanford at our hands, last Saturday. And that 70-0 score was the worst disaster since Tonto lost his underware. Much credit is due Hardi-Cureton, Doug Peters, Rommie Loudd and Sam Brown, a few of our stellar representatives on the Bruin powerhouse squad. Much of the same is expected when we pounce on California in two weeks. Speaking of Cal., one of the largest invasions since the Crusades is expected to attack the Bay area and the golden Bear . . . and the golden lovelies (we males do aspire such). But that's left for the future to provide. (Editors note: Reminder, your job is reporting, not speculating.) O.K., O.K.

Last weekends frolics shifted into high gear on Saturday night when the Tweedsmen and the Syndicators divided the partying populace with their respective affairs. Those gregarious-men about town called the Tweedsmen (who unfortunately monopolize an unjust ⅞ of the towns females) hosted a turnout crowd at the Park View in western style. From ten gallon hats to spurs was the attire and from plug to corn likker were the accessories. Bronco bustin' Roy Loggins appeared with his faithful squaw Yvonne. Also saw Barbara and Melvin Mansfield, Suzy and Cairo Colline, Thomas Green, just out of Uncle Sam's fraternity, appeared with his favorite lady-friend, Gloria Taylor. Others engrossed in the funning were Imogene Newsom, Barbara Washington (a cuz of mine from Kansas City), Horace Manure, Carol Gentry and many others. Music was furnished by the Stanley Roberson Quintette who honked the blues at this cowboy session. On the whole, 'Twas tuff . . . you know . . . like an uncooked buffalo steak.

Also, far out on the waters edge this same eve, that popular group of swains who alias under the name of Syndicators, greeted their guests at the Hollywood Riviera. This gay crowd after emptying the contents of the bar began eyeing the ocean (somewhat supporting a certain guzzlers notion that "juice is juice"). Sorry I didn't make this one.

LUCIE BRUCH and her violin have appeared in leading churches, auditoriums, music halls, radio, television, motion pictures, service camps, veteran hospitals and concert stages. Her splendid and flawless technique assures her success before the most critical audiences. Available for all occassions and instruction in string instruments at her Hollywood and Southwest studios (HOllywood 3-7438).

Bridge Pointers
By
'KENNY' SCOTT

Sometimes declarers are apt to give up before they have analyzed a hand thoroughly. An application of one simple principle will often turn a set into a make. Many hands which cannot be made by declarer's skill can be made by opponent's mistakes, and for this reason, it is our policy never to concede any tricks to the opponents but make them take them by their own volition. This was brought home to us one day when in a tournament, the West player threw away the setting trick in favor of holding the thirteenth card of a suit.

Hands which are made because the opponents surrender three tricks count just as much as if the most complicated coup had been executed to make the same contract.

Opponents May Err

One principle of helping the opponents to make a mistake is that of not leading out the last trump if it is higher than any of yours, even if you have trumps to burn. The only exception to this is when there is a long suit in dummy to run and only one entry to it. Then if the opponent ruffs this suit you have no way to get back to play the rest of them.

This hand is one which allows the opponents to make a mistake. It cannot be made if they don't, but psychologically the odds are in your favor that they will. The contract is six spades.

	S. Jxx H. AQ10x D. 10xx C. Kxx
S. Q10x H. Jx D. QJxx C. Qxx		S. x H. xxx D. AKxxxx C. 10xx
	S. AK8xxx H. K8xx D. C. AJx

The opening lead was a diamond which declarer ruffed. If the spades break, there is only one possible loser in the hand, the queen of clubs. Declarer then led the ace and king of spades and learned the horrible truth. As we watched the hand played, declarer then led a third trump, and later finessed and lost the queen of clubs. Down one.

Here declarer should leave West his high trump and save the one in dummy. He enters dummy on a heart, and ruffs a diamond. He enters dummy on another heart and ruffs the last diamond. Then he plays the next two hearts. The tendency will be for West to ruff one of these hearts. Then if he leads a diamond, there is a sluff and a ruff. If he leads a club, he leads it into the ace jack.

If West doesn't ruff, he must discard twice, which he can't do without unguarding the queen of clubs. Then South leads a trump, which throws West in, and if he has saved a diamond to lead out, South can now pick up his queen of clubs. This is a difficult hand, but at least South has given himself a chance.

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work, it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to (8) hours.

WORKING RULES

1. Where a single shift is worked, eight (8) consecutive hours between 7 A.M. and 5 P.M. shall constitute a day's work at straight time for all workers.
2. Forty (40) hours between Monday 7 A.M. and Friday 5 P.M. shall constitute a week's work at straight time.
3. All work performed in excess of eight (8) hours per day, or forty (40) hours per week, or on Holidays and Sundays shall be paid for at the rate for overtime of the craft involved.
4. Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded and upon all subcontractors under him to pay not less than said general prevailing rates of per diem wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at said BUILDING BRANCH of the Board of Education, must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond issued by a surety company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles, shall be sealed and filed with the Counter Clerk of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 South San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, by not later than 2:00 P.M. on the date or dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

trip Miss Keyes, then a WAC stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., was making to her home in Washington, N. C.

On September 30 this year, Friedson recommended that the ICC dismiss Miss Keyes' complaint. Answering her attorneys' argument that segregation in transportation could not be sanctioned in the light of the Supreme Court decision ending segregation in public schools, Friedson said the court decision did not affect a private business such as "a carrier engaged in the for-hire transportation of passengers."

The Justice Department took action to support the position advanced by the NAACP earlier this year in a complaint in which it asked the ICC to ban all segregation in interstate travel. The Association charged that railroads in the South were still trying to enforce segregation of Negro and white interstate passengers despite some Supreme Court rulings outlawing such practices.

No broad rule, however, has ever been established on segregation in interstate travel by either the Supreme Court or the commission.

The Supreme Court has declared unlawful, for example, dining car segregation rules on the Southern Railway. But its decision was limited to that particular case, lacking the scope of its sweeping opinion of last May declaring illegal segregation in all public schools in the nation.

The ICC held hearings on the association's complaint earlier this year and was told by association witnesses that segregation existed on trains in interstate travel in the South whether admitted or not.

Central Area Sets $27,000 Chest Quota

With the 1954-55 Community Chest campaign opening Nov. 4, South central Area Chest Chairman Mrs. E. K. Rakestraw announced this week that her area will be shooting for $27,267 this year.

This $27,267 represents the area's quota of the $8,652,000 over-all Los Angeles goal. The 8 million plus goal is needed to help support the 164 health and welfare services in the Los Angeles Community Chest.

Breakdown of South Central's goal shows that District 8 will raise $7,558 and Districts 5 and 6 under the leadership of Vice-Chairmen Roy Nelson and Mrs. Thomas J. Pinchback will be seeking $19,709.

In accepting the area quota, Mrs. Rakestraw told her volunteers "each and every person enrolled this year must do his best, if we are going to have a 100 per cent year."

Mrs. Parks faces eight specific counts, accusing her of excessive drinking, emotional instability, poor judgment and temperamental unfitness for the post of policewoman.

Mrs. Parks, who lives at 2325 Tenth avenue, was the first Negro woman to move into the block. She and her neighbor, also colored, have been repeatedly approached with offers to buy them out, Lieut. Washington stated.

Following Mrs. Parks' testimony, and that of several other defense witnesses, both sides may call rebuttal witnesses. After that, the panel will weigh the issues and arrive at its recommendations.

Early Resident Taken by Death

Funeral services were held here Monday for Mrs. Audrey Ward, long time resident of this city. Mrs. Ward died Wednesday, Oct. 13, after a short illness. She had suffered a stroke.

Rosary was recited Sunday evening in the chapel of Peoples Mortuary, where the body was prepared for burial. Funeral services were conducted Monday morning in the Roman Catholic Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Interment followed in Holy Cross cemetery.

The deceased was a native of Dallas, Texas. She had resided here for over 30 years. She is survived by three sons: Virgil M. Ward, Murphy A. Ward and Richard Ward; her mother, Mrs. Maude Minor; and sisters and brothers and in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Layton Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Minor, Mrs. Alyce Lynch and Mrs. Marilee Morris; and Alexander Minor of San Francisco.

Las Vegas Project Invites Negro Owners

Berkley Square, the first Negro housing project in the State of Nevada, has been responsible for many of the firsts for Negroes in the city of Las Vegas.

This week Dr. Charles I. West, Negro doctor from Detroit, purchased a three-room home in the Berkley Square housing project. Dr. West is the first Negro, M.D. to pass the State of Nevada Medical Examining Board, and also the first to practice in the city of Las Vegas.

Berkley Square consists of 148 3-bedroom, air-conditioned homes, moderately priced.

Berkley Square will house the majority of the 2000 Negroes who will be employed in the six new hotels being erected in the country's top gambling city.

Las Vegas, one of the fastest growing cities in the USA, has also been growing in Negro population. Until the Western Development Company of Los Angeles built Berkley Square, the Negro community lived in typical Jim Crow squalor.

Berkley Square homes are V.A. and F.H.A. approved, making them available to Vets and non-Vets at $10,450, with 30 years to pay.

Graves to Discuss Civil Rights Stand

Goodwin J. Knight, is on record against F.E.P.C., or in fact against any effective action to combat intolerance and discrimination.

"Knight makes no secret about his opinions on the subject," said Graves. "Knight opposes F.E.P.C. unqualifiedly. Knight was a bitter foe of Governor Earl Warren when he was in office," Graves stressed. "He disagreed completely with Warren's liberal priciples and social-minded legislation.

"On the other hand, Warren saw fit to appoint me State Director of Civil Defense in 1942. I am proud to say that I have been a longtime admirer of Warren. And I enthusiastically approved of his role as Chief Justice in the Supreme Court decision ending segregation in the schools.

"I want to point out, though, that the Supreme Court decision was based on work done and the case prepared by the Truman Democratic Administration," Graves said.

"All the hate-peddlers, the anti-Negro and anti-Jewish elements are now supporting Knight in the current campaign," Graves charged. "These extremists are fighting me, and that is just the way I want it.

"Knight has identified himself down through the years with these extremist elements," Graves went on. "On the subject of unemployment and the current economic crisis, Knight said recently the situation 'is not alarming.' He added that there are 'plenty of jobs in Ventura County picking lemons' for those who are unemployed.

"Knight has always been opposed to any sort of liberal legislation which would mean an expanded housing program for those who need it most—namely people subjected to discrimination in housing," Graves declared.

"For my part, I renew my pledge that as Governor of California, I will work at all times to expand housing opportunities for all our citizens," concluded the Democratic nominee for Governor.

tained a court injunction ordering the school authorities to re-admit the children.

Immediately thereafter the Milford School Board appealed to the State Supreme Court to hold up the injunction. Hearing on their appeal has been set for Friday.

New Threats

The forces that have coalesced around bad-check artist Bryant W. Bowles and his National Association for the Advancement of White People, however, have threatened to boycott the school again if the Negroes are admitted. Trouble at the school gates is regarded as certain to develop, according to an on-the-spot check by the New York Times.

Meanwhile on Friday in the state capital, Dover, authorities are holding a hearing for the purpose of depriving Bowles' NAAWP of its charter.

Houstonians Give Check to Freedom Drive

Adding stimulus in a concrete way to the NAACP Freedom Seals Drive, the Houstonians Social and Charity Club presented the first check given by a local club in the 1954 drive, in the amount of $50, to Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles Branch, Monday.

Roy M. Moore, club treasurer, gave the check to Dr. Robinson in the presence of club president, Lawrence C. Burrell, club members Mamie Graves and Para Lee Jefferson, and Percy McDavid, chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Freedom Seals Drive.

All of the 32 members of the Houstonians have pledged themselves, individually, to support the Freedom Seals Drive by buying and using Freedom Seals.

Feeling that many clubs of the city will want to follow suit, Mrs. Emily Woody, general chairman of the Freedom Seals Drive committee, has invited all social, civic, charitable and religious clubs to a "Reception for Clubs" to be held on Sunday, Oct. 31, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Wilfandel House, 3125 W. Adams blvd. Clubs are urged to send at least one representative to the reception and become active "Boosters for Freedom" during the 1954 Freedom Seals drive.

Rheingold Gold Trophys To Four Charity Groups

The Rheingold Brewing Company having recently established the Rheingold Club Awards as part of its program of civic activities on the West Coast is happy to announce the decision of the panel of judges in selecting the first four clubs for the month of October.

The judges consisting of chairman Jessie Mae Brown, Mrs. Ouida Williams, Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, Paul Williams and Bill Watkins chose as winners: The Urban League Guild; Sojourner Truth Home; The Les Bienfaisontes and The Zeniths. These four clubs will be presented gold trophys and a $100 check each which will be donated to their favorite charity at the Awards Winners Banquet at the Rheingold Inn for the entire membership of the organizations. The Rheingold awards are given to those clubs which have done most toward bettering their communities in a civic and charitable manner. On the 20th of each month four clubs are selected for these awards.

The Urban League Guild, considered an "arm" of the local Urban League has contributed 1142 memberships which amount to $.455.00 and has just recently donated to the agency $1,600. A part of its community program is the sponsoring of two art and craft shows, which had as its purpose, the cultural uplift of the community and a base for interpreting Urban League program and services to the total community.

The Zeniths maintain a yearly charitable project and donate to the School and Home for the Mentally Retarded Children. During the year over $1500 has been donated and has enabled the Foundation to recently purchase a new home and school.

The Les Bienfaisontes were formed for the express purpose of assisting in the welfare of unwed mothers and their infants. This end has been met by providing layettes for these mothers as their charitable project. In two years over 1000 layettes have been given through the Avalon Health Center to women, regardless of race, creed or color. As a secondary charitable unit, donations of subscriptions for many of the Negro newspapers are given to hospitalized men and women.

The Sojourner Truth Home now celebrating its 50th Anniversary has housed over 3000 self-supporting girls over a period of years. The home is a pioneer in the welfare work in Los Angeles and on a non-profit basis can now house 30 girls. For fifty years the objective of the home has been to develop the highest of Christian womanhood and to encourage and promote efficient service.

RHEINGOLD SPICE CAKE

1 cup Rheingold Beer
1 cup seedless raisins
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
g cup shortening
1¼ cups sugar
2 eggs, seperated

Turn Rheingold over raisins. (If cold, and carefully poured, it will not foam and will be easy to measure.) Let stand 15 minutes. Mix and sift together 3 times flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and raisins. Add cinnamon. Cream shortening, until soft. Add Sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy after each addition. Add egg yolks. Blend well. Add flour alternately with Rheingold a small amount at a time, beating until smoot after each addition. Foid in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into 2 square cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) thirty minutes or until done. Approximate yield: two layers.

3,000 Crowd Jail, Sleeping on Floor; Rioting Threatens

By DONNA PREE

Los Angeles, the city of the angels, the city of the golden sunshine, beautiful freeways and lovely parks.

Los Angeles County boasts of a population of four millions and the seventh largest penal institute in America — the County Jail. Large, that is, in enrollment, not area.

Personal Tour

An Eagle reporter was taken on a personal tour of this 28-year-old structure Tuesday and viewed with alarm the prisoners crowded together like so many cattle, sleeping on hard cement floors.

You may say to yourself, "They're just prisoners. So what?" They're also human. Human beings can only stand so much, then there's a breaking point. The breaking point in any penal institute can only result in disaster, disaster for the inmates and prison officials alike.

We've read about prison riots and "breaks" in other sections of our country. But it will mean nothing to us until it strikes home; until it happens here.

Too Little Space

One of the elements that is dangerously present in the County Jail is that there are too many inmates for so little space.

The county jail was built 28 years ago to house 1800 inmates. Today it has a daily turnover of 3000 prisoners, almost twice the capacity it can comfortably hold. According to Inspector A. V. Eangland, at one peak last year the jail housed 3100 prisoners.

The trip to the jail kitchen proved, as Lt. Cappel and Inspector Eangland had pointed out, that the menu was excellent. Each day there are different and appetizing dishes prepared by competent chefs.

No Recreation

The tanks are kept clean by the inmates. The jail itself is as clean as can be expected considering the overcrowded conditions.

It is utterly impossible to carry on any program of rehabilitation, such as schooling, workshops or any form of artcraft that would interest the inmates. The axiom, "An idle mind is the devil's work shop"

P.O. Worker's Murder Trial Goes to Jury

The fate of Rufus Elliott, postal clerk at the Terminal Annex, who was accused of murdering Louis Tackwood, alleged dope peddler, last June 24 was headed for the jury Thursday.

On Wednesday afternoon Atty. Crispus Wright, who represented Elliott, made his summation and plea to the jury. In supporting his client's claim that he had shot Tackwood in self-defense, Wright tried to impeach the testimony of the state's star witness, Amos Black.

Black testified early in the trial that he had seen Elliott chasing Tackwood minutes before the fatal shooting in a parking lot near 5th street and Gladys avenue, although defense witnesses related an entirely different story. According to their testimony, Tackwood chased Elliott into the lot where the two scuffled.

In answering routine questions about his occupation, Black had stated he was an employe of the California

EAGLE TELLS CHOICES IN TUESDAY ELECTION

Demo Record Merits Support Of Community

Richard Graves, Democratic candidate for governor, heads the list of Eagle recommendations on the Nov. ballot. Edward Roybal is the Eagle choice for lieutenant governor and Samuel W. Yorty is picked for United States senator.

The Eagle urges the election of Daniel Raeburn as secretary of state; George D. Collins for controller; George E. Johnson for state treasurer and Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for attorney general. William G. Bonnelli is the selection for member of the Board of Equalization and

Edward Roybal

Richard Richards is picked for state senator. All are Democrats.

Congressional candidates getting the Eagle endorsement are Frank O'Sullivan, 15th district; Mark Hogue, 16th; Eugene Redding, 20th; Chet Holifield, 19th; Cecil R. King, 17th; Clyde W. Doyle, 23rd; George Arnold, 24th and James Rooosevelt, 26th. They, too, are Democrats.

In assembly districts the Eagle chooses Rayfield Lundy in the 55th; Augustus F.

Richard Richards

Hawkins, 62nd; Lucius Lomax, 63rd; Jesse Unruh, 65th and Charles H. Wilson, 66th. Lundy is a Republican and the others are Democrats.

The Eagle urges a resounding "No" vote on Proposition 3 which would set up a state liquor czar and an emphatic "Yes" vote on Proposition Four which will raise the ceiling on old age pensions. Among the county proposals, the most meritorious is Proposition C which would provide facilities for a county farm to relieve overcrowding in the county jail. Full recommendations on all propositions are given on Page 3.

The preponderance of Democratic choices is accounted for by the Eagle's belief that except in exceptional cases the

Walter White Improves; Doctors Order Long Rest

NEW YORK — Walter White, stricken two weeks ago by a severe heart attack, was recovering this week, although his physicians have ordered absolute rest and have advised that he will not be able to return to his NAACP post for an indefinite period of time.

They report, however, that he is now making "satisfactory progress," according to NAACP national headquarters.

White was hospitalized in New York Hospital early this month, but was released after a stay of four days. He suffered another severe attack on the 12th and was rushed back to the hospital. Last Monday he was placed under an oxygen tent. Roy Wilkins, NAACP administrator who was on a speaking tour on the West Coast, received an urgent call to return to New York immediately.

FADED CLIPPING TELLS OF FIREMAN'S HEROISM

White firemen are antagonistic to associating with Negro firemen, according to Fire Chief Alderson, but back in 1898 there were a lot of white firemen in Los Angeles who were proud to call a man who was born into slavery their friend.

George Washington Bright, who had been born in 1862 near Austin, Texas, a slave owned by John B. Hancock, joined the Los Angeles Fire Department on a temporary basis in 1898.

Rookie Fireman

Two weeks after he became a fire-fighter, he was sent to his first fire. A two-story building at Rockwood street and Union avenue was in flames when his company reached the scene. Thomas Holmes, later Lieut. Holmes, was sent up through the attic to the roof of the building and the hose passed up to him.

Flames spread rapidly, curling up the four outside walls of the building. Holmes became exhausted from the heat and the smoke. Death seemed certain.

Bright Volunteered

Two men were ordered to go through the trap-door leading to the roof to rescue him, but they refused to risk their lives. The rookie fireman volunteered and climbed to the aid of his exhausted comrade. He slipped through the trap-door, put his arms around Holmes and eased him down to safety.

Bright was no longer on a temporary basis. He was confirmed in his position and promoted to hoseman, later winning another promotion to driver of Chemical Engine No. 1.

On his 65th birthday, March 17, 1927, Bright was honored with a celebration at the Second Baptist church, of which he was a member. The top brass of the Fire Department was on hand to tell what they thought of the courageous, heroic George Washington Bright.

Old Clipping

Bright's story would by now be little more than a fast-fading memory in the minds of a few old-timers, were it not for the fact that a newspaper clipping telling of his exploits had

Odessa Dropped From Force for Killing Husband

Mrs. Odessa Parks, acquitted a month ago of the charge of murdering her husband, Hilliard Parks Green, was dropped from the police force Tuesday for "firing a gun at her husband which resulted in his death" and for "conduct unbecoming a police officer."

The three-man panel of judges composing the trial board of the Police Department of Internal Affairs, which reviewed the case, apparently ignored the inconstancy of firing Mrs. Parks for the same set of circumstances which the courts held was justifiable homicide.

Swift Decision

Action on Mrs. Parks' appeal for reinstatement to her job was swift, once the evidence, summation and argument were completed. The case was submitted to the board late Tuesday afternoon. After a little over an hour's deliberation, the panel returned a verdict finding her guilty of six charges and innocent of two others, and recommended her dismissal.

The verdict was handed down shortly before 5 p.m. Within a few minutes it had been approved and signed by Chief William Parker.

Can Appeal

Three of the counts on which the board found Mrs. Parks guilty dealt with the killing of her husband for which they held, there was "no reasonable excuse." The two counts on which she was held not guilty dealt with allowing minors to drink in her home.

Mrs. Parks could appeal the decision to the Police Commission, or she could press for reinstatement through the courts.

Lt. Roscoe "Rocky" Washington, who fought tenaciously in defending Mrs. Parks, told the Eagle that she intended, however, to rest for a few days and then attempt to find other employment to support herself and her young daughter.

Mrs. Parks was attached to the Police Department for approximately 10 years prior to the Sunday afternoon last May when she fired the fatal shot that brought death to her husband. She was stationed at Newton and worked with the youngsters in the Deputy Auxiliary Police, where she seemed especially popular with the teen-agers.

Florida Union Plans to Drop Negro Local

NEW YORK—Fifty-two Negro bricklayers and masons have been admitted to membership in Local 7 of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union, AFL, in Dade County, Fla., it was announced here this week by Herbert Hill, labor relations assistant for the Association.

The first ten Negroes were admitted into the union in August. Since that time 42 additional Negro mechanics have been admitted and plans are being made to disband the independent all-Negro union.

AFL Endorses Integration In Fire Department

Unequivocal support for integration in the Los Angeles Fire Department was demanded by the AFL Central Labor Council this week in a resolution in which the Council repudiated the action of the Fire Fighters local which has been backing Fire Chief John H. Alderson's Jim Crow policies.

Meanwhile little action was expected from the Board of Fire Commissioners pending the return of one of its members from a trip to Japan. He is expected to return about Nov. 9.

After his return, the Commission is scheduled to have a showdown with Chief Alderson with an order directing him to integrate Negro firemen in the various fire stations. The chief has said that he will resign if the Commission takes away his power to assign personnel.

Local ministers joined the fight against racial segregation last week when the Ministerial Alliance applauded Attorney Herbert Simmons' suggestion that they take positive action to back Mayor Norris Poulson's persistent demand that all racial bars be dropped in the department.

Negro fire fighters are now assigned to Stations 30 and 14, both located on Central avenue. They are not permitted to transfer to other stations. Richard K. Yeamans is expected to introduce a resolution providing for the re-assignment of Negroes to all fire stations, with no more than two at each station, when the full board meets.

Killer of Rival Guilty of 2nd Degree Murder

Mrs. Doris Jean Johnson, 1321 E. 21st street, who elected to place her fate in the hands of Judge LeRoy Dawson rather than face the rigors of a jury trial, last Friday was found guilty of second degree murder.

She will be sentenced next month.

Mrs. Johnson, who pleaded self defense, was accused of killing her alleged rival, Miss Arleane Kizzee, of 3130 Naomi avenue, last July 10, in the women's lounge of the Texas Barbecue, 3171 S. Central avenue.

Judge Waring Testimonial Set In S. Carolina

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Judge and Mrs. J. Waties Waring are being given a homecoming banquet here Nov. 6.

Judge Waring was the courageous judge who, long before the Supreme Court school decision, ruled in a minority opinion that segregation means inequality. For his firm stand for civil rights, he earned the enmity of many of his fellow whites in Jimmy Byrnes' state, and after retiring went to New York to live.

The homecoming banquet is being sponsored by the NAACP as a testimonial in his honor.

Negroes to Vote For Democrats

A nationwide Gallup Poll released Wednesday shows the overwhelming proportion of Negroes throughout the country will vote for Democratic candidates.

In states outside the South, 77 percent of the Negroes will vote Democratic against 23 percent who will vote Republican.

In the South the figures are Democrats, 73 percent; Republicans, 27 percent.

EXPLOSIVE—One of the major scandals of Los Angeles County is the inhuman overcrowding at the County Jail. There are so many prisoners crammed into the tanks and cells that many of them are forced to sleep in rows on the floors as shown above. Sheriffs officers brand the conditions "explosive." SEES VICTORY—Lucius W. Lomax, Jr., Eagle-supported Democratic nominee in the 63rd district, sees victory at the polls next Tuesday as he poses with his wife and five children. Lomax lauded bi-partisan, interracial support that his campaign has received, also emphasizing that although he publishes a newspaper, the community press, like the California Eagle, has laid aside traditional rivalries to urge his election. KNIGHT RECORD WINS PRAISE, VICTORY SEEN

The Committee To Retain Governor Knight, which has been the leading organized effort on behalf of Goodwin J. Knight to succeed himself as Governor of the State of California, in the 55th, 62nd and 63rd Assembly Districts, this week forecast a large majority for the Governor in these districts.

The leadership comprised of co-chairmen is composed of W. H. "Bill" Watkins, Bertrand E. Bratton, M. Earl Grant, Atty. Everette M. Porter, J. LaMar Hill, Celestus A. King III, Atty. David W. Williams, Paul R. Williams and Mrs. Leontyne King, director of women's affairs.

"Issues in the campaign have been gone into by the committee, and the findings passed along to the people in an understandable manner. The committee has not once attempted to mislead or stampede the voters into camp by false or loose pledges on behalf of their candidate. They have placed before the people of the area the record of achievements of Governor Knight, the man, the lawyer, the judge on the bench and finally, the Governor of the State of California, and asked the voters to go to the polls in one of the greatest off-year elections and cast their votes for Governor Knight," a spokesman said.

"J. LaMar Hill's appointment to the Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors by Governor Knight was one of the most important appointments made by a chief executive of any state in the nation. Governor Knight has promised not to stop there.

The new Educational Center of the Calvary Baptist church of which the Rev. W. P. Carter is pastor, will when completed offer Santa Monica and the youth many educational advantages and development opportunities.

It will consist of a child care center, nursery, health center, social hall, choir rooms, Holy Communion room, and various other rooms which wil take care of the extreme need of the church for added space and facilities.

Graves' Election Is Urged By Citizens

Formation of a "Citizens Committee for Democracy," to work for the election of the entire Democratic slate in next Tuesday's important election was announced today by Don Derricks, Chairman of the 62nd Assembly District Democratic Council, spokesman for the new group.

"We are pledged to support Richard Graves for Governor, as well as the other fine Democratic candidates this year," said Derricks.

"Graves is committed to work for a fair employment practices law immediately," Derricks emphasized.

"On the other hand, Republican Governor Goodwin J. Knight is opposed to any law which would enforce fair employment practices. He has said so on many occasions.

"Further, Graves will work for full employment. He favors attracting more industries to California and promoting public works to take up the slack of unemployment.

"Knight, when asked about unemployment, said recently that 'There are plenty of jobs in Ventura County picking lemons.'"

Among the many members of the Southside Committee for Graves and the other Democratic candidates are:

Mrs. Fay Allen, William Bailus, William D. Barksdale, Sam Bottler, Mrs. Sadie Brewer, Mrs. Mabel Gray, Mrs. Ethel Bryant, Libby Clarke, Frank Clarke, Henry W. Davis, Herman Davis, Miss Glendora Dawson, Beatrice De Vaughn, Lorenza Foster, Glendora Gee, Mrs. Marjorie Giles, Mrs. Fannie M. Leonard, Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, Edward A. Hawkins, Mrs. Clyde G. Howell, Elbert T. Hudson.

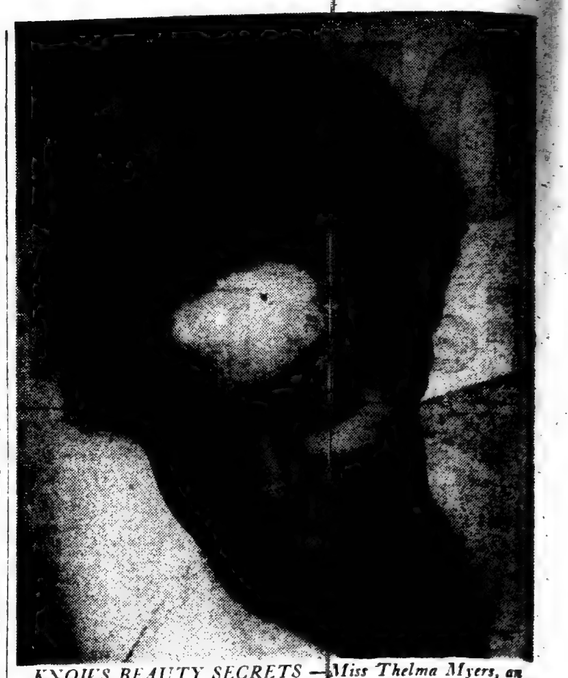
There seems to be an organized fight of a fascist nature to maintain segregation in the Los Angeles Fire Department, according to Myra Tanner Weiss.

Proposition 'C' Will Ease Jail Overcrowding

In urging passage of Proposition C on Tuesday's ballot, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz stated this week:

"Proposition C will provide funds for expansion of maximum security facilities at the Wayside Honor Rancho, releasing much needed space in the County Jail, now housing almost double the prisoners for which it was originally designed.



"Its passage will make it possible to isolate hardened criminals from first offenders, sex criminals from the many young men and women who

Demos on TV Will Advocate State FEPC

"Is a fire chief a higher authority than our Supreme Court?" This is the challenge laid down by the candidates of principle, Richard Graves, Democratic candidate for governor; Edward R. Roybal, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor; the Hon. George Collins, Jr., Democratic condidate for state controller; and Richard Richards, Democratic candidate for state senator, on a television boardcast to be made Monday, Nov. 1, Station KTLA, at 7:45 p.m.

"A Fair Employment Practices Law is now long overdue in California," is the assertion of these candidates, who will discuss the subject of FEPC on the program.

McCarthyism, thought-control, and the attack on our Bill of Rights will be fearlessly dealt with by these candidates on Monday night, Nov. 1.

LET'S BEAT 'MAN WHO MOVED AWAY'

When Negro families started moving into his neighborhood a few years ago, Republican Congressman Gordon L. McDonough skittered away like a scared coyote. He maintains a voting address at his relative's place in Leimert Park and lives in a lily-white neighborhood in Washington, D. C. He does not even have a headquarters in this district. McDonough is an absentee landlord, keeping power over people whom he "can't stand" to associate with.

Voted against letting West Indian Negroes enter U.S. on the same quota as whites. Voted for anti-minority Walter-McCarren Act.

Voted 9 times against social security and aid to the disabled. Voted against increased unemployment benefits. Voted to prevent addition of 10 million more workers to minimum wage coverage.

Voted to kill non-segregated public housing. Voted to prevent insertion of an anti-discrimination clause in federally financed housing contracts.

Voted against building a memorial veterans hospital in honor of Booker T. Washington.

Voted three times to kill a national FEPC.

Voted big tax cuts for corporations, against income tax cuts for working Americans.

We're telling McDonough to move away, go away, and stay away. We're voting for a man whose good record we've known for years . . .

Workers Richer; Get Overtime Pay

Twelve workers this week were richer by hundreds of dollars each as a result of action by Wage and Hour and Public Contracts divisions of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The 12 were yard employes of the Advance Junk Co. of Long Beach who, despite the Fair Labor Standards Act which calls for overtime pay for all work in excess of 40 hours per week, were paid straight time for weeks at a time.

The men sought assistance from the Department of Labor, which processed the case, took it to the courts and finally, after appeals, won a verdict in favor of the workers.

On Tuesday the department distributed individual checks to the men in the following amounts:

Jimmie Bumpers, $545.55; Johnny Bumpers, $385.20; Cernall Lacy, $88.81; Harvest Lacy, $103.59; Theodore Lee, $220.90; Louis C. McConnell, $92.02; Fred W. Thornton, $90.38; James Thornton, $109.40; Freddie Williams, $232.21; Lester B. Williams, $170.97; Lucius Williams, $174.99; Willie M. Williams, $43.42.

The total amount sought by the workers was $1804.29. The trial before Judge William M. Byrne resulted in a judgment for the full amount plus interest to date, amounting to an additional $453.15. On appeal, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the lower court and ordered the Advance Junk Co. to pay. Their check for $2257.44 was received and converted into individual checks for distribution to the 12 laborers who had requested help.

Elks Schedule Public Forum For Candidates

Leading candidates in the forthcoming elections will appear at a public forum Sunday, Oct. 31, at 4 p.m., sponsored by the Elks Civil Liberties Department, at 4016 S. Central avenue.

Among those who have already signified their intention to be present, according to A. B. Clay, director of the Civil Liberties Dept., are: Rayfield Lundy, Lucius Lomax, James Roosevelt, Vernon Kilpatrick, Richard Richards, William G. Bonelli, Frank P. O'Sullivan and Mildred Younger.

Richard Graves, Democratic candidate for governor, is also expected to attend, although confirmation has not yet been received, Clay stated.

Gov. Goodwin Knight and Sen. Thomas Kuchel, Republicans seeking reelection, will participate, Clay added. Edward Roybal, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, has advised that he will be in the San Francisco bay area and therefore unable to attend.

In all 20 local and state candidates are expected to attend. The 35-piece band of the Golden West Elks will render musical selections. There will also be performances by stars.

It's Prosperity Insurance!

Proposition 5 renews a 40-year old law exempting home-owned ships from personal property tax levies that can't be assessed against foreign and out-of-State ships.

California ships could not compete, tax-wise, without this protection, and in many cases would be forced to seek registry in other ports, spending there the many millions of dollars for repairs and provisioning now spent in California.

A healthy shipping industry is vital to California's prosperity. Shipping furnished jobs for 20,000 Californians last year with a payroll of more than 100 million dollars! Every county in every section of the State benefits in terms of wider markets and better prices for products, more business volume, more stability, more job protection.

Everybody favors Proposition 5: the Democratic Party and the Republican Party, the Farm Bureau Federation, the State Federation of Labor, the State Chamber of Commerce, the California Federation of Women's Clubs and scores of other civic, labor, business, women's and patriotic organizations.

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. Representation in Government.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Where Credit Belongs

Politics being what it is, we suppose that voters won't be surprised to get the current GOP mailing piece which depicts President Eisenhower as another Lincoln and the Republic Party as the champion of civil rights for Negroes.

The Republicans give substance to their shadowy claims by taking credit for all of the advances made in the field of race relations in the past two years. The record won't bear them out.

The most signal advance was made in the school segregation cases. However, the cases were filed long before the 1952 election, and the decision was made by a Supreme Court numbering eight Roosevelt-Truman appointees and only one Eisenhower justice.

Integration in the armed forces has made giant strides in the past two years but the machinery was put in motion by President Truman and it is only the accident of the time table that was set for its achievement that brought the integration program to fruition under President Eisenhower.

Segregation in places of public accommodation in Washington has faded rapidly since 1952 but again the litigation that spelled its doom was instituted under the Truman regime and the Supreme Court finally handed down its decision after the last presidential election. In that case all of the judges were Roosevelt-Truman appointees.

The truth of the matter is that the accomplishments of the past two years are the fruit of the long New Deal-Fair Deal crusade against racial segregation and discrimination. The GOP deserves little credit for any of them; the Republicans just happened to be in office when they were consummated.

The Republican Party flunked out in the field where it could have shown its true colors when it failed to pass legislation of any kind bearing on civil rights. From the way it looks to us, major credit for what has been done doesn't belong to either the Democrats or the Republicans. It belongs to the NAACP, and the hundreds and thousands of members of the Association, who have waged a half century struggle against consistent and persistent denial of constitutional rights and privileges.

In the face of long odds and bitter disappointments, the NAACP filed and fought to conclusion the series of cases that have doomed so much discrimination. Those cases weren't won by the Republicans or the Democrats. They were won by the NAACP with the support and backing of all kinds of Americans who want their country to practice the democracy it preaches.

Individual Democrats and individual Republicans have aided mightily in the NAACP's long fight. However, impartial historians will be bound to give the major share of whatever credit belongs to a particular political party to the Democrats for the forces they set in motion under Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

Housing For Americans

The National Urban League has urged President Eisenhower to bring Federal Housing Administration practices in line with his announced policy of non-discrimination by Federal agencies by directing it to adopt a rule that every builder who secures an FHA loan be required to covenant that he will not discriminate in the sale or rental of resultant housing.

"The Federal Government has the same right and power and duty to require non-discrimination in FHA mortgage insurance as it has to require that holders of government contracts shall not discriminate in employing or upgrading of workmen," the Board of Trustees of the League said at its last meeting.

President Robert Dowling of the League is quite correct in saying that the "continuance of the racially restricted ghetto by FHA mortgage insurance practices is the most serious situation facing us in the housing field today. If the FHA would take action and put its practices in line with the President's stated nondiscriminatory policies, a giant step would be taken toward improving the housing supply of the nation."

Mr. Dowling could have added that only the elimination of the racially restricted ghetto can give meaning and substance to the Supreme Court's decision outlawing segregated schools. Schools, and other public and semi-public institutions, will remain segregated so long as residential segregation flourishes.

The government's present policy of "building housing for minorities" may be well conceived but it is dangerous. Its success within that framework can only mean an extension of the nation's ghettos. The correct policy is that implicit in the League program of building housing for Americans open to Americans.

Long Step Forward

Henri O'Bryant, who has made quite a name for himself in the manufacturing of robes for church choirs, is the moving spirit behind a movement of local business men to form an organization to promote the best interests of their own business institutions and the community in which they operate.

We think that Mr. O'Bryant has something, as the current phrase goes. For one reason or another, business men in Negro communities have never organized as business men in other communities have. That failure has redounded to their own disadvantage and to the disadvantage of their customers and clients.

The lack of organization has kept them from sharing in many benefits that they could have had from various government programs and in many instances has prevented them from getting the credit that is necessary for successful business ventures. The net result has been that many businesses that could have prospered have failed and with their failure workmen have not been able to get employment. The short of it is that the whole community has suffered.

We hope that Mr. O'Bryant can inspire other business men to follow his lead. We'll all be better off if he does.

Let's Share Burden

The Community Chest quota for the so-called Central area has been set at $27,000. That sounds like a lot of money. It is a lot of money if the giving is to be confined to a few.

If the burden is divided — as it ought to be—among all of us, $27,000 isn't much. We're willing to guess that there are 27,000 heads of families in the area. If each of such persons gave a dollar the quota would be subscribed without any trouble and with only a minimum of fanfare.

The Community Chest is a cooperative venture in which all citizens pool their resources to help the unfortunate few get over the rough spots. The Chest supports all kinds of institutions in our neighborhood. All of us benefit from that aid and assistance. All of us should pitch in and help.

The Chest drive will start November 4. Get ready to do your part.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

New York's 18,000 organized laundry workers made themselves an elegant gift well in advance of Christmas last week. So impressive was the wrapping, some might have mistaken it for the gift itself. The wrapping consisted of $1,300,000 worth of beautiful, modern-designed, completely equipped building — the new Amalgamated Laundry Workers Health Center on W. 34th street.

Lester Granger

Though the center was erected by and for the membership of the laundry workers unions of the New York metropolitan area, it has an interest for the rest of the country that goes far beyond geographical boundaries.

Especially does it have an interest for Negro Americans, for the center is an imposing, visible symbol of what can be done when colored and white Americans, faced with a common problem and inspired by a common determination, can do together against heavy odds.

Starvation Industry

Most of the union's members are colored men and women. They work in what has been called "a starvation industry." The description is apt. The owners don't starve, though some go broke now and then. But in the past, laundry workers have lived so close to starvation that they have shaken hands with hunger regularly.

It's a cut-throat industry. Non-union, racket-run, fly-by-night employers cut the guts out of the business. The larger, more stable employers run rough-shod over each other trying to make a living out of what's left. In such an industry, someone always gets hurt, and it used to be always the laundry workers. Twenty years ago it was not uncommon to find women slaving their hearts out for 15 cents an hour, and men for very little more. They were unorganized, therefore unprotected.

Union Is Formed

Seventeen years ago this picture was changed, slowly at first, then rapidly. The laundry workers union came into being, neighbors to my Urban League, on the same office building floor. I watched—and now and then helped—with the tough, back-breaking job of persuading a sprawling, untrained mass of workers to organize into a well-led, disciplined union. A tough job, but in a few years it was done, and the laundry workers were enrolled under the banner of the powerful Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Laundry workers' pay is still low, compared with other industries. But it is regular. No one has to apologize for working in the industry, as many felt they had to years ago. Their union is strong and respected. Racketeers have been run out and goons have been out-faced. Workers enjoy paid vacations and sick and maternity leaves.

Now the Health Center, which is the finest thing of its kind anywhere in the country. Specialists are there to diagnose and sometimes treat any ailment, with emphasis on those to which laundry workers are particularly subject. For instance, one of the best therapy units I have seen gives treatment to arthritis, low back pains, swollen joints—to those afflictions acquired from working while hot and damp and stooping.

Longer Lives

So what's the present that laundry workers have given to themselves? It's from two or three to seven or eight more years of life, because of better health and medical care that they pay for as a group, rather than individually.

It's five to ten years of longer vigor and sound physical condition, instead of the arthritis-racked years that used to stare a laundry worker in the face after 35.

And it's the realization that when men and women work together without mean jealousy and prejudices, they can make miracles compared to what they can do as individuals. Maybe that's the best part of the gift!

No Accident

Of course, none of this happened by accident. Leadership and loyalty did it. In the early days Louis Simon and Noah Walter worked together. Today it's Louis Simon and Odell Clark. Two men, one white and the other colored; one Jewish and the other Protestant. Two men, both believing in their union and seeing it move, and in the seeing, forgetting about the heartbreaks and dangers of yesterday. The center was Louis Simon's dream, as it is now his great joy. But it was also the belief and willing sacrifice of 18,000 members that saw the dream come to pass.

There's nothing flashy about the Amalgamated Laundry Workers. A lot of New Yorkers don't yet know it even exists. Its manager, though a vice-president of AMCWA, does not make headlines with dramatic speeches. All that he does, and his union, is to work for the laundry workers of this area. But judging by that W. 34th street health center, they are not doing badly. Not badly at all, God bless them.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

BE SURE TO VOTE!

In some countries they will put you in jail for not voting. It is just that important to vote in a democracy. Those who do not are responsible for the bad laws we have and the not-so-good men who get political positions, they say. Nevertheless they should have some place to send people who do not accept the responsibility of voting in elections since voting is the basis of our democratic government.

Leon Steward

During the last elections many people thanked us for revealing how we intended voting, and taking the cue from those who thanked us, we shall presume to tell you just how we are going to vote in this election. For this is the one in which stragglers are quitters.

How and Why Our Vote

The first vote on our ballot is for Samuel Yorty for the senate. We read the Congressional record and he is the man who gave the alarm that will save the water for our state. He is tops in our opinion.

For the district in which we live the choice is between Frank O'Sullivan and a man who moved away when a Negro moved near him. O'Sullivan, on the other hand, organized an interracial fraternity while he was at USC. That shows that he is a real democrat. O'Sullivan is running for congress in the 15th district.

If we were in the 26th we would vote for James Roosevelt for congress because we resent the way the papers have tried to smear him.

Graves for Governor

We are for Richard Graves for Governor of California. His opponent has defamed my race and is otherwise not in the same class with Graves when it comes to administration. The present Governor is against F.E.P.C. and has shied away from explaining his position. He replied "How would you like to ride and sleep with a Negro?" when asked by the Teamsters about FEPC, accord to columnist Drew Pierson. And of course we are for Edward Roybal for Lt. Governor for obvious reasons.

We like Daniel Rayburn for Secretary of State, George Collins for Controller, George E. Johnson for State Treasurer and Richard Richards is a stand out for State Senator. We, as do most people, prefer Edmond (Pat) Brown for State Attorney General.

We need a change in the legislature, also in the 63rd district. The present representative doesn't do very much. Therefore we are for Lucius Lomax for that spot. In the 55th we need Rayfield Lundy.

The Propositions

We shall not vote for Propositions Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, 12, 14, 15, 18. The County questions for which we shall vote are A, B, D, E, F, G, H.

You doubtless do not need these suggestions. If that is so forget them. However we are doing this for the people who do need this service—for those who have asked for it and others who might not have done so.

We have known persons to go to the poles and check one item and then walk out. We have seen such ballots. Do not let this happen to you. We have given real thought to these candidates and propositions—not just since the sample ballots were received, but previously. Go to the polls and vote. No one can do that for you—and it is necessary that it be done.

Eagle Vote Choices

best interests of the Negro will be served by the election of Democrats to state offices, to Congress and the United States Senate.

An exceptional case is Rayfield Lundy, Republican candidate for assembly in the 55th district. Lundy is a Negro and the Eagle believes that where everything else is equal the Negro candidate should get the nod. That belief is founded on the proposition that additional minority representation serves the general welfare as well as the best interests of Negro voters.

However, the Eagle does not endorse Horace Alexander, a Negro who is a candidate for Secretary of State on the Independent Progressive party party ticket. In the Eagle's opinion, the Independent Progressive party is neither independent nor progressive. It is the tail to the Communist kite and is reactionary in the sense that it has no will of its own but must follow every twist and turn of the Communist line. Alexander, no matter what his personal qualifications, would be a prisoner of his party and could only parrot its official line. There is the additional fact that every vote for Alexander is in reality a vote for the Republican incumbent since he can only detract votes from Democrat Raeburn, an unusually qualified candidate.

Other Negro candidates who get the Eagle nod are Assembly candidates August F. Hawkins and Lucius Lomax. Hawkins won both major party nominations and his election is assured. Lomax is seeking to oust the reactionary Delbert Morris in the 63rd district and needs every vote he can get to achieve that very desirable end.

Graves has been chosen over Republican Governor Knight primarily on the basis of his program and his outlook. Knight who has a wide personal appeal has consistently shied away from anything remotely close to an endorsement of FEPC. He has no program on civil rights and he is far too close to the reactionary Republicans to give any hope that he will provide the kind of liberal leadership that California needs.

Graves, who started out as an unknown, is cast in the mold of the progressive northern Democrats who have done so much to safeguard and advance the civil rights of minorities in the nation.

Sam Yorty is chosen over Thomas Kuchel for United States Senator primarily on the Yorty record which is one of the best in the country on fundamental issues affecting Negroes. That record has been compiled in both the state assembly and the Congress.

Yorty can be relied upon to stand firm on civil rights and on FEPC.

In the state senatorial race, Richard Richards is an easy choice over the personal and pleasant Mildred Younger. Mrs. Younger has the support of all of the forces which have opposed FEPC and other civil rights proposals and she has consistently refused to take any firm stand on these issues.

Edward R. Roybal, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, is so well known that his preference over his rival Harold Powers, needs little explanation. As a member of City Council, Roybal has been progressive and alert to the public interest. As a member of a minority, he has an obvious appeal to the Negro voter which is enhanced by that record.

The two most controversial propositions on the ballot are Propositions Three and Four. Number three is a sleight of hand performance by certain powerful liquor interests who want to tale liquor control away from the Board of Equalization as a means of getting back at Bonnelli. The trouble with the scheme is that it would set up a czar who would be beyond the reach of popular control. Troubles in liquor administration would multiply rather than diminish.

Proposition Four has drawn the usual anguished screams of opposition that always attend every proposal made by George McClain's pension group. The facts, however, support the backers of the proposition. The aged aren't getting enough money to sustain themselves under present so-called pensions. They need a raise and the legislature can't be depended upon to meet the need.

Proposition C on the county list should get unanimous support. It will provide the county with additional honor farm facilities to rehabilitate prisoners and will repay the cost in terms of returning casual offenders to the ranks of good citizens.

Workmen are entitled to take time off to vote where they find it necessary and cannot be deprived of wages for such periods. The Eagle urges the largest possible vote in the Tuesday election.

Butcher Knife Killer Hunted

weighing 165 pounds, with a reddish complexion, freckles and red hair. It is believed, also, he might be desperate and therefore dangerous.

He was the friend of Mrs. Brackins, who was discovered in a thick pool of blood last Sunday afternoon when her parents, Mrs. Margie Johnson and Edgar Johnson, stopped for a casual visit at her home, 1121½ E. 77th street. A butcher knife was buried up to the hilt in the chest of the 26-year-old woman.

Her 18-month-old baby was playing happily in the living room.

Raby, who was unemployed, was on probation on a charge of having stolen an auto.

Conditions Bad In County Jail

could be reworded, "An idle inmate is the devil's workman."

As I walked through the "tanks," one thought kep drumming through my bewildered mind. "What if a fire fire would break out?" The answer was so apparent, I almost visibly shuddered — 3000 people trapped.

All Together

Men awaiting trial, men serving time, old men, young men, normal men, sex-deviates . . . all together. Why? When the highways are overcrowded with automobiles, we build freeways. When the housing condition gets acute, we make appropriations for housing projects. When more schools are needed, bills are passed to obtain them. Why, in the name of all that's decent, can't we get the appropriations for a maximum security penal institute before there's a jailbreak or an epidemic or a fire or some other nightmare to make us realize the urgent need?

The young prisoners should be separated from the hardened criminals. They all need adequate recreation facilities to give them something to look forward to each day.

The conditions in the County Jail are gradually developing into a keg of dynamite. Anything could ignite the fuse . . . one prisoner more in an overcrowded cell, one grain of salt too much on a vegetable salad, one night too many on the hard cement floor. Any small incident could be the final straw. This isn't a Halloween story or a fable about Michigan State Prison. It's the tragedy of our own Los Angeles County Jail. This city within a city, located in the Hall of Justice, is an intense, emotionally supercharged city that's over populated, understaffed and badly in need of breathing room.

Interdenominational Meet Sponsored by Local Ministers

Dr. Glenn L. Archer, former Dean of the Kansas Law School, now National Director of "Protestants and Other Americans United For the Separation of Church and State," with headquarters in Washington, D.C., will be the main speaker at the annual public religious liberty mass meeting in this area Friday evening, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m., in the Auditorium of the First Baptist Church, Eighth and Westmoreland.

This area-wide meeting is interdenominational, according to Dr. Roy L. Laurin, chairman of the Metropolitan Los Angeles Chapter, and is sponsored by local churches and ministers, national and local POAU members. Attendance is open to the public without charge.

Dr. Archer's Los Angeles address will highlight the advantages of America's constitutional provisions for the separation of Church and State.

Baptists Praise Mayor's Stand On Fire Dept.

Dr. Arthur A. Peters, moderator of the L.A. District Ass'n of the Western Baptist State Convention of California, characterized the convention's fourday first quarterly session held at the Providence Baptist church Tuesday through Friday, as one of the most significant Baptist gatherings ever hald in Los Angeles.

Opening Tuesday with a choir musicale, the convention included a pastors' conference, laymen's conference, discussion of women's, young people's work, Sunday School and Baptist Training Uion departments, and a business session.

Dr. J. Lyle Caston, president, and pastor of Trinity Baptist church, told of two significant actions taken by the meeting of 250 white Baptist churches which convened recently in El Cajon, namely a decision to aid 20 churches whose pastors receive less than $100 a month with a subsidy of $50 a month; and a decision to build one Negro Baptist church in non-urban areas every six months.

All People's Church Fetes Third Concert

The choir of All Peoples Christian Church, 822 E. 20th street, presented their third annual concert last Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

The choir is under the direction of Miss Ritsuko Kawakami. Mr. Leon Simmons is the church organist.

A part of the proceeds received from the concert will be donated toward the purchase of a new carpet for the sanctuary.

Integration Forum At Catholic College

Immaculate Heart College, 2021 N. Western announces that the Fall Integration Forum, sponsored this year by the Division of Social Sciences, will be held on Oct. 28. The theme will be "Leisure and Modern Society," operating on the concept that man must use his leisure time to develop his whole self, and this comes through the liberal arts.

Dr. Robert Nisbet, Dean of the College of Letters and Science of the University of California at Riverside, will deliver the keynote speech, "The Role of the Intellectual Worker in Society."

Rev. Dawkins at Cleveland Meet

Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, pastor of People's Independent Church of Christ, boarded a plane Sunday night en route to Columbus, Ohio, where he is reporting on developments in the southwest Pacific area. He serves as 1st vice-president of the National Body of the International Council of Community Churches.

He will return to the pulpit on Sunday to deliver his first annual Election Sermon.

Emmet McLaughlin

Ex-Priest to Address Forum

Emmett McLaughlin, former Catholic priest, will appear Friday evening, Nov. 5, at the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, 2936 W. 8th street. He has been announced as the second speaker for the 1954 Unitarian Forum Series.

Father McLaughlin was a Franciscan priest assigned to a parish in the slums of Phoenix. Confronted by the wretched conditions he raised the money to build a much needed hospital and operated it without any segregation.

Bel-Vue Church In Fall Concert

The Chancel Choir of the Bel-Vue Community Church will present its Fall concert Sunday, Nov. 7 at 5 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the Church, 118th and Stanford.

The choir will be accompanied by Frank Welk in the rendition of orthodox church music and modern contemporary songs. The finale, The Seraphic Song, will feature Lorena Waters, contralto soloist, Ronald Worton, violin accompaniment, and Caynelle Miles, who will play the harp.

Many of the numbers will be sung A Capella.

The concert will mark the formal introduction of the director, Miss Doris Reita Novel, to Los Angeles. Miss Novel, a native of Kansas City, Missouri, is nationally known as both a music teacher and choral director.

Rev. Marion Backed For Bishop's Post

The 34th Annual Session of the Southwest Rocky Mountain Conference of the A.M.E. Zion Church closed on Sunday. The session was held at the First Church Los Angeles, and the theme "Christ the Hope of the World," was the inspiration for oratory and song.

During the conference session a unanimous vote of ministers and laymen endorsed Dr. S. H. Marion for the bishopric and urged his election at the next general conference in 1956.

There was great enthusiasm throughout the meeting especially in mission study and the building program for Los Angeles and Pasadena missions. All churches met the general claims budgets as well as educational assessments and reports of progress brought applause throughout the meeting. Property has been purchased for a new church at Cochrane, California.

The closing service of the conference featured a Festival of Choirs, and a thrilling spectacle it was with five choirs participating and Rev. Roger Willis, Pastor at Shiloh, Monrovia, in charge of the program. There was one pastoral change involving Carver Memorial AME Zion Church at 21st and Griffith Avenue in Los Angeles. The former pastor, Rev. H. Potts, was assigned to Seattle and the youthful Rev. David Johnson was given the Carver charge. Rev. Otha Graham was returned to Martin Chapel in South Los Angeles; Rev. E. C. Walkins to Brown Temple, 1201 E. 43rd Street, and Dr. S. B. Marion, the hard working pastor of the First Church at Pico and Paloma, begins his eleventh year at this historic church. Dr. Marion was host pastor to the conference.

Bishop William A. Stewart is the presiding bishop. He and Dr. Marion, with all AME Zion organizations on the Pacific Coast, are making great plans to entertain the General Convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, largest organized body in the church, scheduled to meet in Los Angeles in August, 1955.

Four Choir Program at Independent

Albert J. McNeil, and Fannie E. Benjamin, Music Department leaders of the People's Independent Church of Christ, have planned an entire service of music for Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m.

The following choirs have a place on the program: 2nd Baptist Church, with Anna Griffith Morrow, directing; Westminster Presbyterian Church, Ursula Murrell directing; Zion Hill Baptist Church, with Walter Daniel; and Westwood Community Methodist Church, Dr. Raymond Morman, conducting.

Dr. Morman is Music Department head at UCLA. One of the numbers that his choir will sing is the celebrated "Festival Te Deum" by Gustave Holst.

The Cathedral Choir of Independent will sing "Hallelujah Chorus," from the Mount of Olives, by Beethoven; "Sing Praises," by Glarum; and "Lamb of God," by Christiansen.

Bishop B. W. Harris of Liberia Speaks at St. Phillips, Oct. 31

Bishop Bravid Washington Harris of the Episcopal Missionary District of Liberia will be special guest speaker at St. Philip's Church, 28th Street and Stanford Avenue, Sunday, October 31, at 5 p.m. This will be the only public Sunday service the Bishop has scheduled during his week's stay in Los Angeles.

Bishop Harris is a native of North Carolina. He was educated at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, N. C., and the Bishop Payne Divinity School, St. Petersburg, Virginia. At the latter institution he and Father Moore, Rector of St. Philip's Church, were schoolmates. He was consecrated Eighth Bishop of Liberia April 17, 1945, at Norfolk, Virginia where he had served as Rector of Grace Church.

Bishop Harris came to America during the past summer to attend the Anglican Congress at Minneapolis. In addition to being a down-to-earth, powerful speaker, he is abreast of, and has definite opinions concerning the religious, economic, and political life of the people of Africa.

The 5 o'clock Vesper Service on Oct. 31st at St. Philip will be supported by traditional Anglican music. Father Moore extends a cordial invitation to all who may wish to attend.

Pope Honors Negro Teacher

High papal honors were bestowed upon James E. Taylor, Jr., at solemn ceremonies in historic San Fernando cathedral, San Antonio, Texas, recently. Taylor was among a group of 26 Catholic laymen and laywomen to be honored by Pope Pius XII for outstanding service to the church. They were awarded the Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice medal.

Taylor, who is a convert to Catholicism, has been a leader in his own parish, and in Catholic circles throughout the city.

He is physics and chemistry teacher at Phillis Wheatley High School in San Antonio, and is the first Negro in the archdiocese to be so honored.

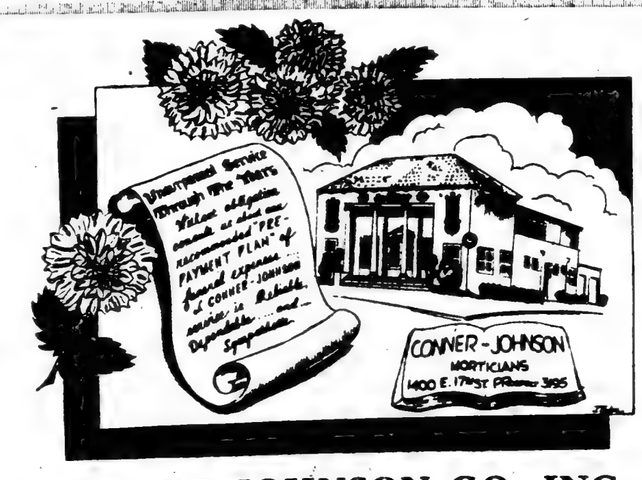
Attorney Neusom on Panel In American Jewish Program



"America—Land of Minorities" will be one of four workshops at the General Convention of the Southland Jewish Organization, educational service group, on Sunday, November 7, it was stated today by Rabbi Leonard A. Greenberg, executive director.

Among the outstanding panel of participants will be attorney Thomas Neusom, Ignacio L. Lopez, editor and publisher, and Mark Keats, community center group worker.

Celebrating the tercentenary of American Jewish history, the SJO Convention will stress the double theme, "300 years of Jewish history in the United Sattes—12 years of SJO in the community." The convention will be an all-day affair at the Alexandria Hotel, with an evening banquet open to the public.

Complete list of workshop participants includes: Dr. Carl Q. Christol, associate professor of political science, University of Southern California; Thomas Neusom, civil rights attorney; Mark Keats, group worker, Eastside Jewish Community Center; Rabbi Julian Feingold, University Synagogue; Hon. Lester McMillan, California state assemblyman; Ignacio L. Lopez, newspaper publisher; Phil Kerby, editor, "Frontier" magazine; Dr. Herbert Alexander, sociologist; Martin Hall, lecturer and news commentator; William Murrish, attorney; David Greenwald, Jewish communal administrator; Rabbi Herschel Lymon, Temple Akiba, of Culver City.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

Parks, Playgrounds Get Many For Halloween

Slated to get underway at dusk, when the glares of huge bonfires will light up the sky, giant community Hallowe'en carnivals will be staged Saturday night (October 30) at a total of 88 Los Angeles municipal playgrounds, it was reported yesterday by the City Recreation and Park Department.

Promising that the playground Hallowe'en carnivals will provide evening-long fun for every member of the family, the community committees which have joined with the Recreation and Park Department in sponsoring and staging the events called attention to their slogan, "The Los Angeles playground nearest your home is the place to be seen on Hallowe'en."

Local playgrounds and addresses are: Central, 1357 E. 22nd street, Bill Lacefield, Martha Lightner, and Chester Jones, directors. Compton, 5306 Compton ave., Charles E. Reed, James O. Hayes, directors. Pueblo Del Rio, 1801 E. 53rd street, Director Chadwick is being assisted by L. Danies, C. Sturdivant, H. Price, G. Jarvis, V. Cushenberry, D. Chambers, L. Benson, M. Allison, B. FRANKIE CAMPOS AT LEGION OCT. 30

Frankie Campos and Jackie Spurgeon, two classy little bantams, have inked to box Oct. 30th. Campos, the fighting barber, is the younger brother of Juan Luis Campos. He has a fine record with but two setbacks. Spurgeon, a native New Yorker who is a former national amateur champion, did well at the Legion the latter part of '53 and the early part of this year.

The Andy Escobar vs. Buddy Evatt retake set for Nov. 6 figures to lure out another large crowd. Both mittsters are at work in the gym, getting ready for another great scrap. Escobar won one of the best fights seen at the filmland club in ages two months ago.

Rudy Garcia returns from New York following his bout with Carmelo Costa, next Monday at Eastern Parkway, to box Augie Villa, Nov. 13.

Matchmaker Hap Navarro is working on a match between Petev Servin and Don Grant, or Servin vs. Charlie Green or Willie Vaughn.

BOWLING —with— LEWIS RUSS

The wood was reeling and records tumbling Saturday night as Lee's Hi Hatters, the Hottest team in the Sunset Bowling League, mowed down the lumber to blank the Timber Ticklers three games to nothing.

During the terrific games Ed McFall blew his top as he pounded the pocket and keeled over the pins to gloat over a 653 series, the highest of the season. His teammate, Harold Johnson, also racked up the stuff for a 605 series.

Grand Central Bar - B - Cue moved into its own as they belted the timber to down the Lewis Bros., three games to none. Eddie Irving slam banged and tilted the sticks with a 254 high game and 588 series. Billie Hampton also bowled a 578.

B and B rolled over Garretts two games to one with Waco Jackson shooting a 227 game.

In the spill however, Bill Mayer, manager of the Studio Bowl and one of Garrett's dependable flingers, fouled on his last shot to become the goat of the evening as his team lost by four pins.

Neals Liquors outscored Browns Motors two games to one. Dedricks upset the maple to turn back the Pick Uppers two games to one. In this game of ten pins fascinating as it is you admire the spirit, integrity and sportsmanship win or lose.

Rams Bait Traps With Bear Beef To Capture Detroit Lion

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

With the Ram offense operating in high gear, veteran lineman Harry Thompson assured this writer that this Sunday's game against the Detroit Lions will put the Rams back in business. Of course Thompson figures the Rams to beat the defending champion Lions when they hit the Memorial Coliseum this Sunday afternoon.

The boys are running, Thompson says. In last Sunday's game against the Bears, Younger gained 279 yards in 51 tries for a 5.47 average. Deacon Dan Towler's 123 yards rushing in the Chicago game gives him 255 in 56 trips for a 4.55 average and five touchdowns.

End Bob Boyd is in striking range of teammate Elroy Hirsch' NFL record for yards gained on pass receptions in one season, which is 1495 yards, established in 1951.

"As for the tackling, look for big Daddy Gene Lipscomb to toss all of his 280 pounds at the Lions."

THOMAS DOOLITLE, General sales manager of Santa Fe Wines, congratulates William B. English on his outstanding success as sales supervisor of Southern California. English is well known in athletic and social circles and displays highest qualities of salesmanship, having, in less than six months, tripled Santa Fe sales locally.

Larry Doby Bat Rings Out 5 Hits

Larry Doby, who disappointed many Cleveland baseball fans during the world series, waited until he arrived in Los Angeles to have a perfect day at the plate.

With Larry getting five hits, the Roy Campanella stars defeated the Major Leaguers, 6 to 3, at Wrigley Field last Sunday.

In three games played the Campanellas now have a 2-1 margin with the final game between these two club scheduled for Friday night at Wrigley Field.

MAURICE BASSETT ANOTHER MOTELY

Paul Brown, Cleveland Browns' coach, is having one of his worst seasons in the National Football League this season. His Browns are in fourth place with two wins and two losses.

However grid experts are predicting that the coach is building a team for next season. Last Sunday's game almost proved this point when the Browns defeated the Cardinals, 35-3.

Paul Brown came up with rookie fullback Maurice Bassett, a 230 pounder from Langston University in Oklahoma. Bassett is being touted as a good replacement for big Marion Motely. He barrelled over for two touchdowns and did some mighty fine pass catching to keep the Browns rolling and made the fans recall Motely's running days.

Cadilli vs. Smith

Gil Cadilli and Reuben Smith will battle over the 12-rounds limit this Monday night at the Olympic Auditorium and the winner will meet Rudy Garcia for the state featherweight title.

Cadilli and Smith have been going great in their recent bouts and this should be an interesting bout as both fighters want to move up in the ranking.

Saxton Gets $75,000 Offer

Newly crowned Welterweight champ Johnny Saxton has been offered a $75,000 guarantee by Olympic Matchmaker Babe Mc Coy to defend his title here.

Ramon Fuentes, ranked No. 3 nationally, and Carmen Basilio No. 1 challenger were recommended by Mc Coy as possible opponents.

SHAKE, RAMBLE and ROLL—Paul (Tank) Younger soared to the top in team rushing statistics with his rampage against the Bears last week. He shook loose and rambled for 186 yards and rolled with the ball 27 times to break a Rams record for one game set by Parker Hall at 26 back in 1939.

Big 49ers Rally Set For Bay Area

LEE

Sportsman, "Little" Robert Lee Wright, just back from the World Series, is making elaborate plans for San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams football game to take place in November in the Bay Area.

Wright is working on a big celebration after the game to be held in the popular Booker T. Washington Hotel in San Francisco.

Persons interested in securing more information regarding the game and hotel reservations can reach Mr. Wright at the Hotel Watkins; he'll be in the city for two weeks.

Jefferson high school will meet Fremont Friday afternoon in what will be a showdown.

Bellinas Dance Hit On Campus

Ann Williams, willowy and attractive member of the Bellinas Club on the Los Angeles City College campus, and Harriet Higgs, winsome coed on the campus of UCLA and also a member of the club, report that the college set is showing great enthusiasm for the group's forthcoming Twilight Cruise dance at the Starlight Roof Nov. 5.

Business manager Beverlee Bruce announced that the affair is the initial one for the young popular club and that she feels certain those attending will have an enjoyable time.

Music will be provided by Jeep Smith and he will feature many of his danceable tunes.

Social Counts Goblin Dance At Riverside

Witches, vampires, and goblins will be riding out Riverside Drive to the Riverside Rancho at 3213 Riverside Dr., to greet members of the Social Counts who will stage their gigantic gala Halloween classic there Saturday.

The Counts affair will be highlighted with many costumes and the persons selected for the most unusual costumes will be given prizes.

Tickets for the affair can be purchased from Chas. Anderson, Duke Thomas, Howard (Banks) Alexander, Nolan McCoy, Warren (Slim) Johnson, Henry Roberts and Melvin Nickerson.

DIG THOSE CRA-ZEE PANTS—Members of the Pyramid Pledge club of Delta Sigma Theta sorority groove themselves in the proper attire for their forthcoming Crazy Pants dance at the Starlite Roof, 4050 West Pico, Saturday night, Oct. 30.

Bill Smallwood

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

It's a boy for the Dr. Lincoln Shumates (Margaret). Dr. and Mrs. Ed Stratton joined the expectant parents line-up. Dr. Theodore Blevins home from Germany with his bride. LaZora D. Rowell underwent surgery Tuesday. Marque Neal's effusive Margaret checked in the hospital last week for a check-up.

Helen and Hickey Crozier had quite a merry fling in S.F. Pacific Town Club's Halloween wingding, Saturday. Bert Kenner is program chairman. Suzette Harbin-Cal Bailey nuptials postponed, Eddie Beal tells us. Opera first-nighter: Eleanor Jackson with a party. Doll League's annual bring-a-doll assembly bids are out.

Rooters

Ex-Angeleno Jules Smith in Fordham on a fellowship doing graduate work. All-Stars baseball game rooters, last Sunday: The senior Horace Clarks with Horace Jr. and his three kids, in a box. Nearby, Elsie Foster in a box with equally enthused friends.

National Urban League's Club Deauville affair (Dec. 10) growing into quite a project. Facing them: An envelope-addressing evening. Some seven thousand, to be exact. Their grand prize to be given away is an ermine wrap.

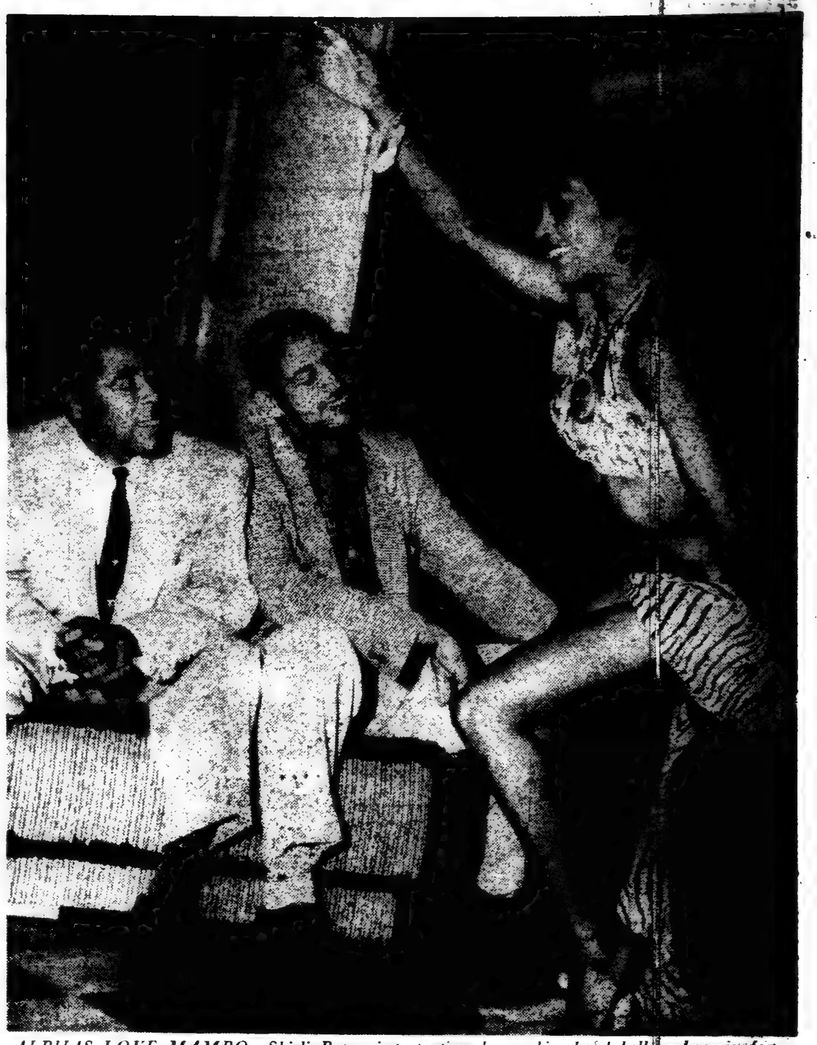
Busy, Busy

Jack and Jill roster, busy-busy this Halloween weekend. Example: Their pre-school set will frolic Saturday at the home of Rhetta and Victor Nickerson. The juniors will mambo Friday at the Phyllis Wheatley House. The junior high school set will have a cook-out Saturday in Griffith Park. Dr. and Mrs. Ruthven Johnson, entertaining Sunday at their Santa Monica house, are honoring the internes and resident staff members of General Hospital.

Dr. Walter Davis, home from Utah hunting with his two teenage sons, bagged nothing. His sons fetched a deer a piece, probably shrugging at the feat. Friday's dancing party hosted by the Edgar Johnsons (Golden State ballroom) will festively include the October birthdays of Norman Houston Sr., George Beavers, Dr. H. H. Towles and the host.

The Fred Griffins, in their new home in Leimert Park. Eadward's Saturday birthday session at his Encino place was, by far, one of the most delightful versions he's produced, season by season. A well-tailored, well-gowned, well-coiffed cross section fairly sparkled, endless parade of champagne magnums to match.

Betty and Wayne Howard's wedding anniversary, November 26th. Calme and Lewis Russ have theirs on the 25th (their twentieth). Sarah Griffin birthdays on the 26th. Jacki Woods on the 10th. Ethel Bell has a November birthday. Evelyn Burwell on the 19th. Lillian Fentress on the 18th. Mickey Jones on the 16th. Clara Fentress on the 5th.



Mrs. Josephine Brown was awarded the coveted gold feather for her Community Chest work. Kappa Silhouettes giving their annual witches and goblins party at Kappa Kastle, Sunday. Nira Hardon will be the guest speaker at Woman's Day observance (November 7th) at the Church of Christian Fellowship. She attended the interracial seminar in India last summer, you recall.

Paul Williams, one of two Californians serving as honorary members on the official Liberian Presidential Welcome Committee. NACW head Mrs. Ella Stewart, on a three-month visit in Pakistan, India, Ceylon and the Philippines via a State Department blessed tour, will touch here briefly en route back to NACW headquarters in Washington, D.C. Marietta Canty, here a week from Conn., flies east next week. Our own Grace Simons was one of the Bal Caribe judges.

GARDENIA CLUB PRESENTS SOCIAL

The Gardenia Charity and Social club will present a tea and baby contest at the Sojourner Truth Home, 1119 East Adams Blvd. on Sunday, Oct. 31.

Many outstanding stars of radio and screen will be present to entertain the guests. Door prizes will be awarded to the lucky persons attending.

ALPHAS LOVE MAMBO—Shirli Bates, interpretive brownskin bombshell, rehearses for her part in the Alpha Red, White and Blue Revue, Nov. 7 at the Hollywood Canteen. She is the sensational dancer who kept the stage in a blaze while appearing nightly in the Champagne Supper Club in San Francisco. Alpha men Artis Calhoun and McHenry Norman agree she's rather torrid!

Negro Heritage In Music To Be Entertainment

With the handsome statue of Bobo Williams reigning on the throne and depicting the African King the fast moving show and entertainment for "Negro Heritage in Music" will be the talk of the town, when it is given at The Park Manor, 607 S. Western Avenue, Saturday, from 8:30—2:00 p.m.

The show, produced by Mae Johnson, actress and narrated by Ray Glenn, well-known for his "Amos and Andy" part, will carry a treat with every number presented.

Mr. Calypso and His Mac-Niles Virgin Islanders assisted by Alice Williams, Calypso Singers will offer the background music for the show as well as for the dancing after the entertainment.

Other program participants are: Robert Belton, Cleopatra Johnson, dancer. The Velvetones, Jack Thompson, vocalist; Frank White, pianist; Leroy (Shick) Edwards, Afro-dancer; and Francois Andre.

Compositions of Andy Razaf, Noble Sissle, Shelton Brooks, W. C. Handy, Eubie Blake, Harry T. Burleigh, Leon Renee. The late "Fats" Waller, Hall Johnson, Duke Ellington will be offered.

The theme of the show will deal with African music from its origin up to the present days.

Enoch Lodge Slates Party

The members of the Enoch Grand Lodge AF and AM and the Isis Grand Chapter Order of East Stars will hold their annual Halloween Carnival October 30, starting at 4:30 and lasting until 10:30 p.m. at the home of George Fox Jr., 2709 Harcourt Ave.

There will be fun for the young and old.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

Many times in duplicate play third or fourth hand bidders are forced to open light. That is, they have only 10 or 11 points, sometimes without a five card suit. This policy is in effect to protect the bidder's partner, or more properly, to protect the partnership, because the first hand may have had a similar hand, but been unable to open. We sometimes have reservations about opening minor suits in a weak third hand, but we never hestitate with a major.

Opening Bid

There is one remarkable feature about an opening bid. Presuming that both opponents pass, a suit takeout by partner is always forcing for one round. The reasons for this are obvious, but sometimes in actual play it seems rather difficult.

In hands which seem very weak but must be opened, it should be remembered that if the opponents pass, either your partner has a pretty good hand, despite his first round pass, or the opponents have the better cards and are trapping.

If they have the better cards, they will lose the board because you and your partner will not bid beyond the two level, and probably will not go set more than one hundred, whereas your opponents could bid and score from one hundred ten upward.

Wrong Bid

Your partner will always let you know whether his hand is strong or weak on his second bid, if he is not able to jump on the first round.

North had this hand the other night and opened one spade third hand. His partner called two hearts and he passed. This is an illustration of what we are talking about. His correct bid is two spades, despite the fact that he has only twelve points. If South does not now make a forcing bid, North may pass.

Here is South's hand. While four hearts turned out to have been the best contract, South would have called three no-trump after North's rebid of two spades.

Five hearts were made on this hand as everything was in the right place. Four no-trump can be made as well.

Classes meet each Tuesday evening at the YWCA. All are invited to attend. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Annual Bridge Tournament

The Harmony Duplicate Bridge Club is sponsoring a benefit bridge tournament for the YMCA, which will be held Saturday, Oct. 30, at 8:30 p.m. at the 38th Street "Y", 28th and Paloma.

The women's auxiliary of the club, chaired by Mrs. Lona Derrick and officered by Mesdames Elizabeth Henken, Jessie Robertson, Helen Wade, Ollie Redd, Geraldine Peterson, Olean Lewis, and Mattie Moody, is leaving no stone unturned to make the affair a success. The officers have arranged a twin-game Progressive and duplicate tournament to accommodate all players. Prizes will be awarded in each event.

JENTLE GON DANCERS—One of the highlights of the forthcoming Negro Heritage in Music at the Park Manor, Sat., Oct. 30, will be the dancing of the above group which includes: Sylvia Hurston, Jane Williams, Arthur Hill, Lois Johnson, Marcus Gordon and Marlene Jefferson.

Links Cotillion Ball Attracts Six Hundred

An event of great interest to local society was the third annual Charity Cotillion sponsored by the Los Angeles chapter of the Links, Saturday in the Pacific Ballroom of the Statler Hotel.

More than six hundred guests attended, including many whose children and grand children participated in the Cotillion.

The ballroom was decorated for the occasion with a profusion of fall flowers. A center piece of white, pink and orchid mums was placed on each table and the stage contained huge baskets of flowers.

There was audible gasps of sheer pleasure when the lovely debutantes walked down the stairs and took their places on the dance floor to be presented to Los Angeles society. The girls were clad in bouffant white gowns and were a vision of loveliness as they floated out on the floor, waltzing demurely and gracefully to the strains of Cotillion waltz played by maestro Jeep Smith.

Mrs. George (Josephine) Smith, charming president of the Links, welcomed her guests in an exquisite floor length white gown with overskirt of black and white appliqued flowers giving the apron effect. Mrs. Ursalla Murrell was chairman of the entertainment committee. Jacob McKinney rendered several numbers and had the audience clammering for more. Jeep Smith provided the dance music.

Among the guests were: Melba Wilson, Col. C. Price, Gladys and Curtis Thompson, Lawrence and Mildred Wilson, Byron and Elsie Rumford of Berkeley, and Janice Edwards, Morris and Mary Alice Johnson, Jesse and Gwen Collins, Jesse and Myrtle Robinson, Frank and Hilda Caine, Edith Lavelle, Acquilla Wise, Dave and Ouida Williams, Helen and Theopolis Smith, Bert and Hazel Hunnigan, George and Marie Comfort, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Portwig, Mr. and Mrs. Lluelen Mazique, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams, Don and Julia Walker and Joe and Dorothy Patton.

Orchids to the following committees who worked so hard to make this cotillion the greatest. Mmes. Verle Smith, Henry Butler and LaMar Hill, decorations; Mmes. Laynard Holloman, publicity; Mrs. John Somerville and LaMar Hill, place; Mmes. William Graham and Edgar Johnson, invitations; Mmes. John Simmons, Elbert Hudson and Henry Butler, reservations; Mmes. Walter Smith, Frank Harvey and Henry McPherson, cotillionette committee; Mrs. Lloyd Dickey, music; Mrs. Robert Foster, hostess; Mrs. Willa Jean Lewis, choreographer; and Mrs. Anita Bogan, flowers.

Templeite Club In Annual Tea

The Templeite Social and Charity club held its second annual tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karo Collins. The affair was highlighted with a beautifully decorated table with autumn flowers.

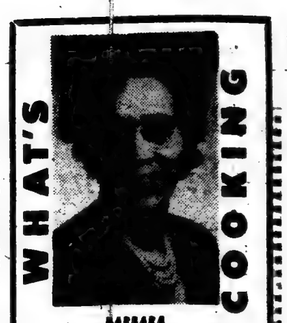
Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Wilison, Mrs. Cross, and Mrs. Clasham. More than 60 guests enjoyed the affair.

Redd Foxx To Head Alpha Big Benefit Show Nov. 7

Added to the list of personalities who will highlight the Alpha Phi Alpha Red, White, and Blue Revue; to be held Nov. 7 at the new Hollywood Canteen are Redd Foxx, the Alpha Chorines, and "Little Herman."

Redd Foxx, electrifies his audiences with spicy humor and sidecracking antics. The Alpha Chorines, featuring Wanda Stasher, Helen Stasher, Alice Roberson, will open the show with colorful fanfare.

Other performers include Ernie Andrews, The Platters, and Shirli Bates.



Tickets are on sale at Giddings Professional Pharmacy, Golden State Drugs Co., and Alpha House.

Athenians In Regular Meet

The members of the Athenians held its regular meeting Sunday evening when the membership laid plans for the club's fourth annual Thanksgiving affair.

Mrs. Montanna McNealy, the group advisor, is being considered by the club as its entry in the Queen contest which is to take place shortly.

Mrs. Carmen Boswell was a very charming hostess to the group and served a delicious pre-Thanksgiving dinner with the trimmings.

There is a chill in the air and time now to have that roast loin of pork, cooked to juicy tenderness in a moderate oven and served with mashed potatoes and saurkraut with apples. This dish is a delicious sweet-sour concoction, that is good also with ham or rabbit. To make it:

Saurkraut with Apples

1 can No. 2½ size, saurkraut
3 apples peeled and diced
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons honey

Arrange alternate layers of kraut and apples in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle raisins over each layer. Add water and dribble honey over top. Cover dish and bake at 350 degrees for about an hour. Pork chops may be browned and placed on top of this dish and cooked in the oven instead of having a roast.

Hallowe'en Treats

If you bake these spicy cookies just before dusk on trick-or-treat night, the youngsters who stop at your door will not be able to resist them and you'll find that your treat will be eaten right away and all the young goblins will find some method of guiding others to your door. The recipe makes five dozen cookies and they are are good tasting and good for children because they are full of nuts and raisins.

Mix together thoroughly ½ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup other shortening, 1½ cups brown sugar that has been packed tightly in the cup, and 3 eggs. Sift together and stir in 1 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves and 3 cups sifted flour. Then add 1 cup chopped nuts and 1 cup seedless raisins. Bake two inches apart by rounded spoonfuls at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes.

You will find, that your own small fry will welcome these in the cookie jar for an after school snack these cool afternoons.

BANQUET SET

The members of the Daisy Wilson Foundation will honor their elder members with a dinner banquet on Nov. 13, at 2263 S. Hobart.

A TRIP TO PARIS—Attractive model Merci Rudd will add her charm to the all male fashion show to be held at the Florentine Gardens Oct. 31 when Francois Andre' presents an affair entitled "A Trip To Paris," featuring male models.

Girl Scouts Post Events

The Girl Scouts of Manselmeda opened their fall meetings with a bang.

Troop 744 held its first meeting last month and made plans for the next six months. Topping the list was a Court of awards on Oct. 2. Eighteen girls received badges.

On October 29, the troop will participate in a hay ride, weiner roast and horse back riding which will be attended by all troops of South District.

Sigma Gamma Enjoys Party For Rushes

Mrs. Gertrude Fisher, well known club woman, entertained the Alpha Nu Chapter and members of the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority rush party at her beautiful home at 2401 Gramercy Park last week.

The very successful affair was the group's semi-annual party and the rushees were: Margie Dell Clark, Sarah Porterfield, Catherine Cesar, Elsie Willis, Betty Davis, Rosemary Brown, and Jay Johnson.

Mrs. Delphine Severin, basileus of the graduate chapter, gave highlights of the sorority. Other members gave the girls a hearty welcome.

The Round Up was the party theme and it was carried out in the table decoration consisting of a desert scene of real cactus, rocks, sand and other desert plants. The focus of the scene was a little cowboy who was riding his horse with his lariat in his hand.

Paris Show To Feature Male Models

Francois Andre', master of many successful fashion shows, will present the season's smartest affair Sunday, Oct. 31, at the Hollywood Canteen, 5955 Hollywood Blvd., from 6:00 to 11:00 p.m. The show "A Trip To Paris," will depict handsome fall, winter and even 1955 spring fashions for California men. Aside from the fashions there will be entertainment galore, dancing included. Many personalities of motion pictures, TV, radio and stage have been invited as personal guests. Tickets must be purchased in advance. Call RE. 4-1405, RE. 3-2595, RE 6116. A few special accommodations are left for social clubs.

Venice Pair Fete Visitor

Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Russell entertained friends and Mrs. Katherine Anderson of Shreveport at their Venice home at 701 Brooks St. recently.

Those sharing in the arrangement of the affair were: Mrs. Acy Markham, Mr. and Mrs. R. Russell, Mrs. Earnest Cooperland and little Bobby Hattan.

Other guests were: Howard Gorea, E. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Celistane, Mr. and Mrs. Prince Craddock, Mrs. Mary Mitchell, Ida Cotton and Rosa Thompson.

'DANCESATIONAL'

EXCITING DUO—Carmen DeLavalade and Alvin Ailey were caught in an exciting moment in the dance program that concluded the Lester Horton Dancers' 'Bal Caribe' Monday night at the Palladium. Capacity audience acclaimed presentation finest in Horton dance group history. Ailey in addition to being a talented dancer is also the group choreographer.

Cinemascope

HIP SWITCHING Dorothy Dandridge enjoys herself as the bewitching Carmen of the 'Carmen Jones' picture that opens next Monday at the Fox Wilshire and Los Angeles theaters.

NBCUTIES

Miller HIGH Lights

The Inside on Outsiders
By HAL MILLER

In honor of my latest communique from Nashvile, Tenn. I have the following information to pass on regarding Angelenos that are attending school there: Ronald Powell (who in more brainy circles is known as Grey Matter) is leading his class at Meherry Med. and setting a hig curve. . . . David Reed, also a med student, is still razorblade sharp and is swinging steady with Carol Cresswell. . . . Also understand that Marlene Crump is engaged to Reggie Scott (I had anticipated such). . . . They say (my sources of info.) that Barbara Thomas is just cooling it. They also say (always blame it on THEY) that Gene Ramos and Skip Henry are currently observing, and calculating a vicious attack on the female members of the freshman class at Fisk (Down boys). . . . And Barbara Weaver (Thought I missed you, huh?) is pretty tight with a certain Buddy Dancy. . . . Betty Norman is also on the scene at Fisk and looking delicious? . . . no. edible? . . . no, palatable? . . . (Editor: "Clean it up"). . . nice.

Stopped by the Alpha House Sunday where A.K.A.s presents their Ivies. The programme was kinda heavy. . . . Chamber music . . . an Irish tenor . . . a reading . . . excerps from the Third movement of Sir Herkimer Klwsffn and all that sort of rot. (Was anxiously awaiting the afterparty and permission to devour some of the scoff). But on the whole the new talent presented was nice. (Well sorta). (Editor: "go no farther.") O.K.

A quiet game of "touch" football last Sunday in the following casualties: Clyde Winston, one broken leg; Modupe Paris: a visual impediment (polite case of black eye); Frank McCoy: a decrease in manual dexterity (plainer words, one broken finger); And also other scratches and bruises. Inflictors of pain and injury included Eddie Roberts, ' Givins, Thad Winston, Banky Paris, and these cats wonder why I didn't get in. Sheeee. Incidently one coward backed out (smart man). Carl Clay resigned after the kickoff.

(Yahn) . . . am getting tired . . . homework to do . . . bills to pay . . . forgot to go see my probation officer . . . everybody hates me . . . (Yahn) . . . somebody stole my gal . . . it's getting dark . . .ZZZZZZ

'Sh-Boom' Chords Crowd Pleasers At Oasis Nitery

The "Sh-Boom" Chords, headlining the sparkling new show which includes the vocalovely trio, the Harris Sisters, and Johnny Anderson's Band, are jamming the Club Oasis, Western at 38th, nightly.

Record Breakers

Marking the first West Coast appearance of the nation's hottest recording group and the hit of the year, the current engagement is proving to owners Bill Robinson and Nate Poskel that a strong record hit is the assurance of big nightclub business.

Popular Policy

The Oasis' new policy of no cover, no admission charge, reversing the custom of years of a door charge, is being enthusiastically received by hundreds of entertainment seekers whose budgets are helped by this tremendous saving.

Pyramids Set Dance Program

The Pyramid Pledge club members are being rushed for tickets for their forthcoming "Crazy Pants" dance to be held Saturday Oct. 30, at the Starlite Roof, 450 West Pico.

The dance will be held between the hours of 10 p.m. and 2 a.m. Music will be provided by Maynard Ferguson.

Members of the Pyramids will be wearing their crazy pants, and invite guests to follow suit.

The couple wearing the craziest pants will receive one of the many prizes.

Johnny Otis' Orchestra Heads 'Triple Package' At The New Club Oasis

A big new show starring the popular Johnny Otis band, with exciting dancer Anita Echols, plus the holding over of the trio of eyeful vocalovelies, The Harris Sisters, and Johnny Anderson's band, for dancing, begins Monday, November 1, at the Club Oasis, Western at 38th street.

Action-Packed

With the "Sh-Boom" Chords winding up their Oasis stay Sunday night, the new offering will be a fast-paced musical revue, stressing dancing on the spacious new floor, alternating with top entertainment. Long a favorite recording band, Johnny Otis is now one of leading West Coast disc jockeys, heard locally on KFOX, 7 to 9 p.m. nightly.

The Oasis' new policy of no admission, no cover, is proving immensely popular.

$100 to NAACP

NEW YORK—A donation of $100 from local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians here to the NAACP's Fight for Freedom campaign this week was accompanied by a message declaring: "Local 802 detests and actively opposes the things against which you are fighting."

SOJOURNER TRUTH JUBILEE OBSERVED

History was made when the curtain was rolled down on the 50th Anniversary Celebration of the Sojourner Truth Industrial Club, which last week observed its Golden Jubilee. The climax of the series of events was a Historical Program Thursday night at the First AME church. The skit was written and directed by Mrs. Jayne W. Holmes, club president.

WHAT'S DOING

Now your voice can answer the telephone when you're away

Scene: an office. Nobody's there. But when the telephone rings, a voice answers: "This is GArden 6-8049. We'll be back at 3:30. Would you like to leave a message?" This is our new automatic answering and recording equipment at work. When you're away, it automatically "answers" your telephone, gives callers your recorded message. When you return, it plays back their replies. You can get this handy equipment through your telephone business office.

It's one more way we've found to make your telephone more useful...while still keeping it low in cost. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Help yourself to even faster long distance service

One of the big advantages of long distance service is that it saves time—helps you do things in a hurry. This service works even faster for you if you give the operator the telephone number of the person you're calling, not just his name and address. In fact, your calls go through twice as fast. So for the very best long distance service, please call by number.

Having a Telephone Installed Today?

E. J. BRUNICK

It takes more than just the man in the familiar green truck to give you service and keep it working. Just to provide and maintain your telephone requires, in addition to the installer, more than two others who perform such related tasks as, keeping the records of the facilities used, testing the lines, connecting the necessary equipment in the office, etc.

E. J. Brunick, pictured here, supervises a force of 300 people who install and maintain the more than 116,000 telephones which have as their prefix ADams, PLeasant, PLymouth and TWinoaks.

People and Places

CHAIN GANG — Contrary to reports circulating in the high-powered social set that everybody who was anybody was on hand at an affair held at the Statler, a well known Fourth Avenoo figure just happened to host a club meeting on the same eve and guests dropping in and out during the evening read like the latest edition of Who's Who!

BILL GRAHAM — the Noo Yawk advertising executive, checked in at his Buckingham Road home for two weeks to be with his pretty wife, Vivian!

JOE OLIVER — the handsome young bachelor is squiring a shapely New Jersey blond about the city!

LOVE LIFE — females are saying baseballer Willie Mays was shipped, broken heart and all, to Cuba to play baseball when a certain female wanted him to stay within marrying distance!

KAY STONE — the chic and well dressed Western avenoo beautician just copped two important beauty awards. One went to her operator Jimmy Edwards for his creative ability!

THE LONG AND SHORT — Pint-size song stylist Lawrence Stone measured up to Earl (Budweiser) Griffin and chanted softly "My beer is the tall one," whereupon Griffin reached in and came up with an ice cold "Bud" and Stone was sold!

NICHOLAS BROTHERS — take their famous dancing feet into Florida's smart Sans Souci Blue room, their second trip in five years. After their run they head for Europe!

OLES HAYES — owner and operator of one of the city's finest motels has reported one robbery in seven years of business. Hayes' remarkable record comes from long hours of work plus his keen knowledge of locks, doors and windows all self-locking from the inside. His trusty police dog is constantly on guard. Other motels can offer the public the same high class service and reduce those frequent robberies if they follow Hayes' method or perhaps they don't want to clean up the mess!

TEAMWORK — Elyce Teal, Chubby Johnson, and Chas. H. Bell combine their efforts to give the Town Tavern that ultra, ultra class in service. It's really the talk of the town.

ELIHU McGEE — and Barry Baines got their loot together and bought the Tip Top at 47th and S. Central avenue bistro across from Dynamite Jackson's. Everybody is happy because the peasants dropping in to say hello to "Dot" will also drop in at Dynamite's!

THE BUZZ — Country club residents are up in arms over that plus after hours spot operating in a Hollywood manner!

IRVING LEE — the gourmet baron of E. Jefferson is taking bows for his wonderful food being featured at his Hi Hat cafe!

ROSE MARY GOOD — the attractive Red Hut waitress upset several males when she up and married a handsome lad from New Orleans. One ex-boyfriend has made threats on her life!

LEROY'S LIQUOR — the first Negro owned lush store, just underwent a face-lifting and is now one of the smartest looking stores on the westside. Stop in and grab your Bourbon Deluxe, Gordon's Gin, Four Roses, 102, Eastside, Budweiser, Hamms, Schlitz, and Rheingold. They handle all products with brownskin salesman!

SAM TAPP — ex-suds salesman will report on the streets for Hamms, and only after the company screened more than a thousand applicants!

LA TANYA GRIFFIN — is being flooded with calls since the Lullaby Guild's and Church of Divine Guidance fashion shows. Her breath-taking creations were outstanding!

MACK (STINKFINGER) HAYES —will be happy to note that several calls have reached this office inquiring about his health, happiness and his subscription! Hayes is on location for the United States Government around Washington!

SILENT HOSTESS — isn't as mum as the name implies. The west Third Street catering company is being labeled as one of the best in these parts. Director Daniel Boone says they'll serve a party from one buck to a grand anywhere and anytime!

RAYMOND ROGERS — ex-Clevelander and his sister, Nanette Johnson, are taking over the kitchen at the Paradise Cocktail sip-parlor. Roger is famous for his culinary arts in such swank eastern establishments as Cleveland's Country

Scott's Bridge Students Enthuse Over Classes

Kenneth Scott's bridge classes at the Omega Fraternity House, 2069 Oxford avenue, are open to all members and clubs interested in learning to play scientific Contract Bridge.

The opening class for the winter at the YWCA Woodlawn branch is scheduled for tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. The "Y" wives of the YWCA unit are making splendid progress despite the short time they have been playing in the classes.

Comments of some of the class members indicate the interest the weekly meetings have aroused.

GLORIA MITCHELL — "Mr. Scott has brought me a long way in bidding."

GLORIA ROBERTS — "This bridge class has been particularly helpful in giving me practical instruction that I could immediately use."

JENNARD STANCHEMORE— "Bridge is really becoming interesting to me."

Berman's Buys Greatest Ever Crowds Agree

Definitely the most gratifying news to come out of the Republican administration is the wall to wall price slashing sale of Southern California's own "stylesational" IRVING BERMAN, handsome head of BERMAN'S House of Style, 114 West Ninth Street, between Spring and Broadway in Downtown Los Angeles.

Well Known Favorite

Berman's famous birthday sale currently in progress features the finest selection of imported materials, meticulously selected and invincibly created in his own spacious shop. Look no further for the highest style suits, sportswear, formal attire and accessories, unequalled anywhere in Southern California. Among Berman's innovations are the longer coats, one piece backs, broad shoulders, snug hips that make you know you look and feel better. Of course there is a vast selection of the newest charcoal colors in one- and two-button styles.

Photogs Slate Cocktail Party

Local club and newspaper photographers, who compose the newly-formed United Profes ional Photographers, are in the midst of plans for a combination photo exhibit-cocktail party to be held Nov. 14 at 2057 S. Harvard.

Live entertainment in the form of music and models is also planned for the event, according to the program committee chairman T. J. Simpson, UPP vice President. Other officers include Merrile Harris, President; Edward Roberts, Treasurer; Charles A. Williams, Secretary; and Harry Adams, Sergeant-At-Arms.

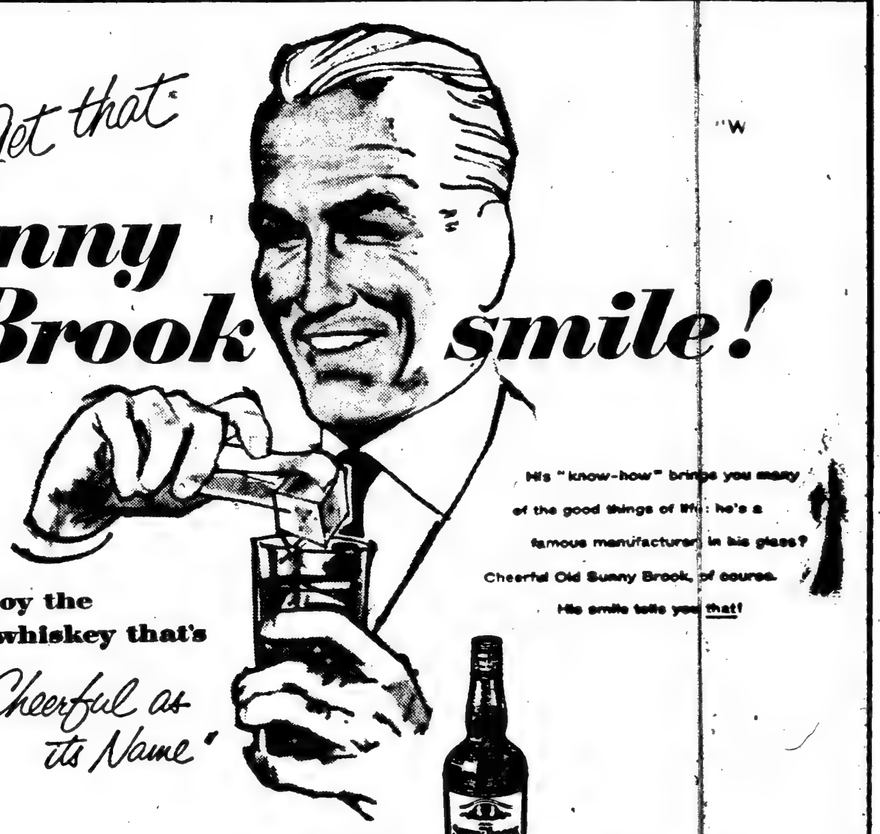
Emlen Tunnell
great safety man of the professional New York Giants, takes time out to enjoy a bottle of delicious Coca-Cola.



The harder a man plays football, the more important it is that he rest and relax whenever he has the opportunity. Champions always play hard. That's why you'll find champions in football... and in every other sport... enjoying "the pause that refreshes" with delicious Coca-Cola. How about you? The harder you work on your job, the more important it is that you pause every once in awhile to refresh. And for more than sixty-five years, ice-cold Coca-Cola has been America's favorite refreshment. Turn a little moment into a big rest by enjoying a frosty bottle of Coke. Where you work... where you play... where you shop... you'll find familiar red coolers for Coca-Cola. And don't forget to keep a husky supply on hand at home.

Follow the Champions. Have a Coke... and Work Refreshed

OFFICE OF THE TAX COLLECTOR OF THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES NOTICE OF AGREEMENT TO PURCHASE LANDS DEEDED TO THE STATE FOR DELINQUENT TAXES.
(Agreement No. 961)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the undersigned Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8, Part 6, Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and the written authorization of the State Controller, as follows:

That an agreement has been made between the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles City School District of Los Angeles County and approved by the State Controller of the State of California, to sell to said District under the terms set forth in said agreement, all of the right, title and interest of the State in and to all of the real property hereinafter described, all of which said property has been deeded to the State for delinquent taxes. A Copy of said agreement is on file in the office of said Board of Supervisors.

That pursuant to said agreement the undersigned Tax Collector may issue a tax deed to said District 21 days after the first publication and the mailing of this notice, and the right of redemption will cease unless the property is redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated before it is sold. For information as to the amount necessary to redeem or to pay the delinquent taxes in installments, provided the right to redeem has not previously been terminated, apply to H. L. Byram, Tax Collector, 3rd floor, Hall of Justice. The real property covered by said agreement is all in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and is described as follows, to-wit:

NOTICE OF STREET LIGHTING MAINTENANCE

Notice is hereby given that on October 6, 1954, the Council of the City of Los Angeles duly passed Ordinance No. 104,213, declaring its intention to order the necessary LIGHTING POSTS and appliances to be MAINTAINED and ELECTRIC CURRENT to be FURNISHED for lighting said posts for the period of two years, beginning July 1, 1955, for the lighting of that certain district designated as Central Avenue between Eleventh Street and Slauson Avenue, on, over and along those certain public streets of the City of Los Angeles as follows:

CENTRAL AVENUE between Eleventh Street and Slauson Avenue.

Reference is hereby made to the report of the Board of Public Works in connection therewith, on file in the office of the City Clerk, to said Ordinance of Intention; and to Ordinance No. 75,000, as amended, for further particulars.

That Wednesday, November 17, 1954, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, in the Council Chamber in the City Hall of said city, has been designated as the time and place for the hearing of protests relative to the proposed improvement. Any person objecting to the said improvement or to the extent of the assessment district, or to any assessment therefor, may file a written protest with the City Clerk at any time PRIOR to the day set for the hearing of such protests, specifying the ground or grounds upon which such protest is based. Such protests must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same and be delivered to the City Clerk, and no other protests than those presented in the form and within the time specified will be considered.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS
of the City of Los Angeles.

Note: This improvement proposes only the operation and maintenance of the existing lighting system.

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford

Newsman ABIE ROBINSON, probably best known for stepping on sassietys manicured toe-nails in print came to the BAL CARIBE as a bandit with a concealed weapon. And we'd better say it was a water pistol before we get sprayed with printer's ink . . . Carrot-top HARRIET "DEE DEE" YOUNG will start rehearsing today with the fabulous HORTON hoofers! CRISWELL has predicted that the CARMEN JONES flick will be banned by the Legion Of Decency, for being too lewd, but we think the prophet goofed that one time . . . Mail from honey love JOY McCLAIN with Porgy And Bess in PARIS where the folk opera is playing to stand up crowds. Also mail from LESLIE "Porgy" SCOTT who says those frantic frenchmen say the sexy show makes eet too hot to seet down! . . . Card from LENORA WINKLER in Dee Cee to announce that HAZEL was there and that LENORA will be blowing in soon . . .

His Story Is Made At Night!

Sometimes columnists are lucky bums. Like the other night at Larry Potter's where we were the guest of WANANI, the BLACK ORCHID. The explosive Afro-Cuban, song stylist wore a special gown just for this scribbling bum. Mimic ARTHUR BLAKE is billed as headliner. But to my way of thinking the lady is star of the show.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Three Negroes Win Congress Seats; Lomax, Lundy Defeated

Detroit Elects First U.S. Congressman; Roybal Heads List

Three Negro Democrats—William D. Dawson of Chicago, Adam Clayton Powell of New York, and Charles E. Diggs, Jr., of Detroit—were elected to Congress Tuesday. The sole Negro Republican, W. Beverley Carter, Jr., of Philadelphia, lost to his white Democratic opponent, 59,980 to 31,480.

Lucius Lomax, Democratic candidate in the 63rd Assembly District in California, and Rayfield Lundy, Republican candidate in the 55th District, both lost their bids for office. Augustus F. Hawkins of Los Angeles, and Byron Rumford of Oakland, both Democrats, were elected in the primary.

Favored Democrats

Negro voters favored the Democratic Party overwhelmingly, according to a spot check of 30 precincts in the three heavily populated Negro areas of Los Angeles.

Edward R. Roybal, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, was the best vote-getter, with 3195 votes in 30 precincts, 10 each in the Watts, the Westside and Central avenue areas, against 1251 votes for Harold Powers, Republican.

Samuel William Yorty, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, got 3018 votes in these same precincts as against 1245 for the Republican, Kuchel. Richard Graves lagged far behind with only 2584 votes in these precincts as against 2122 for Knight.

Extends to 55th A.D.

Preference of Negro voters for Democratic candidates even extended to the race in the 55th A.D., where Vernon Kilpatrick, white Democrat, got 671 votes in 10 precincts as against 396 for Lundy. On the other hand, Lomax, a Democrat, got 1077 votes in the 63rd District in 10 precincts as against 495 for his white Republican opponent.

The preference of Negro voters for Democratic candidates was in striking contrast to the prevailing trend in the election in California.

Detroit's Charles M. Diggs won the Democratic nomination in the face of heavy odds against George D. O'Brien, long time incumbent, last June and was opposed by Landon Knight, white Republican. The district, the Thirteenth, is heavily Democratic.

Dawson's opponent was Genoa Washington, lawyer and hotel operator. Dawson succeeded Arthur Mitchell, a Democrat who ousted Oscar De Priest, Republican and first Negro to represent the First District. With its preponderant Democratic registration, the

3 Dixie States Vote to Abolish Public Schools

Dixie proved again on Tuesday—though no further proof was needed — that it is still the unreconstructed South of the days after the Civil War.

Three states — Mississippi, Georgia and Louisiana — all passed constitutional amendments designed to prevent the integration of schools despite the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation.

In Mississippi and Georgia, the voters approved a measure which provides for the closing of public schools if the authorities so desire. Louisiana approved a slightly different method of obtaining the same end. There the amendment places the schools under the police power of the state.

Get-away Car Found; Clue in Knife Murder

Officers D. Barker and G. E. Conroy Monday morning turned up a hot lead in the all-out search for Jack Henderson Raby, wanted for the butcher-knife murder Oct. 7 of young Mrs. Farella Johnson Brackins, Jr., mother of four children.

About 8:30 in the morning the officers spotted a car that answered the description of the get-away auto in which Raby was believed to have made his escape. The battered '48 De Soto, its back seat torn loose, was found in front of 663 E. 51st street. The car was registered in Raby's name.

Police and sheriffs kept the car under constant surveillance, but no one showed up to claim it.

The red-haired, 28-year-old man disappeared on the day young Mrs. Brackins was murdered. Raby was known to have been her friend, and evidence pointed to him as the killer.

OFFICER DANCES JIG FOR TEENAGE TYRANT

Wesley M. Sherman, 38, a police sergeant attached to Newton Division, had a legitimate "beef" against hot rodders Saturday night, especially the teenage driver who made him perform an apache dance at the intersection of 41st street and Compton avenue, and then pulled a Houdini get-away.

The dignified sergeant was crossing the street a little before midnight when four teenagers drew up in a '46 Ford coupe and stopped for the red light. When Sgt. Sherman walked in front of the car, the daredevil driver raced the engine, then nudged the car forward.

"I stepped to the left to avoid being hit," said the sergeant. But the driver swerved to the left, too. As Sherman jumped first one way and then the other, the driver kept pace with him. The teenagers laughed heartily.

Finally Sgt. Sherman angrily ordered the young driver to pull over, but the little daredevil just stepped on the gas and drove on down the street.

Police found the car was registered to Eugene Austin Mason, 18, of 249 E. 111th street.

On the Lam

Later that evening the car was observed by Officers Hall and White, and the driver, Mason, was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, and handcuffed, his hands locked behind his back. But somehow the wily youth managed to break away and take it on the lam.

He was picked up later, at the home of a girl friend, at 1605 E. 43rd street, with the handcuffs missing.

Upon interrogation, he admitted that he'd gone to Ross-Snyder playground after eluding the police and had persuaded a friend, Otis Patterson, 18, of 1661 E. 40th place, to saw off the irons. Another friend, Ruth Houston, 9238 Za-

Three Jailed as Bookies

Woman, 80, Man Burned To Death

Mrs. Mattie Parker, 80, a bedridden invalid, and a 54-year-old man, Thurman Lacefield, were burned to death Saturday when the frame building at 1376½ E. 20th street burst into flames.

The elderly woman had been home from the hospital only a few days. Mrs. M. Dixon, a friend, told police she had visited Mrs. Parker about 9:30 p.m. and had found her in the best of spirits.

Lacefield was found sprawled out on the kitchen floor, but the body was burned beyond recognition. The charred remains were later identified by a brother, Luther Lacefield, 1373 E. 21st street.

Norman Daniels, 1380½ E. 20th street, told officers that a few days earlier the dead woman had written a will and had given it to his wife for safekeeping. The will was turned over to the authorities.

According to the arson squad, the fire started in the rear bedroom, probably from a smoldering cigaret.

Mrs. Nixon said that when she visited Mrs. Parker there was no heater in the room, and she never knew Mrs. Parker to smoke.

Walter White Improves After Heart Attack

NEW YORK. — Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, has been taken off the critical list at New York Hospital where he was admitted on Oct. 12 after suffering a heart attack, it was announced at NAACP headquarters here this week.

The physicians caring for White have reported that he is "improving steadily" but have set no date for his leaving the hospital.

Newspapermen in Top-Side View of Rams-Lions Tilt

Being a newspaper man is hard work, but it has its compensations. We thought of this Sunday afternoon as our car was stopped by traffic outside the Coliseum while thousands of people were streaming into the grandstand for the Rams-Lions game.

A shiny car drove up, and displayed a press card. Police diverted traffic to let it pass, opened the gates and permitted the driver to park free on the Coliseum grounds. The passengers were escorted to a private elevator.

We inched our way along, finally found a parking lot four blocks away, paid our $1 parking fee, and started to walk back.

We thought of the press again as we climbed, and puffed and stopped for breath on our way up to the 79th row of seats. As we settled back on the bench and looked out on the 15 yard line, we glanced over to the glass-enclosed, air-conditioned room, right on the 50-yard line, completely equipped for the press. The white press, that is.

Representatives of the other community papers were dropping down exhausted besides us. We made a nice little dark-skinned group sitting up there near the sky.

Sometimes we wonder why.

P.O. Worker Wins Murder Acquittal

After deliberating for 24 hours, the jury in Judge Walter R. Evans' court this week returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the murder trial of postal worker Rufus Elliott, accused in the June 24th killing of Louis Tackwood on 5th street.

The state had asked that Elliott be sent to the gas chamber for what it termed premeditated murder.

Against this, Atty. Crispus A. Wright, who represented the accused man, presented witnesses to show that Tackwood had attacked Elliott the night before the killing and that he had attempted to attack him again on the day of the shooting.

Atty. Wright further argued that Elliott had a right to defend himself against Tackwood.

One of the facts which apparently weighed heavily with the jury was the discrediting of one of the state's star witnesses, Amos Black, who had claimed that he was an employee of the California Eagle. Atty. Wright placed Mrs. Calme Russ, office manager of the Eagle, on the stand to refute his assertion.

During the trial which lasted for two weeks the state's witnesses claimed that Elliott chased Tackwood for approximately one block, finally cornered him in the Young's Market parking lot, and when the victim's path was blocked by parked autos, fired at him five times.

Val Verde Man Wins Award for Daring Rescue

Alfred C. Stevens, of Val Verde Park, was presented an award of valor this week by Capt. John H. Kinsling, of the Valley Police division.

Stevens was given the citation for risking his life in order to rescue a pilot, Jerry Spector, from a burning plane.

H. Feltenberg, Profit Nabbed In Police Raids

"I don't know from nothing."

Henry Feltenberg, 39, former Los Angeles policeman and co-owner of the Savoy bar at 1702 E. 103rd street, was admitting nothing when police arrested him Friday on charges of bookmaking.

Feltenberg was one of several well-known Eastsiders picked up in a weekend crackdown on bookies.

Also taken into custody were Wesley Profit, 57, of 1039 E. Vernon avenue, a barber, and Ezell Le Franches Leopold, 34, 840 W. 43rd street.

Feltenberg was arrested following receipt by police of information that his cafe was a front for booking horses. Police claimed that when they entered the cafe they found betting markers practically covering the cash register.

Feltenberg, who served six years in the Police Department, is also part owner of Henry's Liquor Store, 4881 Compton avenue.

"Imbros" in the 7th at Golden Gate Park Monday proved to be the downfall of Profit and Leopold.

Officers went to Profit's barber shop and from a point of vantage watched while Leopold reportedly talked to several customers and conferred with them over scratch sheets. He then, police claimed, accepted something that looked suspiciously like money and deposited it in the cash register.

During the arrest, police took from Profit a piece of paper that was covered with penciled notations. compared the notations with a scratch sheet and came up with the answer: "Imbros" in the 7th, post position No. 2.

Both Leopold and Profit were taken to Newton and charged with bookmaking.

Profit told police, "I was just making change for this man. I don't know how that paper got into my hand. But when you asked me to give it to you, I saw it had writing on it, so I tried to tear it up, because when I saw it I knew it was a betting marker."

Chief Branded Unfit; Spurns Board's Order

With Chief John H. (I Am The Law) Alderson clinging doggedly to his determination to retain racial segregation in the Fire Department, an ever increasing number of organizations and individuals went on record this week urging his dismissal from his post. The demand was sparked by an NAACP charge that Alderson is an "unfit administrator."

The chief, who assigns all Negro fire fighters to Stations 14 and 30 in the Central Avenue area, defied an order of the Board of Fire Commissioners to launch a "gradual" integration program immediately.

Alderson's defiance took the form of bluntly telling the commissioners that he will consult "private lawyers" to determine whether or not the order is legal! He will also seek an additional opinion from City Attorney Roger Arnebergh, he said.

And if the order is legal, the chief fumed, I will "comply in my own way. I will not disrupt 70 to 80 satisfied firemen simply because an outside organization insists on a transfer."

The Eagle learned that Alderson has already secured an additional opinion which consists of excerpts from the city attorney's opinion. Those excerpts state in effect that assignments cannot be made on the basis of "race alone." Alderson, the Eagle learned, will construe the additional opinion to mean that he can continue to make assignments just as he has done in the past under the claim that they are not made for reasons of "race alone" but for the "good of the service."

Last Thursday the Fire Commissioners issued an "instruction to the general manager . . . that he is hereby instructed, ordered and directed to initiate a gradual transfer of part of the personnel at Stations 14 and 30" to other stations in the city.

Hailing the spirit of the resolution, NAACP Attorneys Loren Miller, Herbert Simmons and Edward C. Maddox voiced the fear that the plan "with no commencement date is fraught with danger. The danger is compounded by placing the administration of this clear mandate in the hands of Chief Alderson, whose arrogance and bigotry have stamped him as an unfit administrator."

The NAACP told the Eagle this week that the charge that the chief is "an unfit administrator" had drawn widespread support from all sections of the community.

Among organizations appealing for Alderson's discharge was Local 216 of the United Automobile Workers "demanding that Chief Alderson be removed from office as an obstacle to the elimination of Jim Crow and segregation."

Meanwhile, the Eagle learned, firemen now assigned to Stations 14 and 30 met with NAACP lawyers this week to map plans for immediate steps to carry out the Commission order. Transfers will be sought by the majority of the men, the Eagle learned. Filling of existing vacancies at Stations 14 and 30 with white firemen and officers will also be urged on the Commission at its next meeting.

Attorney Thomas G. Neusom who made a flying visit to New York last week returned with additional proof from that department that integration has caused no problems there. Negro firemen are scattered in all stations and in all departments.

Firemen on Radio

Atty. Thomas Neusom will be heard at 6:30 p.m. Saturday over Station KOWL, "Man of Color," interviewing three New York firemen on the subject of integration.

EYE-CATCHER — Barbara Chapman, lensmen's eye-catcher, will be on hand for the photographer's photo show and cocktail party Nov. 14. She'll pose, too, if any of the guests want to practice shooting pictures.

Trumbull Park Terror Called 'Running Sore'

CHICAGO — The continuing race terror at the Trumbull Park housing project is a "nauseating sore in our civic life," Federal Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole declared last Friday.

In an effort to restore "order, respect for the law and simple human decency" the top housing leader urged Kennelly to confer with the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, Catholic senior auxiliary bishop, and Walter Reuther, CIO president.

In a speech at Hampton, Va., Cole said the federal government would refuse aid to cities which "default on their obligations to minority citizens."

The assertion that riotous conditions prevail is "completely unfounded in fact," replied Chicago's housing and redevelopment co-ordinator, James C. Downs, Jr., on behalf of Kennelly. He stated there have been "almost no incidents of violence" at the project in the last three months.

Police Commissioner O'Connor said 313 policemen are assigned to the project daily.

Honor Pair For Service to Community

Two prominent Los Angeles women will be honored by the Los Angeles County Conference on Community Relations next Saturday, Mrs. Anne O'Ferrall, active in several organizations, and Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, President of Our Author's Study Club, will be cited for community service at the Annual Meeting Dinner to be held at the Los Angeles Police Academy Saturday (Nov. 6), at 6:30 p.m.

Others to be honored include Police Chief William H. Parker, Father Charles S. Cassassa, S.J., President of Loyola University; Gale Seaman, active in the Rauschenbush Fellowship, and Walter Hilborn, President of the Welfare Planning Council. U.S. District Court Judge James M. Carter will deliver the address at the dinner.

Lester Bailey to Survey Schools In El Centro

SAN FRANCISCO — With directions to "wrap up" the school segregation survey in El Centro and to conduct an investigation of employment bias in Pasadena, Lester Bailey, NAACP field secretary, made preparations this week to begin a month-long tour from Modesto down to the Mexican border.

"We have been attempting to work out a solution to school segregation in El Centro since 1951," Atty. Franklin H. Williams declared, "and we must announce at this time that conference procedure and public hearings have failed to convince the local school board that they are violating the letter and spirit of the law."

SANTA MONICA NEWS

By Ida B. Dooley

The Social Hall of the Calvary Baptist Church was the scene of an elaborate tea Sunday afternoon sponsored by the church's senior choir, of which Mrs. Esther Lee Coleman is president. Georgeous decorations and lovely flowers made a perfect setting for the delicate and tasty repast. Hostesses for the afternoon included members of the choir.

The choir plans "a march of quarters" to come to a climax November 28. The money will aid the church building fund.

Birthday Party

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Towns was the scene of the Philmathene's Club party Sunday. Meetings are held semi-annually for all members having birthdays in the first or last half of the year. The social committee was in charge.

In Hospital

Mrs. Rose Burnette, operator and owner of the 20th street shop, became very ill last week and was rushed to the Santa Monica Hospital for further medical treatment.

World Community Day

The World Community Day series for Santa Monica Bay churches is to be held at the First Methodist Church, 4th and Arizona, this Friday, Nov. 5. The board meeting begins at 10:30 a.m. to be followed by a 12:30 p.m. luncheon. A fine program has been arranged featuring outstanding speakers.

A Freakish Accident

Mrs. Beatrice Tarver, of Fontant, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Allen, had her finger badly crushed while she was sitting in a parked car. The finger had to be amputated. Another car crashed into the one in which she was seated.

Vacationing

Mrs. John Williams, of 1520 16th street, left last week to visit relatives in New York. On her return trip she will visit relatives and friends in Louisiana and Arkansas.

Miss Esther Guiliotte, who is teaching in Tulare, spent the weekend with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Allen.

NAACP Meeting

Salute to the outstanding women of the Santa Monica branch is scheduled for Nov. 18.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reid, 2121 Virginia avenue, entertained Sunday afternoon with a dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reid of Los Angeles, and Mr. M. McMillian, of Manniwell, Texas. Mrs. Reid's father. Mr. McMillian is on the west coast for a short visit.

Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bolton, and Mr. and Mrs. Carzie Hart, of Los Angeles.

Illinois Pushes For State FEPC

JOLIET, Ill.—A campaign for passage of FEPC and other civil rights legislation by the Illinois General Assembly in 1955 was launched at the annual convention of the state NAACP here last week.

MOST PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS SEGREGATED

Of the 305,000 families living in federally aided low-rent public housing in continental United States on June 30, more than 116,000—or 38 percent—were Negro families, it was announced Monday by Philip G. Sadler, Special Assistant to the Commissioner of the Public Housing Administration. More than 86 per cent of public housing is segregated.

A total of 1,341 projects have been started in continental United States under the Housing Act of 1949 and, of these, 723—or 54 percent—will be wholly or partially occupied by Negroes. Of the 723 projects, a total of 430 in 14 Southern states are programmed for exclusive Negro occupancy. These 430 projects include 38 which are counted officially as part of a larger project but where the units for Negroes are located on a separate site.

The Wilmington, Delaware, Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Maryland, housing authorities, Sadler named among those which have recently elected to operate their low-rent housing programs on an open occupancy basis. Many other authorities, either by resolution or because of state law or city ordinance, are operating their low-rent projects similarly.

Of the 1,624 low-rent projects in continental United States which reached full occupancy by June 30, 230—or 14 percent—are operating on a completely integrated basis. In addition, some Negro families are living in 43 projects for which there is no report as to occupancy pattern, and in 36 others where they are too few in number to form a pattern.

Sacramento Bans Bias in Redevelopment Building

SACRAMENTO — A resolution barring racial discrimination in housing areas under redevelopment in this city was passed unanimously by the City Council here Thursday.

The ordinance prohibits "discrimination or segregation in the sale, lease, sub-lease, use and or occupancy of land based upon race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry."

The ordinance further provides that in redeveloped projects the right to buy, lease, sell or otherwise convey property "is a civil right."

While the NAACP officials commended the City Counsel for unanimous passage of the ordinance, Atty. Franklin H. Williams declared:

"We do not consider the scope of this ordinance sufficient. We will continue to press for passage of the resolution introduced by this organization on Oct. 22. This resolution would prohibit discrimination in any and all housing in all sections of the city."

Local Soldier Now in Germany

Pvt. Stephen B. Simms, of Los Angeles, is serving in Germany, where he is a switchboard operator in Battery C of the 1st Infantry Division's 32d Field Artillery Battalion.

Simms, whose wife, Lillie, lives at 10715 Grape st., arrived overseas in June from Fort Belvoir, Va.

The 19-year-old soldier, son of Mrs. Isabelle M. Simms, 10624 Grape st., was employed by the Pittman Rubber Co., before entering the Army in December, 1953.

Rights Group Will Discuss L. A. Schools

Mrs. Sally Edwards, national vice president of the American Council on Human Rights, will moderate the Town House meeting Sunday, Nov. 14, from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. at the Golden State auditorium. The A.C.H.R. presents the forum under the title, "Integration, What Now?" The subject under discussion will be the Los Angeles public schools.

"Through the Town House meetings people will become informed and alert to community problems. The citizens of this community will learn through experiences of others how to take positive steps toward complete integration," states Mrs. Edwards, who is also senior social group worker for the Church Federation.

Speakers on the panel will include Atty. Thomas Neusom, who will brief the audience on local education laws relating to segregation in the school system; Cora Hilton, who will present existing problems; and Dr. J. Finn, professor of education at U.S.C., who will offer solutions.

Freedom Seal Drive Opens

Representatives of 30 social clubs have pledged their membership to sell $100 or more of NAACP Freedom Seals during the current $15,000 drive which ends on Dec. 8.

The pledges were made last Sunday at a Freedom Seals reception held at Wilfandel club. In recognition of the group that sells the largest amount of seals, Henri O'Bryant, uniform and choir robe manufacturer, and his wife, awarded a handsome trophy which O'Bryant presented to Dr. E. I. Robinson, local branch president.

It was also announced that a merit certificate will be awarded to each club which participates in the drive.

Principal speakers for the occasion were Dr. H. Claude Hudson, member NAACP national board; Attorney Thomas Neusom, branch legal counsel; Mrs. Lillie Montgomery, Mrs. Emily Woody, drive chairman. Mrs. Bessie Thomas was mistress of ceremonies.

James Edwards, popular actor of stage, screen and radio, highlighted the program with a rendition of Langston Hughes' "Freedom Train."

Mrs. Woody said there is still a need for more volunteer clubs and individuals to work in the drive. Workers are needed to sell the seals on Freedom Seal Day, soon to be announced, and for "Freedom Seal March." Interested groups and individuals may contact the NAACP branch office at 4263 S. Central avenue.

Volunteers Ask 'Chest' Funds

Today, Thursday, is the start of the annual 1954 Community Chest drive to collect funds which will be distributed to 164 health and welfare services operating with Red Feather assistance.

Some 76,000 volunteers will be operating in the Los Angeles area. They'll be ringing doorbells, asking for donations. They'll like their job if you let them know that you appreciate their efforts and are happy to be able to contribute.

Urban League Ball Backed By Notables

Highlighting the entertainment at the National Urban League Winter Ball will be the new Lotte Goslar Show. Introduced in August at Ted Shawn's Dance Festival at Jacob's Pillow, Massachusetts, the new show was acclaimed by New York critics.

The ball will be held Dec. 10 at the Deauville Club, Santa Monica. Notables sponsoring the affair include: Fleur Cowles, Winthrop Rockefeller, Robert Dowling, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, Donald Nelson, Mrs. Wayne Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brazier, Mrs. June Eckstein, Conrad Hilton, Louella Parsons, Mrs. Nat Cole, Hon. Augustus Hawkins and Mrs. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Miller, Hon. U.S. Employes Protest 'Smear' Over Firings

WASHINGTON — The National Federation of Federal Employees this week vigorously protested the "smear" and "innuenda" that attaches to every Federal worker who leaves his job, regardless of his reasons for so doing.

President Luther C. Steward issued the following statement:

"The National Federation of Federal Employees deeply resents the inevitable implications resulting from the fact that the so-called Federal security program again has become a vehicle for partisan controversy. . . . Unless derogatory information is evaluated and cases are adjudicated it is manifestly a perversion of justice to in effect stigmatize every employee who leaves the service.

"Under the present program all persons who leave the service, for whatever cause, are suspect, and are open to smear and innuendo."

Lomax, Lundy Lose In Assembly Try

District's election of Dawson was a certainty from the start.

Powell, who was the first Negro to represent his Harlem district in Congress, won only lukewarm support from Democrats who were disgruntled because of a Readers Digest article in which he praised President Eisenhower.

The sole Republican candidate, Beverley Carter, young Philadelphia public relations man, had the difficult job of seeking office in Pensylvania's Fourth District, another heavily Democratic area which has long been represented by Earl Chudoff, a Democrat with a good civil rights record.

Early election returns indicated that Negro voters swung along with the general trend in the election of local officials and state representatives and senators. The majority of these officers, most of them from the larger cities, are Democrats who got a toe-hold during the New Deal-Fair Deal administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

Every large northern and western city now has Negroes in state legislative bodies with an increasing number on county commissions.

Election figures in eastern and midwestern states indicated that Negroes stuck to their affiliation with the Democrats despite an almost unprecedented drive by the Republican high command to lure them back into the GOP fold.

Negro Republicans had a low batting average against Negro Democratic opponents, except in a few cities where personalities were the determining factor. The Republican appeal was largely pitched on the claim of what President Eisenhower had done in the past two years but Negro voters apparently did not attach much importance to the claims, at least as far as congressional and state candidates are concerned.

As it has in the past 20 years, the Negro vote in such large centers as Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and New York went overwhelmingly for Democratic candidates for congress and state offices. The trend was the same in smaller cities with an appreciable Negro population.

A last minute Gallup Poll had showed that Negro voters were swayed by the generally adverse economic conditions facing them. They showed appreciation for advances in civil rights under Eisenhower but thought that the Democrats had done as well in that respect and that they had fared better in the quest for jobs under Roosevelt and Truman.

Race Relations Award Offered By Hotel Union

NEW YORK—Local 6 of the Hotel and Club Employees Union AFL has announced that its second annual Racial Understanding award will be presented to the person who has contributed the most to racial understanding in the United States during 1954.

The panel of judges will consider all nominations received before Jan. 1, 1955.

The award is $500, and anyone may be nominated except members of the sponsoring union.

NAACP Names Committee for Nominations

Over 300 people attended the monthly meeting of the NAACP Sunday at the Hamilton Methodist church, to hear reports and to elect a nominating committee to select officers for the coming year.

Reports were given on the Regional Conference at Asilomar by Atty. Elbert Hudson, the Fire Department Case by Atty. Herbert W. Simmons, Jr., and the Freedom Seal Campaign by Mrs. Emily Woody. The following were elected to the Nominating Committee: Atty. Elbert Hudson, Mrs. Estelle Van Meter, Mrs. Maudie Henderson, L. B. Thompson, Clarence Smith, Carl J. Johnson, D. C. Montgomery, Leon Steward, and Mrs. Matilda Parker.

Atty. Hudson, selected as chairman of the Nominating Committee, announced Tuesday that all members in good standing may submit names of qualified persons for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and for the 18 seats on the executive committee.

All nominations must be in the hands of the Nominating Committee on or before Nov. 19, and should be addressed to: Nominating Committee, c/o NAACP Office, 4263 S. Central avenue, Los Angeles 11.

The Nominating Committee will present a slate for election at the annual election meeting in December.

L.A. Sergeant In War 'Games' In Germany

Army Sergeant First Class Booker T. Waterhouse Jr., son of Mrs. Hallie Montgomery, 700 E. 103d pl., is taking part in the VII Corps training maneuver "Westwind," an atomic-age exercise so massive that it is utilizing all of South Central Germany for its mock battlefield.

Sgt. Waterhouse is supply sergeant in the corps' 29th Transportation Car Company.

Waterhouse, formerly of 1620 O'Neal st., Houston, Tex., is a veteran of service in Korea. His wife, Kattie Mae, and daughter, Rita Helen, are with him in Germany.

Also participating in the maneuvers is Army PFC Walter C. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Priestly A. Young, 2207 Sycamore drive.

Private Young, who entered the Army in April 1953, is a dispatcher with the 29th Transportation Car Company.

Sacramento Builders Admit They Refuse To Sell To Negroes

SACRAMENTO—A frank admission that it is their policy not to sell homes to Negroes was made here last week by representatives of the builders of hundreds of new homes.

In sworn statements secured Thursday and Friday by lawyers for the NAACP, Milton G. Horgan, broker, and Joseph Frye, salesman, made the admission with regard to houses sold through their offices.

Unlawful Agreement

The depositions taken by Attys. Franklin H. Williams and Nathaniel S. Colley, will figure in a $10,000 suit filed on behalf of Oliver A. Ming, who charges that solely because of his race he was refused the right to purchase a house offered for sale by Horgan and Frye.

The suit was filed in Superior Court May 10, and charges that "with the aid and assistance of the Federal Housing Administration the defendants have constructed and sold many thousands of dwelling units in Sacramento County and pursuant to their unlawful agreement have refused to sell a single one of said housing units to a Negro."

The defendants are accused of having "entered into an oral agreement" not to sell any of the houses to Negroes and it is charged that such an agreement is a violation of the laws and public policy of the United States and the State of California.

Public Funds

The complaint charges further that these discriminatory practices have been pursued in spite of the fact that this housing is insured by public funds. The defendants are said to "enjoy a monopoly on the construction and sale of housing" in Sacramento County.

In addition to Horgan and Frye, the following are named as defendants in the suit:

The Heraty and Gannon Equipment Co.; Don L. Lucas, president of the Sacramento Real Estate Board; Randolph Parks, Inc.; M. J. King; Fernandez Construction Co.; McBride Realty Co.; Hackes and Hurst Real Estate Co.; Sertich Realty Co.; Lusk Realty Co.; and Cowden Realty Co., all of Sacramento County.

Atty. Colley is president of the Central Area NAACP Conference and a member of the West Coast NAACP Legal Redress Committee. Atty. Williams is secretary-counsel of the West Coast Regional NAACP.

Hate Leader Denies Striking Letter Carrier

WASHINGTON — Bryant W. Bowles, bad check artist who is trying to get rich by spreading race-hate propaganda, pleaded innocent to beating up a Negro letter carrier when his case came up for arraignment here Monday. He asked for a jury trial which has been set for Jan. 5.

The letter carrier, Roscoe V. Cooper, was scheduled to face trial today, Thursday, on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Cooper claims that when he was delivering mail he was set upon by Bowles and beaten and kicked. He was rescued by an elevator operator who took him to a physician for treatment.

Bowles allegedly began attacking Cooper because the postman carried mail addressed to Bowles' Klan-like organization, the National Association for the Advancement of White People, in his sack instead of in his hand.

Bowles claims that Cooper used "profane and abusive language" to Mrs. Bowles.

Travel Agency Is Accredited

Marines Open Recruit Office On Broadway

Marine Staff Sgt. Delavan S. Lachman, 27, son of Dr. A. L. Lachman of 405 El Camino Real, Burlingame, and Mrs. Maude Lachman, 783 E. Walnut street, Pasadena, is in charge of a new Marine Corps recruiting office which opened Wednesday at 4407 S. Broadway.

Sgt. Lachman, a much decorated marine who is in his second tour of duty, stressed the fact that there is complete integration in the Marines, and that there are no waiting lists.

Men aged 17 to 28 are eligible. Enlistments are for either three or four years. A man enlisting now, said Lachman, can be on his way to basic training in San Diego within three days after he signs up. Once in the service, he can elect to attend trade school, Lachman said.

The Broadway office will be open Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Local Business Men In Organizing Drive

Community businessmen are looking forward with keen interest to future meetings and permanent organization following a highly successful Kick-Off fellowship breakfast staged Sunday at Cosmopolitan Hotel.

Nearly 100 businessmen and women responded to acting co-chairman Henri O'Bryant's sponsoring committee's invitation to meet and acquaint themselves with the vast business opportunities in greater Los Angeles.

Guest speakers for the occasion were Edwin Wirsing and Don Olsen, Union Bank and Trust executives. Panel discussion speakers included R. R. Wright III, general manager Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association; Leroy W. Jeffries, national advertising manager for Ebony and Johnson Publications; Herman Hill, of Herman Hill and Associates; and O'Bryant.

Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., acted as master of ceremonies. Messrs. Jeffries and Louis Johnson, West Coast advertising manager for Johnson Publications, showed their firm's 20-minute color film, "The Secret of Selling the Negro Market."

Attorney Everette Bonner spearheaded a discussion of methods of organization and a future program. Dr. J. F. Evans was named to head a committee on permanent organization. Members of the committee are co-chairman Morris B. Hampton, Mrs. Emma Holbert, acting secty., Miss Libby Clark, FEM Magazine, Mrs. Essie Keesee, R. R. Wright, and O'Bryant.

Businessmen representing a varied cross-section of the community attended. It was the general concensus of opinions expressed that the organization could do much to further the economic aspects of Negro business. The next regular breakfast meeting will be held three weeks hence. At that time a permanent organization will be effected. Co-chairman O'Bryant has urged all interested businessmen to contact him at HO-21801.

Driving Essay Contest Open To Students

"Safer Driving Through Better Vision" is the theme of a poster and essay contest being jointly conducted by the Vision Conservation Institute and California optometrists. It is a state-wide contest with eliminations being held at local high schools. For the winners of each division, cash prizes and all-expenses-paid trips to the 1955 Optometric Convention are offered.

Several area optometrists are sponsoring the event at Jefferson High School. Prizes will be awarded to local winners.

All students who are interested are asked to contact Miss Hays of the English Dept. or Miss Brenner of the Art Dept. Information can be obtained from any of the following optometrists: Dr. S. S. Brown, 4315 S. Central avenue, AD. 4-6289; Dr. J. T. Buchanon, 4350 Avalon boulevard, AD. 1-1047; or Dr. W. B. Phillips, 1061 E. Vernon avenue, AD. 1-3209.

Gordon Book Shop Slates Celebration

The Hugh Gordon Bookshop will celebrate its seventh anniversary on Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. at the old CIO building, 5851 S. Avalon blvd. A program has been planned to interest the whole family, from toddlers to grandmothers.

Entertainment will consist of a play, "Phyllis Wheatley," by Frank Greenwood, a film, "House on Cedar Hill," depicting the life of Frederick Douglass, dances based on the heritage of the Negro people and dancing to the music of Buddy Collette and his orchestra. In addition there will be a barbeque dinner with home-made apple and pumpkin pies.

The Hugh Gordon bookshop grew out of the hopes and dreams of one of the early California settlers.

Upon his death in 1946, he left his entire estate to be used in establishing a book and cultural center so that the rich heritage and true history and achievements of the Negro people could be made available to the Negro youth and the citizens of the community and West Coast.

Mrs. Adele Young, member of the well-known DeLavallade family, has successfully established and kept the doors of the bookshop open to the public.

Haiti President Will Visit U. S.

The forthcoming visit of Haiti's popular and energetic President Paul Magloire to the United States on January 26 is, according to the White House announcement, "further demonstration of the cordial relations and historic friendship between the United States and the Republic of Haiti."

The President and Madame Magloire will be official guests of the Eisenhowers at Blair House. They will spend three days in Washington and will visit New York and a number of other American cities. Plans for the visit have not yet been completed, but it is expected that the President will take this opportunity to visit a number of agricultural and industrial centers in order to obtain a better understanding of American techniques, particularly those which might be helpful in furthering Haiti's Five-Year Plan of Economic Development instituted by President Magloire after his election in 1950.

This is not President Magloire's first visit to the United States. He made a brief business trip to some of our Eastern cities in 1947. Madame Magloire was in the United States for a few weeks last winter when she underwent a medical check-up at John Hopkins.

Resident Gives Destitute Woman A Helping Hand

Some people seem to have a gift for ferreting out individuals in distress, and of taking the time to bother to do something to give them a helping hand.

One such person is Charles W. Wherry, who describes himself as "just a plain citizen."

A short time ago he received an appeal from a young woman in Chicago. She came from a small town in Alabama, where she had shocked her parents and her friends by letting it be known that she would have no objection if a daughter of hers wanted to marry a Negro.

Thought Her Insane

Her parents concluded that she must be insane and had her committed to a mental institution. But at the hospital they found her sane and released her. She went to Chicago, met and married a Negro. They had a child, but the husband deserted her.

The young woman was destitute, and did not know where to seek help. She had heard of Wherry and so she wrote to him.

"I have a little baby boy to take care of all by myself," she wrote. "He is of mixed race, half colored . . . I named him Stephen. His father has not seen him and the poor child has no one but me—no family or relatives at all. My Ku Klux Klan parents down south would like to see him dead as they despise having a colored grandchild."

Wrote Governor

Wherry set to work to see what could be done. He wrote to her, asked for a picture of herself and the child. He also wrote to the governor of Illinois. The governor referred the case to the Illinois Public Aid Commission in Chicago.

The young woman went to the welfare office, and she is now receiving a small amount of aid—not a great deal, but enough to enable her to pay the rent and buy some food for herself and her baby.

She wrote Wherry, thanking him for his help and telling him what had happened. She adds a postscript—"My baby's name is Stephen Sylvan. I named him for St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr."

Reflections On Politics

Now that the tumult and the shouting has died down and the 1954 election is history, it is time to take a good look at the attitudes of the major parties toward the Negro voter in California.

There isn't much to be said on the subject beyond the fact that neither party seems to know or understand much about the aims and aspirations of the California Negro. Democratic platform makers came up with some pretty good planks and promises—and then promptly forgot to tell the Negro voter how they propose to carry out their promises. The Republicans carefully straddled the major issues and kept hemming, hawing and dodging right up to November 2.

With a few rare exceptions, the Democratic candidates neglected the Negro voter entirely or, where they tried to appeal to him, fell flat on their faces mumbling about theirs being the party of the people. The biggest show of Democratic ineptitude, or worse, came when the party organization had the brazen effrontery to propose a Deep South Louisiana congressman as the main speaker at a congressional dinner—in a district where 40 per cent of the voters are Negroes!

The Republicans sent to Washington for Assistant Secretary of Labor J. Ernest Wilkins to come to Los Angeles to make a pitch for a Culver City clerk against Jimmy Roosevelt!

Just a little common sense would have kept either of the parties from pulling boners of this kind. Neither could escape doing something of the sort because neither has any appreciation of what the Negro voter thinks, or what makes him tick.

Each of the parties had one candidate who was seeking office in a district heavily populated by Negroes against a white candidate of the opposite party. But neither Lucius Lomax, the Democrat, nor Rayfield Lundy, the Republican, got any effective help from his party. The official Democratic machine did its best to defeat Lomax in the primary and the Republicans simply looked the other way in the Lundy campaign.

Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats ever grasped the simple truth that the candidacies of Lomax and Lundy were symbolic of the Negro's desperate, and determined, drive for participation in government. Each of the parties is willing, and eager, to boost the candidacy of one of its members in any district where one Negro is pitted against another but neither of them is willing to match its practice with its preachments and get out and fight for a Negro who has what must seem to the politicos the effrontery to oppose a white candidate for an office.

Republican mumbo-jumbo revolved around attempts to claim every Supreme Court decision as a triumph for the Eisenhower administration while the Democrats were content to conjure up the spirit of Roosevelt and Truman.

The GOP literally dumped hundreds of thousands of dollars in the drive for votes in other communities while the campaign in the Negro community was a picayunish affair with their campaign headquarters on a starvation stipend. The Democrats never even got around to putting a Negro on its paid staff.

The moral of the whole business is that the California Negro doesn't yet figure in the plans of either party. He is a sort of a stepchild. Nobody cares much about him. Nobody has any plans for him.

The truth of the matter is that if the California Negro voter expects to get much beyond a perfunctory pat on the head from our politicos he will have to do some organizing on his own hook and some planning of his own.

There are now some six hundred thousand Negroes in this state. At least half of them are eligible to vote. Three hundred thousand voters can get some of the things they want if they organize and throw their weight around. There is nothing to be gained from standing around hat in hand. In fact, there is some danger that the hat itself will be snatched away.

The short of it is that Negroes were treated like dim-witted children in the 1954 campaign, to be kept quiet with a pat on the head every now and then. If the Democrats want to keep the Negro voter in the fold where he has been since 1934, they will have to wake up to the fact that the children have grown up, and if the Republicans want to woo them back to the party of Lincoln they will have to do more than whoop up court decisions for which they were not responsible.

Come to think of it, maybe the best thing the Negro could do would be to strike out on an independent path and strike harder bargains with vote-seekers regardless of party.

Who's Above The Law?

It must be plain to everybody by this time that Fire Chief John H. Alderson has set himself above the law.

He responded to the Fire Commission's order to end segregation with the arrogant assertion that he will consult with his own "private lawyers" and with the city attorney to see whether or not he has to obey the order. And even if he does, he says, he will take his own good time about it.

The terms of the Los Angeles City Charter are plain enough. The policy-making power is vested in the boards of commissioners in the various departments. No chief of any department has ever questioned the power of these boards, and none may do so legally.

Chief Alderson knows what he is about.

He believes in racial segregation. At bottom he believes in the inferiority of Negroes. He has nourished and cherished that belief so long that he fancies himself as a champion of White Supremacy.

In addition, he has built a career and a reputation on the vain boast that he will never stand for integration in the Fire Department. He has become the victim of his own foolhardy boasting. He does not want to bow to the law of the land and to the orders of his superiors because if he does he will be shown up as a braggart who has been brought down to earth. He must take refuge in ever more boasting and defiance.

It becomes ever more apparent that if the Commissioners want to end racial segregation in the Los Angeles Fire Department they must get rid of Alderson and replace him with a man who is willing to follow the law and obey the Constitution.

Dollars And Civil Rights

For years the federal government has kept up with solemn pretense that the Federal Housing Administration is an independent loan insurance outfit which could do nothing to prevent builders and contractors from getting FHA-insured loans and then thumbing its nose at Negroes who sought to sell or rent homes constructed with those funds.

Last week, the attorney general announced with a great fanfare that the government was going to sue some of the builders who had reaped some pretty fancy profits by playing fast and loose with the loans. The very builders who are being sued because they reaped those profits are the same ones who practiced discrimination without drawing a single yap from Attorney General Brownell.

We think the government should go after the profiteers. We also think that the government owes a duty to its non-Caucasian citizens and that it should be as vigilant to protect their rights as it is to protect the taxpayers' dollar. Money should never talk louder than fundamental rights.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

Down in the State of Maryland a petition is being circulated by a combination of "white supremancy" groups. Naturally, the petition is about school desegregation. Naturally, the National Association for the Adancement of White People is one of the groups. Another is the Maryland Petition Committee. A third is the Association for State Rights.

The petitioners request the Maryland state government to provide for a system of private schools "for any group or groups which may wish to protect the continued existence of its own race." They further ask that any citizen subscribing to the support of such a school receive exemption from all school taxes. The petitioners carefully state that they "have never" nor "intend to ever" become a member of any organization advocating the overthrow of the government of the U. S. of America by force or violence.

Lester Granger

That's the smooth way of opposing desegration.

Anonymous Threat

In New York City, Robert W. Dowling, the Urban League's national president, received one of the many anonymous letters that Urban League leaders have come to expect as a routine part of their connection. Anonymous letter writers are seldom very intelligent, never courageous and usually mixed up emotionally.

This letter was received the day after the Urban League's National Board called upon the Federal Housing Administration to adopt a policy of refusing to underwrite mortgages for housing developments that barred occupants or purchasers because of their race.

The letter-writer was not modest. He (or she) started off, "As sincere and clean-living American whites we are informing you of the facts, that your opinion of condemning the housing federal administration is all wrong. . . . What was the significance of the first and second Continental Congress to assemble? Why did the Liberty Bell sound off at the old State House in Philadelphia?

Cannibals

"How long did it take the real pioneers and the '49'ers to build our great nation? There are two events in our American history that are reversed against the United States this present day. They are the events of 1860 and the event of 1898. . . . Today the United States Supreme Court, President Eisenhower and Attorney General Brownell are to blame for the unrest all over the country. It also includes the Board of Education.

"The advocates of integration and racial mixture are going to have their regrets as the Negroes and Porto Ricans are now controlling the Welfare Department, Home Relief Bureaus, Post Offices, Police Department and the Subway System. New York is ruined. . . . The whites are molested and threatened wherever we are. The schools are ruined and our girls are raped by these cannibals."

As mentioned above, anonymous letter-writters are seldom intelligent, never courageous and are usually mixed-up emotionally. This letter writer is really mixed up—emotionally and historically.

Gerald L. K. Smith

Out in St. Louis the pathetic followers of Gerald L. K. Smith are naturally jumping up and down and screaming. Smith chose St. Louis as headquarters for his "Christian Nationalist Crusade," the most lucrative of his many hate-rackets. So lucrative was the racket that some of his own enterprising followers broke off with little splinter movements of their own.

Smith, however, has been shrewd enough to maintain liaison with a network of kindred movements throughout the country. Consequently, the Gerald L. K. Smith poison is freely distilled into little reservoirs of racial bigotry in literally hundreds of American communities. The bigots are active against Negroes, of course, but also Catholics, Jews—and any group which takes a democratic position regarding racial or religious prejudice.

Nastiness and Filth

There's very little difference between these organizations—the Christian Nationalists, the Silver Shirts, the Brown Shirts, the Columbians, the NAAWP or the old Klan. Any of these could have been responsible for this quotation: "Remember, before you were a Democrat, before you were a Republican, you were a white Christian American. Now you can vote for the protection of your Christian faith, for the purity of your race, and for the preservation of our national independence."

This could go on and on. But what's the use? The point has been made. Long after we've passed the last law that needs to be passed we still have a mopping-up job to do—mopping up the nastiness, filth and hate that diseased minds can spew

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

Saw in the paper the other day that a couple guys have applied to the State of Illinois for a charter for their Association of Henpecked Husbands or some such name. Seems these fellows are interested in crusading for "freedom of speech and movement" or the likes.

Interesting movement, that. Can't understand why it's so late getting here. Why, men have been henpecked from the very beginning and it just leaves me puzzled why we haven't taken steps to remedy that situation before now.

This new association believes it's about time that wimmin stopped wearing the pants and issuing all the orders. A guy ought to be allowed to stop at the corner pub for a beer after a day's work without having the heebejeebies the whole time he's beering for fear he'll get a tongue lashing when he gets home.

The Pants Wearer

A guy ought to be able to come straight home, eat his dinner, turn on TV and go straight to sleep without the Pants Wearer throwing a fit as well as a couple of flower pots.

After all, this is a man's world. All our presidents have been men, haven't they? All our generals have been men, haven't they? And ever since I can remember, all our husbands have been men. So why can't they let their muscles show at home?

I know a guy who washes all the dishes at home, does all the diaper laundering, scrubs, helps with the ironing, does most of the housecleaning and every bit of the shopping. He works, too. He's a bus driver.

Offers Transfer

It so happened that he was piloting the vehicle I boarded the other day. He greeted me warmly, offered me a transfer I didn't need and asked me how far I was going. A lady behind me didn't have the right change and my friend looked at her like she wanted to switch the fights off TV for Ding Dong School.

She had to almost beg him for a transfer and for a moment I thought he was going to invite her off the bus when she repeated her request. He just glowered at her and if looks could kill, she would have been just a memory by now.

'Course it's true his female riders don't henpeck him at home but they are part and parcel of the same species which delights in sounding off about "I run this house."

Tell Me, Lady

OK, so you run this house. Is that why the milk bill got paid this month? Is that why the coal man was called in plenty of time to have a full winter's supply? Is that why the windows get checked every night and the cat gets a couple of minutes out just before bedtime?

I ask you. Is that why the baby is so well adjusted, so well behaved? Just because you run the house, lady, is that why the insurance premium is mailed out on time? And the door knob gets fixed every time that devilish little screw falls out.

Now, I ask you. Is it?

You needn't broadcast this 'cause I wouldn't want it to be generally known. Most of all I wouldn't want those guys in the Association of Henpecked Husbands to get wind of this.

But, brother, that's just why things get done in my house. 'Cause a certain girl who looks pretty good in pants "runs this house."

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

A Wisconsin farm with electricity, running water, the most modern farm and dairy equipment, including electric milking apparatus and what have you could not hold the hero of this story to the farm, although his grandfather had staked a claim at that spot before Wisconsin was a state and his father had made it a strictly modern farm and dairy. And what a story is his.

Educated in Missouri

After graduating from high school, he chose George R. Smith College in Sedalia, Mo., from which to get a degree in Business Administration. He then returned to Vernon County, Wis., to open a grocery store with another man as his partner. Like so many other partnerships, it did not work out. So our young businessman bought a movie theatre in Madison, Wis., which the great depression closed down by closing down his bank.

Leon Steward

So our hero reverted to form and went to work for the Pullman Co. for three years and then quit to become the chauffeur for the general manager of the Gold Medal Flour Co. Undaunted, he then accepted a general utility man's job with radio station WCCO, on which Atty. George Hamilton, now in the service of the State Department, sang and told Uncle Remus stories.

Mrs. M. R. Shivers

After two years of this our man started the "Twin City Herald" in Minneapolis with Cecil Newman as editor and himself as general manager. Something went wrong after two years and our hero began the "Northwestern Observer." Here he had a German master printer, who was also a drunkard, teaching him the printing trade. This went along very well. He now had a newspaper and had acquired a knowledge of printing.

M. R. Shivers

But one morning when he came into the shop the thermometer was down to zero. When Marven R. Shivers decided to go home the temperature had dropped to 35 degrees below zero and his feet, nose, fingers and ears became frozen. Without the least bit of remorse in his heart this printer decided to go to some place where it does not get that cold. His mind quickly suggested California and he was off to that destination.

In California

His first stop was in Sacramento in 1939. In 1940 he came to Los Angeles to take over the National Publishing House printing department, at Adams and Hooper. While there he became acquainted with and courted Mrs. Lady T. Swanegan, who was his secretary for two years and whom he married as he quit the job to go into the printing business on his own. He and his wife found the very spot at 34th and Central avenue. They purchased three stores and occupied one of them. Here his business management ability came to the fore for we find that they now have a nine-acre ranch near Perris and a six-room house on 118th street.

His father, who remained on the farm, is now 97 years old and a good conversationalist. Maybe Mr. Shivers will not reach 97 simply because he did not remain on the farm. But, my, what a good time he has had.

ON THE BOOKSHELF

YANKEE WHALERS IN THE SOUTH SEAS, by A. B. C. Whipple.

"Thar she blows!" All the spine-tingling drama connoted by the traditional cry of the whaler is captured in this collection of rousing tales of adventure on the high seas.

You will experience mutinies and shipwrecks, share the fate of marooned sailors, chase rogue whales, and relax in romantic idylls in the South Seas. What more could be asked by any armchair adventurer?

TELL FREEDOM, by Peter Abrahams.

The unhappy land governed by the inflexible Malan is with us again in this moving account of the first 22 years of a novelist and poet.

What it feels like to be "colored" (of mixed white and Negro blood) in South Africa today is told by Peter Abrahams, who escaped from the slums of Johannesburg to the safety of England.

The teeming life of the slums is vividly seen through the eyes of an illiterate and wondering boy. His determination to read for himself, his first school, his awareness of the gap between himself and his family, his friendships among the intellectuals of Johannesburg and Cape Town, all lead to a final break with his native land and his decision to live in England.

This is a book of foreboding and despair; but the vivid writing holds the reader's interest from beginning to end.

THE ARTS OF LIVING, by the Editors of Vogue.

The essays in this collection appeared in Vogue between 1951 and 1953 and were written by well-known people in various fields of interest.

Gilbert Highet, in addition to writing the preface, discusses the art of persuasion. Emily Kimbrough champions the art of using what you have most effectively. Alastair Cooke writes on the art of curiosity and John Mason Brown on the art of keeping the mind refueled.

Other topics include the arts of concentration, accepting one's self, balancing time, living in the present, and living with one's children. This engaging potpourri of modern wisdom will give readers a few chuckles and much food for thought.

Happy Motoring, But Take Along Your Blinders

By HARRY GERSH

Like almost everyone else in America we spent part of our vacation on the road. (Which proves that experience is a very poor teacher—but we'll let that go.) A piece north of Baltimore on U.S. 1 we stopped at an overly antiseptic dinner, all stainless steel and formica tabletops. But the coffee was good and the hamburgers better.

While we were eating another touring family entered the diner. The mother and two kids sat themselves down at a table while the father came to the counter to speak to the owner. This was sufficiently unorthodox for me to stretch my ears.

Magnanimous

"Our maid's outside in the car," the man said, "can we bring her in to eat with us?"

"Colored?" the owned wanted to know.

The tourist admitted that his maid was colored. The diner owner shook his head. Then the man asked if he could take some hamburgers out to her. The owner shrugged okay. Real magnanimous.

Unfortunately, we had already eaten.

And In Florida

It reminded me of another episode in our checkered vacation career. We had driven down to see if it was true about Florida. Somewhere around Daytona we saw the cutest motel ever and we drove in to see if we could afford it. We were about to close the deal when my wife nudged me.

I was tired so I disregarded the nudge. She nudged harder. Then I saw it. Swinging calmly in the breeze was a sign—"Gentiles Only." I told the innkeeper what he could do with his motel. It was an improbable suggestion but I would have helped him.

I thought about it all the way home. About a family believing all the ads and billboards and deciding to take to the open road to see the wonders of America. Say a trip that took in Washington and the Great Smokies and the scenic Mississippi and on to fabulous Yellowstone.

Would the trip sour in the planning as they tried to figure out where to eat and wether they could find a place to sleep? Or would they give it up before the start, knowing that the kids would ask questions for which there is no answer—compatible with the wonders of America.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I should at this time like to express my thanks and that of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority for your wide coverage of our 23rd National Convention in New York City, August 16th to 20th.

Your publication of our releases was responsible for the widespread awareness of the public to the convention.

We realize that without your cooperation our convention would not have been the success it was and we want you to know that we appreciate it.

Yours very sincerely
Georgianna Werner,
Chairman.

To the Editor:

We wish to thank you for your article in last week's Eagle on "Support Needed at Thornton Liquor Store."

As soon as we mentioned to our customers that our name was in your paper, they bought the papers right away. We sold all your papers the first day. Of course we have always tried hard to sell all your papers every time we get them.

We hope some day we will be able to have a nice ad running in your paper each week.

Thank you again for your thoughtfulness.

James Thornton and Thelma Thornton

Staff of the California Eagle:

Please accept my thanks, personally, and the same of the Lomax campaign and L. A. Tribune for your invaluable help in the campaign. Your help contributed greatly to the impact of the campaign on the people.

Lucius Lomax

To the Editor:

As chairman of the Publicity Committee for the Roy Wilkins appearance in Los Angeles on October 8, 1954, and on behalf of the local branch of the NAACP, we wish to express our heart-felt thanks for the cooperation given to us in carrying the statements and stories of the event in your paper.

Cooperation such as this made this task, which we all were a part of, much easier than it would have been otherwise.

Again, we say thanks to you and your staff.

First Annual Women's Day Celebrated At Calvary Hill

The first annual women's day of the Calvary Hill Baptist Church, 6802 S. San Pedro street, Rev. E. Windom, pastor, will be observed on Sunday, Nov. 7.

The theme for the day will be "The Woman's Place in a Changing World."

Mrs. Henrietta Hatchet will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service.

Mrs. Hatchet is qualified to speak on the subject of a woman's place in a changing world. She is a member of the St. Marks Community and for the past nine years has served as a volunteer social worker in the Watts area.

The music for the morning service will be furnished by the children's choir of Calvary Hill.

The afternoon program will begin at 3:30 p.m. The mistress of ceremony will be Mrs. Cyretha Hardy of the Vilage Baptist Church.

Among those appearing on the program will be Mrs. Lucille Bacote-Blair, of the Second Baptist Church; Mrs. Willie Mae Keith, of the South Los Angeles Baptist Church; Mrs. Leola Jackson, wife of the pastor of St. John's Spiritual Church.

The choir of the Village Baptist Church will furnish the music for the afternoon.

MRS. HENRIETTA HATCHET

A "Coffee hour" will be held following the Women's day services.

Rev. Windom extends an invitation to the people of the community to help Mrs. Wanda Collins Marshall, the chairman, and the women of Calvary Hill Baptist to make this day a memorable one.

Scott Methodist of Pasadena In Annual Women's Day

Annual Women's Day at Scott Methodist Church, 55 Mary Street, Pasadena, will feature two prominent women speakers.

At the 10:45 a.m. service Mrs. Henry E. Cook, the wife of Rev. Henry E. Cook of Pilgrim Community Church of Los Angeles will speak. Mrs. Cook, a graduate of Jefferson High School and Pacific Bible College, served as District Worker for Southern California Conference for many years. Noted as a Christian leader, Mrs. Cook was ordained as a minister in the International Council of Community Churches in 1949 has served extensively in many capacities in various churches of Los Angeles and has been associated with outstanding choral groups of the city. Mrs. Willie Mae Green will be the soloist for the morning hour and the Women's Day chorus under the direction of Mrs. Rose Brooks, Minister of Music will sing. Mrs. Dorothy Lindo will preside at the organ.

At 6:00 p.m. a special vesper hour has been arranged with Mrs. Robert N. Brooks, widow of the late Bishop R. N. Brooks, former resident bishop of the New Orleans area as guest speaker.

Bishop and Mrs. F. P. Jordan Sail for Union of South Africa

Bishop Frederick D. Jordan and his wife, Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan boarded the S.S. African Endeavor Friday for Capetown, Union of South Africa, where they will supervise the work of the African Methodist Episcopal Church for the next two years.

This is the third trip the Jordans have made to Africa. The first trip, made in April 1953, was unsuccessful because they were not allowed to enter any part of Africa.

In January, 1954, they were granted two 32-day visas for Central Africa only.

Though the Bishop credits the untiring efforts of the church, Dr. Gow and the people of South Africa for this victory, it is also evident that he and his wife, Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan, are determined to overcome any and all obstacles to serve their people, their church, and their God.

Bishop and Mrs. Jordan are taking 800 pounds of clothing to the people of Africa.

After a successful pastorate for 10 years at First A.M.E. church Bishop Jordan was elected to the Bishopric of the A.M.E. Church in Chicago, May 1952, from the pastorate of Ward A.M.E., Los Angeles.

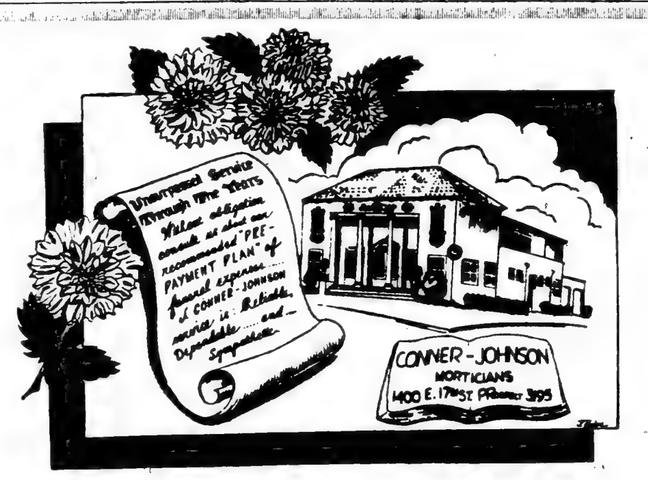
Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!



Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Prep Scoreboard

By Al Chism, Jr.

Ed. Note:-

The California Eagle is pleased to announce the addition of a new prep reporter to our ever growing staff of sports writers.

Al or Chis, as he is called by most sport fans who know him, was quite a prep athlete himself during his high school days at Polytechnic High School. He played on two championship basketball teams and lettered three years in track.

Chism, also held a distinction of being elected the first Negro captain of a Poly basketball team in 1934. After graduation he attended Wilberforce University in Ohio where he continued his sport activities. We of the Eagle feel he is well qualified to cover sports for us, and welcome him into our folds.

Ed.—"Abie" Robinson

MASSILION OF THE WEST

Massilion High School as most sport fans who follow football know, was the school where Paul Brown, now famous coach of the Cleveland Browns, first made his name. He had some of the most talked of teams in the East and the most feared.

The Centennial High School "Apaches" and their coach Aaron C. Wade seem headed for the same destiny if they keep up the torrid pace they are setting in the Bay League this year. The school is a new and in their second season of competition.

While in the San Gabriel League they suffered but one defeat at the hands of El Rancho High School, who were the league champs. After the "53" season, because they looked a little rugged for the league they were shifted to the Bay League, which to date they are also burning up with Santa Monica High, last year's C.I.F. champs as their biggest obstacle.

COACHING STAFF

The "Apaches" have a very youthful staff of coaches which is headed by Coach Aaron C. Wade as head coach. To this writer's knowledge he is the first Negro in the state or in the West for that matter who has served in such a capacity.

Coach Wade, as he is referred to by his team and friends hails from Beaumont, Texas where he attended Tillitson University, where he stayed until drafted by the armed forces. After that, the Wades moved to California where Aaron attended Compton J.C.

WORKED NIGHTS — Graduating from J. C., Coach enrolled in L.A. State College determined to fulfill his ambition of becoming a Coach and finish his schooling. He took a job at night with Pacific Motor Trucking Co., worked nights and went to school days.

Wade's first job in the school system was at Willowbrook Junior High where he served as coach and Math teacher.

When Centennial High was opened they looked for a head coach and he was appointed to the position. His record is speaking for itself.

CREDIT TO ASSISTANT COACHES—Wade gives much of the credit for his teams' success to his two assistant coaches. John Adams his line coach and Bob Reynolds who serves as coach and scout. Adams is from Wiley of Texas and Reynolds is an Oregon boy who played his football up North. This rounds out the Centennial brain trust.

SMALL SQUAD—The team is small in number as compared with most of the older schools but what they lack in this, they make up in spirit and hustle. There is very little that can be said to differentiate between the offensive and defensive squads as the records thus far will show. To date the Apaches have won six games, beating Mary Star of the Sea 18-0, Inglewood, Fremont 12-0 (a City school), and Paramount 51-0, Lenzinger 41-0. So you can see by the goose egg for their opponents that Coach Adams has that line rocking and socking.

SEEING DOUBLE—After watching six games its very hard for this reporter or any one else to pick any one outstanding man on the squad, as Coach Wade insists they play as a unit which is a pleasure to watch from the stands, but one can't help notice number 33 and 34 on defense, who are the McNeal twins Charles and Eddis, who play the guard positions. Without a doubt they are the best two defensive men these old eyes have seen in a long time in the prep ranks. They are identical twins so maybe this confuses the other teams. Lee Sampson, Will Bryant, Richard Mason round out the rest of the line.

BOWLING —with— LEWIS RUSS

"Neal's Liquors," veteran bowlers of the Sunset League, threw away their crutches Saturday night rocked the maple and piled up the pins to upset "Lee's Hi Hats" two games to one at the Studio Bowl. Alfred Ah Sam, the timber tilting Hawaiian chucker, came through with a much needed punch on the anchor pounding the pocket and racking back the wood with a couple of 200 games and a 575 series to outscore the "Hi Hatters". J. W. Adams came out of his shell to roll his best series of the season.

The power driving "Brown Motors" blasted the lumber and bowled 1042 high series to blank the "Lewis Bro" three games to none. Chester Jacobs had one of his best nights, tipping the sticks and stirring up most of the commotion with a 242 high game and a 608 top series. Bill Calhoun also bowled along with some good games.

"Grand Central Bar-B-Cue" battling to hold their spot rolled over "Dedricks" two games to one. Eddie Irving keeled over the logs for a good 565 series and Billie Hampton his team mate backed him up with a 562.

The amazing "Garretts" blanked the "Pickuppers" three games to none and "B and B" knocked over the "Timber Ticklers" two games to one. Racking them up, and as the saying goes, "an old bowler never dies, but his ball just fades and fades."

Lenny Moore Paces Penn

Philadelphia-Fleet footed Lenny Moore paced his powerful Penn State Football team to 37-13 victory before 33,126 fans at Franklin Field and the national television audience.

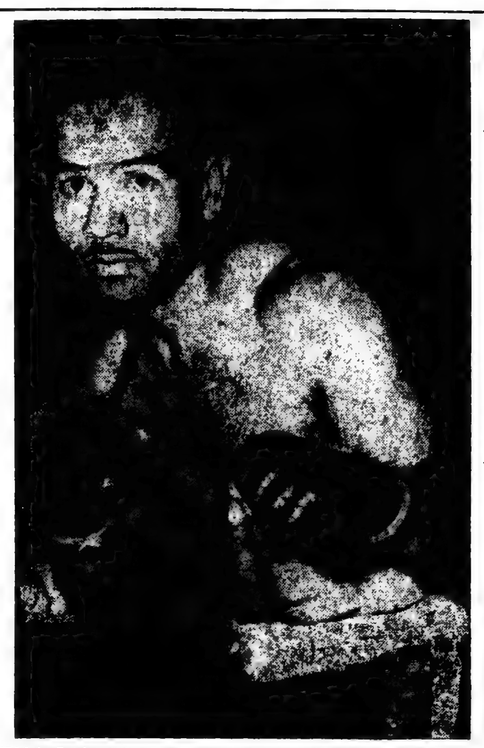
Moore, the sharpshooting ace, racked up three touchdowns, one of them a 61-yard sprint down the sidelines and another, a 57-yard dash, on an intercepted pass.

Sugar Ray Drills At Greenwood Lake

New York—Sugar Ray Robinson boxer who turned dancer may start his ring comeback in Detroit some time in December, Manager George Gainford told reporters last week.

Gainford also stated that Robinson, who is training at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., was faster than expected. He said the former welter and middleweight champion weighed 157 pounds.

According to Gainford, Promoter Nick Londes of Detroit has been in contact with Robinson about his comeback effort. No opponent was mentioned.



SPORT EDITORIAL

Sport magazine in its forthcoming monthly publication will contain a brilliant editorial on Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger great player.

It is most important that it be read by as many Americans as possible and particularly Negro Americans.

Hurray for Jackie Robinson under the column of Time Out is a piece of writing that should be hung in the Writer's Hall of Fame as well as in all our public places.

Sinking All Putts

By A. "SHOELESS JOE" JACO

A turn away group of Cosmopolitan Club members appeared at Western Ave. Golf course Sunday Oct. 31, to participate in its semi-final sweepstakes of the year. Only ten foursomes could be accommodated and many members who had failed to heed the deadline for entries notice, were disappointed.

Lavelle Mayfield, the unorthodox swinger, showed the championship flighters the way, with a 71-(6)-65. "Lefty" Howard and Milan Qualls deadheated for the runnerups spot in this flight. Qualls however, grossed a 71 shotting from scratch. Howard had a 76-(5)-71. These two brothers will have a playoff at a later date.

Jesse Brown, playing on his "home course", corralled the B flighters with a decent 78-(11)-67. Lawrence Jones got the runnerup 19th hole mug in this flight with a net 68.

Ed Jones and Bill Crayton pushed in the C flight for top laurels. Jones shot an 84-(16)-68, and Crayton, a legitimate C flighter, had an 87-(19)-68. These two will also have an 18-hole playoff at a later date.

The November Sweepstakes and the qualifying round for the 1954 Presidents and Vice-President's Cup play will be held on Armistice Day at Brookside Park number one course. The deadline for entries is NOVEMBER 4TH.

BUILDING MECHANICS

The number of building mechanics working in Los Angeles has increased by more than 25,000 over the immediate postwar period, reports the Southern California Plastering Institute.

Escobar, Evatt In Rematch at Legion Nov. 6

Reservations are coming in fast for the Andy Escobar—Buddy Evatt encore, Saturday, Nov. 6. Both are training hard for this biggie. Escobar is doing his stuff at the Olympic Gym, while Buddy is rounding into shape at the Paul Matty training spa. Candy Lopez, bright young featherweight prospect, will box the semi-final on this show.

Rudy Garcia, who made a tremendous hit in defeating Carmelo Costa in Brooklyn the other night, will go against Augie Villa, Nov. 13. Following that one, Garcia's manager, Lee Boren, has the choice of several lucrative bouts in the East. Madison Square Garden made a bid for Rudy's services. Villa is now making his adobe in Los Angeles.

Remaining November and early December dates will probably see some of the following in action: Young Jack Johnson, Petey Servin, Eddie Sims, Milo Savage, Willie Vaughn, Keeny Teran, Johnny Ortega and Jack Scheberries.

The entire card Saturday night, starting at 8:30 p.m., will be carried by KABC (7). As usual, Hank Weaver will be at mike side.

Lafayette Holds Colossal Halloween Party

The spooks and goblins had their day at Lafayette Center, Oct. 30, probably one of the most Cosmopolitan Youth Centers in existence played host to several hundred teenagers at the event.

Festivities started at noon when Mrs. McLinn and Miss Silver conducted a party and costume parade for the younger set. At 5 p.m. a super-colossal carnival was held on the school grounds, at 1240 Naomi Avenue, featuring carnival booths, prizes, delicious food, and a ghost alley; where participants was subjected to a thousand Halloween thrills as they pass through.

The Jewish War Veterans Auxilliary donated a U. S. Saving Bond to the young person who wrote the finest essay on "Why I Love My Flag." Many of Center members showed great interest in this contest, and as we expected the competition was very close.

This year, Lafayette Center is truly a Community Project, with Central Playground, 28th Street YMCA, Woodland YWCA, Los Angeles Police Department, Probation Department, International Institute, Catholic Youth Organization, U.C.L.A., Woodcraft Rangers, Turnabout Charities, and the Los Angeles City Board of Education, all using the Lafayette Junior High School facilities to offer an interesting, healthy, and active program for the young people of this area.

Williard Skelley, Lafayette Center Coordinator, also announces that 83 Lafayette young people got aboard a Los Angeles City School Bus Saturday morning, October 9, for a wonderful day of fishing at Echo Park. Jerry Thrash, a student at Lafayette Junior High School was reported to have caught the largest fish.

Angeleno Philander Thomas, who died in a Naples, Italy, hospital of a heart attack last week, will be given a New York funeral by the Negro Actors Guild. Phil was planning to return here next year and open a continental type restaurant.

Second Look Stuff

Capable Joel Fluellen masterminded those unique Halloween touches sparking the Pacific Town Club's goblin and witches party last Saturday night. Such second-look stuff as candlelight pumpkin heads floating atop the pool, Dali-touched scarecrow, and such Fluellen cleverness. It's a bit of a shame Joel doesn't set himself up as an institution at that sort of thing, around here.

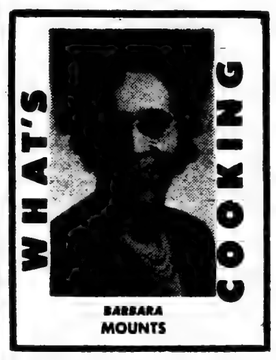
BAL MASQUE BALL TO BE TOP EVENT

Ora McClain, committee member for the forthcoming Les Dames Bal Masque ball slated for the Florentine Gardens on Nov. 14, announced plans for the outstanding event.

Tickets for the affair are available through the huge club membership and an elaborate program is being arranged by the working committee which includes Chairman Gertrude Penland, Thelma Hayes, Gladys Mondy, Bernice Warren, and Lila Jackson.

The Bal Masque ball put on annually by the popular Les Dames is one of the most exciting shows of its kind and participants come from all walks of life.



This year's show is the fifth anniversary and President Audrey Scott, as well as the membership, are looking forward to one of the greatest shows of its history.

Last year's top prize went to Herbert Alberga, whose floral creation of Eiffel Tower was the last word in art creation. With the remarkable strides in are development and creation the Les Dames are almost assured that this will be its greatest year.

Many of the city's outstanding art students will enter the event in attempt to make off with the lucrative first place prize.

When you were out to dinner the last time did you notice how much you and friend husband enjoyed the soup and salad course? Why not try serving a cup of hot soup, either clear beef broth with garlic croutons, or a smooth aroma—filled cream soup topped with a dash of whipped or sour cream. A combination of green pea and celery soup to which you have added a bit of grated onion pleases the children, too.

Steaming Hot

For the entree, budget wise, salmon fondue is appetizing. It may be made in individual casseroles or a single one and spooned steaming onto warm dinner plates along with buttered broccoli, stewed or baked tomatoes, and crisp carrot sticks. Hot gingerbread and applesauce for desert will make this meal satisfactory from a nutrition as well as eye appeal standpoint.

One of the advantages of the fondue is that it can be prepared ahead of time and baked whenever meal time arrives. If made in the morning and refrigerated till dinner, simply remove to a warm place when you arrive from work and by the time the oven is heated and the vegetables ready for the fire, it can be popped into the oven for 45 minutes and will complement your table with its beauty and aroma.

Salmon Fondue

Open and drain a pound can of salmon, save liquid. Break salmon with fork and add 2 teaspoons chopped onion and one teaspoon bell pepper. Trim crust from eight slices bread and cut in half. Arrange four slices in bottom of casserole. Beat 3 eggs gently, adding 2 cups of milk, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Place salmon mix on top of bread, cover with remainder of slices. Add liquid from salmon to eggs and milk and pour over the casserole contents. Bake at 350 degrees, till puffed and brown, 45 to 50 minutes. It should stand for at least 30 minutes to allow the bread to absorb seasonings, or it can be made ahead of time.

So—your family won't eat broccoli, well — give them spinach, beans or peas. Don't forget it's apple cider time and time for spicy pumpkin pie. Umm mmm.

Elaborate Birthday Fete Given Popular John Shackelford

Mrs. Lara Shackelford and scores of friends surprised her husband John Shackelford with an elaborate birthday party at the Alpha Bowling club last Thursday evening.

Some 150 friends greeted him with a sincere Happy Birthday upon his arrival to the beautifully arranged banquet hall.

"Shack" as he is affectionately known to many of his friends, is one of the city's better known musicians and is currently playing nightly at Curry's Wagon Wheel in Mt. Baldy.

The guests enjoyed a menu consisting of turkey, ham, assortment of salads, dinner rolls and a huge birthday cake. Champagne flowed throughout the party.

The attractive Mrs. Shackelford was assisted by Mrs. Gwen Holmes, Mrs. Ruth Collier, Mrs. Eleanor Hunt, Mrs. Donna Maxey, Mrs. Clara Barbee.

Guests included: Messrs. and Mmes. D. A. Hunt, Wilma James, R. Grant, A. J. McNeely, Gwen Holmes, Cottrell Burdine, H. Barbee, C. Bell, J. Cavallier and John W. Mrs. Shackelford was a very striking figure attired in a smart cocktail dress and was a very charming hostess throughout the evening.

Club Plans Huge Event

The October meeting of the Langston University Club of Los Angeles was held the 4th Sunday of the month in the "Cozy Cottage" of Mr. and Mrs. Willburn on E. 57th street, with the new president, Ralph Davis, presiding.

The new regime has set up something different by appointing four captains, namely, Jason Taylor, Jean Smallwood, Aurelia Ragland and Tennie Miles, to guide the club in a money raising campaign.

The chief objectives for the year are to contribute towards the purchasing of uniforms for the band at Langston, and to establish a student loan fund for some worthy student in Los Angeles.

Credit goes to the Serving Committee for the luscious repast. Those assisting Mrs. Wilburn were: Earnestine Prather, Mildred Wiley, Ulysses Harrison, Dr. Eugene Anderson, Dr. Booker Tucker and Juanita Macklin.

Keyes In Gala Cabaret Party

The popular Keys club held its highly successful "After Hour" cabaret party at the Larchmont club Saturday night. La Veller Jackson's Variety Show provided the evening's entertainment and the snappy show caught on with the packed house.

Ann Terris, Marvin Wilkins, Little Booth, Ted Williams and Marjorie Mays thrilled the crowd.

Effie Smith internationally known blues and torch songbird brought the house down with a number titled "Dial the Phone."

Guest numbers were rendered by Johnny Boar, former tenor in the Lionel Hampton band and currently heading his own outfit and Little Esther.

The club and its friends enjoyed an early morning breakfast at the smart Bombshell Cafe.

Louise Rousseau Honored At Retirement Luncheon

Fellow social workers joined hands last Tuesday to pay honor and tribute to Mrs. Louise Rousseau upon her retirement from the Bureau of Public Assistance after 22 years of what was lauded as "meritorious service in her profession and to the community." The affair was held at the Tick-Teck Restaurant where the staff presented her with gifts.

For the past 12 years, Mrs. Rousseau had worked exclusively with the blind and a telegram was read from Milton J. Johnson, Director of Social Welfare of the Braille Institute, in which he praised her for her "many years of intelligent and devoted service to sightless people."

In her reminiscences, Mrs. Rousseau pointed out that many notable changes had taken place since she began her service with the Los Angeles County Welfare Department. In her earlier years, she said, Negro social workers were restricted to service with members of Negro families. She described the present integration policy as a "long step forward." Mrs. Rousseau also hailed the growth of understanding of the problems of the people with whom the social worker deals.

A long-time resident of Los Angeles, Mrs. Rousseau has long been active in community and civic affairs and was one of the founders of the Westside Property Owners Association.

JOB WELL DONE—Mrs. Louise Rousseau, for many years a case worker with the Bureau of Public Assistance, this week said farewell to her co-workers as she retired from active duty. She is [illegible] with Case Work Director Mrs. E. V. Armstrong.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

Each of us likes to bid grand slams, and they come so seldom that it is a shame to miss them. Most of the time it is better to settle for a small slam unless a grand slam is certain, because if a grand slam is down one, it means a small slam could have been made.

Some of the characteristics of a grand slam are as follows: two round control of at least three suits, that is, ace and king, and a first round control of the fourth. A long suit which is solid at least five cards long plus a side suit which is solid of at least four cards. If the long suit is longer than six cards, the side suit can be shorter. Only in the rarest of cases can a slam be made in high cards alone.

Don't Miss This

The following hand will serve as an example of a grand slam which will be missed most of the time. If the north player had opened the bidding, it would have been hard to bid seven clubs. But with the south player making the first bid, the chances are greatly improved.

S—x
H—Q, x
D—A, K, J, x, x
C—K, Q, 10, 9, 6

N.
S.

S—A, x, x, x
H—A, x, x, x
D—Q
C—A, x, x, x

East and West passed throughout. South opened one club, North bid two diamonds, South two no-trump, North five clubs, and South six clubs. While we show x's for most of South's cards, we recall that not one of them was above a seven. We often refer to this as an acey-deucy type hand, and believe it is one of the hardest to bid.

Club Fit

In a situation where North knows his partner is not using a short club bid, he knows there is a club fit. Therefore, he knows from the opening bid there is a slam in the hand. After South's two no-trump bid established his hand as a minimum one, North should have gone into slam convention. After South shows three aces, North should bid seven clubs. The odds are at least two to one in favor of making it. Slams don't come every day, and they must be bid when they do come.

Classes are meeting Tuesday evenings at the YWCA. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Twin Twirl Gala Dance Sat. Nov.6

The Marquisattes club is attracting the attention of the young socialites with its forthcoming Twin Twirl Saturday (Nov. 6) at Park Manor, 607 S. Western Avenue.

Bumps Blackwell will provide excellent dance music and the club members are asking their guests to arrive early and enjoy the fun.

The attire for the night will be for couples to dress alike; a prize will be awarded to the best dressed couple who will be selected by a panel of judges.

The Membership Committee invites you as an OLD MEMBER, AS A NEW MEMBER, AND AS FRIENDS to meet with them on Saturday, November 13, to help celebrate the Harvest Home Coming. Mrs. Beatrice Cassell, Chairman, Mrs. Effie Enox, Co-Chairman, and all the members of the membership committee are putting forth every effort in making this affair one of merriment and fellowship. If you are not a member of the Young Women Christian Association we are asking you to join forces with us.

Mrs. Ella E. Mays, Chairman of the Committee on Administration of the YWCA-Woodlawn Branch, invites all members and friends to attend the City-wide World Fellowship Vesper Services on Sunday, November 7, at Friendship Hall of Wilshire Methodist Church, Wilshire Avenue at Plymouth Boulevard, 3:30 p.m. Religious dancing, music and prayer will be combined in special worship services presented by the Los Angeles Young Women Christian Association. Similar services will be held at the same hour by YWCA's in nearly 450 other cities throughout the United States, with all of them dedicated to prayers for peace and better understanding to all peoples. Religious portions of the service will be directed by Mrs. Schrader, Mrs. Marie Song Lee and Miss Hazel Macbeth, Co-chairman of the Los Angeles YWCA Fellowship Committee. Y-Teens and Young Adult Members of all Branches will participate.

Outdoor Life Slates Affair

The Assistance League of the Outdoor Life and Health Association assisted by other local clubs, is busy making final plans for the 1954 annual pre-Thanksgiving tea to be held on Nov. 14, at the Sojourner Truth Club.

Pauline L. Slater, program chairman, is outlining a very interesting affair with fall fashions and models from Marvenas' Smart Dress Shop. The program will start at 4 and last until 7 p.m.

League of Allied Arts to Sponsor Opening of Ebony Detective Story

In keeping with their loyal support of the only Negro art theatre in the country, Ebony Showcase, the League of Allied Arts will sponsor the opening night of the play Detective Story on Thursday (Nov. 11) at 8 p.m.

Detective Story is the hard hitting drama that pierces the psychological surface of detectives in pursuit of their duty. James Edwards as the righteous star of the story, Camille Cannady as his wife who is forced to shatter his faith and morale promise an evening of exciting entertainment.

The League has been very successful in interesting the various social and business clubs in the city to support the Showcase. This was very effectively demonstrated in the long and successful run of the Moon is Blue.

Mrs. Ivan Johnson, president of the League, expresses a sincere appreciation to all the groups who have supported the theatre in the past and hopes they will continue to be proud of Ebony Showcase and the valiant and heroic work of Edna and Nick Stewart and their wonderful group of actors and actresses. The theatre also welcomes any clubs who might want to hold their club meetings in the theatre before the performance and invites them to serve refreshments and have a social hour with the cast after the performances.

Tickets for opening night may be obtained from any League of Allied Arts member (refreshments will be served after the performance) and since the dates for clubs are rapidly filling up the calendar it is advised that you make your reservations early. Tickets are always on sale at the theatre.

Photographers Art Exhibit To Be Outstanding Show

Its an open season for model shooting at the United Professional Photographers exhibit-cocktail party to be held Sunday afternoon, November 14, at 2057 Hobart.

Several shapely models will find themselves facing the business end of cameras held by the public instead of professional photographers, as is the usual custom.

Shutterbugs, photobugs, amateurs, semi-pros, or just a plain ordinary citizen with a Kodak will have the golden opportunity to photograph some of the finest models in this or any other area. Special lighting has been made available so that no specific or expensive equipment will be necessary. A simple snapshot-type camera will suffice.

As though this weren't enough, live musical entertainment will be presented along with an exhibit of many unusual photographs of prize-winning caliber. Celebrities of stage, screen, radio and television are expected to attend.

News photographer Charles Williams, member of the arrangements committee, has indicated there will also be additional surprises in the form of varied special events during the afternoon's festivities. Additional information and tickets may be obtained from most photographers in the community.

Couple Returns From Six Week Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James Barksdale, two of the leading business people of Val Verde Park, have just returned from a six week vacation. They toured the east coast, and visited friends and relatives and spent a night on the campus of Wilberforce college with Professor and Mrs. Lenard Archer.

Barksdale is the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and wishes to announce the progress the community has made through the work of the "C. of C.," a Post Office was opened on Nov. 1 in Val Verde Park.

The Chamber of Commerce is also having a sign placed on highway 99 directing traffic to Val Verde.

Roy Gardener Enjoys Party

Roy Gardner, well known figure in the boxing circles, enjoyed a dinner birthday party at Ivie's Chicken Shack last Saturday night.

Cub Scout No. 27 Enjoys Halloween

Cub Scout No. 27C sponsored by the Menlo Avenue Citizens committee held its annual Halloween Party for members and their families Friday October 29th in the Menlo Ave. School auditorium. Prizes were won for the best costumes by Calvin Sule and Loretta Jackson. Many awards were given for scouting achievements.

National Achievement Week To Be Celebrated By Omegas

Chapters of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity will observe their 34th annual "National Achievement Week," from Nov. 7 to Nov. 14.

Achievement Week was inaugurated at the ninth fraternity conclave in 1920, in Nashville. It was first called "Negro History and Literature Week" out of deference to the late noted historian, Dr. Carter G. Woodson, an honorary member of the Fraternity. The celebration was abolished by the conclave in Washington in 1924, but was revived in 1925, at the Tuskegee conclave the observance was revived as the "Negro Achievement Week Project" to give an opportunity for presentation of important current achievements of the Negro, many of which never find their way into history.

In 1949 the name was changed to "National Achievement Week" in order that the scope of the observance would be broad enough to include the achievements of all peoples, regardless of ethnic differences. It was felt by the fraternity that it was not democratic to limit their recognitions of achievements to Negros only. The theme of this year's Achievement Week Program is; America's Challenge: To Implement School Integration by Understanding and Treating Prejudice.

Westside Elks Annual Dance

The westside branch of the Elks, under the direction of chairman George W. Parry, announced final plans for the annual dance at the lodge Saturday night (Nov. 6.)

All brother Elks and guests are invited. The chairman and committee members are working hard to make this event of the season's finest.

College Set Awaits Bellinas Twilight Cruise Dance Nov. 6

Barbara Berry, petite UCLA coed, and Coylia Brown, City College student and members of the popular Bellinas, report that their forth-coming "Twilight Cruise" will be a rare treat designed for the entertainment with a college flavor.

Tickets are being circulated at Los Angeles City College, L.A. State, East L.A. JC, UCLA, Pepperdine, USC and Pasadena City College. Club members are inviting students to join the fun and frolic Friday, Nov. 5 at the Starlight Roof 4050 W. Pico.

Jeep Smith and combo will provide the music and he has specially arranged several tunes to match the theme of the unusual afair.

The Bellinas are: Barbara Berry, Beverlee Bruce, Jean and Coylia Brown, Joanetta Branche, Harriet Higgs, Shirley Lee, Claudette Harris, Sherlie Matthews, Ethel Outlaw, Ann Williams, Jimella Spencer, Lacheta Smith, Barbara White and Adrian Thomas.

"FLIREMATIC" "ABIE" ROBINSON surrounded himself with femininity in order to shoot off his "camera" about the Photographic Artists Ball November 14th at 2057 S. Hobart. Not waiting for the Sunday afternoon "action," the center member of Robinson's "scare-um harem" is already set to have herself a woodchopper's ball. (Adams' Folly.)

SOPHISTICATED LADIES SOCIAL IS GALA AFFAIR

Members of the Twelve Sophisticated Ladies Social and Charity club, Inc., enjoyed a lavish Halloween party at the Lazy Susan club room.

Lionel Cartwright was winner of the club's first prize. Guests were presented horns, masks and caps at the door.

Club members are: Ida Smith, Bernice Douglas, Olivia Lawrence, Florence Younger, Christine Burleson, Irma Washington, Katherine Jackoson, Jestine Alexander, Emma Morris, Erma Jean Langston and Bernadine Steward.

The next club meeting will be held on Nov. 7 at the home of Miss Olivia Lawrence when the club will complete plans for its coming Christmas dance, with all the proceeds to go to some charitable organization.

Fund Raising Breakfast Set

The Optimistic Outlookers of the Exceptional Children's Opportunity School will stage a special Harvest Breakfast at the Phyllis Wheatley Home, Sunday Nov. 7, starting 10 o'clock.

The breakfast is the kick off for the school's fund raising campaign, and it is the hopes of the group that the public share in the effort.

Dr. Hood, founder of the Hood Foundation for Exceptional Children, will be the featured guest speaker.

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford

That 'Cool' Constitution

Oh, that nervous First Amendment to the crazy Bill of Rights
It is gone. It is the mostest. When you dig it, dim your lights.

Debate this Constition jive, and plant it in your hat.
There ain't no bop on record that is half as cool as that.

DeFranco plays the clarinet and Parker plays the sax.
Gillispie blows the trumpet and I'll give you all the facts,

You can cut out when you're thirsty. You can franticly blow your top.
But that nervous First Amendment, don't you ever let it stop.

They call me "cat," the Daddy-o. My lid has done been flipped.
And when you're talking civil rights, I'm absolutely hipped.

Now man, you have been prompted, with the solid final licks.
So fly me home. I'm rocked tonight, with Constitution kicks.

TAKE IT FROM THE TOP!

We too have joined the crusade against smutty 'blue' rhythm blues pieces. You may recall that we were 'signifying' a long while back about "Annie Had A Baby" and other muddy material in order to get the tenants of sin-pan-alley to back up out of the gutter and give the public a clean bill of health instead of asking for "curb service." Specially since their 'hully gully' stuff is aimed chiefly at the teen-age group . . . So it is that we heap a multitude of praise on the "Sh-Boom" Chords (recently at Club Oasis) who get away from the loud noise making, belly shaking of most other bar groups and lay down some righteous showmanship. AND HEY LAWDY MAMA!

Detective 'Showcases' November 11

"Detective Story," Sidney Kingsley's realistic and hard-hitting drama of the potpourri of human misery, vice and stupidity which flows through the 21st precinct Detective Squad Room, hits the Ebony Showcase Theatre, November 11th with plus excitement on stage.

'Criminalistic'

For "Detective Story," producers Nick and Edna Stewart have assembled a more than impressve cast, starring James Edwards as McLeod, the detective with a 'yen for criminals.' Also featured in the vehicle are Camille Canady, Bernie Hamilton, Marmetta France, Morris Buchanan, Nappy Whiting, Ted Lange, Otis Green, Florence Smith, Mae Myers, Jake McKinney, Charles Carpenter, Lane Floyd, Leon Brawley, Reginald Armstrong, Sylvester Bell, Louise Cummings, Ethel Tann, Hag Jones, Sam Schultz, Paralee Austin, Dalyce Curry, and Larry Amadee.

Music Lovers Will Witness Choice Voice

Ella Fitzgerald, the one singer most frequently mentioned as the strongest influence of present day popular vocalists, winner of awards too numerous to mention, "The First Lady of Song," will bring that throbbing, vibrant, electrifying bit of swing-voice to Jack Tucker's Tiffany Club, eighth and Normandie this Friday, November 5, for a limited engagement.

Exclusively at Tiffany

For a number of years, the great "Tisket-a-Tasket" gal, could be seen only at Norman Granz's great "Jazz at the Philharmonic" concerts, but now she will be appearing nightly at the Tiffany Club singing everything from her sentimental "Angel Eyes" to her great, "How High the Moon," "Oh Lady Be Good," "Basin Street" and her many other great hit Recordings on Decca label.

Perfect 'Pipes'

Ella combines being a "singers' singer" with the public's favorite. Of a survey of the top 50 names in the entertainment business, she was the overwhelming favorite vocalist. Yet her fans don't have to be "in the business" to understand her versatile mellow stylings—EVERYBODY digs Ella the most"!

Show Business

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Your California Eagle theatrical section, widely acclaimed Southern California's most topical, interesting and diversified; presents as its exclusive feature of the week . . . SHOWBUSINESS. Jeri Nicholas, reviewer of Carmen Jones; former dancer, thespian, ex-wife of Fayard Nicholas of the famous dance team and sister-in-law of Dorothy Dandridge, followed 'CJ' from the early stages of production to its opening at Fox Wilshire and Downtown Los Angeles Theatres.)

The exciting movie of Carmen Jones finally opened its L.A. run — Twentieth Century Fox really has something this time, a gigantic improvement over their last attempt with an all Negro cast (Stormy Weather). This time they use the talent of sensitive Actor-Director Otto Preminger to put this brilliant cast through its paces.

Fast Moving

This opus is based on the opera Carmen by Bizet and instead of the poor Spanish Village of Seville the setting has been transferred to a small segregated Southern town. A parachute factory instead of the cigarette factory is the place of employment for Carmen and her friends. However, lets not spend too much time on this well known and trite story and discuss that terrific cast. Gorgeous Dorothy Dandridge as Carmen is without a doubt the screen's best siren to date. She plays this role with a vengence and obviously enjoys every toss and turn that she makes.

It is apparent that a lot of work and study has gone into her version of Carmen, and she apparently liked and sympathized with the gal and consequently makes you do likewise—Carmen is a tramp, but with such dignity that you have to respect her right to the end. Certainly it was one of the biggest thrills I've experienced viewing a movie.

Harry Belofante makes a handsome Joe and portrays him as such a weak man that you would like to slap him. Olga James as his clinging vine girlfriend is quite believable and her voice is positively angellic. Pearl Bailey and her conniving friends add the necessary comic relief. Joe Adams is Husky Miller and turns in the surprise performance of the year. He acts with the ease of a vet.

Frolicking Film

The music is wonderful, it has been changed in spots to fit the mood of the theme, but not enough to ruffle, too much, the feelings of the more erudite music lovers among us.

There is a sour spot in the movie and that is in the dance department. I was on edge waiting to see James Truitte and Carmen DeLavallade really take over the screen for perhaps three or four minutes, but nothing happened. They are so great I am sorry that they were not given an opportunity to enliven the pace a bit.

Proven Ability

This movie is highly recommended for adult entertainment. Hollywood by now should be convinced that our actors and actresses are now ready for integrated parts in good stories. Why not? Everybody else is doing it. Even Chief Alderson is about to be forced to join this happy and intelligent throng.

Betty Jones At Blackout

"Miss Versatility," Betty Hall Jones, who began an engagement of two weeks' duration in San Diego's foremost nightery, Tops' Blackout Room, and four years later is still there, begins her own starring television show this week, "The Showboat," Thursdays, 7 to 7:30 p.m., on San Diego's Channel 10.

Television Favorite

The popular Betty will play some of her fans' favorite numbers with her own inimitable vocal styling, plus some of her thousand props, each week.

New Club Oasis Three Big Acts Top Attraction

A fast paced revue featuring Johnny Otis and his band, dancer Anita Echols, the vocal trio, The Harris Sisters, complete with dancing intermingled with the shows, makes the Club Oasis, Western at 38th, headquarters for the best entertainment value in town.

Inexpensive

The removal of the door charge, long an established policy at the West Coast's jazz haven, with also no cover charge, makes an entertaining evening within reach of most night-goers budgets.

Satisfying

The Harris Sisters, a held-over attraction, are being groomed for the big-time following the current Oasis stay, their very first nightery engagement.

People and Places

CARMEN DE LAVALLADE, the exciting Lester Horton dancer, and Harry Belafonte, the actor, are seeing a lot of each other these days. Friends are saying wedding bells are within hearing distance!

LOCAL PHOTOGS are planning an open season for model shooting when they hold their exhibit-cocktail party Nov. 14, at 2057 Hobart. Shutterbugs, photobugs, jitterbugs and amateurs should have a field day.

HERBERT DUCKETT, JR., tossed a nicey for his teen-age friends in his Dad's and Mom's fashionable Buckingham home on Halloween!

CONFIDENTIAL — the ofay magazine hot item on Eartha Kitt by Jacques Du Bec and her millionaire boyfriend in its January issue is in every movie mogul's Beverly Hills home! It's just that juicy!

CITY BLUES — the brownskins and Latins aren't shouting about it but they certainly would like Mayor Poulson to look into the City Engineering department and see why the boys can't get a promotion. It seems that they are able to pass the written exams but fail on the oral!

COUNTY BLUES—understand a certain department in good old Eugene Biscailuz building is operating one of the oldest known forms of discrimination. Like upgrading certain brownskin officers in work, and rank, but not on their paycreck!

SHHHHHSH—It's being kept real quiet but we understand attractive and shapely Mamie Graves is operating the plushiest private club in the city and it is strictly on the legit. Members are allowed one guest and they claim it's the greatest since Fernando's Hideaway!

POLITICAL ECHOS — The many ill-equipped, unqualified "polly, tickers" dabbling in a field about which they know absolutely nothing reflected the same old theme song in the last election. "Pennies From Heaven"!

FASHIONABLE SET — That table of three catching all the male eyes entering the smart Town Tavern the other eve was Dorothy Johnson, who is doing a terrific job as Garden Gate High School Co-ordinator; Rose Talley, ex-Chicago dancer and teacher of modern dancing at the same school, and Eloise Davis, up from her recent accident and looking the picture of good health!

CLASSY CHASSIS is owned by that 29th and Western avenue waitress who answers to the name of Retha and she makes with some cra-zee brownskins service!

WINSTON VON WERTZ and his pretty wife celebrated their second anniversary quietly in their fashionable Claudina street home with their young son!

TIP TOP—An old landmark on the famous avenoo is undergoing a face lifting job since its new owner, Elihu McGee, took over. They are even boasting a gold telephone!

CHARITY TWELVES that popular club group, can certainly encourage one of its members by dropping into the Paradise Cocktail Parlor. Club member Arnette Rogers and hubby took over the kitchen!

EFFICIENT CREW — While not many words are said about the gals behind the typewriters in our many police stations, they are largely responsible for smooth operation of the offices. The Eagle's plaudits go to: Arlene Hightower, Ida Allen, Edna Simmon, Vera Cotten, Thelma Caldwell, Ruth Smith, Helen Fields, Corrinne Gordon and Earline Edwards!

ANNA MALBROUGH, winsome half of designer Joe, was one of the attractive models appearing in the lavish Lullaby Guild's recent fashion show which is still the talk of the town. She wore two creations by her talented hubby and more than ten have been sold from their Western avenoo store!

TRICK OR TREAT—The usual smug gathering often seen in the plush Pacific Town Club was tossed into an uproar when a well-known model-actress showed up at the club's Halloween pawtee on the arms of two ofays. Her sexy gown was described as being one string away from her birthday suit and her dance was more lurid than Sally's fan!

ATTY. WALTER GORDON—The dapper Central avenoo barrister is negotiating for the purchase of the Morocco Supper Club. If the deal jells he plans to change its policy to reflect its fine foods and smart local entertainment!

GEORGE PERRY, the baron of Western avenoo scratch sheets, is boasting one of the rarest apartments in the city. He rents it furnished and the furnishings consist of a broken radio, a chair with no legs, a dresser with no drawers, a television set with no dials and a bed with no springs!

CHARLES PRYME, the noted conductor of the 88's out Malibu Beach way, brings his talented fingers to the La Caribe Cocktail Lounge in the Clark Hotel this week!

PRIVATE EYES are trailing a well-figured beautician. Hubby thinks she is keeping up a young lad's cadillac and dope habit!

THEATRE

Billie Burke At Playhouse From Nov. 11

Beloved comedy star Billy Burke opens at the Pasadena Playhouse Thursday, November 11, toplined in the world premiere of Irving Phillips' new play, "Mother Was a Bachelor."

Rested up from her recent nationwide tour in "Life With Mother," Miss Burke will be making her first local appearance since "The Swallows Nest" at the Playhouse three years years ago. Millions of motion picture fans know her from "Small Town Girl," "Father of the Bride," "Father's Little Dividend," the Topper series and other hits, and her television activities take in most of the top comedy shows.

Family Fair

Playwright Phillips, author of "One Foot in Heaven," "Gown of Glory" and other legit favorites, based his play on a Saturday Evening Post story by Myna Lockwood. Set in a small town in Iowa at the turn of the century, it revolves around Ellen Smith (Miss Burke), whose life has been wasted in service to a pack of ingrate relatives. A visiting tot from next door eventually shows her the way to personal freedom and happiness.

Talented Thespians

Frank Cady, Florence Thompson, Susan Seaforth, Dave Showalter, Dona Lowe, Alan Smith and others are also featured in the Playhouse staging. Beatrice Hassel is directing, with Dorothy Arzner as associate producer.

"Bernardine," Mary Chase comedy now in production at the Playhouse, continues through Sunday, November 7.

successful "Country Girl" at the Players Ring, promises to be 'action-packed.' Paul Rogers, resident set designer at Laguna Beach Summer Playhouse, will design the set.

E.P.U.s Head List

The increase in advance inquiries for club nites at Ebony Showcase by groups and clubs, indicates a growing recognition of this theater as a cultural force in the community. One of the most significant civic-minded social organizations' E Pluribus Unum, wil be among the first groups stimulating interest in attendance. Already E.P.U. night is expected to attract Los Angeles' smartest theatre goers to see the "Story."

Violinist Gives Rare Treat at Wilshire-Ebell Theatre

By JAN EDWARDS

Marshall Moss's promise to enjoy his concert with us and "get as close to the composer's intent as possible" resulted in a musicians' holiday at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre Tuesday evening, Nov. 2. No flaw, musically or technically, marred the presentation of this brilliant violinist. A performance so imbued with effortless grace and charm could be presented only by a musician to whom this art is a way of life, a philosophy, and a devotion to music in its purest form.

The mastery of the little known Corelli Bow and the Bach Arched Bow added a delightful spice to the program. Mr. Moss used the Arched Bach Bow in performing the Ciaccona of J. S. Bach. The "arched" bow enables the violinist to fulfill the original intent of Bach in so-far as playing al the notes in polyphonic style as written in the original manuscript. By using the thumb to regulate the pressure on the hair of the bow, it is possible to play the sustained chords on three or four strings as well as passages on one string. It is necessary to flatten the bridge on the violin to facilitate chord playing.

The playing of Bach's Ciaccona marked the first American performance of the 1720 manuscript. Another first American performance was the Sonata for Violin alone, by Robt. Erich Wolf. This Sonata was a rather conventional contemporary composition of lyric beauty with much variety, employing both unusual and typical violin effects.

Responsibility for the success of the Brahms D-Minor Sonata was equally divided between Mr. Moss and Bernhard Abramowitsch, his assisting artist. Mr. Abramowitsch plays the piano with the relaxed and grand style of a truly profound musician. The rapport between the two musicians produced a most satisfying interpretation of the famous sonata.

Both Mr. Moss and Mr. Abramowitsch were most generous in their encores and played the Improvisation from Bal Shem, by Ernest Block, as perfectly as I've ever heard it. The accomplishments of these two performers can only be compared with the greatest artists before the public today.

HEALTHY HARRIS SISTERS embody 'fine frames' and vocal structure for nitelifers who "juice at a deuce" at club Oasis these Harlem nocturnes and lend an ear to the eye-arresting triplets. Put your best foot forward and point your toes towards the Western Avenue bistro where the torso that's more so, Anita Echols, and the jumping band of Johnny Otis are also featured!

PHINE PREMICE singing "Teacher" with the school children backing her up (calypso!) . . . the RAVENS "She's Got To Go" . . . EARTHA'S "If I Was A Boy" . . .

SHHHH! HE'S ON THE BEAT!

JESS RAND, Sammy Davis Junior's praise agent, will marry that beaut on the eleventh of December at the Brentwood AME and Sammy will be the best man! . . . incidentally, Junior will record all of the tunes from the BDWY. hit "SILK STOCKINGS" . . . A minister in his home town told LAWRENCE STONE that one day he would quit showbusiness to preach the gospel! . . . Isn't ARCHIE THURSTON up for a supervisor job at the Public Assistance Bureau?? . . Reason NAT COLE grinds out hit after hit. He confesses that he lives with a tune before etching it! . . . Understand JOEL FLUELLYN gives a good account of himself in the SITTING BULL pickcha! . . . Singer-Composer JOHNNY GREEN has written a song called "CHRISTY" and dedicated it to the blonde thrush! . . . MOUTHA RAYE'S person-to-person visit with EDWARD R. MURROW revealed that the commedienne's sepia servants are boss of the coop . . . Uh huh! . . . There's no harm in "CARMEN" . . . GAL FRIDAY Betty Edwards shimmied away with first prize at LUCILLE HORNE'S masquerade ball. The model wore a man's white shirt with red string tie, a red beret and a paint bucket and brush! . . . LEO LANE came as KORLA PANDIT . . . ALVIN EDWARDS as a mixed up asiatic . . . JIMMIE WRIGHT was a Harlem sandman playing the PAJAMA game with stocking cap and red suspenders over his nighties! . . . Lucille was a Chinese beaut, and yrs truly was a frantic Frenchman! . . . MARIETTA CANTY flown in to town to report to wardrobe for a choice part in Fox's "A MAN CALLED PETER" . . . LEONARD DAVIS is the songsation with DON JOHNSON'S ork . . . and the fellow sings a nice chords! . . And dapper DON and his HELEN'S newest edition is a little charmer known as DONETTA. What we were trying to say about WANANI (the Afro-Cuban singer) is that she was just too classy for Larry Potter's joint! . . . And she's off to Vegas. Little gal named TERE SHEEHAN (nearly nude) did a strip in reverse at Potter's place and tossed undergarments to the bald headed row. She was stacked like a brick shipyard but like we say Madame WANANI was the star of the thing . . . Pretty PEGGY HUTCHERSON goes to VEGAS with OSCAR MOORE'S TRIO and then returns here. CARL PERKINS is the pianist with the trio! . . . and we've reached smoggy bottom since you took it from the top. If we should land on the classified as we did during last week's political issue, then shop around and find your place. And this is twenty-nine and then some, meaning thirty, friend!

Young Boy Concert Pianist In 21st Annual Bach Festival

Jon Robertson, 11-year-old pianist, will play an all-Bach recital Saturday evening, Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. at First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, 535 S. Hoover as part of the 21st annual Bach Festival held there Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

He has programmed the French Suite in E Major, No. 4, the D Major Toccata and four Chorales. Although an ambitious program for one so young, Jon is well-qualified for the task. He recently completed a five-week tour of Jamaica (where he was born), Caribbean, Latin America and was acclaimed by audiences and critics alike. He made his New York Town Hall debut last Fall and also last season won the Kappa Alpha Psi scholarship which also included a recital at UCLA.

Of this performance C. Sharpless Hickman, critic for "The Musical Courier" said, ". . . a thrillingly talented Negro boy who studies with Ethel Leginska, demonstrated remarkably feicitous phrasing in works by Mozart and Schubert and crowd-winning technique in show-off pieces by Liszt."

Horton Group Honors Mentor Saturday Night

A special memorial performance of "Choreo '54" will be presented this Saturday at the Dance Theater by the Lester Horton Dancers in honor of their late mentor, who passed away last Nov. 2.

Event is Invitational, for friends of the Horton theater, and program wil include Alvin Ailey's "According to St. Fracis," a work dedicated to Horton, as well as the new Afro-Caribbean dances first presented at the recent Bal Caribe.

Horton company immediately launches early preparations for a March premiere of "Choreo '55," simutaneously preparing the initial season of the children's performing group, Dance Theater 2, for a limited Christmas holiday run.

Horton passed away last year after 30 years in the vanguard of contemporary American dance as one of the great choreographers and teachers.

'Husky' Adams Big N.Y. Hit In New Flick

KOWL's popular "Mayor of Melody," Joe Adams, has returned to his daily programs in person, after conquering the big town, New York, with his flashing grin and engaging personality when he attended the World Premiere of Otto Preminger's CinemaScope Technicolor production of "Carmen Jones," in which he played an important role.

Business and Pleasure

During his stay in New York, where he was accompanied by KOWL's general manager, George A. Baron, Joe was honored with a cocktail party in the Roosevelt Hotel's swank Palm Terrace Room, attended by leading national advertisers and their agencies and the foremost New York press.

'Moom-Picture' Star

Critics and fans alike were impressed and enthusiastic over Joe Adams' portrayal of the role of 'Husky' Miller, the boxer who steals Dorthy Dandridge's roving affections from Harry Bellafonte. Many thousands of Joe's KOWL listeners feel that Joe rightfully ranks as a heart-stealer," from his smooth voice and lively personality.

OFFICE OF THE TAX COLLECTOR OF THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES NOTICE OF AGREEMENT TO PURCHASE LANDS DEEDED TO THE STATE FOR DELINQUENT TAXES.
(Agreement No. 961)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the undersigned Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8, Part 6, Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and the written authorization of the State Controller, as follows:
That an agreement has been made between the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles City School District of Los Angeles County and approved by the State Controller of the State of California, to sell to said District under the terms set forth in said agreement, all of the right, title and interest of the State in and to all of the real property hereinafter described, all of which said property has been deeded to the State for delinquent taxes. A copy of said agreement is on file in the office of said Board of Supervisors.
That pursuant to said agreement the undersigned Tax Collector may issue a tax deed to said District 21 days after the first publication and the mailing of this notice, and the right of redemption will cease unless the property is redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated before it is sold. For information as to the amount necessary to redeem or to pay the delinquent taxes in installments, provided the right to redeem has not previously been terminated, apply to H. L. Byram, Tax Collector, 3rd floor, Hall of Justice. The real property covered by said agreement is all in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and is described as follows, to-wit:
Parcel No. 1. Daw and Niles Sub of Vernondale. Lots 15 and 16 Block 2. Assessed to Otis Tucker and Curtis Amey and Robert L. Tucker.
Parcel No. 2. Tract No. 7311. Lot 39. Assessed to Ethel M. Cripe.
Dated at Los Angeles, California, this 21st day of October, 1954.

Council of Negro Women To Convene in Washington

WASHINGTON — The 19th annual convention of the National Council of Negro Women will be held Nov. 8-13 in Washington. Most of the sessions will be held in the departmental auditorium of the United States Department of Labor, where the delegates will be welcomed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell-on Friday afternoon, Nov. 12.

An unusual feature will be a Citizenship Education Workshop to be held in the old Supreme Court chambers on Capitol Hill on Wednesday afternoon.

A Freedom Agenda panel will sift the charges that constitutional liberties are being threatened in the United States.

The traditional honoree dinner on Saturday night, at Baldwin Hall, Howard University, will feature Walter White of the NAACP as guest speaker. Miss Juanita Hall of "South Pacific" fame will sing favorite selections.

International night will be celebrated by the presentation of an American flag by the James Reese Europe Post of the American Legion of Washington. Mrs. Oswald Lord will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Arenia Mallory of Lexington, Miss., will give a report of her trip to Helsinki, Finland, where she represented the Council at the triennial meeting of the International Council of Washington have signified their intention of being present.

HOMECOMING QUEEN—Attractive honor student Julia Clark (center) was crowned Homecoming Queen of the Florida A and M University Friday. Her attendants are, left, Albertha Nelson and Bernice Jones.

Protest Zone Changes for Schools In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. — The first public hearing under the New Jersey Anti-discrimination law, since the Supreme Court decision outlawing Jim Crow schools, began here Wednesday with the airing of complaints of two Negro parents against the Englewood Board of Education.

The parents charged the Englewood school board with fixing the school zone boundaries to include most of the city's Negro population in one zone, thereby forcing the Negro pupils to attend a segregated elementary school.

The hearing is being conducted by State Commissioner of Education, Dr. Frederick Raubinger.

Dr. John Milligan, deputy commissioner of education and director of the N.J. Division against Discrimination, stated that the lines have been so drawn as to increase enrollment at two all-white schools while leaving six vacant classrooms at the largely Negro Lincoln school.

He pointed out also that it is uneconomical to maintain two junior high schools in the same district, one of which has only white students, whereas a single school could readily accommodate the less than 1,000 students now enrolled at the two institutions.

A State witness, Carl W. Glatt, who investigated the complaints of two Negro parents, also testified that despite the state law which prohibits identification according to race, a small "c" was placed on the enrollment cards of Negro children in the superintendent's office.

School Leaders Confer on New Race Patterns

NEW YORK.—Negro educational leaders of the South met for a two-day conference on the changing educational pattern of that region, October 26-27, in Hot Springs, Ark. The group included nearly 100 educators and administrators of colleges and high schools, representatives of Negro Teacher Associations and members of city school boards.

Dr. F. D. Patterson, director of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, and W. J. Trent, jr., acted as consultants at the conference which considered the development of an effective program for the achievement of the goals established by the Supreme Court ruling against segregation in education.

USO Hostesses

The 28th Street USO hostesses attended a Halloween party at the Oxnard USO Saturday night, Oct. 30. The hostesses recently enjoyed a football dance at the Edwards Air Force Base.

The hostesses were: Ivy Dean Terry, Mary Simpson, Kathleen Small, Jean Cole, Margaret Allen, Doris Warren, Jacquelyn Peterson, Willie Allen, Dorothy Graham, Jessie Clark, Jeanette Kirby, Mary Lowe, Odessa Cole, Howeyne Wyatt, Peggy Johnson, Mildred Harvey, Eleanor Dumas, Nancy Brown, Laura Hill, Theresa Hill, Delores Conley, Mattie Lee.

Marie Henderson is the chaperon and Ruth L. Redd is the director. The bus left from the 28th Street YWCA at 6:30.

LOST HORIZON

The drama workshop of Pepperdine College will present James Hilton's "Lost Horizon" the evenings of November 11, 12, 13, 18 and 20, in the main auditorium of the College at 1121 West 79th street.

Prep Scoreboard

On offense the center of the line is taken care of by Joe Wade, Russell, Williams, Castro, Loyingood and Slaughter. Andrews, Thompson and Lowe are a trio of backs that would make any coach proud and McCrumby at quarter is a real magician. All in all this is one of the best all around teams we have seen in sometime and with the right spirit and mental attitude they should go far.

So good luck to Coach Wade and his Centennial Apaches.

JORDAN ROLLS

The Jordan High Bulldogs showed their teeth to San Pedro over the weekend and came from behind to beat them 19-14 on the losers' turf. The win placed them on top of the heap in the Marine League standings.

Going into the last quarter the San Pedro Pirates lead 14-6 but the never-say-die Bulldogs struck twice in the final period to score 13 points and come out on top. Ken Reed, Jordan end, was the Golden Boy of the day. Reed blocked a punt and scored two touchdowns on passes from Quarterback Woodrow Perrey.

BRUINS vs DAPS

The Jordan Bs, under the leadership of Coach Dave Williams, former UCIA star lost to the San Pedro babes 25-0. After watching them play a 0-0 tie with Gardena, last year's champs in their opener it reminded one of the story of David and Goliath, but the San Pedro Bs made it look like UCLA playing the Daps where size was concerned.

Williams' squad is about the smallest in the league, because he has to use 9th graders but what they lack in size they have in heart.

Stay in there fellows. This year's experience under Coach Williams will be worth a million to next year's varsity.

Chis - Bits—Halfback Ernie Shelby of L.A. High looked very good last week on the two touchdown pitches he caught to help L.A. beat Fairfax 34-7.

Billy Penn of Manual also snagged a beauty from Ted Reed for a 46 yard T.D. in their 32-0 win over Garfield.

Leroy Hall's kickoff return of 65 yards in the Jeff-Fremont game was also a dilly. Also the 73 yard play from Bradley to Mitchell.

It's a real kick to see all the Dads in the stands at the different games pulling their sons home.

Monthly Breakfast Fetes Elections Of New Officers

At the monthly breakfast last Sunday morning of the Men's Club of the Church of Christian Fellowship, 3125 W. Adams, new officers were elected, including president Manuel Murrell, vice-president Charles J. Rodgers; secretary Jack Charles Steverson, treasurer Jno. A. Sweden, chairman of the program committee Robert Z. Hardon. Among the guests were: Larry Wilson, who will speak on India at the next meeting, and Jno. Crawford, retired secretary of the Canton Urban League.

☆ PTA Notes ☆

COMPTON AVE. P.T.A. NEWS

COMPTON AVENUE P.T.A. paper drive, the first of the month, was a success. The room prizes were won by Mrs. Geraldine Sampson's room 15, Miss Jerrolyn Britton's room 9, in the lower grades and Mrs. Winso Stark's room 4, in the upper grades.

Mrs. Edward L. Daniel is the president.

Mrs. Addison Carter, Parent Education Chairman, was ill last week, but Mrs. Jewel Yarbor, and Mrs. Dorothy Bills sent her information blanks out to the parents.

Miss Jerrolyn Britton had a 100% membership in the lower grade and Mrs. Winso Starks, had a 100 percent membership in the upper grade. The two clases will receive prizes.

Mrs. Clothilde Greene, treasurer, was on hand daily to help tally the memberships. Mrs. Ardis Mack, Ways and Means chairman, will meet with the president and principal, Mrs. Ethel Sue Bowden, to plan the annual "Halloween Carnival", this week.

Committee chairmen are: Mesdames McKeder Tolor, Hospitality and room mother; Norman Champton, School Education; Jewell Yabor, Safety and Legislation; Nettie McCauley, Health and Dental; Ola White, Welfare; Marie Barnar, Recreation; Ardis Mack, Program and Ways and Means; Addison Carter, Parent Education; March of Dimes; Aldolphus Moomey, Membership; McKingley Battler Jr., Publicity; Clarence Horton, Magazines; Dorothy Bills, Red Cross, Life Membership, Community.

THOMAS JEFFERSON PTA NEWS

A spaghetti and meat ball supper ushered in the first meeting of Jefferson High PTA, last week and was largely attended by both parents and teachers.

First on the evening's program was a movie revealing the worth of Community Chest and Mrs. Alice Decuir made an appeal for Chest support. Mrs. Joseph Wilkerson followed and gave thanks to all who had assisted in the success of the membership drive. Clark Cosgrove and Mrs. Honore Levy formed a team to inform the parents of the effort of the counselling department to help each student "find" himself.

Los Angeles High scored a lop-sided victory 48-0 over Venice and is now looking forward to another victory when it meets Fairfax this Friday.

The Manual Arts Toilers won their third straight game when they defeated Fremont 18-7 this week. They will have a home game against Garfield.

Congratulations to Linda Bush for the great achievement in winning the Mary S. Caswell scholarship. Linda is a senior at Manual Arts.

Manual Arts held its PTA assembly and the treat was the film "Father Was a Fullback," with Fred MacMurray.

This Friday Los Angeles High will have a sports night. Students are hoping for a large pre-halloween crowd.

Jefferson High will present Johnny Otis and his band at the PTA membership award.

The entire student body of Centennial High got a first hand look at Hamilton when they spent the day there.

Miller's Highlights

As was expected, all of the past weekend's activities were centered around the UCLA-Cal football game in the Bay Area where most of the partying populace migrated. They began arriving Thursday, some made it Friday, and I brought up the rear, Saturday, after being detained by an accident in Fresno. But with my usual optimism and along with my road buddy, Ted Smith, plus knowing it takes more than a mere head-on collision to keep me down, I proceeded to partake of the good times. But I wasn't too occupied to overlook some of the daring doings that occurred. For instance . . . I saw those two broads hibernating in the back seat of an auto after overindulging in the spirited beverages. Do you recognize these initials . . . J.B., J.R.? . . . These didn't seem to be the only homeless females on the prowl though. There was also a duce of vagabonds that answer to the initials of M.D. and B.W. that were discovered homing in the lobby of the California Hotel. . . . They also say (always blame it on they) that there was quite a bit of co-ed bunking—don't have the heart to expose this faction (too many close friends involved) . . . And being as Halloween was celebrated Saturday night it gave impulse to a certain few undiscriminating young ladies to really "trick and treat," at least judging by the hoard of rascals that lurked about their quarters. . . . But the most mysterious and unexplained matter concerned one UCLA student and her beau whom no one saw nor heard from during their stay there—wha hoppen?

But to tidy things up a bit, some of the migratory-partyers went about in a normal way and didn't take seclusion to hide their actions. Noticed making the rounds were such people as Morris Taft, Pat Anderson, Nolan Johnson, Joan Flemister, Don Lenoir, Doris Worthy, Donn Land, Fannie Moore, Charles Hatcher, Mildred Hamilton, Pete and Janice O'Garro, Tony Sheen, Sheila Montgomery, Ben Wyatt, Wylene Younger, Willie Naulls, Bill Johnson, Elaine De Lavallade and gobs of others. And by all means I must thank my wonderful relatives up thataway for such elaborate hospitality. . . . Twas the most. Let's call it thirty for now.

Charge of Police Bias Win's Man's Freedom

Jury Heeds Plea Against S. Pasadena

South Pasadena police were accused in open court Thursday of race prejudice and were charged with being unfit to hold the positions of officers of the law.

The charges were made by Atty. Earl C. Broady in Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell's court in an appeal to the jury which was trying Norman Deal, 29, of Pasadena, who was arrested last July 29 and accused on three counts of burglary and attempted robbery.

Colored Voice

Atty. Broady argued that Dean was arrested and convicted in the minds of the officers solely because he is a Negro. He also challenged the assertion of the state's two principal witnesses that there is any such thing as a "Negro voice." The two witnesses, both women, had claimed that they recognized Dean as their attacker by his "colored voice" and "pronounced Southern accent."

The jury deliberated less then three hours before returning a verdict of "not guilty" on all three counts of the charge.

"That's Him"

Arresting officer Donald Eugene Roberts testified that on the night of the arrest Dean was spotted driving on a South Pasadena street near Monterey Road, "scene of one of the alleged attacks. Roberts said that he turned to his partner and remarked: "There's a colored man. That's him." Thereupon Dean was picked up.

Mrs. Rachael Louise Cunningham 2056 Meridian avenue South Pasadena, said that a man had forced his way into her home about midnight, June 2, that he had threatened to kill her and her children, and had beaten her about the face, breaking her nose. She had not seen his face, she said, but could identify him by his "colored voice".

Alone in 'Show-Up'

Mrs. Pauline McKibben, 204 Monterey Road, South Pasadena housewife, told the court that on July 29 an intruder had attempted to force an entry into her home, had brandished a gun and had threatened to kill her and her child. Like Mrs. Cunningham, she admitted that she had not seen the man's face, but claimed that she, too, had identified Dean by his voice, which, she said, "was the voice of a colored man." Both women are white.

On cross-examination, Atty. Broady drew from the witnesses, including Pasadena police officials, the admission that Dean was compelled to stand alone in a police "show-up", contrary to customary police practice.

In his summation to the jury, Atty. Broady argued that, under the circumstances related by Officer Roberts and the other witnesses and in view of the type of "show-up" conducted, Dean was clearly a victim of race prejudice. The officers, and all of them, he asserted are not fit and proper persons to hold the positions of police officers. Broady pointed out further that there is no such voice as a colored voice and that a Southern accent is not found only among Negroes.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRM—A new million-dollar firm, the All Nations Finance Corporation, has just received its charter here. Jamie L. Hibler, second from left, corporation and partnership tax accountant, receives charter from Atty. Edward C. Maddox. Others in picture are Atty. Lorenz Sheats, publisher of the California Eagle, and Howard Lewis, dealer in investment securities.

Million Dollar Finance Corp. Gets Charter

A new million-dollar finance company has just received its charter to operate in Los Angeles.

The firm, known as the All Nations Finance Corporation, now in temporary headquarters at 2003 S. Central, expects to open in new, completely modern offices in the Vernon-Broadway area shortly after the first of the year.

Directors of the newly formed corporation, which is incorporated for $1,000,000, are; Dr. John Coleman; Dr. William E. Bailey; C. A. King III; Dr. F. N. Spann; Howard Lewis, dealer in investment securities; Dr. P. H. Taylor; and Julius L. Hibler, corporation and partnership tax accountant.

The law firm of Miller, Maddox and Sheats is counsel for the corporation.

Search for New NAACP President

Dr. E. I. Robinson set local NAACP circles in a whirl this week when on Monday evening he quietly announced to the Nominating Committee that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the presidency of the branch this year.

Most of the other present officers were silent as to their plans regarding running again. Speculation started immediately as to who would succeed Dr. Robinson who has held the post of command for the past four years.

Vice President Thomas Neusom has already been nominated for the top position. Rumors are floating around that several other prominent members of the community are being mentioned for the presidency but so far none of the reports appear to be official.

THOMAS NEUSOM

All nominations for officers and executive board members must be received by the Nominating Committee by Nov. 19.

In order to be considered by the committee, all nominees must have given consent to running, must be members in good standing and must have their names submitted by mem-

Feltenberg, Profit Deny Bookie Guilt

Henry Feltenberg and Wesley Profit, both of whom were arrested last week on charges of violation of book-making statutes, will plead not guilty if their case comes to trial, according to Atty. Earl C. Broady, who is representing both men.

The preliminary hearing in the two cases has been set for Nov. 15 in Division 4 of Municipal Court at 1:45 p.m.

Feltenberg, a former policeman, was arrested at the Savoy bar, 1702 E. 103rd Street, of which he is part owner. He also formerly had an interest in Henry's Liquor Store, 4881 Compton avenue, but contrary to previous reports, he sold his interest in that store Sept. 1, and an Oct. 1 a new license for the store was issued in the joint names of David Berger and Lorrenz Zola.

Court Okays Race Bias Ban at NYU

WASHINGTON — The United States Supreme Court Monday, by refusing to review an appeal by various fraternities and sororities on the University of New York Campuses, upheld the decision of the trustees of the university aimed at ending racial and religious bars by social organizations.

In a resolution approved October, 1953, by the trustees of the University of New York, student social organizations are required to sever their connections with national groups and to eliminate "artificial criteria" in selecting members.

The appeal against the ruling handed down by a special three-judge Federal Court in New York, was made by Sigma Tau Gamma, Dalta Kappa, Inc., and others. The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal on the basis that no substantial Federal question was involved.

Death Ordered for Walter Lee Irvin, Rape Case Victim

NEW YORK—Walter Lee Irvin, one of Florida's most persecuted martyrs of race prejudice, was scheduled to die this week—unless nationwide, last minute appeals impel Gov. Charles Johns in Tallahassee to grant executive clemency.

Announcement that Irvin was to be put to death the "week of Nov. 8" was made late last week, apparently in a calculated attempt to head off the widespread protest that it was known would be instantly aroused.

Eleventh Hour Appeal

But telegrams, letters, and phone calls have already inundated the governor's office in an eleventh hour effort to save the life of the Negro youth who has been fighting against the death sentance in the infamous Groveland rape case for the past five years.

Irvin, whose case has twice been before the United States Supreme Court, has previously been perilously close to death. When he and his co-defendent, Samuel Shepherd, were being escorted to the new trial ordered by the High Court, Lake County Sheriff Willis V. McCall shot both of them, killing Shepherd and leaving Irvin for dead.

Irvin recovered, however, and McCall was exonerated.

Reign of Terror

When news of the death date was received by the NAACP, which has fought the case since the reign of terror in Groveland in 1949 during which Irvin was arrested, the association immediately alerted every one of its regional, state and local

Catalina Hotel Pays Penalty In Service Refusal

The exclusive Islander Hotel on Catalina Island last week paid out $100 in penalties for denying accommodations to four Negroes last August. In addition, the hotel signed an agreement that henceforth it would not discriminate against anyone because of race or color.

Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph, Jr., of 1439 19th street, Santa Monica, and Mrs. Monica Warren and her 13-year-old son, Lewis Lee Warren, of Los Angeles, wrote to the Islander hotel last August making reservations for a holiday. The reservations were confirmed by the hotel management.

On August 24 when they arrived, they were told that there were no vacancies and were turned away.

On Sept. 27, Atty. Rafus J. Carter, one of the members of the legal panel of the NAACP, brought suit against the hotel acording to Atty. Herbert W. Simmons, Jr., chairman of the association's Legal Redress Committee.

Parents of Girl File Second Suit Asking $76,000

Dr. Wayne Howard and Mrs. Betty Howard, two of the most prominent and most highly regarded members of the local community, this week filed suit against the Los Angeles Board of Education for $77,000 charging that negligence on the part of the authorities had caused an accident on school grounds in which their son, Wayne Cox Howard Jr., lost the sight of one eye.

The school board was also hit by another suit for damages in the amount of $76,000 for an accident in which a seven-year-old girl, Maribeth Harper, received a skull fracture and a possible brain injury when she was thrown against the school building by a child playing during the noon lunch period.

Files as Guardian

Dr. Howard, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat specialist rated as one of the best in the county and a staff member at Mt. Sinai hospital, filed the suit as guardian of his 11-year-old son, who was struck on the right eye by a stick thrown by another student. The two youngsters were on the grounds of the Sixth Avenue school when the accident occured last April 19.

Mrs. Howard, a registered nurse, is one of the city's most popular social leaders. She is a member of the Jack and Jills, Allied Arts, Little Club, Ad Club, Charles Drew Medical club, Pharmeceutical Medical and Dental ass'n, Queen of the Angeles Hospital auxiliary and the Family Center district.

The suit on behalf of the Howards, as well as that seeking damages for the Harper child, were both filed through the law offices of Miller, Maddox and Sheats.

Negligence Claimed

The action asking redress for little Maribeth Harper was filed through her father, John B. Harper, and seeks to recover damages for injuries suffered last June 3 on the 99th Street School grounds, plus hospital costs.

Maribeth, the complaint asserts, suffered a skull fracture, multiple bruises and abrasions and possible injury to the brain when she was run into by another youngster.

In both instances the attorneys for the children point out in their complaints that the School Board is liable for the safety and health of children committed to the care of schools under its jurisdiction. The lawyers stress the position that the defendants were negligent, in that they failed to provide adequate supervision over the children.

Thanksgiving Bird Caught by Tricky Rogue

Thanksgiving is near and one enterprising "rogue" doesn't expect to be caught without a bird—even if it's only a little one.

According to police reports, some character forced the lock on the fool shed belonging to Lewis Gryn, 763 W. 95th street, and rifled his pigeon coop between the hours of midnight and dawn last Saturday.

The "bird thief" stole one can of pigeon food and several pigeons valued at $11.75.

TO DIE THIS WEEK — Walter Lee Irvin, race hate victim in the notorious Groveland rape case, has been condemned to die this week. Last minute appeal is being made to save his life.

'Hot Lips' Oran Page Ends Song

By "CHAZZ" CRAWFORD

The song is ended for Oran "Hot Lips" Page, one of the all-time greats in the annals of jazz, who died of a heart attack Saturday night in New York's Harlem Hospital. The famed trumpeter, who was of the Louis Armstrong idiom, was a product of Kansas City. But his high and low notes have been sounded in all the bright-lit capitals of the world.

Both a soloist and a leader, Hot Lips was featured with many "name" aggregations including the band of clarinetist Artie Shaw. While with the Shaw group, he could from time to time be heard belting across the lyrics of a scat song. Perhaps his best-known vocal chore is the recorded duets with songstress Pearl Bailey in "The Huckleback" and "Baby, It's Cold Outside". The platter was high on the best-seller list.

The falling of the final curtain for this man with a horn both shocked and stunned a multitude of friends and fans. For Page was only 46 years old, but like many another musical great who has passed on before him, Hot Lips made his contribution to "le jazz hot" before completing his span. His song may be ended, but his memory will linger on.

'Shoot to Kill!' Racists Advise Mississippi Whites

WASHINGTON — "Load your gun and if you're bothered, shoot to kill. There is not a jury in the South that would convict you."

These inflammatory words were part of an incendiary article opposing school integration published in Moss Point, Miss., in a race-baiting publication called "American Confederate Army — For White Christians Only," which last week was banned from the mails by the Post Office.

Inciting Murder

In denying mailing privileges, the Post Office held that parts of the article tend "to incite murder or assassination."

Listed as officers of the paper are Frank Cunningham, lieutenant general of Moss Point, Miss., and the notorious Bill Hendrix, adjutant general, of Tallahassee, Fla. The publication boasts that Hendrix was "one-time national head of the Southern Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

The article contains the following scurrilous statements:

Call to Violence

"It is now time to load your gun and get into this mongrelization fight as an individual.

"As individuals we can win this fight in the South. We must educate every person of the South what he or she can do as individuals.

"Do your part as an individual. Load your own gun and protect your own family, and don't vote for a vote lover who will stoop to mixing the races.

"Some Negroes of the NAACP seem to think that they can now rape and kill white people at will, and that they have the protection of the Federal Government. This is not so. They only have the protection of the mongrelizers of the Fed-

Supreme Court Upholds Right Of Consulting

WASHINGTON — The life sentence given William C. Chandler, under the Tennessee habitual criminal law was set aside Monday when the United States Supreme Court laid down the broad rule that a defendant in a criminal case "must be given a reasonable opportunity to employ and consult" with an attorney.

Chief Justice Warren, speaking for a unanimous court, said that by denying Chandler "any opportunity whatever to obtain counsel on the habitual criminal accusation, the trial court deprived him of due process of law as guaranteed by the 14th Amendment."

Chandler's last arrest was for a robbery involving three dollars.

Area Off to Good Start on Chest Funds

First returns in the Community Chest's annual appeal for funds to support 164 health and welfare services indicate a victory trend in the South Central area this year, according to Area Chairman Mrs. E Rakestraw.

Reports show that the area has raised $5606 of the $27,267 goal assigned for 20.55% of quota.

Further breakdown of the area figures show that Districts 5 and 6, led by Co-chairmen Roy Nelson and Mrs. June Pinchback, have raised $4148 and District 8, $1458.

Today, Thursday, marks the end of the first week that the area's 2400 volunteer workers have been in the field seeking funds for the 164 Chest services from business, industry, commerce and homemakers.

Walter Lee Irvin To Die This Week

units in the entire country, urging instant action.

The case of Samuel Shepherd and Walter Lee Irvin vs. the State of Florida had its beginning in July, 1949, when Mrs Norma Padgett, a young white woman, claimed that her husband had been beaten and she had been raped by four Negro youths. This charge set off a wave of terrorism and home burnings throughout Lake County resulting in the fleeing of nearly 400 Negro families. Negroes were driven from their homes, hunted and beaten in the surrounding swamps. Their homes were burnt to the ground, their farm equipment destroyed or pillaged their livestock scattered or stolen.

One Killed

Three young Negroes Shepherd, Irvin and Charles Greenlee, were arrested and charged with the crime. A fourth, Ernest Thomas, was shot and killed by a sheriff's posse in a swamp.

It was in this inflamed atmosphere that Irvin was first convicted by an all-white jury in the County Court at Tavares. Shepherd and Greenlee were convicted with him. Irvin and Shepherd were sentenced to death. Greenlee, then only 16 years of age, was condemned to life imprisonment.

New Trial Ordered

Following nearly two years of appeals by NAACP lawyers, the U. S. Supreme Court ordered a new trial for Shepherd and Irvin. Franklin H. Williams, now West Coast NAACP secretary-counsel, was co-counsel and argued the appeal before the High Court.

It was on the eve of this trial that Shepherd and Irvin were shot down by Sheriff McCall on a lonely road enroute from the state penitentiary at Raiford to Tavares.

The second trial began February 14, 1952, with Walter Lee Irvin standing alone. Three days later, another all-white jury convicted Irvin and sentenced him to death.

Subsequent appeals made by NAACP attorneys, charging numerous errors in the trial court, were to no avail. The final appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court to reconsider earlier refusal to hear a petition was rejected January 19, 1954.

Irvin Innocent, Williams Tells San Diegans

SAN DIEGO — Franklin H. Williams, secretary-counsel NAACP told an audience of more than 300 persons here Sunday that "Segregation and its legal support has been all but destroyed by the NAACP throughout the United States."

Speaking at a public rally sponsored by the San Diego branch of the NAACP under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth Green, president, Williams urged that every person within the sound of his voice wire Governor "Charlie Johns of the State of Florida and urge him to commute the death sentence of Walter Lee Irvin," the young defendant in the infamous Groveland trial in Lake County, Fla.

Williams told his audience that Irvin was innocent and should not have to pay the penalty of death for a crime that he didn't commit.

Tiny Baby Dies Despite Hospital OK

The fragile life of 17-day-old Donna Johnson, premature baby of Mrs. Helen and Donald Johnson, 1549½ E. 53rd street, ended abruptly Friday, a day after a doctor at General Hospital reportedly had been unable to find anything wrong with the child.

Mrs. Johnson said that the baby, who had been sickly since her birth, started choking on Thursday and she took her back to the County Hospital where she was born. One of the doctors examined her but reportedly could find nothing wrong and told the mother she could take the child home.

Early Friday the infant became worse. The parents called in Dr. Theodore P. Blevins, who prescribed for the child. In the afternoon, the child seemed no better, and the parents decided to take her back to the hospital. They thought she was sleeping, but when they picked her up, she seemed to have stopped breathing. They rushed her to General Hospital, but the infant was found to be dead on arrival.

Hospital authorities later informed the Eagle that when the baby was examined Thursday she seemed to be all right, but that they told the mother to bring her back the next day for a thorough examination.

The coroner reported that the infant died from natural causes.

Capt. G. D. Hargrave Jr.

Army Captain Given Citation

WILMINGTON, N.C. — Capt. Garnett D. Hargrave Jr. of the United States Army has just been awarded the Bronze Medal for outstanding service in connection with the Psychological Warfare Section of the United States Army Forces in the Far East.

Capt. Hargrave's family lives in Los Angeles. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hargrave Sr. of Wilmington, N.C.

The award was made at Fort Buckner, with the citation being conferred by Maj. General David A. D. Ogden.

The citation stated that "Capt. Hargrave performed the many duties attendant to his position in a highly exemplary manner. His unusual ability, outstanding initiative and constant devotion to duty earned him the respect and admiration of those with whom he served and contributed immeasurably to the success achieved by his section in accomplishing its vital mission. The meritorious service rendered by Captain Hargrave throughout this period materially furthered the cause of the United Nations in Korea and reflects great credit on himself and the military service."

Certificates recommending Captain Hargrave came from many of his commanding and superior officers.

Unitarians to Hear Talk on Butler Law

The Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice is presenting Atty. Robert L. Brock, former Los Angeles Superior Court Commissioner, in an analysis of the Brownell-Butler Law, Sunday, Nov. 14, at 1:15 p.m. at the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, 2936 W. 8th street.

Brock's speech, entitled 'Fascism—the next Amendment," reportedly points out that the Communist Control Act is "the last step on the road to a police state."

Eminent legal scholars such as Judge Harold Medina, Prof. Edward Corwin, and New York State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein have actively opposed the Act. The American Civil Liberties Union is now in the process of challenging the law in court.

Services Held For Mrs. Davis, Native Daughter

Rosary services were held for Laura V. Davis, Nov. 2, at 7 p.m. from the Conner-Johnson Funeral Home, with Father L. Williams officiating.

Mrs. Davis, a native of California, lived with her daughter at 1877 W. Adams blvd. for the past seven years. She died of a heart attack on Oct. 31, after a short illness, at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

The body was shipped for burial to San Francisco, where she formerly resided for many years. "Heroine of Jericho" of the Eastern Star Lodge, of which she was Past Grand Matron, conducted services on Wednesday. Mrs. Davis was a member of the Past Matrons Council and the Household of Ruth.

Butler's Funeral Home in San Francisco was in charge of services Thursday morning, with Rev. E. A. McLaughlin presiding. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Cemtery.

Two daughters, Mrs. Lois Grissam, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Alberta Green of Barstow, survive the deceased.

NEWSPAPERS, LEADERS PUSH DEMAND FOR FEPC

An organization group of the Committee for Fair Employment in Los Angeles met last Thursday and set Dec. 12 as the date for a general conference and panel discussion on fair employment.

The committee, sponsored by editors and publishers of 10 comunity newspapers and civic leaders, sets forth as its goal passage of a fair employment practices ordinance embracing the city and county of Los Angeles.

Presently 28 cities and twelve states in the nation have enacted such legislation.

Proposed Ordinance

A proposed ordinance now being drafted will be presented and discussed as the conference breaks up into workshop discussion panels. City Councilmen Edward Roybal and County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn are being invited to appear as principal speakers.

The Committee for Fair Employment in Los Angeles is endorsed by editors and publishers of the following newspapers: California Eagle, Los Angeles Tribune, Los Angeles Sentinel, Los Angeles Herald, Los Angeles Herald-Dispatch, B'nai B'rith Messenger, California Jewish Voice, Valley Jewish News, Espectador, La Opinion, Frontier Magazine and the CIO Newsteller.

Members of the organization committee present at an organizing meeting Thursday included Atty. Arthur Mabry, NAACP; Charles Nichamin, American Jewish Congress; Leon H. Death Takes Man Who Cheated Fire

Joseph Kennedy, 34, 4317 Lima street, jumped from his burning house last Saturday to escape a fiery death, but a grim fate pursued him. Monday morning he died in the hospital, although he had appeared to be suffering from only minor injuries.

He was found lying on the lawn in front of the house about 7 p. m. when firemen answered a fire alarm. Kennedy admitted to police he had been drinking and had been smoking in bed.

He said he jumped through the first floor window of the house "to keep from burning up." He was taken to Georgia Street Hospital and treated for minor lacerations on the right forearm, pulled muscles and tendons, and was later transferred to General Hospital.

An autopsy was performed Nov. 8, but the Coroner's Office reported that the results will not be known for two months. A thorough examination of the brain will be made.

Needle Marks Cause Arrests

Don't let those pin-pricks show!

A routine check of a traffic accident at 42nd and Figueroa streets last Friday at 5 p. m., in which Rudolph King, 28, of 126 E. 74th street was involved, landed him and his passenger, George Brown, 29, of 2275 W. 22nd street, in jail on a narcotic charge. The officers reportedly noticed tell-tale needle marks on the arms of both men.

Billie Dyer, 27, and Bertram Sterling, 33, both of 2619 La Salle street, were in custody last Friday night when a "tip" brought police on a narcotic search of their home. The "tip" might have proven fruitless, but for one small factor—needle marks!

For Doc Austin, 621 W. 41st street and Harry Roberts, 4158½ Avalon boulevard, last Friday was a day of arrest. Officers Paul Stranton and P. Rainey, with X-ray eyes, observed—right — fresh needle marks on the arms!

League Adds Two Men to Local Staff

Two new members, Paul W. Sweeney and Frederick A. Carter, were added to the Urban League staff as industrial field secretaries this week.

Sweeney received his A.B.

Lured By Siren, Man Is Beaten And Robbed

Johnnie Jackson, 38, electrician's helper, of 1418 E. 45th street had a strange story of robbery and kidnaping to report to police early Saturday morning.

He said that at 54th street and Avalon boulevard, about 3 a. m., he was lured to an automobile by a feminine voice asking "Don't you know me? Get in." Before he could refuse two men opened the car door and pulled him into the rear seat.

The kidnapers then drove him to Olympic and Hooper, beat him over the head and robbed him.

Jackson said he tried to escape but found the car had no inside handles. He was hit over the head again and knocked unconscious.

When he came to he was lying on the street. He told Newton police he could identify all three of the suspects.

TULSANS DEMAND CITY HIRE NEGRO FIREMEN

TULSA, Okla.—Charging that the mayor and fire commissioner had totally ignored pre-election promises to hire Negro firemen, the NAACP here last week called for imediate integration in the city's Fire Department. There are no Negro firemen here.

After publicly declaring themselves in favor of Negro firemen, city officials hired 24 new white firemen, then told Negroes they had no more money for additional personnel. They asked the Negroes to wait until the new fiscal year which began last July. But July came and went, and still no Negro firemen have been given jobs.

"We want some action," declared an NAACP spokesman. "To us, action means Negro firemen on duty."

The NAACP charged that before they were voted into office the mayor, the fire commissioner and others personally assured Negro groups that they "definitely would employ colored firemen if they were elected. After getting into office they repeated the promises. Today, six months have passed, and we still hear nothing more than promises."

Denver VIP's In Tribute to City's Clubs

A trio of visitors in Los Angeles to attend the convention of the National Retail Liquor Dealers association paid local business men a high tribute for the progress being made all along the line.

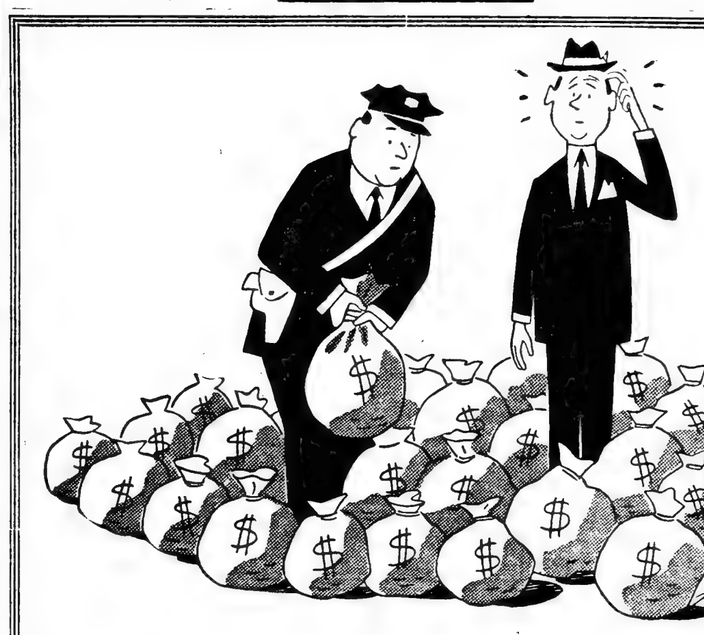
The men, Charles Couzens, Elvin Caldwell and Quentin Harrington, were being escorted about the city by David Holt, regional representative of the Budweiser Brewing company. They praised the smart atmosphere and exquisite tone of several of the popular clubs in the city.

Couzens is a member of the Board of Directors of the national retail organization. Caldwell, owner of Five Points cafe in Denver, is a vice president of the Colorado Licensed Beverage Dealers association. The men with Holt as their host attended the Cosmo Club, Club Moroco, Club Intime and the Rajah Room of the Watkins hotel.

Texas Tot Chosen Polio Poster Boy

James Clark Allen Jr., five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allen of Tyler, Texas, has been officially designated 1955 March of Dimes poster boy. He was stricken with polio in his second year.

His picture will appear in thousands of windows all over the nation during the drive for polio-fighting funds next January. News stories and campaign publications will feature the story of his winning fight against polio.



James now walks with the aid of a hip brace for his left leg and two Canadian crutches. After 50 days of hospitalization, he was discharged for home care and out-patient physical therapy. From June 18, 1952 to Sept. 1, 1954, the Smith County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has expended $2,570.80 in dimes.

A Bleak Outlook

The closeness of party division in the House and Senate that was chosen last week probably presages the return to power of the old Reactionary Republican-Dixiecrat coalition that was so powerful in the latter part of the Truman administration. That is a bad omen for civil rights and liberal legislation in general.

Northern and western Democrats tend to take a liberal view on such issues as civil rights, taxation, housing, and social security, while southerners, with a few notable exceptions, are on the other side of the fence. Only a landslide victory for the northern-western wing of the Democratic party could have given these liberals enough power to override the wishes and votes of their southern compatriots, and there was no such victory.

The northern Republican reactionaries have long since shown themselves willing to make practical swaps with their reactionary southern counterparts. These northern Republicans will make under-the-table deals with the Dixiecrats by which the southerners will help kill off liberal legislation in the economic field in return for Republican support to bottle up and throttle civil rights measures.

The problem is compounded by the fact that under the seniority system most of the important committee chairmanships will go to the southerners in both House and Senate. There are enough southerners and reactionary Republicans on most committees to give the chairmen power to scuttle any bills he doesn't like.

The Eighty-fourth Congress can't be expected to do any more than its predecessors have done to strike down racial discrimination in those areas in which the federal government can act. Chances are that it will be equally sterile in other areas of liberal legislation.

The only hope—and it is a slim one indeed — is that northern and western Republicans and Democrats can shake off their reactionary leadership and act in concert. They have the votes to do it but it is to be feared that the will is lacking.

As far as civil rights are concerned the prospect is that we shall have to continue to depend on judicial decisions and administrative action for whatever gains are to be made in the next two years.

Goverment Should Act

Sacramento builders, who have made thousands of dollars in profits in home construction made possible by FHA-insured loans, frankly told NAACP lawyers last week that they had a policy of discriminating against Negro purchasers.

Under FHA loan insurance neither the money lender nor the builder takes any risk. The government guarantees the loan. And if it isn't paid the government steps in to take over the mortgage and run the risk of loss.

Under that kind of a system it is plain that government assistance makes home building possible and that government credit is being pledged. The credit of government is the common credit of all citizens, without reference to race or color.

There is no reason under the sun why government should not require that those who use its credit, those who ask it to insure their loans, should not be compelled to covenant, that they will not discriminate in sale or rental of homes they build.

Government owes that much to its citizens and its failure to exert its power to insure absolute equality of treatment is a plain failure to discharge its duty.

FHA makes all sorts of requirements of builders in every imaginable field. It has the power to require a pledge of non-discrimination from builders and lenders. It has not done so because it has catered to the powerful real estate and money-lending lobbies. President Eisenhower has said time and again that he will not tolerate government support of racial discrimination

Until FHA does act, government is short changing its own citizens.

Shape Of Things To Come

There will be three Negroes in the next House of Representatives.

It is one of the ironies of history that all of them are Democrats—William Dawson of Chicago; Adam Powell of New York; and Charles E. Diggs of Detroit.

The sole Republican nominee was a young public relations man in Philadelphia whose hopes for a Congressional seat were dashed by Negro voters who went along with white voters in his district and turned him down solely because of his political affiliations.

It is fairly plain that increased Negro representation in Congress will be made only through the Democratic party. The city Negro working man, like his white fellow urban dweller, doesn't like the Republican party and will have no part of it. The Republican party strength among Negroes in the big cities rests with the professional and businessmen and there aren't enough voters in that class to boost a Negro into public office.

The growth of Negro population in such cities as St. Louis, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and others means that within a few years there will be Negro Congressmen from at least a dozen districts. A bloc of 12 votes in any Congress will be an important one.

It is time to begin to lay the groundwork for the election of Negroes to Congress from these cities.

We have the votes to do that in the Twenty-sixth District and will have similar power in the Fifteen District within the next few years. Each of those districts will be more than 50 per cent Negro by 1960.

As they have elsewhere, politicos can be expected to resist every move to select a Negro congressman in Los Angeles. That resistance will come from liberals and conservatives alike no matter how much they deny it or pretend otherwise.

We ought to start making preparations now to send a Los Angeles Negro to Congress.

Give What Is Fair

Give what's fair!

That's the Community Chest slogan for this year and it seems to us to be a good one.

If everybody will give what's fair the Chest quota can be realized without undue hardship on anybody.

In light of the benefit that all of us reap from Chest support of various agencies in the community each of us has a duty to give as much as he can.

Decide now what's fair for you and give when the Chest solicitor comes to your door.

Better Watch Him

Fire Chief John H. (I Am the Law) Alderson is still clinging to his Jim Crow racket in the fire department.

He hasn't made a single move to make a single change in the department since the Board of Fire Commissioners ordered him to act.

It is our guess that Alderson doesn't intend to do anything. He fancies himself in the role of the martyr for White Supremacy.

We hope that the Commission and the Mayor will let him know that they mean business. If they don't we're in for another year of stalling.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

It has suddenly dawned on me why so many people don't vote. All through the years our great civic organizations have been pondering this situation and wondering what they could do to get the vote out.

They've spent thousands of dollars in research, in "grass roots" approaches, and some have even resorted to such gimmicks as offering transportation and baby-sitter services and other such inducements to get folks out to the polls.

Patriotic Fellow

But, I've got the answer to why folks don't vote and in the public interest I'm tossing it out to everybody instead of copyrighting it and selling it, lock, stock and barrel, to one party for $100,000

Patriotic fellow that Palmer!

The answer? Well, let's go at it this way. Suppose A is running against B for, say, Governor. So, when the campaigns get going good, A hires a researcher and B hires a researcher.

These guys start searching and they come up with some juicy stuff. A's researcher finds that B when he was six years old told his mother he was going to school and stole off to see a cowboy picture instead. So A calls in his ghost writer and tells him to spook up a speech based on this vital information.

Monstrous Liar

In a week or so, the newspapers are headlining the fact that A has called B a "monstrous liar." To make it nice and fluffy, the reporters quote A in or out of context and B ends up not only a "monstrous liar" but also "irresponsible, utterly lacking in integrity and completely undeserving of the public's trust."

B, of course, doesn't take this in the prone position. He gets up swinging. Purposely, he has lain low so he is in a position to call A a "mud slinger and character assassin."

Lives in Glass House

And since he has paid his researcher what amounted to about $150 a day, he figures he might as well make use of his documented proof that A failed to pay off a traffic ticket at one time or another. So he issues a statement which charges that A:

"Not only indulges in that despicable political trick of name-calling but he lives in a house made of nothing but glass and can't begin to feel secure when he throws rocks. A is known to have refused to meet his obligations to his government on a financial matter but because of his influential position, this matter has never before come to light."

So, Why Vote?

So it goes on and on and on until time for the voters to go to the polls. Now, I ask you, do you want anybody for your governor who is "irresponsible, utterly lacking in integrity and completely undeserving of the public's trust?"

Of course you don't.

And, I ask you, do you want the next governor to be a "mud-slinger and a character assassin who is known to have refused to meet his obligations to his government on a financial matter?"

Of course you don't. So, what do you do?

You don't vote.

At least, you've got yourself a good excuse for staying at home. You irresponsible citizen, you.

ON THE BOOKSHELF

AN INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC, by Martin Bernstein.

A comprehensive background book to the appreciation of music. This is a historical study of the music of various schools and composers. It analyzes the form, tone structure, and other aspects of great music from the Gregorian chant to the contemporary uses of the 12-tone scale.

In its clear and easily read study of the great composers, Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, the Romantics and the Moderns, the emphasis is always upon leading works and their appreciation rather than upon biographical details. The book is an excellent concert companion.

MUSIC IN THE SOUTHWEST, 1825-1950.

This fascinating book is a history of the musical activities of the southwest, including the music of the Mormons, music in the mining camps, song and fiesta at mission, rancho and pueblo, and the coming and development of professional music in Los Angeles.

Of special interest is the story of the Philharmonic Orchestra and the great debt it and the city owe to the late William Andrews Clark, for many years the sponsor of the orchestra.

THE LANGUAGE OF MUSIC, by Klaus Liepmann.

The author, a music educator of wide experience, has written a practical guide to the enjoyment of music for the music lover, who "whether attending concerts or listening to broadcasts and recordings, desires a better understanding of what he hears."

A general study of what music is and the nature of its effect on the listener is followed by an explanation of the principles of melody and harmony and an account of each of the instruments of the orchestra. An invaluable book for the orientation of the mature listener to music.

MUSIC IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION, by Paul H. Lang.

This work is used widely as a textbook in the history of music, yet it is more than that. In its graphic depiction of the forces that come together to create the music of each period and the relationship of music to the life and society of each era, "Music in Western Civilization" will prove of value to every intelligent concert goer.

TWENTIETH CENTURY MUSIC, by Marion Bauer.

For those who may feel that they do not understand what the musical moderns are up to, or who dismiss much of contemporary music as dissonant and unmelodious, this standard book on the subject will help develop an appreciation of what many composers of today are trying to do.

There are helpful hints on how to listen to the new music.

A COMPOSER'S WORLD, by Paul Hindemith.

One of the modern masters gives a philosophical approach to music that will deepen the music lover's appreciation of the fine points of the art.

Included is an interesting discussion of the place of music in modern society, some of the problems, artistic and financial, of music as a profession and some interesting thoughts on education for a musical career.

THE VICTOR BOOK OF SYMPHONIES, THE VICTOR BOOK OF OVERTURES, TONE POEMS AND OTHER ORCHESTRAL WORKS, by Charles O'Connell.

Two excellent books for quick reference before going to a symphony concert.

THE MAESTRO, by Howard Taubman.

The music editor of the New York Times writes with gusto a biography of his great idol, the incomparable conductor Arturo Toscanini. The fiery personality of the great man makes the book entertaining reading.

THE BOOK OF MODERN COMPOSERS, edited by David Ewen.

Recommended for short accounts of the leading contemporary composers, with lists of records and good bibliographies.

GREAT COMPOSERS THROUGH THE EYES OF THEIR CONTEMPORARIES, by Otto Zoff.

It may comfort some of the ultra-modern composers of today who have difficulty persuading the public to accept their workers to read of the struggles against adverse critical opinion of some of the very greatest composers of the past. A fascinating book for lovers of music.

THE WIDOWS OF THORNTON, by Peter Taylor.

New Yorker readers and those who remember his previous books know Peter Taylor as a writer whose peculiar charm and understanding are reflected equally in the grace of his prose and the compassion with which he treats his subject-matter.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE CITY COUNCIL?

Believe it or not, but the City Council has not had one word to say regarding the problem the Fire Commissioners are having with Chief Alderson on getting the firemen integrated and out of those two traditional all-Negro Fire Houses on Central Ave. They appear to have a life or death say over the chief.

Leon Steward

Are we to be led to think that they are all in sympathy with him?

Of course you are aware that they have Gerrymandered the councilmanic districts so that it is scarcely possible for a Negro to be elected to the Council. Witness Dr. John Somerville's effort to crash the Council last year.

Silence

It would appear that at least one of the councilmen would say something about that Fire Department. Everyone else has been discussing it but not the councilmen. What about Don Allen, our "owe" councilman? When the councilmen were refused the raise in pay last year he was loudest in declaring that he would quit the City Council and go back to his old job. What is holding him up—one way or the other?

What about Councilman Edward Roybal? Did not the Negroes support him for the lieutenant governorship which he sought? Why has he not had something to say? Is he also sharing with the Council the feeling that it is 100 per cent in sympathy with Chief Alderson despite the laws of the state.

Far Away

Why pick out any of them? If they were for the laws of the state over their own prejudices why would not any one of them say something about this shameful and disgraceful matter under their very noses? It is our impression they treat the matter as though it were far away from them or as if integrating Negro and white firemen is indeed far from them.

Now don't get the idea that it has been ever thus. If you read the story on the front page of last week's Eagle you will read that a Negro fireman proved heroic in saving one of his white associates from death back in 1898.

Just when did Jim Crow take over the fire stations? Maybe it was just like the South: When a larger number of educated Negroes apply for a job they begin to jim crow them. That is an old story especially when the white firemen are embarrassed by their lack of culture and education. The dumber they are the more they react to intelligence in a Negro.

On Ventriloquists

At the age of five years old, in the city of Tulsa, Okla., my interest in ventriloquism had its start. It was on an old street corner medicine show where I saw for the first time a ventriloquist in operation. And, incidentally, it was also my first observation of an authentic medicine show.

The "man who threw his voice" had two dummies in operation, which captivated my interest from that moment until even now. It was then that I became determined to some day become a ventriloquist.

It wasn't until several years later that I came face to face with another artist in the profession. After seeing this fellow perform, my interest was really invigorated, so much so that I would lie awake nights dreaming of how to create a dummy out of wood, and learning the art of making it talk.

Fortunately I had the pleasure of meeting Chester Calhoun who took enough interest to teach me the art of ventriloquism.

Never before had I seen a man manipulate a talking figure as well as Calhoun. Many a great old time showman will remember Calhoun and the fame he enjoyed, with his two dummies "John Henry, Jr." and "Society Red." After six months of tutoring with Chester Calhoun, I felt that I was ready to make it on my own. But, I have always tried to put into practice the many things that he taught me about the art of ventriloquism. I have tried to master many difficult stunts in voice projection, the movement of the dummies, voice tones, and dialogues.

Even to his most difficult stunts, such as drinking milk while the dummy sings, and producing the effect of a dummy talking while being enclosed in a box.

Now it is with my close and faithful wooden friends, T-Bone Jr. Jones, and Cleo H. Clair, that I have hopes of following in the footsteps of the great Calhoun. My boys and I (meaning Cleo and T-Bone) are now fortunate enough to have with us an unusually great showman, who answers to the name of Walter Porter.

I met my new teammate a few months ago at a house party in Hollywood, where he gave the crowd a miraculous performance in micking show-business celebrities. Some of the artists portrayed were Peter Lorre, James Cagney, Nat Cole, and many others. He has a rare talent of forming different angels to comedy.

We hope to entice you and yours to bear witness to our teamwork, and we'd love to merit your applause, and have you pronounce us a "hit." Now, if I'm putting words in your mouth, it's only because a shrewd praise agent wouldn't want you to "dummy" up on us. He's convinced we're going to be bigtime . . . Bless him!

TWILIGHT OF THE DRAGON, by Graham Jeffries (Peter Bourne, pseud.).

Mysterious China was never more mysterious nor more dangerous than in the early days of this century, when the Western-hating Dowager Empress was the power behind the imperial throne and the Boxers were threatening the European and American settlements in Peking.

Sense and Nonsense About Food

By ROY O. GILBERT, M.D.
L. A. County Health Officer

The belief that drinking sassafras tea will purify the blood has almost disappeared. Unfortunately, equally fallacious beliefs concerning a great many other foods continue to be a source of quite widespread misinformation among the public.

One of the most persistent food fallacies is that certain food combinations cannot be eaten without causing food poisoning.

Not So

Another belief—that cooking in aluminum utensils might cause cancer is a subject of much telephone conversation to this department by persons who have been misguided by some well-meaning friend who continues to repeat such nonsense despite conclusive proof to the contrary.

Many erroneous beliefs concerning food are built up because a physician may for specific medical reasons prohibit a patient from eating certain foods. A friend of the patient thus infers that these foods should be avoided by everyone.

"Hard" on Kidneys

For instance, a physician may advise against liberal amounts of meat in the diet of a patient who has a kidney disorder. Immediately, someone will spread the story that no one should eat meat because it is "hard" on the kidneys.

The same is true concerning the fact that sometimes a physician may tell a patient with hardening of the arteries to omit eggs from his diet.

"What Not to Believe" would be a good title for some of the most common forms of food information listed as follows:

Don't Believe It

That raw foods are harmful to a nursing mother.

That oranges, grapefruit, and tomatoes cause an acid condition.

That fruits and vegetables raised in this area have little food value.

That butter is more fattening than margarine.

That toast is less fattening than bread.

That vitamin pills are a substitute for natural foods.

That butter is a substitute for meat.

Fallacies Persist

Food fallacies seem to have a stubborn tendency to persist through the years as is evidenced by the fact that Europeans did not completely accept potatoes as a safe food until at least two centuries after they were used in the Western hemisphere.

Tomatoes were grown for many years for the sole purpose of lending color to gardens because of the recurring story that someone knew someone who died from eating tomatoes.

A. C. Bilbrew In Song Festival Of Five Choirs at Independent

Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, prominent civic leader and woman of music, was mistress of ceremonies at People's Independent Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. when the Cathedral Choir sponsored a five-choir performance.

The program was planned and arranged by Minister of Music Albert McNeil, with the organist, Fannie Benjamin, assisting. The Cathedral Choir of the host church began the program, singing three numbers. One number featured soprano Elinor Miller in MacFarlane's "Ho, Everyone that thirsteth." They were followed by the 2nd Baptist Church choir, Anna Griffith Morrow directing. One of their numbers was Thompson's militant arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers." The third choir to perform was the 100-voice group from Zion Hill Baptist Church, Walter C. Daniels directing, with Rev. Chambers' daughter, Eunice Chambers, at the organ, and Jean Prescott at the piano. One of their numbers was the thrilling arrangement by Virginia Davis of "I Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray."

The Westminster Presbyterian Choir followed, Ursula Morrell directing. Soprano Gladys Sharp and baritone Henry McPherson were featured in Caleb Simper's stirring arrangement of "Break Forth into Joy."

The final choir to appear was from the Westwood Community Methodist Church, directed by Dr. Raymond Mormon, who is head of the Music Department at UCLA. One of their presentation was the celebrated "Send Forth Thy Spirit," by Schuerky.

The benediction was pronounced by associate minister of Independent, Rev. Mason, after which the combined choirs joined to sing Lutkin's response of "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." A reception followed in the annex of the church where refreshments were served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. Cora Daugherty.

VENICE YOUTH CHORUS—The program Sunday at Lotus Temple will feature the Junior Boys Chorus of 1st Baptist Church of Venice

Venice Junior Boys Chorus In Musical Program Sunday

The Junior Boys Chorus of the First Baptist Church of Venice will be featured at the Lotus Temple, 1873 W. Jefferson blvd., Nov. 14.

Glen McCleary, a 12-year-old youth, is the director of the group. Young McCleary is a first year piano student.

Miss Ruth Holly is the pianist for the chorus. She is fifteen years of age and a fifth year piano student.

The instructor of the choral group is Mrs. Rene Crawford, who organized the young boys chorus in 1952.

The chorus has appeared on programs in various churches in the Bay area. It appeared recently for the P.T.A. of Venice, the NAACP of Santa Monica and on the All Jarvis television show.

Mrs. Crawford states that the boys are very interested in their work and all attend church regularly.

Unitarian Church In 3 Day Bazaar

The First Unitarian Church announced plans for its annual bazaar Nov. 19, 20, and 21, at the Church, 2936 W. Eighth street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, chairman of the Bazaar Committee, emphasized that the bazaar will feature drama, films, and puppet shows for children, as well as a wide assortment of articles for sale—books, records, toys, theater and night club tickets, clothing, pottery—even furniture and appliances.

A $1 dinner will be served continuously, starting Friday evening at 6 p.m.; on Saturday from 12 noon to 10 p.m.; and on Sunday from 1 p.m. until the end of the bazaar. Three one-act plays will be featured: "Hoppalong Freud," and "Toast" will be presented by the First Unitarian Drama Workshop Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock, and Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

"St. Dominic Savio" Honored by Youth

"St. Dominic Savio" will be publicly and solemnly honored by the Catholic Youth of Los Angeles next Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. in St. Vibiana Cathedral, in the presence of His Eminence Francis Cardinal McIntyre.

Bishop Manning will deliver the address and the Superintendent of Schools, Monsignor Dignan, will celebrate the Solemn Mass.

The boys of the archdiocese will sing the mass and the official hymn of this new saint of the church.

Hamilton Choir Presents Stanford Fasset in Recital

The Senior Choir of Hamilton Methodist Church, 18th street and Naomi avenue, is presenting Stanford Fassett of Philadelphia in song recital at the church on Sunday, Nov. 28 at 4 p.m.

Mr. Fassett, a highly trained and widely experienced bass-baritone, and his wife will be introduced to music lovers and all interested friends at a reception Sunday, Nov. 14, from 4 to 7 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Carrington, 2460 S. Gramercy Park.

The vocalist Fassett is among the singers most in demand on the East Coast. He portrayed "Richard Allen" in the pageant of the origin and development of the A.M.E. Church presented at the General Conference of 1944 in Philadelphia.

Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, minister of music, and Sylvanus Lott, choir president, are in charge of the program.

SUCCESSFUL DAY—Mrs. Wanda Collins Marshall was chairman of Calvary Hill's women's day, last Sunday, at the church, 6802 S. San Pedro. Rev. E. Windom is the pastor.

Communion Sunday

Sunday, Nov. 7 was Communion Sunday at Hamilton church, 1376 E. 18th street and featured the pastor, Rev. J. N. Doggett, preaching on the subject: "Testing Your Faith!" (Mark 10:38).

The senior, children's and youth choirs, under the direction of A. C. Bilbrew, Xenia Reece, and Sylvanus Lott, respectively, furnished the music.

Independent Hosts Hamilton

People's Independent Church of Christ, and Hamilton Methodist Church will have a Union Service at Hamilton on Thanksgiving Morning at 10:30. The pastor of Independent, Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, announced that "this will be the first in what we hope will be a series of exchange services." Next year Hamilton's pastor, Rev. John Doggett, will bring his church to Independent where Union Services will be held.

Sunday morning, the regular Independent broadcast may be heard over station KALI, 1430 on the radio dial. The Cathedral Choir will provide music for the morning worship, under the direction of Albert J. McNeil, with Fannie E. Benjamin at the organ. Rev. Dawkins will speak on "Thankful Living."

Vesper Services at 7:30 p.m. will be turned over to the evangelists of Independent. Music will be furnished by the N. P. Greggs Gospel choir.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)— For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H®. The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

Reed College of Religion Holds Election of Trustees

The Reed College of Religion recently elected the following as trustees of the school: William Jackson, Rev. Herbert A. Foster, Rev. Remus O. Harris, Mrs. Mable V. Gray, Mrs. Maple Gordon, Rev. R. L. McDonald, Mrs. Lovie Cooper, Rev. Clarence Jones, Rev. Willie Wheeler and James I. Hunter. Jackson was elected chairman, Rev. Harris, recording secretary and Rev. McDonald, treasurer.

The board heard the report of the president of the school, Dr. Granville W. Reed, and the secretary-registrar. The reports were aproved and the president commended for his service without salary, as the head of the school, which has been in existence for the past 16 years. The school possesses property worth nearly $20,000. The report of the registrar shows that the registration for the first semester of the current school year exceeded that in any previous year.

Memorial Services At Calvary Cemetary

About 10,000 men of the Archdiocese representing 272 parishes will participate in the Annual Holy Name Memorial services at Calvary Cemetary next Sunday, Nov. 14. Members will meet at the cemetary with their families and friends.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Game of the Week

Coach Harry Edelson's L.A. Romans moved a step closer to another title in the Western League when they downed a fighting Dorsey High football team 13-7 on the winners' turf.

Maxfield uncorked a beautiful pass to his all-city candidate end Fred Hardon, in the end zone all alone, who snagged it for the T.D. and six. The touchdown was Hardon's seventh of the season, which puts him right in the race for top scoring honors in the city. Conversion was made, and the score read L. A., 7; Dorsey, 0.

The second Roman score came on a drive by fullback Savage from 2 yds. out. The kick was missed, which left the court L.A., 13; Dorsey, 0, and they were never headed.

Thriller by Dorsey

With less than four minutes left in the game, Bruce kicked off for the Romans, and Dorsey took over.

On the first play Dorsey's quarterback dropped back, unleashed a strike to his end, Robinow, who took it in full flight, straight-armed Bruce, the only man close, and scored. The play was good for 61 yards. The extra point was blocked by Shelby, but L.A. was offside, and the kick went over. The second try was good. L.A., 13; Dorsey, 7.

With time gone, Bruce made a nice 20 yd. return of the kick-off, and from here on it was all L. A. FINAL, L. A., 13; Dorsey, 7.

Walker, Carr, Buford and De Pillars all played fine games on defense for the Dons.

Manual vs Jefferson

Manual Arts High School, one of the top contenders for the Southern League lead, made it four straight, by dumping Washington High, 20-9, on their home grounds. Penn, accounted for a T.D. and Earnell Durden for two more. Topjian made two on kicks.

Jefferson High School also rolled to stay in the unbeaten ranks in the Southern League, by beating Roosevelt 37-7. Bulter, Mitchell, and Livingston all scored two touchdowns each. Bradley was on the heaving end of the passes.

Alfred Russell, the left tackle for the Rough Riders, played a very good game, for sixty minutes.

The Manual-Jeff game should be the prep game of the week next Friday, so we will try to bring you a few of the high spots.

The Jordan High Bulldogs are still showing teams in the Marine League that their bite is worse than their bark, by whipping Westchester 14-6 for their third straight win. Reed, the Bulldog end, whom your reporter picked as the Golden Boy of last week's game, was also picked by the "Mirror," as the prep of the week. He made a spectacular one-hand catch for one of the Jordan touchdowns. George Scott also played a good game at left half, and scored the other T.D.

Fremont Nips Garfield

Sprint sensation Ken Dennis, who picked up a punt and streaked for 70 yds. to a touchdown, lead the Pathfinders to a 14-12 victory over Garfield. Art Wimbley also recorded a nice long jaunt. Clarance Scott picked up a couple of points with his toe.

Big One for Bay League

The Centennial Apaches jumped another hurdle on their way to the Bay League title, by beating the Redondo Seahawks 26-0 Friday night in Ramsaur Stadium.

The Seahawks, doormats of the league, were considered just a warm up for the Apaches' big one next week with Santa Monica, last year's C. I. F. champs.

As you know in seven games no one has ever crossed Centennials goal line, and last week was no exception.

Scoring—Porter to Sampson for six. McCrumbly to Sampson for six more. Andrews on a 10 yd. sweep. Campbell for six more from the six yd. line. Pollard toe'd the extra points.

Liked What I Saw

Because of my ties with the Santa Monica Pony League Baseball, where I coached the American League Browns (League Champs last year) at some time or other I come in contact with most of the boys who later play football, baseball, or other sports for Santa Monica High school. In short I'm sort of an adopted son in the Bay area. Last Friday night I took in the Santa Monica-Inglewood game. The game in the past has been the big one of the Bay League, but this year it will be Santa Monica vs Centennial. Even though Inglewood had lost three games previous to their Santa Monica meeting a crowd of about 8,000 showed up for the contest.

Good Ball Club

For the past few years the Santa Monica Vikings have been known for their great quarterbacks and the present one is no exception.

Lee Grosscup, this year's Q.B., has been receiving notices all year and justly so, because he's a real threat. He passes, runs, kicks, and runs the team like a real vet.

Jim Poston, the 235-lb. tackle, is also a very important cog in the Viking machine. He played practically 60 minutes of the Inglewood contest and was indispensable. He plays left tackle on defense and right on offense, and for his size, is fast as a cat.

Grosscup has fine receivers in Dorsey, Ward and Hughley which accounts for their fine passing attack. Chuck Palmore at full-back is also a handy man to have around.

One of the best runs of the night was turned by half-back Bill Sanford, who broke away for a 45-yd. dash and had to be caught from behind. The BOXING-FAMOUS BARBERS—Juan Luis Campos, who boxes Art Ramponi this Monday night at the Olympic Auditorium, applies his skill as a barber on his brother Frank. When the brothers are not boxing they divide their time between the gym and barbering. Both are professional barbers as well as boxers.

BOWLING —with— LEWIS RUSS

The pins were gleaming and balls booming Saturday night as the Sunset Bowling League went into action tumbling the maple at the Studio Bowl.

Vern Metoyer, a timber tilting, ball flinging rookie with the "Timber Tickler," blew his top plowing over the lumber and stacking the stuff up bowling a 226, 209 and 231 games for a 666 top series to dazzle the ole pros and the kibitzers. Metoyer's shooting was one of the highest bowled in this league. Chuck Downs, his teammate, mellowing with age, was also pounding the wood in rolling a 556 series. Their team whitewashed "Garretts" three games to none.

"Dedricks Tuxedo Shop" sounded off like the "Tuxedo Junction" in tripping over the pins to upset "Lee's Hi Hats" two games to one. Philip Knox' power-driving with a much needed punch, Milt Pope and Harold Johnson of the losers, however, bowling well but could not overcome the big spot.

"Grand Central Bar-B-Cue" peeled off enough logs to take "Brown Motors" two games to one. Eddie Irving, with a new look in his game, tipping the sticks for a good 519 series. "Neal's Liquors" nosed out B & B two games to one. Floyd Lawrence and Alfred AhSam chucking well. "Lewis Brothers" over the "Pickuppers" three games forfeit. In racking them back, this game of bowling's like any other game: "The tougher the going, the stronger the bowler."

Esau Ferdinand, Don Grant Battle for State Title

Esau Ferdinand, California State light-heavyweight holder, will defend his title against Don Grant, sensational newcomer to the light-heavyweight ranks.

Grant, winner of 15 straight professional bouts, is the only California boxer undefeated and untied in all his professional bouts.

Grant was a sensational hit with the boxing fans when he defeated Charlie Green, once holder of the State title, in a rip-snorting bout that will be rated the bout of the year.

Ferdinand is a durable battler, having met and defeated the best in his division. Monday night's bout will certainly be one of his most important as his title will be at stake. At the rate young Grant is traveling he's out to capture the prize.

Augie Villa Meets Garcia

Augie Villa, winner over Art Ramponi in a tussle that saw him score two knockdowns, meets hard- socking Rudy Garcia in the Nov. 13 feature here at Hollywood. Garcia departs after the Villa bout for the East where he is booked with Gene Smith Nov. 29 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Garcia made a tremendous hit in licking Carmelo Costa some weeks ago at the Flatbush club.

Rudy Jordan, off for several months with a hand injury, returns to box, Nov. 20th. Jordan, who boasts of the only win scored over Manny Renferia, may face Lou Filippo, who defeated Johnny Hart last time out.

December headliners at the Stadium will be Petey Servin, Frankie Campos, Young Jack Johnson and Eddie Sims. Johnson, former California heavyweight monarch, has now joined the Bert Lewis stable.

Sinking All Putts

By A. "SHOELESS JOE" JACO

Lorimer "Matty" Mathews, of the Cosmopolitan Golf Club, whose game is one of intense concentration, hooked up with the best from eight to ten handicappers in the area in the recent Santa Anita Open, and won from wire to wire. His opening round 76 got him off to a running start and a lead which he never relinquished.

This deceptive Santa Anita layout, which proved to be an enigma to such Cosmo stalwarts as Al McDaniel and "Thop" Smith, and also to numerous local pros, almost K.O.'d Mathews, too, as his second round 88 and his final round of 84 will attest; but apparently it was a bit tougher for the other contestants in his flight.

Nothing succeeds like success, and the continuous appearance of Cosmo members in the winners' circle in these major Southern California fiesta will eventually prompt someone to remind the USGA that there is a worthy group of competitors who are trying hard to get full recognition as bona fide members.

Frank Donavan Quotes Boxer

BY FRANK J. DONOVAN

Lauro Salas says: "In the boxing profession, delusions of grandeur whet the ambition of novices, but like the problem that hopping the Atlantic presents for the lone, daring airman, a la Lindbergh, the top rung of the fistic ladder is hard to negotiate.

But, happily, it was my good fortune early in my career, to gain the coveted objective; and despite the grim fact that I subsequently, lost the title, I am not disconsolate.

My fistic services are still in demand, and I am cashing in on the distinction and magnitude, inseparable from my memorable achievement, in the realm of boxing."

"How about YOU Mom?"

. . . don't you want your youngsters to be full of life, strong, healthy? Then give 'em Scott's Emulsion daily, and watch! Yes, Scott's helps children grow up strong, develop sound teeth, strong bones. Helps 'em have fewer colds too, when they lack enough Vitamins A&D. A "gold mine" of natural Vitamins A&D, plus energy building oil and added minerals!

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Kid Gavilan

People often wonder how a championship fighter can hold back enough strength to score a late-round knockout. The answer is simple: a good fighter paces himself. So does anyone else who wants to put his best into his job . . . and get the best out of it. Pacing is an important part of success. When you've been piling up the minutes and hours of steady work, good sense calls for a break. That's when people everywhere reach for frosty bottles of delicious, ice-cold Coca-Cola. After "the pause that refreshes" with a bottle of Coke, they go back to work . . . or back to play . . . refreshed.

Follow the Champions. Have a Coke . . . and Keep Plenty at Home

Doll League Annual Formal Ball Friday

Fay Wagner of the Doll League Charity Club was hostess to club members last Saturday evening at her residence, 2916 Hillcrest.

Irene Sharp, president, presided at this very interesting meeting. Discussion centered around the club's formal dance Friday, Nov. 12.

The club's agenda for the coming weeks includes four points of interest: their cocktail dansante; the formal at which guests will bring dolls to be distributed later at a Christmas party for the underprivileged; and a helping hand to an unknown person or family in the form of cash, household goods or whatever is necessary.

The dance on the 12th is being chaired by Charlotte Bruce who has worked long and hard with her committee to make this an affair to excel those of past years if such a thing is possible.

The theme of the dance is being closely guarded in order to give guests a delightful surprise, and all that can be said is that it will be wonderful.

President Charlotte Bruce asks that the dolls be unwrapped in order to facilitate the enormous task of assembling and setting up the gifts.

Doll Leaguers are: Irene Wright Sharp, Ethel Payton Pickett, Bernice Tate Gilbert, Charlotte Bruce, Ruth Arnold Bell, Evelyn Nesbit Royal, Gladyce Clark, Fannie DeMan, Emma Dams, Lula Bondy, Nellie Gray Brown, Marguerite Chapman, Louise Shanks Collier, Sylvia Fortson, Sydney Jackson, Ewalda Morris, Anne Odom, Johnetta L. Newton DAPs Teen Age Benefit Dance Friday

Officer C. W. Jackson and Policewoman Ethelene Smith in charge of the Newton Street DAPs are announcing a teen age dance at the Elks Hall Friday, Nov. 12.

The public affair is given to raise funds for the group's social activities. Many outstanding stars of stage screen and radio will be on hand to entertain the youngsters.

The two popular officers are outlining an outstanding program and are asking the community to support this worthwhile event.

Civic groups, civic and social organizations are asked to donate dimes or and send the youngsters' kids to the well supervised teen age dance.

Music will be furnished by one of the city's top bands and the latest records.

BLESSED HILL BE THE LENT—Gilda Green, left, is honoree at her own many shower, unless understandings at Mrs. Nadja E. Grissom's home. She is honored with a party Sunday afternoon affair which drew out over 50 guests to present a roomful of gifts. Seated on arm is Baby Felicia D. Harrison. Harrison Bros. Jr., and Bobbie Lyons. Standing next to Mrs. Monroe is Grissom, one of the hostesses.

THE DEUCES ANNIVERSARY—Celebrating their tenth anniversary the popular Deuces held sixty-sixth a dinner and dancing party at the fashionable Moulin Rouge last Saturday night. Colorful Shower Honors Mrs. Nadja E. Grissom

Attractive and winsome Mrs. Nadja E. Grissom, wife of famed vocalist Jimmie Grissom, was honored with a lavish and picturesque baby shower on Sunday, Nov. 7 in her parents fashionable home at 911 E. 116 street.

Mrs. Grissom is the foster daughter of Joe and Inez Harrison, long time residents of this city. The shower was given by Mrs. Azelia Blakeney and Mrs. Marguerite Gilmore.

The home was smartly decorated in yellow and white mums and florist Willie Brown's creation of a lullaby playing rocking cradle was a floral masterpiece which included a waterfall with floating gardenias surrounded by a flow of water.

Stork Motif

Frosted punch and cake with a stork in the center surrounded with baby booties of yellow and green on individual pieces were served under candlelights of amber and white.

Guest artists included Miss Gwendolyn Hale, organist of Rev. Farrell's church, Baby Felicia D. Harrison four-year-old sister of Mrs. Grissom, was soloist and speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Grissom presented gifts to Mrs. Azelia Blakeney and Mrs. Marguerite Gilmore in appreciation for the lovely shower. A beautiful pew wedding ring and orchid was presented Mrs. Grissom by her father, Joe Harrison, who placed the ring on her finger in the absence of her husband who was en route with the orchestra.

An entire roomful of beautiful gifts was received and one of the many attracting attention was a baby bassinet of yellow and white taffeta and nylon net given by Wm. McKinly Henry, a devoted family friend.

First Child

The Grissoms have been married five and one-half years. They were wed in Yuma, Ariz. May 21, 1949, and this will be the young couple's first child.

Stork shower games were played and won by Mrs. Dorothy Chadderton Clark and Mrs. Lucille Holstein.

E. A. Cox, a friend of the family, made pictures of the affair. Guests included some 50 persons among whom were: Mother Baxter, Trudy Finney, Mona Williams, Miss Winnola Chapman, Kathar'n Wilson, Zeta Burns, Mrs. Lillian Coleman, Ann Montgomery, Edith Against, Frances O'Neal, Gwyn Hale, Thelma Hale, Elaine Irvin, Desiree Clark, Connie Winston, Geneva Wallace.

Lucille Holstein, Helen Finney, Lois Byrd, Marion Taylor, Dorothy Clark, Pearl Hurd, Jaquette Hurd, Vernal Lewis, Lillian Gault, Lillian Bob, Rena Velencia, Marie Boykin, Adelaid Bibbs, Lillian Thompson, Virginia Kautman, Elyse Thornton, Mother Eliz Kohler, Mildred Lyons, Annie Walker, Fannie Wood.

Hattie Sanders, Mrs. Theresa Berry, Mrs. Green, Helen O'Neal, Dorothea Buckner, Rosa Lee Carter, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mary Hall, Mary Brown, Salma Bailey, Mildred Williams, Opal Johns, Carmen Jones, Delores Edwards, Shirley Lewis, William McHenry, Mr. Clark, Chas. Wherry, Nat Hurd and Everett Cox.

Cavalrettes Club Slates Pre-Thanksgiving Dinner

To add their greetings to the season as well as whet the appetites of their many friends, the Cavalrettes will have a pre-Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 20. The main entree, of course will be buttered brown turkey with a complete menu to be prepared by the food connoisseurs of the club.

Mrs. Jackie Moore was quite radiant as hostess recently to the club for the birthday celebration of Mrs. Emma Lue Porter. The oohs and ahs given Mrs. Moore's deliciously prepared menu were no less than those given in admiration of the lingerie and jewelry received by Mrs. Porter as gifts.

Mrs. Porter was charming as hostess to the club on Friday in her South Los Angeles ranch-type home.

The members were not too busy with business and pleasure to spend a few moments preparing a card shower and offering prayer for Mrs. Zelma Nance's husband who was recently in a serious auto accident.

This is one of those hands which come up now and then for which there seems to be no cut-and-dried rule. South's bid was definitely a gamble, but since a pass was the only other alternative, and might lose the board, he chose this bid. The only thing he can be sure of is that North will be short of spades.

Got Careless

West led the ace of spades and all played low. West then followed with the ace of clubs, which South ruffed. South led one round of trumps ending in dummy. He led the queen of clubs, and when East ducked, he threw away one diamond on it. When this play worked, South got careless.

But, I suppose we can't blame him because he got carried away when West led a club instead of a diamond on the second lead. South led the king of hearts and drew the last one. Then he led another club, which East covered. South ruffed and led another trump to re-enter dummy. Then he led the last club from dummy and threw away his last diamond. This left the situation as follows:

Dummy played the queen of spades and East took his king. At this point South will make the rest of the tricks, with one good trump and three good spades. Five spades was a high board.

Now even though West threw away any chance to set the contract when he failed to return a diamond. East can hold the opponents to four by holding up his king of spades. This play will leave the lead still in dummy and South will turn only his last trumps. In this case it is preventing an overtrick, but often these plays can be the difference in setting a contract.

Classes are held at the Omega House, 2069 S. Oxford, Monday evening at seven thirty. The public is cordially invited.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the supply of turkeys, cranberries, dates, sweet potatoes and yams is abundant this year. This holiday season we look forward to enjoying the smaller sized, broader breasted birds for family gatherings. To complement the meat of your choice for winter meals you will find sweet potatoes and yams lend easily to a variety of methods of preparation.

Six medium sized potatoes will yield about two cupfuls of mashed potatoes.

The use of orange cups, pineapple rings of red apple cases to hold a superbly seasoned potato adds interest to the menu and creates a party motif to an otherwise plain meal. The use of butter, brown sugar and a dash of nutmeg are traditional in most recipes. Pecans, sherry or brandy added to your favorite mix will call for seconds.

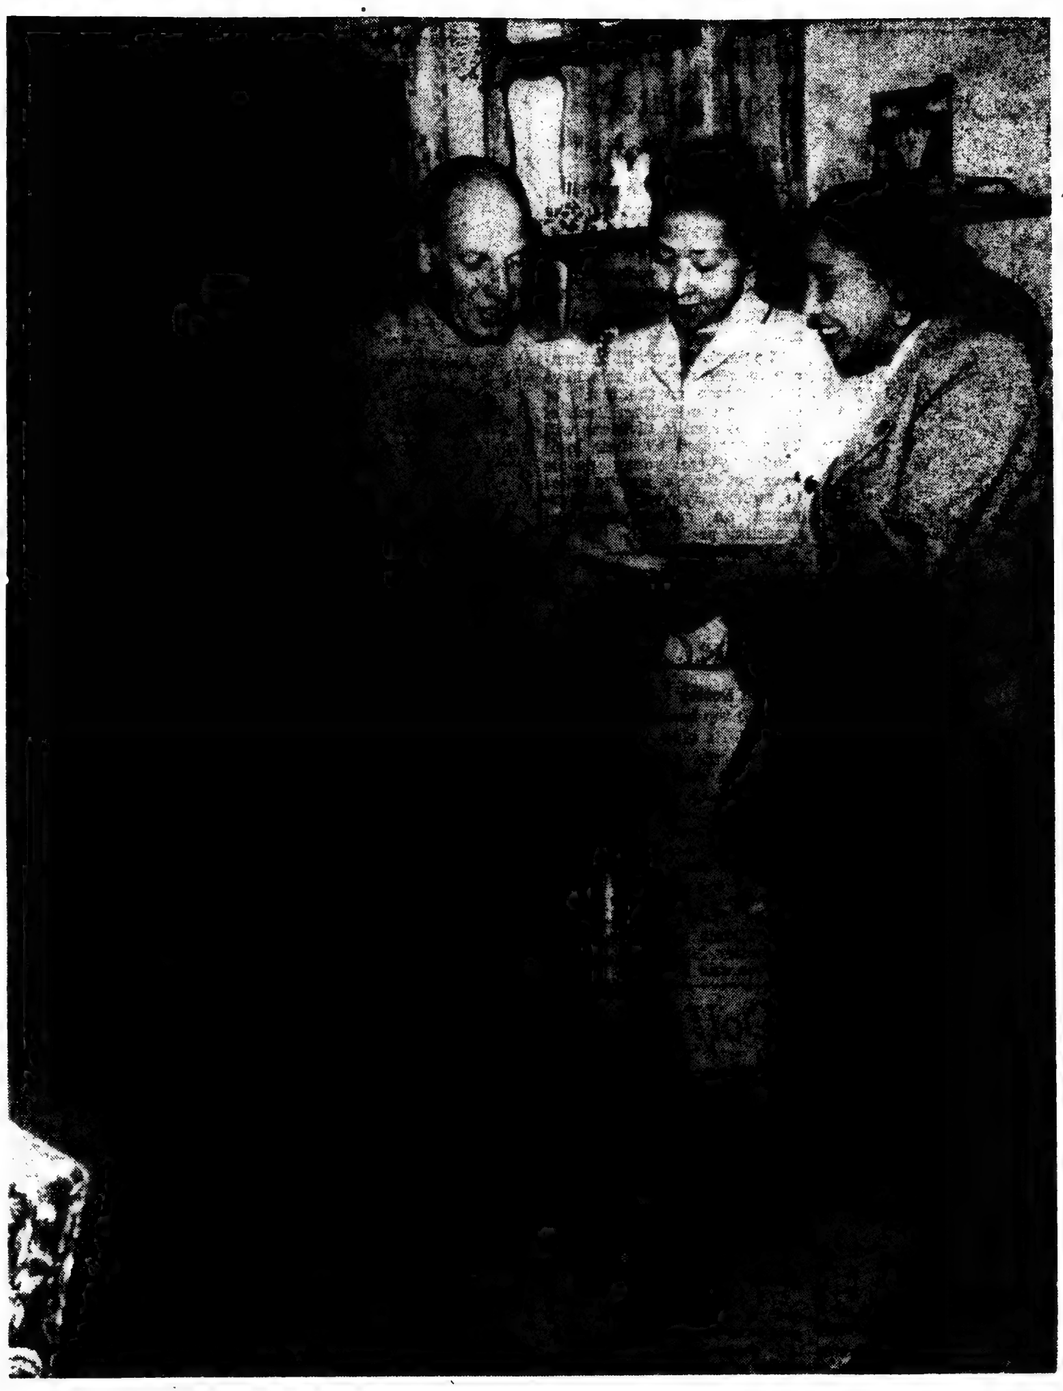
Easy To Prepare

Here is an easy way to prepare sweet potatoes or yams with pineapple or orange pulp. It may be baked in a casserole or in the cups made by scooping out the orange or apple pulp to form a dainty cup. It is also attractive if piled on to a round of pineapple and browned in a quick oven.

For six servings boil till tender six medium sweet potatoes or yams. Cool, peel and mash, add 2½ tablespoons butter, ¾ cup drained crushed pineapple, 3 tablespoons brown sugar and a half teaspoon salt. Pour into baking dish and bake till well heated and browned at 350 degrees, 20 minutes. Marshmallows may be cut and mixed through or the pulp of four or five oranges may be substituted for the pineapple.

Aroma - Filled

To make a still richer dish two egg yolks added with the butter and the whites beaten and folded in before baking, makes this a puffy, aroma-filled addition to the meal. If you like nuts, add pecans, walnuts or chopped almonds to vary the dish.



This is a typical example of the manner in which a recipe may be varied to satisfy the taste of the individual who prepares the dish.

Dance Group Plans Latin Swing Time

FREMONT P.T.A.

The Executive Board meeting of Fremont High School Parents Teachers Association was held on Friday morning, November 5 in the school Counselor's room. Mrs. Fred Walls presided. After the salute to the flag the regular business of the Board was discussed and transacted.

The Board then discussed the last Association meeting. It was pointed out that it was a good meeting. There was a wonderful turnout of parents and friends. Every single person stayed for the entire meeting and took part in the questions asked of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn who was the speaker.

The Board discussed the action to be taken on the proposals and suggestions made by the speaker. It was suggested to write and thank Mr. Hahn and ask for further consultation on some of the problems of the young people in our community which were discussed there.

The next meeting of Fremont High School Parent-Teachers Association will be held on Tuesday, November 16, at 2 p.m. in Room 124. The topic is Education in Action, the methods and program of the school. The speaker is Mrs. Julia O'Brien, counselor at Fremont. She will be introduced by Mr. Elba N. Bailey, head counselor. Mrs. O'Brien will speak of some of the problems in counseling and have some of the students demonstrate the methods and products of their studies and work.

Plans were made to invite all the teachers to meet the parents and take part in the Association program and social hour which will follow. There will be a question and answer period. This is another effort to learn and understand our school's program and get closer to the work of our youth.

Everyone is invited. Feel free to ask questions you want answered. Meet the faculty and get better acquainted with your child's teacher.

O'Reese Corporal Gets Highest P.T.A. Award

The highest honor a PTA can bestow on a member—an honorary life membership—was awarded O'Reese Corporal by the Hobart Blvd. PTA at its November meeting Tuesday evening.

Besides being a custodian of buildings at Hobart, Mr. Corporal has been the custodian of the children, always watchful and protective of their activities in the buildings or on the playground, and according to P.-T.A. officials, he has been pleasant and cooperative regardless of the numerous demands always made upon him in connection with P.-T.A. activities. He has been at Hobart for several years and has been with the Los Angeles school system some 20 years.

Million Dollar Smile

Mrs. Earl Whitehead, life membership chairman, in making the presentation of the honorary life membership card and lapel button said: "You realize and appreciate that our efforts are for the welfare of children and you have always been so understanding. It is my heart-felt pleasure and privilege to present you with this honorary life membership, but I cannot do this without saying that it is also especially for you million dollar smile with which you greet us all—child, parent, or teacher."

The recipient has led a very interesting and varied life. He travelled throughout the United States with the Jackson Jubilee Singers which he joined while a student at Kansas U. Arriving in California, he worked in several motion pictures—"The Southerner," "Prodigal Son," "Belle of the Gay 90s," to mention a few, and in many Laurel and Hardy comedies. In the stage production of "Ole Man River" and in the opera "Emperor Jones," he also had solo parts.

Orchids For Wife

A lovely orchid corsage was presented Mrs. Corporal. She and Mr. Corporal are the proud parents of a son who received a masters degree in Political Science from University of California last year and who at present is serving his country as an intelligence officer in Japan.

Mr. Corporal is a member of the quartet which entertained at the meeting and thrilled everyone by its fine singing. The group was formed five years ago and recently signed with Capitol Records where the first recordings were just completed.

Woodlawn YWCA Slates Program

Much enthusiasm is being engendered by the classes being held weekly at the Woodlawn branch YWCA: Knitting, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Slim Gym Thursday at 7:30 p.m.; and Bridge at 7:30 p.m. every 2nd and 4th Wednesday. It is still not too late for you to register in these classes.

The Harvest Homecoming being given by the Membership Committee at the YWCA branch on Nov. 13, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., will give the old and new members an opportunity for fellowship with each other as well as with many of the YWCA pioneers.

The program will be highlighted by Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, principle speaker. Chairmen Beatrice Cassell and Effie Enox have extended an invitation to the community to join them at this homecoming. Mrs. Carolyn Grant and Mrs. Eva Foote will lend the welcoming atmosphere during the afternoon.

Mrs. Naomi Brickman, teenage program director, and Dr. Pauline O. Roberts, teenage committee chairman, expressed great joy when Barbara Joyce Clayton, teenager, was chosen as one of the "Red Feather Kids" for the 1954 Community Chest campaign.

Latin Rhythm To Hold Sway For 2 Weeks

The very first night club engagement in the United States for Mexico's Glenn Miller, the exciting Luis Arcaraz and his band and show, begins tomorrow night (Friday) at the jazz mecca of the West, the Club Oasis, Western at 39th.

Arcaraz was brought to this country by his discoverer, the man who also brought Perez Prado to the United States, Gene Morris, who has been at the top since he introduced the tango to Americans back in 1951.

A brilliant star of RCA Victor International recordings, Arcaraz brings his 17 piece orchestra and a complete show to the Oasis for a limited engagement with date subject to cancellation if all the Latin orchestras which have come to this country in recent years, Arcaraz is the most versatile playing popular music as well as the Latin rhythms.

During the Luis Arcaraz engagement, the new policy of the Club Oasis of no door charge, no admission, will be continued.

'Fotogs' Show Will Feature Finest 'Shots'

It's an open season for model seeking at the United Professional Photographers exhibition and party to be held Sunday afternoon, November 14 at [illegible] S. Hobart.

Bevy of Beauties

Several scores models will find themselves facing the business end of cameras held by the public instead of professional photographers, as is the usual custom.

Shutterbugs, photobugs, amateurs, semi-pros, or just a plain ordinary citizen with a Kodak will have the golden opportunity to photograph some of the finest models in this or any other area. Special lighting has been made available so that no specific or expensive equipment will be necessary. A simple snapshot type camera will suffice.

Now among Becker's latest accomplishments is Debt Advisory Service's ability to pay off all debts, even those from out of state.

Ella 'Greatest' At Tiffany Club

America's "First Lady of Song," the inimitable Ella Fitzgerald, is jamming the Tiffany Club, Eighth and Normandie, nightly, with her fans waiting to hear her mellow renditions of everything from "A Tisket, a Tasket," to an unbelievable, strictly Ella version of "Hernando's Hideaway."

Backed by her own musical group composed of Don Abney on piano, Red Callendar on bass and Bob White on drums, Ella programs during each of her four nightly shows a list of her top recordings and most requested songs. However, each show finds avid Fitzgerald fans calling out their own favorites and one of the most obliging artists of the day, Ella tries to include the requests.

Ella Fitzgerald has an unbelievable versatility, with each song topping the one before. Her version of "Angel Eyes" moving as can be, is followed often by her frantic version of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love."

Jimmy Joyce at the piano entertains between the frequent Fitzgerald shows nightly at the Tiffany.

NEW SWEDISH SINGER HAS FULL, RICH VOICE

By JAN EDWARDS

The Royal Academy of Stockholm has given us Greta Garbo and Ingrid Bergman. Now, from the Music Department of the famous academy, we meet Henny Ekstrom, young Swedish contralto who made her American debut Sunday evening at the Wilshire Ebell theatre.

A very sincere and serious young artist, Miss Ekstrom had originally planned to be a concert pianist, but her full rich voice with its enormous range of three and a half octaves commanded the attention of her professors, who advised her to major as a vocalist. The result—a singer who interprets her songs with the understanding of a trained musician.

Warmth, Animation

During the first part of the program, Miss Ekstrom's stage presence was distressingly stiff. However, with her presentation of two songs by the Finnish composer, Sibelius, she became more at ease and displayed a warmth and animation which enchanted her audience.

One could not ask for a more varied program — everything from opera to Lieder to contemporary Scandinavian songs were included and sung in no less than six different languages. The area "La Luce Langue" from Macbeth, displayed Miss Ekstrom's fabulous range. Her middle register however does not have the richness and clarity of her lower and high tones. "Psyche" by Paladilhe, was altogether charming and four songs by Eduard Grieg were particularly well done. In her last encore number, the talented singer sang with a joyousness that sent the audience out humming.

Excellent Accompanist

The Viennese pianist Walter Loesser deserves much credit for his part as accompanist. An experienced and competent musician, Mr. Loesser guided the soloist and projected a feeling for the mood of the songs, giving the performance a consistent quality of conviction.

Miss Ekstrom will undoubtedly acquire a necessary style and showmanship with more experience and self-confidence.

Musical Breakfast

The Twelve Big Sisters annual Breakfast Christmas benefit is slated for Nov. 14, at 20 Berkeley Square.

The funds raised during this affair will benefit the handicapped little girls and boys and the St. Anne's Foundation.

Joe Adams Successful Rise Due to Many Hours Work

It's a long way from 103rd Street in Watts to Broadway and 42nd Street— New York's legendary Times Square—but Joe Adams made it! And the best part of the whole long trek is that he's the same nice guy who, as a dreamy-eyed kid, thought the height of success was to be a radio announcer.

Hard-working Performance

Joe Adams has gone far beyond his original ambitions—but he's never forgotten them! He wanted to be a radio announcer, and that's what he mainly is. He's the shining light of radio station KOWL, their popular "Mayor of Melody," heard daily from noon to 3:30, spinning the best popular records. He has another set of listeners, too, folks who love the spiritual music he plays every morning from 8:30 to 9 am.

Yes, Joe is a radio announcer, or, as most people say, a disc jocky. More than that, he's just about one of the best disc jockeys anyplace! Not just in Los Angeles, or Southern California, or the West Coast, but in these whole United States!

Joe's success may be judged by the honor he received last year when he celebrated his fifth anniversary with KOWL. The Los Angeles City Council officially proclaimed "Joe Adams Day," an accolade never before handed out to any member of the entertainment world, and only twice before to national heroes. Everyone from Governor Goodwin Knight to then Mayor Bowron, Sheriff Biscailuz, Councilmen, representatives of leading organizations including the Urban League and the NAACP, joined to pay homage to Joe.

Versatile Wax-Worker

Everyone thought then that Joe Adams had reached his "peak" and had gone as far as such a wonderful job that Joe was asked by the Committee to organize a similar entertainment troup for Europe. Since his return, he has broadcast 1,000 appeals for aid to Korean orphans and enlisted the backing of all KOWL facilities.

he could. He'd already been the first Negro to announce regularly on a national network, appearing on NBC twice weekly for a year. He'd starred in his own television show. He'd conducted his own traffic safety campaign with then presiding traffic court Judge Roger A. Pfaff and received an award from the National Safety Council. He had a room in his pleasant home virtually filled with awards. What more could Joe Adams do?

This spring, Joe showed what he could do. KOWL's "Mayor of Melody" was asked by the Hollywood Coordinating Committee to produce and lead a show to tour among American servicemen throughout Japan, Korea, the Far East. Joe was the first Negro to ever lead such a troup in this area. For three weeks at a dizzying pace, the Joe Adams unit toured. And did Joe no sooner returned to KOWL than Otto Preminger called him for one of the most important roles in his Cinemascope Technicolor production of "Carmen Jones." The part of Husky Miller is second only to that of Harry Bellafonte and required a handsome, virile individual who could play the idolized champ believably! Oddly enough, double ex-champ "Sugar Ray" Robinson, reported ready to return to the ring, was tested for this role and found not to look the part of a boxer! Joe did, and critics and fans alike have acclaimed his portrayal of Husky Miller.

Two weeks ago, more than $50,000,000 worth of radio time buying power was congregated in one room to meet Joe Adams when KOWL general manager George A. Baron gave a party at New York's swank Roosevelt Hotel to honor Joe, in New York for the world premiere of "Carmen Jones". About 225 top advertising agency time buyers gathered to meet the most talked about radio personality of the nation, and went away Joe Adams fans.

Prep Fave—Rave

And now Joe, long identified with his work with young people, has embarked on a new venture. Currently visiting various high schools with entertaining shows during "auditoriums" the "mayor of Melody" is inviting young people with ambitions to be in radio to serve as his announcer on his Saturday afternoon KOWL programs. Joe wants to open a few doors for young people to make their way, at least a little easier.

But hard or easy, Joe Adams made that long trip from "wishing" to "being" . . . and through it all, he has remained—"A good Joe!"

JOE ADAMS, noted disc jockey, has presented the Distinguished Service Award for meritorious service rendered the California National Guard, Truck Battalion. Captain Adams annually takes a troupe of entertainers to entertain members of the unit during their summer encampment period.

MILLER'S HIGHLIGHTS
(Lowdown on Higherups)
By 'HAL' MILLER

(In view of the fact that I have my poetic urges too, I feel these following lines to be highly discriptive of the intentions and purposes of the column.)

Well, here's the scandel in print this week:
I hope you find learning you seek.
It comes each week for a just a dime.
And assured to be the most . . . every time

Talk is cheap, but facts are clear, and your quest for knowledge you'll find right here.
I specalize in "sounds" and an occasional "burn"
But don't laugh too hard, next time's your turn.

Tasty tibits . . .

One prominant young lady has been noticed, a number of times lately, making public appearances with a well known UCLA basketballer. Just makes me wonder "whas happenin" since heretofore she has been romantically linked with another, but no formal assertion has been made.

Competition for the queen of the Kappa "Black and White" is quite keen this year. Her Majisty and Court will be selected from this bevy of beauts of which some outstanding aspirants are: Ethyl Outlaw, Deloras Roberts, Sandra Shields, La Cheta Smith, Pat Anderson and others.

I understand that a certain young man has renounced his engagement to a Texas lovely in favor of the affections of one Arlene Provost. He is none other than Ted Smith.

It has been rumored that a certain lean Uclan, currently in the "occupied" ranks, is casting an occasional glance in the direction of P.A., of beauty fame. Can't blame him though, her smile could move Gibralter.

And referring back to engagements, or at least whatever they're worth nowadays, it was passed on to me from a number of interested but puzzled parties, that a certain socialite's matrimonial intentions are heading for the rocks as another in a series of scatterbrain misanticipations comes to a fizzle.

Well this about Highlights it far enough . . . so . . later.

People and Places

infanticipating!

BOUQUETS — To Scibbia Pree who hasn't missed a day visiting hubby since he's been confined with a leg injury in the California Hospital!

MINK COAT — Biggest buz getting a working out in the society set is the stories coming out of that well known ritzy group of females. Friends are saying a veritable war is in progress because one factor wants the group to be down to earth, while the other wants to put on the dog at all times!

MAE MEYER — Was being toasted on her birthday the other a.m. by Eddie and Tony Atkinson in the Manchester club catching the Camille Cannady opening!

LOUISE OSBURN — A sunkist North Hollywood beauty is just wild about Claudie Feaster, one of the sensational Chords. The Shhh-Boom unit is currently swinging down Texas way on a torrid fifty-one one-nighters!

HIGH CLASS — The traffic circulating in the early P.M. and lasting until a.m. is causing the fourth avenoo residents to eye a certain house that seemed to attract the Cadillac trade!

BIG SPIEL — A heap amount of speculating is being tossed about after a newcomer to our social set was tendered a five butler pawtee. Long time coast friends were left-flabbergasted!

THE GAME — When those well known barristers left town to take in the S.F.-49ers game last eve, they included in taking in several of the fair ladies parlors. One brother got tongue-tied when wife asked him on what play did Tank Younger score and how!

ELIHU McGEE — The sportsman who went down the drain with the Cleveland Indians, got it all back when the Rams defeated the 49ers in S.F. last week!

ROBERT LEE — The fast talking boy wonder of S.F. is on the outs with the boys making the trip to S.F. The rooms he reserved for the boys left them flat and most chilly!

ACCIDENT — The shhhsh is being applied to a drunk-driving mishap involving a minister and two church sisters! It's a bad year for the pulpit set!

JOHN THOMAS — The hefty heat out Hargurt way is missing from the gay activities. Wife Marie must have him legcuffed!

Coveted Awards to Clubs At Rheingold's Banquet

The first of Rheingold's monthly Civic Awards dinners was held last Thursday evening at Rheingold Inn.

Present were some 135 distinguished representatives of four clubs which were the first organizations to win the coveted Rheingold trophies. The winning clubs were the Urban League Guild, the Sojourner Truth Home, the Zeniths and Les Bienfaisontes. This is the first of many projects planned by the Rheingold Brewing Company.

Under the supervision of Gertrude Gipsom Penland, public relationist, the committee of judges, which included Mrs. Ouida Williams, Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, Mrs. Jessie Mae Brown, Bill Watkins and Paul Williams, chose these four clubs for their philanthropic work and their efforts in bettering their community.

Representing Philip Liebmann, president of the Rheingold Brewing Company, who was unable to attend because of business in the east, was the assistant to the president, Jose L. Martinez, former attorney general of the state of New Mexico, and former special counsel to Harry S. Truman. On behalf of Liebmann, Martinez presented a check for $100 and a glittering gold trophy to Mrs. Forsyth of the Sojourner Truth home, Mrs. Hawkins representing the Zeniths, Mrs. Lillian Gray of Les Bienfaisontes, and Mrs. Florence Vaughn of the Urban League Club.

The next award winners will be announced by the committee of judges on Nov. 20.

Bay Area Community Church Fetes O. Felious in Concert

After performances in New York and San Francisco, folk singer Odetta Felious is back in Los Angeles for a few days before going on tour. Sunday evening, Nov. 14, at 7:45 p.m., she will appear in a concert of folk songs and ballads at the Santa Monica Unitarian Community Church at 18th and Arizona, in Santa Monica.

Odetta Felious was born in Alabama and came to Los Angeles when she was six. Harry Burdett of Turnabout Theatre discovered her when she was in her early teens and arranged for voice lessons.

She usually accompanies her folk songs on the guitar but occasionally uses only hand claps with great effect.

When she appeared at the Blue Angel in New York, Walter Winchell called her "Angel's new stardust." Robert W. Dana of the New York World Telegram Sun proclaimed her "the most exciting folk singer to hit town . . ." The New Yorker gave her an enthusiastic review.

Edison Sets Cookie Drive

November 12-17 is the date set for the Cookie Drive, sponsored by Edison Junior High School and the Edison P.T.-A.

Mr. John Falxa, vice-principal, who is in charge of the drive states that the proceeds will be divided evenly between the school's student body fund and the P.T.-A. The student Board of Commissioners has decided to contribute the school's share of the money raised to an electric organ fund for the auditorium.

Monetary prizes will be awarded to the highest salesmen among the boys and girls.

Cookies sold to members of this community will be delivered November 18.

23,815 Grid Fans Viewed Rams-49ers

When rambling Tank Younger bullied his way to a touchdown in the third quarter for a Rams score and brilliant Harry Thompson cleared the path for Skeet Quilan the three time beaten Rams went on to win 42 to 34.

More than 60,000 jammed the rafters of Kezar Stadium to make the Rams-49ers make the series one of the greatest and most interesting rivalry in professional football.

In three games the two teams have played to some 238,115.

Prep Scoreboard

final score was 27-0 for Santa Monica. This sends Santa Monica and Centennial into Friday night's bay league title match with two perfect records. For prep football at it's best you better try and catch this one.

Card Stunts

The half-time activities at this one was the best we've seen in High school for sometime.

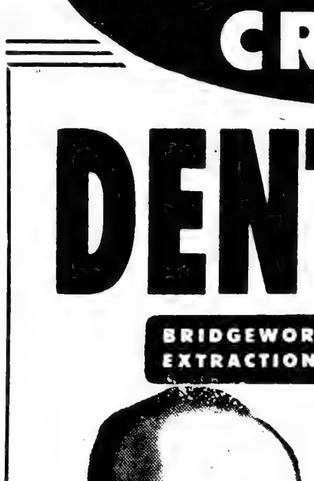
The Santa Monica rooting section did their card stunts to a perfection (you could even read them). The band and drill teams were a sight to behold. Your reporter hates to get out on the limb on this one, but I have to pick the Centennial Apaches to hang the Santa Monica Vikings scalps on their teepee.

New Golf Blood

Seeing the Vernondale golf tournament for the first time a couple of months back, it did the old heart good to see so many members of the younger set going in for the game. I noticed a couple of boys, more than any, because I knew them when they were just a little larger than a golf ball themselves.

Shoots Good Round

Lee Young Jr., who played in the guest flight with some of the older golfers, shot a very good round. Lee is a student at L.A. High School, and was a members of the Roman golf team, until it was disbanded. His best game to date is around 74. He loves the game, and has the ability, and the drive to become a real champ. You can always find "Little Ozzie" on weekends at the Fox Hills Country Club where he works as a caddie, and shoots a round whenever time will permit. He receives lots of encouragement from his father Lee (King Cole drummer) Young Sr., who plays a fair game himself. So if Lee Jr. plays his golf like his old man drums and uncle Lester blows his tenor, you can look for a real champion in the near future.



The other lad, who won a beautiful third place trophy in the Jr. division, was Jimmie Thornton, son of Eolene Thornton, winner of the women's division of the tournament.

He helps teachers in 54,000 classrooms

Radio was barely out of the earphone stage 28 years ago when a new program was beamed from a San Francisco studio. It featured a string trio and was based on the idea that good music, when clearly understood, could entertain and teach, too. Actually, only 72 Western schools had radio sets then, but with that performance the Standard School Broadcast went "on the air," to serve students and teachers of the West with a brand-new idea in educational aids.

Today, when Conductor Carmen Dragon lifts his baton, it's "time for the Standard School Broadcast" in over 54,000 classrooms through the West, Alaska and Hawaii. Counting children, teachers and home listeners, the program reaches a weekly audience of nearly 1½ million. That string trio has grown to a symphonic orchestra with a dramatic cast, choral group and guest vocal and instrumental artists. Selections range the musical alphabet from symphony to jazz. Each year's course follows a carefully planned outline published in a manual supplied to teachers by Standard to serve as a guide in blending music-enjoyment with subjects like art, literature, social studies. Now in its 27th year, the Standard School Broadcast is radio's oldest education program, heard today over more than 100 stations. Its goal is to help Western children gain an absorbing new interest in the world's good music and—through music—a broader knowledge and understanding of the world around them.

Listen to Standard School Broadcast every Thursday. Check your newspaper radio log for time and station.

Girl's Fath... Sues Minister for $100,000

— Hit by Suit —

ACCUSED BY GIRL'S FATHER — Rev. John L. Branham

CALIFORNIA Eagle

1060 E. 43rd Place, L.A. Continuous Publication for 74 Years 44

Vol. LXXIV—No. 35 Los Angeles, California Thurs., Nov. 18, 1954

ACCUSES PASTOR OF SEDUCING DAUGHTER

The embattled Rev. John L. Branham, who won an important round in the War of the Records last Sunday when he got a vote of confidence from his members, ran into a stiff legal uppercut Tuesday when he was charged with "abduction" and "seduction" of his former secretary in a $100,000 suit filed in Superior Court.

Mack Shepherd, 445 East 109th street, as father of 20-year-old Rosalena Shepherd, accused the minister of having "illicit relations" with the young girl and with removing her from California to Gary, Ind.

Tells Intimacies

Shepherd, who was once a part-time janitor at the church, asked for $50,000 general damages and $50,000 punitive damages in the suit filed through Attorneys [illegible] Cannady and Edward Carl Maddox.

The complaint relates a long series of intimacies between the minister and the young girl during her employment at the church from Aug. 1950, to July, 1951, and charges that the minister persuaded her to have sexual intercourse with him.

As part of his "seduction" allegations of his former secretary, the complaint charges that the Rev. Branham "harbored, secreted and concealed" Rosalena "against the will" of her father and finally whisked her off to Gary.

Defends Branham

The Eagle learned that Miss Shepherd is now in Gary where she is said to be employed at a good salary by a close friend of the minister. In a recent letter to her friends, the girl asked them "not to blame the pastor for anything that was done." "Remember," she wrote, "that he is a man of God." He is human and we all just can't go through life without making mistakes."

The name "Rosie" is spotted throughout the sensational records that are making the rounds of the city. At one point in one of the records, said to be Rev. Branham's, told "Rosie" that she would be "cooking breakfast for me forever some-

No Comment

The Rev. Branham could not be reached by the Eagle for any statement or comment on the matter.

Presented Motion

Refraining from any discussion of the records, the charges and the counter-charges, Hill, as chairman of the meeting, proposed a motion, giving the pastor a vote of confidence, declaring that the controversial issues would be dropped and that no statements would be made to the press.

One man tried to get the floor, but Chairman Hill apparently did not see him. There was no discussion. The motion was put to a vote, and the vote showed 500 supporting the minister, with only 74 in opposition.

ICC Examiner Hits Jim Crow On Railroads

WASHINGTON — Examiner Howard Hosmer recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission, recently [illegible] to issue an order "prohibiting the continuance" of racial segregation on interstate passenger trains.

Hosmer said such practices on some railroads violate the Interstate Commerce Act which provides that there shall be no "undue or unreasonable preference or disadvantage" among passengers.

Alderson Put 'On Spot' As Captain Quits

Retirement of Fire Captain Orrin Burton at Station 30 may put Fire Chief John H. Alderson "on the spot" with the Board of Fire Commissioners, the Eagle learned this week.

In order to abolish racial segregation in the Department, Alderson is confronted with the necessity of replacing the retired captain and there are no Negroes on the captain's list.

A white fireman has been elevated to a captaincy, the Eagle learned, but Alderson has made no move to fill the vacancy. Negro firemen said they would welcome the assignment of a white officer to the hitherto segregated station.

A [illegible] positive order for integration was made by the Commission on Oct. 28. Alderson has made no move to [illegible] segregation in the department. He has said that he

New High Court Judge Is Grandson of Brilliant Opponent of Segregation

"In view of the Constitution, in the eyes of the law, there is in this country no superior, dominant class of citizens. There is no caste here. Our Constitution is color-blind . . . all citizens are equal before the law."

These words are those of John Marshall Harlan, who sat on the Supreme Court from 1877 to 1911. He was dissenting from the Court's 1896 decision in the now famous case of Plessy vs. Ferguson which established the separate but equal doctrine, thus permitting the states to establish separate schools and other public facilities.

Last May the Court swung around and agreed with Justice Harlan that in respect to schools at least, the separate but equal rule violates Constitutional de-

Before his service is ended the Court will consider many other cases in-

Helper Saves Life Of Scaffold Builder

Eagle representative Roscoe Williams, 3204 N. Westlake avenue, saved a fellow-worker from certain death Tuesday when the boards on a scaffolding on which he was working slipped from under him and he plunged toward the earth.

Stanley Dallas scaffold builder was 70 feet up in the air when the heavy planks under him slid out of position and catapulted him into space.

He fell about 13 feet frantically grasping for the rope that supported the scaffold. He caught the rope.

Below Williams saw what had happened, grabbed hold of the rope and held tight. By his grip he made it possible for Dallas to break the fall and regain his balance.

Dallas of 217 A Walnut street, El Monte, did not seem to have suffered any major injuries when he finally got to the ground. Williams, however rushed him to Drs. J. B. Rogers and U. C. Wissner who examined him and took X-rays to see if there were any internal injuries.

Dallas was building a staging at the school at the 8800 block on 84th avenue. Williams an AFL laborer, was Dallas' helper.

BOY SCOUTS

Troop No. 71 of the Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Calvary Baptist Church, was awarded its troop charter in a special ceremony during the Sunday a.m. worship hour at the church. Rev. W. P. Carter, the institutional representative, received the award on behalf of the church. Charles Miller, a member of the First A.M.E. church, made the presentation. Committeemen receiving their cards of merit were: E. Newkirk, P. Normon, L. Allen, A. Evans and E. Tolson.

VACATIONING

Mr. and Mrs. Hebert Towns and their little daughter, Mareta, in company with Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman, motored to Northern California for the weekend. It was a business trip for the Colemans and a part of a well-earned vacation for the Towns.

FIRST AID CLASS

Following the request of the senior ushers board of Calvary Baptist church, a course in first aid is being offered by the Santa Monica chapter of the American Red Cross. All ushers are taking the course. Books have been secured and classes begin Monday night 8 p.m. at the church Social Hall, 2007 20th street.

STORK VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooper of 650 Grant street were extremely happy over the weekend due to the arrival of their baby boy weighing eight pounds. Both mother and son are doing well. Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, natives of Virginia.

SCHOLARSHIP

Applications for the annual scholarship offered by the Missionary Society of the Calvary Baptist church are being accepted. Applicants who are interested should contact the scholarship chairman, Mrs. Lorraine Banks, 1807 19th street, Apt. C, or phone EX. 5-9671. Each year Calvary church through this department makes its contribution to the youth of the church who qualifies and is desirous of furthering his education.

LACYS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lacy of 1818 18th street, Apt. B entertained 50 guests recently at the Masonic Hall, 18th and Broadway, with a very elaborate dinner. The Glasco Catering service was in charge.

law suit. Friends and supporters have denied that he was on the records as that of Rev. Branham.

One of the mysteries of the whole affair is, who set up the recording apparatus and how the records were made.

Shepherd's friends told the Eagle that Miss Shepherd's departure for Gary was sudden and was taken without consultation with her family.

Nicest Thing

In a letter to close family friends, the girl wrote that her "father said the nicest things when he told me to come back home. In fact, he said that is where I belong. But with people saying they want to help me, only draws me farther and farther away. . . ."

The Eagle also learned that Shepherd had appealed to his daughter to return home after he had decided to file the law suit. She refused to do so. Whether she will also file suit remains a mystery. She has that right under the law but indications are that she plans to stick with the Rev. Branham and that she will refuse to aid her parents in their attempt to collect damages.

Church Members Vote Confidence in Branham

congregation gathered in groups, arguing for and against.

Some of the members loyal to the pastor, were enraged that anyone would stoop so low as to plant a microphone in the church, in an attempt to spy on the private life of the minister. Charges that Rev. Branham had been framed were made repeatedly.

But in a group just a few steps away members were voicing a different view. They believed the records were an accurate transcription of what had taken place, and they were loud in their condemnation of the minister.

Questionable Evidence

The records themselves are highly questionable as evidence of wrongdoing. Recordings can be cut and pieced together in the same way that a motion picture film can be cut and rearranged according to the desire of the editor.

One of the records contains a conversation between Rev. Branham and his tailor, in which the pastor identifies himself and in which his voice is clearly recognizable. Then the record becomes blurred and unclear. A voice which might—or might not—be that of the same man says a word that sounds like "undress" again a blur and then a somewhat indistinct conversation between a man, allegedly Rev. Branham and a woman, in which she recounts some of her intimate activities.

Well Financed

It seems well established that an apparatus of the type which apparently was used to obtain the "evidence" is expensive. The project gives indication of having been plotted and planned and well financed. It is not easy to plant a microphone in the minister's apartment in the church. Very few people have access to the rooms. Those who do are trusted supporters of the minister. They would not be likely to aid a project calculated deliberately to "get the goods" on him.

Church members who point out these facts, ask: "Who would be so vindicative as to carry through a project of this kind?" One that is bound to hurt not only Rev. Branham, but the church itself, and in addition to bring into disrepute all the churches in the community? Who?"

The question remains unanswered for the present at least.

High Court Grants Execution Stay for Rape Case Victim

WASHINGTON—Walter Lee Irvin, last of the defendants of the internationally infamous Groveland, Fla., rape case, cheated death once again last Saturday when the U. S. Supreme Court granted a stay of execution.

Florida's acting governor, Charles Johns, had apparently tried to rush through the execution.

Two weeks ago he decreed that Irvin must die the week of Nov. 8. NAACP attorneys immediately went into action and on Nov. 6 Atty. Frank Reeves obtained the stay.

To Ask New Trial

The court set Nov. 20 for presentation of a petition on Irvin's behalf. At that time the Supreme Court will hear arguments by association lawyers for a new trial for the young prisoner.

Ever since announcement that Gov. Johns had set a new execution date, telegrams, letters and phone calls protesting the carrying out of the death sentence have been pouring into the governor's office.

No Proof of Rape

In its petition to the Supreme Court, the NAACP will contend that the prosecution in the two trials of Irvin and his co-defendant refused to call to the stand a white doctor who examined the plaintiff shortly after the alleged rape took place. That doctor, the NAACP contends, could have testified that the housewife had not been criminally assaulted. The NAACP petition also will point up other errors in the prosecution's case.

Irvin is one of four young Negroes convicted in Florida of the alleged rape of a young white housewife. He first was convicted on Sept. 3 1949, by an all-white jury in the County Court in Tavares.

Convicted with Irvin were Samuel Shepherd and Charles Greenlee, 16. Greenlee was given life imprisonment. Irvin and Shepherd were sentenced to death. The fourth accused youth was shot to death by a deputized mob a few hours after the alleged crime July 16 1949.

Reign of Violence

Because of the reign of violence in the Groveland area the hostility in the courtroom and the provocative role of press and radio, NAACP attorneys sought a change of venue and postponement of the trial. This was denied.

An NAACP appeal to the Supreme Court, however brought an order for a new trial.

Shepherd was killed and Irvin wounded by Sheriff Willis McCall who was escorting them from the prison to the new trial on Nov. 6, 1951. The two prisoners were unarmed and handcuffed together, but McCall claimed he shot them in self-defense and was exonerated.

At Irvin's second trial in Feb., 1952, the prosecution again failed to produce any medical evidence of the plaintiff's testimony that she had been raped. The U. S. Supreme Court refused to review the second conviction.

Ben Bowie Celebrates Its Birthday

The Benjamin J. Bowie Post, No. 228, of the American Legion celebrated its 31st anniversary this week with a banquet presided over by Moody Staten, past commander, as master of ceremonies.

Under the spell of good music the food was served by candlelight. Following the meal, Jess Hilton reported the achievements of the post over the years with particular emphasis on the year just passed.

The Hahn boys, Gordon and Kenneth were on hand to bring greetings from the City Council and the Board of Supervisors respectively. A message of commendation was also read from Atty. Gen. Edmond (Pat) Brown.

'Policeman' Steals Wallet

On Sunday, Terrell D. Floyd, 35, 1414½ E. 42nd St., complained to Newton Division that he was stopped on 41st and Avalon by a "policeman."

Floyd stated the man shined a flashlight in his face stating he was a policeman and asked to see the gun Floyd was supposed carrying. The "policeman" then stepped behind Floyd and "pulled his wallet. When Floyd protested the man struck him on the back of the neck.

BACK FROM ARMY — Dr. Theodore P. Blevins, diplomate of the American Board of Pediatrics and a staff member of the Hollywood Children's Hospital and the Queen of the Angels Hospital, has returned to Los Angeles from two years' military service. He served as captain in the Army Medical Corps with the post of Chief of Pediatrics at the U. S. Army Hospital in Wurzburg, Germany.

'I'm an Officer' Gag Jails Two For Robbery

"I'm a brother officer. I work out of 77th."

It was a good try, and it almost came off. But not quite.

University policemen A. W. Blankenship and G. W. Ivey, who in the course of a routine check Saturday evening had stopped to question two men in a parked car, were about to leave.

But just to make sure they asked Beverly Fields, 26, 1515 W. 36th Pl. for his police identification.

What Fields pulled out of his wallet was a card from his parole officer.

There have been a number of robberies in the area by a man who reportedly posed as a policeman, Fields and his fellow passenger, John Calvin Johnson, 26, of 3629 Second Ave., were taken to University and booked on suspicion of robbery.

Testimonial Honors Judge W. Waring

CHARLESTON, S.C.—Royalty received as 500 of their friends Judge and Mrs. J. Waties Waring were given a warm welcome at a testimonial dinner here on their return to the Judge's native home for the first time after his retirement from the Federal Bench in February 1952.

Burglar Suspect Shot as He Flees

Newton Street detectives who received information that a marijuana party was in progress at a hotel at 610 E. 54th street, last Thursday afternoon, failed to find any evidence of dope when they went to the address, but their search ended in the death of a burglary suspect.

Searching a room rented by Harold Gene Hill, 26, the officers found property that was taken in an Oakland burglary and decided to stake out the room and wait for the occupant to return.

The landlady, Mrs. J. L. Tigner, who had let the officers into the room, agreed to assist the officers by buzzing the room when Harris arrived.

At 7:15 p.m. the officers received the buzz signal from Mrs. Tigner that the suspect was on his way up the stairs.

A minute or so later Hill unlocked his door, turned on the light and entered the room where the officers were waiting.

Both officers identified themselves, but Hill turned out the lights and slammed the door shut.

One of the officers shot once in the dark at the door, killing Hill almost instantly. His home address was given as 1149 W. 58th street.

The coroner made a search of the body and stated that no gun was found on the deceased.

'Sugar Foot' Anderson Says He Was Robbed

Ezzret Anderson, known to professional football fans as "Sugar Foot" Anderson, of 3604 S. Van Ness avenue, complained to police Saturday that he was short-changed by an employe of Dolphin's of Hollywood, 1065 E. Vernon avenue.

According to "Sugar Foot," it all happened when he bought five records from the shop and gave a $20 bill in payment. Several hours later, and with the change from only $10 in his pocket, the tall, personable left end, seven times winner of Canadian pro honors, told his story to Newton police.

The cash register, apparently, didn't contain enough change, so one of the clerks was sent to the corner store to break the bill. When Miss Vinnie Cooksey, 233 W. 57th street, returned, she reportedly handed "Sugar Foot" change for $10. He wanted to know where the other $10 was, he claimed.

He was arguing with the two clerks when Newton Dolphin, brother of the owner, came in. "Sugar Foot" appealed to him. He was told to wait for John Dolphin, owner. He waited. But when John came in "Sugar Foot" still couldn't get the $10. John left, and someone called the police.

"Sugar Foot" didn't tarry. He told his story, and then left the city for Canada.

T.V. Records Commencement Of 'Diego Drive

SAN DIEGO—With television cameras grinding and hundreds of volunteer workers gathered, the local branch of the NAACP launched its city-wide annual Freedom Seal Drive here last week.

Urging community-wide support of the seal drive, Franklin H. Williams, NAACP secretary-counsel, called the fund-raising project "one greater than any we have faced in the 45 years of the NAACP's existence."

California Eagle

Loren Miller, Editor and Publisher

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. Representation in Government.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Our Changing Times

All of the returns haven't been officially tabulated yet but returns from New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Michigan and Ohio show that twenty-six of thirty Negro state assemblymen elected on November 2 are Democrats. The same proportion appears in other elective offices and as we remarked last week the nation's only three Negro congressmen are Democrats.

This is a complete about face from 1932 when a Negro Democrat was a rarity and when a Negro had almost no chance to win an elective office.

Behind those figures lies the story of the Negro's broadening concern with economic issues and his belief that he must put in with the party that seems to have his economic welfare at heart. The Negro working man has been sold on the proposition that the Democrats have more to offer by way of increased social security, housing and protection of the worker's rights.

Thus when the Republican party promises as much, or even more, in the area of civil rights as the Democrats the Negro voter who works with his hands sticks with the Democrats out of the belief that he has to look out for his economic welfare as well as for his racial rights.

Republican party strength among Negroes, such as it is, is concentrated among business and professional men who, like the Negro working men, are moved by what they consider their economic well being. As middle class people they are attracted by the white collar look of the GOP.

This shift in political thinking of Negroes is fraught with great consequences for the nation at large. More and more Negroes are moving to great cities in our populous states. These states tend to be decisive in national elections. And where the issue is close the Negro voters throw them in the Democratic column. Thus the Negro voter wields power beyond his numbers.

The Republicans made frantic efforts to woo the Negro voter back to his traditional Republican home in 1952 and 1954. They failed in both instances. Chances for their future success are not great. The overwhelming majority of Negroes are working men and like the majority of American working men they are convinced to the moment that the GOP is the party of bigness and business. They want no part of such a party.

Another Justice Harlan

As soon as the Senate gets around to confirming President Eisenhower's nominee, a name that deserves far more honor than it has ever had among us, will again appear on the roster of the justices of the Supreme Court. That name is John Marshall Harlan.

The John Marshall Harlan who will ascend the bench of the nation's highest tribunal is a grandson of the only justice of the Supreme Court who held fast to the spirit of the Fourteenth Amendment during the Reconstruction and post-Reconstruction periods. The rest of the justices bowed to the prevailing winds of public opinion and all but emasculated the Amendment. They robbed it of its vitality in two historic decisions and sapped its energy in a series of lesser cases.

The first of the historic cases were the so-called Civil Rights cases in which the Supreme Court held that the Fourteenth Amendment did not give Congress power to enact civil rights legislation. The practical result of that decision was to put civil rights of Negroes under the "protection" of the states.

Justice Harlan wrote a long and brilliant dissent in which he scoffed at his colleagues and told them that they were in effect flying in the face of history. He predicted the discrimination that would flow from the Court's action. History has proven that he was correct.

The next great case was the now familiar Plessy vs. Ferguson in which the Supreme Court devised the Separate-but-Equal theory. Again Justice Harlan voiced a brilliant protest against his colleagues' action and again he stood alone. He predicted this time that Negroes "would protest and should continue to protest" that holding and he said "the Constitution is color blind."

When the new John Marshall Harlan ascends the bench he will serve with eight members of a Court who have undermined the hated and despicable Separate-but-Equal doctrine and held that it has no application in the fields of education and in numerous other spheres of governmental activity.

Wherever and whenever issues arose that called for the broad construction the framers intended to give the War Amendments, Justice Harlan stood firm. He believed in the spirit of those Amendments and strove mightily to make them the law of the land.

When Justice Harlan died he could look back on a series of decisions by the Supreme Court which had made the Fourteenth Amendment at once a shield for special privilege and one which offered almost no protection to Negroes for whose benefit it was primarily designed. It was to Harlan's everlasting credit that he had steadfastly fought to keep it to its original intent.

We don't know much about the new John Marshall Harlan who will become a member of the Supreme Court within the next few months. We are sure that no man with a name that deserves so much honor can have strayed far from the precepts of his illustrious grandfather.

It is fitting that in this day when the Supreme Court seems bent on giving the Fourteenth Amendment the scope intended for it another John Marshall Harlan will wear the robes of that Court. Perhaps he can write another Civil Rights decision that will undo the mischief of the original Civil Rights cases. We hope so.

Alderson Must Go

November 1 has come and gone. That was the deadline set by Mayor Poulson for change in the Fire Department. The only change that has been made is on paper. The Board of Fire Commissioners has ordered Chief John H. Alderson to abolish racial segregation. The chief has done nothing.

Prospects are that Chief Alderson will continue to do nothing. He made his choice a long time ago. He believes in Jim Crow. He has made a career out of it. He has bragged and boasted that Negro and white firemen will never work together in the same stations as long as he is head of the Department.

There is little possibility that Chief Alderson would carry out any program of integration even if he announced such a course. He would sabotage it, pervert it and twist it to keep the system to which he has given his allegiance for so long and in which he believes so firmly.

The practical upshot of the matter is that if Los Angeles and Mayor Poulson want integration in the Fire Department Chief Alderson will have to go.

We know that there are those who look upon the chief as a good administrator and an efficient fire fighter and who want him kept for those reasons. Our only answer to that is that Mr. Alderson chose his own course in this situation. If his bed is hard he made it so and he will have to lie in it.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

So far as I know, Father Coughlin's nor Argosy magazines have ever posed as social reform publications. Like most other popular journals they base their editorial policies on shrewd evaluation of what the public likes to read. They avoid articles that will make too many readers angry and this is natural for when an overload of public resentment builds up, circulation breaks down and publications go out of business.

Significant

So it's more than ordinarily significant that Argosy, issues of these two publications read by a policy estimated at no fewer than

With recent moving pictures reviving popular interest in the Knights of the Round Table and their stirring and romantic adventures, this absorbing and well written story which presents an eye witness account of the Arthurian story should reach a wide audience.

As you may remember from your schoolday sessions with Tennyson, trouble began in the Kingdom of Britain when the evil Modred takes advantage of Launcelot's guilty love for King Arthur's wife Guinevere and before order is finally restored the Round Table fellowship itself is dispersed. The Search for the Holy Grail enters into the story also.

Here is all the action, murder, and general mayhem of a frontier press more lively than scrupulous. It has been said "In all the world there isn't a newspaper even remotely resembling The Territorial Enterprise." In this entertaining book the reader finds out why.

Common Cold 'Bugs' Float Thru the Air

By ROY O. GILBERT, M.D.
L. A. County Health Officer

Bringing plenty of misery in its wake, the common cold causes more absences from school and work than all other illnesses combined. As a matter of fact, it is the cause of from 50 to 60 per cent of all the hours lost from work.

And, although it is in itself not serious, this acute respiratory disorder may be followed by such complications as sinusitis, ear trouble, pneumonia, or other ailments of an even graver nature. Most of these secondary infections, however, are avoidable.

Cold 'Bugs'

Colds are not due to changes in the weather or to the presence of drafts although these things may lower the individual's resistance to the cold germs and make him more susceptible to the infection. Colds are infectious diseases caused by any one of a number of viruses.

The United States Public Health Service isolated the first cold "bug" in 1917 but other viruses causing the common cold have been discovered since then.

Floats in the Air

The [illegible] germ is known as a [illegible] droplet [illegible] cough [illegible] sneeze [illegible] infected [illegible] Long [illegible] it is estimated that one sneeze can shoot 20,000 [illegible] droplets as far as 2 feet. After half an hour, most [illegible] them will [illegible] floating in the air.

To help the infected person [illegible] himself and others, [illegible] officials and private [illegible] give these recommendations:

[illegible] light, well-balanced [illegible] Drink plenty of water, [illegible] soups, fruit juices and heavy foods.

[illegible] from the nose forcefully [illegible] the infected [illegible] Avoid [illegible]

[illegible] preferably [illegible] stay inside when [illegible] cold. However, [illegible] more than 24 hours, [illegible] at once if rust-[illegible] sputum or chills occur. [illegible] danger signals.

Most Annoying

[illegible] no drug yet known [illegible] successfully treats the common cold, according to Dr. L. Horsfall, Jr. who is [illegible] America's most noted [illegible] in virus diseases. [illegible] such treatments, while [illegible] cure a cold or even [illegible] course of the disease, [illegible] comfort.

[illegible] an [illegible] of [illegible] is a virus [illegible] that one such [illegible] will be quickly followed by another.

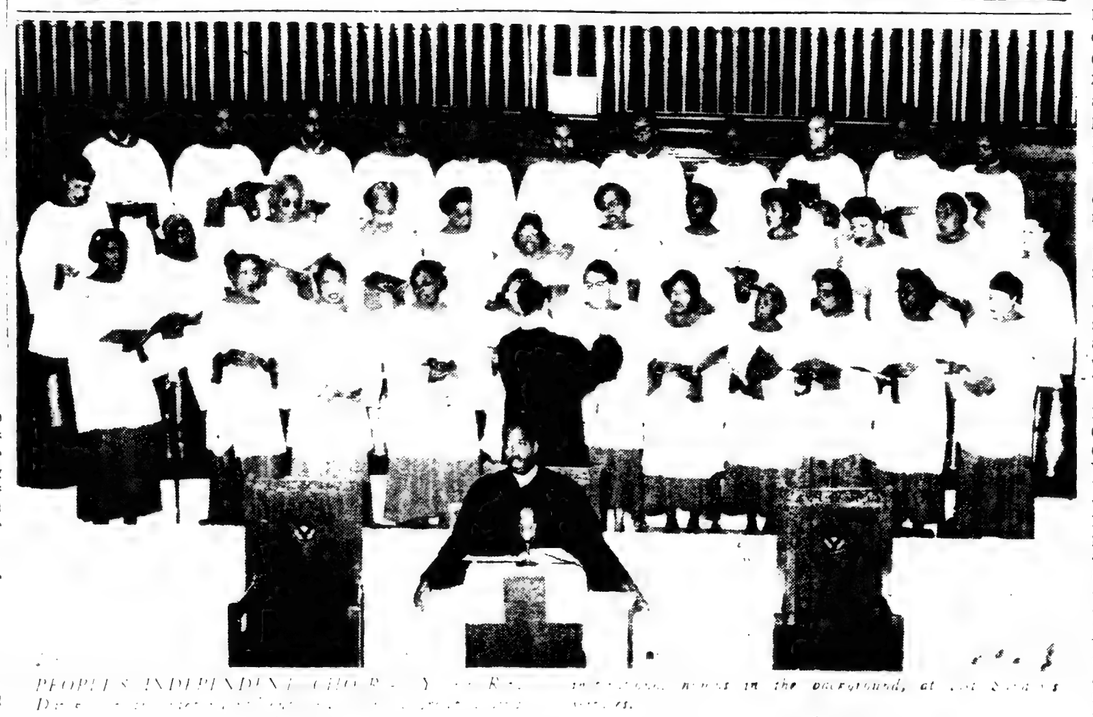
No Sneezing Matter

[illegible] all is said and done, [illegible] cold must be considered a potentially dangerous [illegible] most annoying disorder. The best protection against it [illegible] is to build up the body's defenses with the proper foods, plenty of rest and the daily [illegible] of these and other good health habits. Quite definitely, the common cold is not something to be sneezed at!

A pamphlet on the common cold will be mailed to anyone who sends a card of request to the Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 No. Figueroa, Los Angeles 12.

Area Completes 30 Percent of Chest Quota

More [illegible] for the 2400 Community Chest volunteers in the South Central area may be turkey with [illegible] per cent "pure victory" dressing [illegible] come. That's giving day, if they can reach their quota during the next week.



Entering the third week of the campaign for the 161 agencies, the South Central Chest campaign [illegible] is using the register for $7,982 [illegible] even $27,267 goal. This [illegible] is 30 per cent of their quota.

According to Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw, area chairman, volunteers are now in the midst of a [illegible] and effort to get as much of the solicitation as possible finished by Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Rakestraw's latest report shows that Districts 5 and 6 have raised $5,521, while District 8 has gotten $2,458 in the [illegible].

To date the 76,000 volunteers in the Los Angeles area have brought in $3,191,018 of the $8,652,000 goal, which is 41 per cent of the quota.

CENTENNIAL POWERFUL THREAT TO WIN C.I.F. TITLE

PREP SCOREBOARD

By Al Chism

GAME OF THE WEEK

The Democrats may be rejoicing over the outcome of the elections a few days past, but there was no joy to be found at the Hooper Avenue polls, after Coach Jim Blewett and his Manual Arts Toilers made it three straight Southern League titles when they rolled over the Jefferson High School Democrats, 32-0, on Fulton Field.

Manual kicked off to the Demos, and after a few scant yards through a very rugged Manual line, were forced to kick., and Manual took over on the 40.

With Durden, Manson and Gridiron pecking away for yardage, a 60-yard drive was climaxed with a flip from Allen to Durden for a touchdown. The conversion was made by Topjian, and the score was Manual 7, Jefferson 0.

Topjian also proved to the large crowd that he has an educated toe by kicking a perfect 30-yard field goal later in the game.

Shows Life

This time Manual kicked off, and Jeff returned the ball to their own 45-yard line. On the first play, Butler, left half for the Dems, took off for a nice 45-yard run before Willard Penn downed him from behind on the Manual 10. Again the stone wall of Manual held and the quarter ended.

At the start of the second stanza, both teams exchanged punts. In the next set of downs Durden scored on an 18-yard jaunt, and a few plays later showed why he is in line for all-city honors by breaking off tackle for another 42-yard touchdown. Manual 21, Jefferson 0.

Reed to Penn

Penn, Manual end, turned in a sparkling game on defense and caught a beautiful pass from Quarterback Reed in full stride, and after faking the last two Jeff defenders out of their shoes, scored the TD. The play was good for 70 yards.

Billy Turner,Manual left half, proved to be the tough luck man of the contest of you can call it that, when his two touchdowns of 12 and 26 yards were called back because of Manual infractions.

Milliner of Jeff got off some very fine kicks, but they weren't good enough to stop the Manual onslaught. So look out for those Manual Toilers in the city playoffs. Final, Manual 32, Jefferson 0.

(Ed Note: Let's get on the ball, "Doc"—the kids might really get hurt when they come to the sidelines.)

JORDAN HIGH SCHOOL'S fighting Bulldogs made up a one-point deficit going into the third quarter to come back and top Narbonne High, 13-7, and sew up the Marine League title.

Coach Norm Foster's boys weren't given much chance after dropping their first three practice tilts, but have proved to be the class of the league. TDs came on a pass, Perry to Johnson, and a 50-yarder to end Booker Washington. Strauther booted the extra point. Jordan 13, Narbonne 7.

FREMONT topped the Roosevelt varsity, 19-14, by scoring three six-pointers in the last quarter. Scores came on a 30-yard pitchout to Robert Curry (last year's 660-yard dash city champ) and Charles Perry on an 80-yarder on a pass from Eckmann.

POLYTECHNIC High School stayed in the thick of the Eastern League race by beating Belmont, 6-0. Bert Washington swept end for 15 yards and the only Mechanic score, which was enough for the win.

OTHER SCORES

L. A. 33, Hamilton 7.
TD, Shelby (L. A.).
Venice 7, Dorsey 14
TD, Jackson (V); Carr, Miles (D).

FLASH! — Coach Dave Williams' Bulldog Bapes broke into the win column, shading Narbonne 2-0. Sounds like a hockey score, but nevertheless a victory. Tastes good, huh fellows.

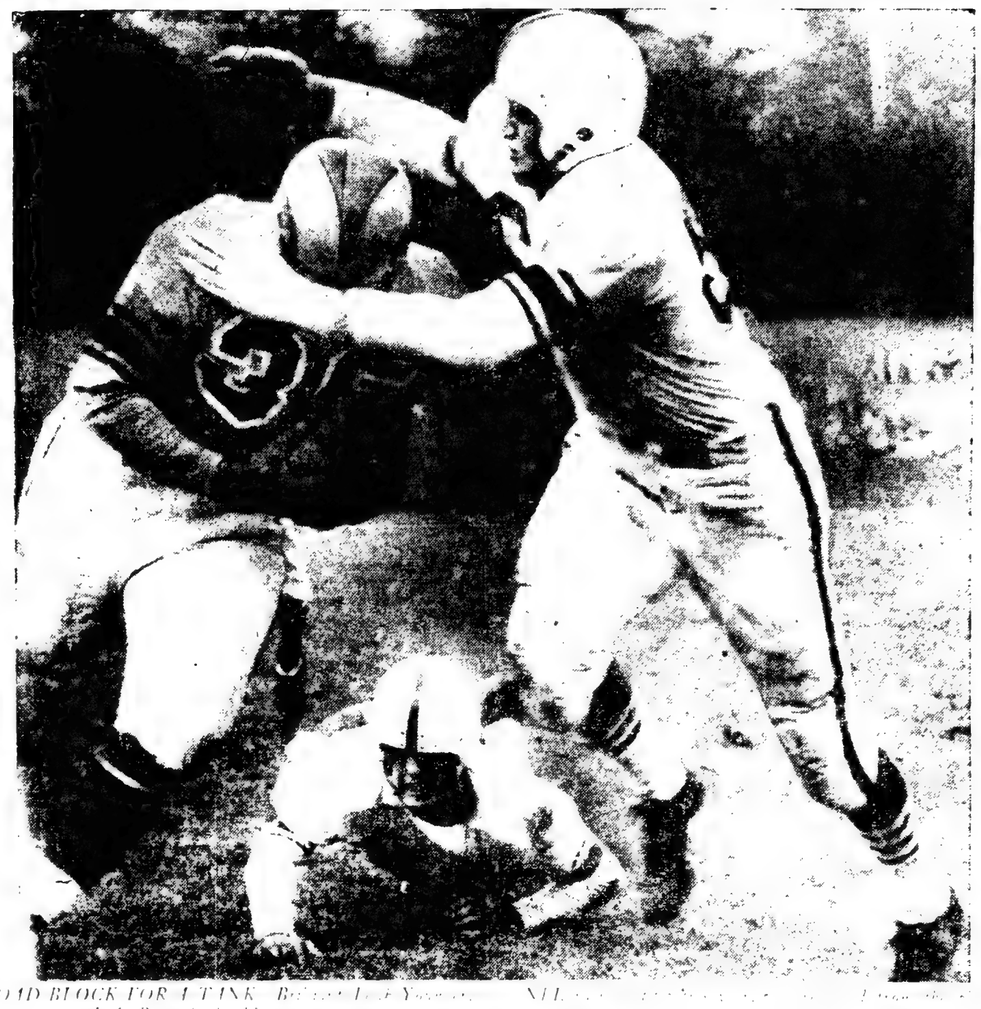
Apaches Defeat Vikings

By AL CHISM

Living up to all press and Score Board predictions the Centennial Apaches, one of the highest scoring football teams in the C.I.F. loop and unbeaten, and untied, scored perhaps their greatest season victory by defeating Santa Monica Vikings 13-6 before 10,000 fans.

Coach Wade's great prep team in their first year have grounded out eight straight victories and was unscored upon until they met Santa Monica. Football fans are calling the 1954 Apaches the greatest high school team in the state. The team is an overwhelming favorite to win its first C.I.F. title in their very first year.

If you read your last week's edition of prep Score Board, you'll find your reporter predicted a Viking scalp hanging on a tepee at El Segundo and Central, the home of the Centennial "Apache." Well it's there, and with it a new Bay League championship for Coach "Buddy" Wade and his fighting Apaches who last Friday night traveled to Corsair Field to beat Santa Monica Vikings 13-6 before a turn-away crowd of 9200 fans.



It was the eighth straight for the Apaches, who have ground out over 2100 yards and scored over 200 points. The victory was hard earned as Santa Monica's defending C.I.F. champs fought down to the wire. The game went scoreless until the start of the second quarter when the Apaches scored on Paul Lowe's plunge from the two-yard line after a 54 yard march. Andrews scored the conversion, which looked like the margin until late in the 1st quarter.

The Vikes' TD came in the 3rd quarter with Glossop throwing a series of passes to his end, George Hughley, mixed in with some fine running by halfback Bob Dorsey who chewed up yardage by tens. A ball on the one and Dorsey scored the marker, the first against the Apaches this year. Dorsey again tried the middle for the extra point but was met full face with the McNeal twins and the score remained 7-6, Centennial.

With the seconds ticking away Santa Monica worked the ball to their own 39 yard line with fourth and one. They chose to gamble on the first down and lost, and the Apaches took over. This was the turning point of the game. Runs and passes from Lowe to Sampson carried to the six. Two plays later Lowe scored his second TD from the three. The conversion was short and the Apaches led 13-6.

Glossop then filled the air with passes. On the 28 yard line one was deflected, the ball fell into the arms of "Wimp" Johnson of Centennial and it was all over but the crowning of the new Bay League Champs.

Classy Rudy Jordan only one to ever defeat Manny Renteria has been signed to box rugged Louie Filippo, Nov. 20. Besides the triumph over Renteria Rudy has won over Billy Hartman, Manuel Castillo and Lavert Smith.

Latin Rhythm Holding Sway At the Oasis

The tremendous ev[illegible] Luis Arcaraz complex with a [illegible] gimmick [illegible] began his very first night [illegible] engagement in the United States last week at the Los Oasis Western at 38th. For those who happened to be of Mexico who won his spot playing musica a la Americana [illegible] to rock his nation playing a [illegible] of one-nighters [illegible] to capacity crowds.

Favorite of Millions

The [illegible] records from RCA Victor [illegible] of the [illegible] of Luis Arcaraz is a fine [illegible] because [illegible] immediate and [illegible] [illegible] dant combines [illegible] doesn't speak English [illegible] Saturday his music is [illegible] certainty in the American [illegible] commercial jazz idiom. Radio listeners and record collectors are undoubtedly familiar with his exciting treatments of "Caravan," "Johnson Rag," "Too Young" and "Summertime." His Latin rhythms are equally exciting with his B. [illegible] Song. Perhaps [illegible] because it is an [illegible] [illegible] of no more [illegible] himself.

New Policy

During the engagement of Luis — pronounced "Louis" — Arcaraz, the new Oasis policy of no door charge, no cover or admission, will be continued. It means a big saving in the entertainment budget and the Arcaraz band is a must for both dancing and listening.

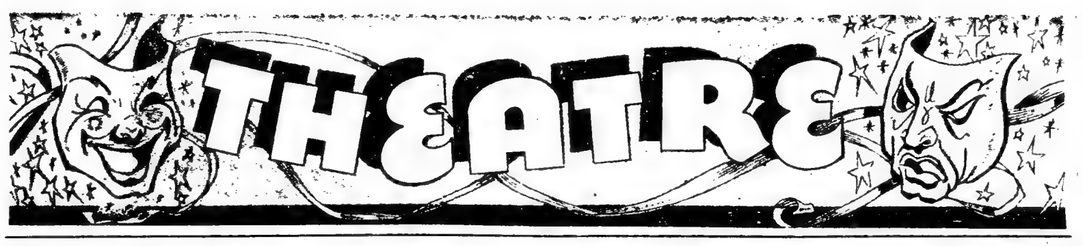
SWING STREET — the brightest spot on Central Avenue is at 47th, with Dynamite Jackson and the newly panted Tip Top starting to be the block of action!

ANNE GRAY — shapely 18-year old City College coed makes the male students forget about Marilyn Monroe when she strolls across the campus!

REV. W. J. TAYLOR — the much listened to radio preacher was jolted in traffic court when the judge slapped a $50.00 fine against the gospel man for being filled with the spirits and driving his chariot in an erratic manner!

MANNIE SILBERMAN — dapper sales manager for Petri Wine Company, endeared his company a thousand fold when he donated champagne to the NAACP Freedom Seal drive!

TOWN CLUB—at a recent meeting the membership elected to reduce the joining fees to one hundred dollars per new member!



DR. OVERSTREET GRAY—just picked up $500 when wife Lillian presented him with an eight pound boy Monday!

JO ANNA HAYES—doesn't know but when hubby burns the mortgage on their $14,000 suburban home this month, he plans to deliver the ashes to her in a 1955 Studebaker!

EULALIA EVANS — popular member of the Zenithis will be acknowledging plaudits this week. She'll be celebrating her twentieth wedding anniversary!

BAL MASQUE — the hottest table during the annual Les Dames affair Sunday eve was that of Leo Anderson by his powder were: Carol Christian Ethel Phillips, Geraldine Campbell, Marie Lou Edwards. Her

MILLER'S HIGHLIGHTS
(Lowdown on Higherups)
By 'HAL' MILLER

Surprise discovery of the week [illegible] spurned a popular Kappa man who is currently married to a real [illegible] Wingate [illegible] and is already practicing in a family. If you guess who this is then you will recall that he hasn't been around lately. Can't say where he is in the East [illegible] in his grandfather's surname is [illegible].

Also hot off the press is the surprise engagement of Leona and Spangler and ravishing Lorette Cobb. She's sporting a tough diamond.

Forgot to mention last week that I dropped by the Belinas deal at the Starlight ballroom to find it functioning to the utmost. Few of the people noticed were Donald Johnson, Yvonne Moore, Malcolm and Nellwyn Orange, Richard Wood, Jeff, Barbara Boss and Lou, Wallace Hess, Jones and all unidentified social [illegible] are offering their [illegible] to keep Smith's [illegible] Lowdown Stone for dropping [illegible] their [illegible] Sue I [illegible] for Y[illegible]

I understand that [illegible] and comic aggregation [illegible] Many gentlemen commodore was the "Sparksmen" [illegible] planning a dilly of an affa[illegible] in November.

Next week is Thanksgiving and it is traditional that we stuff ourselves with good food to prove that we are thankful for another year of abundant life. The first Thanksgiving fare was a combination of wild turkey, berries and such foods as the settlers could add to the community dinner. The menfolk had been sent out to find meat and wild turkeys were all they could find in abundance. Turkey thereby became the traditional meat for the celebration of the gathering in of the harvest.

Choice of Stuffing

Turkeys are less expensive this year and markets offer the junior bird for the small family. There are a variety of combinations for stuffing a turkey, which will add to your cooking and eating pleasure.

For chestnut dressing use 3 cups chestnuts blanched and boiled in salted water till soft, drained and chopped, one-half cup melted butter, ¼ cup cream and 3 cups cracker or bread crumbs, seasonings to taste.

Mushroom stuffing utilizes three-fourths cup mushrooms chopped and sauted in butter for each cup of breadcrumbs used. Add a tablespoon of chopped parsley and a half teaspoon of nutmeg and cayenne pepper to the poultry seasonings you prefer in a dressing.

Pecan Dressing

Pecan dressing adds 1 cup chopped or half pecans to each loaf of bread in the stuffing and be certain to add 1 teaspoon each of sweet savory and marjoram along with your paprika, salt and pepper.

For sage dressing add 1 full tablespoon of rubbed sage for each six cups of bread cubes used.

The Swedish cooks use dark bread, sage, celery, onions, parsley and two boullion cubes dissolved in hot water.

Dressing is a challenge to the cook who likes to experiment with flavor combinations. The use of old fashioned poultry seasoning is never in error providing it is used sparingly.

Odetta Felious Sends Reporter Into Trance

By JAN EDWARDS

"Lord! Lord! Pick a bale of cotton. Lord! Lord! Pick a bale a day." She taught us that song—Odetta did. She taught us a lot of songs and we'd like to have stayed all night at the Santa Monica Unitarian Church where Dorothy Boothe arranged a concert, so we could sing and listen to Odetta Felious.

How are you going to write a review about Odetta! There's nobody to compare her with. There are no standards by which to measure her. They say she's Bess Smith, Leadbelly, and Richard Dyer-Bennett all rolled into one, but that's not enough. She's a gal with a voice as powerful as Wagner's Brunhilde—but most of the time she uses it soft and low. She's got a mild, easy going sweet manner, but most of the time she'll tear your heart to shreds and send goose pimples all over your body. She doesn't just sing, she "feels" a song right into your soul.

Strong, but Gentle

Odetta's big and strong, but gentle and sensuous. She's young and artless, but real mellow. When she plays the guitar, it doesn't sound like an accompaniment, it sounds like some living part of her, pulsating and singing along.

She sang to a packed house Sunday evening, Nov. 14. She was assisted by Fred Gerlach who is writing the music for Leadbelly's autobiography. They sang folk songs, fun songs, work songs, and spirituals. Fred, by the way, taught himself to play the twelve string guitar, and some of his guitar numbers the other night, really had them cheering. His fingering is something unbelievable.

Miss Felious only sang one encore, because she was catching a plane back to San Francisco where she is staying on an extended visit. When she is here in her hometown Odetta lives with her mother and sister at 1124 N. Hoover street.

Into Trance

Now the statistics are over with, I can go back into my trance. Odetta's concerts leave you like that, and I want to go on record as saying that anybody who doesn't get to hear this great lady soon, is just going to be plumb ignorant. It's inevitable because one day Odetta Felious is going to be a super colossal top notch, international sensation!

Harlan's Grandfather Set Enviable Court Example

volving attempts at racial segregation, under the separate but equal rule.

The first Justice Harlan did not begin his disagreement with racial segregation in the Plessy case. He first raised his voice in favor of a strong interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment in the Civil Rights cases back in 1883. "If the Fourteenth Amendment be enforced according to their intent," he said on that occasion in disagreement with eight other members of the Court, "there cannot be, in this republic, any class of human beings in practical subjection to another class."

The Civil Rights cases arose after Congress had passed a series of laws prohibiting racial discrimination in places of public accommodation. The laws, passed under authority of the Fourteenth Amendment, were challenged as unconstitutional and the Court struck them down with only Justice Harlan dissenting.

"Today it is the colored race which is denied . . . rights fundamental in their freedom and citizenship," Justice Harlan said in his dissent in the Civil Rights cases. "At some future time it may be some other race will fall under the ban of race discrimination," he warned.

By the time the Plessy cases got to Court in 1896, Justice Harlan had seen the Supreme Court whittle down more and more rights apparently guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment. He had dissented time and again, sometimes alone and sometimes in the lonely company of another justice or two.

The attempt to justify the separate but equal rule left Justice Harlan cold. "In my opinion," he said, "the judgment this day rendered will prove to be quite as pernicious as the Dred Scot case." The separate but equal rule, he charged "practically puts the brand of servitude and degredation upon a large class of our fellow citizens, our equals before the law. The thin disguise of 'equal' accommodations for passengers in railroad coaches will not mislead anyone, or atone for the wrong this day done. . . ."

Justice Harlan was a slave holder in Kentucky before the Civil War but joined with the Union forces. He was appointed to the Court by President Rutherford B. Hayes.

NAACP Seeks FEPC at Atomic Energy Plants

SAN FRANCISCO — A concerted campaign by the Northwest NAACP to bring fair employment practices to Federal atomic energy plants in Washington State was announced here this week by NAACP official Franklin H. Williams upon his departure for that area.

Williams, secretary-counsel for the West Coast Region of the association, said the West ern region of the NAACP is "concerned about the problem of fair employment at the government atomic energy plants in Richland and Pasco." Both are in Washington State.

The cases that will be heard came from South Carolina, Virginia, Kansas, Delaware and the District of Columbia. The arguments, as are the briefs that have been filed, will be on the procedure the High Court should follow to implement its constitutional ruling. In setting the cases for reargument at this term, the Court asked other states affected by its May decision to submit amicus curiae, or friend of the court, briefs. The briefs filed by North Carolina, Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Maryland were in this category.

Rev. Branham Tracked Down; Given Summons

Two Ready to Give Eyes to Help Sammy

By Chazz Crawford

"I can sing, I can dance, I can see. I'm still in business, so I've got no kick." That's a quote from super trouper Sammy Davis Jr. who is resting easy following the removal of his left eye as a result of an auto collision Friday in San Bernadino where he is now confined in the hospital for a ten-day stretch.

Meanwhile his physician, Dr. Frederick H. Huil, has stated that two persons have offered to give him their own eyes bue that such whole eye transplants are impossible. Singer-dancer-comic Sammy Jr., who is the steller member of the Will Mastin trio which composes his Uncle Will and Sam Senior, has often been billed as "the greatest act" or the "top banana" in show-business.

Must Answer To Charge He Seduced Girl

The Rev. John L. Branham, named defendant last week in a suit charging he had "seduced" and "abducted" the secretary of St. Paul Baptist Church, this week was playing a game of hide-and-seek with the process server who was avidly pursuing him in an attempt to hand him a summons.

Given the task of serving the famed and much-embattled minister, Glen S. Holmes started out on his task last Tuesday. His was no easy job. He was unable to locate the pastor at his home, unable to reach him at the church.

Forced to Curb

For five days he continued on the trail, but without luck. Then Sunday, by sheer chance, he spotted his quarry driving down Adams blvd. As Rev. Branham neared Hobart, the man who had been scouring the town for him drew up along side, edged close, cut in front and forced Rev. Branham to the curb.

It had been a tough assignment, but the summons at last was served.

Ten days from the day of receipt, Rev. Branham must file an answer to the action.

Wants No Part

Meanwhile young Rosaretha Shepherd, the girl on whose behalf her father, Mack Shepherd, 445 E. 109th street, had made the charges, was still in Gary, Ind., so far as could be learned, refusing to aid her father, Atty. George Cannady, who talked to her by telephone just before the charges were filed, said that she told him she didn't want any part of it.

The suit grew out of allegations that the Rev. Branham had held illicit relations with Miss Shepherd over a period of four years from the time she was 16 years old and that later he had removed her from California to Gary, Ind.

The father sought $50,000 general damages and $50,000 punitive damages on each count.

Filing of the action came hard on the heels of the War of the Records which has rocked the fashionable and wealthy church to its foundations.

NO AMPUTATION—Despite ensuing initial reports that doctors would have to amputate Leonard "Abie" Robinson's left hand at the wrist, skilled surgery was able to save it. He'll be back on the job as Eagle circulation manager in the near future.

'Abie' Robinson's Hand Crushed in Traffic Accident

By GRACE E. SIMONS

It was a little after 3 o'clock Thursday.

Abie (Edward "Abie" Robinson), Eagle circulation manager, had just dropped his last bundle of papers. Abie's "day" had been a long one. He'd had to double back on his extensive route to make repeat deliveries.

Abie lives, eats and breathes the Eagle. When newsstands call in a few hours after the paper has been on the street and ask for additional copies, Abie's irrepressible spirits soar.

Turned Over Twice

Thursday was that kind of a day. Now he was crossing Exposition, going north on Western, ready to park in the next block.

A teen-age youth, driving a 1942 Oldsmobile, bowled through the red light and plowed into Abie's station wagon, hitting it broadside. The station wagon somersaulted, rolled over twice. Abie's left hand was pinned under the wagon.

He was able to free himself, but the flesh of his hand lay bare. Blood gushed out.

Fainted

Abie picked himself up and started to run across the street. He was losing blood rapidly. A doctor saw him, ran to him and grabbed his arm, applying pressure above the wound. The blood slowed to a trickle. Abie fainted.

The intersection became a mass of people. Children were streaming out of school.

Bert Kenner, owner of the Union Service Station at 3774 S. Western avenue, was informed of the accident by one of his employes. He telephoned the Eagle. Nick Stewart, of Ebony Showcase, telephoned.

Must Amputate

Blanche Drew, whose investment office is at 39th and Western, rushed out, found Abie already in an ambulance. Suffering excruciatingly from his crushed hand, Abie was still Eagle-minded. "Open your purse," he said to Blanche, and proceeded to

Court Delays Argument On School Case

WASHINGTON — Failure of the Senate to confirm the appointment of John Marshall Harlan as associate justice of the Supreme Court caused a postponement of arguments on now and when to end segregation in the nation's grade schools.

Arguments had been set for Dec. 6 but the Court ordered a delay in a brief order Monday. Democratic Senator Eastland objected to Harlan's confirmation at the current session of the Senate and the matter will not be acted on until January.

Although Eastland was not specific in his objections to Harlan's confirmation, it was learned that he and other southerners are displeased because of what they understand to be his views on civil rights.

Harlan's grandfather — also named John Marshall Harlan — was also a Supreme Court justice and was the only judge to dissent when the court handed down its now famous Separate But Equal decision in 1896. He charged that the decision branded Negroes as inferiors and said the Constitution should be "color blind."

The court's postponement of argument was taken to prevent the possibility of an equal division in the Court.

Rapist Attacks Two In W. Adams Area

A fresh outburst of the series of assaults and kidnappings that have terrified women in the West Adams area occured this weekend.

In this newest outburst of brutal attacks, three separate incidents occurred Sunday night and early Monday morning.

Mrs. Dorothy Cobb, 20, 2271 W. 25th street, a waitress at the Cosmo, was set upon after she left work at 1 a. m., dragged into a school, knocked down, beaten, raped and robbed.

Followed Her

She told police she was walking home from work when she heard someone walking rapidly behind her. She was just four doors from her home when a man grabbed her, clamped his hand over her mouth, and twisted her left arm behind her back.

"Where are you coming from? Do you have any money? You're coming with me," he told her. Then he forced her to walk ahead of him to the School for Retarded Children, Cimarron and Adams blvd.

As she tried to run, the man knocked her down three times, and then raped her. She told police as she tried to free herself her attacker hit her on the nose and around the eyes, threatening her in filthy and obscene words.

Bound Her Feet

After the assault, Mrs. Cobb said, the man took off her stockings and bound her hands and feet, then took her money. He warned her not to utter a word until he had started his car.

Mrs. Cobb was taken to Georgia Receiving Hospital for treatment of a possible nose fracture, lacerations and bruises. Both of her eyes were blackened, and her neck was so painful she could not move her head, she told the Eagle.

Earlier Attack

A little earlier, about 6:45 p. m., Miss Lorraine Darlene McCann, 20, of 2141 Estrella, was attacked by a man who answered the same description as the one who assaulted Mrs. Cobb.

Miss McCann told police she was approached by a man as she was walking home. He said he wanted to talk to her.

Business Men Meet Sunday

The Los Angeles Businessmen's Club is hosting the second of a series of breafast meetings this Sunday at 9 a.m. in the banquet room of the Pacific Town Club, 4332 West Adams Blvd.

Members and all interested businessmen and women in greater Los Angeles are cordially invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling acting chairman Henri O'Bryant at HO. 2-1801.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be the showing of "This is Los Angeles, Your Blue Chip Market" a 30-minute color film depicting the business growth of the world's 3rd largest city.

This film was produced by the Herald Express newspaper and is narrated by Marvin Miller, noted commentator. Present and future potentialities of the business market in greater Los Angeles are emphasized.

The initial kick-off breakfast sponsored by the business group, attracted nearly seventy-five persons. Acting chairman O'Bryant said invitations had been sent to more than 400.

ATTY. THOMAS NEUSOM

DR. H. CLAUDE HUDSON

NEUSOM, HUDSON VIE FOR NAACP TOP POST

The most spirited fight the local branch of the NAACP has seen in a long time is expected to develop this year with young, energetic and popular Atty. Thomas Neusom battling for the post of president against prominent Dr. H. Claude Hudson, member of the national Board of Directors of the association, and president of the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n.

In addition 37 candidates are contesting for the 18 posts on the local executive board, and incumbent Lotenzo Bowdoin is running against Dr. J. F. Evans for treasurer.

Aggressive Program

The nominating committee presented the names of all candidates in the race Sunday at one of the best attended meetings of the branch in months with about 250 people present at the Mt. Sinai Baptist Church.

While Dr. Hudson has not as yet made any statement regarding his candidacy, Atty. Neusom asserted that he is seeking the post on the basis of an aggressive program which he believes will enable the Los Angeles branch of the association to assume the task of leadership which rightly belongs to it.

If elected, he declared, he will organize the entire year's program well in advance, with special stress on mass meetings, membership drive and regular monthly meetings. In order to make sure that the campaign for new members brings results, he will attempt to place a responsible individual in charge and make it possible for that person to devote full time to the project.

Participation by Members

With regard to the monthly meetings, he said that he believes it is necessary to encourage participation by the members, and in order to

Minstrel Shows Taboo, Stockton Schools Told

SAN FRANCISCO—Anticipating a "showdown" in numerous local communities over the issue of the holding of "black-face" minstrels on public school property, the West Coast regional NAACP office this week made public an opinion rendered by Frederick L. Felton, San Joaquin County Counsel, declaring that such affairs are "prohibited" by the California Education Code "for the reason that such shows reflect on American citizens of the Negro race.

". . . It is just as important to prevent racial segregation in mental concepts as in physical facilities for teaching children. The compartments of the human mind are no less real than the compartments in a building," Felton stated in his opinion to Stockton Unified School District superintendent Dr. Nolan D. Pulliam.

"Black face minstrels are caricatures of Negroes. The shows usually contain jokes and buffoonery and stupidity aimed at Negroes.

"The shattered pride or the sting of ridicule of even one Negro child is too high a price to pay for the mirth of one black face minstrel show," Felton concluded.

The opinion was requested following protests to local school authorities by the Legal Redress committee of the Stockton NAACP.

Following Felton's opinion in the matter, the Board of Education publicly stated that henceforth no black face minstrels will be permitted on school grounds.

Last year complaints were registered by the NAACP when plans for local minstrel shows

Dorsey Students Miffed As Teachers Stop Dance

A teacher tapped two youngsters on the shoulder at a student activity dance at Dorsey High School Friday.

"We don't do that here," she reportedly told the Negro boy and his white partner.

Later she advised that the reason for the objection was that some of the girls come from wealthy Baldwin Hills families, and their parents do not approve of them dancing with Negroes.

But the youngsters weren't taking it lying down. They gave an excellent example of interracial solidarity. Both whites and Negroes protested the stand of the teacher. And their parents backed them up.

Result: Over the weekend and on Monday Principal Dr. Gerwin Neher and Girls Vice Principal Miss Mary Howard reportedly visited some of the parents and called some of the children into the office to apologize and make it plain that henceforth the teen-agers are free to choose their own partners, without interference.

Calvary Baptist Church Again Burglarized

SANTA MONICA Burglars again last Sunday broke into the Calvary Baptist church, 20th and Broadway, and ransacked the Trustees' room, but came away empty-handed.

This is the second robbery attempt at the church within the past two months.

The vandals pried open the window in the ladies' rest room, and crawled in. Finding the door of the trustees' room locked, they proceeded to smash the door. They did not find any money, however.

The Rev. W. J. Carter, pastor, was lodging a protest with the police this week over their failure to provide adequate protection and to ask surveillance in the future.

Sammy Quips Over Eye Loss

Sammy has been attended at his bedside by his mother, his dad, and uncle. Other constant visitors have been his press agent, Jess Rand, and close friends among Hollywood notables such as Jeff Chandler, Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Eddie Cantor and Red Skelton.

And the entertainer has received more than 1500 wires from fans and pals who range from "who's who" to bus boys who have worked some of the plush houses where he has appeared and found that he was a sweetheart of a guy, of which there is no whicher as far as the entertainment world is concerned.

Davis, whose appearance at Las Vegas' Last Frontier was halted by the auto smash-up was "filled in" by retired actress Betty Hutton, Singer Billy Eckstine, and Jeff Chandler.

He'll Be Back

And Sammy should be back in business before you can kick off a time step. He is confounding pessimists who thought otherwise. His famed sense of humor knows no bounds even though he is convalescing from surgery.

Still powered with what seems to be a combination of wheatgerm, blackstrap molasses, and yogurt, Sammy is lighthearted and full of quips about his injury.

When his press agent, who was recently bedded with a kidney ailment, arrived at the hospital the comic's first words to him were, "alright, let's see you top this," and the dancers first reaction to the removal of his eye was: "Thank God, it was my eye and not my leg."

And here's a direct quote from his press agent friend Jess Rand: "What does it really mean? There is only one thing that can surpass this kid's talents, and that's his heart. He's too great! He's most likely the greatest entertainer since Jolson. Just wait. You'll see. And Chazz, this isn't a press agent speaking. This is a friend."

And as another chum of the guy's, Jess, I'd like to know just who was this Jolson? May be he was before my time and Sammy's time too. As we put it nowadays, Sammy's the MOST!

Final Push Starts On Seal Sale Drive

At a meeting of the various committee chairmen Friday with Mrs. Emily Woody, general chairman of the Seal Drive Committee, final plans were laid for the all-out push of NAACP Freedom Seals during the final weeks of the drive. The drive will terminate on December 8.

Prime attention is being directed toward the "18 Hours for Freedom" march, scheduled for Dec. 3 and 4, which is being organized by Gilbert W. Lindsay and Thomas Neuson. Booths will be set up at various strategic points throughout the city. Busy intersections, supermarkets, drug stores, banks and theatres have been chosen as sites for the all-out sale of Freedom Seals. In addition, numbers of volunteers will be ringing doorbells in your community, asking you to "help yourself to freedom," by purchasing some of the seals.

Dr. F. J. Evans, co-chairman of finance, will be in the NAACP branch office, 4263 South Central avenue, Tuesday evening to receive monies being reported from the sale. All clubs are urged to make their report by Tuesday, Nov. 30.

More volunteers are needed for the 48-hours-for-freedom march. Anyone desiring to give a few hours for this cause is urged to telephone the office, ADams 1-5189.

The culmination program for the drive will be held on Wed., Dec. 15, at the Bowen Memorial Church. At this time, various awards will be made to organizations and individuals who participated in the sale of seals. Mrs. Josie Gray Bain, the wife of Bowen's minister, is in charge of the program and awards.

Accident Puts Eagle's 'Abie' Temporarily Out of Circulation

empty the contents of his pockets, collection money, into her pocketbook. Francis Waller, Eagle advertising manager, sped to the scene of the accident, and from there to the hospital.

At Georgia Street Receiving Hospital, Abie was given first aid, and transfered to General Hospital. Aides at Georgia telephoned the Eagle and Abie's wife, Mrs. Gladys Robinson. "His hand is badly mangled," said the assistant. "It is partially severed at the wrist. It will have to be amputated."

Can Save Hand

At the receiving room at General, a preliminary examination confirmed the diagnosis. "Amputation," said the doctor.

"No," said Abie. "You can't amputate my hand. You'll have to get my wife's permission first."

Telephones began ringing all about the city. A specialist was summoned. He rushed to the hospital, examined the hand. Doctors had further probed the extent of the injury and had found that miraculously major nerves and muscles had not been severed. The hand was in bad shape, but it could be repaired. It would not be amputated. Blood was needed. Waller volunteered.

Long Operation

Abie was taken to surgery, where for four hours doctors patiently cleaned out the wound and sewed up the delicate tissues.

Driver of the car which had hit the station wagon was 18-year-old Thomas Frampton, 2039 N. Hobart avenue. He had been riding with his younger brother and a friend. The car was registered in the name of his father, Jesse Frampton, of the same address.

Abie is still at General Hospital, but he's whole. His aching, painful, swollen hand is still his. He'll be out of "circulation" for a little while, but not for long.

Suit Will Test Railroad Union Ban On Negroes

NEW YORK A. Philip Randohpl, chairman of the Provisional Committee to Organize Colored Locomotive Firemen, announced that a suit had been filed last Tuesday in the Federal court in Cleveland, Ohio, in an attempt to force the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen to accept Negro members.

Randolph stated that his organization had retained the services of Joseph L. Rauh, Jr. of Washington, D. C., civil liberties attorney, to direct the litigation. Walter C. Kelley is acting as local counsel in Cleveland.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen represents both the Negro and white locomotive firemen in collective bargaining with the various railroads, but the Brotherhood refuses to admit Negroes to membership and, in fact, has an explicit provision in its Constitution and By-Laws forbidding Negroes from becoming members.

The suit was brought by the Provisional Committee and 11 Negro firemen against the Brotherhood. The complaint seeks a court ruling declaring that the firemen have the right to become members of the union and enjoining the Brotherhood from continuing their unlawful conduct.

"There is no way a union can fairly or equitably represent colored and white employees in bargaining negotiations, as they are required to do under the law, unless the colored employees are full and equal members of the union, and can participate in the election of bargaining officials and in discussions of proposed contracts along with their white fellow-employees," Randolph said. "We believe that it is a violation of the federal constitution to keep Negroes outside the Brotherhood, when they are not permitted under the law to have any other bargaining agent.

"True equality for Negro railway workers means membership in the union representing them."

Court Asked to Stop Return to Georgia

WASHINGTON—Freedom for a Negro who fled the Georgia chain gang to safety in Philadelphia was sought this week in the United States Supreme Court by the NAACP Legal Defense attorneys.

In a brief filed last Monday, the attorneys urged the Court to set free Edward Brown, now being held in a Philadelphia jail at the request of Gov. Herman Talmadge and awaiting extradition orders.

No Justice

Justice in the Georgia courts for Brown will be impossible, the lawyers told the Supreme Court. To return him to the Georgia chain gang would be returning him to further inhuman punishment which may well result in his death.

Brown was arrested 17 years ago for the accidental death of a man. At the advice of his white attorney, he pleaded guilty and was convicted on the charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to life on the chain gang.

Shortly after his imprisonment double shackles were placed on his feet, his legs were chained together with 20-foot chains, with a 16-pound ball on each. Picks were put on his legs which stuck his buttocks when he tried to walk fast.

Torture

Brown testified in the lower courts that he had been subjected to all sorts of cruel treatment which included being placed in a sweat box, a small structure in which a man can neither stand nor lie straight and which is exposed to the hot sun with no ventilation except a two-inch opening, with no toilet facilities or water. He was beaten with blackjacks, rubber hoses and other instruments, he said.

On December 19, 1937, he escaped and on June 21, 1940, was recaptured. Despite the promises of the Georgia prison authorities that the chain gang system was no longer in existence and that he would not receive the same kind of treatment he formerly did, the moment Brown was back in the State of Georgia, he was subjected to even more cruel treatment.

More Torture

Brown escaped again on September 22, 1940, and was at liberty until 1947 when he was recaptured. The treatment on his recapture was the same as before except for chains. The picks, sweat box and other weapons and instruments used to torture the prisoners were still in use.

On two occasions he was put in the "stretcher" which resembles a medieval rack. Once he was strung from a tree by the wrists and beaten until the blood dripped from his body. On another occasion when he had caught cold he was given a half pint of castor oil, staked to the ground and covered with molasses to attract insects and animals. On this occasion the warden's son urinated in his face.

In January, 1950, he escaped once more and fled to Philadelphia. In April, 1952, Brown was taken into custody and put into jail at the request of Gov. Talmadge, and an order of extradition was issued. His case was first taken to the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County for a writ of habeas corpus alleging that he had been subjected to cruel and unusual punishment while on the Georgia chain gang.

The trial judge who heard Brown and his witnesses accepted Brown's story as true but because of an earlier Supreme Court decision was compelled to deny the writ of habeas corpus. The case was then appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania which affirmed the lower court's finding.

In their brief, NAACP Legal Defense attorneys ask that Brown be freed on the grounds that (1) there was no effective legal remedy available to him in Georgia because the prison officials would not allow him to obtain legal aid; and (2) if he were to be returned to Georgia he would be subjected to cruel and unusual punishment.

Attorneys for Brown are Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel, and Jack Greenberg, assistant counsel, NAACP Legal Defense, and David Levinson of Philadelphia.

TO GIVE ANSWERS—Thurgood Marshall, NAACP chief counsel, will appear on NBC's radio and TV program "Youth Wants to Know," Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28. He will discuss school segregation.

Watts Doctor Arrested in Abortion Case

Dr. Edmond George Peters, 55, of 8723 Pleyka street, was arrested Wednesday morning and booked on a charge of suspicion of abortion.

The Sheriff's office was informed that a young white woman was suffering from the results of an abortion, and that the operation had reportedly been performed by Dr. Peters.

Detective Sergeants N. L. Hamilton and N. Peterson and Deputy Curtis Howard made the arrest.

J. B. Brown Files Appeal

An appeal was filed this week by Atty. Walter L. Gordon on behalf of his client J. B. Brown, sentenced several months ago to 10 years in the Federal penitentiary on four counts of dealing in narcotics.

Brown was first convicted in Oct., 1953, but won an appeal on his plea for a new trial. While he was out on bail the chief state witness, a government undercover agent, was killed. Brown, suspected of the fatal shooting, was arrested but was released for insufficient evidence.

On the retrial on the narcotics charges however, he was convicted on four counts and sentenced to 10 years on each count.

In filing a brief before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Atty. Gordon asked that the indictment be dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence, error in instructing the jury, misconduct on the part of the Assistant U. S. Attorney and on the additional grounds that the court abused its discretion in the prosecution of the indictment and secured

South Boycotts 'Trouble-Makers'

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi whites, ever since "Black Monday" — the name given by Southerners to May 17, the day the Supreme Court ruled separate-but-equal schools unconstitutional—have been organizing into semi-secret groups for the purpose of intimidating Negroes, "trouble-makers," who advocate compliance with the court decision.

While their main weapon at the present time is economic, there is strong evidence that if withholding of credit and other such measures fail in their purpose, violence will be used.

NAACP Target

While the pronouncements of the groups, known as Citizens' Councils, are basically aimed at the Negro, they are also anti-Semitic. Main target of the councils at the present time is the NAACP and "outside agitators."

Councils have been organized in 22 Mississippi counties. Like the old Ku Klux Klan and the other anti-Negro organizations that are mushrooming throughout the South, their rallying cry is "preservation of our southern heritage."

The first council was formed in Sunflower County's seat, the town of Indianola. Robert B. Patterson, a planter, was among the handful of whites present. On Oct. 12, at Winona, a state organization of the councils was set up with Patterson as executive secretary.

To Remove Agitators

Minutes of the first meeting were duplicated and distributed throughout the state to a carefully selected mailing list. Said one speaker at this meeting:

"It is the thought of our group that the solution to this problem may become easier if various agitators and the like could be removed from the communities in which they now operate. We propose to accomplish this through the careful application of economic pressures."

Their method of operation was illustrated in the case of one NAACP branch president, according to Dr. Emil J. Stringer, a young Columbus, Miss. dentist, state president of the association.

"A group of white men drove up to this man's store," said Dr. Stringer. "and told him to get in the car. . . . They took him to his bank and there were the banker, his wholesaler and other people who gave him credit. They told him they would give him no more . . . He had to give up, go bankrupt or get out."

Dr. Stringer, himself, asserts that he can get no credit anywhere in Mississippi.

Harold Lewis, Builder, Dies Of Heart Attack

Harold Roscoe Lewis, 34, president of Lewis Brothers Inc., the firm that in eight years grew from a two-man partnership to become one of Los Angeles' leading building contractors, is dead, victim of a heart attack.

His firm, which now employs 40 skilled workers, was the second Negro concern to become a member of the California Lathing and Plastering Association, and has recently obtained its general builders license.

Lewis, who served in Europe as an Army captain during World War II, and was a major in the Reserves at the time of his death, came to Los Angeles following his discharge in 1946 instead of returning to his home town, Columbus, Ohio, and, together with his brother, Wilbur, started out as lathing and plastering contractors.

In December, 1946, Lewis married Miss Betty Cabell, and the couple has one son, Harold Roscoe Lewis II, born Oct. 8, 1947.

His building proficiency lives on in the 8-unit apartment at 3942 Montclair Ave. and two newly-completed 12-unit apartment buildings on Manhattan Pl. near the Watkins Hotel, all of which he and his brothers own. A tribute to his ability may also be found in a 35-unit apartment on Coliseum Ave. in the Crenshaw district, and in modern buildings on Wilshire Blvd. and in the Hollywood Hills. Lewis was also a real estate broker and a member of Western Knights Lodge. He worked tirelessly until his demise. The end came to this inspiring builder at 2:30 Sunday morning.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, Nov. 27, 11:30 a. m., from the Apostolic Faith Church, 6520 S. Normandie Ave., Angelus Funeral Home officiating.

Besides his wife and son, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe D. Lewis; six brothers, four sisters, and a host of other relatives.

Supreme Court Ducks Ruling On Marriage

WASHINGTON — Alabama's 1868 law prohibiting marriage or sex relations between whites and Negroes was left untouched by the Supreme Court this week as it refused on technical grounds to review an Alabama decision upholding the statute.

The attempt to get Supreme Court review was made by Linnie Jackson of Florence, Ala., who was charged with having had relations with A. C. Burnham, a white man. The Alabama court convicted her and she got a two-year prison term.

In her appeal to the high court, Mrs. Jackson claimed the law violated the Fourteenth Amendment and denied her due process of law. The Supreme Court gave no reason for its refusal to review and lawyers pointed out that such a refusal does not necessarily indicate approval or that the judges believe the law is constitutional.

The law in question, first passed immediately after the Civil War, provides that "if any white person and any Negro shall marry or live in adultery each of them shall be imprisoned" for not less than two years. The Alabama constitution forbids the legislature from ever passing "any law to authorize or legalize marriage between any white person and a Negro."

The law did get before the Supreme Court in 1883 and was upheld as being constitutional at that time.

Fire Chief Promises (?) End of Segregation

Chief John H. Alderson treated the Board of Fire Commissioners to some fancy verbal fencing that apparently left everybody but the NAACP with the belief that he had seen the error of his ways and would reverse his racial segregation policy in the fire department within 30 days.

He told the Commission that he would give "careful attention to the interpretation" of its policy as adopted in a resolution last month. The Commission had ordered a policy of "gradual integration."

NAACP Attorneys Edward C. Maddox, Herbert Simmons and Loren Miller described the chief's statement as "evasive" and pointed out that he had made no direct promise to integrate and had not set any date for change in policy. Alderson told reporters he would "probably" begin some changes in 30 days.

"The petition to the Commission asking for abolition of racial segregation in the Fire Department was filed 16 months ago," the lawyers pointed out. "At least three deadlines have been set by making policy changes. Thus far not a single change has been made."

"The first consideration," Chief Alderson informed the Commission, "will be the welfare of the people of the city as a whole. The second consideration will be the welfare of the Fire Department as a unit of city government. The third consideration will be that as little harm or inconvenience be done to individual members of this department as possible."

"I think those are proper considerations," Richard K. Yeamans, Commission president, told Chief Alderson. "You are entitled to have reasonable time to begin this program."

Alderson later was asked what he considered a "reasonable time" and he replied, "Thirty days."

Letter Attacks Move

An open letter was filed with the Commission by Mrs. H. W. Courtois, secretary of the Keep America Committee, which attacked the integration move and members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People who have been active in its behalf.

An ordinance to ban the sale of objectionable comic books to children in Los Angeles County was ordered drawn up this week by the Board of Supervisors.

When she refused to stop he asked her if she would like to make $20. Then he threw her to the ground and fell on top of her. Her struggles and screams attracted a watchman, and the man fled.

Attempted Kidnap

Another incident occurred about 8:45 p. m. the same day. Miss Jeanne Rouzan, 21, a typist-clerk of 3861½ 2nd avenue, reported that three men drove up to her as she was nearing her home and attempted to kidnap her.

One of the men began dragging her to the car, but when she screamed he threw her to the ground. One of the other men yelled nervously, "Come on, man, let's go." Her would-be abductor jumped into the car and the auto sped away.

White Planter Accused of Beating Teen-age Mother

JACKSON, Miss. — In a report reminiscent of the days of slavery, a white Delta planter this week was accused of brutally beating a 16-year-old mother because she refused to leave her sick baby to go out into the field and pick cotton.

Husband of the teen-age woman, D. C. Lofton, charged in an affidavit that he escaped from the plantation after the beating, and asserted further that both his wife and their nine-month-old child are being held illegally.

Fears Trap

The planter, A. A. Mabus, reportedly has offered to release Mrs. Lizzie Belle Lofton, but wanted her husband to come for her. Lofton suspected a trap and refused to make the 125-mile trip back to the plantation alone.

An FBI probe of the charges has been promised. Dr. A. H. McCoy, president of the Mississippi State NAACP, stated here last Thursday.

Mrs. Lofton, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Richardson, who also worked on the Mabus plantation, were arrested on complaint of Mabus and charged with selling whiskey.

Upon arrival here Lofton sought the aid of the NAACP. Dr. McCoy appealed to Gov. Hugh White on behalf of the 21-year-old sharecropper. The Governor, Dr. McCoy reported, said he had no authority to intervene and demand the release of Mrs. Lofton.

Failing to get relief from the Governor, Lofton filed an affidavit with the district office of the FBI in Memphis.

Santa Monica NAACP Slates Nominating Meet

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Santa Monica branch of the NAACP will be held Nov. 26 at the Calvary Social Hall at 7:30 p.m.

In addition, there will be a presentation dealing with current issues regarding school desegregation and the accomplishments of the NAACP in the past 40 years.

There will also be prizes and surprises awarded by the California Eagle.

Music will be furnished by the venice youth chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Crawford.

Baby Dies as Nightie Catches On Bedpost

Mrs. Carlotta Crawford, 237 E. 54th street, last Saturday afternoon, went out into the backyard of her home to hang out the family wash.

When she went back into the house about 20 minutes later, she discovered that Vikkie, one of her 8-month-old twin babies, had fallen from the bed. The child's nightgown had caught on the bedpost, and had pulled tight around her neck. She was suspended, feet down.

When police arrived a few minutes later, the baby was dead, apparently a victim of strangulation. Police said there was no evidence of foul play.

We Still Need FEPC

The First Report of the President's Committee on Government Contracts is a rather thin document, both in terms of what it has done and in terms of future plans.

The Committee was set up by President Eisenhower "to promote the fullest utilization of all available manpower." Its professed objective is to eliminate discrimination "against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, color, or national origin" by employers holding government contracts.

Doubtless, the president and his advisors hoped that the Committee would be a substitute for fair employment legislation and that it would still the clamor for a federal FEPC.

The measure of the Committee's shortcoming may be seen from the fact that in a year it received only 30 complaints! Anybody superficially acquainted with the American scene knows that such a number falls far short of the number of instances in which there was discrimination in the nation. Of the 30 complaints received, 19 were against firms which did not hold governments contracts and hence were not susceptible to Commitee orders or rulings.

The figures just cited illustrate the fact that the average man who Is Alderson Kidding?

Fire Chief John H. Alderson announced last week that he will give "serious consideration" to carrying the Fire Commission's non-segregation ruling into effect.

We find it significant that the chief did not promise to obey the order. We place little reliance on his weaseling words about "serious consideration."

We find it significant, too, that Mr. Alderson failed to announce any concrete plan or procedure and that he did not set any date for beginning of an integration program.

Some Changes Needed

Los Angeles will elect four members of the Board of Education next spring. That election deserves serious consideration by citizens who are concerned with our educational system—and that means all of us.

The present Board is decidedly unsatisfactory. It has pretty well disrupted and destroyed what was once a fairly effective program of human relations in our schools. It has heeded the hue and cry of professional scare mongers and has come dangerously close to branding proponents of change in race relations as Reds, or worse.

For example, the Board has frightened its teachers into removing Mary White Ovington's story of the founding of the NAACP from its library shelves. A similar fate has overtaken Edwin R. Embree's book, "Thirteen Against the Odds." The Embree book is a rather simply written tale of 13 Negroes who triumphed over racial handicaps.

They Are 'Subversive'

Former Judge Waites Waring is quite correct in branding Governor James Byrnes of South Carolina as subversive in his attitude toward the Supreme Court's decision on racial segregation in the public schools.

Byrnes, Talmadge and others of their ilk have been quite open and frank in announcing that they will not abide by what the nation's highest tribunal says is the law of this land. If that isn't subversion we don't know the animal when we see it.

The Byrnes' attitude is in strik-

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

One of this century's most significant developments is the effort made by the Catholic Church in southern and border states to break the pattern of segregation in worship and education. Beginning with the diocese of St. Louis and now extending into Texas and Louisiana, a church-inspired movement has rolled ahead, opening to Negro parishioners and pupils worship and school facilities formerly reserved for whites only.

Lester Granger

Many non-Catholics are apt to pooh-pooh the importance of this development. They look upon it as a device for encouraging more colored people here and in other lands to accept the Catholic faith. They ask, "What's so remarkable about it?" All the bishop has to do is issue an order, and all good Catholics are bound to obey."

Superficial

This is a most superficial and imperceptive evaluation of a tremendous socio-religious development. Those who think this as easy as falling off a log should study up on what is actually happening in some of the areas where Catholic church leaders are standing exposed to racial bigotry and violence. They will find that the voice of church authority is not automatically obeyed. That a large and influential body of Catholic lay opinion resents and opposes church sponsorship on questions of social and racial justice and that a number of prelates have risked the prestige and stability of their dioceses in their determined battle against bigotry.

The Voice of St. Jude, published by the Claretinian Missionary Fathers, carries in its October issue an article on "What's Going On in Louisiana?" It starts off by quoting a "well-known Catholic" who writes a letter to the editor protesting against a Catholic editorial upholding the Supreme Court's decision on school segregation. Said the anti-Negro church member: "If you and the other supporters of this movement think Martin Luther gave the church a rough time, well you haven't seen anything yet."

Bitter

This sentiment is freely expressed, not only in Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, but also in Richmond, Washington and Baltimore, and other cities where the Catholic Church has taken steps to desegregate churches or schools, or both. In Louisiana the sentiment is more bitterly expressed only because the Church, led by Archbishop Joseph Rummel of New Orleans, Father L. J. Twomey of Loyola University, and Bishop Jules Jeanmard of Lafayette, have been attacking not only school segregation acts of the legislature, but also anti-union bills that hit at Negro workers with devastating force.

These bills are supported by some of Louisiana's most powerful interests. Without the opposition of strong Catholic leadership they would have rolled through without a question. As it is, no matter how the matter is temporarily disposed of, it will continue to challenge the conscience of all Catholics in the South, and, therefore, will play a strong role in finally settling school desegregation.

No Family Fight

So let's not consider this struggle as merely a Catholic family fight, or the racial issue theme as merely a clever proselyting device. The theme and the struggle are very much the business of all Americans—white or Negro, Protestant, Jewish or Catholic.

If the Church's best leadership is even temporarily stalled the whole lot of us lose—myself as an Episcopalian, you as a Baptist or you as a Reformed Jew—just because this struggle is bigger than denominationalism. It's bigger even than Americanism. It is Justice—one of the biggest things in the world today.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Thank you so much for sending me the issue of the New California Eagle.

I enjoyed reading it front page through to back. It's beautifully edited and put together.

And while I'm at it, may I also say, thank you for all your kindness to Dorothy Dandridge in the columns of your esteemed publication.

Kindest personal regards,
Orin Borsten

To the Editor:

Your newspaper was an important factor in impressing upon the voters, at the recent election, the critical need for a new Osteopathic unit at the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

As a result of such fine support, the Bond Issue was passed with a substantial majority.

We, of the Osteopathic Profession in Los Angeles County, wish to express our sincere appreciation and to assure you that we accept this support of the press and the people as an obligation to greater public service.

When the hospital is completed, the men and women of our Profession will be proud to share the responsibility of staffing it. I can assure you that our men and women will not fail your faith in us.

Milton S. Futterman, D.O.
President.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

It's about time we gave chase to be a good fellow. Christmas back to the kids.

There was a time when you said Christmas the first thing that popped into your mind was "Santa Claus." Now the first thing that comes to mind is "egg nog." Time was when carolling meant blended voices and honest-to-goodness Christmas cheer. Now, it means egg nog and blended spirits.

Sure, Santa still comes to the little ones but from this corner, it looks like the grown folks look forward to the arrival of the old gent more than do the small fry. For us ancients, Christmas has come to be a holiday from work, an extra day of loafing, a real good excuse to booze it up, and, if the opportunity presents itself, a chance to get out of town—away from it all.

Xmas Leads to Main St.

Christmas ought to be allowed to find it's way back to the church, too. Seems Main Street has become the altar of Christmas and all eyes (and pocketbooks) are pointed in that direction.

Saw an ad the other day that said something like, "At our store, Christmas begins on Thanksgiving day." They weren't fooling either. Come Turkey Day you won't be able to find the least testimony at the Shepherd trial for the ads. Brother, if you aren't frustrated before you read the ads, you'll be fractured when you finish.

When you see all the gimmicks the boys have dreamed up to get your money, you'll be crying in your beer wondering how in the world you are going to buy all the gifts the ad boys tell you you've just got to purchase to be a good fellow.

Tear Up List

And when you bite your lips and go down town to buy the stuff you "just can't get around," the crowds will push and shove you so much you'll wish you had the intestinal fortitude to say the heck with Christmas presents—ain't nobody on my list but a bunch of free loaders.

So what do you do? You think this whole matter of Christmas through. You remember what it is all about—the religious significance, the real meaning of giving gifts, the little ones who believe in Santa Claus.

Then you tear up your list and start all over. First, you list the kiddies. Then the members of your immediate family. Then the few people you know who have really been your friends through the year.

You do downtown early one morning and buy sensible gifts, except you splurge a little for the young 'uns. Then you hide them all in the closet and wait for Christmas.

This Is Christmas?

A few days before the Big One, you are flooded with gifts, cards and other articles. Some from people you know. Some from those you don't know and aren't interested enough to find out who they are. Then a gnawing feeling pricks your conscience.

You take it as long as you can but Christmas eve finds you in the middle of the last minute shoppers, buying, buying for people who had remembered you and for those you are afraid will remember you.

So the merchants get rich and you get more frustrated.

This is Christmas?

Segregation Hour Flayed by Minister

"The Hour of Maximum Discrimination" was the subject of an attack on Jim Crow church services given last week by Stephen H. Fritchman, minister of the First Unitarian church.

"I refer, of course," said Fritchman, to eleven o'clock Sunday mornings across this continent of ours. When I first heard a distinguished Negro leader use this phrase about the Sunday morning hour of worship in our churches I was truly shocked . . . for I had never so sharply realized this truth before.

"My intention is not to scold or complain but to face realities which are a part of practicing our professed religious principles. Little, until recently, has been said in our Protestant or Catholic churches about the hour of segregation. Along with the rest of our segregated culture, we preferred silence and looking the other way.

"But there is something revolting about the very words 'Jim Crow churches' which even a half sleeping conscience can comprehend and many people are beginning to say we can and must do something to end this major contradiction in America's religious life today . . .

"The Negro problem is, of course, really a white problem. It comes as a shock to many church people of good will who awaken to the hour of segregation on Sunday that many Negroes have no desire at all to come and worship with them. Negroes are very suspicious of printed or verbalized invitations to share in church activities with white members.

"They do not see Negroes at the head of committees, they do not see Negro ministers over white congregations, they feel the offer is one-sided and that it carries overtones of condescension. They see very few Negroes on faculties of white Protestant colleges which speak eloquently of interracial brotherhood. They find few Negro nurses indeed in church-supported colleges and almost no Negro doctors or surgeons on the staff.

"Negroes will not flock to white churches until restrictive covenants are a thing of the past and church people find Negro children and youth in their schools, their backyard game lots playing football, in their film houses and dance halls. The church can set a pace, and must if it is to survive as more than a museum piece in western civilization.

"The stark truth tonight is that no social institution in America is more segregated than the church at 11 a.m. Sunday. Yet it speaks of brotherhood and the solidarity of all God's creatures, which a ball park does not, nor a movie theater, nor a night club, which allows and secures more Negro participation than the church. . . .

"The gospel of Jesus, the Jewish working man, knew no discrimination, though few Sunday school papers portray him as other than an Anglo-blonde. The founding fathers of our nation started the trend toward an equal citizenry. It is for you and me to complete their glorious work."

Jeff Students Enter Driving Poster Contest

A record number of Jefferson High School students have entered this year's vision poster and essay contest.

This is an annual event held by the Vision Conservation Institute and California Optometrists. It is the aim of the sponsors to acquaint the motoring public of the importance of adequate vision. The theme of the contest is "Safer Driving through Better Vision."

BREAK DOWN THE WALLS, by John B. Martin.

This easy-to-read expose of American prisons uses the most dangerous prison riot in American history, the uprising at Jackson, Mich., in 1952, as a point of departure for a searching examination of the weaknesses of our prison system. The riot itself is described in vivid detail, with case histories of some of the leading criminals involved in it.

Martin then considers overcrowding, imperfect classification of criminals, difficulties of parole and rehabilitation, and other unsolved problems. Some of his solutions are startling and are based upon a new concept of penology that is worth the serious consideration of everyone.

FESTIVAL, by Leal Tucker.

Almost but not quite everyone in this novel is fictional, and as a result both music lovers who recognize the actual background and readers who want a good adult story will be delighted.

The festival of the story is an assembly of international musicians in a small Catalan village, devoting their talents to the performance of Bach. And the dominating force of the festival, the dedicated, sympathetic Old Man, can only be the cellist genius Pablo Cassals.

Both the picture of musicians at work, at play, and in conversation and the picture of sensitive, intelligent men and women working out their own problems in a dedicated atmosphere make this a story of great appeal.

THE JOURNAL OF EDWIN CARP by Richard Haydn

Poor Edwin Carp is a bachelor of forty-two with a difficult mother and a shrinking from life—he is engaged eight years before plunging into matrimony. He keeps a journal, showing his day by day difficulties in the boarding house he runs, his mild interests and pleasures, and the ups and downs of his timid life.

The result is excruciatingly funny, as everyone who has seen Richard Haydn in the movies might guess. Edwin Carp is so universal a character that we predict more will be written about him in the future.

THE BENCHLEY ROUNDUP by Robert Benchley

A selection of Robert Benchley's humorous pieces that will delight everyone. Nathaniel Benchley, playwright and New Yorker writer, has chosen some ninety favorites from his father's writings between 1915 and 1945. It is wonderful how these hold up, especially as humor is apt to become dated so quickly.

The good-natured insanity and the fun without malice or cruelty, that are hallmarks of Benchley, are as refreshing now as they ever were. The book is recommended for the confirmed Benchleyite and for those who will meet the master for the first time.

Hamilton's Choir is Leader Among City Choral Groups

It has been a tradition among music followers of the city that the senior choir of Hamilton Methodist Church holds its own as being one of the leading church choral groups.

When the present church building was purchased at 24th and Naomi streets, the senior choir, then under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Wortham, helped largely in liquidating the debt by singing engagements at some of the local churches of other racial groups throughout the city.

Nine months ago the church was fortunate in securing as Minister of Music, Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew. Musically gifted, Mrs. Bilbrew was a student at USC under the late Dean Skeele. Her work with choral groups has been lauded throughout the country. She has presented musical groups in some of the country's finest music halls and has won special acclaim at the Academy of Music and the Town Hall in Philadelphia.

At the organ at Hamilton is Dorothea Vincent, a young woman who has grown up in Hamilton and who has served as the church's efficient organist for a number of years. She is a product of Wilkins' School of Music.

Mrs. Bernice Lawson, one of the city's finest pianists and a USC graduate, is the pianist for the choir.

The senior choir takes care of its own expenses, such as the purchase of robes, music, and the pianist's salary.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Bilbrew, the choir has been given a cultural arrangement section. The singers are grouped into four sections, the Roland Hays group, the Marian Anderson group, the Dorothy Maynor group, and the Azalia Hackley group. Each section is responsible for a certain financial quota each month.

By popular demand the minister, Rev. John N. Doggett, and the senior choir will be guests on the Angelus Hour for the month of December.

STANFORD FASSETT

Concert Artist In Recital Sun.

The Senior Choir of Hamilton Methodist 24th and Paloma streets will present bass baritone Stanford Fassett of Pittsburgh, in concert, Sunday, Nov. 28, at 4 p.m.

Fassett is a product of Settlement Music School under Jill Carretnay and will sing songs of Brahms, Handel, Mozart, Verdi, A Fiegel Cycle.

He will close a spiritual group with William T. Wiens' "I'm Climbing Jacob's Ladder." Bernice Lawson will accompany him.

Bowen Memorial Presents H. Booker, Organist, Dec. 14

Henry Booker, internationally known Organ soloist of New York City, will be one of the guest artists for the evening program on Men's Day, Sunday, Dec. 14 at Bowen Memorial Methodist Church, E. 36th and Trinity Street.

Booker, a graduate of Oberlin College and the University of Chicago, was tutored by Marcel Dupree of Paris Conservatory of Music. He is formerly head of the Music Department of Lincoln University and head of the music department of Dillard University of New Orleans.

Oscar Plant, the director of music for Men's Day, is a graduate of Wiley College.

Rev. J. Earle Hines will be the special guest. Rev. Hines is known from coast to coast for his fine gospel singing and climbed to fame as the Director of Music at one of the largest Baptist churches in Cleveland.

The Simmons Akers music has been acclaimed by gospel singers as the group's best recording. "Prayer," "Grow Closer" and "God Spoke To Me," are favorites.

Churchmen Urged to Back 'Deathless Sunday' Dec. 15

Dr. Frederick Bailes, Director of the Science of Mind Church, Monday issued an earnest plea to all ministers of every denomination and to the members of their congregations and to his vast radio listening audience to join in a statewide "Deathless Sunday" effort.

Appalled by the information that over the past week-end Sunday has witnessed the tragic death of an average of 13 persons in highway crashes, Dr. Bailes declared, "Why must we as a Christian people desecrate the one day set aside for worship and meditation by wantonly and criminally killing our fellow men in needless traffic accidents?"

PREP SCOREBOARD

By Al Chism

GAME OF THE WEEK

The game of the week, Poly vs. Bell for the Eastern League crown, was won by the Eagles with some fine passing by their big gun Jim Everett, who passed them to a 19-12 win, and all the Eastern League marbles.

Poly held its own for the first half, as it ended with a T.D. for both clubs, with both missing the extras.

In the third quarter, after Myers intercepted a Poly pass, the Eagles started to march. With Everett using his ends, Myers and Blum, for yardage and fine running by Brainard and Resnik, he hit his halfback McKenzie on the 10. Mellon of Poly missed his tackle, and Bell scored. McKenzie booted the point after and Bell lead 13-6.

After the kickoff Poly failed to gain. A Washington fourth down attempted punt went haywire, due to a bad pass from center and Bell took over on the Mechanic 14.

Brainard then took a pitchout and scored another for Bell. The conversion was missed.

Poly's score came when Carroll of Bell batted down an attempted pass into the hands of Charles Edwards, who made a fine catch, and by Brady Keys, their last year's all-city back, who has been handicapped all seasons by injuries from the one.

Jordon Goofed

Banning High's defending Marine League champs came from behind to beat Jordon's Bulldogs 20-13, due to some loose ball handling by the Jordons which proved costly. Reed and Strauther accounted for the scores.

Look Out L. A.

Manual Arts, paced by the flashy Earnel Durden, who boosted his scoring to 78 points with runs of 37, 10 and 81 yards, dumped Roosevelt 60-12. Gridiron went for 25 and 38, Manson for 42, and Penn for 25 on a pass from Allen. This will be a tough quartet to stop in the city playoffs.

Come Back

Jefferson High's Demos came back after last week's loss to Manual by beating Garfield 56-6. Hall and Dixon scored a pair each. A pair by the Mitchell Bros. Butler and Bratton one each.

L. A. High kept a clean slate by squeaking by University 13-7 for their third straight Western title. Hardon scored another.

Mesa Sidelights

According to reports your reporter picked up in the Mesa press box, the Centennial Apaches can thank their lucky stars the Mesa big gun Bill Crabtree, two years all-state halfback, didn't see any action due to a broken ankle. From what I heard he's the "MOST."

Livingston, Jackson and Merrill were good enough for yours truly, and the Q.B., Ralph Hunsanker, looked better than Albert's at this stage.

Lost Dutchman Lodge

When traveling through Mesa, for hospitality plus, stop at A. E. Voss' Lost Dutchman Lodge on Highway 87, south of Mesa.

Laugh of the Week

One member of coach Wade's squad asked, "Coach, if it's all the same to you, I'll eat some greens instead of the steak, as the one yesterday didn't agree with me." That Mesa good living must have been too much.

Remember the Name

Picked up this information on the trip. The students of Phoenix Union are still thanking state officials for going along with this integration deal. It made it possible for them to pick up a lad across the tracks by the name of Greathouse who ran and passed them to the Class AA championship.

Responsible for Arizona's victory were a "bad" beige quartet, Willie Peete, lineman, and backfield star Livingston, both first stringers. Substitutes were Russell "The End" Cook and Bobo, one big thrill.

Saxton Will Meet Fuentes At Olympic

World welterweight champ Johnny Saxton, most controversial figure in boxing, will meet Ramon Fuentes at the Olympic Auditorium next week — Thursday, Dec. 2. The bout will not be televised.

Monday night, Don Jordan, twice conqueror of Art Ramponi, defends his state lightweight title against colorful Manny Renteria. If the labor dispute at KHJ-TV has been settled, this one will be televised.

This will be Saxton's 50th pro battle; his first since he won the title from Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia on Oct. 20. The verdict which gave Johnny the crown has been cussed and discussed more than any in a dozen years.

For Fuentes it will be his 35th scrap; he has lost three, knocked out 11. Saxton has lost only two out of his 49 pro battles, won 19 by knockouts.

The Jordan-Renteria ruckus promises to be a sensational one. Jordan has lost but two of his last 521 fights; Renteria one of 18. Don defeated Art Ramponi in his last Olympic start; Renteria knocked out Lavert Smith, who had given Buddy Evatt a terrific argument for 10 rounds on the Rancho Los Amigos charity card at South Gate.

Centennial Takes 40-13 'Bad Beating' From Mesa High

By AL CHISM
Eagle Staff Representative

MESA, Ariz. — They separated the men from the boys down here in Mesa when the Centennial High School football team was swamped by Mesa High by a 40-13 score. Coach Edgar "Mutt" Ford, and his Mesa High Jackrabbits must have failed to read Centennial's advance press clippings, and took the Apaches apart on the winners' home turf before a large and surprised homecoming crowd.

The most surprised people on the lot were the "Cents" themselves, who might have figured the Rabbits fit for the kill before entering the C.I.F. playoffs, but found the Mesa briar patch a little rough.

The victory for the Mesas, who finished second in the Arizona Class A.A. League, were looking for their ninth win in ten starts, losing only to Phoenix Union High, 13-7, league champs.

First quarter opened as Mesa kicked off and Lowe returned to the 32. On the first play Lowe was stopped for no gain. McCrumby then carried for 8. On fourth Pollard kicked to Jackson of Mesa, who made a 28-yard runback. Jackson then hit the middle for 11 more. Next play cost the Apaches 5 more for offside. Jackson then took a pitchout from his quarterback, Ralph Hunsaker, and rambled for 32 yards to the 5, where McNeal stopped him from behind on a beautiful shoestring tackle. Hunsaker then sneaked for the T.D., kicked the conversion, and Mesa, after an 80-yard march, lead 7-0.

Mesa again kicked off, and this time Campbell returned 30 yards. Lowe hit Slaughter for 8, and then a beautiful toss to Allen for 55 yards, and the Centennial touchdown in two plays. The extra point was made, and the game deadlocked 7-7 with only six minutes elapsed.

Jackson took the kickoff, and returned to the Rabbit 20. Hit hard, he fumbled and Pollard recovered for Centennial on the 18. Andrews and McCrumby picked up a few yards, but an offside placed the ball back to the 18 yard line. Here Lowe hit end Lee Sampson for another 6 for the Apaches. The extra point attempt was blocked by the hard-charging Willie Peete of Mesa, who played all the way, and the score was 13-7 in favor of the locals, after 7 minutes, 28 seconds.

Another kickoff and a goodie, picked up by Jackson of Mesa, hit hard by the twins on the 7 yard line. A no gain, and a recovered fumble, forced Hunsaker to kick. It was a poor one, going out on the Mesa 11 yard line, but a roughing of the kicker gave Mesa a first down. After punt exchanges, the quarter ended.

The second started for the Apaches with two incomplete passes. On third down Lowe to Slaughter for a first on the Mesa 40. A reverse for no gain. Porter got off a wobbly pass, intended for his end, but was picked off by Jackson for Mesa on the 37. The Mesa QB spotted his end, Steverson, for 36 yards. A handoff, fumbled by Jackson, was recovered on the 27 by McNeal for Centennial. Failing to make yardage, Pollard's punt was picked up by Owens on the Mesa 25, lateraled to Jackson, who moved into Apache territory. The Rabbits hit for more yardage, then a nice piece of faking by Hunsaker, a strike to Steverson for 32 yards, and a Mesa T.D. The attempt was made, and Mesa lead 14-13 with four minutes left in the quarter.

At this point Centennial fought back, with a 56 yard pass to Andrews, to the Mesa 20 yard line. With time for one play Lowe's pass fell incomplete in the end zone, and the gun sounded.

The start of the second half marked the first time in nine straight games coach Wade's boys were forced to take the field on the short end of the score, and it must have taken its toll, because from there in it was all Mesa.

The running of Jackson, Livingston and Merrill was masterful.

BOWLING —with— LEWIS RUSS

The racks were booming up and down, and balls ploughing into the maple as the Sunset Bowling League teed off Saturday night at the Studio Bowl.

"Grand Central Bar-B-Cue" were belting the sticks and piling the stuff up to set back ever trying "Neals' Liquors" two games to one. Billie Hampton, the pocket ball specialist, mowed down timber bowling 223-223 and 192 games for a 638 high series. The house donated a turkey for fowl day best series. Hamp, last seen was chuckling in saying turkeyed for a turkey. Eddie Irving, the little man with the big ball was licking his chops as he blew his top with a 596 series. Floyd Lawrence of Neals' wasn't just hanging around uncorking a 586 series.

Over on another pair of alleys, "Lee's Hi Hats" were blasting away and tilting the lumber to down hard fighting "Brown Motors" two games to one. Edgar Benson, the soft ball cutie, peeled off the logs with a 245 high game and a 567 series. Edward McFall had a hungry look but a serious thought walloping the wood for a 590 series.

"B and B" were chucking well and blanked the "Pick Uppers" three games to none. Hubert Pickett shot his wad at the drum sticks as he paced his team with a 234 game and a 592 series. "Timber Ticklers" out bowled "Redricks" two games to one. L. V. Miller shooting consistently. "Garretts" tamed the "Lewis Bros." two games to one. In racking the wood back, some one has asked, "if I am a bowler"? oh, yeh! A wood fumbling, timber tilter who just last week plastered the stuff to gloat over a 562 series.

Cureton Stars As UCLA Bruins Defeat Trojans

By JOHN A. MORRIS

"We'll bounce back," says Coach Jess Hill of USC. This may well be true. At least they proved that they have the necessary resilience, as the Bruins of UCLA drubbed them all over the field in the 34-0 massacre last Saturday. The Trojans invade (Ha!) South Bend next Saturday, where Terry Brennan's Men of Notre Dame will no doubt practice handball for sixty minutes. Then comes the Tournament of Roses, which will probably be another case of "Sending a baby for the beer." We wonder how the Uclans will feel who, only if they buy tickets, will be watching the Trojans shamefully represent them against the Ohio State juggernaut.

With Cureton in the lead spot, the Bruin line kept Contratto, USC's vaunted passing ace, bottled up throughout the game. This action, as well as the glue-fingered antics of Rommie Loudd and Clarence Norris, helped to reduce the House of Hill to a shambles.

For a while it looked as if anyone who missed the first quarter missed all the action. But in the final period, the darlings of the PCC started adding points to their seven-point lead in the basketball tradition which seems to be a habit with them this year. Final score: UCLA-34, USC-0. Please don't send flowers.

The Ohio State-Buckeyes broke a 7-7 stalemate in the final quarter Saturday, and earned themselves a Big Ten title and a chance to play against the USC "team" come New Year's Day. The smashing Bucks fumbled the Wolverines of Michigan 21-7. They did it in spite of the fact that the Wolverines could play man-to-man defense, instead of having to double up on State's most valuable player, Bobby Watkins, who was hurt early in the first quarter.

Despite lack of opposition, it should still be interesting to watch the Bucks in action in the Rose Bowl Game.

Howard University of Washington, D.C., will play host to Lincoln of Pennsylvania in the "Turkey Day" classic that began in 1894. This is their forty-ninth meeting, and while Howard holds a slight edge, 21 games to 18 with eight ties, Brother, you can throw away the record books. Howard was the winner last year, 12-7. The boys in the know rate this year's contest even money.

Social Leaders to Attend League's 1st Winter Ball

Reservations have been received from New York, Chicago, Detroit, Denver, Phoenix, Tucson and San Francisco for the first Winter Ball sponsored by the National Urban League Western Division on Dec. 10 at the beautiful, newly decorated Deauville Club overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Santa Monica.

The Hon. Fletcher Bowron, former mayor of Los Angeles, is the ball chairman, with Mrs. Leo Spitz, wife of Universal-International producer, along with Mmes. Loren Miller and Wayne Howard as vice-chairmen. Mrs. Hedda Hopper and Mrs. Paul Williams head the patrons' committee.

Music will be provided by two great bands plus a long list of local, national and international stars that are being lined up by Anne Reher, Allen Rivkin and Victor Stoloff, who head the entertainment committee.

Breathtaking, fabulous furs, full-length coats and sophisticated stoles, you will see them all when Teitelbaum of Beverly Hills shows his winter fur collection, spotlighting the gorgeous and oh so expensive "pink mink" as one of the ball's features.

Among those who have already indicated they will be on hand for this gala first affair are: Mr. and Mrs. John Credelle of Venice, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goodlow, Mrs. Cody Bonds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caines, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. James Garrott, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Katherine Sims, Mrs. Emily A. Johnson, Mrs. Mae Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Rochell Mounts, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams.

Atty. and Mrs. David Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams, Mrs. Geraldine Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. Sven Reher, Mrs. Mary Starks, Mrs. Aldena Smith, Mrs. Irving Tabor, Dr. and Mrs. Warner Wright, Dr. and Mrs. George Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Mr. Paul Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fanning, Dr. and Mrs. John Somerville and Mr. Glenn Ford.

"HIP-HAPPY" ANNA LOUISE will be among the many "moving" entertainers at the Mohawk Rollers & Rollerettes Club cocktail "party and frolic" Sunday, November 28th, at the California Club, Adams' Annex.

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Quite a hassle deciding on just who will handle the publicity anent National Urban League's Operation Club Deauville. So they asked Fay Jackson, December speaker for Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast Club assembly at the Clark: Judge Stanley Mosk, Chappie Bryant reaches New York Sunday night, but radio-ant.

Gwen Gordon's granddaughter mending nicely after a fall which necessitated stitches. Eleanor Jackson and Edna McCormick roughing it Thanksgiving day, driving casually up the coast, dining at the Santa Barbara Biltmore, heigh-ho. Mrs. Lillian Black, on the first leg of a lengthy trip east, won't return here until April.

Travel Bound

Nora Holt eyeing European travel tour folders. She may include Marian Anderson's Met debut. Elsie Foster got over a virus which had her moping restlessly around the house. She has tremendous vitality and loves life. Otis Rene in the Far East on a 17-week tour; his bass fiddle within reach. Monte Hawley's father died here.

Add Thanksgiving full-house plans: Mauvolene and Elliot Carpenter, Detroit's Dit Stephens (she's as much at home here as there); is trying valiantly to interest her sidekick buddy Theresa Lindsey in joining her on a gay jaunt to Mexico City and environs. Sunday benefit tea: At Fannie and Arvant Benjamin's, given annually by Independent Church for the sick and needy.

Stork Date

Reba Butler's stork date set for approximately New Year's (a-loudering, or thereabout). The Little Club met Friday at her place. Accent was, of course, a surprise shower. Dorothy Razaf at Harriet Johnson's and Betty Clark's Le Caribe party last Saturday, beaming with much-to self-satisfaction. After years of chain smoking she now doesn't smoke at all. Mate Andy absolutely thunderstruck.

Gained a Son

Ex Angeleno Christine Meade (she used to head the Will Rogers Park housing project) gained a son last week when her daughter Vivian (she's on the Seattle YMCA staff), wed an Army officer in Germany.

Pink-Lady sipping at the Crescendo the other night, Mil Blount, leaning across a dark-eyed friend from Cuernavaca, murmurs to us: "I'm not showing any hats at the National Urban League Ball and I don't know how that got out!" Mil created the wedding veil for Friday's bride-to-be, Barbara Bakestraw.

Quietly Shy

Florence and Jim Philips have a consistent sincerity about their warm niceness which I admire so very much. By the way, did you know Jim (he's almost quietly shy about it) is a first-rate lyricist. Kitty White is interested in some of his material. And Kitty is increasingly interested in her own prospects of going to Europe, come to think.

Marge Stewart, smartly turned out, Ebony Showcasing it last Tuesday night with friends. Part-time Angeleno Rev. Walter Bryant returned stateside after his recent leisurely exploration of Cuba and Nassau via Miami. The junior Kelsey Pharr hosted a 30-guest sit down supper party for him in Miami's swankiest pale-face hotel, no less.

EPI's met at Margery Broady's Monday night.

DOWN MEXICO WAY—Miss Martha Boulogne Guerrero, secretary, and Morris Williams Jr., are here this week on a good-will tour from Mexico City, where Williams operates the only Negro-owned and managed travel agency.

Travel Agent Tells of South-of-Border Thrills

Morris Williams, Jr., only American to own and operate a successful travel agency in Mexico, arrived in Los Angeles this week to promote more specific knowledge of the travel advantages of such ideal tourist spots as Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Taxco and Acapulco, and to bring assurance of the goodwill and hospitality of our Mexican neighbors to American travelers, vacationing south of the border.

Through motion pictures, posters, and detailed explanations, Williams is revealing the scenic beauties and colorful charm which make up the picturesque land of Spanish-Indian Mexico.

Special Service

Established four years now, the Morris Williams, Jr. and Associates Agency handles some 750 travelers from all over the United States every year. The special service organization is thoroughly adept at working out individualized itineraries for tourists of all ages and tastes. Standard "package tours" are also popularly followed by many vacationers.

Mr. Williams' Agency works in cooperation with the Mexican Tourist Bureau, as well as with all accredited travel agents in cities of the United States, in addition to leading agents in Europe and Latin America. His services include the utilizing of the best hotels, restaurants and transportation facilities in all parts of Mexico. English-speaking guides of many seasons' experience make up the bulk of his staff.

A former student at Howard University and a cum laude graduate of Mexico City College, where he starred on both basketball and football teams, Morris Williams, Jr., is well suited to bring travel pleasure to his fellow Americans. Fluent in Spanish and an authority on contemporary Mexico, he points proudly to a record of more than 2,000 completely delighted clients-become-friends who have seen and experienced Mexico under his guidance.

The wonderful aromas that fill the house at Thanksgiving and Christmas time issuing from spices and cookies, mince and pumpkin pie, turkey with its complimentary onion, sage and celery flavors takes one back to childhood memories of the holiday season. The spirit of thankfulness and giving made everyone exert himself to make those around him happier. The wonderful feeling of mystery surrounding the arrival of packages from the grocery and department stores. The eventual display of these articles on the dinner table or around the festive tree made the young in heart feel that surely their mother was a fairy with a magic wand to make everything so colorful and taste tempting.

The traditional fruit bowl laden with red apples, blue grapes, yellow pears, bananas and oranges, brown nuts and colorful persimmons surrounded with fall leaves, continues to make the children dance in anticipation of sampling of the centerpiece.

Holiday deserts that can be prepared ahead of eating time are always in demand. A friend sent me this recipe for persimmon pudding which should appeal to those who like rich pudding to serve hot or cold. She bakes it in a pottery or cookery bowl for three hours at 350 degrees. For it use 14 large ripe persimmons, mashed and run through a collonder. Mix 1 teaspoon soda into 4 cups flour, stir 3 cups sugar into the persimmon pulp, add 1½ quarts milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter, and three eggs beaten together. Mix in the flour well and pour into greased bowl. This makes a large pudding and swells as it cooks. When cool it may be stored in the refrigerator and used as desired, either cold or hot.

Sharing cooking secrets is true generosity and I am grateful to my friend for having sent in this recipe. If you have a favored treat why not share it with our readers? You will be given credit for sending it in. This contributor said, "Just print the recipe, don't mention my name."

For a change in vegetable with your turkey add chestnuts to your creamed onions and serve them in a spinach ring.

The North hand will not be shown as he was never in this except to follow suit. South opened one no-trump. West and North passed. East bid two spades. West two no-trump, and East three spades. At this point South felt he had had enough so he doubled. This ended the auction.

Consult Partner

The moral here is that one good hand may not always be enough and that partner should always be consulted. In this case, if the contract was to be doubled, it should have been by the North player. If he couldn't double, chances are the bid could be made.

To start with, South opened one-no-trump with 15 points, which is one point short under the system he was playing which requires 16 points in high cards. And when West bid two-no-trump over two spades, he just thought she didn't know what she was doing.

Turned Pale

South led a spade and turned pale when the dummy was laid down. He had put most of those cards in declarer's hand and realized that he would be lucky to hold East to his contract, much less set him. As it turned out, that's exactly what happened. East passed, leading such a number as to give South two heart tricks, and the ace of clubs. The second club went on the board, as at one other table. East had made four spades doubled.

It only takes seven points to raise a no-trump bid, so South knew North had six or less. After West made the key bid of two no-trump, South should have come to the conclusion that North's cards and should have passed. Without going into details, there is no defense against four spades.

Mattiwilde Dobbs In Concert Here

Alpha Gamma Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will sponsor Mattiwilde Dobbs, internationally known coloratura soprano, in concert at the Philharmonic March 1.

The home of Mrs. Mary King, 2940 South Harvard, was the busy scene in which the public relations section of the Ways and Means Committee, consisting of Alice Long, chairman; Burnette Durham, Lillian Bush, Lucille Wyndon, Muriel Spaulding and Rudell Slay distributed tickets to the 20 members who will serve as captains for the teams selling tickets.

Among the captains present to receive instructions and tickets were Corinne H. Ashby, Patricia McLeod, Harriette Williamson, Neosho Tatum, Reatha Beck, Ruth Redd, Vera Lee, Inez Brown, Alma Shaw, Ernestine Hiblet, Noblesse Hill, Shirley Green, Harryette Harris, Benzell Graham, Bernice Galloway, Nira Hardon, Lovie Spann, Susie Hawkins, Norma Earles and Vesta Smith.

Jessie McDaniel, Basileus Vivian Strange, General Chairman, Mary King, Kathryn Tolbert Sims and Eugenia Scott were present to give their support to the project.

Iota Lambda Enjoys Fall Rush Social

Alpha Phi Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority held its Fall Rush Party at the lovely Hillcrest Ave. home of Soror Evelyn Brown, president of the Alpha Phi chapter.

Sorority colors of green and white were prevalent in beautiful table decorations of white mums. Rushees answering bids to the mock jury trial were: Joan Gibson, Leola Banks, Lois Davis, Dorothy Gilchrist, Virginia Kemp, Gwendolyn Moss, Theressa Allen and Carrie Fisher.

The jury was composed of members of the chapter, Evelyn Brown, Wylene Jones, Leoma Williams, Thelma Robinson, Mabel Thomas, Jessie Mae Wheaton, Mary F. Oliver, Essie M. Keesee, Alma Dickenson, Lucile Reynolds, Audrey Brantley, Marguerite Paxton, Doris Galloway, Edna Woodward and Dean of Pledgees Frankye O. Wilson.

In an after-meeting Mabel Thomas, transferee from Beta Tau chapter in Sacramento, passed the traditional box of chocolates announcing her engagement.

Iotas Stage Turkey Raffle

Alpha Phi Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority holds its regular monthly meeting Saturday, November 20th at the home of Mary Frances Oliver with Doris Galloway as co-hostess. After the regular business meeting presided over by the president, Evelyn Brown, Thelma Robinson, Chairman of the Annual Turkey Raffle held the drawing. Winner of this year's turkey with all the trimmings was Miss Jean Hilliker of 280 S. Grand View.

During the social hour Miss Ellen Station of the Sample Shops presented a fashion parade with Annette Grubbs and Gracie Annay modeling the latest wear for milady. Present were: Frankye Wilson, Wylene Jones, Marguerite Paxton, Gladys Stafford, Myrtle Wharton, Edna Woodward, Alma Dickenson, Doris Galloway, Doris Hawkins, Thelma Robinson, Mary Frances Oliver, Evelyn Brown, Essie Keesee, Leoma Williams, Lucile Reynolds, Mildred Thomas.

Sigmas Enjoy Founder's Week

The Sigmas of Los Angeles celebrated their 32nd Founder's Week last week at the home of Fannie Benjamin.

Eunice Johnson of Alpha Nu Chapter, the youngest member present, told what the sorority means to her.

Jewell Anderson highlighted some of the outstanding Sigma personalities, while Delphene Severin, Sigma basileus, gave the history of the sorority.

Sunday evening the Sigmas and friends met at the home of Mrs. Crosland and in a body enjoyed a delightful dinner at Bit O' Sweden.

YMCA Group to Sponsor Affair

The Gradale Sorority of the 28th Street YMCA will present its first annual tea Sunday afternoon at the YMCA annex Nov. 28, from 4 p. m. till 7 p. m.

The event will give the sorority a chance to show off the improvements made in the building by the combined efforts of Kenneth Morris, executive secretary, Manley Johnson, assistant executive secretary, and other staff members. Peggy Echols is the president of the sorority.

COED QUEEN—Miss Sallie Frances Stevenson, a junior in the College of Liberal Arts at Johnson C. Smith University, was Homecoming Queen at the Chester, S.C., school.

Deltas Initiate Student At Impressive Ceremony

Edith Weeks was made a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority in an impressive ceremony Saturday at Wilfandel Club, during Nu Sigma's third meeting of the year. Miss Weeks, an exchange student from Liberia, is attending the University of Southern California.

Dance Committee Chairmen Ruth C. Robinson and Judith McElroy brought perfected plans before the group for the annual "White Christmas Dance" held each year the week following Christmas. Jeep Smith and his orchestra will provide the music for the gala affair to be held at the Zenda Ballroom on December 28th. Other members of the committee are Thelma J. Mitchell, Pearl Monroe, Helen Pipkin, Charlesetta Sterling, Danellyn Mabry and Helen J. Lomax, all of Nu Sigma. Undergrad members are Charlene Smith and Mattye Page, Pi and Mary Alice Walton and Clara Ware of Upsilon Chapters.

Mary Glenn and Myrtle Porter saw that the famed "Freedom Seal" was passed among those present to enable the sorority to fulfill its pledge to the NAACP.

Inez Middleton, chairman of Founders' Day Committee, gave a report on possible dates and places for the annual banquet.

League Holds Monthly Meet

The Cosmopolitan Hotel served as a Sunday morning meeting place for the League of Allied Arts monthly meeting. After breakfast they were introduced to some rare film art presented by Professor Williams Mehring, head of the department of cinematology of the University of Southern California and producer of many education film series.

The first film was one of Mexican culture titled "Quetzalcoatl," done entirely with pre-Colombian art objects. The second was a scene from Pierre Van Paasen's "Days of Our Years," called "Street of Our Lady," and the third was a film directed to students of Chaucer, narrated in Old English, the familiar "Canterbury Tales." The film was photographed in part at Huntington Library using the original Chaucer volume reputed to be worth at least a million dollars. Mrs. James Garrott is program chairman for the League.

OUR SCHOOLS

DORSEY HIGH P.T.A.

Several welfare projects have been undertaken by the Dorsey High School P.T.A. A special fund was sent to the adopted school for a Christmas treat as well as canned goods collected at the pot-luck luncheon held in the home of Mrs. G. Wallace Kendrick, 3944 Degnan boulevard, on Nov. 18. At these regularly scheduled luncheons serving is done for the Needlework Guild. Dorsey P.T.A. also will contribute to University Council P.T.A.'s Christmas project.

Lee, President; John Moses, Treasurer; Jereline De Bose, room mother; Gladys Pickett, Hostess; Virginia Kimbo, School Education; Lillie Mae Smith, Health; Zelma Andres, Red Cross and Community Chest; Memphis Howell, Founders' Day; and John Smith, Publicity and Secretary.

The public is invited.

Honor Leaders With Lavish Tea

Dr. Vela Somerville opened her home last Friday, Nov. 12, for a tea honoring 75 community leaders supporting the National Urban League Western Region's Winter Ball. The ball is to be held at the Beau-ville Club, Santa Monica, on Friday, Dec. 10.

Heralded as one of the outstanding events of the social season, the ball has attracted national interest. Outstanding Hollywood and New York notables will attend. Admission to the affair is by invitation only.

Mesdames Juanita Miller, Antoinette Atkinson and Betty Howard assisted Dr. Somerville as hostesses.

QUALITY as personified by radio commentator Bass Harris is what's making his pulse rating soar on KFI each Saturday morning between eight and nine. You're "at home with BASS HARRIS," who opens and closes the doors of his showplace that's a go-place and provides a musical get-together for you and yours.

LILLIE MONTGOMERY, most active member of the N.A.A.C.P. Special Activities Committee, will personally welcome a capacity crowd to its Ball Frolic Sunday, November 28th, 6 to 10 p.m. at the Beverly Chateau. Two grand bands headed by L. McNiles and Great Gates will furnish a complete variety of music and entertainment.

GERALD WILSON, EARL JOHN GRIFFIN AND JOE ADAMS, from left, were three of the first friends of Edward L. "Abie" Robinson to concern themselves about Southern California's most dynamic "fourth estater." Each of the trio interrupted his hectic schedule to do all that he could for the good brother Robinson, who is presently recuperating at his "crib."

"LIKEABLE" LULA BENDY, popular proprietress of DYNAMITE'S, 4700 S. Central Avenue, active community worker, entrepreneur and inspirational wife of Ernest Bendy, assisted Dynamite in burning the mortgage on their popular Central Avenue bistro. Lula and Ernie are positive proof that in union there is strength.

Dapper Dan's Band on Hand At Swingland

Joe Houston, "The Wild Man of the Tenor Sax" and now considered one of the most up and coming showman of all time, brings his noted six-piece combo into the Club Oasis, Western at 38th beginning Friday, November 26.

Texas Tooters

Appropriately named, Joe Houston is originally from

JOE HOUSTON

Houston, Texas. Joe began his musical career in high school and within the short span of two years, has risen practically from the unknown ranks to a top box office attraction.

Commercial Record

Houston, having a top record seller on the market, "All Night Long," rated third in the Cash Box magazine and fourth in the "musical bible," Billboard, is one of the most discussed musicians of the day. Recording on such labels as Modern, Specialty, and Money Records, Houston has produced such hits as "Blow Joe Blow," "Earthquake," and "Saber Jet."

Also on the Oasis bill of entertainment is that sultry, exotic dancer, Scottie Joyce and famed Effe Smith.

Carmen Jones Making 'Mint' For Theatres

By JOHN MORRIS

We only wish that we could devote this entire review to the heartwarming treatment accorded us by William Roberts, manager of the Los Angeles Theater. Instead, it is our painful duty to opine concerning the feature currently running there. We could probably avoid the issue by asserting, quite correctly, that the accompanying Tom and Jerry cartoon was superb. We shall, however, further wound our intelligence, which has been quite effectively assaulted by the motion picture, "Carmen Jones".

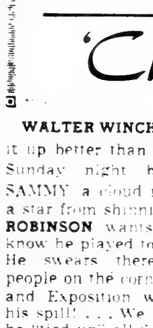
Over-Played—Under-paid

First, all the characters, with two noteworthy exceptions, spoke their lines so mechanically that one is tempted to wonder if they wore contact lenses with the script printed on them. The exceptions were Olga James and, of course, Pearl Bailey.

'Dough' for Otto

Mr. Preminger is making monkeys of the boys on Wall Street, who claim you can't make a fortune without investing. The film "Oklahoma" is reportedly working on a six-million dollar budget. This is more than twenty times the amount spent on "Carmen Jones", it still won't be worth the price of admission or anything more than commercialism.

SOUNDTRACK with 'Chazz' Crawford



WALTER WINCHELL summed it up better than most. On his Sunday night broadcast SAMMY a cloud never stops, a star from shinning! . . . ABIE ROBINSON wants everyone to know he played to a full house. He swears there were 1400 people on the corner of Western and Exposition when he took his spill! . . . We do know that he "tied up" all 6 office phones for hours with calls from folks who were concerned over the accident! . . . such popularity must be deserved. P.S. It Is! . . . No flowers or sad songs, says Abie. Just have a bundle of EAGLE subscriptions for him when he returns to his desk. . . . Aside to ABIE: They will more than likely be there. Remember that a rainbow always follows the rain! . . . Our aside to SAMMY JUNIOR (already wired to the guys): Hotel Top Banana don't try for a long run in that joint. Everywhere we go they're playing your music! . . . From your "red grape" drinking buddy-Chazz!

POST OFFICE 'WOOMANCE' . . . A popular mail carrier (whose initials are 10-19(father husband, bowler, club-member and "clown-about-town" was arrested this week for attacking the teenager of a well-known family. There's no fool like an old fool.

BLESSED "Sticky" FINGERS . . . A local "holler-lound," who earns extra 'bread' as a night watchman, was fired recently from the Department of Water & Power yard on North Main Street. Seems that this maroon-eyed, tanned-teeth, bad-breathed blue boy was not content to 'lift' offerings at his church on Sunday, as a good shouting Baptist minister, but continued to 'take' materials from the city-owned yard concealed in his clammy, cotton picking claws.

BASS HARRIS . . . one of the most versatile persons on Radio Station KFI each Saturday morning from 8:00 to 9:00 a.m. is worthy of everyone's listening pleasure. Enjoy Bass and let your letters to the station show your appreciation for his work.

MORRIS WILLIAMS, JR. . . . President of Mexico's largest travel agency, is currently vacationing in 'smog city' in the interest of his all expense tours. His charming secretary, Martha Boulogne Guerrero, speaker of five languages, visited the Eagle office and caused its male occupants to 'split their infinitives.'

A CERTAIN . . . Adams and Grand social worker, is becoming a bigger 'case' than some of those for which she works. 'Tis rumored that during the noon hour she makes more "social visits" with male members in one of the nearby apartments' "cooch" than her salary at the Bureau of Public Assistance in three months.

EDMOND SMITH . . . Good looking postman from Station K, has more feminine admirers than he can shake a stick at. Seems that the Strip is considering using Smitty as a live model.

EDWARD "Able" ROBINSON . . . Backbone of the world's oldest Negro weekly, miraculously escaped with his life when three fair'ie snows 'did him in.' Fortunately Abe 'rolled' with the blow and will soon be back on the job. Why not drop him a line with some fine 'dead presidents' to his 'crib,' 406 East 43rd Place.

ONE WORLD 'WHIRL' . . . Our West Adams way a certain Oxford grey and a brixen otay are coining a nest. Three months ago they had no dough and the long working hours they spent hotels paid cash on their tete. Today they own everything from clay to roof. Fun lovers can get a room to stay, both night and day. "After all—it's only money, honey!!!"

UNEEDA FRIEND? . . . A popular cleaning establishment sponsored a mixed bowling team and was 'bowled over' by one of the oxford greys making away with his "Whirlaway." With sponsor's pretty wife on hand . . . bowler rolled down. He's playing golf to 'get to' over two good Angeles of a cleaner he

(Lowdown on Highbrups)

By 'HAL' MILLER

If you have noticed the quietude on the social scene of late, then maybe you'll agree with me that such is very appaling and especially for a would-be reporter. This lack of action makes the job an effort. As an alternative I have been tempted to substitute personal sketches as items of news. But wholesome individualities, led by an optimist, as such, might tend to render a pernicious impression of a virtuous character . . . Especially by those whose standards of judgment haven't r e l a-x e d along with the Hydrogen Rage, oops, I mean Age. So in view of my doubt I remain mute, enjoying such rascality alone. Ou la, la. But it has been said that . . .

Barbara Thomas, coed at Fisk U. (Nashville, Tenn.), has abruptly terminated her enrollment there and is now en route home. This escape from behind the Mason-Dixon will probably render one happy and jubilant person, no matter what the reasons may have been.

Also in the happy and jubilant department, and perhaps a few more adjectives like fortunate, cheerful, elated, etc., would not adequately express the content enjoyed by George Brown and Rodney Tompson . . . who were released from the Army last week.

But not so fortunate was the turn of the table that made George Lewis the recipient of those undesired "Greetings" from our good Uncle.

I was informed by an irate Sparkman that their dance, "Indian Summer" that I mentioned in last week's column will not be staged "sometime in November" as stated, but on Saturday, Nov. 27, 1954, in the day of our Lord. And for a personal interjection "I recommend it highly for a diversion in good times."

Even I don't like to pass on this type of info but when it hits the desk it invariably finds its way into print. A certain pretentious young lady, who as last reported is engaged to a far away school boy, has been observed reciprocating in some pretty licentious pleasures. But as usual, as the front demands, she still tries to retain that angelic voice, and "swee lil baby ways." Who does she think she's fooling? These pertinent facts point to (censored). Well, you might have guessed.

Seems as though that magnet of inevitable force (J. S.) is about to re-attract its negative resistance (W. N.) and bring it back within contact. As an electrician would say, "That's positive."

Heard that a pair of the more exclusive members of the Squires Social Club, namely Nolan Johnson and Mac Marrow, have terminated their membership with words that clearly expressed that the remaining members, and the organization "Ain't . . ." (what they used to be").

Let's call it another dirty thirty.

Heavy Prep Competition For Adams' Radio Shows Starting November 27th

Students at both Jefferson and Hamilton high schools are engaged in hot competition for the honor of representing their . . . on the newly inaugurated student announcer plan . . . KOWL's Joe Adams . . . now beginning this Saturday, November 27, noon to 3:30 p.m.

The popular "Mayor of Melody" is helping ambitious high school students "get their feet wet" in the glamourous field of radio, remembering his own schoolday hopes. Various schools in the area will participate, with both students and schools receiving awards, and the possibility of radio scholarships also in the offing.

Gibbs Quintet Starts Friday At the Tiffany

If you've never been to the Tiffany Club, go. If you've ever been I don't have to tell you—you'll go again.

Ella Fitzgerald just wrapped up a sixteen-day engagement there and she was more than the most. She worked as anyone who knows Jack Tucker will work for him and as only Fizz can. Her rendition of "The Man That Got Away" made us wonder why he went. And for the Jazz hounds nobody could have blown more bass than Red Callender.

Action-Package

Gigging next at the Tiffany is Terry Gibbs. His quintet moves in Friday, the 26th. If you miss it, you'll be sorry. We'll be . . . about it.

Multiple Down Beat award winner, vibraharpist Terry Gibbs, and his thrilling controlled jazz quintet make their first West Coast appearance at Jack Tucker's Tiffany Club, Eighth and Normandy.

Music Center

The sensation of the year musically, Gibbs and his quartette have played New York's Basin Street and Chicago's Blue Note, both modern jazz headquarters of the East, each three times in 1954. Featured in various pop record labels, Gibbs' technique and sound is sweeping modern jazz. Featured in the Quartette is lovely girl pianist Terry Pollard on piano and sharing vibes with the youthful Gibbs.

Pleasant Atmosphere

Jazz bistro Tiffany is famed for presenting top jazz attractions and West Coast nightgoers are looking forward to the premiere appearance of Gibbs. The Tiffany will present a "Concert in Jazz" Sunday afternoons with Terry Gibbs, closed Mondays.

Martina Group Tops SLA Elks Cabaret Dance

The Cabaret Dance party to be staged under the auspices of J. B. Bass Lodge, No. 1004, Improvedea Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, Saturday, will have as the stellar attraction a six adult age dancers from the Betty Martina Studio of Dance.

The girls all trained students, will appear under the supervision of Miss Martina in dance routines and costumes created by the noted Spanish-Moroccan danseuse, John H. Wilson. Exalted Ruler of JX. B. Bass Lodge.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to . . . amazing statements . . . Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name *Preparation H. The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

Rheingold Beer Award Winners Listed for Month of November

As part of its recently established program on the West Coast, the panel of judges for Rheingold's civic club award program announced the clubs who will receive the coveted Rheingold awards for the month of November. The judges, consisting of Chairman Jessie Mae Brown, Bill Watkins, Ouida Williams, Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, and Paul Williams, have voted as winners: The Doll League Charity Club, the Special Activities Group of the NAACP, the Turnabouts and the Twelve Big Sisters.

The Special Activities Group of the NAACP works as a right arm to the local chapter of the NAACP and throughout the year provides fund-raising events in order that the local chapter might be financially prepared to handle pressing matters at hand. During the year thousands of dollars have been raised and turned over to the local chapter.

The Doll League Charity Club is now in the process of their annual Christmas program where they give away thousands of toys to needy youngsters during the yuletide season. They recently purchased an iron lung for a polio victim.

The Turnabouts for years have carried out a Christmas program for the underprivileged and as a special project have adopted a youngster from a needy family, provide her with clothes, schooling, medical care, etc. They have also contributed to many other worthy charities.

The Twelve Big Sisters take pride in their major work dealing with the Schools of Detention. However, their work has been with other recognized charities such as the St. Anne's Foundation, and the Braille Institute. Each of the winning clubs will receive a gold trophy with the club's name engraved and a $100 check which will be donated to their favorite charity at the Awards Winners' Banquet at the Rheingold Inn at which their entire membership will be invited.

PLAYHOUSE 'PYGMALION' DECEMBER 13

Ireland's famed Dublin Players arrive in Pasadena Monday, December 13, for a one-day engagement at the Pasadena Playhouse.

They'll present a 3 p.m. matinee performance of "Juno and the Paycock" and an evening performance of "Pygmalion," Bernard Shaw's delirious comedy.

From the Playhouse the Dublin Players continue their second American tour, which will take them through more than 100 major cities from coast to coast.

Their last visit to the States brought unanimous raves, with even the hard-boiled Variety critic calling them: "Top entertainment!" Ed Sullivan classed them "The finest in 10 years" and the Boston Post pronounced them "Great!"

Drawn from the world-renowned Abbey and Gate Theatres in Dublin, and the Old Vic company in London, the Dublin Players are headed by Ronald Ibbs, nine years a leading man at the Gate. Aiding him is his wife, Maureen Halligan, also a top member of the all-star cast.

Tickets for the Dublin Players appearance are now on sale at the Playhouse box office.

Martina Studio In New So. L.A. Dance Location

The first move in the new reorganization program underway by the Betty Martina Studio of Dance located for the past four years at 10302 Graham avenue in South Los Angeles, was to move into new quarters at 10357 Croesus street, in the same general area.

Centrally Located Area

Miss Martina, said original plans called for the removal of the studio to Hollywood. Yielding to the insistence of the local Chamber of Commerce and parents of students in the Watts-Wilowbrook districts, it was decided to continue the maintainance of classes at the new location.

City Wide Endeavor

Classes will also be started in Hollywood. Miss Martina said she has decided to use the cinema city studios for the purpose of specializing in semi and professional talent, special routines and choreographs for motion pictures and television shows.

NEW YORK — The United Negro College Fund last week announced receipt of a donation of $20,000 from International Paper Company Foundation.

'Time Out for Ginger' Fast Moving Comedy

By JAN EDWARDS

"Human relations are funny." is a line from "Time Out for Ginger." which typifies the surprises and pleasures of this unusual comedy. Many times during the evening the comedy threatens to give way to patriotic ideologies. This device, however, serves to point up the humor and sharpens one's taste for the amusing incidents which are so expertly portrayed.

The play, which opened a two-week stay at the Biltmore Nov. 22, has enduring charm for the reason that the contrast in emphasis between comedy and philosophy is at all times beautifully balanced. Every character is permitted to develop completely. Each member of the cast is given dialogue worthy of complete attention and if the part is relatively small the lines are witty and virile enough to compensate, so that the character becomes as significant as those in the longer roles.

Thirty-five-year-old playwright Ronald Alexander has written an uproarious comedy around the intricate relationships of a lively American family who resolve their problems most satisfactorily, nearly everyone getting nearly everything he wants. Melvin Douglas, as the father of three teenage daughters, sets things humming when he innocently remarks (in a speech about manners) that "nobody should be forced to do anything he or she doesn't want to do."

His exuberant young daughters lose no time in putting their father's theory into practice. Ginger, the youngest and the tomboy of the family, climaxes the hilarious situation by becoming a football hero because "she didn't want to not make the football team."

Melvin Douglas gives a dynamic performance all through the play but surpasses himself in a scene describing his daughter's football triumph. This wildly amusing bit could be lifted right out of the play as a monologue, it was so funny. It should become as much of a classic in humorous readings as "Casey at the Bat."

Nancy Malone, as Ginger, was a piquant, completely lovable high school youngster. The spirited charm of Edith Atwater as the wife added warmth and even more fun to the jovial atmosphere. If the average American wife could be as delightful as Miss Atwater's portrayal, there would need to be no platitudes on why men leave home.

Perhaps we don't have enough contact with adolescent girls to have our judgment trusted. However, we felt that Marian Brown, as one of the sisters, employed too much posing and posturing to make the role convincing. The naturalness of Jacqueline Hernly, the other sister, charmed us by its simplicity. Not a few of the surprises in comedy and in subtle human relations came from the interpretation given by Laura Pierpont in the part of Elizabeth, the maid. Spontaneous and well deserved applause followed the exit of Phillip Loeb, the banker, after his significant appearances. Will Hussung was a plausible high school principal while Barry Truex and Les Hendrix, as the teenage boys, were inclined to overdo their business.

Shepard Traube, director and co-producer, has kept this excellent comedy brisk and entertaining to the very end. The reappearance of each character was greeted with eager anticipation. The curtain calls were like a coda to the play; each member staying in character.

If you miss seeing "Time Out for Ginger" you'll miss having the time of your life.

Area 'Chest' Campaign Nears Half Way Mark

The traditional Thanksgiving Turkey will be enjoyed by all during the holiday season, but there is a group of people in the South Central Area who will give double "thanks" when they sit down at their tables.

They are the 2400 South Central Community Chest volunteers who will not only be thankful for their blessings but also for a job well done during the current Chest campaign.

Area Chairman Mrs. E. K. Rakestraw at her weekly report meeting of the area's volunteers reported South Central has raised $12,802.

Her report showed that Districts 5 and 6 under the guidance of Vice-Chairman Mrs. Roy O. Nelson and Mrs. Juno Pinchback, have contributed $9,199 and Districts 8, $3,603 of the Area's $27,313 goal.

Others received into the lodge as regular participating brothers were, Wilson Williams (reinstated), Martin Randall, Jordan Bush, Ray Bolden and James E. Rochelle.

John H. Wilson, Exalted Ruler of J. B. Bass lodge presided over the rituals.

Invention Will Aid Druggists

In August of this year, Wesley Johnson, his wife and seven-month-old son motored to Columbus, Ohio, where they left the son with his grandmother, then he and his wife drove to Boston, where Johnson had been invited to present a paper to the practical section of the national convention of the American Pharmaceutical Association. The paper entitled, "A Simple Device for Dispensing Sterile Ophthalmic Solutions," concerned a device invented by Johnson earlier in the year for sterilizing eye solutions.

He had become interested in the problem of sterile eye solutions when he found that many people had contracted eye infections from eye drops bought at pharmacies because there was no quick and easy way for a pharmacist to make his solutions sterile.

His invention offered an end to pharmacists' difficulties in that it provided a quick method for sterilization and it could be manufactured and sold at a very small cost.

Upon returning to Los Angeles, Johnson finished the necessary applications for a patent on his invention. He now hopes to have the device manufactured soon.

Besides inventing, Johnson is a full-time student at the University of Southern California where he is majoring in Pharmacy. He holds the position of vice-president of the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association in Los Angeles, and has been active in editing the Pharmacy Magazine on campus.

In January, he will receive a Doctors of Pharmacy degree, and then he and his family will move to San Francisco where he plans to open a pharmacy in the near future.

The paper concerning his invention will be published soon in the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association. It was also read to the local chapter of the A.Ph.A. last Wednesday at a meeting at the Queen of Angeles hospital. The local chapter helped finance Johnson's trip.

Johnson holds an A.B. in Bacteriology from the University of California, Berkeley.

Jon Robertson Highly Talented Young Pianist

By Jan Edwards
(California Eagle Music Editor)

During the 21st Annual Bach Festival held at the First Congregational Church during this month, Professor John Crown, head of the piano department at the University of Southern California, paid tribute to eleven-year-old Jon Robertson, Negro boy-wonder who has been referred to as "the pint-sized Paderewski."

This exceptional youngster presented a complete Bach program which included the composers' Fourth French Suite, the Toccata in D Major, and four Chorales. Such an undertaking demands technique and musicianship of the highest calibre. Young Robertson proved himself more than equal to the challenge on this occasion, even memorizing the works of the great master in the short space of six weeks.

In speaking of Jon Robertson's performance, Prof. Crown, a concert pianist himself and one of the foremost teachers of piano in the nation, placed particular emphasis upon the young boy's natural musical sense and upon his ability to produce lovely full tones. "Jon Robertson" said Prof. Crown, "has a remarkable sense of musical line. He is able to draw a melody, not in a series of episodes, but as a theme, beautifully held together." That Jon feels everything he plays so intensely, U.S.C.'s professor believes, is due in large part to the lad's devoted teacher, Mme. Ethel Leginska, as well as to his own innate responses.

Jon Robertson is looking forward to attending Mr. Crown's own concert which the popular professor is to give at Bovard Auditorium Sunday evening, December 5.

Dykes A. Brookins Heads Nationwide Hotel Assn.

WASHINGTON — Dykes A. Brookins, newly elected national president, Nationwide Hotel Association Inc., announced this week the establishment of the NHA Scholarship Fund for Negro students majoring in hotel management and allied fields of the industry. This is believed to be the first such fund initiated by Negroes in the hotel field.

The Nationwide Hotel Association Inc. is composed of leading hotels, motels and tourist homes catering to the public without regard for race, creed and color. The Association celebrates its first anniversary Nov. 30.

Brookins was elected to the top office in NHA at the recent annual meeting of members in Miami, Fla. He takes over the position vacated by Ralph S. Dadd, West Haven, Conn., who is chairman of the Board of Directors.

Administration of the Fund is under the control of a committee composed of W.G. Westmoreland, Gotham Hotel, Detroit; Robert O. Lofton, Miami Carver Hotel, Miami; and James H. Ward Jr., Booker Terrace Hotel, Miami. Grants will be made to Michigan State, Cornell University and Tuskegee Institute.

In order to stimulate interest in the scholarship fund and other phases of NHA's 1955 program, Brookins will hold a series of meetings at the association's seven regional offices. He will be at the Clark Hotel in Los Angeles Dec. 17.

Val Verde Women Want Heated Room

VAL VERDE — Women attending the Ceramic Art class at Val Verde Park last week refused to return to class room because there was no heat in the classroom.

Women of the community have appointed a committee to go to the County Supervisor to see what can be done about this and also about getting a larger classroom.

Beverly Hills Couple Sued for Traffic Accident

Mrs. Annie Mae Woods, 1492 W. 35th street, this week filed a complaint seeking $25,000 damages following an automobile accident which occurred in Beverly Hills last August 18.

The complaint, filed through the legal firm of Miller, Maddox and Sheats, asserts the defendant suffered concussions, multiple bruises and abrasions when she was thrown to the pavement from the car in which she was a passenger.

According to Mrs. Woods, the car was driven by Ruth Wagner, of 1006 Lexinton avenue, Beverly Hills, when one allegedly driven by Mrs. Sophie Stone, of 1918 Coldwater Canyon, Dr., crashed into it. The suit names Harry E. Stone, husband of the defendant, co-defendant.

B. F. Wolk, your Telephone Manager in South East Los Angeles

A $1 telephone call saves farmer $400

Gus Holman, pointing, is one farmer who really appreciates his telephone. He and his brother farm 227 acres of rice and other grains near Butte Four Corners, Calif. Not long ago, they needed a tractor fast. They couldn't find one nearby at the price they wanted to pay. So they went to their telephone. With one call, they found just what they wanted . . . and saved $400. Cost of the call: $1. "Our telephone pays us back a lot more in time and money saved than it costs us," says Mr. Holman. And that's the aim of telephone people everywhere—to bring you the good service you need to get things done quickly and easily . . . and to bring it to you at prices easy on your pocketbook. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Portable telephones—like having a telephone in every room

Yes, you can carry your portable extension telephone with you everywhere you go in and around the house. In the kitchen, upstairs, or even out on the patio, all you do is plug your portable telephone into a conveniently located outlet. There's just a small nominal installation charge for each outlet. And you can order as many as you want. The portable telephone itself costs no more than the charge for an ordinary extension—just pennies a day. And, with enough outlets it's like having a telephone in every room. You can order your portable telephones at your Pacific Telephone business office.

See Your Dial Telephone at Work

Do you know what happens when you dial a telephone number? A train of seven switches operate one after another in perfect rhythm to connect you with that particular number. A functioning model of the equipment used in dialing is now on display for a limited time at the public office at 501 East Vernon Ave. We are pleased to invite you to visit the office and see for yourselves this modern miracle of electronics. While you are there be sure to ask for your free personal telephone number booklet.

L.A. Abortion Mill Believed Cracked; Watts Doctor Held

Police believed they had cracked open a county-wide abortion mill this week following the arrest last Wednesday of Dr. Edmund George Peters, of Watts, and Mrs. Bessie Sutter, 50, of Pasadena.

Dr. Peters, who has been in and out of the hospital for the past six months and who is now suffering from a broken ankle, asthma and other ailments, has denied his guilt, but is still lodged in jail in lieu of posting $5,000 bond.

He is charged with conspiracy to violate the State's abortion statute and with a second count of performing an abortion.

Hearing Friday

The woman whose illness gave police the tip-off they had been seeking for more than a year is expected to appear as a state witness at the preliminary hearing scheduled for Friday, Dec. 3, in Municipal Court in South Gate. Although her identity is known, her name is being withheld pending her appearance in court.

Dr. Peters, who is 55, and a chiropractor who lives at 8723 Plevka avenue, will plead innocent when his case comes up for trial, according to his attorney, Patrick J. Cooney.

Kingpin

Mrs. Sutter, according to police, is believed to be the kingpin in the illicit operations setup. It is she, they claimed, who made contact with prospective patrons, set the fees and collected the money and then sent or brought the patients to the office of the doctor selected. Fees reportedly averaged around $100, with Mrs. Sutter determining the amount of the "split."

Police believed there were as many as 10 doctors included in the ring.

Dr. Peters was arrested on another illegal operation charge in 1951, was found guilty and served six months in a county road camp. He was given three years' probation at that time and completed his probation period last August.

Dogged by Hard Luck

Dr. Peters told police that he no longer practices as a chiropractor, and that until ill health dogged him during the past few months, he has tried to earn a living at any job that was offered him.

Although denying that he is guilty of the charges leveled against him, he said that a lot of women have come to him in distress, and that he can't stand to see a woman cry.

Mrs. Sutter, who lives in a rambling home at 1783 N. El Molino avenue, Pasadena, and who is out on bond, claimed that she, too, is innocent, though she said she occasionally cared for friends and neighbors in her house. She said she is active in the mining and property investment fields.

Officers claimed, however, that after the operations on the various patients were completed, she would take them to her home, formerly a rest home, for recuperation and post-operative treatment.

The officers who arrested Dr. Peters were Det. Sgts. N. L.

Officer Shot 3 Times Outside Lincoln Theater

Life Hangs In Balance; Police Catch Suspect

A special officer, father of three small girls, lay critically wounded in Queen of Angels hospital this week, victim of three bullet wounds inflicted by a teen-age youth at the Lincoln theater, 23rd and Central, Sunday evening.

The life of Arzell Spencer, 27, 1751 E. 51st St., employed by the Metropolitan Detective Agency to maintain order in the theater, hangs in the balance. One bullet pierced his abdomen, penetrated his body and was lodged close to the spine. The other two struck him in the hand and thigh.

Assailant Wounded

His assailant reportedly was 17-year-old Ruben Hall Jr., 4125 S. Avalon Blvd., who was taken to the prison ward of General Hospital with a wound in his leg. He was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Spencer told police he heard someone in the theater Sunday evening about 6:30 p. m., making a loud noise and he went to investigate. He asked the young man, later identified as Hall, to leave. When Hall refused, Spencer said he escorted him to the front entrance.

Hall turned suddenly, grabbed Spencer's night stick, struck him in the face, then seized his gun and shot once, wounding the guard in the leg, according to the police.

Youth Fled

Spencer fell to the sidewalk. Hall reportedly fired two more shots, then threw the gun at the prostrate man, and ran.

Another special officer, Eugene Lester Bean, 1183 W 36th St., saw the youth running away from the scene, pursued him and fired one shot, wounding him in the leg.

Hall told Newton Street officers who captured him: "The officer came up and said: 'Let's go.' I told him I hadn't seen the picture, and he said I wouldn't. He started pushing me out of the show.

Was Afraid

"I told him he didn't have to push me and he pulled his stick and I took it. He pulled his gun and I grabbed it and it went off once while he was holding it. I took the gun and fired at him. I don't know how many times I fired. After the shooting, I threw the gun on the ground near the officer. I started running because I was afraid."

Mrs. Diretha Spencer, 24, wife of the officer, told the Eagle

Woman Drinks Poison, Then Hangs Self

A gruesome sight met the eyes of Charles Wade, 19, when he returned to his home, 8455 Zamora avenue, Tuesday evening after a day's work. He became apprehensive when he found both the front and back doors locked. He heard no sound inside the home.

Once inside, he saw his wife, Susie, hanging from the closet door, a clothes line around her neck.

Doubly Sure

The 41-year-old woman, weary of illness and of life, had made doubly sure that she would not live. In two notes found in the home, Mrs. Wade wrote that she had taken poison, before suspending herself from the rope.

In one note, in which the distraught woman had noted the time as 8:30 a.m., she said: "I've tried two or three times. I'm going to try again. I've got to try and swallow this strong stuff. If it doesn't work, I'll hang myself."

The second note, timed at

Dope Addict Beats Baby Son With Belt

A young mother frantically called police Saturday night and begged the officers to hurry to her home because her husband was unmercifully beating their 17-month-old son.

When police arrived, the husband, Walter Island, 3614 Trinity street, told Officers H. L. Scott and Marie B. Thomas a pathetic story of how he was hopelessly "hooked" by the dope habit.

The mother, Mrs. Albertine Island, said that her husband became uncontrollably angry when the baby, Van, burped and threw up his food. He told her to whip the baby, but she refused. Then, she continued, he grabbed a stout leather belt, with a metal buckle at the end, and began beating the baby about the head and body.

Fellow Named Joe

The arresting officers found Island's arm scarred with tell-tale needle marks. He said he knew he shouldn't have lost his temper, and then blurted out: "I don't know what's wrong with me. Most of the needle marks you see on my arm I got in Japan. I got hooked over there, but I kicked the habit before we left.

"Then about two weeks ago I met a fellow named Joe. I don't know his last name. As a rule these hypes won't tell you their last name. He started furnishing me with heroin free. Later I began chipping in with him."

Upon examination it was found that the child's injuries were not severe.

The initial charge against Island of child-beating was reduced to the lesser charge of endangering a child.

Employment Drops 19,000 During October

California employment decreased by 19,000 in October, according to a joint statement released this week by the Departments of Industrial Relations and Employment.

Employment totaled 5,061,000 in October compared with 5,080,000 in September and 5,128,000 in October a year ago. Employment was lower than a year ago in manufacturing, construction, trade, and transportation, but higher in service, government, agriculture, and finance.

William A. Burkett, director of the department of employment, said unemployment dropped to 161,000 in October from 177,000 in September. The October total, however, is one-third higher than a year ago when 121,000 persons were unemployed.

Bitter Fight Looms In NAACP Election

With only vice presidential posts and the office of secretary uncontested, the local branch of the NAACP was headed for its most bitter election fight since 1948. The election is set for Dec. 12 at Neighborhood Community church, 48th and San Pedro streets.

Squared off in a fight for the presidency are Dr. H. Claude Hudson, national board member and one time president of the branch, and Attorney Thomas G. Neusom, incumbent vice-president.

Neusom supporters were boosting their candidate as a man destined to bring a "New Deal" to the local branch. He is running on a program of increased participation by branch members in its program and an enlarged branch program.

Dr. Hudson's supporters this week released a statement in which they said that "the threat of Communist infiltration of the local branch of the NAACP has caused leaders of Religious, Labor, Fraternal, and Social Organizations to draft Dr. Hudson" as a candidate for the presidency.

A surprise contest developed for the position of treasurer when Dr. J. F. Evans was nominated to oppose Lorenzo Bowdoin who has held the office for many years.

Mrs. Zella Taylor, long time secretary, is unopposed while there are only four vice presidential nominees for these four positions. Vice presidential candidates are C. E. McKinney, L. B. Thompson, Rev. P. D. Lehman and Fleming Enoch.

There are 37 candidates for the 18 positions on the executive committee.

Attys. Gen'l Pick Anti-Negro Town

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The convention of the National Association of Attorneys General seems to be having a hard time finding a town where discrimination is not the rule for their forthcoming meeting.

Disillusioned with Phoenix, they have decided upon a new site, their third attempt. This time they have chosen—of all places—White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Picketed School

White Sulphur Springs was prominently in the news early in September when white parents and students picketed a former all-white high school in protest against the admission of a handful of Negro students. The authorities bowed to the pressure and reversed their position, sending the Negro youngsters back to an all-Negro school.

Disillusioned with the anti-Jewish stand of the Camelback Inn in Phoenix, the attorneys general decided to have a try at the Greenbriar Hotel at White Sulphur Springs. Date of the meeting is Dec. 8-10. The meeting was originally scheduled for Biloxi, Miss.

Protests had been made against the policy of Camelback Inn of accepting only "carefully selected" members of the Jewish religion.

Camelback Restricts

Attys. Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein of New York, George Fingold of Massachusetts and Edmund G. Brown of California said they would not stay at the Camelback because of its policy.

The Biloxi site was rejected due to a dispute over inviting U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell to address the meeting. Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia, president of the asso-

Madison Jones Rejoins NAACP

NEW YORK — The return of Madison S. Jones to the staff of the NAACP was announced this week by Roy Wilkins, administrator.

Jones, a veteran NAACP worker, has been assigned to the branch department as a field secretary working under direction of Gloster B. Current, head of the department.

No Truth at All in Charges, Pastor's Attorney Claims

"There's no truth at all in the charges," one of the Rev. John L. Branham's Beverly Hills attorneys told the Eagle this week.

"Will Rev. Branham deny the charges?" he was asked.

"There's no question about that," Atty. Phil Davis, of the law firm of Davis and Davis, replied with firmness.

Atty. Davis said he had not yet had time to discuss the entire case with his client, and so he was unable to state what further action will be taken by the embattled minister of St. Paul Baptist church, named defendant in a suit two weeks ago accusing him of seducing and abducting the church's former secretary, Miss Rosaretha Shepherd.

Asks Delay

Atty. Arthur Strock, another Beverly Hills lawyer, who is representing Rev. Branham along with Atty. Davis, was a little more evasive in his reply. He said he was discussing representation with Rev. Branham, and that the matter had just come to his attention Monday.

"I do not know exactly how the reply will be phrased," said Atty. Strock, "but I certainly know what his reply will be." He also said he had requested and been granted an extension of time in which to file an answer to the complaint.

After playing hide-and-seek for the better part of a week, the Rev. Branham was finally served with a summons in the $200,000 damage suit brought by Mack Shepherd, father of Rosaretha, last Sunday.

Records May Be Evidence

The suit was filed Nov. 16. It is customary for a defendant to be permitted 10 days to answer the allegations. Because of the delay in serving the papers, additional time was requested.

Atty. George E. Cannady, who represents Shepherd, advised that he had agreed to a two week delay.

Whether or not the "dirty records" in which a man's voice, said to be that of Rev. Branham, discusses intimacies with a girl identified as "Rosie," will be used in court has not been disclosed. Rev. Branham denies that the voice is his, and his staunch supporters insist that their popular pastor has been framed by some malicious individual bent upon ruining the minister's career.

The records, salacious and shocking, have been passed around surreptitiously from hand to hand, sometimes in the dark of the moon, ever since last summer, and have been the basis for one of the most bitter controversies that have ever rocked the local community.

Reluctant to Testify

They were mentioned in a committee meeting at the church several weeks ago, but as yet have never been played except in secret.

In his suit, Shepherd, former part-time janitor at the church, accused Rev. Branham of having "illicit relations" with his daughter at various times from July, 1950 to July, 1954, and then of abducting her and removing her to Gary, Ind. On each of the two counts, Shepherd asks $50,000 general damages and $50,000 punitive damages.

Miss Shepherd, meanwhile, is reportedly in Gary, and is seemingly unwilling to testify in the case against Rev. Branham. Atty. Cannady advised that there has been no indication of any change of attitude on her part.

Unless Miss Shepherd is willing to appear, she cannot be forced to return to the state. In case she does not appear, it seems certain that the records will play a large part in the trial, in the event that the case ever gets to the courts.

Meanwhile, although the town was still discussing the "Branham case" avidly and heatedly, church services at St. Paul continued as usual, with no untoward incident marring the church's surface serenity.

'Abie' at Home, Improving from Traffic Injury

Edward "Abie" Robinson, Eagle circulation manager, is at home this week recovering from the traffic accident in which his left hand was crushed two weeks ago.

The hand is still extremely painful, but it is still his, despite fears that it would have to be amputated.

The hundreds of telephone calls, cards, telegrams and visits that Abie has received from his friends have been a helpful, welcome and greatly appreciated assist.

L. J. Brady Arrested for Embezzlement

L. J. Brady, of the L. J. Brady Investment Co., 4621 W. Adams, well known real estate broker, social leader, member of the Consolidated Realty Board, and a member of the fashionable Westside set, was out on bail this week, charged with four counts of grand theft, felonies.

Brady was accused of receiving money as down payments on parcels of land and pocketing the money for his own use.

The embezzlement, according to the District Attorney's office, involved transactions with Dr. Jerone W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lynson J. Miller and two transactions with John A. Amos.

Over $6,000

Total amount involved in the four cases is $6417.98.

Brady was held in jail for more than a week following his arrest Nov. 19, but is now free on $4,500 bail. Preliminary hearing had originally been set for Nov. 29, but was later postponed to Dec. 6.

On Nov. 19, Amos, of 3423 Hooper avenue, filed charges against Brady, accusing him of taking money under false pretenses on two dates, $500 on June 17 and another $900 on August 25. Following receipt of this complaint, Brady was arrested.

Doctor's Complaint

On Nov. 22, however, Dr. Johnson, of 311 W. Vernon avenue, one of the city's leading doctors, and a member of the staff of Queen of Angels hospital, filed another complaint, alleging that he had given Brady $2500 on Feb. 6, but that after Brady had returned $1,000 to him. He said he could get no satisfaction regarding the balance.

Two days later, on the 24th, Miller, of 827 E. 43rd street, notified authorities that he had paid over to Brady on Aug. 30 the sum of $3,517.98, the total amount of a loan he had obtained on his property, and accused the broker of improper use of the funds.

In only one of the four cases, according to the D.A.'s office, did Brady make any attempt to clear the transaction involved through escrow. That was with regard to one of the Amos deals, and in that case, the check was returned by the bank for insufficient funds.

Ethical brokers, upon receipt of monies from clients, are required either to place the funds in escrow with a view to purchase of property, place them in a trust fund or turn them over to the seller. Brady reportedly did none of these. Instead, Brady, according to the accusations, retained the money for his own purposes.

J. C. Caroline to Captain Illini Football Team in '55

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—By unanimous vote, sensational, yard-gaining, battling J. C. Caroline, All-American Illini halfback, was elected by his teammates last week to captain the University of Illinois football team for 1955.

The husky Caroline, who led the nation in rushing last year with 1,246 yards, but who was kept to a mere 440 this season as a result of injuries, is the first Negro in history to captain the Illini eleven.

SCHOOL LEADERS—Paul L. Guthrie, left, and Dr. L. S. Cozart are the top elected leaders of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which is holding its annual meeting in Louisville, Nov. 29-Dec. 2. Guthrie is principal of the Dunbar High School, Lexington. Dr. Cozart is president of Barber-Scotia College, Concord, N. C.

Brownell Urges Go Slow Policy In School Cases

WASHINGTON — Following a position outlined by President Eisenhower in a prior press conference, Attorney General Brownell last week urged the Supreme Court to let federal district courts supervise desegregation in southern schools.

The Court ruled last May that segregation violates the Fourteenth Amendment and it is now considering a decree that will set up procedure to be followed for ending segregation. Arguments on that phase of the matter were set for Dec. 6 but were postponed when the Senate failed to confirm John Marshall Harlan for the vacancy that now exists. The Court indicated that it wants a full nine members before considering the issue.

Specifically Brownell proposed:

That the lower courts shall enter orders directing the authorities in public schools subject to their jurisdiction to submit within ninety days a plan for ending segregation as soon as feasible.

That, unless a satisfactory plan is submitted and approved by the lower courts, "appropriate orders" shall be issued directing the end of segregation at the beginning of the next school term.

That on submission of a plan, the lower courts shall hold hearings promptly to determine whether the plan provides for transition to a non segregated school system as expeditiously as circumstances permit. In approving any proposed program, the court shall modify it as may be required and fix the earliest practicable date for completion of the program.

That the lower courts should require progress reports during the period permitted to end segregation in order to insure against unnecessary delay in the execution of the program.

That the Supreme Court retain jurisdiction for the purpose of making such further orders necessary for carrying out its mandate and to this end periodic reports should be required from the lower courts on actions taken to enforce compliance with the high court's ruling.

The Justice Department borrowed language from the Supreme Court's opinion to state that "the formulation of decrees in these cases presents problems of considerable complexity." It outlined many of the complexities.

Among them was the fact that many states would have to revise "state laws and regulations which were tailored to fit the needs of a segregated school system." Boundaries of school districts will have to be adjusted in many areas, school bus systems changed, and in some states new tax methods devised.

School Heads Discuss South Teaching Needs

LEXINGTON Ky. — Considering the theme, "Critical Problems in the Education of Negroes in the Southern Region," the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was holding its 21st annual convention at Central High School in Louisville, Nov. 29-Dec. 2, according to Paul L. Guthrie, president of the association.

Dr. James M. Nabrit, secretary of Howard University and recently appointed member of President Eisenhower's Committee on Government Contracts addressed the opening session on Monday. At the same meeting, greetings were brought by outstanding educators and officials of Louisville.

Dr. J. C. Dixon, executive director, Southern Education Foundation, spoke on "Some Basic Issues in Public Education in the Southern Region." In the afternoon, Stephen J. Wright, president, Bluefield State College, Bluefield, W. Va. addressed the group on the topic, "The Needs of Higher Education."

Slaying Suspect Says 'I Wanted To Kill Them'

"I would have cut all three if I could. I wanted to kill them."

Ennis Ferguson, 1546 E. 21st street, reportedly made this statement to police when he was arrested for murder in the chilly pre-dawn hours Sunday morning.

Police were called to Pico and Los Angeles streets about 2:30 a. m. There they found 22-year-old Lonnie Bradford, 716 E. 19th street, bleeding to death from a wound in the abdomen. With him were his father, Wiley Bradford, 1358 E. 77th street, and his brother, Elotis Bradford, 916 E. 21st street.

Father and sons had started out Saturday night for an evening's entertainment. They wound up the evening at the Denver Cafe, 28th street and Central avenue. There a stranger approached Lonnie and asked him to take him and his girl friend home. Lonnie said he would, for $2.

The three Bradfords, Ferguson and the young woman got into the car. Inside his home, Ferguson told Lonnie that he didn't have the money. An argument started.

Ferguson reportedly went to the kitchen, got a butcher knife and came out swinging. After the cutting, the brothers ran from the house and were joined by their father.

Lonnie was bleeding profusely. He died about 3 a. m. at Georgia Street Receiving hospital.

Meals Count As Wages, Says Burkett

Values of meals served to employees as part of their wages will be the same during 1955 as they have been this year, William A. Burkett, director of the California Department of Employment, announced this week.

"Meals, when part of the employee's wages, are taxable under the California Unemployment Insurance Code, even when they are served to meet the employer's convenience," Burkett explained.

"The taxable value of meals is $1.15 for three meals per day; 25 cents for breakfast, 35 cents for lunch, 55 cents for dinner, and 40 cents for a meal not identifiable as either breakfast, lunch or dinner."

The director pointed out that this schedule of values applies only in the absence of values stipulated in a union agreement, or contract of employment, or established in compliance with any applicable law governing minimum wages.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR—Joseph W. Walker has been appointed program director of the Los Angeles Urban League. Walker has been a member of the League's staff for eight years.

Golden State Co. to Aid 'Seal' March

A. J. Kelly Williams, supervisor of the Golden State Life Insurance Company, this week gave assurance that key members of the company's personnel will lend their support to the "48 Hours for Freedom" march, scheduled for Dec. 3 to Dec. 5.

Organizers of the march, Gilbert Lindsay, Thomas Neusom and Charles Fielding, have outlined an intensive campaign for the sale of NAACP Freedom Seals on those days.

Volunteers

Among those volunteering for service are District Managers Johnny Cochran, Lonzie Jones and Nolan Payton; Personnel Supervisor Mrs. Inez Davis, and Mrs. Verna Hickman of the public relations office.

The plan is that during the 48 hours set aside for the sale of Freedom Seals, some 150 volunteers will man booths at various busy intersections, in front of banks, supermarkets, and inside theatre lobbies, where the seals, in any desired amount, may be purchased.

Prize for Youth

Charles McNally, another ardent worker, has announced that all youth between the ages of 11 and 16, who would be interested in volunteering their services in this drive, will have an opportunity to win a valuable prize. A beautiful radio has been offered by Kunin's Furniture Company to the youth who sells the most Freedom Seals between now and December 8, when the drive officially closes. Any interested youths are urged to contact the headquarters, 4263 S. Central avenue, or telephone ADams 1-5189 for further information concerning this contest.

A fitting climax to the drive will be a culmination program, under the direction of Dr. Mary McCoo and Mrs. Josie Bain, which will be held at the Bowen Memorial Church, 36th and Trinity streets, on Friday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Emily Woody, general chairman of the seal drive, has announced that an outstanding speaker will highlight this program, and that more detailed information will be available next week.

Area Fills 55 Percent of Chest Quota

Like the postman's cry of "neither sleet or rain stops the mail" Community Chest volunteers will not be handcuffed by the elements neither fog nor smog has stopped them from completing their assignments.

South Central Community Chest volunteers have posted a 55 per cent mark in their collections to date.

Breakdown shows that District 5 and 6 have solicited $10,901 while district 8 has garnered $1,048. Total goal for the area is 27,267.

NAACP Slates Youth Meeting

NEW YORK—The second annual National Youth Legislative Conference will be held on the campus of Howard University in Washington, next Feb. 3-6, Herbert L. Wright, NAACP youth secretary, announced this week.

The young people will devote themselves to an intensive study of the problems of school integration stemming from the U. S. Supreme Court decision of May 17 holding public school segregation unconstitutional.

Regular physical examinations are one of the best safeguards against dying of cancer the American Cancer Society warns.

'Rights' Week To Emphasize 5th Amendment

Actress Diana Lynn will give a special reading about the historic document before the Los Angeles City Council on Tuesday, Dec. 14.

The program, which will feature Radio and TV Announcer Ted Meyers Crail, and Councilman Gibson, will include comment on the Fifth Amendment which is being featured this year.

High school students will present a playlet depicting historical scenes in connection with the Bill of Rights before the County Board of Supervisors on the following day.

According to committee leaders this will be the 14th annual observance of Bill of Rights Week in Southern California.

The week commemorates the 163rd anniversary of the ratification of the first ten amendments to the U.S. Constitution on Dec. 15, 1791.

Wilkins, Labor Secretary, Is Guild Speaker

Loren Miller, attorney and Eagle publisher will serve as master of ceremonies when the Los Angeles Urban League Guild presents Assistant Secretary of Labor J. Ernest Wilkins as principal speaker at a forum and reception marking the Guild's third anniversary observance Sun., Dec. 5, at 3 o'clock. The affair will be held at the Westside Jewish Community Center, 5870 West Olympic blvd.

Wilkins will discuss labor problems as they affect the local community.

Besides being a Phi Beta Kappa, Wilkins is a member of the Illinois Bar, belongs to the Cook County Bar Association, the National Bar Association, the Chicago Bar Association and the American Judicature Society. Elected to membership in the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity while at the University of Chicago, Wilkins served as Grand Keeper of Records and Exchequer from 1922 until 1947, and as Grand Polemarch between 1947 and 1950. He is a Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

The firm is the largest Negro-owned and operated insurer west of the Rockies. Banks follows other outstanding sports figures who view insurance as a career, including Ralph Kiner.

NAACP Branch Set Up at Scene Of School Riot

NEW YORK—A new branch of the NAACP has just been chartered in Greenbrier County, W Va., in which is located White Sulphur Springs, which attained national publicity in September when race riots were narrowly averted over the school integration issue.

The school board caved in to pressure when white parents and students demonstrated against the entrance of Negro pupils into the formerly all-white high school, and authorities reinstated the segregation pattern.

Death Claims 2 in Bay Area

Funeral services for Nathanie Campbell, 60, of 1547 Euclid street, Santa Monica, were held Tuesday, Nov. 30, in the Calvary Baptist Church of Santa Monica, with W. P. Carter speaking the eulogy.

A resident of Santa Monica since 1917, Campbell is survived by three sons, Claude, Kenneth and Phillip, and a daughter, Geraldine. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Charity Clark of Compton, Mrs. Callie Frost and Mrs. Evelyn Moore of Santa Monica.

Interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, with Spalding Mortuary officiating.

Services were held Nov. 29 from the Calvary Baptist Church for Mrs. Harriet Greer, 91 years of age.

Mrs. Greer came to Santa Monica in 1947 from Butler, Ga. Her surviving relatives are Mrs. Charlie Fortune, daughter, and Clotile Fortune, granddaughter.

The Rev. W. P. Carter read the eulogy, Spalding's Mortuary officiated with interment at Woodlawn Cemetery.

ciation and chairman of its executive board, refused to invite Brownell because of his role in the school segregation cases.

Jack Stewart, manager of Camelback Inn, said he was "not surprised" at the decision to move the convention. In a prepared statement he declared:

Choosey

"We are happy to abide by the decision of the Attorneys General to cancel their meeting at Camelback Inn.

"The Attorneys General as late as Monday night would have been willing to come to Camelback Inn had I submitted to extreme pressure from the Anti-Defamation League to change our policy of guest selection.

"This guest policy has been to accept some Jewish guests for our conventions and a very few selected Jewish guests during our regular guest season.

"It is true, however, that ever since our opening in 1936 only a handful of Jewish guests have been here each year as we have found from experience that our guests have asked us to stick to an almost completely restricted policy in order to enjoy their continued patronage.

"Consequently Monday night I refused a final plea from the Attorney General's office in Chicago to change our policy to taking many Jewish guests and therefore I am not surprised at the decision which takes the meeting to White Sulphur Springs.

"We respect the right of the Attorneys General to make this decision just as we had hoped they would respect our right to run our own business and to set our own business policies.

"One of the things we regret most is that Phoenix and Arizona will not reap the benefits that a convention of this importance would surely bring."

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Appeasement Won't Work

Attorney General Brownell in his brief for the government as a Friend of the Court in the School Segregation cases seem to us to have gone out of his way in an effort to placate the die hard Southerners. His success in that direction may be gauged from the fact that Governor James Byrnes of South Carolina hailed it as a concession to the South.

In essence, the attorney general urged the Supreme Court to open the door to gradualist schemes and to leave the supervision of desegregation to the local federal district courts. There is merit in leaving the supervision of desegregation to the local courts as the NAACP brief recognizes. However, a time limit should be set for compliance and we believe that the NAACP's proposal that sets September 1956 as the outside limit for compliance is a reasonable plan that will recommend itself to any school board that wishes to obey the mandate of the Court.

The gradualism envisaged by the South is fraught with the grave danger that it will turn to obstructionism. What the South wants is a plan that will leave it free to pursue its old Separate But Equal way. Such men as Governors Talmadge, Byrnes and White have no intention of obeying the law and they believe that delay will serve their purpose.

The NAACP is quite correct when it points out that every day that a Negro child is required to attend a Jim Crow school is a day in which he has been deprived of his Constitutional right and in which he has been subjected to the hardships which Chief Justice Warren says segregation imposes on him.

Social scientists have long recognized the fact that the best and easiest way to break from segregation is to do it in a forthright manner without temporizing and without apology.

The attorney general will live to learn that there is no way to appease the South. The Dixiecrats, like Communists and the Fascists, regard every compromise as a sign of weakness and as a signal to press for extension of their own views.

The Supreme Court has declared the law of the land. The South must be told in no uncertain terms that it must obey that law, not ten years from now but now.

New Rule For Travelers

The proposal of an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner that the Commission order the end of segregation in interstate travel is one that should be acted on without delay.

The examiner also found as a fact that railroad station facilities are integral parts of travel accomodations and he urged the Commission to terminate racial segregation in all stations that serve the interstate traveler.

The recommendations are the logical conclusions to be drawn from the Supreme Court's decision in the dining car cases. In those cases Justice Burton pointed out that segregation of Negro diners served no purpose except to draw pointed attention to racial differences and to impose disabilities on Negro travelers.

The Interstate Commerce Act specifically forbids any carrier to "subject any particular person . . . to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever." The Supreme Court interpreted that language to mean that segregation in dining cars violates the Act.

It is plain that any kind of racial segregation subjects Negroes to "prejudice and disadvantage" and the Commission should order the carriers to end all segregation.

Such an order would affect not only railroads in the Deep South but would hit the Southern Pacific right here in Los Angeles. The SP has been, and still is, segregating Negro passengers in Los Angeles when they use its trains to New Orleans.

Have You Given?

The Community Chest hasn't reached its goal as yet and is redoubling its efforts to persuade everybody to give what's fair.

If each of us had followed the Chest slogan this year the goal would have been reached a long time ago. The trouble is that all too many of us think small, contributions aren't important and fail to give anything at all. The result is that the Chest has a tough time meeting the quota.

All kinds of organizations in this community look to the Chest for support. One of the best known of them is the Urban League. Most of us take the League and its good works for granted without much thought of where it gets the funds necessary to do the job it does. It couldn't function without Chest support.

There are other examples of Chest supported agencies that help all of us. None of those organizations can get the help it needs unless all of us give what's fair to the Chest.

If you haven't given to the Chest why not decide now what's fair and give your share? The gift will be a good investment in your own future.

Buy NAACP Seals Today

One of the most painless methods of supporting the NAACP is to buy Holiday Seals sold by the organization every year.

The practice of using Holiday Seals on Christmas mail is an old one that almost everybody follows. What better Holiday Seals could be used than those sold by the NAACP?

There are some fifty thousand Negro heads of families in this community. If each of them bought only one dollar's worth of seals the Association would have a substantial sum of money that would go a long ways toward providing enough funds to enable the West Coast Region of the NAACP to do the job that lies ahead of us in 1955.

The NAACP Holiday Seal drive is in full swing. Why not do your part, today, and invest a dollar in seals that will at once be consonant with the Holiday Season and help the NAACP prod America a little further toward its goal of complete democracy for all Americans?

No More Minstrels

Minstrel shows are taboo in California schools, according to the district attorney of San Joaquin county.

The ruling is a sensible one, and a good one.

It should sound the death knell for performances that offend good taste and serve no purpose except to present a stereotyped kind of show that has long since gone out of style on the American stage.

Most people who plan these minstrel shows do so without any understanding that they are offending fellow Americans. As private citizens they have the right to be dull and uncomprehending but they have no right to use the public schools to poke fun at and heap ridicule on other American citizens.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

J. Rosamond Johnson's death in Manhattan at the age of 81 marked "finis" to a notable period in the development of the American Negro. An old master of the entertainment world, J. Rosamond was as outstanding in his specialty as was his more widely known brother, James Weldon Johnson.

The brothers started their careers as collaborators, writing song hits and light operas in partnership with a third luminary, Bob Cole. James Weldon moved out into the broader field of interracial statesmanship.

Lester Granger

Meanwhile, the firm of Cole and Johnson became almost as well known in the early part of this century as Rogers and Hammerstein are today—and for the same reason: mastery of the art of entertainment.

Few Know

Some of the Johnson masterpieces are either forgotten today, or J. Rosamond's connection with them has passed from public memory. Most of those who sing the National Negro Anthem know that James Weldon Johnson wrote the beautiful words; few know that J. Rosamond was responsible for the equally inspiring music.

The old song, "Oh, Didn't He Ramble" is a real antiquity except to 60-year-olders of today, but quartettes still harmonize on "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground." They were Johnson productions as were "Under the Bamboo Tree," "Since You Went Away," and a dozen other songs sung and hummed and loved by millions in the early part of this century.

Opposed Stereotype

What made J. Rosamond Johnson and his partners unique for their day was that they fought successfully against a stage stereotype. They came along at the turn of the century, when the minstrel show was the rage.

The burnt-cork stereotype not only distorted the natural humor of Negro comedians into a grotesque routine; it also pushed Negro comedians off the stage to make place for cork-blackened whites who gave their interpretation of how Negroes were supposed to behave. And if today's generation of colored people resent the racial stereotypes offered by Hollywood, "They ain't seen nothing," compared with the old minstrel shows composed solely of slap-stick yak-yak and kyah-kyah.

Tuneful and Gay

J. Rosamond Johnson, with his partners, did break with this unholy tradition. Their songs, and, later, the Cole and Johnson vaudeville skits were tuneful and gay, were humorous and romantic, were as unminstrel-like as could be imagined, and were successful. The Cole and Johnson team were the toast of the East and of many European cities. Their success was the first opening of opportunity's door for today's colored stars of stage, screen and concert hall.

It makes no difference that many of those who benefit from today's changed order had never heard of J. Rosamond Johnson until they read of his death. Many music students have never heard of the Music School Settlement in Harlem which he helped to found.

A Personality

Most Negro Korea veterans, believe it or not, have never heard of the old "Fighting Fifteenth" regiment of New York's National Guard, of World War I fame and predecessor to the present 369th Group. J. Rosamond was an officer of the Fifteenth.

He was music director for London's Grand Opera House before World War I. He was quite a man was J. Rosamond, so much that I can't remember ever hearing a wise crack about the "Rosamond" part of his name.

He was a personality, a name to conjure with in a period when men like himself meant more to racial progress than at any time before or since. Hats off at the passing of a pioneer.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

MEET MR. CLAUDE E. McKINNEY

If you have ever met Mr. Claude Ellsworth McKinney we feel sure that he has tried or succeeded in selling you a membership in the NAACP. He is just like [illegible] that although he is an excellent sign painter and does that for a living. However, he is ardently interested in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as it has been ever since we have known him.

Leon Steward

Mr. McKinney keeps very busy with his sign painting and it was difficult for us to get his story. Nevertheless he gave us his story one day and, if we can do a good job on it we are sure that you will find it interesting.

A Mississippian

Our hero was born in Anquilla, 47 miles from Vicksburg, Miss. He studied at two private schools before reaching high school. After high school he went to Tuskegee Institute to study architecture and wheel-wrighting. After graduating young McKinney decided to work in a furniture factory.

He started in the furniture factory as a laborer at $1 per day and worked up to a point where they paid him as a mechanic at $3.75 per day, which was quite a sum for a white man to pay a Negro at that time. He remained there for 10 years, during which time in 1904 he married the charming Miss Emma Rebecca Thomas.

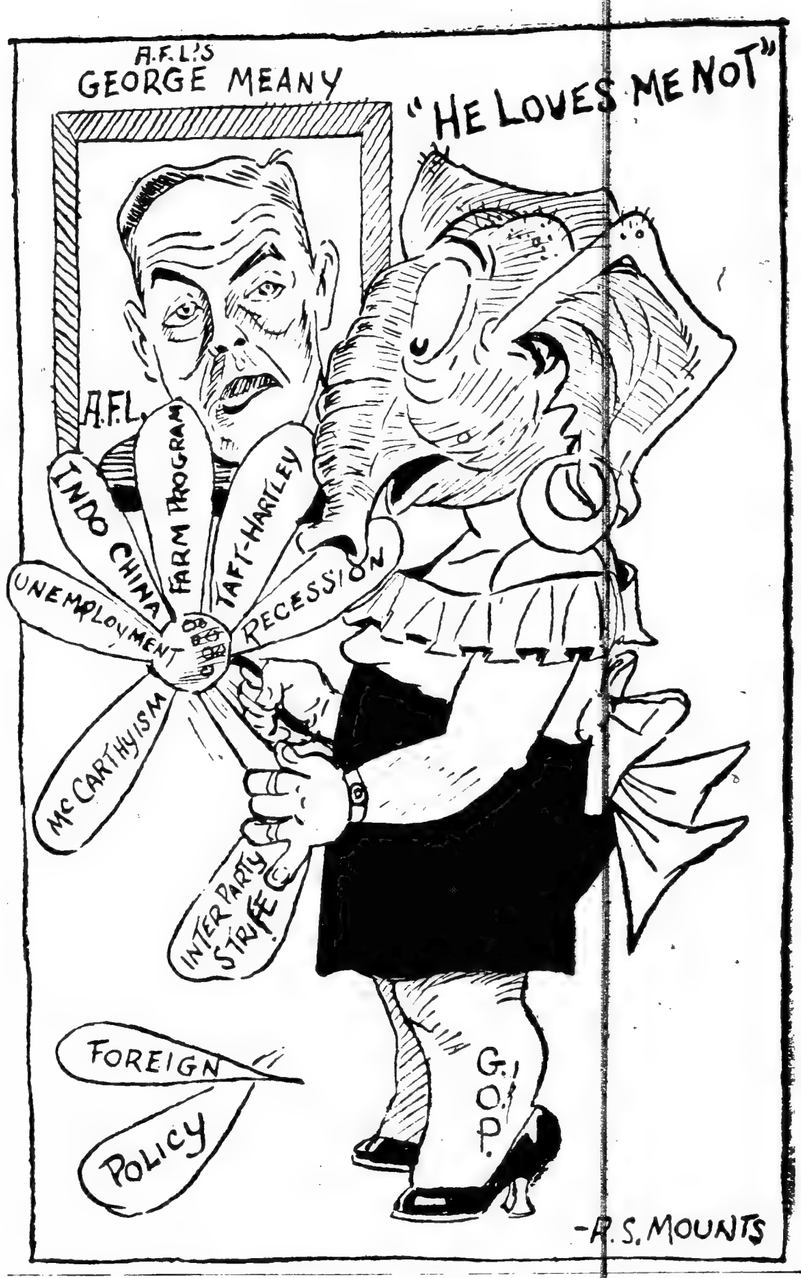
He quit the job to work in the post office. After a year in the post office he left again to accept a position with a fraternal insurance company which carried him over Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Supreme Organizer

After a while he became the Supreme Organizer and kept the position for four years. He left that post to work in a railroad blacksmith shop so as to develop his muscles. But he did not get much exercise as they gave him the job of taking orders in the reclamation department of the Illinois Central Railroad.

After four years with the railroad company, Mr. McKinney decided to go home and open a cabinet repair shop. This was a successful venture and he did well but he felt his health slipping. He took a train to go to see a doctor but missed the train when he got off at a stop on the way, and when he boarded another car it took him to New Orleans.

It was necessary to find work there. His first job was in a saloon for two weeks, at the Elks Club for four weeks and the Checker club for one year. He decided to send for his wife and family.



California Bound

When they arrived he was working at the Appomattocks Club. He raised the question, "How would you like to go to California?" His wife consented and he got a job as a waiter on a California-bound train. They had five girls to take with them.

In 1917 the McKinney family arrived in Los Angeles. World War I was in progress and our hero went to work at the ship yards. When the war was over they had him paint a sign. They were so pleased with the sign that he decided to take a sign painting course through the International Correspondence School. When he had finished the course he set up a shop in the rear of 1600 S. Central avenue. In 1922 he moved to 1211 E. 18th street and he has been there ever since. His home fronts on Central avenue.

Veep

By the way, he is now the vice-president of the NAACP—that man, Claude Ellsworth McKinney. The little girls? They are now Mrs. Creola Banks, married to Mr. Gola Banks of Victorville. Mrs. Emma Kate Allison, whose husband is dead, lives with her father. Julia B. is married to Mr. Thomas Walker; Melba is married to Mr. Frank Hills; Mrs. Fay E. Traylor lives in San Francisco; Wyletta is married to Mr. George Harpole and Mr. Claude E. McKinney, Jr., and four of his sisters live in Los Angeles. What a man. What a man is Claude E. McKinney!!!

Treatment Is Imperative to Combat VD

ROY O. GILBERT, M.D.
County Health Officer

There is some controversy on the subject of the importance of venereal disease control but the VD specialist insists that the venereal diseases still constitute the number one communicable disease health problem in the nation. The origin of the difference of opinion on the matter exists in the interpretation given to statistical data.

According to the California State Health Department's Annual Report of 1951-52, the war on venereal diseases in California is about two-thirds won. However, many VD experts point out that such statements are made after comparing the rates of peak years with those of the present.

Trend Downward

These experts also point to the fact that as late as 1953 the venereal disease rates increased in 17 states and the District of Columbia and that the reason for the conclusions in the California report may be due to slackened effort both in case-finding and reporting.

Whatever the precise truth of the matter, the fact does remain that the reported rate of syphilis in the United States has dropped from 117 per 100,000 population to 160 during the last decade, and that the trend still seems to be downward. Los Angeles county follows the trend for so far this year approximately 400 fewer cases of syphilis were found than for the same period last year.

No Complacency

Whatever the statistics are, one who develops complacency about the venereal diseases because of the effectiveness of present day treatment is most unwise. Like termites quietly going about their work of destruction, so do spirochetes (syphilis germs) go about the business of attacking the human body. As the disease progresses, any organ including the heart may be affected or the brain tissues and spinal cord destroyed. In 10 to 20 years, insanity, paralysis, loss of muscular control, blindness or deafness may occur and as in cases past diagnosis of deaths result from severe cases.

Through the public schools also attacks the venereal disease. Syphilis germs and if it manages to enter the world at all, the infant may be mentally deficient, crippled or blind. Yet any baby born of a syphilitic mother has an excellent chance of being sound and healthy if treatment is started before the fifth month of pregnancy and even if started later, the chances are still good.

Early Symptoms

The early symptoms of syphilis may resemble hives, heat rash or measles soon disappear even without treatment and the victim develops a false sense of security. In a very small number of cases spontaneous cure does occur but the risk of going untreated is enormous indeed.

Less serious but more numerous are the cases of gonorrhea. A common cause of sterility, this disease attacks the internal organs particularly in women and may be a cause of chronic ill health.

Highly Contagious

Both diseases are highly contagious but, since the germs quickly die outside the body, spread is usually through intimate contact. Syphilis may be contracted concomitantly, however, from the sharing of such articles as cups and towels with persons in the infectious stage of the disease. Syphilis germs may also enter the body through cuts or abrasions in the skin. Such instances as these are rare.

Since penicillin was first released for civilian use in 1947, treatment of these diseases has become much more simple and the cure assured. Previously, treatment for syphilis dragged on for 12 to 18 months or longer; now, when treated in its early stages it may be cured in a matter of days. Gonorrhea responds to the drug even more rapidly.

Galvanic help and education are needed in order to stamp out VD. The penalty for the ignorant individual is unusually severe. To know the facts and fail to seek medical advice for any reason whatsoever is to merit Puck's indictment of the human race. "Lord, what fools these mortals be."

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

Women I just don't get.

They are wonderful creatures. Couldn't do without them and all that sort of stuff. But women I just don't get.

Take hats, for example. A woman just can't go this place or that place without a hat. They've got to wear a hat to church, to a banquet, to a wedding, to a funeral. Not just any kind of hat, mind you—but a special kind of hat—though some of them are nothing more than a square piece of material pinned down to the hair.

And Pocketbooks

So they sit in a church, or a banquet hall, or a meeting all dressed up—with their hats on. Consider the hue and cry that's raised when we gents are a little slow lifting our prides and joys from our domes after we get inside. If we just hesitate the stares will bare our heads for us.

Like I said, women I don't get.

Then take this business of pocketbooks or purses, if you please. A cardinal rule of femininity is that a woman and her purse are never parted. I remember tossing a lady's handbag from the front seat to the back seat of the car and you would have thought I had, instead, walked boldly into the ladies' powder room. I have yet to hear the end of this criminal deed.

Booby Traps

Of course, what somebody ought to get up enough nerve to do is to toss all these booby traps into the incinerator. Women can never find anything among the fantastic collection of ladies' aids they carry in their purses. They never know where to put the beastly things when they are out. At a banquet, I often find myself cutting alligator leather instead of beef.

Why can't women have pockets just like men to carry their essentials in? Why must they tote around these expensive suitcases everywhere they go and why must they hold on to them like they contained uranium? 'Course, if women did away with handbags, then they wouldn't have anything that they couldn't wear their new shoes with.

Or Gloves

Gloves. Pray tell why it's necessary for women to CARRY gloves. I don't know if I have ever seen a woman wearing a pair of gloves but they wouldn't be found dead without them. Well, I guess you've got to have something to swat the flies with.

And then, dear, (I know the sisters dropped out long ago) there's this business about formal gowns. Can you imagine us members of the stronger sex changing tuxedos every time we went to a dance?

Imagine showing up in a pink tux with a plunging neck line. Or a blue and bisque (whatever that is) creation with billowing trousers. And just imagine us wearing the same tux to the Lizards' ball that we wore to the Tadpoles' shindig. It just ain't done.

And that's why, women, I don't get.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Whether it is true or not, I feel that you should be informed of a rumor which has reached my ears. It seems that the major plank in Dr. H. Claude Hudson's campaign for the NAACP presidency is his avowed disapproval of Communist infiltration in the organization. If this rumor is correct, I feel that he has embarked on a course that is very dangerous to the NAACP.

The enemies of the NAACP could ask for nothing better than that he be elected. Then they could say, "Of course it's a Commie outfit. Even their president admits it." Apparently, Dr. Hudson believes in "All for one," but not "One for ALL." Not if he's the one.

Sincerely,
T. A. BORDEAUX.

Church Spending Over 2½ Million On Construction

GLENDALE — Seventh-day Adventists will spend more than $2,500,000 in the next 12 months for new churches and schools, according to a report released recently by R. R. Bietz, president of the Southern California Conference.

Dr. Henderson of 2nd Baptist Example of Good Leadership

Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, the able leader of Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith, is an outstanding example of progressive religious leadership.

He has pastored his congregation of 1900 loyal members for nearly 14 years.

During that time, the church liquidated an $83,000 church debt in 15 months. Rev. Henderson has built a valuable parsonage.

The Second Baptist Church is sponsoring the Community Center that is located next door to the church. It has four dormitories for working girls and aged women.

Rev. Henderson is known for his many civic and benevolent deeds to Christian and sinner alike.

He is very active in the NAACP and is a member of the executive board.

Rev. Henderson is a family man with four sons and a devoted wife.

Though he is the holder of many degrees from various colleges and universities including a Bachelor of Divinity degree, Rev. Henderson is modest, kind and tolerant. Rev. Henderson is considered by his parishioners and those who know him as an example of how the Father must have expected His servants to walk as demonstrated on the life he lives before his people and his God.

Women's Council To Celebrate Anniversary

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Sunday, December 5 marks the beginning of the 20th year since the founding of the National Council of Negro Women.

The entire week of December 5 will find local councils in all parts of the country, active, conducting public meetings, appearing on TV and radio programs, sponsoring teas and other social events in observance of this most significant date.

Highlighting the series of events will be a special message from the founder, President Emeritus, Mrs. Mary M. Leod Bethune, who will speak on the regular weekly program of the United Negro College Fund, over the ABC network on Sunday, December 5, at 7:30 a.m. The message from Mrs. Bethune to council women everywhere will be broadcast from her Daytona Beach, Florida, home on the campus of Bethune-Cookman College.

Mrs. Bethune, the author of many "firsts" in her long and brilliant career, is the Founder of Bethune-Cookman College and a member of the United Negro College Fund. In addition to Daytona Beach, the event and to make a presentation to Mrs. Bethune from the thousands of council women whom she represents will be Mrs. William Thomas, Massachusetts, the third national president of the Council.

Record Mail Expected for Xmas rush

Postmaster Otto K. Olesen predicted this week that a record breaking load of Christmas mail—approximately 25 million holiday greeting cards and 13,000,000 gift packages—will be handled at the Los Angeles Post Office during the next few weeks.

The local post office is ready for its big annual rush Olesen said, but urged the public to shop and mail early to avoid the last minute holiday rush.

On-time delivery for Christmas can be assisted by mailing out-of-town gifts and greetings before Dec. 11, and those expected his servants to walk that air mail packages and greetings sent by air should be mailed before Dec. 20.

Close to 3000 extra workers and 7000 temporary employees have been hired to help the regular work force handle the mountain of Christmas mail.

PREP SCOREBOARD

SPORTS

GAME OF THE WEEK:—
Manual-Fremont

With the City and C.I.F. playoffs underway, football for the 1954 season is on the way out (and a good one it was too), so the Preps have moved inside to the hardwoods.

The league loops got underway last Friday with several top games on tap.

University High School, last year's City and Western League champs, started off again with a win over Dorsey High, 70-59, on the losers' court. Manual Arts, the Southern League defending champ and runner-up to the city title holders, squeeked by a fighting Fremont five, 57-53 — and I mean squeeked, for I was on hand at this one.

Coach Mercer of Fremont floored a good team, who went into the fray after a perfect practice season with no loses. Trejo, Pathfinder guard, started the fireworks when he hit for two from the floor. Brandon of Manual was fouled and sank his free toss. The Fremont lead was increased as Brown scored to make it 4-1. Stafford fouled Dugan, who missed the free throw, but it was tipped in by McKibben. Fouled during the process, he also made the gifts to put Manual ahead 5-4.

DUGAN OFF SLOWLY

The game was zip and tuck for the first half, with Manual holding the edge of 27-23. In the third quarter the score was tied twice, 27-27 and 29-29. Garcia, Manual's 5' 5" forward, was fouled, made two free throws to put them in front 31-29, and they moved in from here.

"Chuck" Dugan, Manual's 6' 3" center (brother of Larry Dugan, the Pepperdine flash) got off to a slow start the first half but found the range with his hooks, and finished with 17 to top the Toiler scorers. Lewis Fremont forward and high-point man of the game with 18 brought the crowd to their feet with his last-minute shooting, which forced Manual into a stall to maintain their lead. Finals: Manual 57, Fremont 53.

McKibben, Brandon and Garcia all played good ball for Manual, as did Wallace and Trejo for the "Finders."

SERVES NOTICE:—

Coach John Randolph's Jordon Bulldogs, like their football team, got off to a slow start during the practice sessions, but served notice to the Marine League by trimming Gardena, 51-42, on the Gardena court. Lead by Sterling Forbes, 6' 4" center, Stewart and Sims both 6' 3", the Jordons boast plenty height. This trio is bolstered by several members from last year's championship B squad, mainly one Bobby Odum, who is deadly from the floor. Burdett and Jackson also hit the hoop in the Gardena win.

PRE-SEASON CHOICE:—

The Jefferson High School five also gave the Southern League contenders something to look forward to, by beating Washington High, 74-63. Lead by Bruce, Foster and McGill, their rangy center, the trio scored 41 digits between them, so you can look for trouble from the Demo front line.

LAST SEASON:—

Polytechnic High, Eastern League champs last year, who might be playing their last season on the home court before moving, put the skids to South Gate in their opener, 66-41. Green (13), Williams (12) lead the mechanic attack.

ALL-BAY LEAGUE

Santa Monica and Centennial dominated the all-league football team selections picked last week. The race boys who shared the glory were Joe Wade (C), Eddie McNeal (G), Paul Lowe (F.B.), all of Centennial. Jot Poston (T) and Geo. Hughley (E) of Santa Monica. Centennial also placed McCrumby, Sampson, Sloughter, C. McNeal, Williams and Johnson on the second team.

Rommie Loudd Leads UCLA In Pass Catching

The Bruins of UCLA are probably smothered under the pile of honors which we have heaped upon them, but just to be sure that none got lost in the shuffle, here's a little more glory for the hard-hitting Uclans:

Rommie Loud finished the season with top honors in the pass-catching department with 13 for 157 yards and four touchdowns.

Tailback Sam Brown, Oakland's pride and joy, took PCC punt return honors with 10 returns for 262 yards, a 26.2-yard average, and three touchdowns.

In addition, Brown punted four times for a total of 134 yards, completed three of his twelve attempted passes for 54 yards and one TD, netted 135 yards rushing and scored 45 points. Both he and Left End Loudd are Juniors, so watch out next year!

The Bruins, as a team, broke three PCC and nine school records. Coach Sanders' contention that his Bruins' success was a true team effort, is borne out by the fact that no individual records were among those broken.

The highly-regarded UCLA pass defense, which led the nation with a total of 505 yards, set a PCC single game mark in the USC fiasco, by hijacking five Trojan tosses and returning them for a grand total of 167 yards. The previous record was 122 yards by Washington against Oregon in '52.

Two PCC season marks shattered included: (1) the allowance of only 659 yards to opponents via rushing (old mark—715 by USC in '43) and (2) allowance of only 95 first downs by opponents (old record—97 by Cal and UCLA).

Following are the list of UCLA school records set this fall.

	SEASON	OLD RECORD	Uclans set in

Two Negro Stars On Look Team

NEW YORK—Two Negro grid stars have been chosen for the 1954 Look Magazine All America. The selections were made by the 750-member Football Writers Association of America. They appear in the next issue of Look.

Rugged Calvin Jones, an Iowa guard, and Art Walker, Michigan's giant tackle, were named to the All America for their aggressive, hard-driving line play, Look said in announcing the awards.

The entire Look All America, including Walker and Jones, will fly to New York City on Thursday on a specially chartered Trans World Airlines Constellation for a round of awards, banquets, television and radio appearances.

The players will receive an engraved, specially designed Lord Elgin Clubman watch to commemorate their All America selection at a sports banquet in Gene Leone's famous restaurant. The ceremonies will be broadcast nationally by Harry Wismer over the Mutual Broadcasting System at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

The Look All America will appear on the Jackie Gleason Show (CBS-TV) on Saturday, December 4, and they will receive a white Voit football autographed by every member of the team as souvenirs of the trip.

PLAY-CALLER—Peter Andrews, who calls plays for Centennial, makes ready to take over for Thursday night's battle with Manual in C.I.F. second round play-off.

Morris Says

By JOHNNY MORRIS

The scent of roses is in the air, and somebody must have thrown in a little cologne for good measure, judging by the large number of USC rooters who still have high hopes.

Even many of the sports writers around the city are unconvincingly pretending to believe in miracles. Now, gentlemen. We appreciate your efforts to sell tickets, but let's not be ridiculous. The place will be packed anyway with the nation's Number One (no nation's Nummber One football team. That's right Gentlemen of the Press, I said Number One.

In spite of your attempts to palm off the 35 coaches who make up the UP board of experts as Divine Beings who are the only people able to distinguish between a football game and two-handed solitaire, I just can't force myself to ignore the fact that the other pollsters are sportswriters, sufficient in number to view every major football game played all season.

The nation's top team—oops! Sorry, boys—Ohio State demonstrated last week that she can win without Bobby Watkins, but I think there would be less strain on Woody Hayes' heart if Bobby proved to be in shape come New Year's Day. Also nice to have around will be Lee Williams, Jim Roseboro, and Jack Gibbs in the backfield and Jim Parker at guard.

The Bucks slipped from 14-point favorites to 6-point favorites. Your writer picks the Bucks by 18 points (give or take a conversion).

Grid Contest Set Saturday

Twenty-six stalwarts representing Los Angeles' municipal playgrounds and the top pig skin talent from the County Department of Parks and Recreation, the Catholic Youth Organization, and the Deputy Auxiliary Police will converge on the University of Southern California's Bovard Field next Saturday (Dec 4) at 10:30 a. m. to seek laurels in the City Wide Inter-Agency Championships of the sixth annual Boys Football Passing, Receiving, and Punting Contest, it was reported yesterday.

Announcing that the Saturday morning gridfest will be open to the public without admission charge, Ralph Borrelli, the Recreation and Park Department's director of special events, said that the "stars of the future" set to compete on Bovard Field's greensward won titles or finished runners up in the junior and senior divisions of district contests conducted last Saturday (November 27) by the four participating organizations.

Pirates Try But Cannot Cross Jordan

Jordan High's varsity basketball team were rude hosts to San Pedro Tuesday afternoon, when they sent the pre-season favorites back to the water front with a 64-51 licking.

The first half was a close affair, with both teams playing it close to the vest. As the gun sounded to end the half, Sims, Jordan forward, sank a 30-footer to put the Bulldogs in front by 8 points, and they held all the way.

Forbes, 16, Sims and Burdette with 14, led the Jordon attack. Easters and the Gravett Bros showed for the losers.

The Jordon Babes also scored with a 56-19 win over the Pirate B's. Garrett was high man with 24 while Atkinson stood out for Pedro with 16.

Joe Lewis, ex-Jordon High prep star, now displaying his talents for Compton J. C., was selected as the top Junior College griddet of the 1954 season. Lewis who plays tackle on the Tarter squad will soon be in action against Boise J. C. of Idaho in the Potato Bowl.

Omega Confab Will Ponder Bias Problems

ATLANTA, Ga. — The 41st annual Grand Conclave of the Omega Phi Psi Fraternity will be featured by a one day workshop centered around the subject "America's Challenge: To Implement School Segregation by Understanding and Treating Prejudice."

The educational unit will be moderated by Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, President of Morehouse College. Dr. Rufus E. Clement, President of Atlanta University, will lead the discussion on the Negro and his struggle for better educational facilities during the last seventy-five years. Dr. William Boyd, of Atlanta University, will point out the advantages of the increased educational facilities. Robert L. Carter, Assistant Special Counsel of the NAACP Legal Department, will show how desegregations affects the community and will show what impact the Supreme Court decision will have on the other laws upholding segregation in any form. Dr. Margaret J. Butcher, Professor of English at Howard University, will show the need for integration at all levels, and the psychological reaction on children during their formative age.

Jordan Keeps State Crown

After jabbing and running successfully for four rounds and being tagged for two, Don Jordan justified his claim to the California lightheavy crown with a brutal attack upon the head of Manuel Routeria, which left the challenger dazed and bloody in a neutral corner, and gave the champion a seventh round KO.

Referee Abe Roth stopped the brawl when it became apparent that Manny couldn't defend himself.

Centennial Defeats Baldwin Park 13-6 In C.I.F. Playoff

A war was staged on the Baldwin Park reservation Friday night between the Apaches of Centennial, and the Braves of Baldwin Park, in a battle to stay alive in the Central Group C.I.F. playoffs. When the dust cleared (or I should say Fog) the Apaches were on top 13-6.

With the officials almost forced to use fog lights to determine the flip of the coin, which the Cents won, the McNeal twins co-captains for the night elected to kickoff, and the ball game was on.

Conroy, Braves' quarterback, hit center for 3. The next found McCrumby of Centennial knifing in from his line backer spot to nail Tremblay for a 15 yd. loss. Forced to kick, Campbell returned back to his own 45 yard line. Three failing tries at the Baldwin Park line, Thomsson booted. Tremblay ran back to the 25, but an illegal use of hands placed the ball back to the 8 yd. line. Two plays, and another penalty, put the Braves back to the 3. Conroy kicked out and Centennial took over on the 43. The two teams exchanged punts, with Conroy kicking a beautiful one deep into Centennial territory. A clipping on the return placed the ball back to the Apache 30 yd. marker. The Cents then moved to a first, but somebody used hands, and the ball went back to the 24.

Lowers Boom

With third and twenty-four Lowe dropped back to pass. Spotting no receiver, he tucked the apple and took off through the entire Braves team for 60 yards and the score. He appeared to be stopped several times, but ran out of would be tacklers' arms to pay dirt. Andrews bucked the point and Centennial led 7-0.

The Baldwin Park score came at the beginning of the last period. A couple of cracks at the Apache line, then Conroy hit his tackle Milo Matijaservich, made eligible for the play in the end zone for six for the Braves. The kick was wide and the score was 7-6.

The Icer

The Centennials iced the game with their next score. Going into wide spread formation they marched the distance. The topper of the drive was a pass Lowe to Sampson, who leaped high over the heads of two Park defenders to make the catch for the T. D. Conversion was missed.

At this point the Braves fought back savagely, and were within striking distance, until Monroe of the Apaches picked off a Conroy pass with 25 seconds left. Final score Centennial 13 - Baldwin Park 6.

Miss. Junior College May Face Negro

When the Hinds Junior College football team trots on the Rose Bowl turf for its Junior Rose Bowl Game Dec. 12, its players may get a new experience. They may play against a Negro!

Hinds is located in Raymond, Mississippi, which is about as Deep South as mortal man can go. The Hinds footballers will be opposing El Camino Junior College which has one Negro on its squad.

The Negro youngster on the El Camino squad hasn't put in much time in actual play, according to End Coach Doug Essick, but has participated in a few games.

"We have one Negro boy," Essick said. "He hasn't played very much but if the opportunity arises, we'll certainly use him." The coach said that no agreement had been reached or suggested as to the use of the Negro player.

Hinds comes to the Rose Bowl with a clean slate over the past four years. It has been trying to get to the Bowl for the past several years and won the right to appear this year after a spirited contest.

El Camino bested Bakersfield for the Bowl bid when it shaded its rival last Saturday. The Bakersfield squad is loaded with Negro players. Its star backfield man is Carl Gordon who is being sought by major universities on the West Coast.

Orange Blossom Bowl Pits Md. State vs. Tenn.

MIAMI—The magic of the words—Orange Blossom Classic—is expected to lure some 50,000 football fans into the spacious Orange Bowl here Saturday evening, Dec. 4, for the 22nd annual Orange Blossom Classic football game between the Florida A and M University Rattlers of Tallahassee, and the Maryland State College Hawks of Princess Anne.

The classic is a public relations venture of the University which began in 1933.

Maryland State will enter the game with a record of six wins and one tie and a national number five ranking. A and M will take a national ranking of number three and a record of seven wins and one defeat into the game.

Naulls Ready As UCLA Opens Cage Season

The spotlight now turns to basketball at UCLA, with Johnny Wooden's Bruins opening their 25-game schedule next week (Dec. 3-4) against the Alumni All-Stars and a top Intersectional opponent, Kansas State, in the Westwood Men's Gymnasium.

With UCLA's first undefeated and untied football season now history, Wooden admits this should help the basketball campaign if the Bruin students and fans carry over their fine support and enthusiasm to the cage sport.

Naulls, who gave indications last year as a sophomore as being the best center Wooden has had at UCLA, is a key figure.

Southern Will Meet Xavier

Southern University will conclude its 11-game grid schedule by entertaining (2) the Xavier University Gold Rush in the annual Pelican State Classic to be held December 4. Xavier has been victorious only once against the Jaguars in the past decade, in 1951, but interest in the game still runs high, and a capacity crowd is expected.

Plans as announced by the Joint Southern-Xavier Committee are that there will be a motorcade of the Gold Rush supporters, and that bands of both institutions will be on hand to entertain throughout the contest.

BOWLING —with— LEWIS RUSS

In the Sunset Bowling League Saturday night at the Studio Bowl the Pick Uppers perked up and took Neals Liquors to the slaughter house as they butchered the wood and hacked it over.

Chuck Ballance, Junia Green and Al Mays mowed down the pins to upset "Neals" three games to none. Grand Central Bar-B-Que belted the sticks and racked the stuff up to blank Lee's Hats three games to none. Billie Hampton, the pocket ball cutie, tore up timber bowling a 247 high game and a 632 top series.

B and B pounded the pins to roll over the "Lewis Bros." two games to one. Kenneth Morris, "the pride of Columbus," whaled the lumber to gloat over a 235 game and a 587 series.

The "Timber Ticklers" tripped enough logs to beat "Browns Motors" two games to one. Chuck Downs pacing his team with a 221 game and a 560 series. Tony Moore of Browns was clicking well in unwinding a 556 series.

Garrets ploughed down the wood to set back Dedricks two games to one. Jimmy Hill killing the maple for a 567 and a 567 art. Earl Jackson backing him up with a 556 series.

In racking the wood back my heart goes out to the Lewis Brothers and family in their recent bereavement, but the show must go on.

Sons Give Reception to Honor Virgil Morrows

Messrs. Dion G. and Virgil M. Morrow II held a reception honoring the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil M. Morrow, Thanksgiving evening in the Griffith Memorial Hall of Second Baptist Church. Despite the dense fog, several hundred people flocked to the church to give their congratulations to the well-known and popular couple.

The receiving line included many of those who had been members of the bridal party twenty-five years ago. They were Mrs. Janie Williams, who was next to Mrs. Morrow's mother; Madie Funchess, her beautician, along with her sister and mother.

Bridal Escorts

The musicians were Luvenia Nash Freeze, organist; Clemmy Henry Sutton, now of Pasadena, whistler; Fredia Shaw Johnson, who sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," both at the wedding party and at the anniversary reception; Juanita Craddock Durley, violinist.

Bridal escorts were Alma Billops, Aline Thomas, and Faye Jackson; bridesmaids Georgia Rosser Hicks, Thenia Carson Phoenix, and Portia Brayles Griffith.

Judge Thomas L. Griffith escorted the bride to the altar. Attorney Lloyd Griffith acted as best man; Katherine Graham, matron of honor; Edward Harvey, ring bearer; Benzell Graham, flower girl; Esther Griffith Merriwether, maid of honor.

Others attending were Mrs. Fay Griffith, and Rev. H. G. Merriwether, Jr.

Mementos

On the platform, the bridal veil was beautifully draped over a magnificent table. The veil was hand-sewn by the late Clara C. Hulbert, and was still in fine condition despite the fact that it had been worn by several brides.

There were several pictures of the wedding—the invitation, the ring bearer's pillow, the wedding license bearing the signature of the bride's father, the late Dr. T. L. Griffith, who performed the ceremony, and pictures of Dr. and Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Morrow, parents of the honorees.

Bridal Chorus

The bridal chorus was sung by the senior choir of Second Baptist Church, with Madam Mazelle Tantley and Dorothy Young, guest director and organist, respectively. Soloists included E. Boswell, Mary Thompson, Charles Williams, Clyde Lee, Margarete Pett, and the Wesley Quartette singing "Through the Years." Mr. Clark and Miss Young accompanied with sweet music throughout the evening.

Dion and Virgil, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, presided with grace and dignity. Virgil, the younger son, read a long and informative article from the front page of the California Eagle, dated Dec. 2, 1929 which made the listeners feel they were all present at the wedding a quarter of a century ago.

Dion, the elder son, told of the love and devotion of his parents for each other, as he had observed it from childhood to manhood and likened it to the sturdiness of a tree, that only comes from God.

Velva Henderson, wife of the minister of 2nd Baptist church, introduced the former bridal party. The highlight of the affair came when eighteen-month-old Jan Morrow, first grandchild of the Morrows, toddled forward carrying the wedding pillow, accompanied by her cousin, Liza Jane Griffith.

Dr. Henderson then gave a short talk on marriage and the great need today for more fruitfulness and sincerity of man and wife each to the other. His remarks were followed by a beautiful and effective prayer as Dorothy Young played "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

Members of the senior choir, smartly attired and beautifully gowned, served as hosts and hostesses. Silver gifts of every description were received including several money trees.

AKA Shrine Club Elects Officers for New Year

The AKA Shrine Club held its annual election Saturday and elected the following officers: Eddie Munson, president; Sam Allen, vice-pres.; Norman Milner, sec.; Hubert Green, ass't. sec.; Fred Parker, treas.; James Ash, business mgr.; M. Leroy Carr, public relations; Essex Harris, historian; James Steward, Chaplain; James Strickland, advisor; Elbert M. Miles, sgt.-at-arms; and Americus Katest, master of ceremonies.

The club has been successful in combining social and charitable affairs. It is also active in community and humanitarian projects. A liberal donation is made to the Crippled Children's hospital each year. The club also sponsors a Boy Scout group. Preparations are now under way for an annual benefit ball which will be held Jan. 2 at 5810 Avalon Blvd. with Sammy Franklin and his band.

Joe Adams Will MC League Ball

Famed disc jockey-actor, Joe Adams, currently co-starring in the hit 20th Century Fox musical, "Carmen Jones," will serve as Master of Ceremonies for the first annual Winter Ball of the National Urban League, December 10, league officials announced this week.

Adams, the celebrated "Mayor of Melody," heard daily on radio station KOWL, which [illegible] the star-studded list of performers who will appear on the program said that he felt highly honored to be a part of such an affair.

Top Entertainment

With the cooperation of every major studio in Hollywood as well as top radio, television, and stage personalities the program portion of the Winter Ball promises to be one of the top entertainment treats of the year.

Guests will also have the privilege of dancing to two of the country's top recording orchestras besides being entertained by a "million dollars worth of talent."

Theme of the ball, which will be held at the Beachville Club in Santa Monica, is a "Salute to the Supreme Court," honoring the nine justices who recently handed down the decision banning segregation in the nation's public schools.

Nation's Leaders

Included on the committee for the ball, which will be one of the top annual affairs in the nation, are Mrs. Ella Cowles, associate editor of Look Magazine; Hon. Ralph Bunche, former Mayor of Los Angeles; Mrs. Loren Miller, lawyer in United Nations affairs and outstanding Negro civic leader; Mrs. Hattie Harper, famed Hollywood hairdresser; Mrs. Loren Miller, president, Southland Club Women; Dore Schary, MGM executive; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Jr., of the famed movie family, and other prominent in business, professional affairs and civic matters.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

Recently we have been devoting the column to a discussion of defensive tactics, which we believe is one of the most important aspects of bridge. Defensive play is as necessary for the rubber bridge player as for the duplicate player, because the overtrick which defense allows on one contract may be the trick which allows declarer to make his bid on the next.

This hand was played by South at a contract of four spades, although we understand that at other tables six was bid on the hand. Neither East or West could do anything but pass, and South, with his powerful hand, was awarded the contract.

Two Spade Opener

Incidentally, even with only nineteen points in high cards in this hand, it should be opened with a two spade bid. It contains eight good tricks, and only the worst fortune should prevent partner's having them on having the opponent's fail to give up one trick on the lead.

West made a very good lead of a diamond, although his best lead would have been a trump. South had shown a very powerful spade suit, and it was almost certain that North was almost void. This would have been a passive lead and would have forced South to find his own tricks.

Hesitated and Lost

On the diamond lead dummy played low. East hesitated and then played the ace. This play tested the defense as now it is impossible to prevent South from making the rest of the tricks.

The correct play, of course, is the duck. Then, if South has no heart, he cannot get to the dummy. And, if he can't get to the dummy, he will have to lead the club suit from his hand. He will then lose two club tricks and the ace of diamonds, and will only make four.

On all six bids where the hand was defended in the above manner, declarer breezed in on a contract which he had no business making. This is why we are emphasizing defense so much. A proper defense requires as much imagination to make as a proper play of a hand, and often more.

We are holding classes on Monday and Tuesday evenings at seven thirty. The Monday classes are at the Omega House, and the Tuesday classes are at the YWCA. We urge all beginning players, men as well as ladies, to attend. There is a play period as well as an instruction period.

Val Verdi News

Lavert Hamilton, Valle Verde visitor, got into double trouble when he went to the popular resort to escape the smog last week. He took a hike in the hills only to find his station wagon a mass of flames when he returned. To add to his troubles he had left his cash in the vehicle for safe keeping. The money went up in smoke too.

Misses Patricia and Sylvia Wright and Tyrole Moten of Val Verde were among the guests who attended the birthday party for Janet Hughes of 718 East 51st St. last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gamble of 756 Vernon Ave., Venice, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin at their hilltop cabin in Val Verde Park. Mrs. Gamble has been on the sick list but is recovering.

Surprise Party Compliments Thurman Lacy

Thurman W. Lacy, of 12943 S. Slater street, is still walking around with a dazed expression on his face and feeling that life and people are wonderful because on Saturday night about 75 of his friends surprised him with a sensational party in honor of his birthday at the beautiful home of Nolan and Thelma Grays.

Good music, superb cuisine and good fellowship added up to a wonderful and unforgettable evening in the life of Thurman W. Lacy.

Among those in on the fun were: Mrs. Mary E. Lacy, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Davis, Mrs. Gertie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Taylor, Mrs. Cecelia Sandoval, Mr. James Muldon, Mr. George Nesbit, Mrs. Marie Dickson, Mrs. Nelle Collins, Miss Bernice Johnson, Mrs. Laura Brewer, Mrs. Lucille Redmen, Miss Mary Alexander, Miss Betty Alexander, Miss Iya Nash, Mrs. Doris Pettigrew, Mr. Robert Adams, Mr. Cecil Griffin, Mrs. Katherine Hasson, Mrs. Doreus Herrington, Miss Eula Collins, Mrs. Cecelia Kendricks, Mr. Carol Talbert, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Moore, Captain and Mrs. Lawrence Adams of San Diego, Miss Permelia Henderson, Mrs. Doll Smith and M. D. Everetts.

SURPRISE— Thurman Lacy was sure it would never happen . . but it did. Friends kept the secret and gave him the surprise of his life on his birthday.

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

Jack and Jills' lil twigs (two to five) will be an eager part of this Saturday's audience at the Players Ring Theater. Fannie Benjamin plays hostess Sunday afternoon to members and a few friends of Independent's choir, Ivan Harold Browning due in from his extensive trip which included Arizona. His devoted Maurine stayed home this time.

Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast Club (their invitation is clever, printed on an empty white bag) will receive friends Sunday afternoon at Wilfandel, accenting their Girls' Town pet project. Guests are asked to bring a bag of cans and such. The Breakfast Club consistently well fills a much-needed over-all community service, year in, year out. To them, brava!

Short Stay

Louise Beavers got in Monday night for a short stay. This next time out she doesn't return until March. La Dandridge shopping a second car. Girl Friends meet Monday, discussing their annual Yule hoedown. Their excellent vintage champagne bowl is usually one of the most dependable in town through the party-giving season, as I recall.

Gerri and George Vaugh had one of their inimitable house parties Thanksgiving night. Their friends on such occasions always seem to be the sparkling variety and everybody gratefully pitches in and has quite a ball. That was Atty. Margery McKenzie-Lawson and her teenage son covering the town over the weekend. They live in Las Vegas now. She's lucratively busy in real estate development in that area.

Dislikes Our Town

Dr. Gertrude Curtis Thompson debating a visit here. Which is surprising, for she makes no bones about her intense general dislike for our town. Lenore Winkler sells her car here then leaves in time to reach Washington, D.C. for Christmas. Permanently.

The newly-wed Hartsfields (their wedding last Friday was an event) blissful in their three-room apartment, handholding while pondering where on earth they will store that mountain of gifts. Fashion show absolute: The promenading of gowns and furs (and glittering earrings) at Clara Harris Cummings' party last Saturday night. She fetched out The Town, all right.

Boys, Please

The Felton Altheimers (Deedie) due in next week via highway. They're staying this time. Again. The Buddy Clays (Mary) are joining the on-Crenshaw-Blvd. set. Brown-raise: Bill Graham (in N.Y. on business) and Willie Bryant's head-on clash! Willie took off his gun and invited Bill outside. What's more, Marshall Mries tried peace-making. Boys, boys, please. Gilbert Lindsay, party-hosting Saturday at Le Caribe.

Savings and Loan League head man Bill Hudgins in town for combined business and relaxation. He's the New York banker. Alice Cunningham birthday on the 8th. Lela Walsh ditto on the 18th. Della McDonald has hers on the 23rd. Daisy Brooks on the 29th. Velma Orendoff on the 20th. Chappie (whoopin' it up in New York) Bryant sips her birthday champagne on the 15th.

Trek to Europe

National YWCA sponsoring a summer trek to Europe. Ethel B. Miller, so wrapped in haum chartens I thought she'd surely smother, rushing (late) to Sunday's wedding reception, squeals: "I'm flying to New York next Tuesday for three months! We've opening night seats for Pearl Bailey's new show and I'll hug Jo Cooper for you and I hope to see Ellie and Norman Archer and Bill Lawrie for a New Year's drink!"

Zeta four-day Louisville meet begins two days after Xmas. It marks their thirtieth assembly. Beautician set about to be stunned. One of their members ordered a pink mink stole. I'd been wondering, too, who would have the first such around here!

Comments on Bridge Class

PAULINE STOVALL — "Although I attended only one lecture, I thought it was very interesting and beneficial."

MARILYN HUDSON — "The bridge class has been both instructive and enjoyable."

BETTYE WALLACE — "Your bridge class was very instructive as well as interesting and fun."

NETTIE MITCHELL — "Mr. Scott aroused an interest in better bridge playing."

MARGARET JACKSON — "Have learned so much. Mr. Scott is a wonderful teacher."

ANN SHAW—"Extremely informative. I've learned a great deal."

DARLENE CARNEY — "To those who have previously played poor bridge or no bridge the class has been beneficial, as well as entertaining."

GERALDINE PETERSON — "The bridge club has been very instructive and I have enjoyed the methods employed by Mr. Scott."

DOLORES SIMS — "This is the first time that bridge has been interesting to me. I feel that in the few weeks I have been attending, I have learned more than I have in the past three years of social playing."

LUCIA JACKSON — "I enjoy Mr. Scotts' bridge class very much. I feel that I am learning to play bridge for the first time and this is the third bridge class which I have attended."

Life on the farm is getting better all the time. Lovely Mary Morlass displays the fabulous fruits and vegetables which can be grown in the unbelievably productive desert sand soil of the new $25 million planned farm community development, "Coachella Valley Farms."

GORGEOUS is the word for the more than 50 beautiful girls (of whom Shirley Patts and Lisa Davis are just two samples) in "Ce C'est Paris," lavish stage extravaganza now being presented at Frank Sennes' Moulin Rouge theatre restaurant in Hollywood. Acclaimed the most spectacular show ever seen on the West Coast, it boasts a cast of 113 and was produced at a cost of $200,000. Shows are presented at 8 and 11 nightly except Mondays, and at 5 and 9 on Sundays.

by room mothers was scheduled for January.

Executive board members acting as hostesses included Mmes. Henry E. Safer, president; William Adams, William L. Mitchell, Melvin Aronow, Earl Tucker, Tom Nagashima, Stephen Klein, Irving Friedman, Joe Alexander, and George Hodge.

To introduce and explain the George Barden Glamour Manor program, the Homemaking Department of Edison Junior High School presented a program for the PTA, Tuesday, Nov. 23, in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Dorothy Stone, California regional homemaking supervisor, and Mrs. Charlotte Lebus, junior high school homemaking supervisor, were special speakers on the program.

The next regular meeting of Fremont Council will be held Dec. 7 at the 99th Street School, 920 E. 99th Street, at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Ralph E. Lewis, Jr., past president of 10th District, will speak on the subject of "American Spiritual Tradition."

December 8 is a special day at Dorsey High School. The faculty and office staff numbering eighty-eight will be honored with a Christmas pot-luck luncheon provided by Dorsey PTA board members. Mrs. Leslie Dupuis and her assistants, Mmes. Earl A. Meyer and Donald H. Ford, will be in charge of the kitchen. Decorating the home economics dining room and serving the group will be Mmes. R. Boone Oliver, S. A. Scott, C. L. Killian and Erskine Johnson.

Gompers Jr. High School PTA Board held its regular meeting in the school cafeteria recently. Plans were made to send dolls to the Health Center for distribution to underprivileged children at Christmas.

Mrs. A. D. Price, Intervation Relations chairman for Olympia Council, made a request for unused nylon stockings to be sent to Japan.

Walter Zaleriskie, principal, made the announcement that two Gompers students had won awards in the Ford Industrial Art competition. This is a national contest, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company.

The two winners were: Charles Bedford—wrought aluminum bowl and gold pin and certificate. Robert Herera—cast pattern letters and prize of $20, gold pin and certificate.

Sammy Davis 'On the Town'

By "CHAZZ" CRAWFORD

Showman Sammy Davis Junior had Hollywood eyebrows on stilts this week when he appeared out at a couple of late spots. The entertainer was in high spirits and his stamina and courage is amazing to folks the nation over who were saddened over the recent auto mishap that resulted in the loss of the trouper's left eye. However the news is more than good for Sammy at this time. His physician declared that the artificial eye that the dancer will have in two weeks time will be able to work in focus with his own eye inasmuch as the muscles of his lost orb haven't been broken.

Meanwhile his good pal, comic Jerry Lewis, has purchased a half dozen silk mohair eye patches for Sammy in assorted colors to match his suits. Hollywood columnists have been devoting more space to Sammy than Monroe's curves.

The latest word is that the performer will not be seen nor will he heard singing the title song from Universal Studios "Sy Bridges To Cross" in the same manner as the Nat Cole soundtrack for "Hans Baha" and Frank Sinatra for "Three Coins In the Fountain." Sammy was on his way to score the "Bridges" tune for his friend Jeff Chandler who authored it when he met with the accident. And the game little guy is determined to fulfill his pending Cino's nitery booking beginning January eleventh.

Temple Area Active Spot On Weekends

By ROSCOE WILLIAMS
Eagle Field Representative

RECUPERATING . . . Jovial John W. Cole brother of P. A. Cole, president of Chicago Metropolitan Mutual Insurance Company, is recovering at his home, 2821 Council Street, from a fractured collarbone. Among the many persons wishing J. W. a rapid recovery is his nephew, Gorilla Jones.

TEMPLE DISTRICT . . . Mary Williams, 745 East Vernon Avenue, met with an accident last 'smog-fog' day, Friday. Yawning while en route to Children's Hospital, Recuperating at Queen of Angels, Mary is a niece of Eartha Lazard, 3200 North Westlake Ave., who attends Pleasant Hill Baptist.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS—Joining the ever increasing number of weekly readers of the world's oldest Negro Weekly, the California Eagle, is the family of Vernon Raymond Center, 2740 Council Street. Each of their four daughters and baby son make the greatest medium West of Chicago, a positive must!!!!

"Carmen Jones"

A national movie reviewer said of "Carmen Jones": "the audience is not merely stimulated, its all but electrocuted." Scenes like the two shown above are the background for this comment with Dorothy Dandridge and Harry Belafonte the stars participants in the most sizzling romance to make it beyond the censors in many a Hollywood moon. Currently screening at Fox Wilshire and Los Angeles Theatres.

SKATING AT THE SKATIUM

By the Teenager

Marryin Sam (Gobel) had a charming skating partner last evening. As they say nowadays "she was the most" . . . Bob Bankston skated all by his lonely Monday night. Wonder what Neet was doing with Shorty?

Johnny and E. J. had a lovely midnite snack at a certain drive in Monday nite. Watch that stuff! . . . The beautiful Marcel Hunter graced our floor and rink with her presence. Willie Hunter was there too.

Tarzan — the one-time Pro skater lingered around but didn't don his skates . . . and who used his car a few days ago? Diane and her Aunt Stella had a very nice time . . . even if they did get paddled. Al Pops was back with us after such a long absence. I take this space to confer my best wishes for a speedy recovery for Mrs. Pops, a very fine lady . . . Also to congratulate you Joe Victor "loverilox" Mathieu is in love . . . with himself.

Shirley Downey, the vivacious Madonna added a rare touch of beauty to the rink as she skated a few nights ago. Alvin Burling, for one time rink floor guard must leave us. His uncle called . . . Uncle Sam that is. Melvin J. and Mary S. finally returned to skating.

Globetrotter

Johnny G. is taking a trip soon. Better hurry and see him girls. . . . Looking very lovely and tempting to all was beautiful La Vergn Spencer as she rolled gracefully over the floor. Love to watch this creation of Mother Nature add a rare touch of beauty to the rink as she skates.

Esther Hill had everyone straining their peepers gliding around the rink in those wonderful blue shorts . . . o-o-o-o-w!

Windy City Wonder

Billy Smith of Windy City blew into port with some other that the mighty Tarzan on Sadie Hawkins Nite . . . real cute too! . . .

Those two very lovely and beautiful Mc Daniels sisters, Sharon and Betty were among the skaters on Wed nite. . . . Also their charming friend Eleanor Poston.

Chu-Chu attended the Top Hatters Annual Charity Ball alone Wed Nite. . . . Was J/G. tied up too much to go?

Turkey Trot

The Sadie Hawkins Day Turkey winners were Thelma Oliver, Grand Prize winner for the Most Married Girl; Vera Oliver 2nd Prize for the most original costume; Paula Sharon Bertard 3rd Prize for the cutest costume. And there were eight free pass winners, which were: Gwen R. Peggy, Sharon, Barbara R., Esther H., Vera A., Anna H., and Sharon.

Family Affair

Looking over the winners, I see that the Oliver family was well taken care of for Thanksgiving, two turkeys being won by the sisters . . . congratulations! Next time we may make the prize a goose. Marryin Sam puckered up a "heap" while performing the "Marriages"... he's nothing but a lover.

Wild Roots

Joe L. Tilla was pulling his hair out by the roots. Reason? He had to jump between the check window and the skate window . . . !!!! A question to my friend Norman Jean: Did you have a nice time dear? And you Donna C., how was you evening?

Sheila (bashful) Rafer a very cute little cutie . . . had a wonderful time Thursday afternoon. What . . . no jeans?

Skatium Clubbers

The Skatium Rollers have been developing fast. The membership committee is J. E. of Santa Monica . . . Uncle Pete of Watts . . . Jean S. of Compton and P. E. of San Fernando Valley. . . . I wish them all the luck in the formation of their new skating club. . . . Don't forget that the Skatium personnel will furnish a birthday cake for special birthday skating parties.

CARMEN JONES SP2X

DILSENLING Dorothy Dandridge reaches to "make a star" in one of her many "scenarios" seen in "CARMEN JONES," opening Thursday (3) attendance records at Downtown Los Angeles and Hollywood theatres.

SIX SITTONS. Louis Jordan holds a pair of pretties on the manner of "read 'em and weep." Current one-nighting throughout the country, Jordan and his Tympany Five are big musical pet at the "main spot."

WORTH Seeing And Hearing

By JOHNNY MORRIS
(A Master of Notes)

June Christy's "SOMETHING COOL" is — well — something cool. The gonest side in the album is MIDNIGHT SUN. When you dig the lyrics that Johnny Mercer has put to Hamp's tune. Oo, Man! The next toughest is the title tune, which came out of the pen of Bill Barnes.

Sounds 'Round Town

The California Club Mambos every Thursday night. Go early enough and you get free lessons. The band features Carlos Vidal and a couple of ex-Prado boys, and last week they had Eddie Gomez. Monday is jam night. Sitting in on the last session were: Joe Rotondi, piano; Herbie Stewart, alto; Ted Hammond, bass; Leroy McCray, drums; Lester Robinson, bone (watch this cat), and Nick Bonney, guitar.

Tiffany Tough Enough

Didn't make Jack Tucker's Tiffany this week, must dig Gibbs on the weekend. . . . Got to make the Lighthouse, too . . . Be at Dynamite Jackson's Sunday.

DYNAMITE and LULA (newly burned mortgage and all) are gonna start a weekly broadcast from the place around midnite. The "Ravens" (who do a few cool things now and then) will be featured. Bigdogs on the scene will include BOBO BRAZIL. Everybody welcome. Either be there or dig it over KGFJ. Last time I showed there I ran into a piano player named Vic Jordan. Loud voice! Kill die size bows a lotta box. He don't do it for eats tho. He's studying at Gray Conservatory. Like most cats who are way out . . . he's not satisfied. . . . That's about all I dug this week . . . could mention the jam session at Bernice Lawson's house. Guess I won't.

OR WHAT EVERY DOWN COLLECTOR SHOULD HAVE . . . SOMETHING COOL (of course) . . . UNDAY JAZZ A LA LIGHTHOUSE by Rumsey's bunch. Toughest sides MORGAN DAVIS and VIVA ZAPATA (Shawty Rawdy, who else?) . . . THE FREE FORMS ALBUM by Ralph Burns. Try "SPRING IS" for size. . . . AN EVENING WITH BILLIE HOLLIDAY with help from Flip Shavers, Stoller, Newman, Quinichette, Peterson, Kessel, J. C. Heard and Ray Brown.

BIRD WITH STRINGS. Tops in this one is IF I SHOULD LOSE YOU . . . THE GENIUS OF ART TATUM No. 1. The standout here is CAN'T WE BE FRIENDS? I hope so. After while.

Dig the action each Set of Sevens by Johnny Morris, the NOTED one.

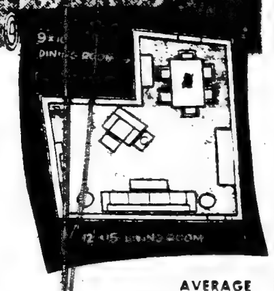
Basin Street At the Oasis Friday Night



Bill Robinson and Nat Poskel present their new Club Oasis "Basin Street Holiday" revue beginning Friday, December 3, which will include a cast of wonderful performers in the newly decorated jazz mecca of the West at Western and 38th.

Included in the entertainment package show are Pat Sides, the exotic dancer who has danced her way into many homes via TV, and has appeared in almost every major theater in the nation; Calovely, Candy Rivers, the sensational dance team of Joe and Claudena; Bob Lopez, the ever popular comic Al and Dexter who will also MC the great Oasis fun bill.

Dancing nightly on the large new beautiful dance floor at the oasis is a welcome added feature. Music by Dick Taylor and band. Add note: Bill Robinson's last minute booking — pin-up girl Sherry!

Sinking All Putts

By "SHOELESS JOE" JACO

Lorimer "Matty" Matthews, of the Cosmopolitan Golf Club, whose game is one of intense concentration, hooked up with the best, from eight to ten handicappers in the area in the recent Santa Anita Open, and won from wire to wire. His opening round 76 got him off to a running start and a lead which he never relinquished.

This deceptive Santa Anita layout, which proved to be an enigma to such Cosmo stalwarts as Al McDaniel and "Thop" Smith, and also to numerous local pros, almost K.O.'d Matthews too, as his second round 85 and his final round of 84 will attest; but apparently it was a bit tougher for the other contestants in his flight.

Fred Cumbess, also a Cosmo, finished a very creditable fourth in the from five to seven flight.

Nothing succeeds like success, and the continuous appearance of Cosmo members in the winner's circle in these major Southern California linkfests will eventually prompt someone to remind the U.S.G.A. that there is a worthy group of competitors who are trying hard to get full recognition as bona fide members.

The entire Cosmopolitan organization is proud of you, Matthews and [illegible] of you, Cumbess. Congratulations and keep swinging.

Golden State Adds to Staff In California

With thousands of new citizens pouring into Northern and Southern California, Chicago, and Texas metropolitan areas served by Golden State Mutual Life, the west coast company this week made another move to bore deeper into this growing market.

Assignment of three sales administrators to concentrate in the company's three regional divisions was announced by Norman O. Houston, GSM president.

Two company officers and one special agency assistant have been assigned to concentrate on regional sales, these positions in effect on December 1, 1954.

Mercer Z. Ray, officer and assistant superintendent of agencies, will have direct responsibility and give personal supervision to the GSM Southern California districts, while Special Agency Assistant Lonzie L. Jones will take over responsibility for northern California.

Assistant Superintendent John A. Payton, officer of the company, will continue to develop the Illinois and Texas areas.

Home office shifts include appointment of Mrs. Verna A. Hickman as agency secretary, a junior officer position.

Norman B. Houston was appointed to a junior officer position as assistant treasurer. Appointmetto junior officer and as assistant secretary-actuarial head was made to Ivan J. Houston.

Mrs. Amanda Lockett and Mr. Byron Beverly were appointed administrative assistants in the Comptroller's Department. Victor Nickerson is appointed Administrator, Real Estate Division.

State Confab Slates Wilkins For Labor Talk

SAN FRANCISCO—U.S. Assistant Secretary of Labor J. Ernest Wilkins will be the major speaker at the Ninth Annual Civic Unity Convention sponsored by the California Federation for Civic Unity on December 3-4-5 at Asilomar, on the Monterey Peninsula.

Equal employment and housing opportunities for California's citizens of minority groups will be the chief concern of several hundred delegates and observers representing human relations organizations throughout the state who will participate in the three-day meeting.

City Councilman Edward R. Roybal of Los Angeles, recent candidate for Lieutenant Governor of California, will address the opening session of the Convention Friday.

WE GATHER TOGETHER: THE STORY OF THANKSGIVING
By Ralph and Adelin Linton

This attractive little book emphasizes the fact that Thanksgiving is the oldest and most truly American of all our national holidays.

The authors tell the story of the day dedicated to American thankfulness, giving a graphic account of the familiar story of the Pilgrims and the First Thanksgiving and tracing the holiday has occupied in American hearts ever since.

There is an absorbing chapter on similar festivals in other lands. Also, you will be interested in reading about the important part played in establishing the first Thanksgiving by a picturesque Indian named Squanto, an early convert to Christianity.

Of the 100,000 orphans in the U. S. today, 26,000 of them lost at least one parent to cancer, the American Cancer Society says.

Women Admits She Lied-- But Man Must Die for Rape

Cross Burned When Resident Aids Prisoner

By GRACE E. SIMONS

The young white woman for whose rape 26-year-old Alton Clifton Poret awaits electrocution in New Orleans has admitted that she was "coached" in the testimony that is sending him to the chair, the condemned man claims in a letter received here this week.

Poret's plea for a chance to prove his innocence was dramatically spotlighted early Sunday morning when Ku Klux Klan inspired individuals burned a seven foot cross on the well-kept lawn of a West Los Angeles resident who had offered aid to the doomed prisoner.

Not Intimidated

Nelson N. Solis, 31 year-old World War II veteran in front of whose home at 4525 Crest Drive the fiery symbol was lighted, refused to be intimidated. Instead, he told the Eagle, "It has only made me more determined than ever to carry through this fight."

The burning of the cross attracted the attention of national magazines and of radio and television stations. Since Sunday, Solis' life has been like one long interview. Reporters from "Life" magazine and "Time" magazine have joined the troop of local newsmen who have interviewed him almost constantly at his wholesale meat store, 1044 Temple street. Monday night he appeared on television. Individuals and organizations have phoned him, sent in contributions, asked how they could help. As an "Eagle" reporter was taking notes from Poret's letter, a messenger from "Life" was waiting to "pick up the communication."

The local committee, likewise been accused by E. I.

Hudson, Neusom Seek to Head NAACP Branch

Psychological tactics for the prospective election of the new branch of the NAACP squared off for what promises to be one of the stormiest elections in history with supporters of both Attorney Thomas G. Neusom and H. Claude Hudson claiming victory. The election is slated for the Second Baptist Church, 15th P. and San Pedro, Sunday at 3 p.m.

Even the place of the election got involved in the growing furore when the election committee tried to switch it from the church to the Elks Temple. Dr. F. L. Robinson, incumbent president, halted the sending out of cards naming the Elks Temple as the election site and ordered the secretary to change the place back to the church as originally selected by the board.

Hudson Backed

Supporters of Dr. Hudson continued to insist that he had been selected by many community leaders and organizations to prevent "Communist infiltration."

Neusom backers countered with the statement that only "Lethargy, inactivity, lack of program and direction" would "allow the NAACP to be infiltrated or taken over by infiltration."

Led by 35 attorneys who have been active in the NAACP, more than a hundred members of the branch issued an open appeal to the membership to elect the popular young attorney. Meanwhile, Hudson supporters told the Eagle that the dentist, who has been active in the branch for more than 30 years, has the "backing of the people who have worked and

Marshall Urges CIO To Back Bias Fight

The fight against racial segregation cannot be won by Negroes alone Thurgood Marshall, counsel for the NAACP, told the 16th Annual convention of the CIO Tuesday in a speech in which he urged a concerted attack on "racial discrimination of all kinds. "No longer can this country tolerate racial prejudice in any form," Marshall told a cheering audience which had given him a rising ovation when he was introduced by James Carey, CIO national secretary. "The nearer we get to ultimate victory the more we will find the opposition seeking to divide us," he added.

Hits Jim Crow

In its own resolutions on Civil Rights, the CIO went on record as favoring Federal fair employment legislation and as being opposed to any Federal aid to builders and subdividers unless they "agree contractually that housing made possible by Federal funds or other aids not be denied to any eligible families because of race, religion or national origin."

Freedom Seal Meet To Hear James Roosevelt

As a climax to the Freedom Seal Campaign which has been underway throughout the city for the past two months, a mammoth culmination program will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 8 p. m. at the Bowen Memorial Church, 36th and Trinity.

Highlighting this program will be the appearance of newly elected California Congressman James Roosevelt, who will address the meeting. Dr. Wayman G. McCoo will also be speaking on the same program, and outstanding musical selections will be rendered by soprano Marguerite Chapman and baritone Oscar Plant.

L. J. Brady to Deny He's Guilty of Fraud

L. J. Brady, fashionable Westside real estate broker and member of the Consolidated Realty Board, was held to answer on four counts of grand theft when his case came up for a hearing Monday.

At his arraignment, however, he will plead not guilty on all four counts, according to his attorney, Theodore Schaffer. Arraignment has been set for Dec. 20 in Dept. 13, before Judge Harold Schwartzer.

No Intent to Defraud

Basis of the "not guilty" plea, Atty. Schaffer indicated, will be that failure to return the funds was due to sloppy business methods but not to intent to defraud in any of the transactions. His client, he maintained, had every intention of paying back the money and therefore cannot properly be charged with misappropriation or embezzlement or pocketing the money for his own use.

Atty. Schaffer pointed out that according to the information given him, Brady's firm, the L. J. Brady Investment Co., 3621 W. Adams blvd., handled approximately one and one-quarter million dollars worth of business in less than a year up to the time he was arrested Nov. 19.

Pressing charges against the highly regarded broker at Monday's hearing were Mrs. Jarone W. Johnson, wife of Dr. Johnson; John A. Amos, and Lynson J. Miller. All three had complained to the District Attorney about transactions with Brady involving sums ranging from $500 to over $3,500 on which they could not obtain satisfaction. The first complaint was made by Amos, of 3423 Hooper avenue, on Nov. 19, following which Brady was taken into custody.

Complainants Testify

After spending approximately a week in jail he was released last week on $1500. This was reduced this week to $3000.

Total amount of the funds involved in the four counts is $6417.98.

All three complainants testified Monday that they had turned over money to Brady in anticipation of purchasing property, and when the transactions were not completed, attempted to have the money refunded. They were put off repeatedly, they claimed, Brady giving them varying excuses for non-payment.

Mrs. Johnson stated that she and her husband had given Brady $2500 on Feb. 6 for payment toward the purchase of a home, but that they later found out that the seller was unwilling to sell at the price they offered. Brady returned $1,000 of the money to them, she said, but they were unable to obtain satisfaction regarding the balance of $1500.

'Abie' Back in Gen'l Hospital

Edward "Abie" Robinson, Eagle circulation manager, whose left hand was badly crushed in an automobile accident three weeks ago, had to return to General Hospital Tuesday.

The doctors believed that a second operation on the hand would be necessary

Up to press time, however, no operation had been performed and it was hoped this additional surgery could be avoided.

Irving Cook ... ing Out As ... ministrator

Deacon Irving Cook, administrative assistant of St. Paul Baptist church, has resigned from his post, his resignation to be effective the first of the year.

His voluntary withdrawal is a direct outgrowth of the sensational accusations against the Rev. John L. Branham that have kept the fashionable church in heated turmoil during the past [illegible] featuring a series of "blast" records and a law suit [illegible] charge of seducing the [illegible] church secretary.

Denies He Was Fired

Deacon Cook of 153 W. 51st street, emphatically denied reports that he been winging and [illegible] community this week that he was "fired." He told the Eagle that he had advised the board of deacons of his intentions before any decision was made concerning Rev. Branham's denial of charges.

He advised the deacons, he said, that regardless of their decision, whether they gave the minister a vote of confidence or accepted his dismissal, he could not continue in his present position.

He told the Eagle that he was

Postal Worker's Death Cloaked In Mystery

A deep cloak of mystery still shrouded the reasons for the murder of Irvin Tatum, 45-year-old postal letter carrier who formerly lived at 1751 Leighton avenue, whose body was found alongside a Mulholland drive in the Hollywood Hills early Tuesday morning.

Tatum's pockets had been turned inside out, leading police to the belief that robbery may have been a motive in the slaying.

He had been beaten severely about the face and head but officers expressed the belief that the wounds were not serious enough to have caused death. The coroner's office told the Eagle he appeared to have died from a hemorrhage of the liver but warned that the diagnosis was tentative.

Tatum was identified as a carrier for the post office from [illegible] in his pocket. Eagle efforts to find the current address of the dead man were thwarted when it was learned that he had moved from the Leighton avenue address. The telephone number at the address has been discontinued and post office company officials said no new number had been assigned.

The body was found lying in a [illegible] about five feet off the road. Police technicians said that they had found foot prints near the body and had made casts of the impressions.

SALUTE SUPREME COURT—Co-Chairmen Mrs. Edward Atkinson Jr. and Mrs. Loren Miller confer with Hollywood columnist Hedda Hopper on plans for the annual Winter Ball of the National Urban League, being held Dec. 10 at Santa Monica's Deauville Club. Theme of the ball is a "Salute to the Supreme Court."

REUTHER BUYS URBAN LEAGUE TICKET—Walter P. Reuther, left, president of the CIO, and president of the United Auto Workers, is pictured purchasing ticket for last annual National Urban League Winter Ball, from television and recording star Nat Hamner, while James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, watches. National Urban League Ball will be held Friday evening at Santa Monica's Deauville Club. Photo was taken during CIO's 10th annual convention here this week at the Statler Hotel.

Stars to Sparkle at Urban League Ball

Famed tenor Arthur Lee Simpkins, fresh from a record breaking tour of the U.S. and Canada, will be one of the many outstanding entertainers who will perform at the first annual winter Ball of the National Urban League, Friday, Dec. 10, at the Deauville Club in Santa Monica.

Simpkins, who appeared in a Command Performance before Queen Elizabeth of England last year, is regarded by critics as one of the foremost singers in the popular classics field today.

Also on the show, which will be produced by nationally known producer Ralph A. Rogers, will be: singer Martha Davis, who recently concluded a smash tour of the East; Lottie Goslar, comic dancer who was last seen with the Turnabout Theatre group and will soon leave on a tour of Europe; Sue Wallace, promising young television and recording artist; and other guest stars from the movie, television, radio, and recording fields.

Honorary chairman of the Winter Ball is Mrs. Fleur Cowles, associate editor of Look Magazine. Co-Chairman are former Los Angeles Mayor Fletcher Bowron and Mrs. Leo Spitz, prominent in United Nations work and wife of the former president of Universal International Studios.

Theme of the Ball is a "Salute To The Supreme Court", honoring the court's recent decision banning segregation in the public schools. Tickets for the ball can be secured by calling HOllywood 9-6001.

Dining Car Workers Win

Richard W. Smith, international vice president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, A. F. of L., and secretary-treasurer of the Joint Council of Dining Car Employees advised William E. Pollard president of the latter organization, that the Dining Car Employees of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company rejected the attempt of the United Transport Service Workers, C.I.O., to take over the bargaining rights of these employees.

In a Mediation Board election the employees indicated their faith in the A. F. of L. by a vote of 122 to 52.

Insurance Co. Heads Face Theft Charge

Two former officials of the Loyal Insurance Company were all set to let a jury determine their guilt or innocence on charges of conspiracy and grand theft in Judge Ralph Pierson's court this week. On trial are Charles and William Maxey, brothers who are alleged to have concocted a scheme to defraud their former employer.

A third defendant, Charles Anderson, entered a plea of guilty to the conspiracy count Monday and his attorney, Earl C. Broady, said his client will not be an active participant in the trial.

The trio formerly worked for the local company and the Maxey brothers are alleged to have formed a corporation to operate a garage to which they, presumably, sent automobiles insured by the company for repair. The complaint charges that the Maxeys received funds for repairs that were never made.

The Grand Jury indictment charged that Anderson, who was a claim adjuster, aided in filing the fictitious claims. Attorney Welford Wilson, representing one of the Maxey brothers, refused to comment beyond saying that he expected the evidence to show that the charges are unfounded.

'Bath Tub' Whiskey Being Made in Watts

Residents of the Watts area were shocked last Saturday night when police made a midnight raid on the home of Willard Hurst of 944 E. 112th street and reportedly found a "moonshine" still and hauled off 45 gallons of "bath tub" booze.

According to police, who were staked out near the 112th street address, the tip came into headquarters that Hurst was making whiskey in his home. When officers on the stake-out saw three men come out of the house with bottles of liquor, they made the raid.

Hurst, who reportedly admitted to police that he'd been operating the still for two months, had all the equipment for the making of moonshine.

He allegedly had a large metal barrel that he used as a cooling unit, a barrel for fermenting the mash for whiskey, a four-burner cook stove and a series of funnels.

According to the report bottles of every variety were found in the garage, cleaner jars, mustard jars, catsup bottles and many old whiskey bottles, presumably used for bottling the liquor.

On arrest Hurst is reported to have made the statement that he'd operated a still in Oklahoma, but had found the going in Los Angeles hard because he could not get the "stuff" for making whiskey. He also stated "I just brewed up a few gallons for Christmas. I used my bath tub."

The search of the premises revealed many bottles partially filled with whiskey, an old wooden barrel containing raisins and potato pealings, police said.

Hurst was booked on the charge of operating a still, which is a state offense as well as a violation of the Federal Alcohol tax law.

Jeff Students to Present 'Gloria'

"Gloria," the Christmas pageant that tells the story in song and action of a shepherd, a mother, and a wise man and their loving sacrifices, has been chosen by Thomas Jefferson High School's drama and music departments as the School's Yule gift to the community.

The production will include about 100 students and is set for December 16, at 8:15 p.m.

not in agreement with the pastor on certain matters which, however, he preferred not to discuss. He said further that he believes any member should be willing to sacrifice himself for the good of the church.

No Answer Filed

Whether he gains or loses by his action, Deacon Cook continued, he cannot violate his principles.

As far as could be ascertained, Rev. Branham had not yet filed an answer to the $200,000 damage suit filed against him by Mack Shepherd, father of the girl the pastor reportedly seduced and abducted.

The suit was filed Nov. 16 but last Monday, through his Beverly Hills attorneys, Rev. Branham asked for and received a two week extension. So far, according to Atty. George E. Cannady, representing Shepherd, no answer has been received.

Traffic Island Being Replaced

Councilman Edward R. Roybal announced that measures are now being taken to eliminate the unsightly condition of the traffic island at the intersection of Wall Street, San Pedro Place and 43rd Place.

Roybal stated that since no funds have been made available for maintaining of landscaping in traffic islands with its roadways this strip will be surfaced with rock and oil pavement at an estimated cost of $250.

Final Rites Conducted for J. H. Scott, Sr.

Funeral rites for Mr. J. Howard Scott, Sr., long time resident of Los Angeles, were held on Monday, Dec. 6, at Angelus Funeral Home with interment at Rosedale Cemetery, the Rev. John C. Bain officiating.

A native of Washington, D.C., Mr. Scott died unexpectedly in his sleep Dec. 2 at his home, 1146 S. Serrano avenue.

He was born Dec. 19, 1892, and entered the service of the United States Navy June 2, 1911 and retired from active duty on Aug. 5, 1927. He remained in the Naval Reserve from 1927 to 1953. He entered the United States Post Office in 1928 and was due to retire from the postal service in the early part of 1955.

A wireless worker and outstanding in community and national affairs until his health prevented, "Scotty," as he was affectionately known, actively participated in many local organizations.

Among the posts he held and organizations to which he belonged were: chairman of Disaster Relief, past commander Ben Bowie Post, organizer of the 24th regiment of the California State Guard, member of the Val Verde Improvement Assn., charter member of the Pacific Town Club, member of the Retired Navy Men's Assn., member of the Nat'l Assn. of Letter Carriers, member of Civic Center Lodge No. 52 F and AM (Masons), Golden West Lodge No. 86 and member of the Fleet Reserve Assn.

"Scotty" was known from coast to coast as the owner of Scott's motel in Val Verde. He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, Mrs. Priscilla Scott; a son, J. Howard Scott, Jr.; grandson, J. Howard Scott, 3rd; sister, Mrs. Susie Jackson of Washington, D. C. and a host of relatives and friends.

Thomas G. Neusom

Attorney at Law

Candidate for Office of President of Los Angeles Branch National Association for the Advancement of Colored People

December 4, 1954

Dear Friend:

As a member of the N.A.A.C.P., we know that you are concerned with an effective program to secure equality for all people regardless of race, creed or color.

Thomas G. Neusom, present first Vice-President of the Los Angeles Branch, has worked with the Legal Redress Committee and taken an active part in the legal battle to end segregation in the Los Angeles Fire Department, Pasadena Public Schools, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office and Veterans Administration discrimination cases.

Mr. Neusom's five-point program for Los Angeles is as follows:

1. Branch meetings in various areas of city so all members can take part in at least one or more meetings each year.
2. To outline a year's program and year budget in advance and to follow the budget and complete the program.
3. To hold conferences and discussions at which the membership can take part in developing policy of Local Branch.
4. To secure a full-time executive secretary for Local Branch paid by and responsible to Local Branch.
5. Vigorous Legal Program to secure the end of discrimination and segregation in every phase of Los Angeles Community life.

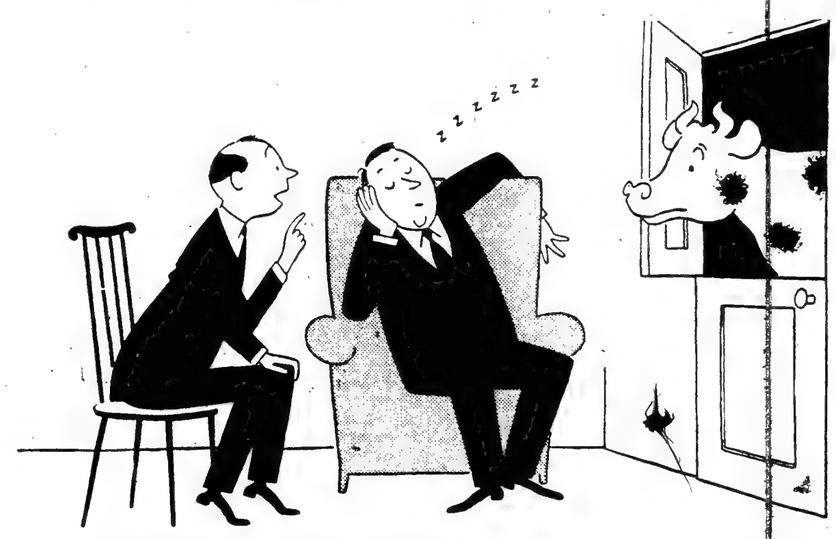
Listed on the back side of this letter is a partial list of citizens of this community who endorse Thomas G. Neusom for the Office of President of the Los Angeles Branch.



Attorney Neusom is young, energetic, and possessor of youthful optimism with vision tempered by good judgment and reason. Mr. Neusom believes it is necessary to encourage participation of the membership at large in all activities of the Branch. His program is one of vigorous action to combat segregation and discrimination on all levels.

We urge you to join with your friends listed hereon and others, to elect Thomas G. Neusom by coming out to the election meeting on December 12, 1954 (Second Sunday in December) at Neighborhood Church, 47th Place and San Pedro, at 3:30 p.m. and voting for Mr. Neusom for President.

California Eagle

Loren Miller, Editor and Publisher

The Eagle stands for complete integration of Negroes into every phase of American life through the democratic processes.

We favor:

1. FEPC on local, state and national levels.
2. Decent housing for all Americans.
3. Representation in Government.
4. Adequate old age pensions and social security.
5. Collective bargaining rights for all workmen.
6. Development and encouragement of Negro business.

We oppose:

1. Jim Crow in all forms.
2. Communists and all other enemies of democracy.

Let Us Keep Our Heads

It is extremely unfortunate that charges and counter charges of Communist support are being hurled in the current election campaign for the presidency of the local branch of the NAACP. Here at the Eagle we have enjoyed the friendship of both Dr. H. Claude Hudson and Attorney Thomas G. Neusom, rivals for the position. We like them both.

We think that each of them is entitled to credit for being willing to make the sacrifices that are entailed in being president of the Branch. We are sure that each would do a good job and we are equally sure that neither is a stooge of the Reds and that neither of them would permit the Branch to fall under Communist domination.

A couple of weeks ago an outfit that plumps for racial segregation in the Los Angeles Fire Department wrote a letter to the Board of Fire Commissioners in which it charged that Dr. Hudson is a Communist stooge and hinted darkly that the fight for fire department integration is a move by Dr. Hudson to help the Communists to take over city government. That's apple sauce. Dr. Hudson is no Communist. Dr. Hudson isn't taking orders from Communists. Dr. Hudson's opposition to segregation isn't Communist-inspired; it is a part of his long held and genuine belief that racial segregation offends both the letter and spirit of the Constitution.

The current attacks on Mr. Neusom as Communist influenced or Communist dominated are as ridiculous as the same charges against Dr. Hudson. Mr. Neusom is concerned about segregation for the same reasons that Dr. Hudson is concerned. He is concerned about the NAACP for the same reasons that Dr. Hudson is concerned. He sees the NAACP as an instrument to secure civil rights and civil liberties just as Dr. Hudson does. Neither Dr. Hudson nor Mr. Neusom is a Communist stooge.

Members of the NAACP should make up their minds on the respective merits of the candidates on the basis of what is best for the NAACP, on the basis of what Dr. Hudson or Mr. Neusom can do or will do to advance the Association.

The charges and counter charges of Communism are playing into the hands of our enemies. These charges will provide ammunition for those who want to discredit the NAACP. They will afford a license for the proponents of segregation to charge that the Association is an instrument of Communist policy. We think it is time to call a halt to wild charges and to decide the election campaign on the basis of legitimate choice between the programs of two men, both of whom are honorable men and each of whom will do his utmost to keep the NAACP in its historic role of waging a determined battle to end second class citizenship in America.

Welcome To CIO

The CIO is meeting in Los Angeles for the first time in its history. The organization doesn't keep racial statistics of its membership and nobody knows how many Negro workmen are enrolled under its banner.

All of us do know that the CIO has been a mighty force in promoting the welfare of Negro workers all over the land. Its best and most effective work has been done in basic industries, such as steel, automobile manufacturing and mining, where many Negroes are employed.

CIO unions, almost without exception, have insisted that Negro workers in the shops and factories where they function are entitled to the same rights and privileges as other workers. The CIO has waged many a vigilant and hard battle to prevent discrimination against its members. More than that, it has sought to sweep away customs and traditions that have served as barriers in the path of Negroes in American industrial life.

Every Negro in the nation, whether he works with his hands or whether he finds clients and customers among Negro workmen, has reaped the benefit of the CIO's enlightened policies. All of us owe it a profound vote of thanks for what it has done for each of us.

In still another aspect of our lives, the CIO has proved effective with its unfailing willingness to help fight the battle for civil rights. In the racial covenant cases, in the voting cases, in the school cases, in all important litigation attacking discrimination, CIO lawyers have stood up as friends of the Court to urge an end to laws and court decisions that have been the bulwark of the Jim Crow system.

We salute the CIO on the occasion of its meeting here and we are sure we voice the opinion of our readers in expressing our thanks for what it has done, and will do, to make democracy a reality for all Americans.

The Contract Committee

Few complaints are being received from California by the Government Contract Committee of racial discrimination by employers holding government contracts.

It just could be that there is no discrimination in our state. But we doubt it. As a matter of fact, it is a rare week that somebody doesn't call us to complain that he or she has been denied a job because of some employer's racial policies.

Doubtless, some of these complaints lack merit but we're sure that some of them contain a spark of truth.

We suspect that the real reason for the lack of complaints is that Californians aren't using the machinery set up by the Committee. That machinery is cumbersome and the average worker suffers from the fact that all too little has been done to tell him just how he can avail himself of the rights that are his under the Executive Order establishing the Committee.

We think that both our local Urban League and the NAACP have fallen down on the job. Committee rules provide that complaints can be made by both organizations and individuals. In all too many instances, the individual lacks the skill and experience to file a proper complaint. The NAACP and the Urban League should step in to supply that deficiency.

We are still persuaded that the Government Contract Committee executive order is a poor substitute for fair employment legislation but it is the best machinery we have at the moment. We should try to make it work. Properly used, it will at least blur the sharp edge of discrimination in employment. Every defeat of any act of discrimination is a step forward.

It's Your League

The Urban League is all set to launch its annual membership drive and we hope that it will be a success. In our complex society we need all kinds of organizations to keep democracy functioning properly. The League does its part.

The Urban League's work isn't spectacular and it doesn't do the things that are calculated to stir the emotions or raise blood pressures. It does the less spectacular, although not less necessary, work entailed in the day to day attempt to persuade employers to drop color barriers, or of urging unions to live up to their fine professions and of ironing out differences between racial groups.

The net result is that our Urban League has made Los Angeles a better place in which to live in a hundred different ways. It seems to us that what the League does is well worth the two dollar annual membership fee. We hope you'll think so too.

Battleaxe and Bread

By Lester B. Granger

Consider the case of Sen. William Knowland of California, currently majority, and soon to be minority leader of the Senate GOP. During the past couple of weeks, in Boston, Fort Wayne, Washington and Detroit, I found quite a number of persons deeply concerned about him—persons who are not ordinarily too deeply mixed up in partisan politics.

Lester Granger

We colored voters had better be concerned about the Knowland case, too, no matter what our political sympathies may be. Because the line now being followed by the gentleman from California can run straight through the hopes of most of us for a Congress that will be "neutral," if not "liberal" on the race question.

Calculated Actions

During the past few weeks Mr. Knowland seems to have thrown away any pretensions to being the leader of Republican action and policy in the Senate. Previously his disagreements with Administration policy have been explained as those of a blunt man with not too much experience in a tough post.

Now they appear as the calculated actions of a sly man with plenty of experience at political throat-cutting, a man who has been biding his time to choose sides. He seems to have chosen the side of the Know Nothings of his party to have deserted the Administration responsible for his post and depending upon his influence.

Jealousy

Political wiseacres have been frantically searching for the reason. Personal ambition, ignorance, courage and downright treachery have all been ascribed. From a friend in California comes an explanation which seems plausible precisely because it is so simple. My friend writes, Eisenhower never had a chance to hold the loyalty of Knowland, for one little reason as old as time, jealousy.

Knowland hates Nixon, and Nixon is Ike's boy. Any policy that Nixon defends, Knowland is going to attack. Pretty simple, isn't it?

It is pretty simple, and it could be right. For it was no secret that the Knowland-Nixon rivalry very nearly split up the California GOP, and flamed into intense proportions when Nixon went on to the vice presidency, and to creditable performance therein. To the surprise of a lot of people, Nixon has followed Eisenhower-Dewey-Ives-Saltonstall kind of liberal policy, instead of buddying-up with the Republican right wing.

What more natural than that his disgruntled rival make alliance with the Jenner-Dirksen-McCarthy forces and pick-axe the whole Administration in order to get at the vice president? It would not be the first time in history for ignoble enmity to wreck national policy and welfare.

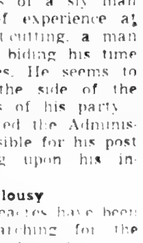
McCarthy Base

The special Negro interest could come in this way: Vice President Nixon has many times come out cleanly and strongly on the race question. His trip across Asia impressed him with the importance of the question. On job discrimination, school segregation and hate movements his pronouncements have been forthright and sound.

This has earned him the increased hate of avowedly anti-Negro groups. These groups have formed a large part of the support base for Senator McCarthy. With fraternization between such groups as these and such forces as Senator Knowland represents and supports, what are the chances for even a neutral liberalism on the race question in the forthcoming Congress? The answer is, mighty little.

Can Make Deal

If the Knowlandites can line up 20 to 25 votes on key issues, and if the anti-Negro part of the Democratic Party can maintain its 24 to 28 votes a combination of these forces can defeat any proposal for racial reform by the simple process of making a deal. And Senator Taft, when he was the powerhouse of mid-west conservatism, was standing proof that such a deal is always a possibility if the issue is important enough.



For many of the reactionary elements in the Congress, Republicans as well as Democrats, hate the Eisenhower Administration every bit as much as they did Franklin D. Roosevelt and for somewhat similar reasons.

On the race question, Southerners have more reason to oppose Ike, for F.D.R. never once, during 13 years in the White House, stuck his neck out very far on the race question. So, if Lyndon Johnson of Texas aims his guns at Eisenhower, and William Knowland of California shoots at Nixon, between the two sharpshooters something is bound to fall and that something could be our hopes.

One Man's Opinion

By LEON STEWARD

Atty. Thomas G. Neusom is the subject of this week's "good news," as one person referred to our columns on personalities. We shall be pleased to give you a story of a young man who has made good in this community in several ways, especially as regards his community.

Leon Steward

Little Tommie Neusom first saw the light of day in Detroit, Mich. By the time he became Tom Neusom he was on his high school track, football, and swimming teams as well as its debating team. He carried on most of these activities in Detroit Institute of Technology where he secured his A.B. in 1937. He then went to Washington to study philosophy and political science at Howard University, only to return to Detroit College for a law course.

Went to War

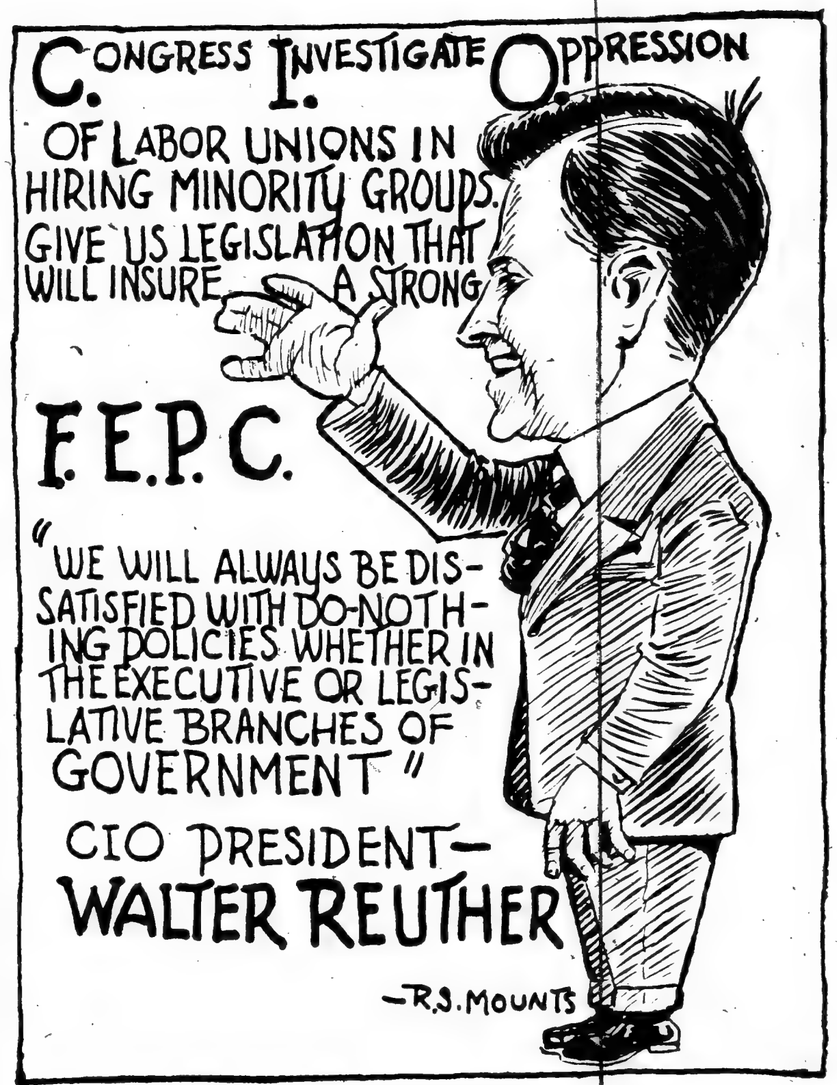
During these years he took time out to go to war in 1943, and became a Second Lieutenant. After three years, during which he went as far as Germany, Lt. Neusom returned home in 1946. He went back to law school and graduated in 1948. Before leaving Michigan he took the state board examination and passed it. Having seen something of California while a soldier, our hero returned to California in 1949.

Atty Neusom

Among the first things he accomplished upon his return was the winning of the hand of Miss Imogene Fatherree of Texas, who was then a student at USC. They were married in 1952 and have lived happily ever since, she a school teacher, and he a lawyer.

General Practice of Law

Although the young barrister claims he is in general practice, in the next voice he declares he emphasizes real estate and property matters.



Mr. Neusom is treasurer of the Trustee Board of Neighborhood Community Church of which he and Mrs. Neusom are members. He is the historian of the Magellan C. Mars Post of the American Legion and he is also the chairman of the NAACP Legal Redress Committee. He is a vice president of the NAACP and one of the candidates for the presidency.

Mr. Neusom and his committee have been active in the effort to integrate the local firemen. Recently he visited New York. This gave him an opportunity to interview the New York Fire Chief and the integrated firemen of that city. They reported that the integration of the firemen there caused no trouble at all. The chairman of the NAACP Legal Redress Committee brought back a tape of his interview with these men and had it played at one of the meetings in the local Chief's office.

Runs on Program

He also had the opportunity to visit the national headquarters of the NAACP while in Gotham city. He also sat in on one of the meetings of the National Legal Redress Committee presided over by Thurgood Marshall.

If elected he promises to bring to this city Judge Armond Scott and other well-known speakers from the East for monthly public meetings. His plan, which he calls a five-point plan, calls for the outline of a year's program which he hopes to carry to all neighborhoods, a full time executive secretary, and a vigorous legal redress committee to fight Jim Crow wherever it pokes up its ugly head.

Pure and Simple

By L. F. Palmer Jr.

AN OPEN LETTER TO ABIE ROBINSON:

Dear Abie: I've run across and read about some pretty good press agents and promotions men in my time. I've seen 'em use babies, beauties and bears to sell their products. They've had models take baths in bubbles, milk champagne perfume and castor oil. They've led lions around on leashes, they've monkeyed around with monkies and they've smelled up many a joint with skunks.

Bare Bottoms

Take the genius who was the "idea man" for the diaper service industry back in World War II. When fuel oil got scarce, diaper laundries had to take a drastic cut. This meant that the volume of business had to be cut in proportion. This Genius' bosses didn't go for so they told our hero to get the wheels in his brain a-turning.

Our Man gave birth to a picture which got right to the point. He had a couple or three bare bottom babies photographed knocking on the door of the office of the War Production Board and wearing signs reading, "Don't leave us with our pants down."

Natch, the papers used it and natch, the readers ogled it. And what is more pathetic than a baby with a bare bottom? So, natch, the diaper laundries got more fuel oil.

Dunking Do-nuts

And then there was a crying need to sell more do-nuts one year not so long ago. So one day who is standing on his head on top of a skyscraper dunking do-nuts but Shipwreck Kelly, the famous flagpole sitter?

The papers couldn't resist the picture of this spectacle so do-nuts got a big play all across the country. And people figured that if do-nuts were so delicious that a guy would stand on his head on top of a skyscraper to dunk 'em the least they could do would be to dunk 'em at the safety of the breakfast table.

Mlle. Voodoo

Remember Mlle. Voodoo, the sultry Parisienne who took the country by storm a little while back? Remember how she was shrouded in mystery, surrounded by celebrities and made so alluring and exotic that her name and picture popped up in the papers all over the nation?

Well, it just so happened that a perfume manufacturer was introducing a new scent and it was bottled too late to catch the magazines' advertising deadline for Christmas. Also, it just so happened that the new perfume was called "Voodoo." And by some hook or crook, it just so happened that the stuff sold out.

Now, Abie, what I'm trying to say is, here are just a few ideas. Round up some bare bottom babies. Get up on the Eagle building, stand on your head and dunk yourself some do-nuts. Or catch a real live Eagle and let it hold a press conference. But, your latest stunt . . .

I know you said you'd give your right arm to get another thousand sales. But, jumping jellyfish, I never thought you'd try it. Everybody knows how you feel about the Eagle, so cut out the theatrics, pal. Hurry up and get well, now. We need you.

tory of case.

Received Letter

The only answer Soll received over the weekend was the flaming cross on his front lawn which terrified his three children and unnerved his wife.

On Monday, however, he received a letter from Poret.

In the well-written letter, the condemned man states that prison authorities refused him permission to telegraph, but did permit him to write airmail.

"It seems," he wrote, "the woman who was violated in the case has relented some. She has called the District Attorney's office concerning the case and was told it was out of their hands and hers.

"Later she called my mother and told her that she picked out a picture but was coached in doing so."

He claims that in the conduct of the case against him, his rights were almost totally disregarded. He was not informed of the charges against him, he states, until he was taken to Parrish prison from Tennessee. "No one ever picked me out of any kind of line-up or identified me in any way," he asserts.

He said he first saw the woman involved in the alleged rape when she took the witness stand. She testified, he claimed, that she identified him "by the light of the moon." Poret adds that according to a check of the weather reports the particular night on which the attack was supposed to have taken place was "one of the foggiest nights in New Orleans history" and identification by moonlight would have been impossible.

Poret was arrested in October, 1952 and charged with the crime of "aggravated rape" of a white woman in Nov., 1950. The woman and her male companion allegedly had been robbed at gun point by two men, one of whom then raped her. She and her escort had been making the round of night clubs before the attack.

Lived in L.A.

Poret was imprisoned in Tennessee in May, 1951, he states, for "performing three card monty," and was released in Oct., 1952. At the time of his release he was told of the New Orleans charge against him, and taken to New Orleans.

He was in the army in Yokohama with the 2806th Construction Engineers, and was returned to the States for discharge at Camp Stoneman. He lived in Los Angeles, he states, from 1947 to 1950, during which time he worked at a drug store at 7th and Spring streets and at the Lapelett Candy Co. on Central avenue.

'BACK TALK'

By donna pree

Years ago, it seems, I vaguely remember the marks of an intelligent man centered around the university he had attended, his profession, his worldly possessions, his eloquence and so on.

Today, brother your intellect is not universities you've attended, but "What do you think of Branham?"

If you give the right answer, you're great—the wrong answer, you're a nut.

This lopsided logic is now due a little Back Talk—

Over the tea tables, dainty lavender, and lace, ancients sip tea with their little pinkies pointed towards the heavens, and ask in cackling voices (or is it crackling), "Dearie, have you heard the records?" Dearie, who is two years older than Methuselah answers, "Nay."

In the cocktail lounges the bartenders report, the guy who used to get "stiff" and cry in his beer "My wife has left me, I can't go on" bends his ear with, "Branham this—

Everywhere I go I have heard it, felt it, smelled it and I mean smelled.

The last straw, was an old 80-year-old blind codger I've known for years hobbling down the street with a certain paper in hand, going to his grandsons house. For what? So his grandson could read the "Saga of Branham" to him.

I'm giving out with some BACK TALK and it's about time.

It's easy to kick a man in the teeth, especially when he's taking the ninth count.

I agree that ministers should conduct themselves as examples of clean living, but brother, in the name of all that's good, try it, when mud slingers are determined to make a "patty cake" of you.

I'm not whitewashing the man, but I strongly feel our church members should keep what's done in (or taped in) church off the streets and out of the 5th street alleys.

As for this so called St. Paul Hit Parade record, those who listen to such "music," listen and read that type of junk anyway, and this incident is just an easy way of getting in on the "kick" publicly without being censored for an apparently low mind.

As for tape recordings, well, only a dirty fighter would use one for personal reasons. A back stabbing, food poisoning, baby kicking type of scoundrel who is afraid of a fair fight.

I won't give a good clean fight argument in Back Talk, but an infringement of civil liberties is a worse offense than a minister's supposedly personal philandering.

An intelligent thinker will stay off the band wagon when any mass hysterical situation develops and give these whispering campaigns a little Back Talk.

Simmons Akers Fetes S. Martin In Homecoming

All the singers of the city are honoring Miss Sallie Martin in a homecoming and appreciation service at the People's Independent Church at 18th and Paloma, of which Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins is pastor, Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m.

Miss Martin has been in the gospel field for 25 years. According to her many friends, Miss Martin has been an inspiration to many local, as well as national gospel artists.

According to Miss Doris Akers, when Miss Martin and her group come to the city for their annual visit, they pack each auditorium in which they appear.

Miss Akers, who is featured with the Simmons Akers, said that admission is free and she is hoping all of Los Angeles will turn out to help the singers welcome Miss Martin back to the city.

GLOBETROTTER STAR INVADES WEST IN ONE-NIGHTER

PREP SCOREBOARD

By Al Chism

The speech made by Avery Brundage, at Chicago's Rotary Club, about how the Russians are moving ahead of the U. S. in supremacy in sports, is easily understandable. Times will get worse if we keep getting decisions handed up like the one delt Washington and Fremont high schools by the Athletic Policy Determining Committee. This without a doubt is the smalliest decision of our day! The Army at West Point, found guilty of cribbing, didn't receive such a blow. Even when we sometimes find a Pro, in the simonpure ranks, all that happens to him is the lifting of his A.A.U. card.

One can understand the elimination of competition between the two schools, but the dose handed the other athletes just doesn't jell.

If the board wants to get tough, they could check up on some of the so-called officials they send out to call some prep games.

DUNCE OF THE WEEK

While watching one of the playoff games, we saw the boner of the week. Everyone knows the importance of a first down to teams in playoff competition. In case of a tie game the first downs decide the winner. This game the downs read 3-2, with the team on the short end threatening to tie the score. A first down was made as the gun sounded. In a rush to go smoke (or something) the Ref picked up the ball and walked away. When asked by the coach, "How about my first down?" The official walks back to the vicinity, calls back the linemen, measures, and tells the coach he's an inch short. As Jack Benny would say, "WELL." Lucky the team won without the first down.

CITY PLAYOFFS—FIRST ROUND

Dispite rain soaked turfs last Friday, all the favorites in the first round of the city playoffs came through as expected. L.A. high, led by Maxfield, Savage, and their pass catching end Fred Hardon romped over WILSON 27-7.

MANUALSS TOILERS with Earnell Durden, teamed with Hill and Penn, their two great ends, beat BELLS EAGLES 18-6.

LINCOLN HIGH had a little rougher time with BANNING. The game ended 13-13, but Lincoln won the decison by gaining giwo more first downs then Banning.

SAN FERNANDO vs JORDON, which we caught, was played at Van Nuys high school. The Tigers, last year's city champs, had to come from behind to down the fighting Marine League champs 32-13.

Trailing at the half 13-12 the valley boys lead by Johnson, Ketchie, Papish, and Mattina ran and passed the tired Bulldogs into the mud. Conrad Johnson, San Fernandos' dusky flash, who has been playing second fiddle to Ketchie, the Tigers all-city back all year had a field day scoring three T.D.s. The best was a beautiful kickoff return of 85 years.

Jordon had its moments in the first half with a pass from Perry to Reed for 50 yards, and a goodie to Clark.

BOWLING —with—

LEWIS RUSS

The wood tumbling, power driving "Brown Motors" pounded pins Saturday night and rolled over "B and B" three games to none in the Sunset League at the Studio Bowl.

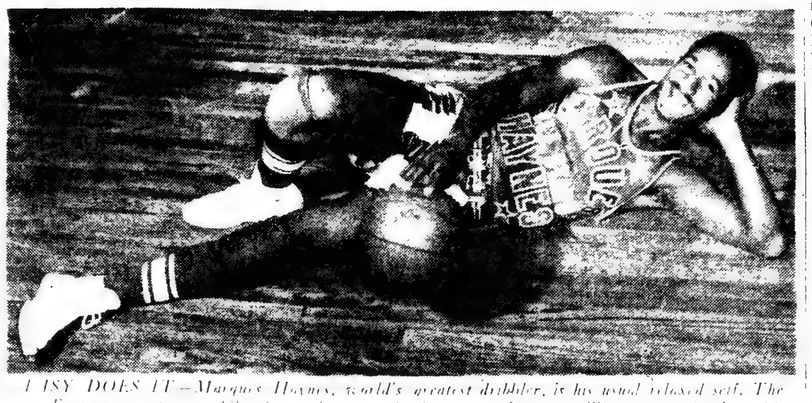
Timber Topper

Arthur Harold blew his top as he mowed down timber and piled the stuff up to move into the 600 class, bowling 222-224 and 158 games for a 604 series. Tony Moore was also pitching well with a 217-game and 540 series.

"Garretts" walloped the maple to upet "Grand Central" two games to one. Earl Jackson plowed over the logs, uncorking a sizzling 596 series. Billie Hampton of the losers, however, was first stumbling along in shooting his way to top the league with a 226 game and a 629 series.

The "Pickuppers" peeled off enough lumber to set back the "Timber Ticklers" two games to one, Chuck Balance and Don Taylor pacing their team.

Bowling Columnist



"Lee's Hi Hat's" bounced back into action to trounce the "Lewis Bros" two games to one, Edward McFall booming the pins for a 568 series. "Neal's Liquors" sounded off and played striking tunes in fiddling the sticks to blank "Dedricks Tuxedo" three games to none. Lewis Russ—indeed, yours truly, had a fair evening in belting the maple for a 555 series; Alfred Ahsam also held his own with a 541 series.

In racking the wood back Alvin Griffin and Floyd Lawrence bested Ed Moseby and Billie Hampton in a doubles match two games total pins.

Compton Trims Cathedral 27-6 In CIF Playoff

The Compton high school Tarbabes insured their place in the semi-final round of the C. I. F. playoffs Monday night when they rode roughshod over the Cathedral Phantoms 27-6 on their home grounds.

Compton took things in hand from the first quarter with Rex Johnston and Jack Laing digging, and a pass to Roger Butt good to the 8 yd. line setting up the score. Neal Wagerle going over for the touchdown. The kick was wide to give Compton a 6-0 lead which they held throughout.

I SAY DOES IT—Marques Haynes, world's greatest dribbler, is his usual relaxed self. The ex-Trotter expects to exhibit his dribbling art for the benefit of Angelenos Thursday night, Dec. 12, against Irv Noren's All Stars at the Pasadena City College gym. This will be the Harlem Magician's first appearance at the season here. Fans, mark or fare, it should be a treat.

Centennial Moves To CIF Semi-Finals

Centennial High School's fighting Apaches moved into the semi-final round of the C.I.F. playoffs Thursday night, when they traveled to Montebello Field to down the Oilers 21-9 before 6,000 partisan fans.

The Oilers, led by their fleet backs Bagwell, Custer, and Clavens were no match for the rugged defensive line of the Centes.

Montebello kicked off to Centennial and Thompson returned to the 30. Failing to make a first down, Pollard kicked, and the ball rolled dead on the Montebello 25 yard line. On the Oilers first play after a short punt, Sampson Centennial end tore the pigskin out of the hands of quarterback Freman for a first down on the Oiler 25 yd. line. Centennial failed to score so Montebello took over on the 20. Another snap, another fumble, again picked up by Sampson on the ten. This time McCrumby scored from the five to put Centennial on the board. Andrews bucked the point and it was 7-0.

Montebello struck back in the third quarter after taking a Pollard punt on the 32 yard line. Larry Sanchez completed a 77 yard pass to Bob Custer for their touchdown. The point was good to tie the score 7-7.

Centennial's Scott then took the next kick off and returned it to the 39. The Apaches gained a few yards, then Lowe hit Sloughter with a pass good to the 4 yard line. McCrumby hit for his second six, and Pollard kicked the point for a 14-7 lead.

A third T.D. was picked up by the Centes, when Montebello tried to run from the L Hit hard by the entire Apache line, they fumbled and McNeal recovered for a score. Montebello scored on a safety, and the final score was Centennial 21 Montebello 9.

The Apaches face the winner of the Compton-Cathedral game in the semi-final round this week.

Naulls, Moore and Taft Lead UCLA Cage Squad

Basketball meteor Johnny Wooden started his seventh season on the Westwood hard wood before 2600 fans who saw the Bruins easily defeat Kansas State 86 to 57 in a fast moving game last Friday night.

Three brownskin Bruins make up the starting five which includes tangy Willie Naulls, 6-5 senior, who looks like one of the coast's hottest players. Naulls spurt and backboard work was sensational. They are saying, so goes forward Johnny Moore, so goes the team. This season the veteran Moore is playing a calmer and cooler game.

Guard Morris Taft may become another great player at this post. The fleet-footed Taft's superior ability to cover ground and his uncanny accuracy in shooting make the Bruins title contenders.

The Bruins will meet Santa Clara and USF which will test the Westwooders to find out if their club will go undefeated as did the football team this past season.

Auto Deaths On Decline

Southern California's 1227 traffic fatalities scored a three-year low for the first nine months of 1954, with Los Angeles County following suit, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

At this time last year, the Southland fatality total was 1480 and in 1952 it was 1448, the Club said.

Morris Says

By Johnny Morris

THE WHY - DO - THEY - DO - IT DEPARTMENT: We all can say we saw a great champion — probably the greatest in heavyweight history, Joe Louis held the title, meeting all comers, longer than anyone in the annals of boxing. He was a delight to watch—a boxing machine—a lethal weapon on legs. He beat every foe he faced, including a murder rap. And then he met his match — Father Time.

When the Brown Bomber heeded the admonition of the bearded gentleman with the scythe, the sports fans of the nation were saddened by the knowledge that they had witnessed the passing of an era but thankful that their idol had hung up his golden gloves before oxidation set in. The sports writers of the country smiled grimly. They knew that the roar of the bloodthirsty crowd—the thrill of the uplifted hand—had woven their circeous charms round stouter fellows than the Sepia Smasher.

And so it was that Joe Louis, his hair steadily giving his forehead growing room, once more exposed his gilded mitts to the tarnish they had escaped for so long. To avoid fight fans the memory of Louis stalking prey after prey, crushing his way to victory after victory, and the sight of Louis draped over the middle strand as the result of a Marciano right, was like sipping a gallon of honey and chasing it with a shot of gall.

During his climb to boxing's greatest heights, Louis was followed constantly by one of his younger and more fervent admirers. The kid carried his gear and watched him train, and decided early to follow him up the ladder. When the kid was old enough, he began living up to his own expectations. He got so hot that at least three champions dodged him. He made it anyway. In fact he held two titles and almost captured a third. Finally, like his idol, he quit while he was winning. And like his idol, he has decided to pull himself, nightclub bags, midriff bulges et al, out of mothballs. And again like his idol, he will probably be paid off in a lump sum (pardon the pun). It's tragic that he couldn't resist the lure of the glory-laden ring, and let people go on saying, "Pound for pound, Sugar Ray is the greatest fighter of all time."

Ye Old Rams chose Tank Younger as the outstanding back on the Los Angeles Rams. The award was given at a testimonial dinner at the Moulin Rouge Monday night. The place was jammed, and the crowd cheered as various awards were given to outstanding members of the Rams' team by the Rams' alumni.

Marques Haynes Leads The Harlem Magicians In Local Game Dec. 16

Basketball's newest barnstorming troupe, the Harlem Magicians, led by Player-Coach Marques Haynes, will make their lone Los Angeles metropolitan-area appearance of the 1954-55 season against Irv Noren's All-Americans next Thursday night, Dec. 16, at the Pasadena City College gym. Game time is 8:15 p. m.

Stellar Shots

Haynes, hailed as the world's greatest dribbler, has surrounded himself with a cast of clever and entertaining players. Himself a former Globetrotter, Haynes has at least two other ex-Trotters in Chico Burrell, 6-5", from Astoria, N. Y., and Freddy Pearson, from Centralia, Ill. There's also these stars: Luster Burks, 6'8", from Grambling College; Rollie Harris, 6'6½", from Columbus, O.; Troy Driver from University of Tulsa; and Jim Hughes, 6'5½", from Texas Southern U.

Popular Pointmakers

Noren, noted New York Yank outfielder, won his first sports fame as a basketball player, when he was an all SoCal CIF prep cage star and "Player of the Year." Later he played for the Los Angeles Red Devils, the most powerful quintet in the history of the Far West, and still lated played for the Chicago Bears. His teammates Thursday include Blaine Crowthers, ex-Utah All-American; Les O'Gara, ex-AAU All-American; Abe Androff, ex-USC flash; Champ Cartwright, ex-Pasadena Nazarent College star, and others.

Game of Year

Buffoonery isn't the only trade-mark of the Magicians, for they play top-flight basketball, as proven by their 1953-54 record in which they toured 28 states and hung up a won-lost record of 163-4. On this present tour, Haynes' showmen are undefeated. Haynes organized his team after a contract disagreement with the Globetrotters. He of course is the starring attraction with his dazzling ball control. Pearson, a "six-year" Trotter vet, is a sleight-of-hand artist.

Tickets are on sale at the Pasadena C. C. student bank, as well as other Crown City locations.

Chebo Drills For 10 Rd. Legion Bout

Chebo Hernandez, top-ranking Mexican middleweight, was due to check into the Teamster's Gym yesterday (Wednesday) to finish gym preps for his 10-rounder Saturday night at Hollywood American Legion Stadium against Petey Servin.

The stocky 21-year old Latin from Juarez is now managed by Ray Luna, former ring pilot of Manuel Ortiz and Keeney Teran. Biggest win registered by Chebo this year is a smashing two-round knockout over Willie Vaughn—scored a few months ago in Juarez.

Servin, regarded by many boxing critics as a potential champion if he would get serious in the ring, has been enjoying success as of late. He outpointed Eddie Sims and knocked out Dick Finley in his last two efforts.

Petey is expected to go to the post at least a 10-6 selection.

Catholic College Drops Segregation

NEW ORLEANS — Loyola University, one of the big among the famed Mardi Gras colleges, dropped all segregation barriers among both players and spectators at its basketball games.

The Jesuit institution has slated three home contests with teams listing Negroes on their rosters, La Salle, Illinois, and Keesler Air Force Base.

La Salle, defending NCAA basketball champion, will play here Dec. 5 and mark the dedication of the new 6500 capacity Loyola Field house and will be the first New Orleans collegiate sport participated in by both Negroes and whites. All seating and comfort facilities will have no special section.

JORDON ON TOP

Coach John Randolph's, Jordan High School varsity basketball team went into the undisputed lead in the Marine League Tuesday when they beat Normandie 7-60 on the losers' court.

WELDENA HEFFLIN AND ERNEST LIGHTNER WED

The portrait of the perfect wedding was presented to more than 500 friends of the popular couple, Weldena Hefflin and Ernest Lightner, at Mt. Calvary Memorial Christian Church Sunday, Nov. 21. The setting was perfect with exquisite white decorations of roses, carnations and baskets of white gladioli.

The attendants were the latest fashions in velvet of royal hues. They marched down the long aisle in twos—long gowned and gowned in the same color were escorted off pews to the altar by the softness of candles in white before the ushered pedestals at each pew.

Two [illegible] carried [illegible] in this [illegible] with white carnations and white sweetheart and bordeaux of contrasting colors. The attendants were: Mrs. Kenneth High, matron of honor, Miss Shirley Spencer, maid of honor, Misses Barbara Taylor, Eloise Jackson, Betty Kelly, Wyvonne Wright, Misses Jackie Dickerson and Nora Harden, cousins of the bridegroom.

Mother Designed Gown

The bride was gorgeous in a [illegible] white satin with embossed velvet leaves made and designed by her mother. It was rich and simple in design—the [illegible] done [illegible] was of finger tip [illegible] length. Her bouquet was a dainty cascade of white orchids and bouvardia. She and the bridegroom exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony, the Rev. Lloyd F. Galloway and the Rev. Harold Kingsley officiating.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, William Knox. Other attendants were Messrs. Fred Hardin, the bridegroom's cousins Leon Hefflin Jr. the bride's brother; Herman Tally, Charles Fielding, Vernon McDonald, Arthur Lewis, Leroy Brown, Clayton Moore, James Taylor, Bailey Whitaker and Ernest Brown. Young masters Leon Hefflin III and Dennis Johnson acted as altar boys.

On Father's Arm

A prelude to the ceremony consisted of solos sung by Louis Johnson, a teacher at John Adams Jr. High School, and Miss Barbara Patterson, also a teacher. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Miss Vera Patterson as a part of the nuptial rites. Jack Fairfax presided at the organ. His soft melodious tones made the guests feel relaxed and soothed their anxiety as they waited to see the bride make down the aisle on the arm of her father, Leon N. Hefflin Sr., well known realtor and civic leader.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Maxine Hefflin was gowned in a coffee and cream [illegible] with square top. The groom's mother, Mrs. F. E. Lightner was charming in brown lace over gold. The entire color scheme was carried out in floral [illegible].

Elaborate Reception

An elaborate reception at the bride's home was attended by the 1000 guests who witnessed the ceremony. Among the guests were the administrators from the schools at which the couple teach.

Brice Taylors Honored On Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Brice E. Taylor celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, Nov. 28 from 8 until 12 o'clock at their residence, Castilla Blanca on Woodlawn Drive in Hollywood.

Throughout the evening hundreds of friends came to congratulate the popular couple.

Preceding the renewal of the marriage vows, Samuel R. Brown played "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," after which Bob Parrish sang "Because." Misses Stephanie Adams and Ada Harrington then came forward and lighted the candles. To the strains of Mendelsohn's Wedding March the attendants to Mrs. Taylor walked into the spacious living room taking their places at the side of the improvised altar.

Meet at Altar

Then with their little daughter, Dora Ada preceding her, Mrs. Taylor entered and was met at the altar by her husband, Brice Taylor.

The processional was read by the Rev. Amos Newsom, new pastor of the First A.M.E. Church, which couple renewing the vows they made 25 years ago. The ceremony concluded with the nuptial prayer by the Rev. Lloyd Galloway, pastor of Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church.

Radiant

Mrs. Taylor was radiant in a beautiful cream embroidered nylon tulle dress studded with rhinestones, and a matching chapeau created by Velva Loretta. Her jewelry of rhinestones was a gift from her husband, as were the new solitaire and wedding band. White orchids were worn at the shoulder.

Attendants to Mrs. Taylor were Mrs. Robert F. Harrington of New Orleans, sister of Mrs. Taylor; Dr. Connie F. Yerwood, Austin, Texas, a long time friend of the Taylors, and Mrs. Cyrus J. Taylor, sister of the couple.

Receiving Line

The receiving line was headed by Mrs. Zella Taylor, Mr. Taylor's aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Brice E. Taylor, Mrs. Robert F. Harrington, Dr. Connie F. Yerwood and Mrs. Cyrus J. Taylor completed the line.

Director of hostesses was Mrs. Cecil Morrell. Hostesses were Mesdames Marston Washington, Mateo W. Long, Annie Laurie Adams, Ralph King, Charles McDaniels, Elwood Saunders, William Tatum, Everett Wigley, Warner Wright, Helen Maupin, Lloyd Galloway, Edwin Jefferson, Leonil Hoffman, James Williams, Mary Bowman, Anne Teathers, Sollie Saunders, Lee Hawkins, Hamilton Stephens, Ida Harrington of New Orleans, Mesdames Lynette Hardy, Homer Hardy, Mrs. Helen Mahone, Lloyd Gardner, Edwin Jefferson, Ernest Hoffman, James Williams, Mesdames Brice Taylor, Jr., Lee Lewis of New Orleans, Sr., Sadie Saunders and Leon Harrington, (Eleanor Photo)

MRS. PATSY CREWELL HONORED AT DINNER

Friends gathered for dinner at the beautiful home of Mrs. Ruthie Mae Holmes on 16th St. in Santa Monica, on Sunday afternoon. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Holmes' mother, Mrs. Patsy Crewell, of Shreveport, La., who is spending her vacation with her daughter.

Many dinner parties, sightseeing trips and social courtesies have been shown Mrs. Crewell by her friends and former classmates who are now making their homes in Los Angeles and Santa Monica.

A delicious repast of ham and turkey with all the trimmings was served. Mrs. Holmes' table was beautifully set with fine china dishes and glass stemware that delicately enhanced the gorgeous fabrication of beautiful shell pigs with imprinted design.

Guests [illegible] included Mmes. Parsons, Scott, Mildred Harris, Anna Jackson, Ophelia Cole, W. B. Roberts, Marvelenes Leak, Annie McNeal, Ida B. Dooley, Jessie V. Moch, Willie Kennedy, Lula Michell, Helen Gorce, Ruth Whitehurst, Mr. and Mrs. Galvin Jefferson and their granddaughter, of Los Angeles.

The honoree was showered with many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Crewell leaves for home early next week.

SERVING UP GOOD CHEER—Members of the Lullaby Guild enjoy refreshments following their interesting charity program at the Children's Home Society last week when they presented the Society with a check totaling two hundred dollars. Pettway, Minnie Waugh, Paul Landacre, Mrs. Williams, guest; George Beavers, David Williams and Steve Rowland. Mrs. Albert Maddox, Guild President, seated. (Adams artistry.)

Cookie time is here again and what better gift could one receive than a festive package filled with assorted home made treats? Why not add these to your file of favorites?

Chocolate Dreams

Thoroughly cream together ⅓ cup butter or margerine, ⅓ cup shortening and one 3-ounce package cream cheese. 1⅓ cups sugar. Then add 1 well-beaten egg, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Stir in 2 squares chocolate melted and cooled. Sift in 2⅓ cups flour mixed with 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt. Blend well and add ½ cup chopped nuts. Drop by spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. This will make about 4 dozen.

Peppermint Stick Crispy Treats

Cream together ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar. Blend 1 tablespoon milk with 1 egg. Beat well, add alternately with 1 cup flour sifted with ½ teaspoon baking powder and ¼ teaspoon soda, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Drop by teaspoon onto greased sheet and flatten by pressing with glass dipped in flour. Sprinkle each cookie with ¼ teaspoon crushed peppermint stick candy. Bake at 350 degrees for about 12 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen.

Date Sour Cream Dreams

Cream ¾ cup brown sugar with ¼ cup shortening. Add 1 well-beaten egg. Sift 1¼ cup flour with ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Add alternately with ½ cup sour cream. Stir in ¾ cup chopped dates.

Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet and bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen. Top each cookie with a walnut half before baking or decorate as desired.

Refrigerator Cookies

Refrigerator cookies are made by creaming together ⅔ cups shortening, ¼ cup sugar, 1 beaten egg, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon soda. Work together well and form into a roll with hands.

Wrap in wax paper and chill at least 4 hours. To vary, use brown sugar, 2 squares chocolate, nuts, fruit cake fruit bits, or grated lemon or orange rind. Decorate as desired for change.

When ready slice with sharp knife and bake at 400 degrees for 6 to 8 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

Lullaby Guild Aids Children Home Society

In a special meeting at the Children's Home Society last Thursday, the popular members of the Lullaby Guild launched another one of their outstanding community charity projects. The Guild through its hardworking president and membership presented Mr. Clyde Getz, executive director of the home with a check of 500 dollars to help maintain the wonderful work the home is serving the community homeless children.

Many distinguished guests were on hand to praise the Guild for not only its financial support but for the personal interest the Lullaby Guild has shown toward the home and its work.

Mrs. Georgianna Hardy well known clubwoman and author of Cavalcade of Books, an outstanding T.V. program, was key speaker at the affair. Her message encouraged the members of the community to enjoy the advantages of a good home life by adopting one of the home's thirty-two homeless babies.

Dale Evans and Maidie Norman were presented and also added inspiring remarks about the home and the wonderful work being carried on by the two groups.

The check received by Mr. Getz was raised recently when the Guild members held their highly successful fashion show and tea which included some of the city's best known models and designers.

The Lullaby Guild officers are: Ethel Maddox, president; Antoinette (Tony) Atkinson, vice president; Dorothy Rowland, acting treasurer; Margaret Landacre, recording secretary; Mamie Waugh, hostess. Members include: Clara Webb, Mildred A. Dickerson, Jean Sewell, Maude Broady, Adele Weaver, Flora Grant, Jessie Mae Beavers, Emily Portwig, Lola Beavers and Ouida Williams.

ON THE DELIGHTFUL SIDE

The midweek announcement of the engagement of Edythe K. Owens and General White (it was part of their Yule card greeting) was distinctly a surprise to even their closest chums. Wedding details later. Auxiliary to the MDPA (the Executive Board met last week at Irene Towles') will have their Xmas dance on the 30th at the Elks Ballroom. 12-33 Club decided on the 18th for their annual pre-holiday session at the Pacific Town Club.

Atty. Cris Wright moved his kit bags back home. Dave Caldwell nursing a stubborn troubled eye. George White doesn't hie himself back here from Pa. until late spring. Allied Arts set to present Arna Bontemps in February. Dr. and Mrs. Jarone Johnson moved in their new home, an eyelash from Hancock Park. Did you know, by the way, he instructs the internes at Queen of Angels Hospital?

He Was Seven

Realtor G. William McKinney building an imposing professional building in the La Brea and W. Adams district. Pierre (he was 7) Durosseau birthday-partyed Sunday at father's Lloyd Wright-looking house, all the active, tireless young fry on hand to help out. Elliot Carpenter's birthday, December 28th. He and his Mauvolyene were the only tan tones in town attending the recent Civil Aeronautics Board dinner at the Hollywood Canteen.

The Roy Kingsleys gave up Culver City living, moved back nearer the heart of things. Johnetta Starks flies shortly to Beaumont, Texas, for a family wedding. Her mother is going, too. Betty and Wayne Howard expecting her brother and his wife in town for a visit. Their hotel reservation, the Ambassador. They dash upstate to do the Bay area, then back here in time for the Rose Bowl game. La Dan's grudge was to have been among the guests at the Howard table at the Club Beauville Winter Ball (Friday) but she had to go east. Emma Adams and spouse will be among those sitting at the Howard table.

Gay Bash

Did Anita Turner-Williams get in town? Philly's Evelyn Reynolds would like to do a poetry recital of her own poems here. Maurine Browning much better. Her beautiful inner self shines through, of course. That was quite a gay birthday bash Gilbert Lindsay had at Le Caribe Room Saturday night! Some entertainment which had the place rockin'. Turnabouts semi-formal assembly, Saturday.

Contagious sparkle and wit: Marilyn and Julius Holder. That's Toni and Eddie Atkinson's tenage son at the wheel of that black '35 Mercury, a gift? Busiest two career gals in town: Jacki Woods and her partner, Celia Moncada. Their ceramic banks, originals all, are going great guns. They'd be good material for a national magazine spread.

Round-the-Clock

Our town socially in for a round-the-clock August: National social workers will be meeting in S.F. about same time the medics will be here! Lu Thompson Jordan, jury duty weary, sighs and murmurs, "How I'd love to be east for a good old-fashioned snowy Xmas!"

Rosita and Schuyler Nelson's formidable pet of a dog now a training school grad. Which makes we frequenters of their house undeniably joyous, shall we say? Rhoda Granger planed in for a week's hobnob with her brother and his wife. She stunned me into silence, too, having just ordered a formal dress set of black star sapphires set in gold for her guy back in Cleveland. Pegga Hawkins wowed guests at the Lindsey hoedown with her first-rate caroling, leaning effectively against the piano, sensational in black. Decorative, talented Pegga.

DOT'S DASHES

by DOROTHEA FOSTER

With the cooling breezes to give hostesses glamorous settings in which to be gracious entertaining in the Angel City goes on at a brisk pace with small, chic parties heading the list.

The other evening Helen and Theopolis Smith of W. 36th St., invited friends in for early cocktails before departing for the Kappa's Black and White Ball. Delicious hors d'oeuvres prepared by Alexia Dent and an abundance of giggle water sent the guests merrily on to the Zenda in excellent spirits. Those in on the fun were: Atty. and Mrs. Carl Earles, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis, Helen Maupin, Virgil Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Noran Payton, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caines, Dr. Lucille Fisk, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Eberhardt and Mr. and Mrs. John Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph West complimented Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Goings of Newark, N.J., with a lavish buffet dinner party.

Mrs. Ralph Vaughn entertained the Nanette Club on Saturday night. Fellowship members were very happy to see Mrs. Edith Houston at the meeting.

Duke and Miss Virginia Pauline Palmer will exchange vows on Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. S. P. Johnson.

Bridge Pointers

By 'KENNY' SCOTT

Last week we discussed opening leads. This week we continue discussing defensive principles. The first one is how to respond to partner's opening lead.

If partner leads a king against a suit contract, the first thing to consider is whether we want him to continue leading that suit. If holding only two cards in that suit, play the high one first. Your play of the low one next time around will tell your partner that you have no more. If holding the queen, make the same play as you know your partner holds the ace and king. He will then lead the suit the third time.

Switch Indicated

Playing a low card on the opening lead means switch suits. Although a system of suit preference exists, we don't recommend it to most players. If partner is told to switch, usually he can tell from the dummy and the previous bids what to lead.

Of course the first and second leads are very important, because the whole play of the hand is often determined from them.

In no-trump contracts the defense is usually simpler. Partner will lead his fourth best card in his longest suit. Play your highest card on it. When you get in again, lead it back. There is a saying which is especially true in no-trump: Always return your partner's lead. If you try to set up an additional suit, you give the declarer more time, and not only is he going to make his contract, he is apt to make overtricks.

Lead the Ace

There are many other aspects to consider. Suppose you lead the king from a six-card suit. The dummy has three to the queen. Your partner plays a high card, indicating he has one more. Lead the ace. Both players follow suit, which means that each started with two. Lead the suit again. It is true that declarer will overtrump your partner; but if you let declarer draw trumps without leading that suit again, he will later be able to use the queen to discard a loser on.

If dummy holds a long suit headed by the king which is not trumps, and declarer leads up to it through you, play the ace if you have it. If the suit is only three or four cards long, however, play low, especially with ace, jack in your hand. That way you will take two tricks in that suit instead of declarer.

Defense is sometimes a truer test of partnership than bidding. The players must work together in order to get the most of every hand. This means that each player must concentrate to the utmost, even on hands where one of them holds no face cards.

We invite everyone to come to our classes which are now on Monday evenings at the Omega House as well as Tuesday evenings at the YWCA. The time is 7:30 for each night.

Kappa Alpha Psi Picks Sandra Shields For Black-and-White Queen

Of all the stellar events that scintillate the social calendar at this gay time of the year, there is none more eagerly anticipated by the gentry than the annual Black-and-White formal dance, presented by the members of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. This year's was held Friday at the Zenda Ballroom.

It was a glamorous affair to watch, the ladies wearing the latest that Dame Fashion had to decree along with glittering jewels, and their escorts in attractive formal wear, including top hats and tails.

The decor of the ballroom was carried out in the traditional black and white colors, with a masterpiece surrounding the orchestra stand, where Les Brown and his great band of renown provided the superb music for the evening.

With elegance and pomp, the Kappas formed an aisle to present the ladies of court and the crowning of their queen — always a beautiful occasion with a background that brings out the charm of the exquisitely gowned women and Esquire-groomed men.

Queen this year was captivating Sandra Shields, a love-vision in her delicately billowing gown, filagree tiara crowning her queenly head.

Her four attendants were equally dazzling as they graciously floated down the aisle.

The four beauties selected were Joan Whitfield, Pat Anderson, Avon Avant and Elaine Lindo.

The ladies of the court and their queen all carried sumptuous, ribbon-bedecked arm bouquets.

Modernetts

La Modernetts Recreational and Social Club met on Dec. 5 at the home of Mrs. Bernice Flennoy.

Plans were completed for the Christmas Eve party to be held at the home of Mrs. Ella Herndon. Each member will bring a can of food which will be distributed to a needy family.

The club will enjoy an evening at the Vogue Bowling Alley during the holidays.

People and Places

OLES HAYES—East Jefferson motel owner, just closed a deal that gave him the 261-room Western motel located directly across the street from the plush Town Tavern. Hayes and his attractive wife Thelma will make it one of the finest sites this side of Bel-Air!

POTS AND PLATTERS—When a certain ofay waitress served a platter full of food on the noggin' of a well known cook in a westside bistro, he returned the compliment by planting a pot on the blonde's pretty locks to the tune of 10-striches before the big bartender yelled copper!

NORMAN HOUSTON—Dauntless, dapper prexy of the West's largest Negro-owned insurance company, is conducting his business daily via three private phones from his fashionable Los Felix home!

SY JONES—Schlitz's busy salesman, recalling football days with ex-Stanford great, Bobby Grayson, backfield member on the famed Wonder Team. Jones was Grayson's dinner guest while he was up north and it is our guess Sy didn't bring up the Stanford-Columbia Rose Bowl game in which the Wonder Team left the ticket-holders wondering why they were called Wonder Boys!

HOG AND I—Because local figureheads are so busy feathering their own nests they always miss the boat. Case in point is the forthcoming Winter Ball of the National Urban League Dec. 10. The locals are giving affair the cold-war treatment. We think they are foolish. The star-studded committee includes: Mrs. Wayne Howard, Mrs. Juanita Miller, Mrs. Paul Williams, Mrs. Fleur Cowles, associate editor of Look magazine, former mayor Fletcher Bowron, Dore Schary, head of MGM, Mrs. Hedda Hopper, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn. Our community needs the help and ass.

SEGOVIA CONCERT—Andres Segovia, world-renowned exponent of the Spanish guitar, now making his 11th consecutive American concert tour, comes to the Wilshire Ebell Theater on Impresario Mary Bran's artist series for his only Los Angeles recital Saturday night, Dec. 11, at 8:30 p.m.

SUAVE . . . Bass Harris, National Broadcasting Company's most amiable host, invites his thousands of friends to share his mythical palace each Saturday morning from 8 to 9 a.m. over Radio Station KFI. First among his "in person" guests on December 11th will be Leon Rene, famous composer. Why not 'share Bass' hospitality in one of his many spacious "rooms" each Saturday and enjoy the finest sixty minutes in radio.

Top Variety Now Offered At The Oasis

Pretty Girls, Comedy, Great Dancers, Music, at New Club Oasis Show.

The Basin Street Holiday Revue, the greatest musical revue in years, is currently running at the Club Oasis, Western at 38th, with beautiful girls, fabulous dancers, great vocalists and music and rib-tickling comedy, all packaged together, complete with dancing between shows, to make the greatest entertainment value in town.

Something Different

Serving as comedian-emcee is Alland Dixon, one of the funniest funnymen to hit the West Coast. Featured vocalists are Candy Rivers and Rana Clay, with the dance department handled by exotic Pat Sides and the team of Joe and Claudine. Vernon Slater and his band provide music for the show as well as dancing on the beautiful and spacious new Oasis dance floor.

Latin Headquarters

The Basin Street Holiday Revue will continue at the Club Oasis until Dec. 17, next Friday, when the sensational Machita, maestro of Afro-Cuban music, will bring his great band in for their very first West Coast appearance. Reservations are being accepted for both the revue and Machita's appearance.

JOHN CROWN GIVES SUPERB PERFORMANCE

By JAN EDWARDS

A concert to which we have been looking forward for weeks was realized last Sunday evening at Bovard Auditorium. It was a piano recital given by U.S.C.'s famous faculty member, Prof. John Crown. His performance was superb.

This writer remembered many years ago standing in the wings of the old Figueroa theatre, exalted by the brilliant virtuosity of the very youthful John Crown. Maturity has enriched his personal approach to music and enhanced his appeal to audiences.

Expressive

A powerful and expressive pianist, John Crown approaches his instrument with an authority that is compelling and out of this mechanical creation he constructs sounds which electrify and transcend his listeners. At all time Crown kept his audience on mental tiptoe to capture every nuance of his brilliant performance.

The program opened with Sonata in B-Flat Major of Johann Christian Bach. After the first movement, late arrivals managed to break into the musical thought, just as rude people will interrupt good conversation. Crown did not conceal his annoyance—shared by the rest of us. When the late comers settled into their seats, Mr. Crown, with the expression of a man who says, "Well, as I was saying," continued on to the second movement. From that point on the audience and artist were in rapport.

Intense Feeling

The beauty of Crown's interpretation was due to his expert musicianship and the evenness of tempo, which was precise and consistent. His playing of Chopin Sonata in B Minor displayed the sonority and fluency of his technique.

The second part of the program was devoted to the music of Aaron Copland and Maurice Ravel. John Crown's intense feeling for these compositions created a feeling in the audience which resulted in unrestrained applause.

John Crown did not announce his encore numbers but they were in keeping with the character of the program material. The artist left his audience in a state of eager anticipation for his next recital.

Spanish Night At The 'Phil' December 11

Antonio and Luisa Triana, recognized as authorities in the fiery Spanish flamenco and native folk dances, will return to Philharmonic Auditorium for one performance on Saturday night, Dec. 11, as a special event of the Community Civic Association concert season.

This exciting dance group recently returned from Mexico City, where they danced to more than 4000 people in recitals at the Palace of Fine Arts and for eight weeks danced to enthusiastic praise at the Hotel Del Prado.

Vocal Aires KCOP-TV Show Opens at Shrine

The Vocal-Aires Ensemble, well known 20 voice Negro singing group, will perform at the first National Christmas Show, set Dec. 14-22 at Shrine Exposition Hall.

The Vocal-Aires have been seen and heard on TV Station KCOP, several radio stations, and at many church occasions.

The singing group includes Joseph Richardson, dramatic tenor; Margarie Skinner, soprano; Earl Jackson, bass; and Norman Brooks, lyric tenor.

The Vocal-Aires will be one of the supporting features for Roberta Linn, who headlines the show. Miss Linn was voted Southern California's outstanding TV personality of 1953."

JOLTING JOE HOUSTON, the wild man of the tenor sax, who recently closed an engagement at the Club Oasis, will embark on a tour of the midwest beginning December 22nd. And the tabulous ork leader says there shall be music wherever he "blows" and all the cats and their kittens will make a "beeline" for wherever he's booked.
(Adams Communication.)

'Playhouse' Variations

Back in America on their third coast to coast tour, the world-famous Salzburg Marionettes will be in Pasadena on January 10, 11 and 12, for matinee and evening engagements at the Pasadena Playhouse.

In their only evening performance on Monday, Jan. 10, they will present a shortened version of Mozart's opera, "Don Giovanni," with English dialog and Italian arias. A complete pantomime ballet of the "Nutcracker Suite" will also be included in the program.

NOTICE OF AWARD OF CONTRACT

Pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911, notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Resolution of Award of the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles, adopted on the twenty-ninth day of November, 1954, at the meeting of said Board of Public Works, open session on the 3rd day of November, 1954, publicly opened, examined and declared all sealed proposals or bids received for the work of improvement hereinafter described and referred to in Ordinance No. 125,150, which ordinance ordered the institution of the work of the City of Los Angeles to be done by contract, to-wit:

IMPERIAL STREET, between Eleventh Street and Fifteenth Street, and in a portion of Eleventh Street.

Notice is hereby given that on the 22nd day November, 1954, the Board of Public Works in session duly awarded the contract for said work to Sparks Inc. and Vando Paving Co., a corporation, the lowest responsible bidder for the same, at the office of the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles, in the City Hall, Los Angeles, California, for the sum of $ 125,000.00, which amount is the estimated cost of said work as determined by the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles, and the Board has recommended that the contract be awarded to said bidder, and that the bid of said bidder be accepted, and that the contract be awarded to said bidder

FREEDOM SEAL CLIMAX—Mrs. Josie Bain and Dr. Mary McCoo, co-chairmen of the Culmination program of the Freedom Seal drive, discuss with NAACP President Dr. E. I. Robinson plans for the climax of the campaign Wednesday night, Dec. 15, at the Botsan Memorial church. Congressman-elect James Roosevelt will be guest speaker.

Father's Plea Fails to Prevent Stiff Sentence

A last-minute plea by the youth's father, Monday, failed to save Carl Luther Bobo Jr., 20, 538½ Broadway, Venice, from going to State prison on one count of kidnaping and four counts of rape.

The crimes charged against the youth carry sentences ranging up to 50 years, but Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch decreed that the sentences could be served concurrently.

The elder Bobo, addressing the court at the request of Atty. William C. Jennings, said he understood the two co-defendants had made statements to the effect that Bobo was not with them at the time they kidnaped a 13-year-old Venice woman and drove her to an isolated section in Ocean Park where the assaults followed.

The father told the court he wished to have a 30-day stay in the proceedings so that the NAACP could investigate further.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Allen H. McCurdy countered with the declaration that Leon Mitchell Fields, 23, of Venice, and Albert Gene Robinson, 26, a painter, had both named Bobo as the man who got out of the car, accosted the victim and forced her to accompany them.

Fields and Robinson at a previous court hearing pleaded guilty to felony charges of assault with force.

Under the law, Bobo was legally responsible not only for the offense which he committed, but also for the acts of the two men who joined him in the commission of the crime.

FEP Conference Slated for Sunday

The maximum of public participation to insure that elected representatives learn the thinking of the people on FEPC, is expected to mark Sunday's FEPC conference, sponsored by publishers of minority group newspapers, to take place at Holman Methodist church, 3320 W. Adams Blvd., starting promptly at 1 p.m.

Six informative panel discussions will give the facts on the need for FEPC in Los Angeles City and County; the facts on those who oppose and those who support FEPC; the facts on FEPC's workings in states and cities where it exists; and the attitude of the City Council and Board of Supervisors, which will be urged to enact FEPC ordinances as an outgrowth of the conference.

Dr. Eason Monroe, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, will keynote the conference, which will be chaired by Lucius W. Lomax, Jr., publisher of the Los Angeles Tribune.

Representatives of the Eagle, Sentinel, Herald-Dispatch, Pacific Citizen, and El Espectador, will take part in a panel discussion, entitled: "The Living Newspaper Presents the FEPC Story." Chairing this panel will be Phil Kerby, editor of Frontier magazine, which is also a conference sponsor.

Facts on "fair" practices in County and City Civil Service; the aircraft and automotive industries, public utilities, construction, crafts, and retail, will be supplied.

Another panel, chaired by Leo Branton, civil rights lawyer, will present the voting records and analyze the attitudes toward civil rights and social legislation of City and County officials, in a panel, subtitled, "Can, and Will, our City Council and Board of Supervisors, as constituted, pass on FEPC Ordinance?".

James White, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Arthur Morrison, regional director United Packinghouse Workers, and other labor leaders, will discuss "Why Labor is United for FEPC."

Rabbi Leonard Greenberg, the Reverends George Bell, of Ajalon Baptist church, and Oscar Ice, Lutheran minister, will discuss "The Church and FEPC." Dr. Isadore Ziferstein and Dr. Andre Tweed, psychiatrists will discuss "The Psycho-Dynamics of Prejudice and FEPC."

Los Angeles County's 517 traffic deaths, which accounted for 12 per cent of the total, were 80 less than last year.

Royal Dutchess' Yuletide Party

Royal Dutchess Social Club this week expressed thanks to many persons who made its recent affair a success. The J. C. Taylor family enjoyed a splendid 24-pound turkey on Thanksgiving Day.

At the Dutchess' Christmas party, Saturday, Dec. 18, fun, frolic and groceries will be part of the festivities. Since the affair will be held at 2711 S. Central Ave. and an overflow crowd is expected, a small admission will be charged to limit, somewhat, attendance.

Officers are Ethel Lee Jackson, president; Trueman Washington, treasurer; Terrie Webb, business manager, and Elouise Lowery, reporter.—(Adv.)

JOHNNY'S WAX WORKS

BY JOHNNY MORRIS

MY FUNNY VALENTINE by Frank Sinatra couldn't be tougher. Especially if you think of someone very special whenever you hear it.

OFF WAX

Gene Norman is shocked at the shabby treatment given his place, the Crescendo, by the hipper set. Apparently you folks weren't aware that he owned it, or you'd know you were most welcome. Gene's a way out stud. Don't turn your back on him. Mel Torme's there now. Next'll be Arthur Lee Simpkins, and then Satchmo . . . Dug Oscar Peterson at the 5-4. Had Ray Brown and Herb Ellis with him. They just finished Finnian's Rainbow, and are going to rest awhile before they switch to the continent in February . . . On Mambo Night (that's Thursday at the California Club) the all-star band of Carlos Vidal and Modesto Durand was again featured. The band moves into the Elks Hall Friday, Dec. 10, for a mambo-blues dance. Dig it. Mambo Max will be emcee, and they'll feature the first mambo chorus line. Free mambo lessons from 8:30 to 9:30. I know the babes will dig Freddie Manhattan, the tough dance instructor . . . Bootsie and Vickie took the floor at the California with an Apache-Mambo. Next night they took the 5-4 floor. You can catch them on Sats 'n' Suns at the Harlem Nite Spot in San Pedro . . . Digging Gibbs at Jack Tucker's Tiffany tonight. Must pin this Terry-Terry duel . . . Gene Norman's Monday Nite Jam Session at the California was mucho tough. Joe Rotondi was on box again. Frank Rossolino on bone, Sonny Kriss and Frank Morgan on alto, Red Callender on bass, and Gary Frommer on skins . . . Went to Lester Gibson's joint in Watts. The band was all-chick except for the drummer, Alvin Hall. Vi Wilson, bass; Peggy Brashear, tenor; Thelma Lewis, trumpet. Tough. And you should have dig Martha Young Johnson, the pianist, warble BESAME MUCHO . . . If you're like we are, you missed Dynamite Jackson's first broadcast. But thank heavens not too many people were like me. The place was still jammed when I got there. I'll bet I won't miss another. I hear it went off smoothly. Beginning Dec. 15, every Wednesday is fish fry night. All you can eat for gratis. You know I'll be there. "Li'l Willie" ain't missed a freebee since '02.

Marshall Urges CIO Aid In Battle Against Race Bias

and peaceful transition to an unsegregated American educational" system.

Losing Battle

In his address to the convention, Marshall told the enthusiastic delegates that the bitterness of the opposition to the Supreme Court's school decision indicated that "Talmadge and Byrnes already know that they have lost this fight."

The NAACP counsel warned the delegates that they have an important stake in the fight against school segregation and that they could not "afford to just wait and see."

He urged all unions to abandon all segregation practices in every phase of their activities. "The Supreme Court has already told all of us that segregation violates the Constitution and there is no reason why any law-abiding citizen should violate the court's orders," he said.

In a glowing introduction, Carey said that the "CIO wants to thank the NAACP for what it has done to preserve and defend the democratic system. Every American is indebted to the NAACP."

Warns Delegates

Marshall also warned the delegates that the "present world situation merely emphasizes our domestic problem. No present or future world crisis will solve the problem. We must face the problem and solve it here, in this country, and do so within the framework of our government. Americans organized in labor unions, churches and the NAACP must take the lead in this tremendous task."

In a slashing attack on so-called "right to work legislation" and other anti-labor laws, Marshall said that the same forces that support such legislation are also aligned together to preserve and defend racial segregation.

In an interview with the Eagle, Marshall refused to forecast the Supreme Court's decision on specific means to desegregate southern schools. He said he did not know when arguments on these questions will be heard but said that he believed the court would set a date sometime this spring.

Battle Looms in Ass'n. Elections

Alliance also added its endorsement.

For the five vice-presidencies only four names are on the ballot. The four are: C. E. McKinney, L. B. Thompson, Rev. P. D. Lehman and Fleming Enix. Mrs. Zella Taylor, for secretary, is unopposed. Lorenzo Bowdoin and Dr. J. F. Evans are candidates for treasurer.

Two names nominated from the floor, Arthur Morrison and E. J. Franklin, are listed with the 37 submitted by the Nominating Committee to the Board. These are: Estelle Kemple, Malmore Hibbler, Lillie Montgomery, Sadie Brewer, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, Woodrow Redo, Matt B. Burton, Carles Earles, W. F. Anderson, Lobelia Dingee, David F. Wilson, Estelle Van Meter, Dorothea Foster, Del Coffee, P. Y. Gray, Jr., Gilbert Ahaya, Margaret Ann Shaw, Elbert T. Hudson, Rayfield Lundy, Maudie Henderson, Herbert Simmons, Rev. Douglas Fairchild, C. S. Smith, Margaret Rakestraw, Gilbert Lindsay, Leon W. Steward, Dr. E. I. Robinson, A. C. Bilbrew, Laura Slaton, Marnesha T. Tackett, Lawrence Wilson, Bernard C. Dillingworth, U. S. Griggs, Rev. S. O. J. Evans, Rev. R. M. Chambers, Dorothea Burns and Rev. Maurice Dawkins.

Jon Robertson Advance Notice

Preparations are being made for another piano recital featuring our own boy wonder, eleven year old Negro pianist, Jon Robertson.

Young Robertson will repeat some of the compositions he played at the Twenty-first Annual Bach Festival last month—The four Chorales of Bach and the Fourth French Suite. Jon will also play several other numbers which brought him sensational success in New York and in his recent tour of Jamaica and Latin America.

The recital will be presented on Sunday afternoon from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. December 12, at Zion Hill Baptist Church, 5025 McKinley Ave. The proceeds (donations of one-dollar) go to The Prince Hall Masons Child Welfare Fund to assist needy children in our own community.

Big Three Group To Hold Benefit

The popular Big Three Group, comprising the Soul Revivers, Stars of Harmony and Zion Travelers will present the Spiritual Kings of San Diego in a program of gospel singing at 3 p. m. next Sunday, Dec. 12 at the Savoy Theater, 54th and Central avenue.

The proceeds of this affair will be used to bring Christmas cheer to children of needy families.

The Big Three will appear in the opening number and then turn the program over to the Spiritual Kings who will carry on. The Spiritual Kings have built up a solid reputation for themselves and will give a delightful performance as they have been doing in San Diego for the past several years.

There will be an advance donation of $1. Tickets may be had at Jacobs Barber Shop, 1539 East 92nd street. Call LO. 7-1065 or AD. 1-7402.

Vet Arrested in Santa Monica

An "all points" bulletin sent out Sunday evening by Santa Monica police netted the capture of a 68-year-old murder suspect, Gloster Fortson, a veteran of World War I, approximately 100 feet from the police station.

Fortson, who gave his address as the West Los Angeles Veterans' Center, was wanted in connection with the fatal stabbing of Gustave Comraux, 32, of 20006 20th street.

Witnesses stated that the elderly Fortson stabbed the younger man twice in the chest with an eight-inch folding knife, known as a "Texas jack," after the two men had a violent quarrel in a cafe located at 1927 Main street.

Comraux was pronounced dead on arrival at the Santa Monica Receiving Hospital.

The elderly Forston, who had fled the scene of the killing, was arrested while he was standing idly within a stone's throw of the police station. He did not have the murder weapon with him at the time of arrest.

Police stated that he made numerous conflicting statements concerning the stabbing. He was booked on a charge of suspicion of murder.

Questions explained concerning the Kingdom of God, its System, and Leaders.

By . . . St. A. D. Solomon
Apostle of Jesus Christ
New Chief of Saints

What are Saints? Where are the Leaders of the Saints located; and of what race of people? What is meant by the word "Ethiopian"? What is meant by the word "Tribe"? How many tribes are there in the Ethiopian race? What are their names? Will the Saints make a Heaven here on this earth?

These, and many more important questions concerning the establishment of the Kingdom of God, its System of Government, and its Leaders, will be explained from time to time in the California Eagle.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.
